THE MAKING OF LONDON.

How Prices of Land in the Great Metropolis Have Gone Up.

The history of London, write Dr. Heydemann, in an interesting survey of the growth of our great metropolis, published in The London Evening News, is the history of the British Empire.

From a British village of mud huts clustering on the banks of the river Thames, London has grown in 2,000 years until its limits have outstripped its statutory area of 117 square miles; the rateable value of its property has increased in 600 years from $60,000 a year to $262,500,000, which is within $10,000,000 of the total rateable value of the sixty-eight biggest towns and cities of England and Wales!

If one landlord owned the buildings of London his rent-roll would exceed $262,500,000 a year.

Londoners are gradually grasping the solid fact that they live and work in the world's greatest city, to the story of whose marvels during twenty centuries there is no end.

In 1666 a house in Tokenhouse Yard, in the centre of the City of London, was producing a rent of $1,-900 per annum; in 1863 the house was pulled down and the land alone was let at a ground rent of $6,250 per annum.

Between 1660 and 1900 the price of freehold land near the Bank of England rose from $75 per square foot to $250 per square foot, and at this remarkable price several transactions took place.

This increment of value is a phenomenon familiar to most. There are few who cannot speak of some property which has doubled in value within his own experience; nor is it necessary to go further back than the beginning of many an existing lease to find that the present value of the land alone is worth as many pounds as it was shillings when the lease was granted.

From horseshoes to sovereigns have values progressed between the reigns of the First and the Seventh Edwards, and it is indeed a far cry from the no man's land of Lyndyn to the administrative county of London, with its annual value of $270,500,000.

OLD TYBURN TREE.

Spot Where the Famous Gallows Stood in London.

The work which the London County Council recently undertook of indicating the site of the gallows at Tyburn, which was for centuries the principal place of execution for criminals, has now been completed. The indication consists in the fixing in the carriageway at the junction of Edgware road, Oxford street and Bayswater road, of a stone tablet marking the site of the fixed gallows. The tablet bears a representation, in brass, of the ancient triangular gallows, surrounded by a six-foot triangle with an inscription in brass letters set in granolithic: "Here stood—Tyburn Tree—Removed 1783," two words appearing on each side of the triangle, while on the stone balustrade of the railings of Hyde Park, a bronze tablet directing attention to the stone has been fixed by H.M. Office of Works. The suggestion was originally made by Mr. H. Stevenking in connection with the carrying out of the Marble Arch Improvements, and was cordially approved by the First Commissioner of H.M. Works.

In 1759 the fixed gallows was removed, after which executions were carried out on a movable gallows, erected, as required, in varying positions in the immediate locality. The last execution at Tyburn took place in 1783. On the removal of the fixed gallows the site was occupied by the Tyburn Turnpike Gate. An interesting relic of this, in the shape of a stone, inscribed "Half-a-mile from Tyburn Gate," has recently been presented to the council by the Consolidated London Properties, Ltd., in approximately its originally position. A brass tablet has been affixed to the lower half of the stone, with an inscription stating the historical interest of the stone and the circumstances under which it came into the possession of the Council.

The Night Writers.

Writers who habitually work at night, and all night, frequently get strange nervous fancies. Huxley said: "When I am working at night I not only hear burglars moving about, but I actually see them looking through the crack in the door at me!"

Wilkie Collins was a habitual night worker until he was frightened out of it by the appearance of another Wilkie Collins, who sat down at the table with him and tried to monopolise the desk. There was a struggle, and the inkstand was upset. When the real Wilkie Collins came to himself, sure enough, the ink was running over the writing table, proof enough of a struggle. After that Mr. Collins gave up night work.

From Village School to Wealth.

A keen man of business is Sir Hudson Kearley, the first chairman of the Port Authority constituted under the Port of London Act of last year. He has been a doubled squeeze as Parliamentary Secretary to the Board of Trade, and as a partner in a well-known tea firm has made a considerable fortune. He is an entirely self-made man. The son of a Cambridge carpenter, Sir Hudson was educated in the village school, and received no better education than thousands of other children of the masses. He started life as a junior clerk in a City firm, but saw possibilities before he was twenty-one and launched out for himself.

Ambassadorial Humor.

Following the proclamation of the annexation in Paris, Gen. Beaudenbury attached himself to the Government troops at Versailles, where Lord Lyons, the British Ambassador, also was. One day Lord Lyons was persuaded to visit Meudon. He was looking from the window of an empty house when a shell fell and burst in the garden below. Then he said quietly: "Perhaps I had better retire. It would be a diplomatic blunder if Her Majesty's ambassador were to be killed."—Blackwood's Magazine.

CAME ON THE JUMP.

A Signal That Brought the Busy Waiters in a Body.

To get a waiter quickly in a big cafe is at times very difficult, but a Germantown man recently learned a method from a New York friend which is guaranteed instantly to bring not one but several waiters. This Germantown man was giving a dinner in one of Philadelphia's swellest cafes, with the New Yorker and two women as his guests. After a long delay a waiter came and took the order. Then one of the women decided that she must make a change in her order. The host signaled one waiter after another without avail. After about ten minutes of violent gesticulating on his part the New Yorker said:

"You don't know how to attract their attention. I'll bet you $5 I can bring a waiter to this table within thirty seconds."

"I'll take the bet," said the Philadelphian, drawing out his watch. The New Yorker reached over into the middle of the table, picked up a thin, delicate glass and deliberately dashed it to the floor. Instantly every waiter in the room came rushing up to see what was the trouble.

"Charge one tumbler up on the bill," said the New Yorker laconically, "and change one of those oyster orders to Blue Points."

As the waiters dispersed he added, "I guess you owe me a five spot, old man."

Fishing Snakes.

While fishing in the Fort St. Georgemoat, at Madras, a correspondent of Country Life saw a snake fifteen inches long come out of the water with a fish in its mouth. On catching sight of the writer it dropped the fish and bolted, leaving the fish on the bank alive. On another occasion, while fishing in a reservoir near Ghazinbad, he again saw a snake emerging from the water with a fish in its mouth. This snake was about twenty-four inches long, and on killing it he was able to identify the fish as a common species of Indian fresh water fish. Later on he saw a viper, nearly four feet long, lying in shallow water. The writer hooked it ashore with his tackle, upon which the snake attached him, leaving a large yellow fang in his fishing rod.

Nature's Armor.

Lobsters and crabs are familiar examples of armor bearing creatures. The lobsters have wonderful coats of mail suggestive of those devised by human warriors in the age of chivalry. They combine perfect security with ease of movement, owing to their jointed structure. The manner in which crabs when at rest tuck their legs beneath them so as to bring them under the shelter of the hard carapace is interesting. The crab is doubly protected, for it resembles a water worn pebble, and thus looks to large fishes which like to eat the crustacean—so long as it keeps still—very similar to the objects with which it is surrounded.

Cutting the Finger Nails.

Cutting the finger nails appears to have been the most indispensable service the ancient Roman barber rendered to his patrons. Martial, chiding a dog who had tried to dodge the barber by using plasters to remove his beard, asks triumphantly, "How are you going to manage about your nails?" And the miser in Plautus collects the parings of his nails from the barber to make something out of them, apparently never dreaming that he could save money by cutting them himself.

Light Beeze

Do You Drink It?

A minister's wife had quite a chatter with coffee and her experience is interesting. She says:

"During the two years of my training as a nurse, while on night duty, I became addicted to coffee drinking. Between midnight and four in the morning, when the patients were asleep, there was little to do except make the rounds, and it was quite natural that I should want a good, hot cup of coffee about that time. It stimulated me and I could keep awake better.

"After three or four years of coffee drinking I became a nervous wreck and thought that I simply could not live without my coffee. All this time I was subject to frequent bilious attacks, sometimes so severe as to keep me in bed for several days.

"After being married, Husband begged me to leave off coffee for he feared that it had already hurt me almost beyond repair, so I resolved to make an effort to release myself from the hurtful habit.

"I began taking Postum and for a few days felt the ingrafid, tired feeling from the lack of the stimulant, but I liked the taste of Postum, and that answered for the breakfast beverage all right.

"Finally I began to feel clearer headed and had steadier nerves. After a year's use of Postum I now feel like a new woman—have not had any bilious attacks since I left off coffee."

"There's a Reason."

Capt. Hains Sentenced

over the defendant, contending that he had never been released from the jurisdiction of the Federal government and therefore the case was not properly before the court. Mr. McIntyre also stated that Dr. Brush, who had been an expert witness for the defence, had examined Captain Hains since he was convicted and found him insane. Justice Garretson said there was no evidence to that effect before the court and he declined to consider the motion in regard to jurisdiction.

The court clerk instructed Captain Hains to come to the bar and proceeded to take his pedigree. The prisoner seemed dazed and replied with some difficulty in understanding the questions. Lawyers McIntyre and Young of the defence stood on each side of Capt. Hains and assisted him in answering questions of the court clerk.

In passing sentence Justice Garretson said that the defendant had had a fair trial and been defended by experienced lawyers, and a jury had found a verdict commensurate with the requirements of the law. He said that he was aware that any errors of law had been committed during the trial.

General Hains the defendant's father, and Major John P. Hains, who were in court, displayed much emotion when the captain was sentenced.

Immediately after sentence the prisoner's lawyers asked for a stay of sentence for a few days in order to take an appeal. Justice Garretson said the case would take the usual course, and gave the defence twenty-four hours in which to file an appeal. He then remanded Capt. Hains to the custody of the sheriff.

Col.H.C.Rogers Tenders His Resignation as Postmaster of Peterborough

For personal and family reasons Col. H. C. Rogers, postmaster of Peterborough, has tendered his resignation to take effect on December 1st next, and his resignation has been accepted. Meanwhile Colonel Rogers has been given leave of absence, his intention, it is understood, being to pay a visit to the Old Country, where his son has for some time been in a delicate state of health. On his return from England, Colonel Rogers will take residence in Victoria, British Columbia, where Mrs. Rogers finds the only climatic conditions agreeable with her health. Colonel Rogers being naturally desirous to be with her.

Colonel Rogers has been postmaster at Peterborough for a period of upwards of forty years, under practically all the governments, Liberal and Conservative, since Confederation. This fact itself is a tribute to the efficient discharge of his duties toward the several governments and of satisfactory public service.

Mr A. H. Stratton, who for many years has conducted a successful business in the city, has been appointed to fill the vacancy, his duties to begin on December 1st, next.

During the period of Colonel Rogers' leave of absence, the city post office will be place in charged of an experienced official of the Toronto post office staff, with a view if possible of improving the local service. The Toronto official's experiences with urban conditions and requirements will enable him to reorganize the Peterborough service and staff so as to bring it more in line with city conditions to meet demands of the growth in population and business of the City of Peterborough.

Cobalt Blind-Pigs Pay Out $4,400 in Fines

Cobalt, May 18—Fifty charges under the law prohibiting blind pigs has already resulted in the imposition of $4,400 in fines here. Two men are in custody until they have paid their fines, and three others will be tried this afternoon.

It is the most extensive and sensational raid ever planned by the Provincial police here, and the arrangements were carried out in the most secret and efficient way.

Almost a clean sweep was made of the town.

Magistrate Atkinson was dealing out hundred dollar fines all yesterday, and the bills accumulated on his table very fast. There was a morning, afternoon, and night sitting.

To or three cases have been heard this morning, and there are five more to be dealt with.

Non-Jury Sessions High Court Opened Yesterday

The non-jury sessions of the High Court of Justice opened yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, with Mr. Justice Clute presiding. The members of the local bar were largely represented, those present being Messrs. S. T. Medd, E. L. Goodwill, D. W. Dumble, C. N. Gordon, S. F. McWilliams, L. M. Hayes, F. D. Kerr, W. H. Moore, W. F. Johnston, Mr. J. W. Bennett, Mr. Ruddy and Mr. J. Green.

The first case taken up was that of Parker vs. Parker, which is entirely of a friendly nature, and has been explained before.

The case of G. H. Moore vs. A. H. Stratton, G. L. Hay and J. D. Clarke, has been satisfactorily settled out of court. Mr. Moore claimed $634 as a third of his share in a certain transaction which was not forthcoming and a writ was served on the parties mentioned above to recover the amount.

The same was to have come up at the sittings of the High Court yesterday, but the adjustment was made Monday.

An unusual and interesting civil action was heard before Mr. Justice Clute at the sittings of the High Court yesterday. It was the case of Parker vs. Parker, and the action in an entirely friendly one brought by the direction of the official guardian of infants.

The widow of the late Mr. Alfred Parker of Peterborough, wanted the arrangements completed as desired by her husband regarding a business in Hamilton, but the infant heirs of Mr. Parker had no authority to agree to the hence the action.

In 1906 the late Alfred Parker set up his son in business in Hamilton. After the son had been about a year in business it was decided that increased accommodation was necessary and it was decided to buy property and erect a suitable place for business thereon. Mr. Parker had been interested in the business prior to this.

The deed was taken out in the name of A. Parker at the request of the son, Robert, and after the erection of the building and about the time of entering into it it was seen that the business would be too much for one to handle in the busy season and Mr. Parker and son agreed to enter into partnership upon terms then arranged, one of which was that the survivor of the partnership should have all the property, and the assets of the firm. Upon a subsequent visit of Robert to Peterborough he and his father called upon the father's solicitor, Mr. Bennet, of the firm of Roger, Bennet and Goodwill, and instructed him to prepare the necessary documents to carry out these proposals. The documents were duly approved of by both parties, but were executed at the time of Mr. Alfred Parker's death, which the public will remember occurred after an hour's illness. Had there been no infants no action would have been necessary, because Mrs. Parker, the only other adult heir, knew perfectly well what the arrangement was and was convinced that any other course than that of Robert having the conveyance of the property would have been unjust.

However, the official guardian, before becoming a party to the conveyance on the infant's behalf, required that this friendly action should be brought to establish the facts beyond question.

The evidence of the son, Mr. Robert Parker, and of Mr. Bennet settled the matter in the mind of the judge beyond question, and as a result a declaration was made that the Hamilton business and real estate be conveyed to Robert, upon conditions of the written memoranda of partnership.

Counsel for plaintiff, E. L. Goodwill; for administratix, W. F. Johnston; for infants, L. M. Hayes, K.C.

MR. KENDRY SAYS PURITY WARE IS COMPOSED MOSTLY OF WIND

Lively Time at Board of Trade Meeting—Personal Matters Brought Into the Discussion—Provisions of the By-law Explained by Members of the Council—Mayor Rush was Criticised

There was a lively time at the Board of Trade meeting last night when the Purity Ware bylaw was discussed, and although there was a great deal of talk, both in favor and against the bylaw, no very strong reasons for opposing it were advanced, and very little information about the company was given that is not contained in the bylaw, or that has not appeared in these columns before. The chief opponent was Mr. Jas. Kendry, who stated that he had secured his information from Mr. Kemp, ex-M.P., of the Kemp Manufacturing Company of Toronto, manufacturers of a similar line of goods. Mr. Kendry claimed the Purity Ware Company was composed mostly of wind. He said, however, he would support the bylaw, if the American company which is supply the machinery, would back the Canadian company and if he knew the financial backing was good.

Mr. R. F. McWilliams criticised the action of Mayor Rush in allowing this property to be selected with out making it public from the very start.

A large portion of the time was, however, taken up with personal matters and in discussing things which had no bearing on the subject, and the meeting adjourned for one week when it is expected that the names of the financiers behind the Purity Ware will be announced.

The minutes of the last meeting were taken as read and the correspondence was referred to the Executive Committee.

Ex-president Dr. Morrison moved and seconded by J. H. Larmonth that the payment of $60 be paid to Mr. W. H. Bradburn to cover his expenses to New York last winter in connection with the Purity Ware Company, and that $100 be placed at the disposal of the executive to use for the purpose.—Carried.

President Ald. Geo. A. Gillespie opened the meeting by stating that the meeting was for discussing the Purity Ware bylaw. The council had gone into this matter very thoroughly and had prepared the bylaw which has been published and commented upon in the press. The president then read in part the principal features of the agreement between the city and the company. He added that some discussion as regards the location had come up. The Manufacturers' Committee had gone over the city and looked at many sites, but the one selected was the best and most convenient for the company. This property happens to belong to Mayor Rush and Mr. J. C. Shook, but this was selected in a manner that was open and above board. It was the best site for the company.

Mr. W. H. Moore asked what was called fixed machinery.

This means the machinery fixed to the property.

ALD. BRADBURN.

Ald. W. H. Bradburn reported that he with representatives from the city had gone to New York and went into this matter very thoroughly with the manager of the American company. The fixed machinery will amount to $50,000 or over. The American company will take stock for the machinery they put in and also for their patents and good name and trade mark. The American firm also insisted that the new concern have at least $100,000 paid up working capital.

ALD. HICKS.

Ald. Hicks stated that he was here to hear the discussion of the bylaw from the Board of Trade standpoint. He said he considered it an ordinary business risk and during the past month he had become convinced that it was more than an ordinary business risk, and was an absolute certainty. He felt sure it would be very strong financially, and would be well looked after.

JAS KENDRY.

Mr. Jas. Kendry said he took an interest in Peterborough, and he would help this bylaw along if he could be assured that the American company would back it up. He had gone to Mr. Kemp, he said, one of the largest manufacturers of this kind of ware in Canada, and got some information from him. Mr. Kemp said $100,000 would not begin to run such a concern. Mr. Kendry said he would like to get much more information than he had yet received. He wanted to know what men were behind this company. He finds that Mr. T. S. Baker was general manager. That man was in the Ontario Steel Company, and that company lost the first year $160,000. So far no other manager but Mr. Baker has yet been appointed. Now if these men are capitalists, and none are even practical men. They are all promoters. Then they start out with a debt to Mr. O'Brien, and he gave the various items that made up the debt.

Mr. Gillespie then read a letter from the American company, which bound the American company to back up the Purity Ware Co. Mr. Gillespie also stated that he has in his possession the names of the financial men from Montreal, who are underwriting the stock and if he was at present able to divulge the names every man in the audience would take off their hats. He had got reports on these gentlemen and learned that they were rated at the very highest rate. The council expects to be able to give out this information towards the end of this week.

Mr. Kendry characterized the Purity Ware Co., a company of wind. He went over a lot of figures that had been furnished to him by Mr. O'Brien.

Mr. Bradburn stated to Mr. Kendry that the Purity Ware Company must have a working capital of $100,000. The city has nothing whatever to do with any agreement between Baker and the American Company. He said the figures and other stuff that Mr. Kendry had given was furnished him by Mr. O'Brien, who has a personal grievance against the other members of the company, and had dropped out of the concern.

Mr. Kendry said he was opposing the bylaw on principal. If he saw anything wrong in any company he would tell the people about it. He wound up by saying that this concern was rotten to the bottom. The New York company was one in it.

Mr. Edwards, one of the promoters of the Purity Ware Co., said that Mr. Baker was not to be general manager. It would be managed by a board of directors. It is backed by one of the strongest financial firms in Montreal. In reply to Mr. Kendry's statement "straw men promoters." Mr. Edwards said the real promoters were the best financial men in Canada.

A scrap cropped up between Mr. O'Brien and Mr. Edwards about some agreement between Mr. O'Brien and Mr. Baker.

Ald. Boaks then explained the process of the negotiations between the city and the promoters and then the meeting with the New York company and the latter meetings.

D. W. DUMBLE.

Mr. D. W. Dumble did not think for one minute that that American concern would put their money into a business unless it had a man

A Disastrous Snowstorm in Alberta

Lethbridge, Alta., May 17.—The snow storm starting last night promises to be the most serious yet in its results. The stock will suffer severely. The calving and lambing season is on, and this weather means the loss of a large percentage of the calves and lambs as well as the weaker ones of the older cattle and sheep.

Prominent cattle men say any calves born during the storm would probably die, as would also other calves recently born. About one-third of calves are already born, and the death rate will be high, especially if the weather turns cold.

W. A. Hamilton, of the Alberta Sheep Company, says the storm will mean a serious loss to the sheep men. Sheep men with stables and straw are losing one-third of their lambs. Any lambs coming during the storm will in all probability die. It is estimated that sheep men who have not got sheds and corrals for their sheep will probably not save more than twenty-five per cent. of their lambs.

British Nerves Are Upset by Wild Stories About Germany

Last Week It was Said a Crowded German Troopship Entered the Humber—Now It is Said a Depot of Arms for Germans is Located in London Itself

London, May 18.—The "German scare" grows apace, and no sooner is one wild rumor laid at rest than another appears to try the nerves of the English people.

Last week there was the story of a big German liner filled with troops which, it was alleged, had entered the Humber, surveyed the possibilities of making a landing, and departed without being sighted by the British warships with which the North Sea is supposed to be closely dotted, while today Sir John Barlow, a Liberal member of the House of Commons and a well-known merchant, startled the country with the sensational suggestion that the Germans have established a depot of arms containing 5,000 Mauser rifles in the center of London, together with 7,500,000 rounds of ammunition for the use of 50,000 trained German soldiers now employed in various occupations in England.

As an evidence that Sir John attaches some credence to this remarkable story, he has notified War Secretary Haldane of his intention to question him concerning it in parliament.

A Note to Germany

From patriotic speeches at the notable banquet tendered the representative journalists of Australia and New Zealand, of the Press Association in Toronto. These speeches show the bonds between the colonies and the Motherland;

Lieut.-Governor Hon. J. M. Gibson—"Germany must be made to understand that not only Great Britain but the dominions beyond the seas must be reckoned with in any struggle that takes place affecting British supremacy on the seas."

Mr. W. J. Gage—"When foreign nations shut their doors against Britain it is to the other part of the empire that she should turn to dispose of her surplus products."

Mr. R. S. Cunningham, Melbourne Argus — "We came as we thought as cousins, and found ourselves received as brothers. You are a virile people, a people who don't get up and say things but get up and do things."

Sir James Whitney—"We and you, our friends from the Antipodes, are ready—aye, and anxious—to bear our share of the burden—nay, the privilege—of Imperialism."

Mr. George Fenwick, Dunedin, New Zealand—"It should be the earnest aim of each unit to consecrate its efforts towards further solidifying and strengthening the bonds which bind our great Empire together in one loyal, pulsating whole . . . permanent and progressive in the premier cause of righteousness."

Mr. J. S. Willison—"Subjects of the same King, citizens of the same Empire, co-workers in the orderly evolution of British institutions."

Mr. Stanley Loten, Wellington, New Zealand—"It is not by the gift of battleships that the unity of the Empire can be maintained, but by a common purpose among the confederate States, for a common good, for the solidarity of the Empire to which we shall give an unalterable and impregnable allegiance."

Mr. R. Kyffin-Thomas, Adelaide—"With two countries with natural products not common to both, it should be possible to promote closer trade relations."

Czar Orders the Release of Stoessel and Nebogatof

St. Petersburg, May 18.—Lieut.-Gen. Anatole M. Stoessel and Rear-Admiral Nebogatoff have been released from confinement in the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul by order of Emperor Nicholas.

The health of both men has been gravely affected by their confinement.

Gen. Stoessel was found guilty by court-martial of surrendering the fortress of Port Arthur to the Japanese, and was sentenced to ten years' imprisonment.

Nebogatoff was sentenced to be interned in a fortress for the same length of time for surrendering to the enemy at the battle of the Sea of Japan.

Teressa McGrath Struck by Fast Moving Train Is Not Likely to Live

A most unfortunate accident occurred yesterday afternoon which bids fair to be the cause of the death of Teresa McGrath, an old resident of Ashburnham. Miss McGrath is over 70 years of age. She was either walking on the track or crossing it when the No. 3 express due at 4.36, was coming in, and as the train runs pretty fast, the engineer did not have time to stop it to avoid striking the old lady. The accident happened in the neighborhood of Mr. Lundy's property. As quickly as possible the train was stopped and the unfortunate lady was picked up and brought to the station. Dr. Grey and the Dan Spence ambulance were summoned, and both arrived at about the same time, and victim of the accident was hurried to St. Joseph's hospital. She was unconscious and up to a late hour last night continued in a state of deep coma.

When Dr. Grey made the examination he found that Miss McGrath's left shoulder blade, four ribs on the left side, and the left elbow were broken and the elbow was also dislocated and she was suffering from concussion of the brain. When asked by The Times the doctor stated that there was very little hope of her recovery. He said she might live for a few days in that state, but was liable to pass away at any time.

Do Not Get Excited When 'Phoning Fire Alarm

The fire at Hooper's lower store yesterday noon has caused some comment. The alarm was sent in by a man over the telephone. That man was very much excited, and his conversation was so bunched and incoherent that the men at the fire hall were unable to hear. However the brigade went to box 21, which was the nearest alarm box, and then around to the Peterborough Canoe Co., where some steam coming from the cupola on the rear of the factory was mistaken for smoke. Here it was learned that the fire was at Hooper's. Thus a couple of minutes were lost. It happened that two representatives of the Fire Underwriters' Association were in the city at the time and they started out to look for Ald. Butler, and to investigate the cause of the mistake.

Ald. Butler was found on the street late in the afternoon. The underwriters complained to him and he promptly replied that he would investigate it. They went down to Ald. Turner's office, and as it was nearly five o'clock Ald. Morgan was called over and it was decided to send a test alarm.

One of the men had a stop watch and he kept the time. Ald. Turner called up the fire hall and said, "There is a fire at Peter Hamilton's." The men then went out to the street and waited for the brigade. From the time Ald. Turner gave the alarm until the brigade arrived and had several lengths of hose laid it was exactly two minutes.

This shows that the firemen were in no way to blame for the delay at the Hooper fire, but that the one who sent in the alarm was excited and did not give the information distinctly.

The chairman of the Fire, Water & Light Committee wishes the people to realize the importance of speaking plainly over the phone, and then to get outside of the building to direct the firemen where to go as it is impossible for them to find a small fire when smoke or flames cannot be seen.

Also when an alarm is sent in in from a box the person should stay at the box until the firemen arrive so that they may learn the whereabouts of the fire without delay.

It might be stated that the underwriters were greatly pleased with the test turnout and stated that it was as fast as any department in Canada could make.

The investigation of the Hooper fire included the Bell Telephone Co., as the alarm came over their line. This company has always been of great assistance to the brigade in getting directions correctly. The operators, when the fire hall is called up, ask if there is a fire, and if there is, are instructed to listen to the conversation. In this case the operator stated that the man giving the alarm was so excited that he yelled and squeched so that it was impossible to hear anything but that it was in a store on George street near Charlotte. This was all the directions that could be given. Chief Howard wishes to commend the Bell Telephone Company and the operators for the valuable assistance they have given the department in the past.

Four Men Drowned in the Petawawa

Ottawa, May 18—Thomas Day, St. Regis, Que.; John Jackson, Jr. Leport, and an unknown man of Ogdensburg, N.Y., were drowned in the Petawawa River this morning.

A party of seven men were on their way to a lumber camp, when their boat upset, and the four men lost their lives.

Who is This Mr. O'Brien?

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Dear Sir,—I was one of those present at the public meeting of the Board of Trade last evening, and listening to the discussion of the Purity Ware bylaw. One of the points brought out was that the promoters of the company were men of straw. The chief assumer seems to be a Mr. O'Brien.

Who is this man? Is he public spirited enough, and being a stranger to Peterborough, is it to be expected that he will spend his good money and time to come from Toronto to Peterborough to save us from buying a duck egg. I don't believe he is. Who then has hired him to defend the new company and stop the city carrying the bylaw. Surely it must be those interested in a similar line of manufacture.

Perhaps the Kemp Mfg. Co. of Toronto?

I do not wish to slander Mr. O'Brien but for the information of the public I would like to know if Mr. O'Brien is hired to oppose this bylaw, and if so who is paying him?

Thanking you for your space I am yours,

J. J. TURNER, Jr.

SIR JAMES WATSON

This eminent English physician is one of the greatest authorities on diseases of the respiratory organs.

In a recent address, Sir James Watson stated that the commencement of all disorders in Catarrh, and that not one person in ten thousand passes the winter without an attack of some sort.

Sir James advocates local treatment very strongly, and says that it is still customary trying to treat Catarrhal diseases by stomach medicines, atomizers, douches and snuffs.

Local treatment is applied most scientifically by Catarrhozone, which is inhaled into the nose, throat and lungs, and drives the disease completely out of the system.

Catarrhozone is a rational common-sense treatment; it clears the air passages, makes breathing easy, and relieves at once. Physicians prescribe Catarrhozone with gratifying results, and pronounce it a specific for Catarrh in any part of the system.

Mr. Thos. Cox, one of the most prominent citizens of Minden, Ont., says; "I want to recommend Catarrhozone. It is a nice, clean cure for Catarrh. Cured me perfectly, and is well deserving of a trial from everyone at all affected by Catarrh or throat trouble."

Mr. G. F. Fadden, of Royan, Que., writes; "In my opinion Catarrhozone is the only cure for Catarrh. I had the disease in its worst form but only got relief from Catarrhozone. It cured me quickly and permanently, and I have no fear of the Catarrh ever returning.

The foregoing brief extracts, like thousands of others that the proprietors of Catarrhozone have received, prove that the proper remedy to use is Catarrhozone. It is quite different from the ordinary Catarrh preparation, and is warranted to prove entirely satisfactory. If it fails your money will be refunded, so if not benefited you won't be out of pocket.

All druggists sell Catarrhozone. Complete outfit, hard rubber inhaler, bottle for recharging, etc., costs $1.00; trial size, 25 cents. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

THE MACHINERY IS AT FAULT

The tariff debate in the House of Representatives and the Senate has strengthened the movement for a tariff commission. Senators declared that they could not vote intelligently because they had not before them the materials upon which to base a judgment. A tariff commission would have gathered the facts and placed them at the disposal of congress.

It is doubtful whether a tariff commission could have done more than was accomplished by the Ways and Means Committee of the House. It sat for six months, day and night, three sessions a day, and heard all sorts and conditions of witnesses. Its reports are printed in large type on handsome paper, in twenty-five large volumes; and every congressman and senator has a set, or as many as he wants.

The conclusion that congress cannot do the work of legislation, just must hand it over to a commission, is strange in view of the magnificent provision made for the legislators. In addition to the spacious legislative chambers, there is a library which is the pride of Washington, and which contains reading rooms for senators and congressmen, where the studious legislator may be as quiet as in a church, and where he can only go to consult a button to have any book he wants laid on his desk.

The legislator dwells in marble halls, both upstairs and north at his call. Five palatial buildings have been erected at a cost of nine millions dollars, one for senators and the other for congressmen. Every member's son of them has an office of his own, and a private secretary paid by the nation.

We must not in our haste judge that the legislators are lazy or incompetent. The truth is that the procedure is antiquated and clumsy. It is an inheritance from the days of stage coaches and sailing vessels. It was framed for simpler conditions, when congressmen had plenty of time to discuss about democratic principles, liberty, and the rights of man.

Commerce, industry, and physical science have made gigantic strides since the days of Jeffersonian simplicity, but political science has not yet found its interval.

WOULD HAVE PEACE

The Peace Society of New York invited General Horace Porter to become one of its vice-presidents, and thereby suffered some shaft at the hands of the New York Post. Samuel T. Dutton defends the action of the society. He says that record of General Porter made at the Second Hague Conference, and his well-known attitude towards the peace movement, are a sufficient warrant of his eligibility not only as a member, but as an officer of the Peace Society. "The more representatives of the army and navy who are actually enlisted among peace workers the better. Our most honored military heroes of the past hated war, and desired nothing so much as the peace of the world. The names of Washington, Grant, and Sherman are to be found upon the roll of those who have desired peace."

Some of those who are working for the establishment of big armies and navies are avowed friends of peace, and there is no reason to doubt their sincerity, however we may dispute their logic. They believe that their own country is the most peaceable in the world, and that it is necessary, in order to preserve peace, to protect it against the designs of warlike nations. One is reminded by their attitude of Mark Twain's description of a noted peacemaker of the wild and wooly West, Buck Fanshawe. "He could tame any galoot of his inches in America." It was him that put down the riot last election before it got a start; and everybody says he was the only man who could have done it. He walked in with a spanner in one hand and a trumpet in the other, and most fourteen men home on a shutter in less than three minutes. He had that riot all broke up and prevented mine before anybody ever got a chance to strike a blow. He was always for peace, and he would have peace. He could not stand disturbance."

Cosgrave's Beer
Words of praise have ever prevailed in advertising "copy." That a producer should wax enthusiastic over his own wares is but human. But it's the praise of the consumer that counts—and it is to a discriminating and critical public that "Cosgrave's" refers you!
It is safe to say that no product, of any kind, enjoys a more enviable reputation than does this same Cosgrave Beer of Toronto in markets where it is offered.
Its self-evident honesty of purpose, purity, brilliancy, body, and every other attribute that goes to make a perfect beer are ever in evidence.

WHEREAS Purity Ware (Limited) has proposed to the Council of the City of Peterborough to establish in the said city a factory for the manufacture of enamelled and galvanized iron ware and the carrying on of the business authorized by its Charter of Incorporation, and to erect buildings for that purpose to cost at least $50,000 and install therein machinery and plant to cost at least $100,000, and to employ therein during the first year 100 operatives or employees and in each of the years thereafter for 19 years 150 operatives or employees provided the Council of the said City will obtain as a site for the said factory the following land, in the City of Peterborough namely, that part of Block D, as shown on Registered Plan Number 7—A for the said City, lying north of the right of way of the Grand Trunk Railway and that part of Lot Number Sixteen on said Plan lying south of the production easterly of the northerly limit of said Block D and part of the creek known as Beavermead Creek, which said parcels of land may be more particularly described as follows, that is to say;—Commencing at the north-westerly angle of said Block D at the water's edge of the River Otonabee—thence easterly along the northerly limit of said Block D and its production easterly 1008 feet more or less to its intersection with the southerly limit of said Lot Number Sixteen, thence westerly along the southerly limit of said Lot Number Sixteen and its production westerly to the center or middle thread of said creek—thence southerly with the stream along the centre or middle thread of the creek to its intersection with the production easterly of the northerly limit of the right of way of the Grand Trunk Railway—thence westerly along the northerly limit of said right of way and its production easterly 1123 feet more or less to the water's edge of the River Otonabee and thence north-easterly following the water's edge of the river, being the westerly limit of said Block D 885 feet more or less to the place of beginning, containing by admeasurement thirteen and one-quarter acres more or less, and will make a loan to the Company of $50,000 to assist in the erection of the said buildings to be secured and repaid as hereinafter provided and will exempt the said land, buildings, machinery and plant from the payment of all taxes (except school and local improvement rates and taxes) for a period of ten years upon the conditions hereinafter set out.

AND WHEREAS there is at present in the City of Peterborough no other manufacturing establishment carrying on a business similar to the one intended to be carried on by the said Company, and it is desirable in the public interest in order to secure the said factory to accept the said proposal upon the terms and conditions hereinafter set out.

AND WHEREAS it has been arranged between the said Corporation and Company that the said Company should in the meantime purchase, pay for and obtain a conveyance to itself of the said land at the sum of $2000.00, and after the purchase thereof proceed to erect the necessary buildings thereon for its purposes at a cost for said buildings and the furnaces of not less than $50,000, and that when the said buildings have been erected at the cost aforesaid, the sum of $25,000 shall be paid by the Corporation to the Company and when the said buildings should be fully equipped with machinery to the value of at least $100,000 and in operation that the balance of $25,000 together with the sum of $2000.00 paid for the said land should be paid over to the Company, provided the terms and conditions hereafter mentioned entitling the Company to the same have been fully complied with and the security hereinafter mentioned given.

AND WHEREAS in order to enable the said Corporation to pay for the said land and make the said loan, it will be necessary to issue the debentures of the Corporation for the sum of $52,000.00 which is the amount of the debt intended to be created by this By-Law.

AND WHEREAS the amount of the whole rateable property of the Municipality according to the last revised assessment roll is the sum of $8,625,778 and the amount of the existing debt of the Municipality, exclusive of local improvement debts, is payable by local special rates, but including the debt of $312,000 incurred for the purchase and improvement of the Waterworks is the sum of $872,544.00 and there is no part of the principal or interest in arrear.

AND WHEREAS there will require to be raised annually for a period of twenty years the currency of the debentures to be issued hereunder to pay the interest on the said debt the sum of $2,252.50 less such part of said sum as may be received from the said Company by way of interest on the said loan of $50,000 and the instalments of principal to be received from the said Company in repayment of the said loan being sufficient for the purpose of repaying the same at the maturity thereof, it is not necessary that a sinking fund should be created for that purpose, but all payments received from the said Company in repayment of the said loan shall be paid to the Peterborough City Trust to be held and invested and applied in payment of the said debt at the maturity thereof.

THE CORPORATION OF THE CITY OF PETERBOROUGH BY THE COUNCIL THEREOF THEREFORE ENACTS AS FOLLOWS;—

1. This By-Law shall take effect on the final passing thereof, but shall not be finally passed or have any force or effect unless or until it has been submitted to and received the assent of the requisite number of the ratepayers of the Municipality who are entitled to vote on the By-Law or is ratified and confirmed by the Legislature of the Province of Ontario or until the said Company shall have delivered to the Corporation a duly executed agreement to carry out on its part the provisions of this By-Law to be performed, observed and kept by the said Company and also an undertaking agreeing not to oppose the construction of any sewers or sidewalks as local improvements that the Council may desire to construct under the provisions of the Municipal Act relating to local improvements. 4. The said sums amounting in all to $52,000.00 shall be paid over to the said Company by the said City within one month after the Company shall become entitled to such payments as hereinafter mentioned by complying with the terms and conditions hereinafter set out and furnishing proof by statutory declaration satisfactory to the City Council showing the amounts expended and for what and that all said terms and conditions have been and are being complied with and upon and only upon such terms and conditions namely:—

(a) THAT the Company will repay to the Peterborough City Trust interest at the rate of four per centum per annum on the said sum of $50,000 or that portion thereof from time to time remaining unpaid, until the whole of said loan is repaid, said interest to be computed from the date the said sums of $25,000 each are paid, half-yearly on the 30th day of June and 31st day of December in each year commencing with the first such day after the whole of the said money is advanced and will repay the said City Trust the principal of said loan in ten equal annual instalments of $5000 each—the first of such annual instalments to become due and be paid on the 30th day of June, 1920, and yearly thereafter, with the right to said Company to increase the amount of said annual payments or to re-pay the whole of the said loan or any balance thereof that may remain due at any time to the said Company and to be paid in the meantime, with the right to the Council of the said Corporation in its discretion to demand repayment of the said sum or the balance thereof then remaining unpaid, if at any time (except in the case of strikes or damage by fire as hereinafter provided) the said Company shall have in its employment at its said manufacturing establishment in the City of Peterborough for ten months in any year (after the first year of its operation) an average of less than 150 operatives or employees, such re-payment to be made, with interest at the said rate of four per centum per annum within three months after the said Council shall have passed a resolution making such demand and mailed a copy thereof addressed to the said Company at the City of Peterborough.

PROVIDED HOWEVER that if the failure to employ the said number of operatives or employees as above mentioned in the said manufacturing establishment is due to a general strike of the employees or of a sufficient number of them to prevent the said Company carrying on the said manufacturing business in the regular manner or to the destruction or damage of the buildings or machinery by fire or tempest, so as to prevent the said Company carrying on the said business in the regular manner, the time during which the business shall cease to be so carried on in consequence of such strikes or destruction or damage of the said buildings or machinery, not exceeding in either case one year, shall not be counted in the period to entitle the Council of the said City to demand payment of the amount of the said loan or the balance thereof then due and interest thereon as above mentioned.

(b) THAT in case default shall happen to be made of or in the payment of the said sums of $50,000, or any instalment thereof as provided by sub-clause (a) hereof or any part thereof, or of or in the payment of the interest on the same as provided in said sub-clause (a) or any part thereof for the space of one month after the same becomes due and payable or in case of default of or in the doing, observing, performing, fulfilling or keeping of any of the other provisions, agreements or terms herein or in said convenant mentioned, and such default shall continue for one month then in every such case the whole of said sum of $50,000, or that portion thereof remaining unpaid, shall forthwith become due and payable, and it shall and may be lawful for the City Trust after giving written notice to the said Company of its intention in that behalf either by service on the President or Secretary of the Company or by letter addressed to the Company at the City of Peterborough, not less than thirty days previously, and without any further notice or consent or concurrence of the said Company to enter into possession of and hold the said lands hereinbefore described and the buildings thereon, and that part of the said plant which are fixtures, and whether in or out of possession of the same, if thereunto authorized by by-law of the Corporation of the said City, to sell and absolutely dispose of the same or any of them or any part or parts thereof for any sum or sums and in any way the said City Council may by said by-law direct and the said City Trust if thereunto authorized as aforesaid shall have power and authority to assure and convey the same if and when so sold to the purchaser or purchasers thereof by proper and sufficient conveyance and conveyances.

(c) THAT the said Company will until the whole of the said loan is repaid keep the said lands and the buildings and the said fixtures in good order, condition and repair according to the nature and description thereof and in case of neglect of default in so doing the provisions mentioned in sub-clause (a) hereof shall apply, by reason of such neglect or default, and the amount of the said loan or of that portion then unpaid shall become payable as in said sub-clause (a) set out.

(d) THAT the said Company will insure and until the said loan is fully repaid will keep insured against loss or damage by fire the said buildings and fixtures on the land hereinbefore mentioned in the sum of at least the full amount of said loan or the balance thereof remaining unpaid in some Insurance Company or Companies approved of by the said City Trust (such approval not to be unreasonably withheld) and will pay all premiums and sums of money necessary for such purposes as the same shall become due and will make the amount payable under the policy or policies payable to the said City Trust, as its interest may appear, and will deliver to the said City Trust the policy or policies of insurance when issued and the receipts thereto appertaining respectively not later than three days before the premiums on the said policies become due respectively and in default thereof the said City Trust may pay any premiums or sums of money necessary for said insurance and the said Company shall forthwith repay same with interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum to the said City Trust, it being understood that in the event of the said Company effecting its insurance on its buildings and machinery in the form of a blanket policy or policies and causing the loss if any thereunder to be made payable to the said City Trust to the extent of the unpaid amount of said loan it shall be a sufficient compliance with the said provision as to delivery of policies if the said Company shall deliver to the said City Trust a duplicate of said policy or policies or an acknowledgment by the Insurance Company or Companies of the interest therein of the said City Trust.

(e) THAT if required by the Council of the said City the said Company, as security for the repayment of the said loan will execute and deliver to the said City Trust a first mortgage on the said lands hereinbefore mentioned, and the buildings and fixtures thereon, which fixtures shall as far as said mortgage is concerned, be held to be part of the realty and covered and embraced in said mortgage, and the said mortgage shall be a continuing security until the said loan is fully paid off according to the terms and conditions of this By-Law.

(f) THAT the said Company shall be at liberty from time to time to substitute new and modern plant for the said fixtures in the said manufacturing establishment, provided the said new and modern plant is of equal or greater value than that for which it is substituted, and notice is given to the Secretary of the City Trust, giving the price and description of such substituted plant, and such substituted plant shall be and remain as security for the said loan until the same is fully paid.

(g) THAT in consideration of the payment by the Corporation to the Company of the purchase money of the said land above mentioned as hereinafter provided the Company shall again in case it shall not after the first year of its operations employ at least 150 operatives or employees in its factory as above provided during ten months in any year during any of the ensuing nineteen years that the Company will repay to the Corporation one-nineteenth of such sum as bears to the total price of said land, the same proportion as the deficiency in the number of operatives or employees actually employed in its said factory during any year bears to the total number which should be employed under the terms hereof in said year, and in case the said land and buildings shall at any time within the period of twenty years from the passing of this By-Law cease to be used as a manufacturing establishment substantially according to the capacity thereof as hereinbefore set out for a period of twelve consecutive months then the said lands shall enure to and become the absolute property of the Corporation free of any claim thereto by the Company or its assigns unless the Company or its assigns shall within six months after the said period of twelve months pay the said Corporation the full purchase price of said lands, less the proportion thereof calculated for the period said land and buildings have been so used and less such deductions as may have been made under this clause and the conveyance of the said land so the Company shall contain and be subject to the conditions in this sub-clause set out.

To Enlarge the Chicle Plant

The demand for the product of the Canadian Chicle Company, Peterborough's gum enterprise is increasing very rapidly. Last week four new coating pans and a motor were installed, making a total of seven coating pans in the plant.

Owing to the popularity of Fruitless and Spearmint the two varieties made by the firm a proposition to open an American factory in Buffalo in August is seriously considered and arrangements towards that end are now being made.

If the Buffalo branch is opened, it will mean the necessity of increased facilities for the local interests to such an extent that a new factory will have to be opened here with considerably increased accommodation for cleaning and drying chicle. The duty on manufactured gum being sent into the States is very high and that on raw material very much less. For that reason the chicle will be dried here if the Buffalo factory is opened and shipped there. This will of necessity greatly increase the staff employed here for that work.

CLEAN Up INSIDE

Blood and System Cleansing in the Spring Makes Good Health all Summer.

In spite of all your careful habits it is safe to say that in the spring you feel poorly—have a throbbing sensation in the head—skin is pale or yellow, with dark rings under the eyes. If not absolutely bilious the system is so full of bile that you feel heavy and tired all day long.

Clean up, work off the winter's accumulation of waste, purify your blood. Do this and you'll feel fresh as a prize-fighter. "For ten years, says W. B. Gangster of Concord, "I suffered greatly from impure blood, which made me feel debilitated and unfit for work. I had no appetite, suffered from indigestion and gas, had some pains in the back, caused by poor kidney action. Spring was the hardest time of all, and many a time I felt despondent and languid enough to throw up the sponge. I was impressed by the marvellous work done by Dr. Hamilton's Pills and tried them. They toned me exactly. In one week I felt like new. I was braced up, got rid of blood weakness, gained in flesh, got back my old time appearance and spirits. Dr. Hamilton's Pills will clean all the sickness out of a man in short order and I urge young and old to use this grand tonic medicine."

Dr. Hamilton's Pills are a perfect spring medicine, they destroy germs and poisons of every description and strength whereby the system rallies and the patient quickly enjoys the blessings of Perfect Health. Get Dr. Hamilton's Pills today—25c. For sale at all dealers.

Lame Back

This is one of the most common forms of muscular rheumatism. It attacks the muscles in the small of the back. It often comes on suddenly and is so severe that the body can be moved only with great pain. Keep as quiet as possible, as every movement of the body aggravates the disease. Massage the affected parts with Chamberlain's Liniment three times a day until the pain, soreness and stiffness have entirely disappeared. It is prompt and effectual.

Board of Trade

at the head of it who would run it successfully.

Mr. F. D. Kerr said he was thoroughly in favor of this factory and believed that every other citizen would if they were assured that the men behind it were good. Mr. Kerr asked if there was any good reason why these gentlemen should not give their names to the public.

Ald. Hicks explained very fully the reasons why the names were not given. He further stated that those names had been given to the chairman of the Manufacturers' Committee and the mayor, and were perfectly satisfactory to them, and will be made public in a few days.

Mr. A. P. Poussette said he believed Mr. Kendry was interested in the city but whether he was right or not would be known later. The matter to be decided tonight was whether or the bylaw sufficiently protected the citizens. He said it did. The site at $2000 is very cheap. Before the city is called upon to pay a cent a building must be erected at $50,000. The city pays $25,000, and when the machinery is installed and the factory running the city pays another $25,000. The city is secured by a first mortgage on the building and machinery. He was convinced that the citizens were safe in voting for the bylaw. He submitted that this meeting should endorse the bylaw.

R. F. McWILLIAMS.

Mr. R. F. McWilliams said that if the company was going to be successful there must be capital behind it. So far the people only knows the promoters, what is wanted is the names of the financial men in the company. Then as to the New York Company. That company only undertakes to sell to the company machinery, and take its pay in stock. Outside of that the American company are not taking any interest in the business, and all they can lose is what it will cost them to take away the machinery and the difference between that machinery and new machinery. He thought the council should clear up the $30,000 which will have to be paid in duty and freight on the machinery. Who has to pay that? Mr. McWilliams said however, that if the factory was backed by good financial men and by the New York concern he would support it very heartily. Mr. McWilliams said he found considerable opposition to the site for the factory. He thought it might be on the sugar beet grounds. He did not think the promoters showed any great business ability in selecting that site. He also pointed out that the land selected had no access to it and the city would have to buy a right of way to the site and build a bridge over the creek and a subway under the G.T.R. tracks. The property belongs to the mayor of the city, and to the speaker it appeared to be a very strange procedure, and he said the people would support straight dealing, but he did not think they could support this site.

ALD. BULLER.

Ald. Buller said he did not think it was right of Mr. McWilliams to speak of the mayor as he did. Mr. Rush was elected to the chair by the people and by a good big majority.

MAYOR RUSH.

Mayor Rush explained that he had no part in the selection of the site. He wanted some other site selected. Mr. McWilliams is wrong. There is a road through it and a crossing over the G.T.R., and one under the G.T.R. tracks.

DR. MORRISON.

Dr. Morrison said he would like the council to have that word fixed eliminated in connection with the machinery clause. There are four parties interested in this contract, viz., New York company rated at a million dollars, who put in $100,000 worth of machinery; the Montreal financiers who will take up $100,000 working capital; the City of Peterborough which loans $50,000, and the promoters. If this company will erect a factory, instal machinery at $150,000, and put into the bank as working capital $100,000, then it was pretty safe for the city to make a $50,000 loan. He thought if Mr. Kendry had got information from some one who was not a competitor as Mr. Kempt of Toronto is. He thought Mr. Kendry should have gone to the New York company for information. Then as to the site Mr. Morrison said the city was getting a piece of land very cheaply. If the names of the Montreal financiers are forthcoming before the vote was taken he would be glad to support the bylaw.

D. HUGHES-CHARLES.

Mr. D. Hughes-Charles was in favor of the bylaw and hoped it would carry.

Mr. J. H. Larmouth moved that the discussion adjourn for one week. Mr. Meldrum seconded, and it carried.

Lord Roberts Says That the British Army is a Sham

London, May 19.—"Our army is a sham. We have no army," exclaimed Field Marshal Lord Roberts, earnestly, during a debate in the House of Lords upon the Duke of Bedford's motion for an enquiry into the condition of the reserve.

Earl Roberts, who is known to favor compulsory military training, declared that he was amazed at the manner in which both Houses treated the army as a party question, and at the apathy of the nation regarding military defence. The nation, he said, did not believe in the danger of invasion, and no wonder, for their leaders told them there was no fear for it. He added; "I know perfectly well that the leaders in both Houses are anxious about the future, but they do not tell the country that we have neither an army to send abroad nor to defend the country at home. While we are sitting here, taking it easily and comfortably, the danger is coming near and nearer to us daily, and unless you cease telling the people they are living in safety and get an army fit to deal with any enemy we shall one day come to such utter grief that you will bitterly regret your inaction.

"It is a perfect marvel to me how Great Britain can see what is going on around us in Europe and be content with the condition of our army. No country in the world would attempt to defend itself with the paucity of men and with the untrained men we have got. You will never have a real army until you take the nation into your confidence and tell them their danger. You may think you are safe, but you are not.

"Be frank and tell the nation what is before them. They will respond."

His admonitions were addressed to the government representatives. The peers showed their approval by carrying the Duke of Bedford's motion against the government by a vote of 73 to 62.

A Separate Navy Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Plan

Ottawa, May 19.—During the passage of the supply bill Mr. Foster pressed for a statement of the government policy in connection with the Imperial defence resolution. Has anything been laid down, he asked, as a principle on which the July conference will proceed? There was nothing in the estimates to indicate immediate action. There were a large number of people in the country, of whom he was one, who did not think the expression of sympathy and the promise of aid in an emergency sufficient.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that he was aware that the resolution passed earlier in the session had not given satisfaction to, he would not say a large, but to a certain section of Canadian public opinion. The more advanced section would require a money contribution to the United Kingdom to strengthen the navy. He said that he did not agree. He realized that Canada should act fairly and squarely, and as far as possible provide for her own defence. He was not prepared to say to what extent this should go. After the passing of the resolution the government thought that it should confer with the naval authorities of Great Britain. It did not regard it as wise to proceed by isolated action.

Mr. Foster—"The resolution forbade that."

Sir Wilfrid Laurier went on to say that it would be unwise to have our navy a part of the Imperial Their action, however, should be in accordance with the views of the admiralty. At this stage, the premier went on, a despatch was received from Great Britain suggesting a subsidiary conference.

Rogers, the Oil Magnate, Has Succumbed to Illness

New York, May 19.—H. H. Rogers, the Standard Oil capitalist, died at his residence in this city today. He has been ailing for months, but the general public had not been expecting his death.

Mr. Rogers died at his house, No. 3 East 57th street, about seven o'clock this morning. He arose about six, and about half-past six began to feel ill, complaining of numbness and nausea. Before anything could be done he sank and died. He went on Friday last to his country place at Fairhaven, Mass., and returned yesterday.

Mr. Rogers was for many years one of the most prominent financiers of the country. He took a leading part in all the enterprises undertaken by the Standard Oil group of capitalists, and was the active spirit in the organization of the Amalgamated Copper Co., of which he was president up to the time of his death. He also was interested in a number of railroads, serving as a member of the board of directors of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, the Chicago, Milwaukee, and St. Paul, and the Union Pacific.

The news of the death came as a surprise to Wall street. Mr. Rogers was at the office of the Standard Oil Company yesterday, and appeared to be in good spirits.

His health had been failing somewhat for several years past, and he had curtailed his financial operations to some extent on that account but he continued to perform the duties of vice-president of the Standard Oil Company.

HIS LAST BIG FEAT.

The death of Mr. Rogers follows closely upon the completion of the great railway project to the accomplishment of which the energies of his later years, his genius for organization, and a very considerable portion of his private fortune was devoted. This was the building of the Virginia Railway, a line which opened up a rich bituminous coal country in West Virginia, extending 443 miles from Deep Water, W. Va., to a tide water terminal at Sewell's Point, Va. This road was distinctly an individual undertaking of Mr. Rogers, and he probably bore the greater part of its construction, which has been estimated at $40,000,000. Mr. Rogers had embarked on his venture some time prior to the financial panic of 1907, which checked similar undertakings by some of the large railroad companies.

Mr. Rogers was born at Fairhaven, Mass., which benefitted largely from his gifts after he acquired wealth and became vice-president of the Standard Oil Company. He was a very large stockholder in the big combination but many other enterprises added to his wealth. He gave largely to benevolent movements. Among his gifts to Fairhaven were two schools, a town hall, a library, a masonic and church building, the latter being perhaps the finest of its size in America, a system of water works, and improved streets.

SLIGHT JAR TO MARKET.

New York, May 19.—Wall street news of the death of H. H. Rogers, president of the Amalgamated Copper Company, reached the financial district just before the stock market opened. Amalgamated Copper opened at a decline of 1 3-8 in response to this news. Consolidated Gas also ran off 2 1-2. Otherwise the market was little affected and fractional gains almost equalled the declines. Reading fell a point and Kansas City Southern, and Colorado Fuel 3-4. The dealings were only moderately active.

Seymour Power Co. Prepared to Deliver 500 Horse Power to the City

Three of the Company's Representatives Met the Power Committee Last Night—Could Deliver About 4,000 Horse Power Here in August—Were Not Prepared to Quote a Price

The first meeting between the Seymour Power Company of Campbellford and the Power Committee was held last night. Three representatives were here from Campbellford, including Messrs. Carry and Mitholland and their solicitor. They arrived on the G.T.R. 9 o'clock train, and went directly to the city clerk's office. The company expect to develop 20000 horse power. They have now three water powers, and they are prepared to deliver to Peterborough 5000 horse power within a year or less. They will be able to have about 4000 horse power here in August. The company, however, could not just now quote a price, so there was nothing further done.

The object of the meeting said Ald McIntyre was to hear the representatives of the Seymour Electric Power Co. of Campbellford.

Mr. Carry said the they were more in search of information than to make a proposition. Their object was to find out what the position is. Their company could not come to the city to do business without the consent of the council.

Ald. Phelan stated that if the company could give a rate for power that would be of advantage to the citizens the council would see that the got a franchise.

Ald. Morrow asked how much power the company could deliver.

Mr Carry said that the price of the power would depend upon how much they could sell and under what conditions they could enter the city. At present they are not prepared to quote a price.

Asked if it would be possible for two companies to use the same pole the Mr. Carry said there was none as yet, but they were developing 4000 horse power in the first installation. They have a 23-foot head and their power is the one nearest the village of Campbellford.

Mr. Carry said that the company would be prepared to deliver 5000 horse power to the city. They will be ready to deliver in August. They have now three powers, but they are only developing the one just now. They expect to ultimately develop 20,000 horse power. If they could quote a satisfactory price they presumed the city would be glad to do business with them. He would also like to know how much power they could deliver here. To build a line to Peterborough would involve an expenditure of $100,000. The construction of the line would take about four months. The biggest job would be building the sub-station here.

Ald. Gillespie asked if the company could not give a price on 1000, 2000 and 3000 horse power. Mr. Carry said he could do that. The prices are subject to the control of the Board of Railway Commissioners.

Mr. T. F. Matthews said that if the city could get control of a power and could get it here the whole thing reduced itself to the fact of whether it could be purchased or developed the cheaper.

There was considerable discussion on the matter but the company not yet ready to quote a price so the matter was allowed to stand until such time as they were.

Say 58,268 Went To the United States

Chicago, May 19. — Despite the claims made by Canada of the immense immigration entering it's borders from the United States, C. E. Schmidt, commissioner of immigration of the Rock Island-Frisco lines, has compiled figures which show that during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1909, more people came into the United States from Canada than emigrated from this country to Canada. He obtained his figures from reports of the commissioners of immigration of the United States and Canada.

During the year Mr. Schmidt finds that 58,000 left the United States to take up homes in Canada, while 58,268 came from Canada to live in this country, a difference of 61,048 in favor of the United States.

During nine months in the Canadian fiscal year 1907 no less than 74,087 persons came into Canada from the United States. We have not the figure for last year, but it is probably considerably larger than that quoted by the American authorities. In any case, the bulk of the arrivals from the U.S. are prosperous farmers, coming in from the Southern West, but many of those who go from Canada into the States are simply foreign immigrants who passed through Canadian seaports.

Has Purchased a New Motor Boat

Mr. Felix Brownscombe has launched a new twenty-foot motor boat which he purchased from the Schofield-Holden Company of Toronto. It has an eight-horse power engine and made good time on her trial trip on the Otonabee. Mr. Brownscombe will use the boat mostly at Stony Lake.

Is a Blacklisted Man an Indian?

An interesting point has been brought up in connection with the Indian roster of restricted persons of which there are some on to one hundred, some of whom are property owners.

One of the men on the list was recently served with a notice to pay his taxes. It is a well-known fact that Indians do not pay taxes, and the man claims that he is in the same class, as he has been put on the "Indian" list in respect to privileges of the city.

He announces that he will appeal before the city council dressed in a blanket and with feathers in his hair to plead his case. If he gets out of paying his taxes, there are others who will take the same course, and the city will find it expensive work putting men on the prohibitive list.

Wish to Drive Out Protestant Indians

Montreal, May 19.—A case of unusual interest is in progress in the Superior Court here, Judge Hutchesson presiding, viz., the suit of the Indians of Oka against the Seminary of St. Sulpice, contesting the claim of the seminary to absolute proprietorship of the seigniory of the Lake of Two Mountains, better known as the seigniory of Oka. This bone of contention has been agitating the country off and on for the last forty years, when some of the Indians turned Protestants, since which the seminary has been trying to make them remove so as to be replaced by French Catholics. The Dominion Government have concluded that it was for the best interest of the country that this vexed question should be settled once for all and have agreed to make a test case of it, the government paying the expenses of both sides.

Mr. R. C. Smith, K.C., of Smith, Markey, and Montgomery, Montreal, and Mr. N. W. Hewell, K.C., of Toronto, appear for the Indians, and Mr. Lanctot, K.C., of Montreal, for the seminary of St. Sulpice. The case has now been in progress for six days, taking technical evidence. It is almost a foregone conclusion that the case will ultimately go to the Privy Council.

Barbers' By-law Causes Trouble

The barbers' early closing bylaw. The Times has been informed, is not working satisfactorily in some cases. This bylaw was passed at the request of the barbers and was recently put into operation. As a result complaints have been made to the chief of police that shops where cigar stands are run in connection do not close at the proper hour. The chief is awaiting the return of the city solicitor with whom he will take the matter up. The barbers having cigar stores do not consider it necessary to close their doors and stop selling cigars while others obtain that the doors must be closed and locked and no business whatever done after hours.

Tents for 38th Regiment Here

The tents which will be used by the 38th Regiment of Brantford during their visit to this city, arrived yesterday and were taken to Central Park, where they will be put up at once. They are the regular bell-shaped military tent, and number about forty-five. The whole regiment will eat and sleep in these tents which will no doubt, present a unique appearance.

The Daughter of Jairus Successfuly Produced by Choir of St. John's

The sacred cantata "Daughter of Jairus," composed by Sir John Stainer, was produced by the choir of St. John's church last night, and it proved to be one of the greatest musical treats of the season. The church was crowded with a cultured audience which thoroughly appreciated the work. Mr. Barton of Toronto, in speaking of it said that the production by St. John's choir could not be surpassed, number for number in the city of Toronto.

The cantata was produced here under the most favorable auspices, and it is not too much to give unstinted praise to all who were concerned. If Oritorio work can be produced by local musicians in the way that the Daughter of Jairus was in St. John's choir last night it is evident that Peterborough is capable of producing the larger oritorio. The chorus was thoroughly well balanced. The principals were excellent and the conductor was able to give full play to the beautiful music of the work.

The singing of the ladies' choruses cannot be discribed in any other way than that it was superb. The men's choruses, especially in the chorus of "Unbelievers" was equally good.

Miss Helen Davies sang splendidly throughout the work, and especially in her solo Come unto Me, from the Messiah.

Mr. Chandler took full advantage of the opportunities at his disposal in his solo, "My hope is in the everlasting."

Mr. Herbert Morphet in his duet with Miss Davies, "Love Divine," was also heard to great advantage.

Mr. Edward Barton of Toronto, is a favorite with Peterborough audiences, and his work in last night's performance left nothing to be desired.

The great brunt of the work of conducting and accompanying fell on the organist and choirmaster, Mr. R. J. Dovey, whose skilful work was the feature of the evening. He was assisted at the organ by Miss Maggie Flowers and Mr. Martin Kilpack.

The orchestra was distinctly good and was much appreciated by the audience.

The offertory amounted to $56.

It is gratifying to think work of this character is appreciated to its true value in Peterborough. Rev. Canon Davidson most impressively read the story of the miracle of the raising of the daughter of Jairus, from St. Mark's Gospel, and closed the service with the benediction.

British Government Not Favorable To Canadian Government's Suggestion

London, May 19.—A suggestion coming from Canada that two regiments of Canadian infantry militia should visit Aldershot in August to undergo a few weeks' training with the regulars there, the Canadian Associated Press hears that the proposal is not received favorably at the military headquarters. However, should any formal proposal for a visit be made to the War Office, the month of March is suggested as the best time, as then the training of the troops at Aldershot begins for the year.

Getting in Shape for the Season

Ryan's boat house is a lively place just now. The owners of power launches are busy with paint brushes and tools getting their boats ready for the launching. There are now half a dozen boats in the water although the river is very high and there is no place to land except the virgin bank.

Improvements to the Canal Property

The Trent Valley canal property around Peterborough will look better this year than ever before. The banks at No. 6 lock and at the lift lock are all in splendid condition and are very green just now. All the posts and fences along the canal are receiving a coat of whitewash and everything is fixed up spick and span.

Local Factory Shipped Boats to Winnipeg

The Peterborough Canoe Company shipped a carload of gasoline launches to Winnipeg yesterday afternoon. There were four boats on the cars, three 20 footers and one 25 footer. There is an increasing demand in the West for the Peterborough motor boats as well as the Peterborough canoes.

High Water in the Otonabee River

The water in the Otonabee is at the present time very high. The dam at lock No. 6 has disappeared, the water below it being on a level with that above. The wharf and docks at the boat house are all under water. The cause of the high water is said to be due to the mouth of the river at Rice Lake being plugged with sawdust which has been accumulating for years. At any rate the water must recede about five feet before the normal level is reached.

Question of Taxes on Purity Ware

In connection with the Purity Ware Limited, it might be said the city pays $3,000 for a site, the interest upon which is $120, and will receive in school taxes alone $312 per year. This is based upon an assessment of $60,000. The loan will not cost the city a dollar as the debentures will be sold at 4 per cent. while the company pays interest of 4 per cent. Then the additional taxes received from the new houses that will certainly be erected for the new families moving to the city, at least 50, will be no small amount. On the whole the city stands to make on the deal what ever way one looks at it.

Fruit Prospects are Good

St. Catharines, May 19.—It has been stated—that this is to be a poor year for fruit, but according to the view of many of those interested in this work there does not appear to be any ground for this belief. Peaches are showing up better than has been expected. The Cuthbert raspberries will do well. Strawberries promise to be heavy, except in a few places, where an attack was made by the grub. Pears, plums and apples all show good indications while it appears the grapes will be as plentiful as ever. Tomato plants are already being put out, and while there is the fear of frost, it is fair to expect these will do as well as usual.

St. Peter's Baseball Club Elects Officers

St. Peter's Baseball Club met last night and organized for the season. There was a good attendance and the boys are full of enthusiasm. The officers elected are as follows;

Hon. Pres.—Rev. Father Kelly.
Hon. Vice-Pres.—W. J. O'Brien.
Sec.-Treas.—B. Callaghan.
Manager—J. Callaghan.

The team will practice every night and Saturday afternoon, weather permitting, to get into shape for the first game on Thursday of next week. All those wishing to get a place on the team are requested to be at the ball grounds in Bonwell's field at 7 o'clock in the evening.

Bethany and Y.M.C.A. Meet on Saturday

The Bethany football team will again appear in Peterborough next Saturday afternoon, when they meet the fast Y.M.C.A. eleven at Riverside Park. The game should be a fast one. The Bethany bunch are stickers and play both the man and the ball. The Y.M.C.A. team, however, should come out with the bigger end of the score sheet. They tied Bethany on the latter's grounds and had a much inferior team to that which they will be able to trot out Saturday.

Bronchitis Cured

For Fifteen years Mr. John Pearson of Malvern Square suffered from Bronchitis and Throat Irritation. Doctors Failed to Relieve but Catarrhozone Cured Quickly.

The remarkable recovery of Mr. Pearson, who for years was principal of Malvern Square High School, is convincing evidence of the exceptional curative powers possessed by Catarrhozone.

"For fifteen years," writes Mr. Pearson, "I constantly suffered from Bronchitis and Throat Irritation. Until quite recently I was able to keep up my teaching, but my bronchial trouble became so annoying that I was forced to resign.

"For months I doctored with different physicians and was not benefited. My trouble grew more severe and extended to the lungs, and I feared I would end in decline.

"Providentially I was advised to use Catarrhozone, and I believe it really saved my life. Its immediate effect was to relieve the throat trouble sufficiently to give me perfect ease in speaking. Within one short week all symptoms of Bronchitis had disappeared. I can fervently recommend Catarrhozone. I know it has no equal as a cure and speedy cure for throat trouble and bronchitis."

Every air cell and air passage, all parts of the breathing organs are reached and breathed by the antiseptic vapor of Catarrhozone. It soothes and heals the inflamed mucous surfaces, stops the cough, clears the nose and throat, and drives every symptom of bronchitis right out of the system.

To purify the blood of all poisons, and to build up the system, Ferrozone Tablets, which are included in every Catarrhozone outfit, are very highly recommended. This local and constitutional treatment in Bronchitis, Catarrh and Consumption cannot be equalled.

Catarrhozone is endorsed by physicians and ministers and thousands it has cured. Two months' treatment costs $1. Small size, 25c. Sold by all Druggists, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

THE GERMAN CRISIS

The present crisis in German politics, which may prove to be exceedingly serious, is not surprising. It was foreseen months ago. It was perceived to be practically inevitable some weeks ago, and it became imminent nearly a fortnight ago, amid the celebrations of Prince Bulow's sixtieth birthday anniversary. Before that, indeed, on May 1, the beginning of the end appeared in the Reichstag Finance Committee's rejection of several features of the government's financial scheme which the chancellor regarded as indispensable for covering the huge deficit in the budget; and at the same time the Conservatives, having announced their irreversible opposition to those death or succession duties which the chancellor declared to be absolutely necessary, began to cooperate with the Opposition Center and to withdraw from that government "bloc" of which for more than two years they had formed the principal factor. From that moment men of all parties began to talk of either the resignation of the chancellor or the dissolution of the Reichstag as inevitable. At the same time, while refusing to grant the increase of taxation necessary for the balancing of the budget, the Reichstag unanimously voted to increase the burden of the treasury to the amount of $6,250,000 a year by a general increase of official salaries. One effect of that action was seen when a $200,000,000 loan was issued, and instead of being subscribed ten or twenty times over, as other national loans elsewhere have been, was subscribed less than twice over.

Resignation or dissolution was promptly regarded as inevitable, because of the strong feeling which has been recently developed that the chancellor must at all times command a majority of the Reichstag. This feeling has arisen chiefly since the formation of the "bloc," more than two years ago, and has been greatly promoted by various utterances of Prince Bulow, himself. Indeed, he was at one time, a year ago, reported as explicitly declaring that a new era had been established in Germany and that thenceforth the chancellor and his ministers would be fully responsible to the Reichstag and dependent upon its approval for their tenure of office. It is conceivable that such things were said in the hope of thus promoting the stable coherence of the "bloc." If so, that hope was not well founded. The "bloc" was originally formed to protect the government and the empire against what was called the "Black and Red peril," to wit, an alleged alliance of the Clericals and the Socialists. Such an alliance would have been most incongruous, and probably never existed. But it served as "a good enough Morgan until after election," and the result of the election was the division of the Reichstag between a government "bloc" and an Opposition, the "bloc" comprising 66 Conservatives, 54 National Liberals, 53 Radicals, 20 Imperialists and 20 Anti-Semites, a total of 219, and the Opposition comprising 105 Clericals and their allies and 43 Socialists, a total of 178.

It was obvious that, with a "bloc" majority of only 41 over the Opposition, the defection of any of the three major factions would be fatal. Probably the hope of permanently welding all five into a single party was entertained by some. If so, it was vain from the beginning. Between the Conservatives and the Radicals there were perfectly irreconcilable differences and, indeed, antagonisms. These might lie dormant for a time, but they were sure to be aroused eventually, as they were as soon as the question of fiscal reform was broached. The Radical refused to support the bill unless certain things were included, and the Conservatives as positively refused to support it unless these same things were excluded. And steadily and surely the Conservatives insisted toward resumption of relations with the Clericals, with whom, on the whole, they have far more in common than with any other party or faction. There is, of course, much reluctance to order a dissolution and a new election, for several reasons, conspicuous among these being the confessed fear that the Socialists, who now number forty-three, might return to the new Reichstag one hundred strong. Moreover, a government campaign against the Conservatives would be a startling novelty, especially in the presence of the growing menace of Socialism. Yet it is to the Conservatives that the government owes its embarrassment and the defeat of its legislation, and against them, therefore, its appeal to the country should logically be directed.

Cosgrave's Beer

Words of praise have ever prevailed in advertising "copy." That a producer should wax enthusiastic over his own wares is but human. But it's the praise of the consumer that counts—and it is to a discriminating and critical public that "Cosgrave's" refers you!

It is safe to say that no product, of any kind, enjoys a more enviable reputation than does this same Cosgrave Beer of Toronto in markets where it is offered.

Its self-evident honesty of purpose, purity, brilliancy, body, and every other attribute that goes to make a perfect beer are ever in evidence.

HOW IT BEARS ON THE POOR

The lot of the city's poor is doubly hard. They have little money and the consequent necessity of purchasing only a few cents' worth of a given article at a time forces them to pay high prices. Often they must save two or three times as much for the necessities of life as do persons in good circumstances.

The cost of distribution in large centers is the reason of this disparity which bears so hardly upon those already carrying the heaviest burdens. The extra handling makes the difference. Coal is much dearer by the bushel than by the ton, and flour by the pound than by the barrel. It seems difficult to devise a means of supplying the poorest with food at the prices charged their well-to-do fellow citizens.

It seems a cruel thing that the purchasing power of the poor man's slender means is cut in two or three by the economies of distribution. But at least it should be seen that he gets full weight and measure with his meagre purchases. The New York superintendent of weights and measures reports that the poor people of the State are annually robbed of $20,000,000 through "fixed" adjustments, cheating pushes and false standards of quantity. It is surely the public authorities to see that weights and measures are properly adjusted, and that the dealers who cater to the poorer classes do not make a practice of robbing them.

When looking for souvenirs with hand-painted views of the public buildings on each, call at Times Bookstore, Hunter street.

WORSHIP THE SHARKS

South Sea Islanders Fear Them as the Abode of Ghosts.

HOLD SOULS OF THEIR DEAD.

The Natives Offer Gifts and Food, Sometimes Human, to Appease the Man Eaters—The Hawaiians Used to Feed Their Dead to the Monsters.

In view of the wide distribution of sharks and their strength and ferocity, qualities which appealed to the savage mind, it is not strange that the cult of shark worship should have arisen. This worship is especially common in the south seas, where sharks are very numerous, says the Detroit Free Press.

In the Solomon Islands living sacred objects are chiefly sharks, alligators, snakes, etc. Sharks are in all these islands very often thought to be the abode of ghosts, as natives will at times before their death announce that they will appear as sharks. Afterward any shark remarkable for size or color which is observed to haunt a certain shore or rock is taken to be some one's ghost, and the name of the deceased is given to it.

Such a one was Sautahimatawa at Ulawa, a dreaded man eater, to which offerings of porpoise teeth were made. At Sa'a certain food, such as cocoanuts from certain trees, is reserved to feed such a ghost shark, and there are certain men of whom it is known that after death they will be in sharks. These, therefore, are allowed to eat such food in the sacred place. In Sa'a and Ulawa if a sacred shark had attempted to seize a man and he had escaped the people would be so much afraid of the shark's anger that they would throw the man back in the sea to be drowned. These sharks also were thought to aid in catching the bonito, for taking which supernatural power was necessary.

In the Banks Islands a shark may be a tangaroa, a sort of familiar spirit or the abode of one. Some years ago Manurwar, son of Mala, the chief man in Vanua Lava, had such a shark. He had given money to a Manwo man to send it to him. It was very tame and would come up to him when he went down to the beach at Nawono and follow along in the surf as he walked along the shore. In the New Hebrides some men have the power, the natives believe, of changing themselves into sharks.

The Samoan native believed that his gods appeared in some visible incarnation, and the particular thing in which it was in the habit of appearing was to him an object of veneration. Many worshiped the shark in this way, and while they would freely partake of the gods of others they felt that death would be the penalty should they eat their own god. The god was supposed to avenge the insult by taking up his abode in the offender's body and causing to generate there the very thing which he had eaten until it produced death. In one village Tuna, the war god, was present in a bundle of shark's teeth. These curiosities were done up in a piece of native cloth and consulted before going to battle. If the bundle felt heavy that was a bad omen, but if light the sign was good, and off they went to the fight.

In the Fiji islands, Vivia and other gods claim the shark as their abode, and their devotees must never eat of that fish, for if they did they would be partaking of the god himself.

It was in the Hawaiian Islands, however, that shark worship reached its greatest perfection. Its worship was quite common on the islands, each one having a special shark as his ancestral god. The worship of sharks was due largely to the fact that the belief in the transmigration of souls is quite general among the Polynesians, and the Hawaiians would feed their dead to the sharks under the supposition that in this way the soul of the dead would enter the sharks and so animate the latter as to incline them to respect the bodies of the living.

Several of the African coast tribes worship the shark. Three or four times in the year they celebrate the festival of the shark, which is done in this wise: They all row out to their boats to the middle of the river, where they invoke, with the strangest ceremonies, the protection of the great shark. They offer to him poultry and goats in order to satisfy his sacred appetite. But this is nothing. An infant in every year sacrificed to the monster, which has been feted and nourished for the sacrifice from its birth to the age of ten. On the day of the fete it is bound to a post on a sandy point at low water. As the tide rises the child may utter cries of terror, but they are of no avail, as it is abandoned to the waves, and the sharks soon arrive to finish its agony and thus permit it to enter into heaven.

The Polynesians have an ancient fable treating of the flight of Ina, the daughter of Vaiteranga and Ngaetua, to the sacred isle. After the sale dumped her at the edge of the breakers with such disastrous results to itself from the angry princess the latter summoned the shark and by its help succeeded in reaching the sacred island. Feeling thirsty during the voyage, Ina cracked a cocoanut on the shark's forehead, and this accounts for the bump now found on the forehead of all sharks.

Absolutely Hopeless.

"But you might learn to love me," he urged.

She shook her head.

"You've no idea," she said, "what a poor student I am."—Chicago Post.

KHYBER CLOSED.

Trouble With Border Tribesmen Interrupts Traffic With Afghanistan.

The Khyber Pass has been closed to caravans. This step is due to the aggressive attitude of the Khassadars, or Militia, on the Afghan border (says the Civil and Military Gazette.) The Cabul authorities still appear to be powerless to restrain the impetuous spirits of the borderland, and discipline in Afghanistan generally is not what it was in the days of Abdurrahman. The Khyber Pass is the chief artery for commerce between India and Afghanistan, and its closure for any length of time would paralyse trade between the two countries. The unrest among the Afghan tribes bordering on the northwest frontier of India has for more than a year caused anxiety to the Indian Government. Frequent raids into British territory have been made, and in the Mohmand expedition in April last year thousands of Afghans fought with the Mohmands against British troops.

It is known that for some time past rifles and ammunition have been pouring into Afghanistan via the Persian Gulf and Persian territory. The hostility shown to the Indian Government is only one phase of an attitude of violent opposition shown by the more conservative Afghans against the Ameer, Habibullah Khan, who is regarded as a daring innovator because he has developed education in Afghanistan and is trying to improve the trade roads into India, with a view to increasing the imports and exports of Afghanistan. Last month, when the Ameer was at Jellalabad, near which he proposes to build a new city, an attempt to murder him, his son Inayat Ullah Khan, and his brother, Sardar Nasrullah Khan, was discovered. The leader of the conspiracy was encouraged by Bibi Halima, a wife of the late Ameer, Abdurrahman, who hoped to place her son, Sardar Umar Khan, upon the throne. The ringleaders were executed at Cabul and Jellalabad, many of them being blown from guns.

Sir Edward Poynter, president of the Royal Academy, kept the 73rd anniversary of his birthday a few days ago. He succeeded Sir John Millais as president in 1896. The foundation of Sir Edward's reputation was made by his picture, "Israel in Egypt," whereby hangs a story. He was long ago a member of a sketch club, and one evening the subject set for illustration was "Work." The future P.R.A. hit upon the idea of drawing a crowd of dusky Eastern slaves dragging a colossal statue, and the sketch met with such praise that he resolved to make a big picture of it, and "Israel in Egypt" came into being. It found, however, one implacable critic, an engineer, who sought out the artist and proved to him conclusively that the great weight indicated could not possibly be drawn by the number of slaves shown. Poynter took the criticisms in good part, and added more slaves, at which the engineer was so well pleased that he bought the picture.

Lengthy Incumbencies.

Rev. W. Wriothesley Wingfield's 70 years' tenure of the living of Gulval, in Cornwall, Eng., has, long as it is, been exceeded more than once in the Old Country.

Rev. Henry Bigot, D.D., who died in 1723 at the age of 96—Mr. Wingfield's present age — was rector of Brindle seventy-one years, and vicar of Rochdale for just under sixty years.

Still more remarkable was the record of Rev. Potter Cole, Lord of the Manor of Woolfardisworthy, in Wiltshire, who died in 1802, aged 97, after a seventy-three years' tenure of the living of Hawkesbury, Gloucester. During the whole of this long incumbency Mr. Cole was never out of his parish a month at a time.—Westminster Gazette.

Selous Shot Elephants.

Mr. Selous, who is accompanying Mr. Roosevelt on an African hunting expedition, was only nineteen when he fared forth into the world of adventure with a rifle in his hand and £400, all his capital, in his pocket. He asked Lobengula for permission to shoot elephants. "You shoot elephants!" said the Matabele King, derisively. "You are only a boy; you had better hunt antelopes." But the boy got the required permission. Since those early days Mr. Selous has spent more than thirty years among the African big game. Years ago he brought down his hundredth elephant.

The Postal "Doctor."

Probably one of the most interesting of the many occupations followed at St. Martin's le Grand is that of the postal "doctors." These worthies are really four senior sorters, who perform the special duty of "doctoring" letters, packages, etc., which, owing to insecure or careless packing, have become broken or damaged in the post. It is in the sorting room that they are humorously termed "doctors." Articles of infinite variety pass through these "doctor" hands, from coin, bank notes and stamps to bottles of medicine, oil and poison.

Ancient Medical College.

While it is customary to credit Hippocrates, the Greek physician, with being the father of medicine, discoveries of recent years have revealed the fact that the healing art flourished as a profession in far earlier times than we have any record of it in the history of Greece. Physicians were plentiful in the Egypt of 1500 B.C., and there is evidence to show that a medical college existed in Borsippa, a suburb of Babylon, even before the latter date.

THE GREAT BOMBARDMENT.

A Constant Rain of Missiles Upon the World's Atmosphere.

The regions of space beyond our planet are filled with flying fragments. Some meet the earth in its onward rush; others, having attained inconceivable velocity, overtake and crash into the whirling sphere with loud detonation and ominous glare, finding destruction in its molecular armor or perhaps ricochetting from it again into the unknown. Some come singly, vagrant fragments from the infinity of space; others fall in showers, like golden rain, all constituting a bombardment appalling in its magnitude.

It has been estimated that every twenty-four hours the earth or its atmosphere is struck by 400,000,000 missiles of iron or stone, ranging from an ounce up to tons in weight. Every month there rush upon the flying globe at least 12,000,000,000 iron and stone fragments, which, with lurid accompaniment, crash into the circumambient atmosphere.

Owing to the resistance offered by the air few of these solid shots strike the earth. They move out of space with a possible velocity of thirty or forty miles per second and, like moths, plunge into the revolving globe, lured to their destruction by its fatal attraction. The moment they enter our atmosphere they ignite, and the air is piled up and compressed ahead of them with inconceivable force, the resultant friction producing an immediate rise in temperature, and the shooting star, the meteor of popular parlance, is the result.

A Subtle Hint.

A representative in congress, who is the father of several bright girls, tells a story whereof one daughter is the main figure.

"For a long time," says the representative, "I had the bad habit of hanging about the lower floor when the girls had men callers. One evening I had settled in an easy chair in the reception room just off the drawing room when one of my girls, who was talking to a bright chap from our own state, called out:

"'Dad!'

"'What is it, daughter?'

"'It's 9 o'clock, the hour when Tom and I usually go into committee.'"

When an Ostrich Kicks.

"The only safe place in the neighborhood of a kicking ostrich is just behind it," said a zoo keeper. "An ostrich can kick a mule to death, but its kicks are delivered at an angle of 45 degrees. Within those 45 degrees, right aback the 'pope's nose' of the bird, there is absolute safety. On the ostrich farms of California, when the birds are being driven, you will always see the ostrich boys holding on to the tails of bad kickers. The kickers tear along, and their scaly legs shoot out like piston rods, but the boys in the shelter of the pope's nose are safe."

Condemnation.

"What do you think of members of European aristocracy as sons-in-law?" asked the old time friend.

"Well," answered Mr. Cumrox, "the way their relatives beat them around indicates that they ought to make easy husbands."

Mr. O'Brien Replies to Mr. J. J. Turner, Jr.

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Dear Sir,—Will you kindly grant me space in your publication to answer the question put by J. J. Turner, jr., in his letter to you of the 19th inst., viz., Who is this man? I am the Mr. O'Brien referred to, and my address is 16 Rosehill avenue, Toronto. I am engaged in the wholesale trade in woolens and have the pleasure of doing business with some of the leading citizens in Peterborough, which necessitates my visiting this city quite frequently. I was at the meeting of the Board of Trade on Tuesday evening, and no doubt Mr. Turner saw me there. He will remember having met me in Toronto at the King Edward Hotel (paid for his entertainment there together with the other gentlemen who accompanied him when they met the promoters of Purity Wire Limited. I have made no accusations against the promoters of this company, and I am quite indifferent whether the ratepayers of this city vote for or against the bylaw on June 1st, or whether they buy duck eggs or not as suggested by J. J. Turner, jr.

I am not hired by anybody to defeat the new company and stop the by-law carrying the bylaw. I am not a stranger to Peterborough or to the promoters of Purity Wire Limited, who have by virtue of an agreement between us secured advances of cash from me for the purposes of the company.

I am prepared to cancel my agreement with the company upon return of my cash in accordance with my understanding with the promoters.

If Mr. J. J. Turner, jr., or any other citizen desires any further information it can be obtained by writing me to the above address. I am pleased to note that Mr. Turner does not wish to slander me as I have never been slandered in my life. Before closing I would like to inform the public of Peterborough that I was brought into contact with the promoters of Purity Wire Limited, through answering an advertisement for someone with from three to five thousand dollars to invest. Thanking you in anticipation of your granting the space for this letter, I am Sir,

Yours sincerely,

A. Q. O'BRIEN.

YANKEE WIT.

Lincoln Said He Always Admired and Coveted It.

Alban Jasper Conant, the artist, in telling of his experience in painting a portrait of Lincoln said:

"Yankee wit was mentioned at one of the sittings, and Lincoln said, 'That is something I always admired and coveted.' Some one said, 'Why, you certainly have the credit of possessing it in large measure.' 'No,' said Lincoln, 'not the genuine. I don't remember that I ever got credit for it but once.' Then he told how, hurrying once through a courtroom, he was ordered by the judge to defend a prisoner accused of assault and battery. A witness was just testifying that the complainant had been fought all over a field. 'On cross examination,' said Lincoln, 'I asked him, "How large was that field—twenty acres?" "No," he replied. "Ten acres?" "No." "Were there two acres?" I persisted. "Yes, just about two," he agreed. "And you saw him fight this man all over the field?" pointing to the prisoner. "Yes, sir." "Well, sir," I said, "did you ever see a fight before that turned out so little to the acre?" The witness admitted, with a grin, that he had not, the judge smiled, and the jury snickered. So, saying that as this crop was so poor it did not seem worth further cultivation, I submitted the case. Some of my friends said it was Yankee wit, but that was the only time I ever got credit for it. I wish I had it.'"

HIS VOCABULARY.

It Was Real Literary, According to the Wily Stenographer.

The beautiful typewriter girl puffed out her golden pompadour nervously, says the Philadelphia Bulletin. "My speed 'll increase, Mr. Meer—excuse me, Wellington—my speed 'll increase 20 to 40 per cent every day."

Broker Wellington frowned. The girl had taken his dictation slowly. And in a stern, skeptical voice he said, "How so?"

"It's your new vocabulary that puts me out," she explained. "I had Mr. Meer's vocabulary very pat—'as per,' 'contents noted,' 'the same'—he only used about 300 words." Her flattering smile warmed the man like a sunbeam. "But you, sir, have a real literary style. 'Beg to submit,' 'our best attention,' 'slump,' 'bullish,' 'hypothecate'—they're all new words to me, and of course I can't rattle them off very fast at first. But just you wait, say, till day after tomorrow. Then you'll see."

"All business men have different vocabularies that their stenographers must get accustomed to, eh?" said the broker.

"Yes, sir; some large, some small." Again her smile flattered him. "Yours is larger than most. I should say it was thirty or forty words larger. Real literary, I call it."

"Miss Hoskins, if there's—er—any supplies you need all you've got to do is ask," said the literary broker fatuously.

A Woman Scorcher.

Perhaps the most expert and intrepid of living lady motorists is Miss Dorothy Levitt, whose book, entitled "The Woman and the Car," is attracting considerable attention. She has driven a motor-car at the amazing speed of ninety-two miles an hour.

Singing Evangelist Cured by Zam-Buk

Wife also reaps Benefit.

Mrs. Birdie Ellis Johnston, of 168 Carolina street, Sarnia, Ont., gives the following testimony of what Zam-Buk has done for herself and her husband;—

"Some time ago my husband was touring through Michigan as the war. 'Herald of Hope,' as a singing evangelist. The minister in the car had a son, who in some manner contracted a serious skin disease, and my husband, unaware of it, caught this from him. He was all broken out in sores, which gave great pain and he tried first one remedy and then another, but none of them did him any good.

"When all else had failed, we finally decided to try Zam-Buk, and see if this balm would succeed in healing the sores and stopping the irritation. I am pleased to say that a few applications of Zam-Buk made a marked improvement, and perseverance for a short time with Zam-Buk effected a complete cure.

"About the same time sores also broke out all over my back, and spread rapidly, until my back seemed one big sore! This was very painful, and as Zam-Buk had proved so beneficial for my husband, I determined to give it another trial. My nurse rubbed my back well with Zam-Buk. We continued with this treatment, and in a remarkably short time, considering the serious ness of the case, my back was quite cleared of the awful sores.

"On still another occasion I had need to use Zam-Buk. While cooking something on the stove, I happened to burn my finger very badly. I applied Zam-Buk, and bound up the finger. In the morning the pain had ceased and the burn healed nicely."

For skin diseases, eczema, ringworm, blood-poisoning, and all kinds of eruptions, Zam-Buk is absolutely without equal. It also cures cuts, burns, bruises, sprains, scratches, ulcers, piles, salt rheum, prairie itch, etc. All Druggists and Stores sell at 50c. a box, or post-free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

The second case in the sittings of the High Court, was concluded last night at ten o'clock.

Judgment was given the plaintiff for the amount of his mortgage and interest and for the defendant for $66, use and occupation rent and $175 on her counter claim, these amounts practically balance. The case of Taylor vs. Northey, Bell vs. Dresslar, and Cooper vs. Edmison & Dixon, were all settled out of court.

How Long a Tree Lives.

Inquiry as to the general age of trees being put to an authority of the forestry service at Washington, it was said that the pine tree attained 700 years as a maximum length of life. Four hundred and twenty-five years was the allotted span of the silver fir. The larch lived 275 years, the red beech 245, the aspen 210, the birch 200, the ash 170, the elder 145 and the elm 130. The heart of the oak begins to rot at about the age of 300 years. Of the holly it is said that there is a specimen 410 years old near Aschaffenburg, Germany.

A Sad Case.

An Atchison man has lain in an unconscious state ever since 10 o'clock last night. Everything has been done to arouse him today, but all efforts are unavailing. His friends are greatly alarmed. They fear he may never regain consciousness. It seemed that yesterday evening right after dinner the man picked up his hat, put on his overcoat and, although his wife was right in the room, she did not know. "Where are you going?" He walked out of the house. At 10 o'clock in the evening the man returned. He walked into the room where his wife sat and took off his hat and overcoat. She smiled at him pleasantly and did not say, "Where have you been?" The man fell unconscious to the floor.—Atchison Globe.

African Elephants.

In portions of Africa the natives believe when a herd of elephants is alarmed and runs away the bulls, if necessary, pick up and carry on their tusks the little ones which may not be able to keep up with the herd. These little ones when first born weigh not more than 200 pounds and of course might readily be carried, as stated. We do not know that any white man has ever seen this, but the natives insist that it is done.—Forest and Stream.

The Similarity.

Blobbs—Why do you liken Hardupp to the busy bee? He isn't particularly industrious, is he? Blobbs—Oh, no; it isn't that, but nearly every one he touches gets stung.

Often the Case.

"My wife believes that what is to be will be."

"Well?"

"And she believes it will all be my fault."—Kansas City Journal.

And until the aches and ills of the food transgressor attack them, the value of pure and wisely selected food is forgotten.

Down at Hot Springs, Ark. the visitors have all sorts of complaints, but it is a subject of remark that the great majority of them have some trouble with stomach and bowels. This may be partly attributed to the heavy medicines.

Naturally, under the conditions, the question of food is very prominent.

A young man states that he had suffered for nine years from stomach and bowel trouble, had two operations which did not cure, and was at last threatened with appendicitis.

He went to Hot Springs for rheumatism and his stomach trouble got worse. One day at breakfast the waiter, knowing his condition suggested he try Grape-Nuts and cream, which he did, and found the food agreed with him perfectly.

After the second day he began to sleep peacefully at night, different than he had for years. The perfect digestion of the food quieted his nervous system and made sleep possible.

He says: 'The next morning I was astonished to find my condition of constipation had disappeared. I could not believe it true after suffering for so many years; then I took more interest in the food, read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," and started following the simple directions.

"I have met with such results that in the last five weeks I have gained eight pounds in spite of hot baths which take away the flesh from anyone.

"A friend of mine has been entirely cured of a bad case of indigestion and stomach trouble by using Grape-Nuts Food and cream alone for breakfast.

"There is one thing in particular—I have noted a great change in my mental condition. Formerly I could hardly remember anything, and now the mind seems unusually acute and retentive. I can remember practically anything I desire."

Teachers of City and County are Holding Conventions Here

The annual conventions of both the City and County Teachers' Associations are being held in Peterborough, the sessions commencing yesterday morning. The county pedagogues held a session in the Normal School, while the city teachers met in the Collegiate Institute. There were large attendances at both meetings. Yesterday afternoon there was a joint session in the Collegiate Institute.

The County Teachers' Association assembled in the Normal School Hall on the morning at 10 a.m. with Mr. Joseph Grippy, in the chair.

Miss McGregor reported the proceedings of the O.E.A. She gave a full report of the resolutions adopted by the Public School Department.

The annual convention of the City Teachers' Institute began yesterday morning in the Assembly Hall of the Collegiate Institute and was well attended.

The president of the Teachers' Institute, Mr. W. J. Dunlop, gave a very interesting address in which the matter of the education of the dull pupil was the principal feature.

Mr. H. A. Glenney read a very instructive paper on the treatment of English grammar. He also introduced a special question, namely the teaching of the subjects not required for entrance examinations. History, he thought should not have been dropped from the list of necessary subjects. An interesting discussion led by Messrs. S. J. Stubbs and W. O'Brien followed. The introduction of the penny bank was discussed by the principals of the different schools and a committee composed of three, assisted by the inspector, the local Public Schools and the superintendent of the Separate Schools was appointed to meet the representative of the Penny Bank system and look into the matter.

Hotels at Gore's Landing Booking Many Tourists

Ree Lake House, that very popular summer home for tourists to Gore's Landing, is being greatly enlarged and improved; This year it will be under the management of Mr. Fred Harris. The improvements include eleven new rooms which will make it one of the largest and best hotels on the inland lakes. Gore's Landing is one of the most picturesque spots on the Trent waterway, and its rapidly increasing patronage indicates its popularity. Already applications have been received in large numbers and soon the slate will be filled up for the whole season.

The White House, another popular hotel at the same place and owned by Mr. Herald, is also practically all booked up for the season. There is every indication that the tourist trade this season will be heavier than ever. The Ontario Navigation Company's boats make Gore's Landing one of their chief Ree Lake ports and a daily boat will call there this season.

Toronto Electrical Engineer Met with Fatal Accident

Walkerton, May 20—C. E. Kilmer, electrical engineer of Toronto and Southampton, aged forty, and brother of Geo. Kilmer, K.C., met with an accident on alighting from the G.T.R. express here last night and died a few hours later in the county hospital.

No clear account is given of the accident, but it would appear that he slipped between the platform and the rails and the two wheels of one truck of the car went over his leg badly crushing it, and he died from the loss of blood and shock.

He was returning from Sweden, where he had been on a business trip for his firm, of Kilmer, Pullen, and Burnham, and was on his way to Southampton to his wife. He intended to stop over night here with his father. He leaves a wife and three small children.

According to one account Mr. Kilmer, in his eagerness to meet his father, went to step off the train before it stopped.

Another report is that he had got off, and given a message to the bus driver, to be carried to his father, and was trying to get back on the moving train.

Mr. Kilmer's business office was in the McKinnon Building, Toronto. His home was in Southampton.

Chas. E. Kilmer, who was killed at Walkerton last night, some weeks ago went to Sweden to arrange for machinery for a number of new works which he had on hand, particularly in the new silver fields at Elk Lake City. His wife received a telegram yesterday that he would be home last night, and he had got as far as Walkerton, where he got off to send a message by the baggage man to his father, who resides there. In getting on the train again he missed his footing.

Mrs. Kilmer has a baby girl about a month old, and is in a delicate state of health. She was prostrated by the news of the accident, but has not yet been informed of her husband's death.

Floating Islands Doing Damage

On Sunday evening a large floating island, which had been floating around Ree Lake for the last two or three weeks, came down the river breaking up in large pieces at the railroad bridge. A couple of good sized islands are fastened onto the bar opposite the Radiator, but one block carried away two piers with it, on the north side of the river and one is stranded on the pier just at the locks. A number of pieces about 20 feet square ran down into the power house race and caused considerable inconvenience. On the north side of the river there are now no glance booms, for about two hundred yards and any craft making a landing is in considerable danger.—Bastings Star.

There is nothing disagreeable or unpleasant about this Liniment. The relief from pain which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. Price 25 cents, large size 50 cents.

Rev. Canon Cody on "Our Strength and Weakness as a Nation."

A Most Eloquent Address Delivered Before the City and County Teachers' Association—Canada's Greatness as a Nation is in Its Future—Wonderful Natural Wealth

One of the ablest and most eloquent and patriotic addresses heard in Peterborough for a long time was that delivered by Rev. Canon Cody of Toronto, before the Teachers' Association on "The Strength and Weakness of our National Structure." The Assembly Hall in the Collegiate Institute was used for the purpose and it contained a large contingent of teachers and also a number of citizens who are interested in educational matters.

Mr. Dunlop, principal of Queen Alexandra school, occupied the chair and those who assisted in the program were Prof. Park and Miss Rose Davies.

Rev. Canon Cody when introduced was given a warm reception. It stated that he greatly regretted that he had met with an accident that afternoon. Just before he came away he was called upon to perform a marriage ceremony and after that he said he was hot; at any rate when he arrived in Peterborough and put his hand in his pocket for his notes and sermonettes and they were not there. They had been lost and he was forced to frame the marriage ceremony for it. Canon Cody however, was not at a loss for material. He had given the subject a great deal of thought and study and none of his hearers would have known that he had intended to depend upon notes.

The subject of the address was "The Strength and Weakness of Our National Structure." It opened:

The application was made by the teachers of ... ing the speaker said it was the teachers' high privilege to mould and train the minds of our future citizens, and if the teachers did not impart a spirit of loyalty the men of tomorrow would be lacking in that very essential part of our national life.

The first important feature of Canada as a nation is its connection with the Motherland and the British Empire. He spoke at some length upon this connection and all that wonderful nation represents. All of the best that the world knows has emanated from that little island known as Great Britain, or the Motherland.

To say that we are Britons carries weight with it. Sir John A. Macdonald indulged in no bombast when he said, "A Britain I was born and a Britain I will die." Britain is an empire that has carried its good influence to all parts of the world. There are today 400,000,000 people looking to King Edward as their sovereign. Trade was no definitely defined economic policy in England, for some centuries as all the colonies came into the Empire by chance.

In the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries Britain's colonial policy was a bad one, but Britain learned by her mistakes. That was the first period. The second period was a period of selfishness. The colonies to them. They were looked upon as a nuisance and a burden to the Motherland.

Today we are in the third period of the colonial policy and the colonies are bound to Britain by a bond of love and sympathy.

The chief branch of the Empire is found today in the centre heart of its citizens.

The second element of our strength as a nation is in our glorious past. There was a period of the reign of Prince Rupert in the formation period from 1760, when Montreal fell until the time of confederation, which period laid the foundation for constitutional government. From 1867 to the present time we have been feeling our strength and making an impression upon the politics of the world, and we will continue to do so. The next period was that of opening up Canada, and the speaker sketched history from the setting apart of Upper Canada as the Province was composed by the taking in of Alberta and Saskatchewan.

The third element of our strength is that we Canadians know and appreciate of our natural resources. From the Atlantic coast right through to the Pacific coast there are great riches in minerals, forests, fish and fresh water.

The fourth element is our nationality. We come from a stock of noble leaders.

The fifth element is our constitution and the success that we are a country without an immoral handicap of crime or pauperism.

All these elements summarized spell opportunity, and Canada's greatest greatness is in its future.

Rev. Canon Cody next dwelt upon some of our weaknesses, and one of these is that we are not bearing our share of responsibility as part of the Empire. We owe Great Britain much. The Motherland has not only protected us with her fleet, but she has helped our Dominion and Provincial governments, and our municipalities a billion of dollars.

The second is our inclination to resent all outside criticism. This we should guard against as we are a young nation yet and have by no means reached perfection.

The third is the tendency towards an adoration for the almight dollar. A great nation is not only one which possesses great fortunes but also great men and a great moral character.

At the conclusion of the address a hearty vote of thanks was passed to Rev. Canon Cody.

AFTERNOON SESSION

A very largely attended joint session of the City and County Teachers Associations was held yesterday afternoon in the Assembly Hall at the Normal School. The teachers from the city and country were out en masse and they thoroughly appreciated the several addresses delivered. It is anticipated that a large measure of good will result from the meetings. The program included addresses by Mr. Cornish on "Nature Study." Miss Weir on "A Teacher's Life Outside the School," and Principal Walker of the Normal School on "Elementary Work."

City Parks will be Opened Tomorrow

On Saturday, May 22nd, the parks in the city will be formally opened to the public. Those who have had charge of getting these places in shape for the season are to be congratulated on the beautiful appearance they now present. The seats and hand stands have been repainted and repaired, the flower beds have been rearranged and the plants transplanted. Bare spots on the lawns have been carefully attended to, and if the fine weather continues the parks of which the citizens may well feel proud, will not do otherwise than impress the visitors to the city in the near future.

Parliament Hill is Deserted But Cabinet Ministers Stay

Ottawa, May 20—Parliament Hill is deserted today, the quietude is compared with any working day of the past four months being emphasized by the fact that it is a departmental holiday, and even the doors of the Library are closed. The great majority of the members have departed for their homes, and the rest will go before the end of the week.

The Cabinet ministers are all here but the first break in the ministerial ranks will occurr with the departure of Mr. Aylesworth for England in the course of a couple of days.

Following the usual custom after prorogation, the Cabinet will hold a good many sittings, to clear up the arrears of business, and then the ministers will commence to scatter. Sir Frederick Borden and Hon. L. P. Brodeur will go to London to attend the defence conference. Hon. Wm. Pugsley intends to make a tour of the public works of the Dominion, and Solicitor General Burbeau will inspect the penitentiaries.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has not made any definite arrangements as to the summer, but will probably take advantage of a long recess to have a real holiday for at least a month.

Mr. R. L. Borden will leave on Saturday on a fishing trip after which he will visit Nova Scotia. On June 18, he sails for England, where he will remain for a couple of months.

No Reserved Case for Maurice Ryan

Toronto, May 20—Mr. Justice Latchford this morning refused the application for a reserved case on behalf of Maurice Ryan, who was convicted at North Bay of having murdered his brother, F. J. Ryan. O'Connell of Peterborough, on the grounds of improper admission of evidence, and of misdirection to the jury by the trial judge.

Harold Lees Won One-Mile Race for Boys

After a beautiful race all the way, Harold Lees won the one-mile trial race of the Boys' Department of the Y.M.C.A. at Nicholls' Oval yesterday afternoon in the remarkable time of 5 minutes one and three-fifths seconds. The race was held for the purpose of selecting some of the team who will endeavor to break the Examiner road race record on May 29th. There were eleven entries in yesterday afternoon's race and it was a splendid contest throughout.

W. Eastwood took the lead at the start, and putting out a lively pace drew away from the field and at the end of the first lap or one-third of a mile had opened up a lead of fifty yards, running fresh and strong. During the second lap, however, Harold Lees put on the pressure and gradually overhauled the leader, drawing upon even terms with him. It was all over after that, as Lees went right away in the last third of a mile and won by one hundred yards from W. Eastwood, who finished in 5.20. Harold Hill was third, twenty-five yards back. The real battle of the race was for fourth place, Halpany beating out Bruce Lees by inches, after a desperate stretch sprint.

Following was the result;

1. Harold Lees, 5.01 3-5.
2. W. Eastwood, 5.20.
3. Harold Hill.
4. Frank Halpany.
5. Bruce Lees.
6. R. Laing.
7. N. Phelan.
8. B. Miller.

St. Catharines Lacrosse Team Coming on the 24th

The St. Catharines lacrosse team will be here on May 24th, and will play the locals at Riverside Park in the afternoon. St. Catharines has three distinctive features, viz., its lacrosse team, the 19th band and the regatta. The first two will be seen in Peterborough on the holiday, and a big bunch of citizens are coming with them. The local lacrosse boys have been getting in some good practice and a number of the old guard will be out on the field including Parnell, Dillon, Mein, Dobbin, McCoy and several others. Neil Grant, a new resident of the city and a former St. Catharines player will likely be on the team and several other new men are showing up well.

President Taft's Lead Invoked for Peace

Lake Mohonk, N.Y., May 20—J. Allen Baker, a member of the British parliament, was the last formal speaker at this morning's session of the Lake Mohonk Conference on International Arbitration. He emphasized the continuous neighborliness and goodfellowship of the United States and Canada as an example for the nations of what the absence of armaments and fortifications on an international boundary will do to promote peace.

"I largely endorse," said Mr. Baker, "what President Butler has said as to the emotional insanity of the present mad race for battleships in Great Britain and Germany. Our House of Commons is the chief arena in having started the crazy competition in building Dreadnoughts. But you must remember that we have a yellow press in Great Britain, and you must not believe all the lies disregarding the so-called German war scare."

In conclusion, he declared that the peace of the world today lies in the hands of the United States, Germany, and Great Britain, and he invited President Taft to take the lead.

Burleigh Falls Power for Peterborough

Another meeting of the Committee of the Whole Council will be held tonight, when Mr. J. A. Culverwell of the Eastern Ontario Power Co., and Mr. McLaughlin will be present. They will present to the council the report of Burleigh Falls power and it is understood an effort will be made whereby the city will get control of this power. Negotiations between Mr. Culverwell and the city have been on for years but it looks more like business now than ever.

Canada Willing to Spend Both Blood and Money

Ottawa, May 20—At the dinner given at Rideau Hall last night in honor of the Australian journalists en route to the Imperial Press Conference, Earl Grey, in proposing the toast of "Our Guests," said in part;

"The suspension that the naval supremacy of the Crown, on which we all depend for our continued freedom and prosperity, may be in doubt, has caused every part of the Empire to be a solid unit on the question of defence. The two great political parties in this Dominion are united in their readiness to spend the last drop of Canadian blood, should such sacrifice be necessary, to secure the continuance of that naval supremacy to which Canada and every part of the Empire owe their present fortunate position, and on the maintenance of which they depend for the realization of their splendid hopes. (Applause.)

"The Imperial position calls for the vigorous organization of such methods as may bring the component parts of the British Empire closer to each other and to the Crown. (Applause.)

"The Imperial conference you are about to attend has been convened with the object of perfecting such arrangements. I sincerely trust you may be successful in your labors, and that the spirit and resolutions of the conference may through your efforts create a public opinion, both in the United Kingdom and in the self-governing Dominion, strong enough, universal enough, and imperative enough to acquire; firstly—the establishment of an accelerated steamship service, which will draw us all more closely to each other and to the motherland, and, secondly, the establishment of the cheapest and most efficient cable service between the motherland and the self-governing Dominions which science can create, due regard of course being paid to the interest of the taxpayer, and to the claim on our consideration of the companies to whose enterprise we owe the advantages of the intercommunication we at present enjoy."

Sir Wilfrid Laurier then proposed the toast of Sister Dominions, and in the course of his remarks said;

"For the present I omit the thought in the minds of British subjects as, what is the future of the Empire? Today it is composed of a galaxy of nations, not geographically united, but scattered all over the earth, and when one reflects that all are devoted not only to defending the Empire against invasion, but in their allegiance to the Crown and their readiness to maintain intact the fame and prestige of the standard of Great Britain, you will agree with me that the destiny of the Empire will be such as has never adorned the pages of history.

"Let me be concerned about the future of the Empire, not that I am indifferent, but because I am confident. I do not believe in sudden revolution, but I believe that in the following of precedent the destiny of the Empire will be evolved.

"You from Australia and New Zealand are wending your way to take part in the moulding of the British Empire. In this work Canada who will take part, and in this work you have in contemplation before you our feet wishes go out for your success."

Toronto Man was Drowned in the Ocean

London, May 20—The captain of the Allan Liner Ionian reports that a steerage passenger named William Richards, belonging to Toronto, was lost overboard on the night of the 14th of May.

The Allan Line's office in Toronto reports that a Wm. Richards, engaged his passage to Toronto, but left no address.

The only two Wm. Richards mentioned in the directory live on Crawford avenue and St. James avenue, but they are both in town.

Why Hang Anybody?

(From the Toronto Star)

The postponement of the execution of the man Blyth, who murdered his wife, no doubt means that his sentence will be commuted to life imprisonment. There could be no sufficient reason for raising vain hopes and prolonging his fears for a few weeks if he is to be hanged at last.

It is difficult to understand, however, on what grounds executive clemency is based sometimes. Unless capital punishment is to be done away with altogether, one wonders why Blyth's life is to be preserved in prison. He committed murder; the crime was a brutal one; his victim was the wife it was his duty to protect and care for. Medical examination seemed to show that he had beaten the woman on other occasions. Unless there exists in some minds an idea that it is somewhat less culpable for a man to slay one's wife than another woman, or that the husband who has contracted the habit of beating his wife is to some extent excusable if one day he happens to injure her beyond recovery—then it proves difficult to understand why Blyth should not hang in a country where murder is treated as a capital offence.

It is to be hoped that we shall not live to see in our dictionaries a new and qualifying definition of a certain class of murders as being in the nature of "serious and regrettable domestic difficulties in which the State hesitates to meddle."

Creeps Like a Serpent

Catarrh is an Insidious Disease, Generally Noticeable at First, but Horrible by Relentless if not Checked.

No disease makes such inroads into weak constitutions as Catarrh. It spreads from the place of beginning to the lungs, bronchial tubes, stomach, intestines, and before long all the organs of the body are affected.

A splendid remedy, attended with remarkable success in curing Catarrh, has lately come prominently to the front. Its name is Catarrhozone, and no case is recorded where it failed to quickly relieve and cure.

The strong points about Catarrhozone are that it is both a local and constitutional treatment. It not only affords quick relief to the local symptoms, but also purifies the blood of all internal poisons, builds up and strengthens the system.

Catarrhozone inhaler supplies a specific of medicated air which breathed in at the mouth, and after passing through every air cell and all passages of the breathing organs, is slowly exhaled through the nostrils.

This penetrating, volatile antiseptic at once kills the germs that cause Catarrh and prevents the disease spreading when once established. It is no healing and soothing that the inflamed membranes, and sore spots are restored to normal and healthy condition in a few days.

Catarrhozone cleanses the nose and throat and keeps them entirely free of mucous discharge. It prevents dropping in the throat, cures headache and makes breathing easy and the breath pure and sweet.

To build up and invigorate the system, a blood purifier and tonic called Fervozone should be taken after each meal. In conjunction with Catarrhozone it is a valuable aid in establishing such a healthy condition of the body that Catarrh cannot exist.

Other medicines have been known to give relief, but to permanently eradicate every trace of Catarrh you must use Catarrhozone. It is a common-sense, convenient, clean method of cure that is endorsed by the profession and all intelligent pharmacists.

You are sure to be benefitted quickly and positively cured by Catarrhozone. The complete outfit costs only $1.00, trial size, 25c. Sold by Druggists and N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

A SYSTEM THAT CANNOT LAST

Some time ago we made a reference to the one generosity of Russell Sage, when he, in drawing up his will, left his vast fortune to his wife, saying that she knew better than he how to spend money in charity—and in promoting worthy causes. The event has shown the wisdom of the course he followed, for Mrs. Sage has spent a lot of money since her husband's death and much of it has been spent to good purpose.

The latest development is the publication of a three-volume report of a commission financed by Mrs. Sage, to enquire into the conditions of the steel workers of Pittsburg. Dr. Edward Devine was chairman of the commission, and the enquiry is hailed the Pittsburg Survey. We have not seen the report of the commission, but it is correctly summarized by one of its reviewers, or if conditions exist as they are said to be described in the report, one cannot help reaching the conclusion that there is serious trouble ahead for a republic in which flourishes a vast steel trust pushing wealth for a few and suffering poverty on many. It is charged that only a few men in the steel works enjoy the eight hour day, while thousands "work twelve hours and seven days a week for wages adjusted to a lodging house basis."

It is said that there were in one year five thousand hospital accident cases in the steel works, many of the injured being crippled for life, while five hundred men were killed instantly. Given that, however, is not the worst of it, for it is conceivable that in certain kinds of works there may be danger of accident or death—unavoidable risks that the soldiers enlisted in the industrial armies must face. But where there is such risk some conduct should be taken of it, yet we are told that "over eighty per cent. of the families received not a dollar by way of compensation, and thirty-nine per cent. were left to pay the cost of burying the bread-winner of the family who had lost his life at his work."

Last year the people of the United States paid $155,000,000 in pensions to the families of men killed in war, or to the men disabled, or to the old and needy who had once carried muskets for the nation. There is no pension system in the steel business. Men who are disabled or slain on this field are left where they fall, until hunger sends up a recruit to take each dead man's place. The steel industry is a vast one. The gross profits piled up attract the world's notice, but it is impossible to believe that in the world of tomorrow the industrial system as it is portrayed at Pittsburg can be perpetuated.

Some Roads and Streets Need Repairs

It will soon be time for the Board of Works to make its trip around the city for the purpose of learning where the patch work on the roads is required. As a matter of fact it is hardly necessary to make much of a trip as work could be very profitably done on nearly any residential street as well as many of the business streets. There are many places that are badly in need of repairs.

Rheumatism

Fully nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism are simply rheumatism of the muscles, due to cold or damp or chronic rheumatism, neither of which requires any internal treatment. All that is needed to afford relief is the free application of Chamberlain's Liniment and massaging the affected parts at each application. There is nothing disagreeable or unpleasant about this liniment. The relief from pain which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. Price 25 cents, large size 50 cents.

Writers in the magazines are now discussing "The Admirable Side of Abdul Hamid." Little was seen of this side of him until he was overthrown and turned down by revolution.

NEW GUINEA COURTSHIP.

All the Proposals of Marriage Are Made by Women.

Away off in the strange island of New Guinea it is leap year all the time in one important sense, for out there all the proposals of marriage are made by the women. It is considered beneath the dignity of the male inhabitants of New Guinea to even notice a woman, and consequently the women perforce must notice the men and must start any idea of weddings, etc.

So when the island belle of New Guinea becomes in love she promptly sends a piece of string to the sister of the lucky man. If he has no sister she sends it to his mother or to some female relative—this because the man and his male relatives are assumed to be above taking any steps toward acquiring a wife.

Then the sister says to the man involved: "Brother, I have news. So-and-so is in love with you." If inclined to matrimony the man makes an engagement to meet the enamored lady. When they meet it is alone, and they either decide to wed or drop the entire proposition at once. There is no courting, for the man is not allowed, theoretically at least, to waste any time on a woman—not even enough time to make love to the lady or to allow her to make love to him.

The betrothal is announced, and the engaged man in New Guinea is branded on the back with charcoal, but the woman's mark of engagement to wed is actually cut into her skin and is never allowed to completely vanish. If either one decides to break the engagement nothing can be done by the offended party.

If the girl decides that, after all, she sent the little piece of string by mistake the man is apt, however, to catch her some time alone and beat her. If the man jilts the woman her relatives often bust him up and administer a sound drubbing. Blood, however, is seldom shed, as the breaking of these women made engagements is not deemed a very serious matter.

Though the women propose the weddings in New Guinea, the condition of the wife is miserable and unjust in the extreme. The girl is merely the property and slave of the husband. He can beat her tarebuked and even kill her with impunity if she incurs his enmity.

FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE.

Her Summary Method of Snapping Official Red Tape.

When Florence Nightingale came, instantly a new intelligence, instinct with pity, aflame with energy, fertile with womanly invention, swept through the Scutari hospital. Clumsy male devices were dismissed, almost with a gesture, into space. Dirt became a crime, fresh air and clean linen, sweet food and soft hands a piety. A great kitchen was organized which provided well cooked food for a thousand men. Washing was a lost art in the hospital, but this band of women created, as with a breath, a great laundry, and a strange cleanliness crept along the walls and the beds of the hospital. In their warfare with disease and pain these women showed a resolution as high as the men of their race showed against the gray coated battalions of Inkerman or in the frozen trenches before Sebastopol. Muddle headed male routine was swept ruthlessly aside.

If the commissariat failed to supply requisites, Florence Nightingale, who had great funds at her disposal, instantly provided them herself, and the heavy footed officials found the swift feet of these women outrunning them in every path of help and pity. Only one flash of anger is reported to have broken the serene calm which served as a mask for the steel-like and resolute will of Florence Nightingale. Some stores had arrived from England; sick men were languishing for them. But routine required that they should be inspected by a board before being issued, and the board, moving with heavy footed slowness, had not completed its work when night fell. The stores were, therefore, with official phlegm, locked up and their use denied to the sick. Between the needs of hundreds of sick men and the comforts they required was the locked door, the symbol of red tape. Florence Nightingale called a couple of orderlies, walked to the door and quietly ordered them to burst it open and the stores to be distributed!

Dolly Madison.

Mrs. Dolly Madison, the wife of the third president, is described by Griswold in this way:

"Dolly Payne, born in North Carolina, has been educated according to the strictest rules of the Quakers in Philadelphia, where at an early age she married a young lawyer of this sect named Todd; but, becoming a widow, she threw off drab silks and plain laces and for several years was one of the gayest and most fascinating women of the city. She had many lovers, but she gave the preference to Mr. Madison and became his wife in 1794."

The Mistress of the House.

"She spends all her time in the library."

"Ah, she is literary?"

"Not especially. But the cook won't allow her in the kitchen, and the maids don't want her about the halls or parlors."

Deduction.

"Tell me what you eat, and I will tell you what you are," boasted an amateur sage.

"Well, I ate a welsh rabbit and a lemon pie last night."

"You're a fool."—Kansas City Journal.

Didn't Believe the Duke.

Stories of amusing situations caused by the Duke of Norfolk's negligence in dress are still going the rounds. A short time ago he observed that some members of a party of excursionists had damaged some of the foliage on his estate, so, going up to the strangers, he began to remonstrate with them. "Ain't the duke got any keepers," exclaimed one of the men, suddenly, "that a little chap like you should interfere?" The duke smilingly replied that he happened to be the duke himself. But the tripper wouldn't believe it. "Go on!" he said, laughing heartily. "Why, the duke goes to dine at Marlborough House, and they'd never have a little man like you even in the servants' hall."

"It Never Too Late to Learn."

It is not very often that a man starts learning a foreign language when he has reached the 'seventies. Lord Brassey, however, who has been giving his views on the naval problem, is a firm believer in the saying, "It's never too late to learn." Two or three weeks ago he celebrated his 73rd birthday, and it was only last year that he started to learn German in order to read Prince Hohenlohe's "Memoirs." He adopted the system that when he did not know a word he put a number over it and in the margin, and looked it up in the dictionary. When he began the book he had to look up twenty-five words of a page, and slowly got down to five.

Lame Back

This is one of the most common forms of muscular rheumatism. It attacks the muscles in the small of the back. It often comes on suddenly and is so severe that the body can be moved only with great pain. Keep as quiet as possible, as every movement of the body aggravates the disease. Massage the affected parts with Chamberlain's Liniment three times a day until the pain, soreness and stiffness have entirely disappeared. It is prompt and effectual.

The Fire Brigade Made Fast Run

An alarm of fire was sent in by the Fire Underwriters' Association from Box 51, at the corner of King and George streets yesterday afternoon about five o'clock, and it was just two minutes from the time the alarm was sounded until the fire brigade was on the scene. This is particulary fast work and the underwriters were greatly pleased. Chief Howard and his men are to be congratulated. It is such fast time as this that warrants the citizens having confidence in the efficiency of the chief and the brigade.

TURF

Montreal, May 19. — Tomorrow night's race at the M.A.A.A. grounds between Alfred Shrubb and Henry St. Yves may be Shrubb's last race for some time. His leg, which has bothered him for some time, while good enough to stand the strain of one more race, is hardly likely to be in shape for the big race, with Longboat at 20 miles in Toronto. The little Englishman has been under the care of Dr. Austen Irvine for the last ten days, and the doctor strongly advises him to take a rest after the race tomorrow night.

"It all depends how I feel," said Shrubb this morning. "If I feel in good shape I'll run Longboat after tomorrow night's race, but if my leg is no better I will do as the doctor tells me, and take a rest I have been running for the last eight months now without a break, and nerve-fibres are liable to the best of us at any time. I should be sorry to have to postpone that Longboat race in Toronto, but if my leg goes back on me, why, the only thing I have to do is postpone it, that's all."

Weary, Worn Out, Tired

If You Feel Poorly this Spring the Article is worth Considering.

Nothing in life keeps people from advancement like poor health. If the nerves are weak, if the stomach liver, bowels or kidneys, fail to work properly, healthy surely suffers. Spring is the hardest time on health—the season when the system calls for active cleansing medicine.

The best plan is to entrust your condition to a physician of reputation, like Dr Hamilton, who has had years of experience in compounding tonics. For the ills and tired feeling of spring Dr. Hamilton says nothing is better than Mandrake and Butternut Pills, and this is well proven in the case of James Burton of Lewistown. "I had grip and it left me very weak. The disease settled in my back and side, which ached day and night. I had a nagging cough. My appetite was all gone. My nerves unstrung. I could not sleep well. I truggled against growing pale, thin nd weak—but it was no good. Spring rought depressions, overpowering weakness and bad headaches. But my life was spared, simply because learned of the wonderful merit in Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. The result was marvelous. I gained rapidly, became strong, ruddy, vigorous, perfectly well. I urge every man and woman to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly.

You'll brighten up, have cleaner blood, stronger nerves, better spirits after using Dr Hamilton's Pills. 25c. at all dealers. Guaranteed safe, sure helpful for old and young.

Bad Spelling on Sign Board

Did you see it? It was one of the funniest things presented to the public gaze for a long time. The Horticultural Society had a sign placed at the north-east corner of Central Park, and it was a novelty in the way of spelling. "Trespass" was spelled "Trespase," and "Horticulturist" looked like "Horticuticultural" and it was only for the lack of space on the sign board that several more letters were not put in. It is stated that some of the school children drew the society's attention to the errors for a new sign has been put up.

LINCOLN'S STORY.

It Contained a Lesson For the Man With a Grievance.

An old farmer once called at the White House and complained that the Union soldiers in passing his farm had helped themselves not only to hay, but to his horse, and he hoped the president would urge the proper officer to consider his claim immediately.

"Why, my dear sir," replied Mr. Lincoln blandly, "I couldn't think of such a thing. If I consider individual cases I should find work enough for twenty presidents."

The caller urged his needs persistently, and Mr. Lincoln declined good naturedly.

"But," said the persevering sufferer, "couldn't you just give me a line to Colonel —— about it—just one line?"

"Ha, ha, ha!" responded the president, crossing his legs. "That reminds me of old Jack Chase out in Illinois.

"You see, Jack—I knew him like a brother—used to be a lumberman on the Illinois river, and he was steady and sober and the best raftsman on the stream. It was quite a trick to take the logs over the rapids, but he was skillful with a raft and always kept her straight in the channel. Finally a steamer was put on, and Jack—he's dead now, poor fellow!—was made captain of it. He always used to take the wheel going through the rapids. One day when the boat was plunging and wallowing along the boiling current and Jack's utmost vigilance was being exercised to keep it in the narrow channel a boy pulled his coattail and hailed him with:

"'Say, Mr. Captain, I wish you would just stop your boat a minute! I've lost my apple overboard!'

"Think that story over, my friend, and see if you can find any lesson in it."

A LOVER OF PEACE.

He Had Decided Opinions on the Way to Abolish War.

"Men talk sincerely," once said W. T. Stead, the great apostle of peace, "about loving one another, about the universal brotherhood of man, and in the same breath they assert that it is right to burn and maim and kill in war. They are not so logical as a young colored recruit who served in the Philippines. This young man at the end of his initial engagement was hauled before his captain.

"'So you ran at the first fire, did you?' said the captain scornfully.

"'Yes, sah, an I'd 'a' run sooner, sah, if I'd knowed it was comin'.'

"'Have you no regard for your reputation, Calhoun?'

"'Mah reputation hain't nuffin to me, sah, 'longside o' mah life.'

"The captain smiled and twirled his mustache. Here was an intelligent young man. He'd talk him over to the right point of view.

"'Even if you should lose your life, Calhoun,' he said, 'you'd have the satisfaction of knowing that you had died for your country.'

"'Wot satisfaction could dat be to me, sah, when de power o' feelin' it wus gone?'

"'Then patriotism means nothing to you?'

"'Nffin, sah. I wouldn't put mah life in de scales agin any government dat ever existed, for no government could replace de loss o' me.'

"'Calhoun, if all soldiers were like you the world's governments would all go to pieces.'

"'On de contrary, sah, dey'd last forever, for, if all soldiers wus like me, den dere couldn't never be no fightin'."

The Last Straw.

"Every time I give a party," cried the discouraged hostess, "I vow I'll never give another, but I've decided this time. No more for me. It's the red cheeked man. I don't mind their taking up the rugs and dancing until after midnight and getting dispossess notices served on me the next morning, or leaving cigarette ashes all over the place for me to clean up, or scattering the Welsh rabbit from one end of the flat to the other, but when the red cheeked man sits on my piano keys when he gives an imitation of something or somebody and I have to pay $4 to have my piano tuned the next day that'll be about all."

Illustrious Barbers.

William Winstanley, to whom we are indebted for the "Lives of the English Poets," began his career by soaping faces. Farr, who introduced coffee into England; Dr. John Taylor, whose eloquent voice so often sounded in St. Paul's; Jean Baptiste Belzoni, giant and explorer; James Craggs, secretary of the south sea bubble; Mr. Herbert Ingram of the Illustrated London News; Allan Ramsay, the "Gentle Shepherd;" Lord Chancellor Sugden, Lord Tenterden, Jeremy Taylor and Bizet, the composer of the opera "Carmen," were born and bred and were trained in barbers' shops.—London Notes and Queries.

Preacher's Daughter Too.

A Cleveland minister has three daughters, the youngest one only five years old. The other day the child's nurse reproved her.

"If you talk to me that way again," spoke up the five-year-old, "I'll say something to you, and it'll have a L in it." Then, as an afterthought, "it won't be lily either."

Optimist and Persimist.

"What is the difference between an optimist and a pessimist?"

"A pessimist is always thinking of his liabilities, while an optimist thinks only of his assets."—Judge.

He who has a good seat should not leave it.—Manuel.

Goes to New Ontario

Mr. Larry Connors and Mr. David Crowley have gone to New Ontario to work several mining shares which the former holds. Mr. Connors who has been in the employ of the Street Railway Company, resigned his position and will not return to Peterborough until late in November.

Explanation of Failure of Ontario Steel Ware Co.

The article that is given herewith should be of interest to the ratepayers who are following the Purity Ware, Limited. It appears as a special industrial editorial in the Toronto Star on Wednesday, January 20th, last. The heading is "What Tinware Makers Did to a New Factory," etc. The company referred to has been spoken of recently in connection with the Purity Ware concern. Mr. Baker, one of the gentlemen interested in the new company, was connected with the Ontario Steel Ware Co. as stated by Mr. Kendry a few evenings ago and the following article is purposed to show that the failure was not due to lack of ability on Mr. Baker's part as it was to the action of the company's competitors. The editorial is as follows:

There is sufficient excuse for turning once more to a discussion of the conditions governing the manufacture and sale of tinned and enamelware in this country. The excuse is based on the fact that conditions governing this particular line of trade seem to be typical of those governing many other lines, and on the further fact that the letter from Mr. McClary, published in the issue of Friday last, did not contain all the facts in regard to the closing of the factory of the Ontario Steel Ware, Limited.

THE STORY BEHIND CLOSING.

There is an exceedingly interesting story in connection with the closing of the factory in question. Mr. McClary's statement that the closing was due to the limited market afforded for the factory's output is in a measure true, but the statement does not tell the whole truth. The market for the output of the Ontario Steel Ware Company was artificially limited. When the managers of the company came to sell their product they found that a combination of other factories had arrangements with dealers in enamelled ware, under which these dealers were entitled to a certain rebate if they sold $1,500 worth of the goods produced by the combine in a year; where sales of combine goods aggregated $4000 the rebate was greater. These dealers were anxious enough to buy some of the offerings of Ontario Steel Ware, but they were met by this practical difficulty: The Ontario Steel Ware Co. could not supply all the lines dealers required, and if the dealers bought partly from the independent company and partly from the combine their sales of combine goods in a year would not be sufficient to entitle them to the promised rebate in the latter.

PROGRESS DESPITE HANDICAP.

Still, despite this handicap, the new company began to build up a trade. Finding the avenue first sought partially closed, it secured large orders from departmental stores in the lines which it was in a position to manufacture. Business was being steadily pushed along this and other lines, when the money stringency began in October, 1907. When the financial situation became acute the Ontario Steel Ware Company found itself in the same position in regards its bank as many other industries found themselves in at the same time.

PRICES CUT.

Measures were, however, taken to secure from other sources the funds necessary to carry on the business, but just as arrangements to this end were about completed there was a sudden drop in the price at which the combine had been selling pails. Instead of allowing dealers a discount of 45 per cent. from list price the combine made the discount 60 per cent. to dealers buying from it. This action alarmed the men who were preparing to come to the assistance of Ontario Steel Ware. They saw that if, in addition to facing a commercial depression, they have to face a war in prices with a powerful combination, the capital they proposed investing in the industry would be jeopardized.

AN OFFER OF TERMS.

Then something else happened. While those behind the independent company were balking between two opinions—while they were debating whether to let the business go or risk more money in bubbling it up in the face of still stronger competition than had been met in the past—a new proposition came under review. This was nothing less than an offer from the combine to take over the entire plant and stock of the company at a little below than inventory prices, but still at a figure which was practically equivalent to one hundred cents on the dollar. The offer was accepted and the deal closed.

WHERE THE 33 CENTS ON THE DOLLAR CAME IN.

How does the statement as to the price at which the plant of the Ontario Steel Ware was sold square with the statement in Mr. McClary's letter about disposing of the same at thirty-three cents on the dollar? In this way: After the combine had obtained possession of the plant, it sold the same in a way calculated not to make money out of the plant, but to prevent it from being again used to manufacture goods which would compete with the output of the combination.

The plant was, it appears, broken up into sections—a little disposed of here and a little there—while some of the principal machines were sent back to the United States whence they came. It is quite likely the combine did not, when selling in this way, realize over a third of the price it had paid for the plant. But it was well worth the other two-thirds to have a dangerous rival out of the way, particularly since the heads of the rival concern were individually bound, as part of the conditions of sale, not to embark in a similar line of manufacturing for a term of years.

A New general manager has been appointed for the Otonabee Navigation Company. At a meeting of the directors last night, Ald. Robert Hicks was selected to fill the position. Ald. Hicks is the head of R. Hicks & Co., coal and wood merchants, who are enjoying a large and increasing business. He will succeed as manager of the Navigation company, Ald. H. Phelan, whose heavy municipal duties made it necessary for him to severe his connection with the company. Ald. Hicks will begin his new duties today, and will have an office in the Times building, Hunter street. He will continue to direct the affairs of R. Hicks & Co. so his new duties will not interfere with that.

France Adds Battleships

Paris, France, May 21.—The superior council of the navy has decided upon a program that includes bringing the number of French battleships up to 28, a total that would ensure France fourth place among the naval powers of the world. It is proposed to lay down in 1910 two 21,000 ton vessels of an enlarged Danton type. The armament has not yet been decided upon but the council is in favor of twelve 12-inch guns in six turrets, those aft to be superimposed. The naval artillery experts, however, have brought forward arguments in favor of sixteen 10.8 inch guns in eight turrets.

City Teachers Had Profitable and Interesting Session

It was a very profitable and interesting session that the members of the City Teachers' convention enjoyed yesterday morning. The Teachers' Institute have never before had a more instructive or well-balanced program and the interest shown by the many members increased with the presentation of each subject.

Miss J. A. Jackson opened the morning session with a paper on "Elementary Reading." This subject, always an interesting one, was presented on a most elaborate and practical scale. A small class of pupils satisfied the most critical observer that the various and useful methods employed by the above teacher, are productive of the best results. Mr. J. M. Rosel followed with a paper on "Advanced Reading," and the favorable discussion led by Misses Morrow, Sloane and Browne, which followed, showed in a measure the general appreciation of the speaker's efforts.

Mr. L. J. Petrie in a masterly treatment of the subject "History" dealt principally with the teaching of same in the Public Schools. A few well-outlined plans, showing the value of connected biographical lessons, and the things that pupils should master in the elementary schools were the chief features of the address. Mr. W. L. Richardson and Miss A. A. Staples were the leaders of discussion and the comment on the paper read showed that the principles urged by the speaker were of a value most beneficial to the teachers present. The officers for the coming year were elected and routine business, including considerable discussion on the matter of the purchase of a pedagogical library was transacted.

24th Battery will Go to Cobourg Camp on June 21

The 24th F.B.C.A. has all its stores and equipment moved into its handsome and commodious quarters at the armories and active preparations are being made for the annual camp at Cobourg which will be held commencing June 21st. The officers and men are highly pleased with the battery's quarters at the armories and the increased accommodation and general facilities afforded.

The government is furnishing the rooms of the officer commanding, the orderly room, the quartermaster's stores room and the harness room.

The combined mess rooms will be furnished by the garrison which consists of the 3rd Dragoons, cavalry, the 24th Field Battery, artillery, and the 57th Regimental Rangers, infantry.

A preliminary drill was held by the battery on Tuesday evening. There was a good turnout and the prospects are that several recruits will be added to the battery's strength this year. All recruits wishing to join should call on the officer in command, Major Young, at his residence, 235 Stewart street, for the purpose of gaining the service roll.

The next drill will be held Thursday evening, May 27th, when Quartermaster Sergt. Collins will issue the new uniforms.

Burleigh Power for Peterborough An Offer to Sell Made to the City

Central Ontario Power Company Name Their Price and Give City a Report on the Power—Council to Get a Separate Report and Committee will Take the Matter Up at Once

At last the Burleigh Falls Power proposition has come to a head, and the Special Power Committee of the council intend to lance it at once and see what is in it. For years this matter has been hanging fire and several times it gave signs of shaping up, but now the Central Ontario Power Company and the City Council have got together in a way which looks like business. Mr. Culverwell and Mr. R. J. McLaughlin, K.C., representing the company have made an offer to the city, but the cash value is being withheld for the present. The company has also had an engineer report on the property and the council has that report. There will be 4000 horse power at Burleigh, and it can be delivered at the sub-station and transformed at Peterborough after all expenses and interest and sinking fund have been paid at the rate of $760 per horse power for 24 hours per annum. The city can develop the power cheaper than a company can for the reason that the city can sell debentures at a lower rate than a private company can and will not look for a profit.

The subject was discussed for a time last night and was then handed over to the Power Committee to get busy on.

A letter was received from Mr. R. J. McLaughlin, K.C., who made the city an offer on behalf of the Central Ontario Power Co., to sell the water power at Burleigh Falls along with their property and lands and agreement with the Dominion government for the use of the dam. The company's lease is for three periods of 20 years each at a nominal rental of $1 per year.

If Burleigh Falls there will be 4000 horse power, leaving the reserve of fifty per cent. and while it is further away from the city and will cost more for the construction of the line, the cost of development of so large a body of water will make this up and deliver power at a less cost per rata per horse power. Besides the dam is built and maintained by the government.

The engineer, Andrew McCallum, C.E., of Hamilton and Toronto, made a report that the Burleigh Falls would develop 4000 horse power at the reservoir and that could be delivered and transformed in Peterborough 3550 horse power at a cost of $760 per horse power for 24 hours yearly. The falls have a head of 27 feet. The two best sites are for the power house is at Perry's Ravine, and the other the power house would be just behind the hotel. The dam is already constructed and maintained by the Dominion government. The engineer said this power could be developed at a very low cost and has many advantages over other powers.

The total cost for developing the power with a complete modern plant and transmission lines to Peterborough with a substation here would cost $186,000. This would give the city per year for operation complete $26,990 or $7.60 per year per horse power per year delivered and transformed in the city.

Mr. McLaughlin stated that he expect now that the company and the City Council could get together. The people of this city know as much in a general way about Burleigh Falls as any engineer could give. The great question with Mr. McLaughlin was whether the city wanted a power lease now, or would it continue to deal with private companies. The Dominion government is now charging a rental of $2 per year per horse power and Burleigh Falls is not saddled with this rental. Therefore if the city gets 4000 horse power it will save $8000 per year.

Ald. Bradburn suggested that the Power Committee to go into this question and to report to the council. If the council thought favorably of the proposition they could get their own engineer to report on it. Then the council could decide upon submitting a bylaw to the people.

To Build Four Dreadnoughts

London, May 21.—Premier Asquith, Foreign Secretary Grey and popular opinion, according to the Pall Mall Gazette, have overcome the scruples of the other economists in the Ministry, and the Cabinet has decided that the four contingent Dreadnoughts mentioned in the naval estimates shall be laid down before the end of the financial year.

A Catastrophe at St. Anne des Monts

Quebec, Que., May 21.—A dreadful catastrophe occurred at St. Anne des Monts, about 250 miles below Quebec, on the south shore, yesterday morning, and resulted in the death of nine or ten people, following upon the upsetting of an over-crowded boat on the Grande Riviere, which divides the parish.

The occupants of the boat were returning from mass at the parish church, held in connection with the observance of Ascension Day. The boat was loaded with some fifteen people, and the craft had not moved far into the stream when the strong current took hold of the over-laden boat. The efforts of the crew were unavailing to prevent from upsetting and the occupants were thrown into the water.

HEARTRENDING SCENE.

There were shrieks of anguish and cries of terror as the unfortunate people struggled in the water, and one after the other sank, never to rise again. Those who succeeded in escaping were; Amedee St. Laurent, of St. Luce, master on board the steamer Willie Burton; George Dion, Gervais St. Laurent, two children of Captain Simard, Mme. Arthur De Roy, Alfred Dugas, and Charles Levesque.

The number of victims is still unknown, but among them are the following from Ste. Anne; Mrs. Widow Levasseur, Mrs. Gervais St. Laurent, and a young daughter of Napoleon Vaillancourt, whose bodies have been recovered; Arthur DeRoy, of Ste Anne des Monts, and Philippe Simard, of St. Luce, County of Rimouski, married just a year.

The fearful disaster occasioned the most intense excitement among the population of the parish, and immediately the whole of the male population began to search for the bodies of the victims. At last accounts only three had been recovered.

Grand Concert Given by 57th Regimental Band

There was a fair-sized audience at the Conservatory of Music Hall last night to hear the 57th Regiment Band give its program, the first of the season. In every respect the band proved an entertainment which was a rare treat and that the audience appreciated it was shown by the most enthusiastic applause which greeted each number and especially the Grand Pastorale and Hunting Fantasia. All the selections were encored and the reputation of the band as a magnificent musical organization, was fully maintained. To Mr. R. Gliddon, the leader, is due great credit for the success of the affair as it was largely through his careful and efficient training that the boys were enabled to send forth such sweet music.

The most artistic selection was probably the overture "Barber of Seville," by Rossini.

Miss Julia Choate played in her usual brilliant manner and was well received by the audience.

Among those present were Captains McWilliams and Clinton and several other officers of the regiment in uniform, and they expressed great pleasure at the splendid playing of the band.

One in Three

Every Third Person Poisoned by Coffee

It is difficult to make people believe that coffee is an absolute poison to at least one person out of every three, but people are slowly finding it out, although thousands of them suffer terribly before they discover the fact. A New York hotel man says;

"Each time after drinking coffee I became restless, nervous and excited, so that I was unable to sit five minutes in one place, was also inclined to vomit and suffered from loss of sleep, which grew worse and worse.

"A lady said that perhaps coffee was the cause of my trouble, and suggested that I try Postum. I laughed at the thought that coffee hurt me, but she insisted so hard that I finally had some Postum made. I have been using it in place of coffee ever since, for I noticed that all my former nervousness and irritation disappeared. I began to sleep perfectly, and the Postum tasted as good or better than the old coffee, so what was the use of sticking to a beverage that was ruining me?

"One day on an excursion up the country I remarked to a young lady friend on her greatly improved appearance. She explained that some time before she had quit using coffee and taken Postum.

"She had gained a number of pounds and her former palpitation of the heart, humming in the ears, trembling of the hands and legs and other disagreeable feelings had disappeared.

"She recommended me to quit coffee and take Postum and was very much surprised to find that I had already made the change.

"She said her brother had also received great benefits from leaving off coffee and taking on Postum."

"There's a Reason."

Council will Decorate Nine Street Corners in Honor of the Holiday

The city will be decorated for Sunday and Monday in honor of Victoria Day and the visit of the two regiments from Brantford and St. Catharines. The council last night decided to decorate the street corners from Dalhousie street to Murray street on George, on all nine street intersections, and the work will be done by Messrs J. J. Turner & Sons, the largest decorating firm in Canada. This will ensure the work being done artistically and well. It will be started early this morning. Every business house and private citizen are also requested to decorate their premises and make Peterborough look better than it ever has in the past. The council decision was arrived at last night at a meeting of the Committee of the Whole.

Ald. Bradburn brought up the matter of decorating the street corners on George street for the holiday. He thought that if the city got busy early in the morning, and did some decorating a great many merchants and private residents would do a lot of decorating so that the streets would have a very gala day appearance.

Ald. Turner was asked what the would cost. He said that $5 per corner would pass he out of the way, but as his firm was in the business, he said they would be glad to do it for the city for $25. This would include from Dalhousie to Murray street or nine corners. This price would just pay for the work of putting the decorations up and taking them down. He would not think of looking for any profit from the city. He merely would like to see this done to keep up the reputation of the city.

Ald. Mecheral asked what Mr. Kingscott would take to do this work.

It was suggested that he and Ald. Duncan go over and interview Mr. Kingscott and they were sent over. Mr. Kingscott could not be found.

Ald. Bradburn and Ald. Mecheral moved that this contract be given to Messrs J. J. Turner & Sons. Ald. Turner said he would look personally after the job.

Committee of the Whole Council

While the Committee of the Whole Council was waiting for Messrs Culverwell and McLaughlin to arrive last night they took up a couple of other matters. Mr. D. W. Dumble who is very much in favor of the Purity Ware Limited being secured for the city was present, and made some suggestions to the council with the idea of assisting them to carry the bylaw. These suggestions will likely be acted upon.

Mr. Wm. Bowman was present and was heard in reference to games of chance. He understood that no games would be allowed this year on the 24th. He said there were certain games which were allowed by the Provincial Government, and he wanted to know if the council could not open up the streets to these games.

Mr. D. W. Dumble was present in connection with the Purity Ware bylaw. He said that 99 per cent. of the people did not read the bylaw and could not comprehend it if they did. He suggested that a simple statement of the facts be prepared and have it signed by a number of the heaviest taxpayers. This would do more good he claimed than a dozen public meetings where very often little side issues are brought in and the main bylaw is forgotten. Mr. Dumble said that he had studied the matter and had prepared a statement of facts and had left it with the city clerk. This he thought if the aldermen signed it along with some of the business men it would help a great deal in carrying the bylaw.

Ald. Bradburn brought up the matter of an application to sell two lots, one on Diddy street in Ward 1, in the hands of the Property S, and on Water street opposite the Colonial Weaving Co. The matter was Committee to look after.

A Dangerous Disease

Owing to its Tendency to Spread to all parts of the System, Catarrh should be checked in its Incipient Stages.

Catarrh commences generally with a slight cold, and because slight, it is often neglected. But the seed that has been sown brings forth a dangerous harvest—perhaps it is the harvest of consumption, which is the harvest of death.

Many spend a few months each day inhaling Catarrhozone, an aromatic antiseptic remedy that is breathed in through the mouth, and, after permeating all the respiratory organs, is slowly exhaled through the nostrils.

The immediate effect of Catarrhozone is magical—so prompt and efficient. Relief is instantaneous, throat and nose cleared in a few moments by the penetrating vapor from the Inhaler Pastilles, taken in conjunction with Catarrhozone, purifies the blood, cleanses it of all poisons, and builds up the system so that Catarrh cannot exist.

You are sure to receive lasting benefit from Catarrhozone if bothered by Catarrh in any part of the system. It is highly recommended for Bronchitis, Asthma, and Lung Trouble, and used for Coughs and Colds in the head it has no equal.

Remember that Catarrhozone is both a local and constitutional treatment, and is warranted under all circumstances to give satisfaction. Money refunded if it fails.

Two months' treatment, consisting of a beautiful polished hard rubber inhaler and large bottle of liquid for recharging, together with a box of Pastilles, costs but $1; trial size, 25c. Sold by all druggists and N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont. Buy it to-day.

The Defence Conference

In the last speech, which he delivered in England twenty-three years ago, Sir John Macdonald told the people of the mother country that, as auxiliary nations of Canada, Australia and South Africa increased in wealth and population and strength their status in the Empire would undergo a change. They would have to assume their share of Imperial responsibility. As far as Canada was concerned she was ready to sacrifice her last man and her last dollar in defence of the Empire and the flag. He foretold the day when the presence of increasing millions of loyal Britishers in the colonies would deter other nations from attacking Great Britain.

The time to fulfil that promise has arrived. It is nearly ten years since the colonial troops hastened to South Africa from every point of the compass, thereby conveying to the rest of the world the first actual notification of the reality and solidarity of the British Empire. In the last decade the process of Imperial consolidation has continued. Canada has grown in population, wealth and conscious strength. Australian confederation is a fact, and South Africa's political consolidation is practically accomplished. The organization of these outlying federations paves the way for closer relationships amongst themselves and with the mother country. The cause of inter-Imperial preference makes steady headway and an Imperial defence conference is to include representatives of all the Britains.

From Mr. Asquith's despatch to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, read in the Canadian House of Commons Wednesday, it seems that the pending conference at Westminster is to be attended by ministers from each of the outlying colonies, who are to have the assistance of the British Committee of Imperial Defence. The Canadian premier still sticks to his proposal that Canada should have a separate naval force instead of making a direct contribution to the Imperial fleets. Many Canadians regret that their government has not followed little New Zealand's splendid example. The presentation of one or two Dreadnoughts to the British admiralty, by each of the over-sea dominions would have exerted a powerful moral effect in Europe. It might have discouraged the naval ambitions of Germany, and thus led to a scaling down of international armaments. It would not have prevented us from erecting a sound defence service of our own.

A SYSTEM THAT CANNOT LAST

Some time ago we made a reference to the one queerness of Russell Sage, when he, in drawing up his will, left his vast fortune to his wife, saying that she knew better than he how to spend money in charity and in promoting worthy causes. The event has shown the wisdom of the course he followed, for Mrs. Sage has spent a lot of money since her husband's death and much of it has been spent to good purpose.

The latest development is the publication of a three-volume report of a commission financed by Mrs. Sage, to enquire into the conditions of the steel workers of Pittsburg. Dr. Edward Devine was chairman of the commission, and the enquiry is hailed the Pittsburg Survey. We have not seen the report of the commission, but if it is correctly summarized by one of its reviewers, or if conditions exist as they are said to be described in the report, one cannot help reaching the conclusion that there is serious trouble ahead for a republic in which flourishes a vast steel trade making wealth for a few and enforcing poverty on many. It is charged that only a few men in the steel works enjoy the eight hour day, while thousands "work twelve hours and seven days a week for wages adjusted to a lodging house basis."

It is said that there were in one year two thousand hospital accident cases in the steel works, many of the injured being crippled for life, while five hundred men were killed instantly. Even that, however, is not the worst of it, for it is conceivable that in certain kinds of works there may be danger of accident or death—unavoidable risks that the soldiers enlisted in the industrial armies must face. But where there is such risk some account should be taken of it, yet we are told that "over eighty per cent. of the families received under the care of Dr. Austen Irvine for the last ten days, and the doctor strongly advises him to take a rest after the race tomorrow night.

A pain prescription is printed upon each 25c. box of Dr. Shoop's Pink Pain Tablets. Ask your Doctor or Druggists if this formula is not complete. Pain means congestion. Blood pressure. Head pains, womanly pains, pain anywhere get instant relief from a Pink Pain Tablet. Sold by all dealers.

Cosgrave's Beer

Words of praise have ever prevailed in advertising "copy." That a producer should wax enthusiastic over his own wares is but human. But it's the praise of the consumer that counts—and it is to a discriminating and critical public that "Cosgrave's" refers you!

It is safe to say that no product, of any kind, enjoys a more enviable reputation than does this same Cosgrave Beer of Toronto in markets where it is offered.

Its self-evident honesty of purpose, purity, brilliancy, body, and every other attribute that goes to make a perfect beer are ever in evidence.

NOTE—An Agent wanted at Peterborough.

FITZMAURICE AN EQUERRY.

Minto's Son-in-Law Gets Appointment With Prince of Wales.

The Marquise de Fontenoy writes: The Prince of Wales has earned the gratitude of Lord and Lady Lansdowne and of Lord and Lady Minto by appointing Lord Charles Fitzmaurice to his household in the capacity of equerry, that is gentleman-in-waiting and A.D.C. Lord Charles, who is the second son of the Lansdownes, and who married last Christmas at Calcutta Lady Violet Elliot, the youngest daughter of Lord and Lady Minto, is a captain of the 1st Dragoons, a crack cavalry regiment, which, stationed in India, has several years to serve there before it can hope to be ordered home.

Lord Minto is resigning the vice-royalty of India, owing to his wife's health, and also in consequence of differences with the Secretary for India, Lord Morley, and is returning to England. Lady Violet has always been the apple of his eye, and it is a great relief to him to know that he is not obliged to leave her behind him in India, where the climate, even at the best, is so very trying to white women, especially to young mothers. The next four or five years, that is to say, at any rate until the 1st Dragoons are ordered home, Lord Charles will, thanks to his appointment as equerry to the Prince of Wales, be able to spend in England, his active duties as a member of the heir apparent's household taking up about four months of the year, while during the remainder of the time he will enjoy comparative leisure.

Lord Charles, who served through the South African war, during part of the time as aide-de-camp to Lord Roberts, after taking part in the battles which preceded the arrival of the field marshal at the front, is particularly well fitted to act as equerry to the Prince of Wales, owing to his perfect knowledge of French and to his possession of that quiet, tactful manner which one finds nowhere in such perfection as among those in immediate attendance upon British royalty. He comes by these qualities naturally, for he is descended from the Comte de Flahaut, from the great Tallyrand, and is even credited with having in his veins the blood of King Louis XV. of France, while his mother, the Marchioness of Lansdowne, is one of the principal ladies and most intimate friends and confidantes of Queen Alexandra.

Famous Explorer's Anecdotes.

The great traveler, Mr. Harry De Windt, has just published a book of his reminiscences entitled "My Restless Life." From his innumerable stories the following two are taken: One fine, warm day, nearing the Aleutian Islands, he was running himself on the tiny poop, while seated on a long, deep deal box (which, securely lashed to the bulwarks, contained, as he thought, whaling gear), when he became conscious of a sickening smell, yet one so pungent that it overpowered the chronic fumes of boiling blubber. Mr. De Windt asked a sailor, who was at the wheel, what it could be, but the frost-bitten mariner, case-hardened by a long and varied experience of evil odors, sniffed violently, yet could not solve the mystery. But in a moment it dawned upon him. "Oh, yes," he cried, as if struck by a sudden thought, "that must be our mate. He was killed by a whale up north, and asked to be taken to 'Frisco. So I put him in that box you're sitting on, and I guess the ice is giving out in this warm weather." At an American hotel a magnificent orchestra performed every evening in the dining-room, but, on one occasion—out of season—the house was so empty that the manager despatched the following wire to the head office of the company: "Only one guest, but orchestra of thirty; what shall I do?" And the answer soon came: "If guest dissatisfied engage six more musicians."

A "Queer" Preacher.

Rev. Mr. Hagamore, to whose memory is a slab in the church at Catshore, Leicestershire, England, was "a little queer." It seems that the reverend gentleman died in January, 1896, leaving all of his property, valued at $3,500, to a railroad porter.

This queer old preacher kept one servant of each sex, whom he locked up every night. His last employment of an evening was to go the rounds of his premises, let loose the dogs and fire off his gun. He lost his life in a curious manner. Starting out to let out his servants, the dogs fawned upon him and threw him into a pond of water. The servants heard his cries, but, being locked up, could not render assistance, so the old man was drowned.

When the inventory of his property was taken, he was found to be the owner of 80 gowns, 100 pairs of trousers, 100 pairs of boots, 400 pairs of shoes, 60 wigs (although he had plenty of natural hair), 50 dogs, 26 wagons and carts, 30 wheelbarrows, 240 razors, 80 plows, 50 saddles and 223 pickaxes and shovels. He surely was "a little queer."

The Patient's Stratagem.

"You must drink hot water with your whisky," the doctor told his patient. "Otherwise you mustn't take it at all."

"But how shall I get the hot water?" the patient queried plaintively. "My wife won't let me have it for the whisky toddy."

"Tell her you want to shave," the doctor said and took his departure.

The next day the doctor called and asked the wife how his patient was.

"He's gone raving mad," his wife replied. "He shaves very ten minutes."

His Message.

Excitement is often the cause of strange telegrams, as well as of other strange manifestations.

A man who had been one of the passengers on a shipwrecked vessel was rescued almost by a miracle. On arriving at a place from which he could send a telegraphic message he forwarded the following despatch to his brother:

"I am saved! Try to break it to my wife."

Daring Lady Explorers.

Probably no other lady has such a record of exploration as Mrs. French-Sheldon, who, amongst other claims to distinction, possesses that of having been the first woman elected a Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society. In addition to three journeys round the world, she has personally conducted more than one African expedition, and has traveled alone on the Congo. Mrs. Workman, too, has accomplished wonders among the Himalayas—where she and her husband, in 1903, attained an altitude of 23,394 feet—and Miss Gordon-Cumming has also climbed many of the almost inaccessible peaks among the mountains of Northern India and Thibet.

He Started Young.

"The Baby" is the nickname which has been bestowed upon Lord Winterton, because he was only a few months over twenty-one when he was returned as M.P. for Horsham. "The Baby" is one of the best shots in the House. He has just returned from a big game expedition in the Soudan.

Not an Infallible Method.

"I diagnose all my cases from the patient's eyes," said a doctor emphatically. "Now, your right eye tells me that your liver is affected."

"Excuse, me, doctor," the patient remarked, "but my right eye is a glass one."

Lame Back

This is one of the most common forms of muscular rheumatism. It attacks the muscles in the small of the back. It often comes on suddenly and is so severe that the body can be moved only with great pain. Keep as quiet as possible, as every movement of the body aggravates the disease. Massage the affected parts with Chamberlain's Liniment three times a day until the pain, soreness and stiffness have entirely disappeared. It is prompt and effectual.

HOW TO TELL

If the Kidneys and Liver are Not Acting Well.

Thousands die every year from aggravated kidney distress that could have been saved if they only knew.

Your back aches, you think it's tiredness or general weakness.

You grow irritable and nervous—it's put down to lack of sleep.

Joints pain, muscles get sore,—that's all put down to cold weather.

Then digestion gets poor, appetite fades away, color bleaches, spirits droop.

Can't you see it's all from your over-worked kidneys, which can't keep the body clear of poisons that are now surging through the whole system.

Cure your kidneys with Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

"When I was so stooped and back weary, so lame and sore with kidney and bladder trouble, I cured myself quickly with Dr. Hamilton's Pills," writes C. C. Ferrier, a well known merchant in Plainsville. "Dr. Hamilton's Pills touched the spot at once, gave my back ease, lifted depression and weariness, made a new man of me. I can also say for a good spring medicine to clear and enrich the blood Dr. Hamilton's Pills have no equal."

The housewife whose aching back makes every little duty a burden, the working man who is tired all day and can't rest at night, whose back aches, and whose feet swell—these people have kidney trouble. Women whose kidneys are sick, suffer continually from blind and sick headaches, faint and dizzy spells, bearing down pains, sharp twinges when stooping, distressing urinary troubles, aching muscles, and joints lack of appetite, and loss of sleep—tends the same. Cure the kidneys. Use Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake and Butternut Pills, which have cured thousands. 25c at all dealers.

Visitors in town are invited to see our souvenirs before buying hand painted views on china. Prices start at 10 cents each. Times Bookstore.

PE-RU-NA AS A TONIC AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

Mrs. Paul Casavant Writes From 219 Monroe Street, Topeka, Kansas, Concerning Peruna. Read Her Letter Below:

In Spring and Early Summer a Tonic is Needed.

The source of good blood is fresh air and well-digested food. If anything interferes with digestion the blood becomes impure.

A catarrhal condition of the stomach prevents perfect digestion. Such a condition allows the food to ferment and decompose in various ways, instead of resting. The blood is thus contaminated with various materials that do not belong in the blood.

This gives rise to spring fever, eruptions on the skin, general lassitude and constipation.

Peruna corrects all these difficulties by striking at the source of them. By eradicating the catarrhal condition of the stomach Peruna at once restores digestion, the blood is thereby purified, and the whole machinery of the body is put in working order.

Peruna has probably made a more remarkable record in cases of catarrh of the stomach than any other medicine. These cases are very frequent, and we have a host of testimonials in which Peruna has received lavish praise for prompt and permanent relief in cases of catarrh of the stomach.

Mrs. Emily Kellogg, 5219 S. Lawrence St., South Tacoma, Wash., Gives Her Experience With Peruna. Read Her Letter Below:

Mrs. Paul Casavant, 219 Monroe street, Topeka, Kansas, writes:

"I have found Peruna very effective in restoring my health and strength after I had been worn out and run down for a long time. I began to use it about six months ago when I was unable to leave my bed. My nervous system was shattered and I was daily losing flesh and strength. This condition was completely altered after a few bottles of Peruna had been used and I kept on using it until I was finally restored to perfect health and had gained about fifteen pounds.

"I feel so grateful for what your medicine has done for me that I am pleased to give it my hearty endorsement and shall always be glad to speak a good word for it."

Mrs. Emily Kellogg, 5219 S. Lawrence St., S. Tacoma, Wash., member of Ladies of the Maccabees, writes:

"Three months ago I had an attack of biliousness which threatened to undermine my health and strength. Luckily for me, I tried Peruna at the suggestion of my friends before it was too late. I found in a few days' time that I did not have the usual sick headache, neither did food nauseate me any longer. In two weeks' time Peruna had completely rid my system of the poison and bile, and I was in a much better condition. My skin assumed its normal color, I had a splendid appetite and I was in every way improved in health. I used Peruna for a month longer and it wrought a wondrous change in my entire system."

Tones up the System.

Mrs. William McRoberts, Waverly, Minn., writes:

"I am perfectly well of the catarrh. I took Peruna and Manalin. I recommend your medicine to every one and cannot praise it enough. It is a fine medicine to take any season of the year. Taken in the spring it tones up the system and acts as a gentle stimulant."

A Good Tonic.

Mr. Joe Leonard, Flat 3, 282 Allen St., Buffalo, N. Y., writes:

"I have good reason to endorse Peruna as I have found it a good tonic, stimulating the system and sustaining it under great pressure, imparting unusual endurance and enabling me to work much longer and harder than the system could possibly do were it not for the great powers with which it endowed me. It gives one nerves of iron."

Mr. Caleb H. Bortell, Police Officer, 312 North Paca street, Baltimore, Md., writes:

"For several years I was troubled with catarrh of the head, throat and stomach. Many times I would vomit before and after eating.

"I took seven bottles of your Peruna, and I am glad to say that it has cured me.

"I feel more like living and working, and am not bothered at all with my old troubles.

"I take great pleasure in recommending Peruna to all sufferers with catarrh, and I thank you for what you have done for me, for none but those who have suffered as I have can appreciate a great cure as I have found Peruna to be."

Splendid for La Grippe.

Mr. Frank H. Fielder, 218 Pleasant Ave., Montgomery, Ala., formerly principal of Haynesville High School, writes:

"I can truthfully say that Peruna is a splendid remedy for la grippe, and a good tonic for building up the system."

Pain in Chest.

Mrs. A. W. Gustin, 2939 Lake Ave., St. Joseph, Mo., writes: "When I began taking Peruna I had quite a severe pain and ache in the left of my chest. I suffered a great deal with it.

"I wrote to Dr. Hartman and asked him what I should do. He advised my taking Peruna, which I did. I took three bottles, and I can say I am cured.

"Thanks for kind advice and Peruna."

Hay Fever and Catarrh.

Miss Mayme E. Smith, 444 East Mound St., Columbus, Ohio, writes:

"I have used Peruna for catarrh and hay fever. The results being remarkable, I can highly recommend it to all who are suffering with the above diseases. I am happy to be able to say it has helped me wonderfully."

Eyes Red and Watery.

Mr. William S. Hearn, 2033 Segal St., Camden, N. J., writes:

"For about two years I was troubled with my eyes being red and watery, and my general health was very poor.

"Finally a friend advised me to try Peruna. I had tried almost everything else, so I purchased a bottle of Peruna and commenced to take it at once, and before I had finished the first bottle I found I was improving.

"I wrote you for special advice concerning my eyes, which I received. I continued to take the Peruna until I had used six bottles.

"Now my eyes are absolutely well, and I feel like a new man in every way.

"I honestly advise any one similarly afflicted to try Peruna."

Better than for Years.

Mrs. Mahala Reid, Corbyville, Ont., Canada, writes that she had constipation, rheumatism and kidney trouble. She took Peruna and Manalin, and is now completely recovered, better than she has been for years.

Mr. William Hoge, President Commercial Travelers Association, 220 Broadway, New York, N. Y., writes:

"I endorse Peruna as the most effectual remedy for catarrh I have been able to find in my travels in this country or Europe. I can truly say that I have spent thousands of dollars in this country alone trying to find a cure, and it was not until I was induced to give Peruna a trial that I obtained anything like permanent relief. As a tonic it is simply great. It ought to be in the grip of every commercial traveler on the road. It cured my wife as well as myself. We have not had the slightest symptom of catarrh for a long time."

In a later letter Mr. Hoge says—"I have used Peruna for many years, never without a bottle in my grip. I am the youngest feeling and youngest looking man of my age in New York, which I think is entirely due to Peruna."

Explanations

itself partially shut out of the ordinary retail market by an arrangement as to rebates, under which an existing combine has these retail dealers bound to buy only from itself; the new factory gets into a financial corner; just as a way is being opened out of the difficulty; the combine against which it has been struggling, cuts prices on one of the leading lines; while the capitalists who had been coming to the rescue of the endangered industry are suffering from cold feet as a result of this latest development, an offer is made to buy their plant at a sum equivalent to its actual value; the offer is accepted; the equipment of the independent factory on passing into the hands of the combine is broken up, and scattered far and near, and then—the combine in undisputed control of the field—prices are restored to the old level.

There is something still to come in this story of the combination in enamelled ware. There is, of course, a price list by which all parties to the combination are bound. All the factories in the association are not equally efficient. In some the cost of production is much lower than it is in others. But the combine price list is fixed at a figure high enough to allow a profit even on the output of the most inefficient plant. On the output of the best equipped factory there is a magnificent profit.

If we had free competition, the public would get the benefit of the low cost of production in the well equipped factory, and the poorly equipped ones would be forced to come up to date. Competition would make for improved quality in output, and a lowered cost to the consumer. With combination, under protection of the tariff, consumers are forced to pay prices high enough to show a profit even on the running of an antiquated plant.

The story of the combination in enamelled ware is the story, with trifling variations as to details, of scores of other combinations. The tariff is so arranged as to prevent foreign competition, and a domestic combination fixed prices at a level sufficiently high to ensure a profit even on the output of factories with obsolete plants operated by anti-quated methods.

Combines hamper enterprise, destroy individuality, and compel the consumer to pay unduly high prices for the necessaries of life.

One Thousand Soldiers Attended Divine Service At St. Paul's Church Yesterday

Three Regiments with Their Bands Paraded from Central Park—Church was Crowded—Splendid Service and Sermon—Rev. R. Ashton Preached

The chief attraction of yesterday's program was the church parade, and the divine service in St. Paul's church. Soon after the visiting soldiers had breakfast they fell in at Central Park on the new lawn in front of the armories. This made an ideal ground for battalion manouvers, and no time was lost in falling in. The Dufferin Rifles formed in companies just west of the white city and then retired to the north side of the park. The 19th fell in next and took up their position in front of the armories next to Murray street. The 57th fell in in the armories and marched out taking up their position between the two visiting regiments.

Both regiments are well officered and well drilled. Their discipline is exceptionally good while the men are a gentlemanly lot and have already won a warm place in the hearts of the citizens. The 38th of Brantford have a very quiet uniform, whichis always the case with rifles. But the regiment is strong and well balanced. The 19th infantry is a fine body of men who make a striking appearance in their red coats.

Both regiments have two bands, a signalling corps and an army service corps. The band of the Dufferin Rifles and their bugle band make a fine combination, and will compare favorably with the military bands. The crack 19th band were congratulated on all sides for their high class music and splendid appearance.

FALL IN.

The church parade was in command of Lt.-Col. Geo. Stairs, R.O., and when he gave the command to fall in the 19th Regiment in command of Lt.-Col. J. S. Campbell headed parade. The signalling corps led with the band following, then the bugle band, the rank and file, the Army Service Corps and the commanding officer and staff. The 38th Regiment followed in the same formation and the 57th brought up in the rear. The line of march was on Murray street to George, down George to Hunter, west on Hunter to Water, and north on Hunter to St. Paul's church. The return march was the same.

AT THE CHURCH.

St. Paul's church, the largest Protestant edifice in the city was secured for the church services by the consent of the pastor and officers and a better place could not have been secured. Hon. Major Rev. R. Ashton of the 38th, remarked during the service that the soldiers owed a deep debt of gratitude to the officers of the church. He spoke of the great advantages to the officers and men of the regiments to be able to sit in comfortable pews instead of standing in the open during the whole service as is usually the case with the soldiers. St. Paul's church was filled to its capacity and never before were so many men gathered within its walls at one time. Another feature out of the ordinary was the form of service. Yesterday was the first time the Church of England service was used in St. Paul's.

THE SERVICE.

Forms of service had been printed and distributed in the pews. They were very neatly gotten up and were printed by The Times job presses in two colors, red and blue. The officiating clergy were Rev. Canon Davidson, chaplain of the 57th, who conducted the opening exercises and read the prayers; Rev. R. Ashton, chaplain of the 38th Regiment, who delivered the sermon, Rev. M. P. Talling, acting pastor of St. Paul's, who read the lessons, and Rev. Dr. Langfeldt, chaplain of the 3rd Dragoons, who said the closing prayers.

The service throughout was very bright and exceedingly participated in by all. The hymns selected were favorites and were sung in a manner [illegible]. The singing was led by [illegible] St. Paul's church and [illegible] presided at the organ.

WELCOME EXTENDED.

Rev. Dr. Talling on behalf of St. Paul's congregation, the pastor and officers, extended a hearty welcome to the men who were visiting the city and he hoped that their stay would be to them a blessing.

Rev. Canon Davidson on behalf of the officer commanding and the 57th Regiment, expressed his gratitude at the presence of the 38th Regiment of Brantford and 19th Regiment of St. Catharines. He felt the city was honored by their visit, and he hoped that all would have a thoroughly enjoyable time. While the exceedingly the soldiers must always be borne in mind there was no reason why the day should not be a bright and happy one.

THE SERMON.

The sermon was delivered by Hon. Major Rev. R. Ashton of the 38th Regiment, Brantford. He took as his text, "Only be thou strong and very courageous, etc." In opening the reverend gentleman expressed his pleasure at being present, and stated that he felt sure that the regiments of Brantford and St. Catharines were delighted to join with the 57th in doing honor to the late Queen Victoria, and to participate in the opening of the new armories.

In speaking of the militia the speaker stated that there was a dangerous military spirit growing in the old world and had been for years, and while there was probably no immediate need for alarm and no one desired war, still it was imperative that all countries and especially Great Britain and her colonies should be always prepared. A nation, no matter how strongly, that neglected its militia would in time fall. He referred to the benefits of military training and to the system in Germany.

The Canadian Government he said was often criticised for the large amount of money it spends upon the soldiers. The government does spend much in this way but every dollar of it reverts back to the people, at least, not a dollar is spent outside the Empire.

He urged the men wearing the King's uniform to fight a good fight in the battle of life; to shun evil and evil companions; to read the Bible instead of much of the modern literature which is very bad. It is the Bible that has been the mainstay of England.

"Absent but Not Forgotten"

"The 24th of May is the Queen's Birthday" is a couplet that crowds itself upon the memory of Canadians at every recurrence of the day. We involuntarily think of the good women who for more than sixty years swayed the sceptre of righteousness over the greatest empire on earth upon which the sun never sets.

No sovereign who has ever ruled over the children of men has been more deeply regretted or more sincerely mourned than good Queen Victoria. Her greatest monument is in the hearts of her loving subjects—in the idea of sovereignty which she created—and in the undying traditions by which her name will be hallowed while the Empire shall endure.

"The memory of the just is blessed."

Bethany Defeated the Y.M.C.A. Saturday Afternoon by 1 to 0

Riverside Park, May 22.—Only the fine generalship and ability of Dr. A. W. McPherson prevented Bethany from trimming the Y.M.C.A. by a wider margin than 1 to 0 in this afternoon's Midland League football match. "Mac," playing at centre half was the main spring of the local eleven and kept the rest of the works going well enough to keep the game fairly close. The "Y" did not have their best representatives on the field, business keeping the majority of them away. Added to this was the advantage Bethany had in weight and condition. From the flags out their players were fast and strong and were there with the steam even when time was called.

The game was fairly good from the specters' standpoint, although only a small crowd were found along the lines. The ground was soft and heavy which resulted in slowing the game up particularly in the second half.

Although Bethany pulled out with a victory, they had no easy proposition. A feature of the game was the fact that the two teams were evenly matched. Although Bethany had the weight, and stamina, they had but little advantage in combination. The visitors did not seem to be effective. They could work the ball down well, but the "Y" had just as many chances to score. Combination was not a feature of the game and Bethany probably had the bigger showing. Long kicks were volleyed up and down the field between the opposing backs, and individual work was a little too prominent.

THE LINE-UP

At 2:30 Referee G. Skelding of the Brintons called the game with the teams lined up as follows.

Y.M.C.A.—Goal, Fleming; backs, McNeil and Evans; halves, Moore, McPherson and Archibald; right wings, Carter and Caniff; centre, French; left wings, Milburn and Coleman.

Bethany—Goal, H. Price; backs, W. Price and C. Merten; halves, Dr. Hamilton, C. Brereton, J. Staples; right wings, K. Simon and E. Roberts; centre, Coulter; left wings, A. Delong and M. Sherin.

Referee—G. Skelding.

W. Hitchins, of Havelock, was linesman.

THE PLAY

Both goal keepers were called upon several times during the first half and were not found wanting. Bethany put one past Fleming but the ball came in from an off side. Half time found the game a tie with Bethany forcing the game.

The only score was made in a rather lucky bit of work. Fifteen minutes after play was resumed, Bethany had worked the ball in within ten yards. Sisson was jockeying for a shot. McNeil checked, but slipped on the wet grass and Sisson had an easy shot past Fleming.

The "Y" pressed hard but could not score.

Dr. MacPherson was easily the best of the locals, and Moore and Archibald helped a lot. "Doc" Hamilton, Merton and in fact the whole defence played well. Brereton was aggressive and fast and was always prominent.

The Standing

This win puts Bethany in the lead of this district with a good chance to win. If they defeat the Brintons in Bethany the district is theirs.

Frank Halpanny Won the Senior Boys' Walking Match Saturday

In the senior race, which was for boys 14 and over, Frank Halpany cleaned up the event in handy fashion, winning the contest by a lap and one-half. The distance was three miles and Halpany finished by himself in 20 minutes 18 seconds. N. Phelan was second in 20:47, and D. Johnston third. Halpany walked a steady good race throughout, taking the lead from the start and lapping his field in the second mile. Not content with his lead he kept right on increasing it, finishing a lap and a half, or about half a mile to the good. Both Halpany and Phelan were complimented by Champion Heagland on their good walking.

The junior race of two miles for boys under 14 brought out some far more exciting racing than did the senior event. The field stayed together until the last lap when C. Stewart and W. Stratton went out in front and had a desperate battle to the finish. Stratton crossed the line first, but was given second place by Referee Heagland for running during the last sprint. C. Stewart got first place, W. Stratton second, A. Austin third, and Anderson fourth. Stewart's time was 19:29.

The Visiting Regiments Arrived, The City Extends Hearty Welcome

19th Regiment of St. Catharines and 38th Brantford Rifles are Guests of the 57th of Peterborough—Doing Honor to Late Queen Victoria and Opening New Armouries

Peterborough was besieged at an early hour yesterday morning, and since then the city has been in the hands of the militia. Never before was this old town attracted by so strong a force, and it will be a long time before another body of men in the King's uniform will take possession of the streets, the parks, the public buildings, and the points of vantage.

The arrival of the 38th Rifles of Brantford and the 19th Regiment of Infantry of St. Catharines with their bands marked the opening of two of the greatest days that Peterborough has yet recorded. It is the celebration of the 24th of May, Victoria Day, so named in honor and memory of the late beloved Queen Victoria, the greatest and most religious sovereign who ever sat on England's throne. The occasion also marks the opening of Peterborough's new armories, the handsomest structure in Central Park which has recently been completed and taken by the militia.

To the 57th Regiment and the officers and bands the city owes credit of the celebration.

They have undertaken the arrangements for the reception and entertainment of the visitors and they are carrying them out to the letter and are receiving congratulations on all sides. At the same time the citizens at large are enjoying a holiday that will be remembered by even the youngest to his dying days.

Never before were 1000 uniformed soldiers of King Edward seen in parade on Peterborough's streets. But such was the case yesterday morning when the 19th of St. Catharines, the 38th Rifles of Brantford and the 57th of Peterborough fell in for the church parade.

THE DECORATIONS.

George street, the principal business thoroughfare was gaily attired for the occasion. Many of the merchants did honor to their late queen and showed their loyalty to the local regiment by draping their places of business with flags and bunting. The city, under the personal supervision of Ald. J. J. Turner, had streamers and flags strung across the corners from Dalhousie street to Macdonel street, and these decorations added greatly to the appearance of the city and did much to inspire the citizens with that holiday spirit which is a chief feature in making for the success of the occasion.

SOLDIERS ARRIVE.

Two special trains, one on the Grand Trunk carrying the St. Catharines boys 400 strong, and one on the C.P.R., carrying the Brantford boys 375 strong, pulled into their respective stations at an early hour yesterday morning. The Duffering Rifles arrived at about four o'clock and remained in the carsuntil six o'clock when they detrained and marched to their quarters at Central Park. The 19th arrived about 5.15 o'clock, anddetrained at once and marched down to the city Market Hall to breakfast.

Both trains were made up of Colonist sleepers which made traveling very comfortable for the men, and they all enjoyed a good sleep. Splendid time was made on both roads. Only one or two short stops were made. As a result the officers and the men of the visiting regiments are thoroughly well satisfied and speak in the highest terms of Canada's two greatest railways.

The visitors were met at the stations by Lt.-Col. Miller, Major Clegg, Major Bennett, Capt. McWilliams and Capt. McLean of the 57th Regiment, and extended the regiment's cordial welcome.

VISITORS BEING FED.

Satisfactory arrangements were made in advance for the feeding of the regiments and as a result no inconvenience is being experienced along these lines. The 19th have their mess rooms in the city Market Hall where Jacobi Bros. are catering. Great long tables are laid in the hall and the men speak very highly of the service. The 38th Rifles have their mess at Central Park in the big tent at the corner of George and Macdonald streets, and meals are prepared in the two cook houses at the rear.

CITIZENS ARE OUT.

At an early hour yesterday morning the citizens began to flock into the streets and wended their ways to Central Park and along the line of march. They wanted to see the soldiers and they wanted to hear the bands. The park was soon alive with people, civilians and soldiers, and many old friends met and shook hands and had a chat during those early hours. By nine o'clock several thousand citizens were out and lined the streets.

What the Militia Did on Sunday Afternoon

Early yesterday afternoon the officers of the two visiting regiments were entertained by the officers of the 57th Regiment to a drive around the city. A large number of hacks were engaged and all were filled. The visitors were shown the various points of interest and they were greatly pleased. The city at the present time is looking very well and no one can help but be impressed.

After the drive the officers were the guests of Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M. P.P., at his handsome home just outside the city. Miss Brown presided as hostess. A large marque on the lawn had been erected where light refreshments were served from and these were greatly appreciated after the drive. Mr. Bradburn was on hand and welcomed his guests and made things as pleasant as possible.

In the afternoon the band of the 38th regiment rendered a splendid program of sacred music in Central Park. It was the general understanding that the concert would be given in Victoria Park and several thousand people gathered there only to be moved over to Central Park. The music of the 38th however, was greatly enjoyed and the music came received many warm compliments.

In the evening the crack band of the 19th of St. Catharines, gave an excellent concert in Victoria Park, and one of the largest crowds that has ever gathered on that spot were present. The hill was a mass of humanity as was also the lower part of the park. The electric lights were on and the scene was greatly appreciated and made for itself a warm spot in the hearts of all those who heard them.

Toronto, Ont., May 22.—Enormous crowds graced the opening day at Woodbine spring meeting to-day. Long before the hour for starting, the stands were filled and late comers had difficulty in securing seats with good view. The profusion of rain caused the green sward to assume a beautiful condition not often seen so early in the season. The fences and buildings had been painted and the whole grounds presented a most beautiful appearance.

Over half a hundred bookies did business in the usual way, there apparently being no shortage of money among the race-goers.

The weather was sunny, although a cool wind made the top coat almost a necessity. The rain of yesterday only served to lay the dust on the track and this afternoon it was in splendid condition.

A large force of detectives from the local force, reinforced by a number of Pinkerton men, were on hand to take care of undesirables.

The vice-regal party was late in arriving, but the drive past the stands with postillions and equerries was an impressive sight, and the immense throng cheered loud and long while the Royal Grenadiers Band played "God Save the King" and "Maple Leaf."

Shortly after 2:30 the jockeys brought out their mounts for the initial event and it was only a moment till the familiar cry went up of "They're off."

The results were:

First Race—1st, Jack Parker, 10-1; 2nd, Lady Irma, 3-5; 3rd, Darsington, 15-1. Silverin, Personal, Brown, Tony and Sir Cannon finished in the order named.

The winner is owned by Adam Beck. Irma led to the stretch, but was beaten in a driving finish.

Second Race—1st, Flying Squirrel, 1-2; 2nd, Busy, 7-2; 3rd, Herpes, 30-1. Dress Parade, Star Wave, Belle Kingston, Puritan Lad, Miss Reoffelle, John Reardon, Stay Connie, finished in order named.

Scratched—Fauntleroy.

Winner owned by R. L. Thomas. Won easily.

Minto Stakes, 1 1-16 miles, 3-year-olds and up.

Third Race — 1st, Donald McDonald, 7-1, 2nd, Uncle Tobby, 15-1; 3rd Reid Meore, 7-1.

Gretna Green, Glimmer, Juggler, St. Elmwood, Smoker, Zipango, Waristes, Throckmorton, Restoration, Fair Annie finished in order named.

Winner owned by Phil. T. Chinn. Won driving.

Scratched—Lally, Green Seat, Grey Jubilee, Light Wool. Jockey Goldstein was warned for rough riding on winner.

Fourth Race—Athol Steeplechase. 1st, Canvass, 6 to 1.

Capstan, finished in the order named. Last four named losing riders. Reiff and Econemy were public choices.

Fifth Race—The King's Plate.

The public flocked to the betting ring in this event and found Shimonese in accordance with her early morning trials to be a favourite at 4 to 5. The three Seagram entries, Tollendel, Courtier, and Dog of War, were second choice at 5 to 2, while the Dyment entry, Fort Garry, carried the same price of 5 to 2. The layers were so sure that they offered even money on Shimonese against the field. Desert Star, Hon. Adam Becks' Generous Meor and Sauce O' Gold from the McLean stables, were rated as outsiders, as high as 5 to 1 being secured for show money.

When it was all over the state was thus:

1st, Shimonese, 4 to 5.

2nd, Tollendel, 5 to 2.

3rd, Fort Garry, 5 to 2.

Desert Star, Courtier, Dog of War, Sauce o' Gold and Generous Meor, finished in the order named.

It was Shimonese as she pleased. The Valley Farm hope and favourite won going away by six lengths. Tollendel was ten lengths ahead of Fort Garry.

Dog of War broke in front, with Shimonese away back and passing the stand Fort Garry was in front with Tollendel second, and Shimonese third. Gilbert on Shimonese hugged the rail and saved ground. In the stretch Fort Garry and Tollendel had a four length lead and were racing like mad. Turning out of the back stretch Gilbert let Shimonese down and she went around the leaders like a flash. Tollendel, only two lengths back at the last bend but the winner drew away easily. The win was very popular, the crowd almost scaring the winner over the fence with their enthusiastic cheering. It was the easiest win in years and the winner at that broke the plate record of 2:11, doing the distance in 2:10 1-5. Mendip and Cape Town were scratched.

Sixth Race—Woodbine.

1st, Lady Esther, 3 to 1.

2nd, W. I. Hinch, 6 to 1.

3rd, Heckle, 7 to 1.

There were no schatches.

Fire Department Had a Busy Time Yesterday

The fire department had three calls yesterday morning between 10 and 12 o'clock to the same house, that of Mr. H. Ritchie, 297 Hunter street west, just at the corner of Rubidge street. A new old-fashioned fire place had been built in one of the rooms and not sufficient precaution was taken in the construction. An inordinate quantity of concrete was used for the floor and as a result the heat went through to the beams under the floor. These became ignited and spread to the garret. The fire department was called a few minutes to nine o'clock, and by the use of chemicals and by tearing some of the plaster off the walls extinguished the flames. But later on it was discovered that the fire was still smouldering so the brigade was called again. This time some of the flooring upstairs had to be torn up and more chemicals used. Chief Howard however, was very careful in tearing down the plaster not to cause any unnecessary damage and told Mr. Ritchie if he noticed any more smoke to put up the fire hall by phone. This Mr. Ritchie did a few minutes to 12 and the chief drove up in his buggy with a couple of chemicals and finished the job. Mr. Ritchie is greatly pleased with the work of the Brigade and requested Chief Howard to convey his thanks to the men. The damage will amount to $50 or $75.

Later in the day they were called to Dr. McKinnon's residence to extinguish a blaze and at 10:30 had a run to the corner of George and King streets.

CATARRHOZONE

Rev D. K. Smith, of White Head, N.S., was cured of catarrh by Catarrhozone.

The following statement coming from one of Nova Scotia's prominent churchmen carries conviction of the fact that Catarrhozone is all right.

"For years I tried all the advertised remedies for Catarrh, but was unable to get relief until I used Catarrhozone. Before I had used the Inhaler half an hour my nostrils became free and clear so that I could breathe easily through them. In one day Catarrhozone helped me immensely, stopped my coughing and hawking and cured a dull pain that was continually over my eyes. I have great pleasure in recommending Catarrhozone. I have proved it the best remedy for Catarrh and diseases of the throat, lungs and bronchial tubes."

There is certainly no remedy that is so well spoken of by the clergy as Catarrhozone and this can be accounted for by the fact that it gives perfect satisfaction.

It is the only remedy that reaches all diseased parts and gives quick relief without bad after effects. Catarrhozone contains no cocaine nor morphine. It is nature's own remedy, soothing and healing, and pleases everybody that uses it.

Catarrhozone is a local and constitutional treatment. The Inhaler clears the air passages, stops the headache, and Ferrozone Tablets that are included in every complete Catarrhozone outfit, never fail to drive impurities from the blood. This builds up and strengthens the system so that Catarrhal conditions cannot exist.

The speediest cure for Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Bronchitis, and Asthma is Catarrhozone. Two months' treatment, price $1.00; med at druggists, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

THE APPLE AND ITS RIVALS

On the Pacific coast of the United States there is a war between the orange and the apple. Orange growers in their advertisements claim that oranges are cheaper and more healthful than apples. Apple champions reply that the orange may be cheaper, but cannot compare with the apple in food-value. "The Orange" they say, "is an insipid fruit, of which most people soon weary, and its use is limited, while the apple lends itself to an almost infinite variety of cuisine. It may be served raw as oranges are served; it may be cooked into sauce, or baked, roasted, or fried, or made into pies and tarts; it can be evaporated and transported to the most remote mining and lumber camps, and its by-products, or jelly, cider, and apple wine, are commodities of widest use."

In this part of Canada it is a matter of common observation that the apple is giving way to the orange, and still more to the banana, as a fruit to be consumed raw. And the reason is, not that the flavor of the orange or banana is preferred, but that it is easier to obtain the foreign fruit in good condition than the native fruit. Partly this is due to the energy and persistence of the Italian vendor. The children of Italy exhibit some of those qualities of aggressiveness and enterprise of an Imperial race. They give the lie to the theory that sunny skies are enervating. Try to carry an Italian peddler's load through the city on a hot day, and your respect for the the race will be increased.

The orange and the banana come to our shores. The apple eludes us. The consumer of raw fruit has almost given up the hope of getting ripe, sound, well-flavored apples at a moderate price. He has become a banana-eater, not because the flavor of a banana can be compared with that of a Northern fruit, but because the Northern fruit has become too expensive a luxury. And yet this is a country which has delivered some fame for growing and exporting apples. There is something wrong with the means of communication between the Canadian apple grower and the Canadian consumer.

If your Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are weak, try a test, a few doses only, of Dr. Shoop's Restorative. In five or ten days only, the result will surprise you. A few cents will cover the cost. And here is why help comes so quickly. Dr. Shoop doesn't drug the Stomach, nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to the weak and failing nerves. Each organ has its own controlling nerve. When these nerves fail, the depending organs must of necessity falter. This plain, yet vital truth, clearly tells why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is so universally successful. Its concern of leading druggists everywhere to give it universal preference. A test surely will. Sold by all dealers.

KING JAMIE'S BLAST.

What the Learned Monarch Had to Say Against the Weed.

Within two centuries after the discovery of tobacco, the Indian and America in 1492, tobacco had conquered the world. But its part of progress, has been beset by well-meaning zealots at every stage.

Perhaps none of its opponents has been more bitterly antagonistic than those of the fifteenth century when it was struggling for a foothold in the Old World. The famous "Counterblaste to Tobacco" of King James was only an episode in a crusade against the habit that he carried on persistently during his lifetime. Besides his "Counterblaste" here are a few apothegms which history accredits to James:

"Tobacco is the lively image and pattern of hell, for it has by illusion in it all the parts and vices of the world, whereby hell may be gained, to wit:

"First, it is a smoke; so are the vanities of this world.

"Second, it delights them who take it; so do the pleasures of the world delight the men of the world.

Thirdly, it maketh men drunken and light in the head, so do the vanities of the world—men are drunken therewith.

Fourthly, he that taketh tobacco saith he cannot leave it, it doth bewitch him. Even so the pleasures of the world make men loath to leave them; and further, besides all this, it is like hell in the very substance of it, for it is a stinking, loathsome thing, and so is hell."

It is amusing to know that in the latter years of his life King James himself succumbed to the allurements of tobacco, and, though he pigheadedly continued to denounce it, smoked habitually in secret.

Their crusade against tobacco has been continued ever since. Unconsciously, and with the very best of intentions, this army of zealots has disseminated a great mass of misinformation which had no basis of fact and which was conceived in the fertile and imaginative brains of a trio of Park Row space writers. Take, for instance, the sacred fiction that the dark colored oil which lodges in the bowls of pipes and stains the fingers of cigarette smokers is the deadly poison nicotine. Chemical scientists know, of course, that this substance is not nicotine, but simply tar, tobacco tar, distilled from the tobacco just as coal tar is distilled from coal and pine tar from pine wood.

Maids of Honor and Their Work.

In England the maids of honor are chosen by the Queen herself from among the daughters of peers, who, if not themselves connected with the royal household, are personal friends of Her Majesty. A letter is always sent to the parents of the young lady requesting that, as a personal favor to the Queen, she may be permitted to attend at court. As the position is undeniable, and the salary is about $1,500 a year, the request is invariably accepted, and then the newly-chosen maid receives from the Lord Chamberlain the command for her first "wait."

The first thing brought to the maid of honor is her badge, which is a miniature picture of the Queen, set in brilliants, and suspended to a ribbon. Just before the dinner hour, the maid of honor in waiting has to stand in the corridor outside the Queen's private apartments. She carries a bouquet which, on entering the dining-room, she lays at the right hand of the Queen's plate.

The maid of honor sits at dinner next to the gentleman on the Queen's right. This rule is relaxed when royal guests are present. After dinner, unless otherwise commanded, the maid of honor retires to her own room, when, however, she is frequently fetched to read, sing, play the piano, or take a hand at cards.

Vegetables in England.

Until the end of the reign of Henry VIII., according to the historian, Hume, no carrots, turnips, or other edible roots were produced in England. The few that were used were imported, and the state papers contain numerous references to the dispatch of messengers to the continent for rare vegetables and salads to grace the table at important royal banquets. Cucumbers also were unknown until the 16th century, and celery owes its introduction in England to the French Marshal Taillard, who was imprisoned in England after his defeat by Marlborough.

Broccoli and cauliflower came from Cyprus in the 17th century, and the potato, brought to England by Sir Walter Raleigh about 1584, was not in general use until 1663, when the Royal Society directed attention to it and recommended its cultivation.

What Telepathy Is.

Telepathy is the transference of emotions and sensations between souls, while thought transference is the transmission of words, ideas or images from mind to mind. Thus telepathic communication is possible only between persons of a certain degree of soul development and between whom there is a degree of emotional sympathy, while in transference of thought one dominant, positive mind may affect another without there being any degree of sympathetic vibration between them—"Svastika."

Stevenson Bad Speller.

One of the most polished and painstaking of English authors regarded correct spelling as a totally unnecessary accomplishment. In his introduction to R. L. Stevenson's letters, Sidney Colvin writes: "I have not held myself bound to reproduce all the author's minor eccentricities of spelling and the like. As all his friends are aware, to spell in a quite accurate and grown-up manner was a thing which this master of English letters was never able to learn."

An Athletic Statesman.

The Spy and the King.

The following story is told of Louis XVIII., King of France, and Fouche, who had been at one time Napoleon's minister of police: After the Bourbon restoration the King asked Fouche whether he had set spies over him during the empire. Fouche admitted that he had. "Who was the spy?" the King asked, and he was informed that it had been the Comte de Blacas. "How much did he get?" continued the King. "Two hundred thousand francs a year, your majesty." "Ah, well," said Louis, "he was honest, then, after all. I had half."

Talkative Judges Preferred.

If the garrulous judge is a "nuisance," since he is apt to divert the attention of counsel from the vital points, and to lengthen the proceedings, the silent judge is hardly to be described in more flattering terms. The advocate never knows what is passing through his mind. On the whole, talkativeness on the bench is perhaps preferable to absolute silence.—Law Journal.

Sir Edward Elgar, the famous composer, at one time made a hobby of kite-flying, and was not ashamed to be seen tugging at a string and guiding heavenwards after a struggling object with a long tail. He is also an adept naturalist.

How Peterborough and the Visitors Spent the Holiday Together

The military celebration in Peterborough on Sunday and Monday was an unparalled success. From the first appearance of the special trains bringing the visitors until the trains pulled out late Monday evening, everything went off with a swing and there was not an accident to mar the pleasure and success of the demonstration. The 57th Regiment, officers, non coms and the rank and file did themselves proud and proved their qualifications to rank among the prices of entertainers. Everyone was happy, everyone had a good time. It was impossible to be otherwise. The weather man dished out a beautiful variety of his goods and there was something doing all the time. Not a minute was allowed to drag. As a result all the visitors to the city were delighted with their trips and all had good words to say for the 57th and the citizens themselves.

COMPLIMENTARY BANQUET.

A brilliant success is what the banquet at the Oriental Hotel on Monday night was. It was complete in every respect and was most thoroughly enjoyed. Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P., was the host of the evening and his guests included Hon. Wm. Pugsley, Minister of Public Works, Colonel King of St. Catharines, the officers of the 19th of St. Catharines, the 38th Rifles of Brantford, and the Peterborough garrison, along with a number of local citizens. The dining room was very tastefully decorated and the menu was an ideal one, consequently everyone was happy and good fellowship prevailed.

Mr. Stratton acted as toast master and he filled his chair of honor well. The toast list was a particular fitting one for the occasion, and speakers were as follows;

Messrs. J. R. Stratton, M.P., J. B. McClellan, Mayor Rush, T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., R. R. Hall, ex-M.P., Hon. Wm. Pugsley, Lt.-Col. Miller, Lt.-Col. Campbell, 19 Regiment; Lt.-Col. Ashton of the 38th, Col. King, 19th Regt., and Lt.-Col. Stevenson of the 57th.

Cheers were given for Mr. Pugsley, Mr. Stratton and the officers of the visiting regiments and the 57th.

Mr. R. J. Dovey presided at the piano in an efficient manner and songs by Mr. W. McIlroy and Mr. Walter Davidson added greatly to the enjoyment of the gathering.

The banquet closed with the singing of the National Anthem and Auld Lang Syne.

MILITARY REVIEW.

For the citizens the chief attraction Monday morning was the military parade to Riverside Park, the review, the march past and the trooping of the colors. The streets were a mass of humanity who were thoroughly enjoying themselves and a large proportion of these people followed the soldiers to the park where the manoeuvers of the three regiments were watched with interest and appreciated to the fullest extent as was shown by the enthusiastic applauding whenever any of the regiments made a good move. The 19th of St. Catharines was very warmly applauded while trooping the colors which is one of the hardest of military manoeuvers. One private in the 38th, and two privates in the 19th were overcome by the heat and hard work and had to be carried off the grounds by the stretcher bearers who were always ready for an emergency.

ARMORIES OPENED.

The formal opening of the Peterborough armories attracted an immense crowd of citizens. Promptly at 11.30 the three regiments of soldiers were formed up in front of the armories and the commanding officers and the speakers for the occasion mounted the platform. Considerable enthusiasm was displayed throughout the proceedings. The presentation of the keys of the armories to Lt.-Col. Stevenson, was the cause of rounds of applause. Mr J. R. Stratton, M.P., presided and after a very neat address in which he congratulated the city garrison upon their new quarters, the Dominion Government for erecting those armories, the visiting regiments and the citizens he called upon his Worship Mayor Rush, who extended, upon behalf of the citizens a very cordial welcome to the visitors to the city. Mr. R. R. Hall, ex-M.P., made a pleasing address and the Hon. Dr. Pugsley was introduced to the audience amid rounds of applause.

HON. DR. PUGSLEY.

Hon. Dr. Pugsley said he was delighted to have an opportunity to visit Peterborough. He was glad to be here to open the new armories and it gave him pleasure to visit one of the Dominion's foremost manufacturing centers.

"I am delighted with your beautiful city," he said, "and I know there are great things in store for it."

Peterborough, Mr. Pugsley said, was fortunate in getting work started on the new armories when it did. If it had been delayed a year or perhaps less the probabilities were that it would not yet be under way, for the government had to be very economical.

Mr. Pugsley paid a high tribute to Canada's citizen soldiery. "Show me a loyal and true soldier," he said, "and I know I have a good citizen."

The speaker referred to the value Lord Strathcona placed upon military training, as evidenced by the donation of a large sum of money to further the work in the schools of Canada.

Mr. Pugsley referred to another phase of his visit to Peterborough. It gave him an opportunity to see the great waterway, the Trent Canal, which will connect the great lakes with the St. Lawrence. The Government had confidence in the undertaking and the canal would be completed as rapidly as possible.

In handing over the keys of the armories to Lieut.-Col. Stevenson, the Minister of Public Works expressed the hope that the militia of Peterborough would spend many happy days and years in their new home.

RECEIVED THE KEYS.

Lieut.-Col. Stevenson accepted the bunch of keys amid an outburst of applause. The 57th Regiment, he said, should be better than ever now that it had such fine quarters.

After this the band played "God Save the King," which was followed by cheers for the King, the Minister of Public Works and the visiting regiments."

LAKEFIELD WHARF.

A large party, including many visitors, were the guests of Mr. J. B. McClellan, superintendent of the Trent Valley Canal, on the steamer which made the trip to Lakefield on Victoria Day for the purpose of opening the new wharf and pavilion at that place. This wharf will be a great convenience to Lakefield people and the citizens of that town have been greatly interested in it. As a result the town was out en masse to help celebrate the opening. As the steamer from Peterborough pulled up to the wharf there was great enthusiasm among the spectators and the ceremonies got off to a good start. Mr. A. W. Tanner, chairman of the Reception Committee, welcomed the visitors and the speakers of the day, Hon. Dr. Pugsley and Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P. Speeches were made by Reeve Kidd, Mr. F. J. Moore, Mr. J. R. Stratton, Clerk W. Sharing, Hon. Dr. Pugsley, and the ceremony was closed with the usual cheers. The Peterborough party returned by special train to the city.

Meeting Endorsed Proposition, Knockers Defeated on All Sides

Purity Ware By-Law was Discussed by Many Speakers—Mr. D. W. Dumble Strongly Supports the Council and the By-law—Mr. Mr. Kendry Strongly Opposed and was Corrected Many Times—Ald. Hicks Told Mr. Kendry to Read the By-law before Condemning It.

The Purity Ware Bylaw had its innings last night. It has today many warm supporters who were neutral a week ago. The opposition to the bylaw was defeated at every turn and their arguments were shown up as weak and in many instances without foundation. The aldermen are to a man behind the bylaw and with the exception of two or three every man at the meeting were supporters before the discussion was over.

Mr. James Kendry was the principal opponent. He made a lengthy speech in which he condemned the bylaw. But he was corrected in his statements so many times that his arguments had no effect upon the ratepayers present. He claimed that he was opposing the bylaw in the interests of the people. At the same time he admitted that he got his information from Mr. Kemp of Toronto, who is one of the largest manufacturers of this class of goods in Canada and a very successful one and also that he was a personal friend of his (Mr. Kendry's).

Mr. D. W. Dumble very strongly supported the bylaw and said he would do all in his power to carry it. He admitted that a week ago he had not read the bylaw but had since and very carefully and was convinced that Purity Ware would be a splendid factory for Peterborough.

President Gillespie, Ald. Hicks, Ald. Bradburn, Ald. Morrow and Ald. Buller all spoke strongly in favor of the new factory, and all took part in correcting Mr. Kendry's statements.

Towards the end of the discussion the legal fraternity, which was well represented, got into a prolonged battle of technicalities and before they had finished about half the audience retired to their homes quite satisfied with the bylaw as it stood.

President Ald. Gillespie occupied the chair and opened the meeting.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted.

A communication was read from the deputy minister of agriculture stating that an office had been opened in London, Eng., and asked that reports be sent there from this district.

President Gillespie stated that the meeting had been adjourned to continue the Purity Ware bylaw discussion. He said the Board of Trade and City Council wished the fullest discussion of the bylaw.

Ald. Hicks asked if it was the intention to have the bylaw discussed or the negotiations which led up to the framing of the bylaw.

President Gillespie said only the bylaw was to be discussed.

Mr. Kendry said he though this meeting was for information of the financial men who were to underwrite the stock. He asked Mr Dumble if that was not so.

MR D. W. DUMBLE.

Mr. Dumble said he believed that incidentally it was asked at the last meeting who those financial men were. He said, however, that it did not matter to the people of Peterborough who the men were. This meeting was not to discuss men. The council had safe guarded the city against all mishaps. Proceeding Mr. Dumble referred to the securing of the Canadian General Electric some years ago. Since then Peterborough has become known as a manufacturing city and our future depends upon our manufacturers. He referred to the western Ontario cities and the campaign they were waging for new factories. Peterborough must get busy. To secure factories some risk must be taken. Results cannot be guaranteed. All that we can do is to do our best.

Mr. Dumble next took up the work of the Manufacturers' Committee in securing this factory and complimented them upon the system adopted. He referred to Peterborough as a natural site for factories and the desirability of the particular site chosen by the Purity Ware Limited. Next the city makes a loan of $50,000. Half when the buildings are up and the other half when the machinery was installed, the $100,000 working capital is subscribed and the factory is running. Where is the risk in that? We want factories. This is a big concern and we cannot lose it. Then Mr. Dumble took up the American concern which is behind the Purity Ware and said that it was one of the strongest and if there was any possibility of making the Purity Ware Limited successful they would see that this is done. They would put the proper men in charge and would run it on business principles and for profits. This is a good proposition and we cannot afford to lose it. He was prepared to endorse the council and he appealed to the citizens to support it. He would do all he could to bring it here.—Loud applause.

MR. JAS. KENDRY.

Mr. Kendry said he came here to find out who the financial men behind the concern were. He asked for the names and asked Mr. Campbell who they were.

Mr. Campbell said he could give the names but was not at liberty to do so.

Mr. Kendry then went on with a lot of condemnation of the bylaw and the council and no one knew so much about this Purity Ware business as he did. He was called down by several men, including Mr. Campbell, Ald. Morrow, Mr. Dumble and the chairman. Still Mr. Kendry proceeded with his own argument. Mr. Kendry then proceeded to condemn Mr. Edwards, one of the promoters. He also asked for the reading of the letter from the New York company, but without waiting for the reading of the letter he went on to state that the New York company was not behind Purity Ware, but that they would demand a lien upon the machinery they put into the factory.

Here Mr. Kendry was again called down for misstatements and his misstatements were proven by the bylaw and the letter from the New York company.

ALD. HICKS.

Ald. Hicks then took up a copy of the bylaw and told Mr. Kendry that he evidently did not understand the bylaw and advised him to read it carefully when he got home. Ald. Hicks also asked Mr. Kendry where he got his information from and if it was from Mr. A. E. Kemp.

Mr. Kendry said yes, he got it from Mr. Kemp. And Mr. Kemp was one of the largest manufacturers of this line of goods in Canada, and one of the most successful, and that Mr. Kemp was a personal friend of his, and he was opposing this bylaw in the interests of Peterborough.

Mr. Hicks then showed up Mr. Kendry in a very bad light and told him he had not read the bylaw.

Mr. Kendry grew red up with both Ald. Hicks and Ald. Bradburn.

So far as the financial interests of the Purity Ware Company was concerned, Ald. Hicks asked Mr. Kendry if there was one man in the audience in whom he had confidence. If so, Ald. Hicks stated that he had a letter from the financial interests which he would show to that party.

staff consisting of a silver fruit dish, salad bowl and berry spoon. The groom's gift to the bride was an amethyst necklace to the bridesmaid a fleur de lis brooch and best man a tie pin. After the ceremony about twenty guests drove to the bride's home and partook of a sumptuous wedding dejeuner.

After the usual toasts the bride skipped away to don her traveling suit of old rose tonic and black picture hat.

The happy couple left on the 11.26 C.P.R. train, amid showers of rice and confetti, for Ottawa, where a reception is being held this evening by Mr. and Mrs. E. Piouffe. The guests from a distance were Mr. Jas. Carey and Herb Henry of Lansing, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. M. Hennessey of Toronto, and Mr. and Mrs Wade of Brampton.

Mr. P. Campbell Satisfied

Mr. Peter Campbell, manager of the Bank of Toronto, was one of the bankers to whom the names of the financial men behind the Purity Ware Limited, was shown. To the Board of Trade he said last night;—"I know the names of the financial men who propose to underwrite the stock of the Purity Ware Limited. They are a very, very strong institution, and are well and widely known among financial concerns throughout the Dominion. I also know the president and vice-president, who will be elected if this enterprise goes through and I might add that when their names can be made known, that the people of Peterborough will be very pleasantly surprised. They are both men of wealth and position and who are known to all classes of commerce in Canada."—Loud applause.

Western Crops Said to be in Splendid Shape

Winnipeg, May 25.—The C. N. R. crop report issued this morning shows that the rains and fine weather of the past week have brought the wheat along in splendid shape. Owing to the late season it is doubtful if the Manitoba acreage will be up to last year. It will at least be no larger. In Saskatchewan there will be a slight increase, but not as large an increase. Coarse grains are practically all in.

NEWS FROM CATTLE COUNTRY.

Winnipeg, May 25.—Stockmen have received advices from the ranching country that not more than one per cent. of the mature cattle were lost through the recent storms, although the loss in calves has been heavy.

THREE YEARS FOR BIGAMIST.

Winnipeg, May 25.—W. J. Cameron, convicted of bigamy, was sent to penitentiary for three years. He had married three times, but said one of the women was dead. The last wife was a Toronto woman. When arrested he was engaged to marry a fourth. A charge of theft led to the disclosure of his past life.

WEDDING BELLS

MOHER—WEYER.

St. Peter's cathedral was the scene of a very pretty wedding yesterday morning when Miss Bessie Weyer, youngest daughter of Mrs. A. Weyer, Weller street, became the bride of Mr. Jas. Moher of Patterson St. Rev. Father McFadden performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. Jas. Weyer, looked charming in an empire gown of mauve directoire silk over taffeta, with berths of real lace and gold trimmings and wore a tuscan hat with plumes and carried a mother of pearl prayer book.

The bridesmaid, Miss Sophia Weyer, of St. Mary's Hospital, Rochester, looked very pretty in a pale blue silk mull made in princess style, with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of roses. Mr. Robert Moher of Ottawa, brother of the groom was best man.

The bride, who was one of Peterborough's most popular young ladies, was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts, amongthem was a well filled purse from a number of the groom's friends and three handsome presents from the Examiner

POSTUM

"There's a Reason"

Mayor Rush Speaks on The Purity Ware By-law, Gives Valuable Figures

His Worship Mayor Rush in support of the Purity Ware bylaw made the following speech;

Are the Auburn Woolen Mills a benefit to Peterborough? The public answer yes.

Not many years ago Hon. Senator Cox and others bought that estate, so reports say, at 5c on the dollar, but under Mr. Kendry's management what is it today, and if the worst comes to the worst., in the case of the Purity Ware Limited, another Mr. Kendry will turn up.

We want manufacturies here, and in granting concessions to induce them to locate here it is the duty of the council to see that the safety of the city is properly guarded, which I feel sure in this case it is. When a New York firm is going to put up $100,000 in the concern, rest assured they will strongly oppose its being run or managed by "men of straw" as was spoken of at the last meeting. I would much rather have one strong firm interest themselves and invest, say $100,000 in this factory, than have the stock sold in small lots, as before they invest one dollar they will know who is going to manage the concern, and I understand the Montreal firm has said, "Pass the bylaw first before we announce ourselves." I can readily understand that, if the bylaw is not passed their name is no, known, but if it is, as I sincerely hope it will be, then they will take the matter up. The council took this precaution before announcing themselves to the public. They insisted that a marked cheque for $250 should be deposited with the city clerk to cover the expenses of passing the bylaw, and this cheque has been deposited with the city clerk, so if these people fail to fulfill their part of the transaction, the ratepayers are not out of pocket. I think any person who will take the precaution to read the bylaw carefully, will see that the city is amply protected.

His worship then gave the following figures whichare of value;

Interest on $3000 at 4 1-2 per cent, $127.50; sinking fund 3 1-2 per cent, bonus, 20 years $105.06; total $232.56.

A little less than 3 cents on each $1,000 of assessment.

Interest on $50,000 at 4 1-2 per cent. $2,125; sinking fund 3 1-2 bonus, 20 years $1,768.05; total $3,893.05.

46 cents on each $1,000 of assessment for 20 years.

Taking the two items together, $3,000 and $50,000 equals $53,000, the interest and sinking fund would be $4,125.63 a year equal to 49 cents on each $1,000 of assessment, for 20 years.

The city is now receiving from the land as taxes $29 a year. The school taxes cannot be remitted, $35,000 would be considered a low assessment. The revenue to the city would be $312 a year from the school taxes alone, deducting $29 a year from that, which the city is now receiving, would leave a balance of $283. Deducting what the land would cost $233, would leave a net gain to the ratepayers of $50 a year.

Second Night of the Walk, Brown Leads by One Lap

The second night of the International six-day race was finished last night when Brown completed 33 miles and 10 laps in the five hours, and just one lap ahead of Hoagland, the world's champion. The crowd was not as large as on the opening night but the speed of the pedestrians was faster, the distance covered last night being 16 miles 12 laps, one lap more than the opening night. This looks very favorable for a good record by Saturday night. All the walkers are still in the race, although some of the contenders appear to have little chance to catch up. Brown put up a good race and went at his work like a veteran, having gained a lap on Hoagland and West, who covered the same distance they did the opening night. Harrison also covered the same distance and is now three laps behind the leader and two laps behind Hoagland and West.

Fifteen Days in Jail for Editor Asselin

Quebec, May 25.—In the police cells in jail without the option of a fine for his recent insults on Hon. Mr. Tascherau, Minister of Public Works, this morning Judge Chauveau pronounced Editor Asselin to fifteen days made on the floor of the chamber.

if Mr. Kendry would take his word that the finances were good.

Mr. Kendry said he did not care to name any gentleman.

MR. POUSSETTE.

Mr. Poussette said he would not for a moment accuse Mr Kendry of playing the bylaw because his friend Mr. Kemp was interested in the same kind of business. We, the people, however, know through Mr. Kendry, that he got his information on which his opposition to the bylaw is based, from Mr. Kemp. That gentleman, according to Mr. Kendry, is one of the largest manufacturers of this kind of ware in Canada and his business has very rapidly increased from the beginning, and is still growing rapidly. It is easy to see why Mr. Kemp would oppose the bylaw.

Mr. Moore said that at the last meeting he had not read the bylaw and did not believe that any of those who made such long speeches last Tuesday night had read it. Mr. Moore however dealt with the mortgage part of the bylaw which he thought might have been worded a little differently.

Mr. Eastwood thought that the finances of the Purity Ware were all right. He also thought the security for the loan was all right if the provisions of the bylaw were carried out.

Mr. Smoke of Toronto, solicitor for the Purity Ware Limited, was asked by the president to explain the mortgage part of the bylaw. Mr. Smoke stated that the aldermen would certainly never give the money until the mortgage was given and he could not understand any company or business man asking for the money without giving the mortgage. He also explained that the bylaw was not binding on the council. The council will, before finally passing the bylaw, draw up an agreement binding the company to certain things and the company must execute that agreement.

Moved by Mr. D. W. Dumble, seconded by Mr. F. D. Kerr, that the bylaw to aid the Purity Ware Limited to be voted on by the people on June 5th be given the support of this Board of Trade.—Carried.

The meeting then adjourned.

Two Magistrates Test Zam-Buk

Cure effected in both cases

Mr. P. Rasmussen, of 211 Marquette street, Montreal, who is a Justice of the Peace, and a man not inclined to give praise except where it is well due, says:—"For many years I was troubled with a serious eruption of the skin. This was not only unsightly, but very painful. I first tried various household remedies, but as these proved altogether useless, I took medical advice. No. one, but several doctors in turn were consulted, but I was unable to get any permanent relief. Some time back I determined to give Zam-Buk a trial, and after a thoroughly fair test, I can say I am delighted with it. I have the best reasons for this conclusion, because, while everything I tried failed absolutely to relieve my pain and rid me of my trouble, three boxes of Zam-Buk have worked a complete cure. In my opinion this balm should be even more widely known than it is."

Mr. C. E. Sanford, J.P., of Weston, King's Co., N.S., says;—"I had a patch of eczema on my ankle, which had been there for over twenty years. Sometimes, also the disease would break out on my shoulders. I had taken solution of arsenic, had applied various ointments, and tried all sorts of things to obtain a cure, but in vain. Zam-Buk, on the contrary, proved highly satisfactory, and cured the ailment.

"I have also used Zam-Buk for itching piles, and it has cured them completely. I take comfort in helping my brother-men, and of the publication of my opinion of the healing value of Zam-Buk will lead other sufferers to try it, I should be glad. For the relief of suffering caused by piles or skin diseases, it is without equal."

For eczema, eruptions, ulcers, piles, blood-poisoning, varicose ulcers, children's sore heads, ringworm, salt rheum, cuts, scratches, burns, bruises, and all skin injuries, Zam-Buk is a perfect cure. All Druggists and Stores sell at 50c. a box, or post-free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Three boxes for $1.25.

Catarrh

THE MOTHER OF CONSUMPTION.

How this dread disease may be prevented and cured—the opinions of people who have been cured by

CATARRHOZONE.

Catarrh is very often spoken of as the mother of consumption, because when unchecked it extends from its place of beginning to the bronchial tubes then deeper and deeper, till finally the disease becomes consumption of the lungs.

The safest and best remedy for any form of Catarrh is Catarrhozone. It is inhaled to the parts of the breathing organs, kills the disease germs and drives it completely out of the system.

Mrs. Mary J. Whitney, of Clay street, Topeka, Kansas, was cured of Nasal Catarrh after twenty years' suffering by Catarrhozone. She says:

"I owe to Catarrhozone an immense debt of gratitude. It cured me of Catarrh of the most disagreeable kind after doctors without number had pronounced my case incurable. My breath is pure and my respiration regular, and I do not cough any more since using Catarrhozone. It has cured me perfectly."

Another case of Chronic Catarrh that was cured quickly by Catarrhozone is that of Mr. G. L. Luce, of [illegible]. Mr. Luce says:

"I tried for four years to get rid of Nasal Catarrh, used salt douches, atomizers, tablets, stomach medicines, etc., but they did me so much good.

"Then I tried Catarrhozone, and received relief in a few hours. It cured in a week, so that I never had a recurrence of my former trouble."

Miss Winer, who resides on May street in Hartford, Conn., was cured of throat trouble by Catarrhozone, and speaks of her recovery in the following words:—

"Repeated colds finally resulted in a Catarrhal condition from which I suffered more or less every spring and fall. Catarrhozone was the only remedy that relieved and cured me. I recommended it."

No treatment is so good for Catarrhal affections and Bronchitis as Catarrhozone. Its success is quite unequalled in the history of medicine. It will cure you quickly and surely, and is well worth a trial. Two months' treatment guaranteed to cure, price $1.00; small size 50c. Druggists, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont. Buy it today.

DON'T BE A QUITTER

Many men fail because they are quitters. It may be that more fail for this reason than any other. Whatever the proportion, the number is too large.

Men can accomplish more than they ever dreamed of, in most cases. It is mainly a question of holding on when a man is engaged in a pursuit into which his physical and mental qualities fit.

If plants succumbed to every whiff of biting air in the raw days of spring, and shriveled up at every drought of summer, there would be no fruit. Nature points the way to holding on with grim tenacity and left alone the face of the earth is smothered in shrub and flower and seed.

Wellington did not win the battle of Waterloo by superior military tactics, but by holding on, despite of the horrible decimating carnage of Napoleon's forces—holding on with British bulldog tenacity.

Not all may succeed in the same degree, since men are differently constituted and labor under varying conditions, but a doubling, shifting, yielding course leads nowhere.

No sensible man should pursue an object unpreparedly and without cost purpose. But it is necessary not only to be sure that you are right and then go ahead, but to keep going.

Stick to a thing, then,—for this is the method by which, under untoward conditions, most successful men, in all walks of life, have made good.

If your Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are weak, try at least, a few doses only of Dr. Shoop's Restorative. In five or ten days only, the result will surprise you. A few cents will cover the cost. And here is why help comes so quickly. Dr. Shoop doesn't drug the Stomach, nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to the weak and failing nerves. Back organs has its own controlling nerve. When these nerves fail, the depending organs must of necessity falter. This plain, yet vital truth, clearly tells why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is so universally successful. Its success is leading druggists everywhere to give it universal preference. A test will surely tell. Sold by all dealers.

THE APPLE AND ITS RIVALS

On the Pacific coast of the United States there is a war between the orange and the apple. Orange growers in their advertisements claim that oranges are cheaper and more healthful than apples. Apple champions reply that the orange may be cheaper, but cannot compare with the apple in food value. "The Orange" they say, "is an insipid fruit of which most people soon weary, and its use is limited, while the apple lends itself to an almost infinite variety of cuisine. It may be served raw as oranges are served; it may be cooked into sauce, or baked, roasted, or fried, or made into pies and tarts; it can be evaporated and transported to the most remote mining and lumber camps, and its by-products, or jelly, cider, and apple wine, are commodities of widest use."

The tender notes of a sympathy-inspiring monologue, attributable to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy its marvelous curative properties. The tickling or distressing coughs quickly yield to the healing, soothing action of this splendid prescription—Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. And it is so safe and good for children, as well. Containing no opium, chloroform, or other harmful drugs, mothers should in safety always demand Dr. Shoop's. If other remedies are offered, tell them no! Be your own judge! Sold by all dealers.

A LONG CHASE.

Prisoner in London Crossed Africa Before He Was Caught.

After escaping from custody in Rhodesia by jumping from a train, tramping 1,500 miles across Africa, and reaching London in safety after desperate adventures, a man named John Creswick has fallen into the clutches of the law through a tattoo mark on his arm. The story of his extraordinary adventures was told at Bow street, when he was charged with being an escaped convict. Creswick, who is a sailor, was sentenced to six years' penal servitude in Rhodesia for forgery and was sent from Gwelo to Salisbury by train, guarded by a number of police, and with his ankles heavily manacled. By some means he eluded the vigilance of his guards and reached the back of the train, from which he jumped while it was traveling at twenty miles an hour. He was not missed for a few minutes, during which he managed to get rid of his irons by breaking the steel rivets with a piece of rock, and made good his escape.

His plight, however, was a desperate one. He was without food, arms, or money, and in constant danger from prowling lions. By an extraordinary coincidence he met a friend, who supplied him with a rifle and ammunition and lent him money. Creswick then set out to walk to Boma, in the Congo Free State, a distance of 1,500 miles, through the heart of the continent. For five months he tramped, living on animals and birds he killed with his gun. Several times he nearly starved, and he had countless narrow escapes from death. Finally he reached Boma, and changing his tattered prison dress for a pair of grey trousers, a striped jacket, and a cricket shirt, he took passage in a steamer for Antwerp. Thence he came to London, and when arrested he at first denied his identity. But when the inspector asked to see his arm, to ascertain whether the Prince of Wales' feathers were tattooed upon it, he admitted he was the man wanted, and went quietly to Bow street. He was remanded pending the decision of the authorities as to what shall be done with him.

Unable to Kneel.

One fancies that few types of men can from time to time have afforded royalty more amusement of a quiet sort than provincial mayors of England. "From the Foreland to Penzance," by Clive Holland, contains the story of a mayor of Weymouth who during one of the visits of King George to the town was destined to afford "comic relief" to a ceremony of some importance. The occasion was the presentation of an address of welcome to the King, and we are told that the mayor on approaching to present it, to the astonishment of all, instead of kneeling, as he had been told to do, seized the Queen's hand to shake it as he might that of any other lady. Col. Gwynne, the master of the ceremonies, hurriedly told him of the faux pas, saying, "You should have kneeled, sir."

"Sir, I cannot," was the reply.

"Everybody does, sir," hotly asserted the colonel.

The mayor grew red and, evidently much upset, exclaimed, "Confound it, sir, but I've got a wooden leg!"

History records that "a smile suffused the face of Her Majesty, and the King laughed outright."

Wrong Again.

A political speaker was attacking the Government of the day with more venom than reason. A man at the back of the hall at last cried out, "You're wrong, sir!" A little nettled, the orator continued without heeding. Presently, in answer to another strong assertion, came again, "You're wrong, sir!" The speaker looked angry, but continued on the warpath. "You're wrong, sir!" again rang out.

Angrily addressing the persistent one, the orator cried: "Look here! I could tell this man something about this Government which would make his hair stand on end!"

"You're wrong again, sir!" came exultantly from the critic as he stood up and removed his hat. His head was as bald as the proverbial billiard ball.—London Globe.

Who Owned the Fish.

There is in Wales a creek five miles long, connecting two small lakes. About fifty persons own property along this creek, and for years and years the people have disputed as to who owned the fish in it. Not long ago two boys got into a fight over the fish they were catching, and the dispute was at last carried into the courts. The decision of the judge was odd enough. He decreed that any one claiming to own any of the fish should attach a brass tag to the tails of the fish with the owner's name in plain letters, and that in the future he must catch his own fish or none at all. This unique decision put an end to the dispute.

In Pit at Seven.

Mr. J. Keir Hardie, who, together with Mr. Macdonald, has refused to act as a leader of the I.L.P., is a Scottish pitman who worked underground from the age of seven until he was twenty-four. Then he became editor, and ultimately an M.P. The sensation he created when he first entered the House, wearing an old tweed cap, will not readily be forgotten. It was this cap which led the Belgian police to arrest Mr. Hardie on one occasion. They thought he was an Anarchist instead of a well-known member of the British House of Commons.

Cunning of the Fox

A fox on emergency will sham death to perfection. A master of hounds in England once roused a fox in a whip as he bolted before a terrier. The fox appeared to have been strangled. When held up by the scruff of the neck his eyes were seen to be closed, his jaws gaped, and the body hung limply down from the hand. He was placed tenderly on the ground, only to dash off to covert.

Quaint Ceremony.

About sixty Chinamen proceeded to the graves of two recently-buried Celestials in Anfield cemetery, Liverpool, Eng. A gigantic tray carried by four Chinamen, and containing foods including a fully-grown roasted pig decorated with red rosettes, cooked fowls, beefsteaks, oranges, and sweets, was brought on the scene. A bottle or two of Scotch whisky, flanked with egg-cups and liqueur glasses, were also placed on one of the graves. The spirit was plentifully poured upon the meats and rice was sprinkled upon the grave, and afterwards joss-sticks, paper offerings, and boxes of crackers were burnt. The explosion of the fireworks made a lively diversion in the otherwise solemn proceedings.

A Bell of Ale.

That celebrated and eccentric character Dr. Samuel Parr, G.D., prebendary of St. Paul's, was for forty years curate of Hatton, South Warwickshire. To his care and liberality Hatton parish church owes much of its beauty and to his name most of its fame. He endeavored to make Hatton bells "the most musical peal in Warwickshire," and when a new bell was added there were great rejoicings. The bell, with a capacity of seventy-three gallons, was filled with "good ale," and this was consumed by the villagers.—London Standard.

Lame Back

This is one of the most common forms of muscular rheumatism. It attacks the muscles in the small of the back. It often comes on suddenly and is so severe that the body can be moved only with great pain. Keep as quiet as possible, as every movement of the body aggravates the disease. Massage the affected parts with Chamberlain's Liniment three times a day until the pain, soreness and stiffness have entirely disappeared. It is prompt and effectual.

Says This Medicine Has Mystic Powers

It's in the spring that health gives out—that folks begin to feel draggy-weary, fretful—hate to eat, look pale, feel discouraged

If you've reached this state read what J W Jarrett, well known in Morristown, has to say about the medicine that cured him. "Last winter I caught a heavy cold that settled in my back My kidneys and liver were affected and my health failed. By spring I was in bad shape—couldn't sleep like I used to—felt tired in the morning—ate very little—was terribly depressed, late and anxious looking. Twinges of rheumatism, frequent neuralgia attacks over the temples, made matters worse. The doctor prescribed three times, but didn't help. Then I heard of Dr. Hamilton's Pills—They possess mystic powers surely, for I gained and improved day by day and now am in perfect health again. I will praise and use Dr. Hamilton's Pills till I die."

The ingredients in Dr. Hamilton's Pills are pure and wholesome—come right from the storehouse of Nature to the form of veletable juices and extracts,—consequently this gentle invigorating laxative tonic and blood purifier is safe for old and young alike. We assure you of enormous benefit from Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which revitalize dullest glands search out the seat of hidden disease, flood the body with vigor and health that has caused thousands of broken-down, despairing men and women to join in a mighty song of praise for the beneficient aid that comes from this king of all tonics Get Dr. Hamilton's Pills today. 25c. at all dealers.

Tell Some Sick One

It Is Free If It Fails.

Will you do an act of Humanity?

Will you tell some sick friend of this, my remarkable offer?

Tell him or her, that you have learned of a medicine so certain that its maker dare say to the sick, "It is absolutely and unconditionally free if it fails."

And you, no doubt, already know of Dr. Shoop's Restorative and its popularity.

For 20 years it has been the standard remedy for Stomach, Kidney and Heart ailments everywhere in America.

When the "inside" or controlling nerves of these vital organs begin to fail, it is Dr. Shoop's Restorative that has quickly vitalized, and strengthened, and brought these nerves and organs back to health again.

I do not dose the Stomach, nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys—for that is all wrong.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes direct to the cause of these ailments—the failing, faltering, inside or controlling nerves. And herein lies the keynote to my success.

When these nerves are again made well and strong, then that is the certain end of all such sickness.

To me it is a great satisfaction that I am the only physician able so say to the suffering sick, Take my prescription for full 30 days, and if it fails to help you, the entire expense is mine—not yours.

Then why should the sick take any chance on any other medicine, whose maker dare not back it just as I do by this remarkable offer?

I also have a Rheumatic Remedy—and that remedy is covered by the same identical "No help, no pay" protective plan.

Besides, you are free to consult me just as you would your home physician. My advice and the book below are yours—and without cost.

Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up some serious ailment. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private prescription or personal advice plan. My best effort is surely worth your simple request.

So let me send you an order at once. Take the message to some sick friend.

A postal will bring the opportunity.

I will have an honest and trustworthy druggist to whom you can conveniently go for the 30 day test.

Then first, ask me for the order, for all druggists are not authorized to give this 30 day test.

So write me now and have all delays. Remember that tomorrow never comes. Address Dr. Shoop, Box 12, Racine, Wis.

Rheumatism

Fully nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism are simply rheumatism of the muscles due to cold or damp or chronic rheumatism, neither of which require any internal treatment. All that is needed to afford relief is the free application of Chamberlain's Liniment and massaging the affected parts at each application. There is nothing disagreeable or unpleasant about this liniment. The relief from pain which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. Price 25 cents, large size 50 cents.

Lift Lock was Broken Orangemen Had to Walk

A most unfortunate accident occurred at the Lift lock last night while the steamer Otonabee was going over the lift carrying the delegates to the Orange Grand Lodge convention. When the boat got near the top something went wrong with one of the air chambers and the lock refused to work. The accident was a great disappointment and will be a poor advertisement for the lock as there were people present from all parts of the Dominion from Vancouver to Newfoundland. The passengers were unable to get out for an hour and then they had to proceede over the tregtle work and down the concrete steps and then walk all the way home. This is the first time the lift lock has refused to work since it was first opened and it could not have happened at a more inopportune time.

Manufacturers' Com. Dealing with the Request of Light and Power Co.

A preliminary meeting of the Manufacturers' Committee with representatives of the Peterborough Light & Power Co., who are requesting a 30-year franchise of the streets in order to allow them to consolidate their debt by placing a bond issue on their plant and property.

Mr. Larmouth stated that he had always understood that the company had a perpetual franchise to do business but when the street lighting contract expires the city can order the company to take down their pole lines. It is not likely that the city will do this but they want to have a franchise running concurrently with the bond issue.

Ald. Morrow asked what the company were willing to give in return.

Mr. Larmouth said they were waiting to see what the city would ask.

Ald. Morrow said that this would be an opportune time to settle the question of lighting so that citizens could get a flat rate at say $1 for the first 10 lights and 75 cents for the next 10 lights, or something along those lines. He pointed out that when the people wanted to use the most light it cost them a great deal. He said that when the people used the most light was at night when the factories were closed down. Then the merchants were all complaining about the high price of their lighting.

Mr. Larmouth pointed out that to give a flat rate would mean a great overlapping of the current for about four months of the year, and would necessitate the company carrying a full equipment to carry double the current needed in the summer.

Ald. Gillespie asked Mr. Larmouth what he would think of the city owning the poles and renting the right to string wires.

Mr. Larmouth said he would prefer to own their own poles. He would be willing to put up a pole line and allow the Otonabee Company to use them. He pointed out that for the city to put in a conduit would cost the city a very large sum of money.

Ald. Morrow maintained that the people wanted cheap light and he felt strongly that this was the time to get the price of the lights to citizens fixed satisfactorily. The price should be $1 for 1st 10 lights, 75c for 2nd 10 lights, and 50c for all after that.

There was a long discussion over the flat rate and meter system of commercial lighting and there was also a lot of talk over the probable underground work on the main streets of the city or of placing the pole line in the lanes back of the buildings.

The committee decided to get information as to rates from other cities and towns and for the committee to get together and form up a proposition to submit it to the company as soon as possible.

The Prince Rupert Lots Brought Close to Half a Million Dollars

Vancouver, May 26—The first day's auction of Prince Rupert townsite lots was a great success, the total value being nearly half a million dollars.

Two thousand people attended the sale and bidding was keen from the start. In no case was property withdrawn because of the failure to reach the reserve price, and in these the prices went far above what was anticipated. This was especially the case in the business property, where the choicest corner in that locality brought $16,500.

Buyers from Australia, Alaska, United States, and Winnipeg, secured property, though the bulk of the buyers were from Vancouver.

No unnecessary talking was required to bring bids, the value of the property appealing directly to the buyers, who knew exactly what they were after.

No Rainy Season

General Ashton of Tacoma, who accompanied Moreton Frewen to Prince Rupert, is a firm believer in the future of the town. The present is his first trip here, and he predicts that with the sale of lots, there will be an influx of people who mean business, and who will stay by the proposition. "I believe," he said yesterday, "that in a great measure, the industrial and commercial history of Tacoma, Seattle and Vancouver will be duplicated here. Your harbor is a truly magnificent one. Prince Rupert is in the path of the growing Alaskan and trans-Pacific trade. The country between here and the prairie presents limitless opportunities for development, and whatever takes place Prince Rupert must more or less directly benefit. This port is nearer the ports of the Orient than any shipping port to the south. The new railway has an exceptionally easy grade. These are matters to be considered by the great business establishments of the east and middle-west, whose operations extend across the Pacific. Sometimes you hear people talk about the rain. Why the whole coast, from Alaska to California is in the rain belt. We have no rainy season. The weather doesn't enter into the calculations of the big business men, whatsoever. With them it's a matter of time—of dollars and cents. If they find it more to their advantage to do business through this port, they don't care whether it's hot or cold, cloudy or bright. And they will find that it will be to their advantage to figure on Prince Rupert."—Exchange.

COL. H. C. ROGERS WAS HONORED BY THE CITIZENS OF PETERBORO'

A Man of High Ideals and Who Has Lived a Model Life was Presented with an Address and a Gold Watch and Chain—Warm Speeches of Appreciation Made—The Colonel's Reply

The citizens of Peterborough publically expressed their appreciation of Lt.-Col. H. C. Rogers' long service and his citizenship and also expressed their deep regret at his departure from the city. A large number of the colonel's friends and admirers, whichincluded the first people of the city, gathered at the council chamber last night and demonstrated to him that he was beloved by all. The audience included many of the leading ladies who heartily joined with the men in doing honor to one of the best citizens Peterborough ever had.

The proceedings included the reading of an address by his worship the mayor on behalf of the citizens, and the presentation of a handsome gold watch and chain. After this quite a number of citizens very feelingly added their testimony to the esteem in which Mr. Rogers was held.

The substance of the address was that Col. H. C. Rogers was an ideal citizen and always had been; a public servant: he was faithful and accurate; as a government official he was straightforward and honorable. He took a leading part in all things that pertained to the upbuilding of the city and the citizens. His ideals were always of the highest and his life was according to his ideals. That he will be greatly missed by all who ever knew him is certain and, that his departure is deeply regretted is admitted by everyone.

Dr. Halliday was elected to the chair. He said that the object of the meeting was to present Col. H. C. Rogers with a keepsake from the citizens of Peterborough. The subscriptions were made small in order to give all a chance to take part, and the committee was overwhelmed with applications from all classes. In the loss of Col. Rogers every citizen felt that they were losing not only a warm friend but the city was losing an honorable gentleman and good citizen who had been an example to all. To express the feelings he had, said the chairman, would be an impossibility in words, and he would not attempt to do so.

THE ADDRESS

His Worship Mayor Rush was called upon to read the address which was as follows;—

To Lieut.-Col. H. C. Rogers,

Dear Sir,—On behalf of a number of citizens of Peterborough I desire to express to you their sincere regret that you are about to remove from the city of which you have for so many years been a most highly and esteemed citizen. Your long service as postmaster extending over nearly 40 years, has led to an intimate and pleasant acquaintanceship between the people of the city and neighboring district and yourself, and by all your courtesy has been highly appreciated and the sturdy integrity with which you have performed the duties of that important office has been recognized and admired.

The services you have given to the militia of this district have been most useful as they have assisted materially to foster the true spirit of patriotic service and to build up the militia of the district in accordance with the best ideals. Your deep interest in all that pertains to the welfare of the city and county has also been shown by the work you have accomplished as the chief officer of the Peterborough Historical Society, and the Peterborough Horticultural Society and in many other ways you have proved yourself to be of that type of citizen who a public spirited and who assists to advance the interests and elevate the ideals of the community. You will leave in Peterborough very many warm friends and on behalf of the citizens. I ask you to accept the accompanying gift which is given as an evidence of the warm feelings and the high esteem by which you are held by them.

We most heartily wish you very many years of happiness after you have retired from the public service wherever you may make your future home.

Signed on behalf of the citizens,

H RUSH,
Mayor of Peterborough.

THE COLONEL'S REPLY

Col. Rogers said that this was a very embarrassing moment for him. He had lived here all his life and had seen many citizens born and pass away. He never knew he had so many friends here until he was about to leave. Since then he has been overwhelmed with expressions from his friends. He loved the people of Peterborough with whom he had for 30 happy years. His first task now was to say good-by to these friends. He hardly knew how to express his thanks for their kind appreciation of his services and he would to his last hours remember this event and cherish it. He was about to join his beloved wife who was very anxious to reside in Peterborough. When he resumed his seat he was warmly applauded.

A letter of regret to be present was read from Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.

The presentation of a handsome gold watch and chain was made by Mr. Peter Campbell and Mr. F. D. Kerr. The inside of the case was inscribed; "Presented to Lt.-Col. H. C. Rogers by the citizens of Peterborough."

Mr. D. W. Dumble made a very feeling address in which he paid a high tribute to Col. H. C. Rogers who had lived a life that would be a model for many to follow.

Rev. Canon Davidson congratulated the citizens upon making this presentation to Col. Rogers, who was a man worthy of any honor that could be bestowed upon him.

Sheriff Hall, one of the oldest friends of Col. Rogers, made a very feeling address. He said that he and the colonel were chums when boys and he had learned to love him. He hoped that the young men today would try to follow Col. Roger's life.

Mr. A. P. Ponsonby said that one of his earliest acquaintances in Peterborough was Col. Rogers. He has always noticed with pleasure that the colonel was a man of high ideas and had possibly done more to uphold the characters of the young men of the city. He said the people of this city could not help but miss Mr. Rogers.

Mr. Geo. W. Hudson as one of the oldest citizens now of Peterborough, he had had the pleasuree of the friendship of Col. Rogers. He had been here for 50 odd years and had always known him and said he did so with feelings of pain and regret. It was the lure of the West which was attracting the old families from Peterborough, and many had gone lately.

Mr. Rogers said his feelings were mingled with pleasure and regret. He had known the colonel for many years and spoke highly of that gentleman's kindness to all. He was one of the first citizens of Peterborough.

Mr. D. Hughes-Charles on behalf of the banking interests of the city, said that during his seven years in Peterborough he had always found him an honorable straightforward gentleman. Peterborough was losing one of its citizens who would be greatly missed.

Other speakers who spoke feelingly were Dr. M. A. Morrison, Mr. T. E. Hyndman, M.P.P., Mr. R. E. Wood, Mr. F. D. Kerr, Mayor Rush.

Col. Rogers said that this was the proudest moment of his life, and during the remainder of his days the watch and chain would reflect to him the many warm friends he had left behind.

The gathering adjourned with singing Auld Lang Syne, and three hearty cheers and a tiger for Col. Rogers.

Mr. J. B. McWilliams was Honored by the Orangemen of the County

One of the most pleasing features of yesterday afternoon's meeting of the Grand Orange Lodge in the County Council Chambers was the presentation of a beautiful Orange collar to Mr. J. B. McWilliams by the Orangemen of the County of West Peterborough. Mr. McWilliams has long been known as the father of Orangemen of Peterborough, and has been connected with the Orange Order practically all his life. The presentation was made by the grand treasurer and was accompanied by the following address;

J. B. McWilliams, Esq., P.C.M., Peterborough, Ont.

Dear Sir and Brother;—

On behalf of the members of the Loyal Orange Association in the County of West Peterborough, we deem the present an opportune time to recognize your long and faithful services to our Order, extending over a period of some forty-four years. We realize that it would be impossible to repay you adequately for the time and ability which you have so cheerfully given during this time in the interests of our association, and your devotion to its principles. Time is too short and space will not permit us to enumerate the many occasions on which your wise counsel, your manly personality and valuable services have been so freely given to promote and perpetuate the interests and objects of our institution. We feel, however, that to allow such a long period of uninterrupted and faithful services to pass without some slight recognition, would manifest the grossest ingratitude on our part. We ask you, therefore, to accept this collar as a token of our appreciation of your long services, and as a memento of the admiration and esteem in which you are held by the Orangemen of the County of West Peterborough.

Trusting that you may be long spared to meet with us at our gatherings in the future and lever us with the sound and matured advice which years of experience has rendered you so capable to give. We beg to remain,

Yours in the bonds of F.H.C.

W. H. G. ARMSTRONG,
County Master.
E. G. CLARKE,
County Secretary.

Peterborough, Ont., May 25, 1909.

MR. McWILLIAMS' REPLY.

In reply Mr. McWilliams referred to the fact that he had been an Orangeman all his life. In fact he was born an Orangeman and would die an Orangeman. His first recollection of the Order was the lodge meetings held in his father's house in Smith township about six miles from the city. His father and grandfather before him were great Orangemen also. During his 45 years of active membership he had held many offices of distinction and he thoroughly appreciated the kindness shown him by the brethren during all those years. He was particularly gratified to know that the Orange Order had and was still progressing very satisfactorily. When Mr. McWilliams resumed his seat he was loudly applauded.

Brown and Hoagland Fighting Hard for First Place in the Big Walk

There was great excitement at the Brock street rink last night during the six-day walking race. Brown is still a lap in the lead but he and Hoagland had a hard fight for the the position all evening. At one time Hoagland gained a half a lap and then slackened his speed a little and Brown took the opportunity and caught the champion and passed him for another half lap. It took Hoagland until nearly ten o'clock to catch up that ground again. During this scrap the leaders traveled a mile in 7 minutes which is over 8 1-2 miles an hour.

The two leaders have opened up a great gap between them and the rest of the bunch. Harrison is now two miles behind but still in fourth place, and Blachford is 12 miles and 3 laps in the rear.

Following is the standing

	Mile.	Laps
Brown	57	3
Hoagland	54
West	50
Harrison	49
Blake	48	4
Kennedy	46
Fenton	44	7
Graham	43	9
Hartley	43	2
Blachford	38	11

100 Families Driven Out by the Flood

Ottawa, May 26.—As a result of the freshet of the Gatineau river, 100 families at the village of Gatineau Point have been driven out, and fifty others forced to move to the upper floors.

There is practically no change in the situation around the city today, the height of the water remaining about stationary. Several ice houses have been inundated and their stores thawed away, which may mean a serious ice famine here this summer.

Hon. Phillipe Roy was Tired of Life, Attempted Suicide

Montreal, May 26—Hon. Phillipe Roy, ex-Speaker of the Quebec Legislature, who has been on trial in St. John's for making false returns to the government in connection with the defunct Banque St. Jean, of which he was president, attempted to commit suicide early this morning by shooting himself.

It was about daybreak when a shot was heard by servants in his house, just outside the town, where he has been living since his trial started. When his room was entered he was found in bed suffering great agony, with a bullet wound in his foot, and very much above. He said that life was not worth living, but that he was unable to find the courage to end it.

This morning he was arrested and appeared in court on the additional charge of attempting to commit suicide.

The Grand Black Chapter Banquet

The Orange Grand Black Chapter of British America held a delightful banquet at the Hotel National Tuesday night, About 75 were in attendance and the menu was an excellent one and reflected great credit on Mine Host Dennison.

Several splendid speeches, largely of a patriotic character, were made during the evening. British supremacy was dealt upon and the importance of the work of the Orange Order in the British Empire formed the burden of stirring addresses.

At the conclusion of the banquet the company repaired to the drawing room, where an interesting impromptu program was given.

60 Vessels of Fishing Fleet Go to Bottom in Storm--100 Lives Lost

Bilbao, Spain, May 26—A violent tempest has been raging on the Biscay coast.

Over sixty vessels of the fishing fleet have foundered.

It is estimated that not less than one hundred fishermen have been drowned.

Madrid, May 26—An uprising of the peasants similar to that which occurred a few years ago in Andalusia is now threatened in Galicia. The country people are reported to be burning the crops and the forests.

Opening of the Grand Lodge Session

The most important gathering of Orangemen ever held in Peterborough is the 60th annual convention of the Grand Orange Lodge of British North America, which opened at the court house yesterday afternoon. Distinguished Orangemen from Vancouver, B.C., to Newfoundland are in attendance, and about 150 delegates are present at the convention. Some very important matters will be dealt with today.

Grand Master Dr. T. S. Sproule, M.P., Markham, is presiding. He presented his annual address, and the secretary of the Grand Lodge, Wm. Lee, of Toronto, made his annual statement.

The Sabbath School Convention was Big Success and Helpful

The Sabbath School Committee of the Peterborough Presbytery, of which Mr. H. J. Keith, M.A., is convenor, was responsible for a very successful and helpful convention in the interests of the Sunday school work. This convention was held in St. Paul's church yesterday afternoon and evening and was well attended.

The first session was opened at 2.30 o'clock by Rev. Mr. Keith, who introduced Rev. A. Robertson, secretary of the General Assembly Sabbath School Committee, who spoke along the lines of the development of teacher training.

Rev. D. Currie, M.A., of Perth, spoke on the Adult Bible Class, and gave his personal experience in connection with the movement. He was first a doubter, but is now a devoted supporter of the movement.

Tea was served in the Sunday school room by the ladies of the three Presbyterian churches.

EVENING SESSION.

The evening program included an address by Rev. A. Robertson on "Some Ideals in Sunday School Work." He emphasized the value of the cradle roll department, and the home study department, and stated that the motto of the school should be "Everyone in every home in every congregation in the school."

Rev. Mr. Currie gave a very practical talk on the organization and complete success of the home department in the rural part of his congregation. The address was listened to with intense interest and many valuable suggestions were received.

Mr. Fisk gave an exhibition of the use of the lantern in Sunday school work. A number of slides were shown representing hymns, portions of scripture, etc., and scenes in the home and foreign mission work.

Rev. Mr. Keith expressed his thanks to those who had assisted in the meetings.

Today a convention will be held in Norwood and on Friday in Port Hope.

Found Out

A Trained Nurse Discovered It's Effect

No one is in better position to know the value of food and drink than a trained nurse.

Speaking of coffee, a nurse of Wilkesbarre, Pa., writes; "I used to drink strong coffee myself, and suffered greatly from headaches and indigestion.

"While on a visit to my brothers I had a good chance to try Postum, for they drank it altogether in place of ordinary coffee. After using Postum two weeks I found I was much benefitted and finally my headaches disappeared and also the indigestion.

"Naturally I have since used Postum among my patients, and have noticed a marked benefit where coffee has been left off and Postum used.

"I observe a curious fact about Postum used among mothers. It greatly helps the flow of milk in cases where coffee is inclined to dry it up, and where tea causes nervousness.

"I find trouble in getting servants to make Postum properly. They must always serve it before it has been boiled long enough. It should be boiled 15 or 20 minutes after boiling begins, and served with cream, then it is certainly a delicious beverage."

Asthma Cured

Mrs. Farndel, of Clementsport, N.S., suffered all her life from asthma, but was permanently cured by Catarrhozone after all other means failed.

Mrs. Farndel's recovery affords overwhelming proof of what Catarrhozone will do. Nothing except Catarrhozone was of the slightest benefit, but when given a fair trial it cured.

Now perhaps you need something for your cold, or bronchitis or Asthma? Why not try Catarrhozone? Thousands have been cured by inhaling it a few minutes now and again, and certainly it wouldn't do you any harm to profit by their experience.

Mrs. Farndel gives the following statement of her case for the benefit of others who are suffering from asthma, and hopes that many will follow her example and use Catarrhozone.

"I am now in my eightieth year, and cannot recall the time when I was free from the Asthma. I had always a choking cough, feverishness, spasms, difficulty in breathing, head ache and nausea. My druggist advised Catarrhozone one day, and I bought a large outfit. It gave relief in five minutes and helped me very much in one day.

"I inhaled Catarrhozone ten minutes every hour, and by the time two bottles were used, I was completely cured. I am as free now from Asthma as if I never had it. My perfect recovery is due entirely to Catarrhozone. I prize my Catarrhozone inhaler next to life itself."

(Signed) MRS. T. FARNDEL."

This is a proof positive that Catarrhozone is a sure and speedy cure for the worst kind of Asthma. It is guaranteed to give satisfactory results, and your money will be refunded if it fails. All you need is a trial of this grand preparation to be quite satisfied and convinced that it is the best. Your druggist recommends and sells it. Price $1.00, small size 50 cents. By mail from N. C. Football as Played in Labrador.

One must not imagine it is all work and no play with the Labrador Eskimos. Much to my surprise, I found that our good old game of football had taken hold in Ungava. The game is played with a ball of sealskin stuffed with grass. The goals are placed much the same as in our own game, and each player is armed with a short handled sling made of several thongs of seal hide bent in loops and attached to a wooden handle. The ball may either be tossed in the sling, kicked or, should opportunity offer, picked up and carried. Rough tactics are not barred. I have seen a man tossed in the air and pitched headforemost into a snow bank, while pushing, tripping and blocking are all freely indulged in. —Recreation.

The Clarinet.

The clarinet has the richest, sweetest voice of all the wood wind instruments, although its sound does not travel quite so far as that of the oboe. Whenever, as sometimes happens, there are two melodies to be played at once, the clarinet takes the lower of the two, while the violins play the upper and more important one. But in a military band, where there are no strings at all, the clarinets play the chief melody. The bass clarinet is not so smooth or so sweet as the higher ones. It has a rather choky sound, though softer than that of the bassoon.—St. Nicholas.

Reassuring Him.

"A little final advice," said a professor of elocution, addressing his pupils before the annual entertainment—"go well to the front of the stage, don't hesitate and don't be nervous!"

"But, I say, professor," remarked a very self satisfied member of the class, "suppose I forget part of my oration?"

"Oh, that doesn't matter," replied the professor. "On the contrary, the more of it you forget the better the audience will like it!"

Kept Him Busy.

"Did you do much sightseeing when you went abroad?"

"No," answered Mr. Camrox. "Mother and the girls did the sightseeing. I had to put in my time finding the places where they cash letters of credit."

Man Killed Twice.

An English paper is responsible for stating that a man "was overtaken by a passenger train and killed. He was injured in a similar way about three years ago."

Butterfly Pastry.

The favorite delicacy of the native Australian are begging cakes, which are made from a species of butterfly. Fires are lighted under the trees upon which the butterflies settle, and, suffocated by the smoke, they drop to earth. The bodies are pounded into pulp and made into cakes, which have a very pungent odor, and they have the undesirable effect of making the eater very ill for several days. But if the diet is persevered with the unpleasant symptoms pass away, and the invalids digest them well and become exceedingly fat.

A Mediaeval Town.

Rhodes, the city of the Colossus, still survives, a mediaeval city in all its defensive war gear of tower and curtain and keep.

POMP--AND RAGS.

Two Spectacles Which Were Recently Witnessed In London.

England's greatest annual pageant has come and gone again—the reopening of Parliament. The streets were more crowded than ever with sightseers eager to catch a glimpse of King Edward and Queen Alexandra in their gilded coach, of peers and peeresses in robes and jewels and of Cabinet Ministers in robes of office.

In half an hour after the royal party entered the House of Lords the ceremony, wonderful in its magnificence, was over and the gorgeous procession filed out again.

"'E do look well fed, 'e do," said one man mounted on another's shoulders as he caught a glimpse of the King's round, smiling face.

He did not say it to be funny or critical, but merely with pure envy in his tone, for unemployment is the ghost that is haunting England at present, and unemployment brings hunger and suffering in its train.

In another part of the city just a mile or so away from this gorgeous pageant a very different procession marched. Five thousand unemployed women and children filed through the streets, gaunt, ragged and dirty. They carried cheap banners, and one cart brought up the rear with the picture of "An Englishman's Home," dilapidated, half falling to pieces and without furniture.

They marched along in silence, many of them with babies in their arms, to the Horticultural Hall, where the organizers of the march had promised them milk and sandwiches. A drearier procession than these hungry women and children cannot be imagined.

It was a concerted effort on the part of those who are trying to alleviate the conditions of London's unemployed to show unthinking Londoners the horrors of it, and it was a dramatic effect to have it within a mile of the pageant of wealth and royalty.

Bishops as Marksmen.

The Bishop of Newcastle has just been telling a Benwell Cricket Club audience his experiences since he joined the Cambridge University Volunteers, fifty years ago, as a private. In two years he rose to be captain of one of the companies of that eminent battalion. He wanted to show how much a man learnt from joining any institution which had for its object athletic exercise. He had in his company a large number of non-commissioned officers of various kinds. He selected seven, and had, some of them would say, the effrontery to challenge all the other companies of the battalion.

They won their match in every case, and became the champion company of the battalion. Out of the seven who shot with him in those matches and also at Wimbledon there were four who came to be bishops—the Bishop of Chichester, who still called him captain; the Bishop of Nassau, who had passed away; the Bishop of Newfoundland, and the Bishop of Antigua.

Mr. Balfour's Sister.

Miss Balfour is very devoted to her brother, the ex-Premier, who has described her as "the best of comrades." He once told those present at a Manchester conversazione that she had been associated with him in all that concerned his political fortunes, and had been present at every political contest he had gone through. Miss Balfour has been described as very quiet in society, but is the possessor of a keen wit and the power of expressing it to favored persons. When in Bulawayo Miss Balfour witnessed a Matebele war-dance, which had been arranged for her by Dr. Jameson. Her favorite hobby is photography, but she shares her brother's love of music.

A Caricaturist's Pets.

Sir Frank Carruthers Gould, the famous political caricaturist of The Westminster Gazette, takes an enthusiastic interest in natural history, and when residing at Buckhurst Hill, in Epping Forest, he had some exceptional opportunities for its practical study. Many people will have noticed how often animals figure in Sir Frank's cartoons, and the hobby has been of real value to the art which he has professionally practised since giving up business on the Stock Exchange. Sir F. C. Gould has several "pets" in his house, including a jackdaw, on whose education he has bestowed much pains.

"Bobs."

Field Marshal Earl Roberts received his now familiar nickname of "Our Bobs" from his soldiers in India, by whom he was greatly beloved. When still a lieutenant, in 1858, he saw two Sepoys making off with a standard. He rode after them at full tilt, and overtook them as they were about to enter a village. These they turned round and one of them levelled his musket at the young officer; but, fortunately, the cap missed fire and the standard-bearer was cut down. On the same day Lieut. Roberts won his Victoria Cross.

First Native Indian Councillor.

Some attention has been excited by the appointment of Mr. Satyendra Prasanna Sinha as a member of the Viceroy's council. This is the first occasion that a native has been allowed to enter the council. Mr. Sinha was one of the four leaders of the Calcutta Bar, and was earning four times the $30,000 which he will receive as salary for his work on the council. Mr. Sinha is an entirely self-made man, winning many scholarships as a boy, not only in India, but also in England.

A Many-Sided Celebrity.

Lord Avebury, the genial peer so long known as Sir John Lubbock—to whom we owe the Bank Holidays—has been president of many learned societies and public institutions than almost any other man of his time. His interests embrace banking, early closing, ants and spiders, flowers and leaves, and the study of prehistoric times. His estate is a famous haunt for ferns, but he himself is too busy ever to follow the beauties over his own land.

If your Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are weak, try at least, a few doses only of Dr. Shoop's Restorative. In five or ten days only, the result will surprise you. A few cents will cover the cost. And here is why help comes so quickly. Dr. Shoop doesn't drug the Stomach, nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to the weak and failing nerves. Each organ has its own controlling nerve. When these nerves fail, the depending organ must of necessity falter. This plain, yet vital truth, clearly tells why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is so universally successful. Its success leading druggists everywhere to use it universal preference. A test will surely sell. Sold by all dealers.

The Last Straw.

"Every time I give a party," cried the discouraged hostess, "I vow I'll never give another, but I've decided this time. No more for me. It's the red cheeked man. I don't mind their taking up the rugs and dancing until after midnight and getting dispossess notices served on me the next morning, or leaving cigarette ashes all over the place for me to clean up, or scattering the Welsh rabbit from one end of the flat to the other, but when the red cheeked man sits on my piano keys when he gives an imitation of something or somebody and I have to pay $4 to have my piano tuned the next day that'll be about all."

Illustrious Barbers.

William Winstanley, to whom we are indebted for the "Lives of the English Poets," began his career by scraping faces. Farr, who introduced coffee into England; Dr. John Taylor, whose eloquent voice so often sounded in St. Paul's; Jean Baptiste Belzoni, giant and explorer; James Craggs, secretary of the south sea bubble; Mr. Herbert Ingram of the Illustrated London News; Allan Ramsay, the "Gentle Shepherd;" Lord Chancellor Sugden, Lord Tenterden, Jeremy Taylor and Rizet, the composer of the opera "Carmen," were born and bred and were trained in barbers' shops.—London Notes and Queries.

Preacher's Daughter Too.

A Cleveland minister has three daughters, the youngest one only five years old. The other day the child's nurse reproved her.

"If you talk to me that way again," spoke up the five-year-old, "I'll say something to you, and it'll have a L in it." Then, as an afterthought, "it won't be lily either."

Cosgrave's Beer

Wordsof praise have ever prevailed in advertising "copy." That a producer should wax enthusiastic over his own wares is but human. But it's the praise of the consumer that counts—and it is to a discriminating and critical public that "Cosgrave's" refers you.

It is safe to say that no product, of any kind, enjoys a more enviable reputation than does this same Cosgrave Beer of Toronto in markets where it is offered.

A BOWLDER BRIDGE.

Probably Placed in Position by an Ancient Cloudburst.

One of the most remarkable freaks of wind and erosion known in the west is to be found in one of the smaller side canyons of the Grand Canyon of the Colorado river in Arizona.

In a narrow gorge, carved through centuries of flow of water and wind driven sand down the little valley there lies a huge bowlder as big as the average house moving van seen on a city street. It is held up solely by friction on the sides of the gorge and is entirely free from any solid connection with the sides of the sandstone walls.

From the sandy bed of the little gorge to the rock is fully seventy-five feet. The Indians who once roamed over the Grand canyon country have of course, legends to account for the location of the big round rock, but as a matter of fact it is believed to have rolled off the slope of a rocky and precipitous mountain about five miles distant from the canyon and to have been picked up in the path of some cloudburst years ago and rolled to its present resting place.

The stone hangs only by a small projection on each side, but it is so solid that it forms a convenient foot bridge across the gorge over which the pedestrian may take his way.

WATERPROOF FABRICS.

There Are Several Methods by Which They Are Treated.

Fabrics are waterproofed by impregnating them with metallic salts, by coating them with oil, grease and wax, by coating them with india rubber or by treating them with ammoniacal solutions of copper. The first process is applied to sailcloth. The canvas is impregnated with alum or calcium acetate and then immersed in a fixing bath containing soap, which forms insoluble lime or alumina soap in the cloth.

The second process is used for raincoats, imitation leather, etc. The fabric passes between hot rollers and then over a cylinder of wax, etc.

In the third process a solution of india rubber in carbon disulphide, chloroform or other solvent is applied. This process is used for mackintoshes and bathing caps and is applied to thread.

In the fourth process, employed in the manufacture of bookbindings and Willesden canvas, cotton cloth is run through a solution of oxide of copper in ammonia, which dissolves the superficial layer and on evaporation leaves it in the form of a uniform coating of cellulose. The process is completed by passing the cloth between rollers. There are still other processes, but these are the most important.—Scientific American.

His Kindly Act.

In a Sunday school class recently the teacher sought to impress upon the small boys the virtue of kindly and helpful deeds.

"Now," said she, "let every boy here try to do some kindness during the week and next Sunday report what he did."

Next Sunday arrived, and the teacher proceeded to listen to stories of good deeds done. Finally she reached the smallest boy in the class. His age is nine.

"Well, Willie," she said, "have you done any kindness for any one, anything really helpful, during the week?"

"Yes'm."

"What was it?"

"I let another kid copy me 'rithmetic lesson off me book in school."

A Billion.

Great Britain clings to its own numerical system and regards a billion as a million times a million. But America differs, a billion in the United States being only a thousand millions. This is perhaps the only instance in which a thing is bigger in the old country than in the new. One has to go only a little way from England—to Calais—to find the billion lessened, for France dignifies a thousand millions with the name of billion. They are wanting a word in France in this connection, however, inasmuch as there is already a word, milliard, to designate this number.

Caterpillars.

The green and yellow tints so frequently to be found in caterpillars are stated to be due to coloring matter derived from their food and passed through the blood of the spinners. By impregnating leaves with artificial colors the experimenters caused some species of caterpillars to produce silk of bright orange yellow and fine rose hues. By the aid of the spectroscope the presence and nature of colored pigments in the blood of the little creatures were established.—London Tatler.

A Postscript.

Willie, aged five, had delivered a message from his mother to a lady, but did not seem in a hurry to go. Being asked if there was anything else his mother had bidden him say, he replied, "No, ma'am; only she said I wasn't to ask you for any cake, but if you gave me any I was to take it and thank you." He got the cake.

Information.

"Where do all you Americans live?" inquired the European.

"About 4,000,000 of us live in New York," answered the caustic American, "and the rest of us live in caves."

Always there is a black spot in our sunshine. It is the shadow of ourselves.—Carlyle.

A LETTER PRESS.

It Was a Great Bargain, but He Knew It Too Late.

One of the smokers had been exhibiting a diamond pin which he had purchased of a hard up traveler and made at least a hundred dollars on when the gray haired man heaved a sigh and remarked:

"As for me, I never had but one real bargain offered me, and I was fool enough not to take that."

"Something in the way of jewelry?" was asked.

"No; it was a letter press."

"But I don't see how much of a bargain could be offered in that."

"No? Well, I will tell you. I thought I was in love and was writing the girl two letters a day. Six months later, when I knew that I wasn't in love with her, I busted up things, and she sued me for breach of promise."

"But you had been careful in your letters not to pledge yourself."

"I told my lawyer that she couldn't exhibit one single loving sentence in any of my letters—that is, any having connection with matrimony."

"Yes."

"But when the suit came to trial she exhibited over forty letters in which I said that I should die if she turned me down, and the jury awarded her $2,500 for her broken heart. Yes, sir, and I could have bought that letter press for $7 and had copies of my letters as fast as written and knew what I was up against at the end. Great bargain, gents—great bargain, and yet I turned it down."

THEATRICAL STARS.

Some Famous Ones That Started on the Variety Stage.

Edwin Booth was in his younger days a member of a minstrel company and, unless I am mistaken, appeared in some of the variety shows of that period. He lived to become one of the most noble and dignified figures of his day as well as one of the most distinguished actors that the English speaking stage has ever known. Joseph Jefferson was also a minstrel in the early part of his career, and prior to that he and his sister, both mere children, had been wont to perform on Boston Common and pass the hat among the bystanders.

Lotta was known in the mining camps of California and in the early variety theaters of San Francisco long before she came east in the sixties to win money and fame—"a dramatic cocktail," John Brougham called her—in the legitimate houses of Broadway. William H. Crane used to play the tambourine in a wandering minstrel company. Nat Goodwin, Lillian Russell and May Irwin came to the front in the early eighties at Tony Pastor's theater. Mr. Goodwin gave imitations of popular actors and lived to become an extremely popular actor himself. Miss Irwin's remarkable humorous gifts were shown in the condensed versions of comic operas that brought Mr. Pastor's entertainments to a close, and it was in one of these that Miss Russell leaped into fame in a single night.—James L. Ford in McClure's Magazine.

Temiskaming's Richest Vein Crosses Pan-Silver Property

Streak of Solid Silver a Foot thick--the Most Wonderfull Strike Made in Cobalt's Biggest Dividend Payer Continues on through Cartwright's New Mine

A vein of solid silver, a foot thick, was the sensational strike recently made in the Temiskaming mine, which within a year has developed into the biggest dividend payer in the marvelously rich Cobalt district.

The Temiskaming mine immediately adjoins Pan-Silver, B.C., Cartwright's new mine, on the northeast.

Almost coincident with this record-breaking Temiskaming strike, the continuation of the same wonderful vein was uncovered in the Columbia Cobalt, the next mine to the Pan-Silver on the southwest.

It has been positively known for months that the richest and biggest veins in the Temiskaming continue right on into the Pan-Silver, and in the light of these two recent discoveries, Mr. Cartwright declares there is every reason to believe that the drills on Pan-Silver will strike the foot-thick solid silver silver vein.

Mr. Cartwright has gone into the Pan-Silver in the same spirit in which he took up the Temiskaming when it was the most discredited working in the entire Cobalt district.

Mr. Cartwright believed in Temiskaming and the developments of three years have gloriously justified his belief.

He believes in Pan-Silver with the same faith and declares there is not the shadow of a doubt that Pan-Silver will be a better and bigger producer than its older neighbor, Temiskaming.

B. E. Cartwright knows what he is talking about. He has staked his own fortune and the fortunes of his associates on Pan-Silver.

"Within six months," he says, "we will be shipping ore from Pan-Silver."

The drills on Pan-Silver are going down steadily and surely—day and night shifts working—to the 200 foot level—the level at which rich pay ore was struck in Temiskaming—ore running $1,500 to the ton.

Even now, at a depth of 100 feet, they have struck calcite veins averaging eight inches in thickness.

Stock in the Pan-Silver Mining Company, Ltd. (par $1.00) is selling for 60c.

It will go to par when the 200 foot development reveals the bonanza values.

That is what B. E. Cartwright says—and you can depend on it that B. E. Cartwright knows.

Pan-Silver will be another Temiskaming—but greater and better and richer than the best Temiskaming has ever been.

A limited number of Pan-Silver shares are offered at 60c (par $1.00) in lots of 100 shares and upward.

Use the coupon or make out an order in similar form and mail it today to Howe, Norris & Co., 50 Broadway, New York, financial agents in the United States for the Pan-Silver Mining Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont. Booklets, maps and detailed information mailed on request.

Has your strength given out?

Do you feel languid and tired each morning?

Are you pale, somewhat nervous, finding it hard to do your usual work?

Thousands feel just the same,—feel the enervating influence of spring, whether that brings manifest symptoms of disease or weakness. You should do like Mrs. Flannigan of Back Junction—here is her experience: "I was never again suffer the torture of dizziness spring time—never will I have headaches such sleepless nights, such pale cheeks and lack of appetite. I lost through it all several times, but now I know the medicine that cures. I urge every person, young and old, to try the invigorating effect of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. When I was so played out, listless,—Dr. Hamilton's Pills gave me appetite—I relished my meals and grew strong. Rosy color came to my cheeks, every day I felt brighter and better. And my old strength has been restored and the great tonic, blood purifying powers of Dr. Hamilton's Pills did it all."

Father McFadden, when Miss Anna Kylie, eldest daughter of Mr. John Kylie, Hunter street, became the bride of Mr. Walter E. Killingbeck, eldest son of Mr. Jno. Killingbeck, Wescott street. The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Beatrice Crowley, while the groom was supported by Mr. John J. Kylie, brother of the bride. The bride who was one of Peterborough's most popular young ladies, was the recipient of many useful gifts. After the ceremony the happy young couple left on the 4.38 C.P.R. train for Toronto, Hamilton and Niagara. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Killingbeck will reside on Stewart street.

Heintzman & Co. Pianos in Quebec

Hon. J. P. Caron and Other Distinguished Citizens among the Purchasers.

The representatives of the old firm of Heintzman & Co., Limited, whose handsome warerooms are at 115-117 King street west, Toronto, report five notable sales in Quebec within the period of four days. These include two of their beautiful Baby Grand pianos sold to the Ursulines Convent of that city, probably the largest institution of its kind in Canada. Dr. Reid, a well-known physician of the Citadel, was the purchaser of another Grand Piano. Hon. J. E. Caron, Minister of Colonization, placed his order for an upright in Corinthian style, and the Hon. Judge Tessier, of Rimouski, made as his choice an Upright of the Duchess of York style.

Many sales of this high-grade Canadian-made piano are constantly being closed, not alone in the east, but equally so in the new territories of the West and the cities of the Pacific Coast.

Ald. Morgan Supports Purity Ware By-Law

Ald. Harry Morgan is an enthusiastic supporter of the Purity Ware bylaw. He has conducted a personal investigation as have most of the aldermen, and he has reached the same conclusion, viz., that it is one of the best propositions which was ever placed before the ratepayers and one which the city cannot afford to let go by. Ald. Morgan is working for the bylaw and is putting in a good word for it every opportunity he gets. He says the future of Peterborough rests with its manufacturing interests. These must go forward or the city will go backward, and in these days of keen competition for factories among the cities and towns of Ontario, the people must make concessions to a new concern which, under other circumstances would not be made in the case of the Purity Ware Limited, however, he does not see that the city is taking any chance which would not be taken by any private citizen who had the means to enter into the transaction. There is a certain amount of risk in every business deal. Nothing is certain, except death and taxes.

Looking at the bylaw from a citizen's standpoint Ald. Morgan could see nothing in it but what could be commended. The city is getting a great deal more than is being given in return, and the chance to loose is extremely small. He says that he is going to vote for the bylaw and the will ask all his friends to do so.

Orangemen Formally Welcomed by the Mayor

The Orange Lodge of British America resumed its session at nine o'clock yesterday morning, with the Grand Master, Dr. T. S. Sproule, in the chair. The delegates were formally welcomed by the city yesterday morning, his worship Mayor Hunt and Ald. J. J. Turner, jr., extending addresses to them.

MAYOR'S ADDRESS.

Mayor Hunt in welcoming the Orangemen, spoke as follows:

To the Most Worshipful the Grand Master, Officers and Members of the Grand Orange Lodge of British America:—

Gentlemen,—On behalf of the people of Peterborough, we wish to give you a hearty welcome to this city on this occasion of your eighteenth annual meeting. It always gives us pleasure to welcome visitors, whatever may be the occasion of their coming, and it is an especial pleasure to receive the representatives of a large and influential association and who are gathered from all parts of our great Dominion and Newfoundland. There was a time, perhaps, when there was a certain amount of jealousy or rivalry that was not so friendly as it should have been between the different provinces, but that, happily, has passed away, and today, whether our home is in the Provinces washed by the Atlantic or laved by the Pacific, or on the great lakes or on the mighty St. Lawrence or in those western prairie Provinces of great promise, we are all Canadians, loyal to our country and to each other, happy that our lot has been cast in this forward part of the world, and proud to be British subjects and part of the great British Empire. Your jurisdiction goes beyond the boundaries of the Dominion, and includes the sister colony of Newfoundland, and that inland we regard with the spirit of brotherhood, wishing it prosperity as a sister colony, so long as it wishes to occupy that position and ready to open our arms to it whenever it comes to the conclusion that union with the Dominion is to be preferred to the state of independent nationhood. We in this section of Ontario are acquainted with your Order, and have residing here several who have occupied honorable positions in it, and we recognize among them many of our best citizens. We know that, along with upholding those principles which it is your special aim to protect, you also carry on the benevolent work of providing for the helpless, and that in the labors which will engage your attention your attention your time will be pretty fully occupied, but we hope you will be able to have a look over our city while you are here. We think that you will be well repaid if you will do so. Our manufacturing industries are numerous, but many of them are of such importance that you should not fail to visit them, and their combined importance is shown by the last established by the last government report, that the value of the manufactured products per head of population is larger in Peterborough than in any other city in Canada. Our public buildings, we also think, are worthy of your attention, including the Armories, which were opened last Monday, the Normal School, the Collegiate Institute, the hospitals, churches, public schools, and other public buildings, as well as many private residences, and our parks, of which we have several, are just putting on their summer garb in time to welcome you. The lift lock on the Trent waterway—a waterway of which the greater part is completed, and which will open navigation through the heart of Ontario from Lake Ontario to the Georgian Bay—you should not on any account miss seeing, and I am pleased to know that many of you have had an opportunity of visiting it, for there is not another like it on the continent, the highest in the world.

We hope your stay in Peterborough will be a most pleasant one, so that you will many years have an only favorable recollections of your visit and not a tinge of regret that you chose Peterborough for your annual meeting this year.

Ald. Turner also addressed a few remarks, welcoming the Orangemen to the city.

District Master W. H. G. Armstrong and Mr. J. B. McWilliams made speeches of welcome, to which suitable replies were made by Dr. Sproule and Lieut.-Col. A. T. Belcher, ex-mayor of South Hampton.

Steamer Water Lily Made New Record Last Saturday

The steamer Water Lily, in command of Capt. Frewer, and one of the Ottawa Navigation Co's fleet, has started the season of 1909, with a record which will be hard to beat. This staunch little craft left Burleigh Falls on Saturday last, and made the trip to Peterborough in three hours and a half. From Lakefield to the city, usually a very tedious run, was made in one hour and ten minutes or an hour faster than the last previous trip. Capt. Frewer is to be congratulated upon his record and if he can make that time all summer the traveling public will greatly appreciate it and the traffic will be largely increased.

Labor Government Has Been Overturned

Melbourne, May 27.—In the Commonwealth House of Representatives today the government was defeated on a motion for adjournment. The vote was 30 to 26.

The downfall of the Labor Government of Australia has been accomplished by a fusion of the hitherto divided sections of the Opposition, led by ex-Premier Deakin, and has been anticipated for some time. The standing in the House at the general election of 1906 was 19 Conservatives, 14 anti-Labor members, who nevertheless supported Mr. Deakin's fiscal policy, 26 Labor members and 16 Liberals following Mr. G. H. Reid.

Hon. Andrew Fisher has been Prime Minister and Treasurer of the Labor Government, succeeding Mr. Watson as leader of the party. The other members of the defeated ministry are; Hon. F. G. Tudor, Minister of Trade and Customs; Hon. E. L. Batchelor, Minister of External Affairs; Hon. H. Mahon, Home Affairs; Hon. W. M. Hughes, Attorney-General; Hon. Josiah Thomas, Postmaster-General; Hon. G. F. Pearce, Defence; Hon. G. McGregor, President of Council; Hon. James Hutchinson, Hon. Minister and Secretary to the Cabinet. Mr. Deakin will presumably be called upon now to form a Ministry.

Brown Still Leads Hoagland by One Lap—Harrison in Fourth Place

The biggest crowd of the week was at Brock street rink last night to see the fourth night of the big International Walking Match. The rink was at least half filled and greater interest is being taken in the race. The last work of Brown and Hoagland on Wednesday night was no doubt the cause of the big crowd last night.

There were no sensations to speak of and the pedestrians fell away in their speed. Brown only covered 16 miles and 10 laps which is about one mile less than the night before. The total distance for the 10 hours by Brown is 67 miles 11 laps with Hoagland still a lap behind, and Blatchford is 16 miles and 10 laps behind, having lost 4 miles and 7 laps last night.

The only really fast work was about ten o'clock when Brown let out for about three-quarters of a lap followed by Hoagland. Some of the second raters did little stunts by themselves which furnished a little fun for the spectators, otherwise the walk was quite tame.

In the early part of the evening Blake, the colored ped, tried to keep up with the leaders and did a stunt every little while which was so near running that the referee had to call him down. Then Blake got sulky and did not try to walk He lost as a result 12 laps and is now 2 miles and 7 laps behind. Blake has been in the game long enough to know what walking is and he can consider himself lucky that he was not disqualified.

West lost a lap to Harrison by being off the track. He went off a second time and lost three-quarters of a lap but gained it again. West is a good clean little walker. He only weighs about 112 pounds, but he has speed.

Hoagland was somewhat under the weather and that no doubt accounts for the slow work last night. Tonight's grind should be faster and no doubt a larger crowd will be present.

The standing last night was as follows:

	Miles.	Laps.
Brown	67	11
Hoagland	67	10
West	66	9
Harrison	65	12
Blake	64	4
Spenceley	60	3
Fenton	59	3
Graham	58	7
Hartly	56	3
Blatchford	51	1

England is Not A Dying Nation, English Press Despatches Colored

Race is Not Deteriorating and Cities are Not Packed with a Degraded Population—Journals Make It the Laughing Stock of Every Country—Britain is Still Mighty

Toronto, May 27.—"England is not a decadent nor a dying nation."

That was one of the many things that Sir Robert Perks, member of the British House of Commons, said, and said with emphasis, to a gathering of very representative business and professional men at the Empire Club's luncheon at McConkey's at noon today.

Sir Robert is the man who has become known in connection with the proposed Georgian Bay canal. He is a great Methodist and an excellent example of a certain well-known type of Englishmen; the man who believes first, last, and all the time in the strength of his country, who is among the last to be infected with a "boare," and who dislikes anything resembling "fuss."

Sir Robert's address today was evidently calculated to inform Canadians on the state of affairs in England as seen by the Liberals of that country, and to counteract the effect of press despatches from the motherland sent out by a press that was, he inferred, utterly controlled by the present feverish war scare party, and utterly abandoned to the promulgation of its beliefs and policies throughout the whole Empire.

STATEMENTS OF STATISTICIAN.

"England is not a decadent nor a dying nation," repeated Sir Robert. "If you robe up a financial journal you will find the statements of statisticians—which, by the way, are the easiest thing in the world, to use as a basis for weak argument—which prove that the country is living upon its capital, and gradually getting poorer and poorer.

"Take up a medical journal, or one of those neurotic humanitarian publications that we sometimes see, and you will be informed that the race is deteriorating; that we are absolutely packed with a degraded population; and, in short, that the days of England's physical force are over.

"Take up another paper and it says that Socialism is triumphant; another, and its cry is that the people no longer rule, but that all power lies in the hand of the administrators. A hundred voices say that the country is going down hill. Some of high society say it and the drama occasionally says it, and you have seen a level-headed, sensible, resolute Englishman portrayed in every country in the world as a demented imbecile—our land is made the laughing stock of every country.

THE FINE REBUILT CITIES.

"Gentlemen, go to England today. You will find that London has been practically rebuilt in the last generation. In the other cities you will find miles upon miles of well-kept streets, whereas ere, the homes of thousands of healthy, happy workingmen. Statisticians point to the comparatively small savings of our working people. They forget the investment that these same people have made in home, in co-operative and in friendly societies. They forget also that great joint-stock banks now welcome business from those people that they would have paid no attention to twenty years ago.

"Sir, the fathers of our people, the higher standard of living, the millions of children that are now educated, but that would have wandered the streets thirty years ago, are something that these hurried judges forget. They forget the increase in our home and foreign trade, and they forget that the income from the penny in the pound income tax has doubled in the last thirty years, and that that means twice the assessable income to the people.

"If, I venture to say, we as a nation or as an Empire, are faced with military problems such as our fathers faced a few hundreds of years ago, when the country was poor and sparsely inhabited. I repeat, I venture to say that you would find the same fighting force, the same stamina, the same resolution and fighting blood that was there then.

WHERE THE PRESS STANDS.

"The Liberal party in England today has practically no mouthpiece. The Times is not a government supporter. It has changed proprietors. The other influential papers, headed possibly by the Daily Mail, are either Conservative or Unionist. Here in Canada, in the United States, in Australia, and in South Africa, you never have the case of British Liberalism presented fairly in the extracts from the British press. And I may go further and say that the press agencies are almost entirely controlled by one political section in the Old Land.

"No political party has ever striven more to encourage and allow to the dominions over the seas the privilege of self-government.

GERMANY'S POSITION.

Referring to Germany, the speaker said that it was a powerful land, heavily armed, overmilitarized, and given to much beer drinking. He enacted a great Germanic commotion on saying that the nation could be powerful but that had within its borders the facilities for manufacture, and pointed out from this that free trade was not in the interests of the nation. As for preference, he felt that each part of the Empire should impose such tariffs as would reasonably protect its industries.

"As for our preference to you," he said, "let me point out that in England there are many countries whose enterprises we are not allowed to invest in, and it is due in no small measure to this that so much money is available in England for Canadian enterprises."

At one point Sir Robert asked if those present at the luncheon would back him up if he returned to England with the message that Canada wanted free trade. There were general cries of "No! No!" and one man added, "If you do you'll have to be your own guarantor."

Mistook His Wife for a Burglar and Shot Her

Indianapolis, Ind., May 27.—Mistaking her for a burglar, George W. Thompson shot and killed his wife. Thompson went to bed early, leaving his wife down stairs sewing. Later she entered the room, carrying a lighted match. Thompson said he awoke, thought the light was from a burglar's lantern, took a revolver from under his pillow, and fired twice at the form which followed the light. He is held at the police station for fear he will harm himself.

Father Loses Two Sons by Drowning Near Kingston

Kingston, May 27.—The twelve-year-old son of Geo. Robbins, Gananoque, was drowned near Ivy Lea, on the River St. Lawrence yesterday. He is a brother of Sidnie Robbins with his pals and another, were drowned some weeks ago.

The boy had left home in the afternoon for school and the news of his drowning came with much suddenness to his father.

The body has been recovered.

Private Moir Made a Desperate Attempt to Escape

Hamilton, May 27.—Private Moir, the soldier in the Royal Canadian regiment, who shot and killed Sergt. Lloyd at Wellesley barracks, London, about a year ago and was tried for murder and adjudged insane, was brought to the city some time ago and incarcerated in the asylum. He has not been a model patient since his arrival here, and has made two attempts to escape. A few nights ago he tore his bed sheets to ribbons and tried to tie up his guard in an endeavor to make his escape. He had almost succeeded in overpowering the guard when assistance was rendered by a couple of warders, who happened to be passing the cell when the struggle was going on and Moir was pinioned and the guard set free.

Some weeks ago he tried to get out in about the same manner, but since then had been quiet.

At the trial of Moir it was proven that he was suffering from epilepsy and that he became insane at times and did not know what he was doing. He was sentenced to spend the remainder of his life inside the walls of the local asylum. His bad spells are fortunately of rare occurrence, but the guards have been warned to keep close watch on him.

Dr. English, superintendent of the asylum, said yesterday that he did not wish to discuss the matter at all.

He did not escape and the less you say about it the better," was all he would say in answer to a Spectator reporter's questions. No dangerous inmates have ever managed to gain their freedom from the local institution, but the trustees once in a while wander away.

Moir is a man of great strength, and is hard to handle at times.

Aged Man Must Pay for Love-Making

Belleville, Ont., May 27.—Although only lasting one hour, Justice Britton in the non-jury sittings here disposed of an interesting breach of promise case. Plaintiff was Mrs. Sophia Lawrence, of Sulphide village, in Sungerford township. She is 55 years of age, a widow with two children. Defendant was Thomas Hansford, who claims he is 75 years of age, but looks younger. He is a retired policeman from Sherbrooke, Que., but recently living with his son, Frank Hansford, manager of the Sulphide Mine. The plaintiff claimed that a marriage contract was made, but that little courting was done, as Hansford wanted the wedding to occur soon. She claimed the defendant backed out of the bargain owing to the influence of his daughters at Sherbrooke, who opposed the marriage. This brought on the suit.

As the defendant did not appear nor any counsel for him, Justice Britton awarded Mrs. Lawrence $300 damages.

Calgary Man Mobbed in a Mormon Town

Winnipeg, May 27.—The following despatch has been received from Lethbridge; "A mob of thirty or forty Mormons yesterday mobbed, threatened to hang, and severely handled two men and a woman at Magrath, a Mormon settlement about 22 miles southeast of here. The matter arose from the marriage a year or more ago of a Mormon girl to a "Gentile," as the Mormons call all non-members of their Church.

RETURNED FOR VISIT.

"H. Barclay and his wife, the couple concerned, after their marriage lived in Calgary. Mrs. Barclay about five months ago returned to her mother's home at Magrath and intended to return to her own home home in the course of a week or two. Once back in Magrath, however, her parents and the Church determined to keep her and in spite of her husband's entreaties she refused to return to him. Barclay, accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Balderson, of this city, and a friend named Harrison, went to Magrath to urge his wife once again to come back to him. She refused. He finally declared that if she would not come back he would have his child, which he did. A mob got together and Barclay was shackled by a man who called himself 'sheriff.' He, his sister, and Harrison were hauled before a Mormon magistrate who gave orders that the child was to be returned to its mother and that the three "Gentiles" leave the place on the first train. The three were taken, handcuffed, to the depot by the sheriff who meanwhile had sworn in deputy "sheriffs." They had been in the waiting room some time when the mob appeared.

"'We will hang you,' called out some of the mob. 'Get a rope.' The mob rushed the three "Gentiles," knocked them down, kicked and beat them, 'mauled' them with eggs and threw Harrison through a window. The top of one of his fingers was severed."

Shot While Kneeling in Prayer at Church

Kennett, Mo., May 28 — While kneeling in prayer at church services in Europe schoolhouse last night, Henry Culp was shot and killed by his brother-in-law, Charles Champ, 18 years old. Champ fired three bullets into Culp's body and fled. Citizens headed by the sheriff are searching for him.

Culp killed Harry Champ, brother of the slayer, last August, after having been driven from home by the Champ brothers. He was acquitted, the jury decidingthat his act was justifiable.

Hundred of perfect recoveries from are reported as a result of the use of Catarrhosone.

The result of actual experience proves that ninety cases in every hundred can be cured, and stay cured, of impaired hearing by the regular use of Catarrhosone.

Among the many prominent business men whose hearing has been restored by Catarrhosone, might be mentioned Mr. Geo. W. Warner of 239 Wellesley street, Toronto, and Mr. William Jones, contractor, of Halifax, N.S. Both these gentlemen have testified to the merits of Catarrhosone as a valuable cure for deafness, and their statements prove beyond all question that Catarrhosone cures impaired hearing and even total deafness.

The efficiency of Catarrhosone is placed beyond dispute by its long list of successful cures, and on the highest authority we can recommend it to our readers. It is a very simple remedy to use, and never causes confusion or gets out of order.

Catarrhosone Inhaler is beautifully polished and made of hard rubber. It is suitable to carry in the vest pocket, and can be used in the church, theater, street car, at any time, in any place. Starving in St Helena.

What is to be the fate of St. Helena? is the question asked by the Hon. H. W. Solomon, of the executive council of the island, who has issued a plea on behalf of the distressed inhabitants.

"It is over two years since the garrison was removed," says Mr. Solomon in a letter to A. G. Wise, secretary of the St. Helena committee, "and although we appreciate the action of the Colonial Office in giving a subsidy to start a hemp mill, as well as a grant for teaching the girls lace making, yet much more remains to be done. At the request of former governors the farmers improved the breed of their live stock, being assured that they would always be required for military purposes. The result is that the farmers are to-day left with some 2,000 cattle on their hands which are practically useless, as on account of the great poverty, the people have no money to purchase meat. These cattle also are a great impediment to the growing of hemp, occupying pasture lands which would otherwise be used for hemp cultivation. Money is also needed for the upkeep of the roads.

"Large numbers of children are unprovided for. There is, besides, the question of the children who are growing up, and for whom employment must be found when they leave school."

Financial assistance is needed from the authorities at home if this island, which has played such a conspicuous part in British history, is to be saved from decay.

The English Football.

Few people have any idea of the amount of labor expended in the making of a football. The leather used is "split" cowhide, ordinary cowhide being too thick for the regulation weight. Previous to splitting, the leather has been soaking in the tan pits for ten or twelve months. The "split" hide is well stretched with rubber and then passed to the cutter, who cuts out the various sections which, sewed together, make a perfectly round ball. The bladder is made of Para rubber. This is inflated by machinery, and the ball is then laced up. Finally it passes through the hands of the shaper, who pats down any inequalities in the seams or contour of the ball.

A Peer For Sir William.

Sir William Ramsay, who has been describing some remarkable experiments which he has made in connection with the transmutation of metals, tells an amusing story to illustrate his contention that the habit of reasoning is developed in male children at a remarkably early age. While visiting a friend he overheard a discussion between the little son and daughter of his host. "I wonder what we're here in the world for?" asked the little boy. His companion, thinking of a recent lesson, answered gently, "We are put here to help others, of course." "Um'" exclaimed the little boy, after a moment's thought; "then what are the others here for?"

A Wonderful Career.

Amongst the artists engaged for the grand opera season at Covent Garden, London, is the well-known tenor, Mr. John McCormack. It is an extraordinary fact that Mr. McCormack, who is only twenty-four years of age, had no idea of taking up music as a profession until six years ago, when he was induced to enter the National Irish Festival, where he won the gold medal. He is a tenor for whom a Sims Reeves' reputation is prophesied, and since he appeared at Covent Garden last year has received many tempting offers of engagements from abroad.

Playing With Prisoners.

In the courtyard leading to Dublin Bridewell the other day a batch of street hawkers, who were being escorted to prison suddenly presented an empty hamper and treated their escort to a feedbasket of sweetstuffs, the policeman taking it in good part and even [illegible] their presence of mind [illegible]

HOTEL CELLS.

The Difference Between Them and Those of the Jails.

The chief difference between the average hotel cell and the average prison cell, viewed from the standpoint of social psychology, is that one is locked on the inside to keep outsiders out, while the other is locked on the outside to keep insiders in. The occupant of the hotel cell is afraid that something will be done to him or that something will be taken from him by some one who ought to be in a prison cell. That is the theory of it.

"Lock your door and leave your valuables at the office," cautions the obliging innkeeper. "If you had valuables you wouldn't be here," observes the witty prison keeper. That is to say, the question of valuables seems to enter largely into the matter.

It would be great to have a civilization which considered valuable only those things which could not be stolen, such as mental and moral equipment, skill and good fellowship. Then we could be a little more sociable. We could talk to each other without buttoning our coats or feeling for our diamond studs every few minutes. Then the man who willingly secluded himself in a stuffy hotel cell could be locked in and made to stay there on the ground that something terrible was the matter with him.

THEATRICAL COSTUMES.

The Man Who Supplies Them Must Be Artistic and Well Read.

An extensive library is an absolute necessity to the theatrical costumer. At the head of every theatrical costuming establishment there is a man of education, experience and genuine artistic ability whose business it is to know what is needed and how to get it. If "The Prince of India," "Ben-Hur," "[illegible]" is to be produced [illegible] lines on which the [illegible] done, and those lines must be absolutely [illegible]. The differences of [illegible] worn by [illegible] and her friends. The chief designer must know it and act on his knowledge. At the time Custer fought his last fight the United States army—cavalry and infantry—was outfitted in a peculiar manner that has long since passed away. If the play deals with American army life of that period the costumes must show it, for it would never do to have the critics "roast" the piece because the producers were ignorant of the thing produced. The man at the head of the costuming department must either be conversant with all countries and all periods of history or he must know how to become so with decided alacrity; hence the costumer's library.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

What Thieves Won't Steal.

The last thing the woman did before leaving the flat was to put four rings in the clock on the mantel. "So thieves won't get them," she said.

"I should think that would be simply inviting thieves to run away with them," said her friend. "That is a handsome clock, and thieves like handsome clocks."

"They do," said the woman, "but they never will steal this clock. It ticks too loud. No wise thief will run away with a clock that goes like a thrashing machine. It isn't the alarm about his person that he is afraid of, for he can stop the clock, but the occupants of the flat are likely to return before he gets safely away, and if a loud ticking clock is gone they will miss it the minute they step inside the door and maybe give him a hot chase for his plunder."

Taken Literally.

Wishing some bushes removed from his garden, a gentleman instructed his gardener to pull them up by the roots. Some time afterward he went into the garden and found the gardener digging trenches round the bushes.

"Why, George," he said, "you must not dig round those small bushes in that way. I am sure you are strong enough to pull them up by the roots."

"Oh, yes, sir," replied the gardener; "I'm strong enough, but I must dig a little before I can get hold of the roots. If you'd told me to pull them up by the branches I could, of course, easily have removed them without digging."—London Strand Magazine.

A "Lysander" (query), on [illegible] what day this is?

"Sure!—Our anniversary, Margaret, dear!(pretending to have remembered it all the time)."

"No such thing" (frigidly). "It's the day you promised to nail the leg on that old kitchen table."

Lysander paled, tried to square himself on the anniversary blunder, failed utterly, and the fireworks were on.

The Talented Miller Family.

"What is the Miller family doing now?"

"The wife is writing poems that nobody will read, the daughter is painting pictures that nobody will buy, the son is composing plays that nobody will put on the stage, and the husband is writing checks that nobody will cash."

A Treat.

Sufferer (to lady in front)—Madam, if you were to remove your hat I could see the play. Lady in Front (with manifestation of surprise)—Yes, but you could not then see my new hat.—London Telegraph.

Vulgarity is amusing only to the vulgar, and they are not worth amusing.

If your Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are weak, try at least, a few doses only of Dr. Shoop's Restorative. In five or ten days only, the result will surprise you. A few cents will cover the cost. And here is why help comes so quickly. Dr. Shoop doesn't drug the Stomach, nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to the weak and failing nerves. Each organ has its own controlling nerve. When these nerves fail, the depending organs must of necessity falter. This plain, yet vital truth, clearly tells why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is so universally successful. Its success is leading druggists everywhere to use it universal predecessor. A test will surely sell [illegible] by all druggists.

LINCOLN'S STORY.

It Contained a Lesson For the Man With a Grievance.

An old farmer once called at the White House and complained that the Union soldiers in passing his farm had helped themselves not only to hay, but to his horse, and he hoped the president would urge the proper officer to consider his claim immediately.

"Why, my dear sir," replied Mr. Lincoln blandly, "I couldn't think of such a thing. If I consider individual cases I should find work enough for twenty presidents."

The caller urged his needs persistently, and Mr. Lincoln declined good naturedly.

"But," said the persevering sufferer, "couldn't you just give me a line to Colonel —— about it—just one line?"

"Ha, ha, ha!" responded the president, crossing his legs. "That reminds me of old Jack Chase out in Illinois.

"You see, Jack—I knew him like a brother—used to be a lumberman on the Illinois river, and he was steady and sober and the best raftsman on the stream. It was quite a trick to take the logs over the rapids, but he was skilful with a raft and always kept her straight in the channel. Finally a steamer was put on, and Jack—he's dead now, poor fellow!—was made captain of it. He always used to take the wheel going through the rapids. One day when the boat was plunging and wallowing along the boiling current and Jack's utmost vigilance was being exercised to keep it in the narrow channel a boy pulled his coattail and hailed him with:

"'Say, Mr. Captain, I wish you would just stop your boat a minute! I've lost my apple overboard!'

"Think that story over, my friend, and see if you can find any lesson in it."

IF SICK--WHY PAY

Unless Health First Returns.

Sign [illegible] worst element and can be denied. Now [illegible] pay [illegible] pay for [illegible] that you [illegible]?

Then why pay for [illegible] until [illegible] first proves to you its actual worth?

Positively knowing what Dr. Shoop's Restorative can do for the sick, I say to all "don't pay unless health first returns". And I back my Restorative with a signed and sealed 30 day "No help, No pay" contract.

I positively pledge to the sick everywhere that "Dr. Shoop's Restorative is absolutely free if it fails". Let others do the same—or else pass their prescriptions by.

If you need more strength, more vitality, more vigor or more vim, use my Restorative a few days and note the immediate improvement.

When the Stomach, Heart, or Kidneys are wrong, then test Dr. Shoop's Restorative. I do not claim the Stomach nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys, for that is wrong. Yours are! I cast away time tested ideas in medicine. The books below will tell you how I am succeeding.

Those books also tell of a fiber hidden "inside nerve," no larger than a silken thread. They tell how that nerve, until it fails, actually gives to the Heart its power, its tone, its never-ending action or impulse.

These books will open up new and helpful ideas to those who are not well. They tell how the Stomach, and Kidneys reach have their "inside" or power nerves. They tell how the Restorative was especially made to reach and revitalize these weak or failing inside nerves. All of these facts tell why I am able to say, "It is free if it fails".

This is why I say "take no chances on a medicine whose maker dare not back it just as I do by this remarkable offer".

So write me today for the order.

I have appointed honest and responsible druggists in nearly every community to [illegible] my medicines to the sick.

But write me first for the order.

All druggists sell Dr. Shoop's Restorative, but all are not authorized to give the 30 day test.

So drop me a line please—and thus save disappointment and delays. Tell me also which book you need.

A postal will do.

Besides, you are free to consult me as you would your home physician. My advice and the book below are yours—and without cost.

Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up some serious ailment. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private prescription or personal advice plan. My best effort is surely worth your simple request. So write now while you have it fresh in mind, for tomorrow never comes. Dr. Shoop, Box 12, Racine, Wis.

A YEAR'S PATENTS.

What Inventors Throughout the Empire Are Doing.

The 26th report of the Comptroller-General of Patents, Designs, and Trade Marks, shows that in 1908 there were 28,598 applications for patents 19,495 specifications were provisional and 17,746 complete, and 16,284 patents were sealed. The largest number of applications made on one day was 159 on Dec. 24. The applications from women inventors numbered 572 as compared with 560 in 1907. Last year 24,389 designs and 5,965 trade marks were registered. The total receipts in the department were $1,536,675, of which $1,514,450 was from patent fees. The year's work involved 290,000 letters and 93,000 parcels of publications. As to the trend of invention in 1908, the report stated that the subject of locomotion in general occupies a prominent position in the titles of applications for patents made during the year, and this is regarded as principally due to the continued interest taken in the motor-car. Though diminishing, activity still prevails as regards wheels, where efforts have been largely directed towards the provision of an easily detachable non-skidding rim. Attempts to abate the dust nuisance are thought many essentials relating to road tarring machines, coupling adjuncts for treating the surfaces of roads, and dust-collector fittings on the cars.

The desire to facilitate roadside repairs to motor road vehicles has caused increased attention to be given to the minor subjects of tools, such as spanners and valve lifters. The interest shown in the mechanically propelled road vehicle is accompanied by some neglect of horse-drawn and railway vehicles. Many inventors continue to be occupied with flying machines of the "heavier than air" type, especially in regard to their automatic balancing, and to facility of manipulation of the various rudders and planes.

The increasing importance of india-rubber in the industrial world is shown by attention being given to processes for the regeneration of waste rubber and the synthetic production of rubber or rubber-like products. The economical tendency of inventors is manifested in the number of applications received in connection with holders for rendering possible the stropping of thin flexible razors of the "safety" type. It is recorded that procedure under the Acts of 1902 and 1907 has tended to strengthen the position of the genuine inventor and prevent the patent system being misused by adventurers as a means of encroaching on the rights of the public. Under section 27 of the Act of 1907, which provides for the revocation of patents worked exclusively or mainly outside the United Kingdom, 15 applications were made. Two of these were abandoned, in two cases the patents were revoked, and 11 cases are pending. In spite of the decrease in the total number of applications received in 1908, those from England and Wales were more numerous than in 1907 by 615, and those from other parts of the United Kingdom were almost equal in number. The applications from Australia, New Zealand, and Canada show a decided decrease. From Australia 168 were received and from Canada 155.

Queen Victoria's Favorite Novelist.

Amongst the many distinctions enjoyed by Mr. William Le Queux was that of being the favorite novelist of the late Queen Victoria. It is amazing what a multitude of experiences this popular writer has crowded into his life. He has a rare knowledge of continental travel, is the personal friend of more than one European monarch, and possesses quite a number of foreign decorations bestowed upon him by royalty. No Englishman is better acquainted with political undercurrents abroad. It is this fact which lends such interest to his book, "England's Peril," which is now included in the Newnes' Series of Sixpenny Copyright Novels. If you want to read an invasion story written by an accomplished novelist, "England's Peril" is the book for you. Most of the so-called invasion stories published nowadays are mere drivel.

INDIA'S NEW WAR LORD

GENERAL SIR O'MOORE CREAGH IS A GALLANT SOLDIER.

Man Who Succeeds Kitchener of Kandahar Wears the Victoria Cross Among His Many Decorations—He Went Through Some Dangerous Places During His Early Days—He is an Irishman.

General Sir O'Moore Creagh has just received one of the handsomest birthday presents on record. On the sixty-second anniversary of his birth he was presented with the post of Commander-in-Chief in India, in succession to Lord Kitchener.

In all India he will have only one man above him, the Viceroy; and his post will involve the control of upwards of 337,000 troops, British and native, scattered over 2,900,000 square miles, and the maintenance of the security of some 300,000,000 people. And every year he will receive the odd but comfortable income of £6,666.

Like many of his famous predecessors in his new post—to mention only Lord Roberts and Lord Kitchener—the new Commander-in-Chief is an Irishman. His father was a navy man, but young Creagh went to Sandhurst, and a few years later he was given a lieutenancy on the Indian Staff Corps. Seven years later he got his company, and almost immediately the Afghan war broke out. He was sent to the front and joined the Khyber column, and it was while on service with it that he won that most coveted decoration — the Victoria Cross.

The outpost to which he was attached was stationed at Dakka, on the Kabul river, which meanders through the Khyber Pass. Late one afternoon a native spy came into Dakka and informed the officer in command that the Momunds—one of the most warlike of the tribes—were gathering from the surrounding villages with the object of cutting the British line of communication.

Things looked very serious, and the commander decided that a desperate effort must be made to drive off the Momunds. He sent for Captain Creagh, who was in command of a native battalion called Merwaras, and ordered him to take two companies (about a hundred and fifty men) and march to the village of Kam Dakka, a few miles off. He was, the officer said, to hold the place and keep the line of communication open at all costs.

In a short time Creagh and his little force were ready. The sun was near the horizon as they swung out of the camp, and soon their movements were cloaked in the darkness. This was very lucky, for it enabled them to approach Kam Dakka and occupy it before the villagers had time to make any resistance; indeed, the night was beginning to lift before the natives discovered how things stood.

After a few minutes of surprise they became indignant and even threatening. But the young captain stood fast and refused to budge. Finding him immovable, the villagers gathered up their belongings and fled, taking with them most of the women and children.

Soon the day broke and showed a large force of Momunds—at least ten to one against the handful of British—ready to attack the village. Captain Creagh hastily reconnoitred his position, and saw that it was impossible to hold the village with any chance of success. He decided to withdraw to a cemetery that lay near and had the advantage of being surrounded by a low wall. Towards this his men crept in twos and threes until the village was evacuated.

They gathered all the stones they could find and tried to improve their defences by heightening the wall. Captain Creagh made them a little speech, in which he explained how much depended on them, and urged them to be resolute.

Very soon the Momunds discovered what had happened, and they advanced cheering to attack the cemetery. Not once nor twice, but many times the Momunds assaulted the heroic little band, and during the whole time Captain Creagh was at the wall in the thick of each encounter. The last attack was delivered at three o'clock in the afternoon, and just after that had been repulsed by bayonet, relief arrived from Dakka, and the Momunds retired.

In successive Afghan wars he continued to play a notable part, earning steady promotion. During the Boxer rebellion in China he commanded the Second Brigade of the British force, but he was bitterly disappointed when orders came that he was to remain with this brigade at Shanghai in case trouble should break out in that neighborhood.

But though he saw no actual fighting, he was mentioned in despatches for his forward dash, which saved a big campaign, and relieved the situation. For this he received the official thanks of the Secretaries of State for Foreign Affairs and for India, and the Order of the Rising Sun from the Emperor of Japan.

Temiskaming's Richest Vein Crosses Pan-Silver Property

Streak of Solid Silver a Foot thick—the Most Wonderfull Strike Made in Cobalt's Biggest Dividend Payer Continues on through Cartwright's New Mine

A vein of solid silver, a foot thick, was the sensational strike recently made in the Temiskaming mine, which within a year has developed into the biggest dividend payer in the marvelously rich Cobalt district.

The Temiskaming mine immediately adjoins Pan-Silver, B.C., Cartwright's new mine, on the northeast.

Almost coincident with this record-breaking Temiskaming strike, the continuation of the same wonderful vein was uncovered in the Columbia Cobalt, the next mine to the Pan-Silver on the southwest.

It has been positively known for months that the richest and biggest veins in the Temiskaming continue right on into the Pan-Silver, and in the light of these two recent discoveries, Mr. Cartwright declares there is every reason to believe that the drills on Pan-Silver will strike the foot-thick solid silver silver vein.

Mr. Cartwright has gone into the Pan-Silver with the same spirit in which he took up the Temiskaming when it was the most discredited working in the entire Cobalt district.

Mr. Cartwright believed in Temiskaming and the developments of three years have gloriously justified his belief.

He believes in Pan-Silver with the same faith and declares there is not the shadow of a doubt that Pan-Silver will be a better and bigger producer than its older neighbor, Temiskaming.

B. E. Cartwright knows what he is talking about. He has staked his own fortune and the fortunes of his associates on Pan-Silver.

"Within six months," he says, "we will be shipping ore from Pan-Silver."

The drills on Pan-Silver are going down steadily and surely—day and night shifts working—to the 200 foot level—the level at which rich ore was struck in Temiskaming—ore running $1,500 to the ton.

Even now, at a depth of 100 feet, they have struck calcite veins averaging eight inches in thickness.

Stock in the Pan-Silver Mining Company, Ltd. (par $4.00) is selling for 60c.

It will go to par when the 200 foot development reveals the bonanza values.

That is what B. E. Cartwright says—and you can depend on it that B. E. Cartwright knows.

Pan-Silver will be another Temiskaming—but greater and better, and richer than the best Temiskaming has ever been.

A limited number of Pan-Silver shares are offered at 60c (par $1.00) in lots of 100 shares and upwards.

Use the coupon or make out mail order in similar form and mail it today to Howe, Norris & Co., 60 Broadway, New York, financial agents in the United States for the Pan-Silver Mining Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont. Booklets, maps and detailed information mailed on request.

No Rainy Season

General Ashton of Tacoma, who accompanied Moreton Frewen to Prince Rupert, is a firm believer in the future of the town. The present is his first trip here, and he predicts that with the sale of lots, there will be an influx of people who mean business, and who will stay by the proposition. "I believe," he said yesterday, "that in a great measure, the industrial and commercial history of Tacoma, Seattle and Vancouver will be duplicated here. Your harbor is a truly magnificent one. Prince Rupert is in the path of the growing Alaskan and trans-Pacific trade. The country between here and the prairie presents limitless opportunities for development, and whatever takes place, Prince Rupert must more or less directly benefit. This port is nearer the ports of the Orient than any shipping port to the south. The new railway has an exceptionally easy grade. These are matters to be considered by the great business establishments of the east and middle-west, whose operations extend across the Pacific. Some times you hear people talk about the rain. Why the whole coast, from Alaska to California is in the rain belt. We have no rainy season. The weather doesn't enter into the calculations of the big business men, whatsoever. With them it's a matter of time—of dollars and cents. If they find it more to their advantage to do business through this port, they don't care whether it's hot or cold, cloudy or bright. And they will find that it will be to their advantage to figure on Prince Rupert."—Ex.

Domestic Science and Manual Training were Demonstrated to Parents

The first public demonstration of special subjects place in the cirriculum of the public school and Collegiate Institute the past year or two was given in the old collegiate last night and yesterday afternoon. Drawing, manual training and domestic science are being taught in the local schools with success and the result of the teaching of these subjects was seen yesterday. In the afternoon and evening a very large number of parents and others interested in the work of the schools were present and were loud in their praise. Well they might be for the pupils have accomplished a great deal under the capable instruction of the teachers.

In the afternoon classes from the Public school gave an exhibition of manual training and of domestic science and they did remarkably well. In fact the visitors were most agreeably surprised. The Board of Education has supplied the school with the most modern apparatus, and of course that helps a great deal. In the manual training room twenty work benches are provided and twenty boys per class are taught the first principals of architecture and carpenter work or building. First they draw their plan and then proceed with the mechanical work. They have chisels, saws, hammers, etc., and these they are taught to keep in good shape and they are also taught to be accurate in their measurements and neat in construction.

In the domestic science department a class of 24 girls can work and each one is furnished with tables, baking boards, a gas jet and all the necessities with which to make those things which tickle the palate of the manual training students. Everything is kept perfectly clean and the girls are taught the art of cooking, one of the great essentials of a happy home. That the Board of Education have realized that a good cook is a superior wife to good Latin scholar is most commendable, and the Canadian fairies in future will no doubt be happier and more attractive places than many of today and the Board of Education cannot have the pupils spend too much time at this work.

In the evening classes from the Collegiate Institute gave the demonstration. The manual training class was in charge of Mr. A. N. Scarrow, the teacher of the Normal and Public schools and Collegiate Institute classes. There were twenty boys in the class and they were all busy. Most of them were working on designs of their own and this is a very attractive feature. Great interest was displayed in the carpenter shop by the visitors.

A class from the Collegiate also gave the domestic science exhibition under the direction of Miss Steinhoff who also conducts the classes in all three schools, Normal Public and Collegiate. There were twenty-three pretty maids gathered around the bake boards and after the preliminary instructions from their teacher rolled up their sleeves and slipped their dainty fingers into the flour, milk, etc., and soon had a batch of delicious hot biscuits ready to serve to their guests.

Another very interesting exhibit was the display of art. There were shown samples of work done by youngsters a few years old, and by those in the highest forms of the Collegiate. Many pieces were most creditably done. The little tots especially deserve credit and taking all things into consideration they seem to display a greater taste for art than do the older pupils. The Public school pupils do nearly all their work from memory, while the Collegiate classes use copies, crayons, charcoal and water colors, are used. The classes are in charge of Miss McRae.

Altogether the exhibit was very interesting in all three departments, and the parents of the pupils greatly appreciated the opportunity afforded them to see what their children were doing in school.

Brown and Hoagland Set a Fast Pace--Covered 17 1-2 Miles

Brown Still Holds His Lead of One Lap On Hoagland and It will be a Great Battle Tonight for First Place—The Peds will Start the Long Grind This Afternoon

The sensation of the walking match last night was created by Fenton, one of the tail enders, who gained four laps on Spenceley in the last hour. Fenton started the night just a mile behind Spenceley, but he was losing steadily until near the end the crowd got him gingered up and the band played a couple of his favorite tunes, and he went out and gained back all he had lost except one lap. For the night he traveled 15 miles and 8 laps. Brown still maintains his lead of one lap on Hoagland and while those two did some very fast walking they kept a pretty steady gait all night and made only one short sprint of about a quarter of a lap near the finish. They covered over 17 miles and a half last night which is the best record yet. Brown has a great many admirers who would like to see him win. He is a young fellow and game to the core and makes new friends every night. Harrison started out at a good pace and gained a couple of laps on West, but it was too much for him and he had to slow down with the result that West piled up 12 more laps on his lead, or nearly a mile.

The standing of the walkers is as follows;

	Miles.	Laps.
Brown	85	5
Hoagland	85	4
West	84	3
Harrison	82	7
Blake	80	3
Spenceley	75	7
Fenton	74	6
Graham	72	6
Bartley	70	8

Roy Sentenced to Five Years in Penitentiary

Montreal, May 28.—P. H. Roy, former president of the defunct bank of St. John's, and ex-Speaker of the Provincial Parliament, was this morning sentenced to five years in the penitentiary for issuing false reports of the bank's standing to the government.

Roy included in the bank's reports many worthless notes and other paper which had been outlawed.

P. H. Roy then took the box, and was asked if he had anything to say before sentence. He asked that sentence be not now pronounced, as he was only one of three accused, that he always felt that he could not obtain impartiality in St. John's. The other accused were more guilty than he, as he had but signed the reports to the government after they had been confirmed by others. These gentlemen had testified against him, and yet he had not had the privilege of giving his own version. There were twelve or thirteen other accusations. Why had they not proceeded in these at the same time? All his worldly goods had been swallowed up by the failure of the Banque de Jean. One thing only was left him, and this was his honor. He had done everything possible to sustain his bank. Unfortunately he had failed like many others. It was not his fault, but his misfortune. He had nothing to reproach himself with. He had spent money in politics, but that money was his own personal money, and not the bank's. He felt that the present prosecution was mainly sustained by his social enemies. He asked for leniency.

Mr. Roy received his sentence smilingly.

Dunlop will conduct the service and Rev. Mr. Webb will preach a sermon appropriate for the occasion.

Citizens to Travel Through the Air--To be Cheaper Than Autos

Washington, May 28—"That it will soon be cheaper for the great mass of the German people to ride in airships than in automobiles, seems assured, from reports to the State Department, from the United States Consul at Brunswick, which says that the German Aeral Navigation Company has established permanent airship lines in Germany, and that they appear to be assured of success. The report gives the following details,

"It is the purpose of the company at the start to connect fully thirty cities. It has already received patents for its turn-balls for motor balloons, and it will erect its first halls in Berlin, Munich, and Strassburg, in Alsace. The extensive plans of the company have aroused the liveliest interest on all sides, and their execution seems to be financially assured."

Five lines are planned, connecting the largest cities in Germany, including Hamburg, Bremen, Cologne, Frankfurt, and Leipzig. The consul also sends a map, showing the several routes.

There Will be Forty-One Local Option Contests

Forty-one local option contests have been begun in Ontario, in preparation for voting on January 1st next, according to the Pioneer. Two of these municipalities —Brantford and Peterborough—are cities. There are fourteen towns where a campaign is on—Almonte, Aurora, Carleton Place, Cobourg, Collingwood, Dunnville, Lindsay, Meaford, Newmarket, Orangeville, Picton, Port Hope, Stayner, Strathroy; Three incorporated villages—Acton, Dutton and Georgetown. The other municipalities are; Adelaide, Admaston, Albion, Beckwith, Blyth, Burpoke, Bromley, Caledon, Dunwich, Elma, Eramosa, Esquesing, East, Gower North Gwillimbury East, Hay, Luther, Marlboro, Nepean, Pakenham, Sundale and Tuckersmith.

Port Arthur to Have Shipbuilding Industry

Port Arthur, Ont., May 28.—Port Arthur is to have the biggest dry-dock and shipbuilding plant on the Canadian side of the great lakes.

An agreement was signed today on behalf of the city with a new company, known as the Western Dry-dock and Shipbuilding Company, Limited, composed principally of Cleveland capitalists and including Mr. A. F. Bowman of Southampton, who is representing them in the negotiations here. The agreement calls for the construction, equipment, and operation of a dry-dock capable of receiving the largest vessels on the great lakes and a shipbuilding plant capable of building such vessels.

The plant will employ three hundred men from the start, and all the year until completed, and in the very near future that number will be increased to at least one thousand, while it is expected that it will ultimately grow into the biggest industrial enterprise of its kind in the Dominion.

Work will start as soon as the by-law, which is now being prepared, is ratified by the people, a matter about which there is no doubt, owing to the very liberal terms and the big things it means for the city. The building of the plant means kindred industries of various kinds to follow, and is without doubt the biggest thing ever undertaken at a port on the Canadian great lakes.

George Morrice Roger Elevated to the Bench

A despatch from Ottawa gives information of the appointment of four judges. Among the names a that of a prominent barrister of Peterborough, Mr. G. M. Roger, who has been "appointed to the new district Court Judgeships for Thunder Bay and Rainy River. Three of the Judgeships were created by an act of the Ontario Legislature last session.

His Honor Judge Roger, is to be very heartily congratulated upon the recognition of his legal abilities, and his character, as a safe, steady, and reliable member of the profession, as implied in his elevation to the dignity and responsibility of the bench. He will maintain the one and faithfully and efficiently discharge the other. Mr. Roger is a native of Peterborough, and in all the years of his life in the town and city, both as a professional gentleman and citizen, he has earned and enjoyed to a high degree, the unvarying respect of the community. He has been actively and creditably identified with the promotion of the interests of the city, and while the position of a judge is one of honor, it is one that will be adorned and dignified by Mr. Roger's assumption of its duties and responsibilities.

Council And Citizens Unite To Commend Purity Ware By-law

We, the undersigned aldermen of Peterborough, do hereby commend for the approval of the citizens the bylaw now before the people, to grant aid to the Purity Ware Limited.

1. It is proposed to give said company ten acres of land, costing $3,000, on their erection of buildings, and completing and equipping the shops, at a cost of about $150,000 to $200,000, and on their undertaking to employ not less than 100 hands the first year.

2. To lend said company $50,000, at four per cent. interest, to be repaid to the city in ten equal annual payments.

3. The repayment to be secured by mortgage on the land, buildings, and fixed machinery.

4. The people who are putting up the most of the capital are a well-known manufacturing firm of New York, who have been fifty years in business and are rated very high—this is a guarantee for business methods and success. Every precaution is being taken to secure the repayment of the loan.

5. If we let this opportunity pass it will be hopeless to attempt to build up the city and new manufactures, as this promises to be a large concern, and already other municipalities are after it.

6. The factory will be in the city limits and is well located for the purpose. We must take factories subject to the proprietors' selections, they must be somewhere, and the proprietors place them to suit their requirements—the general benefit of the city is the same.

Drunken Sailors Tried to Hurl Man Overboard

Victoria, B.C., May 27.—Attacked by six of his crew at once, Captain Wagner, of the German ship Elisa Lihn, which arrived here last night from Antofagasta for Puget Sound, succeeded in beating off his opponents with his fists and quelling a mutiny which bid fair to develop into larger proportions and resulted in the death of one man. On April 10th the crew tapped a barrel of wine aboard, and rapidly becoming intoxicated, attacked Captain Wagner and the boatswain in an effort to make the days out from Antofagasta. former a prisoner and to throw the latter overboard. Captain Wagner fought off his opponents, stretching them one after another on the deck. The boatswain when carried as far as the rail by the infuriated men, managed to escape, and going to the assistance of the captain, helped to bring about order. One of the crew was subsequently discovered in the hold, where he had fallen when intoxicated, suffering such severe injuries that he died, and was buried at sea. The Elisa Lihn is sixty-four

Celebrated Her 95th Birthday Wednesday

A short time ago reference was made in The Times to the fact that Peterborough had a centenerian resident in the person of Mr. Jos. Mantell, but it was probably not generally known at the time that there was another in the city who is fast approaching the century mark. She is Mrs. Caroline Wright, widow of the late Albert Wright, and formerly resident at Downer's Corners.

This week Mrs. Wright celebrated her 95th birthday, and is by no means feeble physically and mentally, as her advanced age would indicate. While all the years she has lived have necessarily had their effect on her, Mrs. Wright has retained her faculties to a remarkable degree, and her mind is as clear and alert as it was in middle life, and she has a splendid memory, not only for things of some time ago, but also for happenings of most recent occurrence.

Mrs. Wright, whose maiden name was Caroline McCamus, was born in the village of Sherlock, County Cavan, Ireland, which is also the birthplace of her late husband. She has resided in Canada since 1857, and for a number of years lived near Bailieboro with her brother, the late John McCamus. She has been in Peterborough for a number of years.

She is an aunt by marriage of Mr. Ryerson Ritchie of Boston, and also a distant relative of Mr. Robt. Fair of this city. Rev. John McCamus, of Odessa, and Rev. David McCamus, of St. Mary's, are nephews of the lady.

Mrs. Wright is very fond of reading and takes much pleasure in perusing the news columns of the local papers.

The New Telephone Journal is Out

A copy of the first issue of the Telephone Gazette, published in Montreal, has been received by The Times. This very neat and well edited journal is devoted wholly to the telephone and contains valuable information for telephone companies and their employes. If the first edition is a sample of what is to follow there is no doubt but that it will soon become popular. One item of particular interest is on the Bell Telephone Company's general office in Toronto, and for which a large addition is now being built. The structure will be a handsome one and modern in every particular, and will be a credit to the company and to Toronto. The size of the new part is to be 105 feet by 132 feet and five stories high. Lots of light and the best of ventilation is provided for in the plans. The Bell Company are also erecting handsome new offices in Quebec, Montreal, St. Thomas, Berlin, Sault Ste. Marie and West Toronto.

Bronchitis

Catarrhosone Cures Bronchitis of three years' standing after four doctors failed.

A REMARKABLE CASE.

"I feel it my duty," writes Mrs. Boyd, of Leonardville, N.B., to let you know that I have been cured of Bronchitis of three months' standing by Catarrhosone.

"With the least change in temperature or exposure to inclement weather, I was attacked with bronchial discomfort, wheezing in the chest, hoarseness, sore throat, partial loss of voice, and stuffiness of the head. I consulted four doctors and was treated by them all without any benefit.

"Catarrhosone was strongly recommended to me by several persons whom it had benefited, and I was induced to give it a good trial.

"It quickly relieved my difficult breathing, so I got the complete outfit, hard rubber inhaler, etc., and I began systematically the Catarrhosone treatment.

"In a few days the huskiness and hoarseness disappeared, and my voice became stronger. The running of the nose, and stuffiness of the head, feverishness, difficult breathing, were all done away with before I had been using Catarrhosone very long.

"About six weeks' treatment was sufficient to do more for me than four doctors failed to do in three years' time. It cured me and I don't believe there is another such a remedy on earth. Its action is speedy, pleasant and permanent."

Catarrhosone is a new, scientific treatment, and is guaranteed to cure Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Cold, etc., or money refunded. It contains nothing injurious and can be used by the infant as well as by the adult.

It is both a local and a constitutional remedy. The Inhaler supplies abundance of medicated air, which spreads through all the air passages, killing germ life, and healing sore spots as it goes.

The impurities in the blood are driven off by Ferrozone tablets, which strengthen and build up the system to such a healthy condition that disease simply can't exist.

Catarrhosone is recommended by doctors and druggists for all respiratory diseases. It relieves quickly and cures permanently. Complete outfit costs $1.00; trial size, 50c. At Druggists, or N. C. Polson & Con., Kingston, Ont. Buy Catarrhosone today.

EARL GREY AS GOVENOR-GENERAL

When Earl Grey came to Canada to act as governor-general some people were made nervous by the advance notices sent us by the cable correspondents, telling us of his previous activities, of his fertile mind, of his gifts as a director and administrator. Some of the English journals, in their praise of him, seemed to think that he was the very man to take hold of a nation in the making, yank it loose from its errors, and set it on the high way.

It was feared that the new governor-general would undertake to manage things—that he would not be content to act on the advice of his ministers, but would expect them to act on his advice. To put it in other words, he was made to appear from the advance notices too energetic and opinionated a man to prove successful in a post for which the chief requirements are a capacity for non-interference, and a tact that enables one to do every thing, anything, and even nothing, blamelessly.

But it is only right to say that Earl Grey, as governor-general, has long since dispelled the fears that were aroused by the accounts of him sent out to Canada by friendly English journalists. He has shown tact. He has shown a capacity for non-interference, and, as Hamar Greenwood, M.P., stated in a recent interview in a London paper, the present governor-general has exhibited "an enthusiasm for Canada and the Canadians that is a quality rarely found among English governors, who find it difficult to appreciate the interests, the social life, and the enthusiasm of a great colonial democracy."

If your Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are weak, try at least, a few doses only of Dr. Shoop's Restorative. In five or ten days only, the result will surprise you. A few cents will cover the cost. And here is why help comes so quickly. Dr. Shoop doesn't drug the Stomach, nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to the weak and failing nerves. Each organ has its own controlling nerve. When these nerves fail, the depending organ must of necessity falter. This plain, yet vital truth, clearly tells why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is so universally successful. Its success is leading druggists everywhere to give it universal endorsement. A test will convince. Sold by all druggists.

Lemon Omelet.

Put the yolks of four eggs into a bowl with a tablespoonful of sugar. Beat until light and add the grated rind of a lemon. Whip the whites of the eggs to a stiff froth and mix lightly with the yolks. Then stir in a fourth of a teaspoonful of baking powder. Pour in the omelet pan, in which a tablespoonful of butter has been melted, and bake in a moderate oven for ten minutes. When done cut the omelet in half, put on a hot platter, with the following lemon jelly between the layers, and serve as quickly as possible:

Lemon Jelly.—Take one-half cupful of sugar, a tablespoonful of butter, the juice and rind of one lemon and two well beaten eggs. Beat together and stir over the fire until thick.—Delineator.

A Weed That Steals Oysters.

A seaweed has invaded the oyster beds of France and carried off 400,000 oysters. It has carried them off bodily, as a thief would do. The minute seeds of this weed float up the English channel in the current of the gulf stream; they settle on oysters in the Breton beds of Morbihan, Quiberon and Belle Isle, and they grow to the size of a duck's egg. They are full of water, but at maturity the water evaporates, and air takes its place. The egg shaped seaweed is then a balloon, and, like a balloon, it lifts its oyster from the bottom and bears it out to sea.

Walking in New York.

If Sick

Don't risk even one single penny!

And I will tell you why I say this.

It is because every package of Dr. Shoop's medicine is absolutely free if it fails.

No one need risk even one single penny.

Just think what this means to the suffering sick!

No risk, no expense, nothing whatever unless health comes. Give me 30 full days, and without the risk of a penny, you can use either of my two remedies—Dr. Shoop's Restorative or Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy.

Why buy purchase any medicine whose maker dare not back it just as I do by this remarkable offer?

And besides, I am no stranger to you. My "No-Risk" plan has made Dr. Shoop's Restorative a household word in your drug store in the land. The plan is solely mine. We take no chance when I offer it.

For twenty years Dr. Shoop's medicines have become thoroughly established all over America. And I have created honest and responsible druggists in almost every village every where to sell you on my terms. These selected druggists are authorized to sell medicines with the risk—and this entire risk is mine alone.

Just write me first for an order.

I have an agent in almost every community—but all druggists are not authorized to grant the 30 day test.

So drop me a line, please—and thus save all disappointments and delays.

Besides, you are free to consult me by letter as you would your home physician. Do so freely and fully—if you desire. My advice and the book below are yours—and without cost. Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up some serious ailment. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private prescription or personal advice plan.

Besides, the books will open up new and helpful ideas to you. They tell of my 28 years experience at the sick-bed in hospitals and in Shoop's. All phases of drugging and relief are told of here. They tell of the "inside nerves" no larger than silk fibres that strive to the Heart in its regulation. How the Stomach and Kidney each have their inside or power nerve. How these organs nearly falter when these controlling or master nerves begin to fail. How Dr. Shoop's Restorative gets directly to these failing nerves and rebuilds, and thus restores the lost tone and power. It can surely help you—if it is within the power of medicine to do so. My best effort is surely worth a single request. So write now, while it is fresh in mind, for tomorrow never comes. Dr. Shoop, Box 12, Racine, Wis.

LIVING HORRORS.

Men Made to Look Like Beasts by Chinese Methods.

To transfer a man into a beast would at first seem to be impossible. It is accomplished, however, by the Chinese, to whom nothing seems to be unknown. The skin is removed in small particles from the entire surface of the body, and to the bleeding parts bits of the hide of living animals, bears and dogs, are usually applied. The operation requires years for its full accomplishment. After the person has had his skin completely changed and becomes a man-bear or a man-dog he is made mute to complete the illusion and also deprive him of the means of informing the public he is intended to amuse of his long torture. A Chinese journal, the Hupao, prints a description of one of these human animals exhibited in the Kiangsi. His entire body was covered with dog skin. He stood erect (although sometimes the feet are so mutilated that the beast is forced to walk on all fours), could not utter articulate sounds, rise and sit down—in short, make the gestures of a human being. A mandarin who heard of this monstrosity had him brought to his palace, where his hairy skin and bestial appearance caused quite as much terror as surprise. Upon being asked if he was a man the creature replied with an affirmative nod. He also signified in the same manner that he would write. A pencil was given him, but he could not use it, his hands were so deformed. Ashes were then placed on the ground in front of him, when the man-dog, leaning over, traced in them five characters indicating his name and district. Investigation showed that he had been stolen, imprisoned for years and subjected to long torture. His master was apprehended and condemned to death.—London Spare Moments.

A CHEERFUL OUTLOOK.

Making It Pleasant For the Studious Traveler.

An English tourist traveling on foot through one of our mountainous regions, studying the people, asked a man whom he met to direct him to a certain cabin at which he had been advised to stay overnight. "Going that?" said the man. "Well, Tom's a first rater, take him just right, but he's mighty queer."

"What do you mean?" asked the traveler.

"Well, it's like this," and the man looked at the stranger in a calm, impersonal way. "He'll be setting outside, most probably, and he'll see you coming. He'll take a good look at you, and if you don't suit him he may set the dog on you.

"If he don't and you get to talking with him and say anything he don't just like he may throw you down and tromp on you. But if you're too careful in your talk, on the other hand, he's liable to take you for a spy and use his gun fust and listen to explanations afterward.

"But it's no use trying to get by without stopping," concluded the man, with evident relish of the prospect he was opening up to the stranger. "If you was to undertake that 'twould be all up with you, for he'd think you was proud and biggetty.

"If you want to come out of the mountain whole, don't go past Tom's cabin without stopping, whatever you do!"

The Unemployed.

Lack of employment is not a new question. Says the Liverpool Mercury of Feb. 14, 1812: "It is of the highest importance that a committee of the legislature should immediately inquire into the causes of the present want of employment among the laboring classes and whether means might not be found in a nation of which the revenue is immense by which a succession of public works," etc. There were at that time 16,000 unemployed in Liverpool. The same writer after asking "Is war the only employment that the state has to give the poor?" goes on to show that the pyramids of Egypt and the "elegant edifices of Greece" were built with the object of "giving continual employment to the laborer."

Women's Work and Infant Mortality.

In eight industrial towns, where the proportion of married women of child bearing age at work in the factories was 43 per cent, the infant mortality rate for ten years averaged 132 per 1,000. In eight industrial towns of a different type, where the proportion of married women at work was only 8 per cent, the infant mortality was only 150 per 1,000. The excessive rate in the first group is not due to bad wages nor to bad conditions, but to the absence of the mother.—London Post.

A Financial Genius.

"Pa, will you please tell me what a financial genius is?"

"A financial genius, my child, is a man who can spend money that he has never had and which the people who think they are getting it will never see."

His Music.

Mrs. Nagger—The noise you make at night is very unpleasant music. Mr. Nagger—Do you call snoring music? Mrs. Nagger—I should say so—sheet music arranged for the bugle.

Talleyrand's Reply.

Napoleon once said to Talleyrand, "I wish I had the keys to hell, for I could then put you in there." The reply was, "It would be better, sire, that I should have them, for then I could let you out."

He who knows little soon tells it.—German Proverb.

Palindromes.

A palindrome is a word or sentence that reads the same forward or backward. The making of palindromes in Latin was at one time a favorite pastime. It calls for the exercise of some constructive and analytic skill. Not many English palindromes are known. The supposed self-introduction of the father of humanity to his quondam rib is the most familiar.

"Madam, I'm Adam."

Sometimes an unintentional palindrome comes to light, as in the shop sign in Yreka, Cal.:

"Yreka Bakery."

Palindromes of considerable length may be evolved—as, for instance, the supposed reply the girl makes to her mother's question regarding the progress of the class in Latin:

"O, ma! No pupils slip up on amo."

"O.K.S."

In Fleet street, London, the initials are well known as those of one of the cleverest editors of to-day. Mr. Clement King Shorter has edited such papers as The Illustrated London News, The Sketch (which he founded), The Sphere (the destinies of which he still guides), and has time to write many books. And yet only nineteen years ago he was employed at Somerset House. Then the editorship of The Illustrated London News fell vacant. He went to Sir William Ingram and said he wanted the appointment. He got it, and the youngest office in London soon became one of the most successful.

From Warehouse to Commons.

A man who has played many parts is Mr. J. Ramsay Macdonald, who has figured so prominently in the English Independent Labor Party split. He is the son of an Elgin farm laborer, and began life as a pupil teacher, then earned his living as clerk in a warehouse, and drifted into politics through becoming the private secretary of an M.P. He is married to the daughter of the late Professor Gladstone, a niece of Lord Kelvin, who is as keenly interested in Parliamentary reform as her husband.

Gen. Booth's Rules for Longevity.

The head of the Salvation Army, who recently celebrated his eightieth birthday, gives the following as his rules for long life: Eat little, drink water, take exercise, have a system, take pleasures wisely, avoid excess of all kinds, aim high.

A Postscript.

Willie, aged five, had delivered a message from his mother to a lady, but did not seem in a hurry to go. Being asked if there was anything else his mother had bidden him say, he replied, "No, ma'am; only she said I wasn't to ask you for any cake, but if you gave me any I was to take it and thank you." He got the cake.

Information.

"Where do all you Americans live?" inquired the European.

"About 4,000,000 of us live in New York," answered the caustic American, "and the rest of us live in caves."

Always there is a black spot in our sunshine. It is the shadow of ourselves.—Carlyle.

Temiskaming's Richest Vein Crosses Pan-Silver Property

Streak of Solid Silver a Foot thick—the Most Wonderfull Strike Made in Cobalt's Biggest Dividend Payer Continues on through Cartwright's New Mine

A vein of solid silver, a foot thick, was the sensational strike recently made in the Temiskaming mine, which within a year has developed into the biggest dividend payer in the marvelously rich Cobalt district.

The Temiskaming mine immediately adjoins Pan-Silver, B.C., Cartwright's new mine, on the northeast.

Almost coincident with this record-breaking Temiskaming strike, the continuation of the same wonderful vein was uncovered in the Columbia Cobalt, the next mine to the Pan-Silver on the southwest.

It has been positively known for months that the richest and biggest veins in the Temiskaming continue right on into the Pan-Silver, and in the light of these two recent discoveries, Mr. Cartwright declares there is every reason to believe that the drills on Pan-Silver will strike the foot-thick solid silver silver vein.

Mr. Cartwright has gone into the Pan-Silver in the same spirit in which he took up the Temiskaming when it was the most discredited working in the entire Cobalt district.

Mr. Cartwright believed in Temiskaming and the developments of three years have gloriously justified his belief.

He believes in Pan-Silver with the same faith and declares there is not the shadow of a doubt that Pan-Silver will be a better and bigger producer than its older neighbor, Temiskaming.

B. E. Cartwright knows what he is talking about. He has staked his own fortune and the fortunes of his associates on Pan-Silver.

"Within six months," he says, "we will be shipping ore from Pan-Silver."

The drills on Pan-Silver are going down steadily and surely—day and night shifts working—to the 200 foot level—the level at which rich pay ore was struck in Temiskaming—ore running $1,500 to the ton.

Even now, at a depth of 100 feet, they have struck cobalt veins averaging eight inches in thickness.

Stock in the Pan-Silver Mining Company, Ltd. (par $1.00) is selling for 60c.

It will go to par when the 200 foot development reveals the bonanza values.

That is what B. E. Cartwright says—and you can depend on it that B. E. Cartwright knows.

Pan-Silver will be another Temiskaming—but greater and better and richer than the best Temiskaming has ever been.

A limited number of Pan-Silver shares are offered at 60c (par $1.00) in lots of 100 shares and upward.

Use the coupon or make out an order in similar form and mail it today to Howe, Norris & Co., 50 Broadway, New York, financial agents in the United States for the Pan-Silver Mining Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont. Booklets, maps and detailed information mailed on request.

Rev. Mr. Riddiford Gave Address to the Sons of England and Orangemen

Lansdowne Lodge, S.O.E., accompanied by a large number of Orangemen, attended divine service at Park street Baptist church yesterday morning and heard a very fine sermon by Rev. Mr. Riddiford. The pretty little church was well filled. It is very bright and cheerful and the pews are comfortable. The visiting brethren occupied the center pews and a couple of rows in the front on each side. Special music was rendered by the choir and the congregational singing was hearty.

In opening his address the reverend gentleman greeted the brethren to the house of God in the name of Christ. He also congratulated Lansdowne lodge upon so large a number being present. His text was taken from I. Cor. 13-14. "Watch ye; stand fast in the faith. Quit yourselves like men, become strong. Let all that ye do be done in the spirit of the Lord." He urged his hearers to watch that some outside force should not shake our municipal liberty. All must be interested in our municipal and national politics. The man would said he was not a fool. Watch ye. Let not the voice of greed and avarice blind you so that some other force may shake the pliciples of your lodge, which are for a united empire, a religious liberty, but consolidated educational system. The church must be separated from the state, and no church should receive any aid from the state. There should be no religious schools. Whenever these are found there is discord.

Stand fast in the faith. There is but one faith and that is the faith of Christ against which all hell cannot prevail. Have faith in your fellow man for it is a lack of faith that causes the majority of failures in business and in the home. Listen not to the gossip monger.

Quit ye like men. Here the speaker appealed to the men to be men; to keep themselves pure and not waste their bodies in a way which will bring shame and disgrace to their families. It was to be regretted, he said, that many men are given to impurity and that there were houses even in the south end which should not exist.

Brown Forced Hoagland to Quit in the Six Day Walk in Brock St. Rink

Big Crowd Saw the Finish of the Long Grind—The Nineteen-Year-Old Auburn Boy is Now the Champion—He Walked a Magnificient Race—Covered 127 Miles in 20 Hours

The last of them meet their Waterloo, and the mighty Hoagland, the one-time world's champion walker and walk promoter, met his at the Brock street rink. George Brown, the 19-year-old boy from Auburn, N.Y., did the trick, and he did it right. He fairly broke the old man's heart, and forced him to quit an hour before time was up. Hoagland was defeated on Wednesday night when Brown took the lap on him and when the champion failed utterly in his attempt to get it back. Hoagland knew then that he was defeated unless he could physically wear the youngster out. This he failed to do. Brown can stay at a 7 1-2 mile clip just as long as the "winner of many races" can, and when the fallen idol quit on Saturday night the new champion still had lots of speed and stamina behind him. That Brown was not all in was clearly shown when some one made the remark, "Brown is all in, too." Brown's father overheard the remark and told his boy who then did a sensational lap amid the wild cheers of the crowd and went up to the man who said he was all in and shook hands with him.

It was a great race between the big man and the small boy. From start to finish the pace was a hot one and the first two hours of the last night was the fastest of all, the distance covered being 15 miles. Brown came to Peterborough to defeat Hoagland and to win the world's championship. This he did and won the honors because he is a better man, probably not very much, but he has a great future before him. Hoagland on the other hand intended to "show up" the youngster from his own town who he knew was a dangerous rival. About 2000 Peterborough people saw the finish of the race on Saturday night, and every man, woman and child formed his own opinion upon the ability of the walkers. Brown is game to the core and he was a favorite with the masses, who cheered him enthusiastically after Hoagland left the track, and shouted encouragement to him all through the race.

Although the new world's champion is a much smaller man than Hoagland, both in height and weight, he walks step for step with him and has adopted very much the same style of going. There was not a minute during the whole 20 hours of hard grinding that Brown took his eye off the big fellow. Hoagland could not make a quick move but Brown did the same. Thus the youngster kept at the heels of the ex-champion who tried hard but fruitlessly to get away. Wednesday night was the only time during the week that anything sensational happened, and that was when Brown won his lap and also won the race. The last three nights was simply a grind at a speed that was killing, but for Hoagland the wrong man died.

The distance covered in the 19 hours was 123 miles, or an average of 6 1-2 miles an hour. During the 20 h hour Brown made another four miles although he could have made 130 miles had there been any occasion to do so.

The other walkers did little stunts of their own. Some gained miles and laps but the only changes in the standing was that West, one of the gamest little gents in the business, covered 123 miles 2 laps and beat Higland out for second place, and Davy Hartley, who walked a very good race moved up to eighth place and beat Graham out by two miles.

NO PRIZE MONEY!

During Saturday night it was announced that the management, Hoagland, et al, were deducting $500 from the gate receipts for expenses and as the gate receipts would barely cover that amount, there would be no prize money paid. Graham and Hartley were then sent around with a hat to take up a collection for the tail enders.

Everyone has his or her opinion on this kind of sport. It is new to Peterborough, and it is decidedly unpopular. In fact it is hard to believe that prize money will not be paid to those who won it and who furnished the sport. All the public have to go by, however, is the announcement made in the rink, presumably by one who was authorized to do so, and the people's opinions are naturally formed accordingly.

New Record Made Saturday by Y.M.C.A. Boys

The Y. M. C. A. boys' department succeeded Saturday afternoon in their attempt to beat the road race record from Lakefield to Peterborough of 55 minutes, 16 seconds, made by Ernie Wilson in 1907, covering the ten miles in 53.28 4-5, a splendid showing. Ten runners took part in the relay race and all the boys did grand work, the palm going to Harold Lees, who ran the second mile, considered one of the hardest along the course in 4 minutes, 51 2-5 seconds. Each boy ran a mile, and all stepped along in splendid fashion. Automobiles, kindly supplied by some of the car owners of the city, took the runners to their destination and picked them up again on the way in.

The first runner, Hirold Hill, left Lakefield about 4 o'clock, and shortly after ten minutes to 5 the last of the ten, Bruce Lees, came sprinting down George street, finishing fresh and strong.

The boys have been training for the race for some time and are to be congratulated upon their fine showing. There is some splendid material in the Y. M. C. A. boys' department, and the youngsters will be heard from again.

The following table shows how the feat was accomplished.

Harold Hill, 1st mile, 5.19.
Harold Lees, 2nd mile, 4.51 2-5.
W. Eastwood, 3rd mile, 5.11 2-5.
H. Morrow, 4th mile, 5.27.
P. Telford, 5th mile, 5.18.
R. Laing, 6th mile, 5.28.
V. Miller, 7 h mile, 5.38 1-5.
A. Darling, 8th mile, 5.29 2-5.
N. Phelan, 9th mile, 5.31.
B. Lees, 10th mile, 5.13 3-5.

Intermediate City Baseball League Opened Saturday

The intermediate City Baseball League was opened Saturday afternoon before a fairly large crowd with a double header, the first between the Park Nines and Rovers, and the second between the T.A.S. and West Ends. The weather conditions were perfect and the diamond in excellent shape.

The first game resulted in a ridiculously easy victory for the Park Nines who trimmed the Rovers 21—0 in seven innings. The Rovers never had a look-in. Neary who was on the firing line for the losers pitched good ball, but his support was very bad, and the men behind him missed nearly everything missable. Sixteen errors were all the scorers gave them, but no doubt a few were over-looked. Their fielding was very much to the bad and at the same time they could not hit, Gorham getting but one single off the Park Nine twirler in seven innings. The winners fielded splendidly and hit well and were just as superior as the score would indicate. The Rovers on their showing this afternoon do not come up to the league standard by any means. Len Dobson and Fred Beaslip of the Strathcona umpired and gave every satisfaction to both teams. The game was called in the seventh.

SECOND GAME.

Too much O'Brien was the primary cause of West End's defeat in the second game with the T.A.S. at the Oval. "Bill" O'Brien rapped out a two-bagger in the fifth bringing two runs and turning the tide of battle which up to that stage had been in the West End's favor. In the fifth, "Mike" hit for three bases, brought in a run and scored himself. The T.A.S. played well from the start. McFadden giving Byers good support. Kirn for West Ends broke into the Intermediate League and made good. It was not his fault that there was a margin of five runs. Jimmie McNurn had an off-day behind the bat. The teams were evenly matched, and a large crowd was delighted with the exhibition. Minorgan a recruit from the Collegiate Institute League bore the honors of the day and at short-stop proved to be a classy kid.

Annual S. S. Rally

Sunday morning was an eventful day for the Sunday school of Murray street Baptist church. It was the annual rally and it was a most successful one. A large number were present and all took part in the service. The choir was composed of children, and Miss Bessie Elcome of the Conservatory staff presided at the organ. The morning lesson was read by Ray Scott and Dr. Browett took the morning prayer, while Principal Dunlop of the Queen Alexandria school conducted the service. Rev. Mr. Webb preached a splendid sermon on "The Character of Reuben," and directed his remarks especially to the children.

A Very Successful Year for the Imperial Bank

In this issue The Times publishes the thirty-fourth annual report and Statement of the Imperial Bank of Canada submitted to the shareholders recently at their general meeting. Speaking to the motion for their adoption, the president, Mr. D. R. Wilkie, while drawing attention to the salient features of the accounts for the past year, made some interesting and valuable comments on the general situation in Canada. On the whole his judgement supports the view expressed by other authorities, that affairs in the Dominion are decidedly on the upturn, though he administers a wholesome reminder that if Canada is to continue to participate in the distribution of British capital care must be taken that will satisfy the investor. Enterprises that depend on continuous borrowings be particularly singled out as not to be encouraged.

As regards the position of the Imperial Bank itself the record for the year to April 30 last was of an entirely satisfactory character. The net profits, after deducting charges of management and interest due depositors, and making ample provision for bad and doubtful debts and all other unascertained liabilities, amounted to $743,524 17, of which $540,539 52 was applied in payment of dividends at the rate of 11 per cent. per annum. After crediting the bank premises and furniture account with $69,921 01, the profit and loss account has been increased by $124,063 64, the balance carried forward to the current year being $509,978 26. With the addition of the premium of $34,242 50 received on the issue of new capital stock the reserve fund now stands at $5,000,000, an amount equal to the paid-up capital stock.

The continued success of the Imperial Bank of Canada is largely due to the very able and farseeing direction of the general manager, Mr. D. R. Wilkie. He is one of the best posted and one of the cleverest financiers in Canada. He is looked up to by the investing and commercial public, and is held in the highest regard by the whole staff of the bank. Under such conditions the Imperial Bank is bound to enjoy success.

Court Stanly Attended Church

A large number of the members of Court Stanley, A.O.F., attended divine service at the George street Methodist church on Sunday evening when Rev. E. A. Pearson delivered a splendid address on "An Ideal Man." The sermon was listened to with the greatest interest and the brethren were well pleased. The choir rendered special music for the occasion, and helped largely to make the service a success.

Appreciation of the Local Band

Hear! Hear!—The following paragraph taken from the St. Catharines Star-Journal, will be read with great interest;

The band of the 19th will present the musicians of the 57th with complete scores of Auber's "Masaniello," "Russian Airs," by Tenky, and "Nearer My God to Thee"—adaption by George Robinson, 19th Regiment band—as a mark of esteem in which the Peterborough band is held by the donors.

Steamer Manita on Her First Trip

The steamer Manita which was recently purchased by the Otonabee Navigation Co., to run from Burleigh to Chemong Park, made her first trip on Saturday when she brought a snow load of lumber of Lakefield. There were 60,000 feet in the cargo. After leaving the snow at Lakefield the steamer came on down to Peterborough, and will remain here until tomorrow night when she will return to Lakefield, pick up the snow and proceede up the lakes. The Manita is in command of Capt. Johnston and Mate Pearson is associated with him. The steamer is looking neat and trim and is in good shape for the season's work which promises to be a big one. The Manita's route should be very popular this year since the one company operates both the Stony Lake and Chemong routes.

First Picnic

The first picnic of the season will be held to Jackson Park next Saturday afternoon by the Mission Band of Murray street Baptist church, weather permitting.

Svanberg Won the Chicago Derby St. Yves and Tom Longboat Quit

Chicago, May 29—James J. Jeffries was the man behind the gun this afternoon in the big $10,000 Marathon Derby, which was started at 3 o'clock in the American League Baseball Park of this city.

A track eight laps to the mile was constructed in the park. The distance is 26 miles, 385 yards, and the record the champions of recent fields were represented, with the exception of Dorando Pietro. The list follows:

John J. Hayes, the winner of the last Olympic Marathon.
Henri St. Yves, winner of the two big New York races.
Tom Longboat, the Canadian Indian.
Fred Simpson, the Ojibway Indian.
John Svanberg, the Swedish champion.
Matt Mahoney, the New York runner.
Fred Appleby, holder of the 15-mile record.
Alex. Thibeau of Chicago.

St. Yves and Longboat were the favorites in the race.

THE SWEDE WON.

Chicago, May 29—John Svanberg the Swedish runner, won the big Marathon race today, easily outclassing his field. St. Yves, the French runner, quit in the fifteenth mile, and Johnny Hayes was leading at twenty miles, but could not hold out. St. Yves fell over the Swede and was carried off.

Fred Simpson, the Peterborough Indian was hopelessly distanced and never had a chance to win.

Shrubb defeated Sherring at Buffalo on Saturday in a 15 mile race.

Notes of the City Churches

ST. PAUL'S.

Monday, 8 p.m.—The Young People Guild will hold their regular monthly meeting. Subject; Hymn No. 377 from our Book of Praise, "Abide With Me."

Wednesday, 8 p.m.—The Mid-week Bible hour and prayer service, in charge of the pastor. Subject; Early life and training of Saul of Tarsus.

In two ways our services are likely to suffer during the summer months. First, many are tempted by the beautiful weather to think they can worship God just as well by taking a walk out in the country and admiring the beauties of nature. We do not say that one cannot see God and worship Him in the wonders of His handiwork, but we do say that such worshipp can never take the place of the worship of the sanctuary. Our duty to God demands that we find our way regularly to His own house. So also does our duty to our fellow church members who are sure to be there, and who will be helped by our presence. And our own highest good demands that we should not neglect the assembling of ourselves together.

Then our services and the work of the church suffers by the neglect of those who go away on their holidays to send in their offerings for the support of God's house. We should like to urge upon those who go away for the summer months that they make their offerings in advance of their holidays. If all would put the Lord first in this matter, the managers would have no difficulty in meeting their obligations.

We had hoped to conduct services this year throughout the summer and we look for the same healthful condition of church life this year.

Have you been faithfully and regularly doing your share in the matter of missionary giving? Nearly all our members have been supplied with the duplex envelope. We hope not one is failing to make a weekly offering. The Laymen's Committee ask that we give at the rate of six dollars per member for missions. This is not so big a sum as it appears to be when it is distributed in weekly offerings—just twelve cents, or a little better than two street car fares.

Rev. Mr. Pogue Home

Rev. Robt. Pogue was greeted by two large congregations in St. Paul's church yesterday. It was his first appearance in the pulpit since his return from Clifton Springs, where he spent several weeks for the benefit of his health. Rev. Mr. Pogue has completely recovered, and his congregation are delighted to have him back with them.

Was in Brantford

Rev. J. G. Potter was in Brantford yesterday as one of the special preachers in the temperance cause. A local option campaign is on in the Telephone City, and yesterday all the pulpits of the churches were filled by outside speakers. Rev. J. J. Wright of Elk City, occupied the pulpit in St. Andrew's church yesterday morning and evening.

The Poor Minister

Rev. Mr. Riddiford gave the gossip mongers and those who always have troubles a very warm rap over the knuckles on Sunday morning. As an illustration he was telling of some light gossip given to him re one of the factories when he remarked "Some people evidently think a minister is a common swill barrel for everything to be dumped into. Most of us however know more than we saw or sometimes look." Rev. Mr. Riddiford hit the nail on the head and no doubt many will feel the sting.

Mr. Richard McCallum

A well known citizen of Stirling, Ont., cured of Chronic Catarrh and irritable throat by Catarrhozone.

A remarkable case, exciting great interest in Stirling, which, if possible, adds to the popularity of Catarrhozone as a cure for Catarrh, Bronchitis and Throat Trouble.

Catarrh is one of the most disagreeable and at the same time hardest to cure diseases. This has been Mr. McCallum's experience:

"For many years," he writes, "I have suffered from Catarrh, and continually hawked and coughed, so that my throat was always in an inflamed irritable condition.

"Doctor's medicine did not help me in the least, and all other remedies I used were quite useless. In one case it was time wasted in snuffling powder up the nose; in another using a greasy ointment, and so on. Not one of them was the least bit of good.

"I heard Catarrhozone favorably spoken of and tried a sample, and it really benefitted me more in a few hours than years of treatment with doc.

"Receiving such immense benefit from the sample size, I got the complete outfit, large Hard Rubber Inhaler, etc., and but a few weeks of its use completely cured me of Catarrh and throat trouble.

"I recommend Catarrhozone as the most satisfactory Catarrh remedy on the market. Every word said about it is true.

(Signed) "Richard McCallum."

Now perhaps you need a remedy like Catarrhozone. It is the only treatment that is applied locally as well as constitutionally. The Inhaler clears the air passages, stops hawking and spitting, and purifies the breath.

The Pertosone Tablets which are used in conjunction with Catarrhozone Inhaler, drive all the poisons from the blood and build up the system to a healthy, vigorous condition.

The complete outfit costs $1 at all druggists; trial size 25c., by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont. Buy Catarrhozone to-day.

THE TWO POWER STANDARD

Premier Asquith's speech on the two-power standard for the navy seems to be the embodiment of common sense. He declares that the two-power standard is not an immutable truth like the law of gravitation, but a convenient rule of thumb applicable to the conditions under which it was made. The naval policy of the country must be modified from time to time, and it is impossible to lay down any precise rule as to the number of navies to which the British navy must be equal or superior. It is equally impossible to specify the nations to which a rule would be applicable. At the same time geography must be considered and an American or Asiatic power must be considered in a different light from an European power. In dealing with a naval power whose base is thousands of miles away, with no intermediate coaling stations, it is elementary common sense not to treat it like a power whose ports are thirty or a hundred miles distant.

Mr. Balfour criticized the Premier's statement as vague, but the fact is that it was a mistake to try to pin the premier down to a precise definition where precision is impossible. By persistent cross-examination Mr. Asquith might have induced to eliminate one power after another until only Germany and Austria were left as possible enemies of England, but such a declaration would have caused nothing but mischief. It was equally unwise to make teasing, worrying inquiries as to the attitude of the ministry in regard to the navy of the United States. The previous declarations made by Mr. Churchill and Mr. McKenna were simply expressions of confidence in the continuance of friendly relations between the United States and Great Britain. They were wise and statesmanlike, and they served a good purpose. But no good purpose is served by trying to express international friendships in a mathematical formula, or by trying to elicit a ministerial declaration as to what the United States would do in case of

If your Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are weak, try at least, a few doses only of Dr. Shoop's Restorative. In five or ten days only, the result will surprise you. A few cents will cover the cost. And here is why help comes so quickly. Dr. Shoop doesn't drug the Stomach, nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to the weak and failing nerves. Each organ has its own controlling nerve. When these nerves fail, the depending organs must of necessity falter. This plain, yet vital truth, clearly tells why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is so universally successful. Its success leading druggists everywhere to give it universal preference. A test will surely tell. Fight With Aborigines.

The treacherous murder of a beachcomber by West Australian natives and the narrow escape of his companion are reported from Perth, Western Australia. Madson and Jones, the beachcombers referred to, were in their lugger in Yampa Sound when a shore party of natives induced Jones to land and accompany them round a promotory in search of shell. A few minutes later his companion observed the natives running over the hill, but Jones failed to return. At supper-time Madson was struck from behind by a native, who had remained with him in the lugger, but he threw his assailant overboard, and on the man attempting to regain the boat fired and killed him. For two days Madson waited, but as it was clear that Jones had been murdered the survivor set sail for the nearest port.

A Novelist's Insight.

The elaborate realism of Thomas Hardy is one of the points of the novelist's genius which causes much astonishment among his admirers. On one occasion a friend was expressing his wonder to him at the manner in which he was able to enter into the intimacies of a country girl's life.

"How on earth do you do it?" said the friend. "You might almost be a country girl yourself."

"When I was a young man," explained Mr. Hardy, "I used to write love letters for the village girls to their sweethearts in India. That naturally gave me an insight into their characteristics."—Book-Lover.

A Lucky Illness.

It was owing to an illness that Sir Laurence Alma-Tadema became a painter. He was educated with the intention of making him a lawyer, but sickness cut his studies short. When confined to his bed he relieved the tedium by making little sketches. These showed so much ability that when he was well again he readily obtained his mother's permission to devote himself to painting.

Get Well First

Don't risk even a penny—until health first returns.

And I mean just exactly that.

I say the one physician who says to the sick "I will out of my own pocket pay for your medicine if it fails to bring you help!"

And for 20 years Dr. Shoop's medicines have been used and recommended in every city and hamlet in America. They are positively standard in every community—and everywhere. Then why pay the cash, and at your risk, for other unproved and uncertain medicines? Thousands upon thousands have in the past gratefully used Dr. Shoop's Restorative. When the stomach nerves, or the Heart or Kidney nerves fail, these sick ones know how quickly Dr. Shoop's Restorative will bring them back to health again. But best of all, they positively take no money risk whatever. They know that when health fails to return, Dr. Shoop will himself gladly pay the druggist for that. And for that best of all 30 day treatment is freely granted.

Then Pay

But write me first for an order.

This will save delay and disappointment.

All druggists sell Dr. Shoop's Restorative and Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy, but all are not authorized to give the 30 day test. So drop me a line always—for I have appointed an honest and responsible druggist in almost every community, everywhere, to issue my "no pay" orders in accordance with which book you below will surely open up new and helpful ideas to those who are not well. Besides you are perfectly free to consult me just as you would your home physician. My advice and the book below are yours—and without cost.

Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up some serious ailment. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private prescription or personal advice plan. My best of all is surely worth your simple request. So write me now, while you have it fresh in mind, for tomorrow never comes. Dr. Shoop, Box 15, Racine, Wis.

A HISTORIC FIND.

An Ancient Flintlock Musket Is Discovered at Kinlochleven.

Mr. H. Spencer Threlfall, one of the engineers connected with the new water power works at Kinlochleven, Scotland, made a discovery the other day in a rocky gorge of the Black Water, on the property of Mrs. Cameron Lucy, of Callart. Noticing a small, partially concealed cave on the slope of the defile, curiosity tempted him to enter the cavity, and on exploring the interior he was surprised to find on a dry shelf of rock a well-preserved specimen of an old Highland flintlock musket, together with a claymore, having a brass basket-shaped hilt. The gun, says The Glasgow Herald, is a ponderous weapon, 5 feet 3 inches in length, with a huge stock, part of which is gone through natural decay, and a portion of the sword blade is also wanting. Many beliefs have been expressed as to how and when the arms had been deposited at the spot, but as the type of weapon is that employed by the Highlanders about the beginning of the seventeenth century it is generally believed that the flintlock and sword must have belonged either to some of the MacDonalds of Glencoe or to the Callart Camerons, who were ardent supporters of the Stuart cause. On the night of the notorious massacre of Glencoe a number of those who escaped the sword of the butchers fled in this direction, and the cave in question being a safe retreat it is not unnatural to suppose that some of the fugitives may have lain concealed there for a time and left the weapons now discovered. Or, again, when the Act of discernment came into force, some of the loyal Lochaber men, rather than hand over their arms to the governor of the fort at Fort William, may have placed them [illegible] custody in the cave, which, by the way, has hitherto remained undiscovered so far as the present generation is concerned. There can be little doubt that the owner of the accoutrements must have taken part in the rising of the '45, and probably hid them in the cave after the disaster at Culloden. Altogether the discovery is one which has excited the greatest local interest. The finder has handed over the old time relic to Mrs. Cameron Lucy, the proprietrix of the land on which the cave is situated. A scion of the house of Fassifern, this lady takes a keen interest in all matters relating to Celtic history and folklore, and is highly gratified to have obtained possession of these interesting relics of Highland warfare.

Deceased Wife's Sister.

A curious anomaly has recently been brought to light in connection with the legislation permitting marriage with a deceased wife's sister. A Sydney clergyman was asked to marry a man to his deceased wife's sister's daughter. Under the ecclesiastical law the ceremony could not take place, but since marriage with the intended bride's mother would have been allowed under the civil law, surely there could be no objection to the marriage of the daughter? The point had not been raised before in New South Wales, and the clergyman was in a quandary. He sought the advice of the Vicar-General, who was of opinion that the marriage would be illegal. The registrar gave a similar judgment. Had the parties gone to South Australia, however, they could have been legally married, and what is equally remarkable, the ceremony would have been recognised as binding in New South Wales. South Australia was apparently the only portion of the Empire which, when it made marriage with a deceased wife's sister legal, also extended the right to the sister's daughter.

AN INDIAN RIOT.

Constable Bayonetted a Bull, Owner Assaulted Constable.

Details are published in the Indian press of a serious riot at Kotappakonda, near Guntur. An important Hindu festival, the Sivarutri, was attended by many thousands of pilgrims and a police force of 150 of all ranks was detailed, as usual, to keep order. The riot, according to the police version, originated in a constable bayonetting a bull which had kicked him. The owner of the bull assaulted the constable and was arrested. According to a pilgrim who witnessed the rioting, the man was leading his bull to water, and, the animal being somewhat frisky, the constable forbade him to lead it among the crowd, and struck the animal and the man. The latter is said to have retaliated by assaulting the constable with a lathi. A mob of 5,000 soon assembled, attacked the temporary police-station, and pelted the police with stones. The inspector ordered the police to fire, and, according to one account, two rioters were killed and a number wounded. Another report, however, says that the police fired away all their cartridges in the air. The constables were scattered by the mob, one peon was killed, and the temporary police station was burnt. The district superintendent of police, on receiving a message from the sub-inspector, rode to the scene, and it is reported that he found no policemen there. He was surrounded by the mob, who pelted him with stones and burnt down the house in which he sought refuge. He received four deep wounds on the head and several contused wounds on the body. Besides the two inspectors, three sub-inspectors and eight constables were seriously injured, and six constables are reported to be missing. The reserve police arrived next morning and restored order.

Poor Business.

A a political meeting in the east side of London Mr. C. T. Ritchie, then a Cabinet Minister, delivered an address, but after it was over it was found that Mr. Ritchie's overcoat had been stolen. In order to save Mr. Ritchie any annoyance Sir Thomas Dewar, the chairman of the meeting, sent the sum of 10 shillings to a certain quarter of the constituency well known as a thieves' haunt. Very shortly three overcoats were brought round to the hall. Mr. Ritchie picked out his coat from among them, the other two were honorably returned to the thieves, and everybody felt relieved that the incident had terminated so satisfactorily.

A few days afterward, when Sir Thomas Dewar was on his rounds canvassing, a man tapped him on the shoulder and asked if he could have a word or two with him.

"Certainly," answered the candidate.

"How much did you send for the coat?" he was asked.

"Ten shillings," was the reply.

"Well, guv'nor, do you call that business? I only got a shilling out of it, and I was the bloke who pinched it!"—London Standard.

Gordon's Rose-Tree.

Of the actual work of Gordon's hands at Khartoum remains but a rose-bush in the palace garden which, hewn down by the malice of his enemies, sprang to life again with the coming of spring—a type of the joyful resurrection to which the hero looked forward with that unfaltering eye. It is affectionately tended by an old Sudanese sergeant who was one of Gordon's men, and stands in the midst of an earthly paradise. In that indulgent climate, on the banks of the dark river which carries down from the cornucopia of Abyssinia the waters that fertilise Egypt, the growth of gardens is tropically exuberant. This rose-tree, says The Sunday at Home, was found blooming beside the ruins when, on the second day after its red victory at Omdurman, a British army, horse, foot, and artillery, was drawn up, in the full pomp of war, beside the last earthly habitation of Charles George Gordon, to give him, in the religions of the three kingdoms, the most solemn funeral service ever read over a general killed in battle, with one of his own old gunboats firing the tolling minute guns.

Mr. Sant and His Models.

It is now nearly thirty years ago since the doyen of the Royal Academy, Mr. James Sant, who celebrated his eighty-ninth birthday the other day, painted that famous picture, "The Soul's Awakening." It was a sudden inspiration during the visit of one of the painter's young nieces to London. Mr. Sant caught her in his studio one afternoon rapt in thought over a book she had just been reading, and "The Soul's Awakening" was the result. For "Peaches," another of Mr. Sant's well-known pictures, the artist's daughter Hilda was the model at the age of two, the radiant cheeks of the child actually suggesting comparison with the beautiful fruit she happened to be carrying in her hand.

Friend of the Poor.

The death of Dr. Bell Taylor recalls a story illustrative of the generosity and goodheartedness of the noted London oculist. Years ago the doctor was in Scarborough, and was accosted by a little blind boy who was selling matches and newspapers. The doctor looked at the lad closely. "How long have you been blind?" he asked. "A year and a half," was the reply. The result of this chance encounter was that the boy was taken to Nottingham, operated upon, and is now in full possession of his sight. This was done entirely at Dr. Bell Taylor's expense.

Temiskaming's Richest Vein Crosses Pan-Silver Property

Streak of Solid Silver a Foot thick—the Most Wonderfull Strike Made in Cobalt's Biggest Dividend Payer Continues on through Cartwright's New Mine

A vein of solid silver, a foot thick, was the sensational strike recently made in the Temiskaming mine, which within a year has developed into the biggest dividend payer in the marvelously rich Cobalt district.

The Temiskaming mine immediately adjoins Pan-Silver, B.C. Cartwright's new mine, on the northeast.

Almost coincident with this record-breaking Temiskaming strike, the continuation of the same wonderful vein was uncovered in the Columbia Cobalt, the next mine to the Pan-Silver on the southwest.

It has been positively known for months that the richest and biggest veins in the Temiskaming continue right on into the Pan-Silver, and in the light of these two recent discoveries, Mr. Cartwright declares there is every reason to believe that the drills on Pan-Silver will strike the foot-thick solid silver silver vein.

Mr. Cartwright has gone into the Pan-Silver in the same spirit in which he took up the Temiskaming when it was the most discredited working in the entire Cobalt district.

Mr. Cartwright believed in Temiskaming and the developments of three years have gloriously justified his belief.

He believes in Pan-Silver with the same faith and declares there is not the shadow of a doubt that Pan-Silver will be a better and bigger producer than its older neighbor, Temiskaming.

B. E. Cartwright knows what he is talking about. He has staked his own fortune and the fortunes of his associates on Pan-Silver.

"Within six months," he says, "we will be shipping ore from Pan-Silver."

The drills on Pan-Silver are going down steadily and surely—day and night shifts working—to the 200 foot level—the level at which rich pay ore was struck in Temiskaming—ore running $1,500 to the ton.

Even now, at a depth of 100 feet, they have struck cobalt veins averaging eight inches in thickness.

Stock in the Pan-Silver Mining Company, Ltd. (par $1.00) is selling for 60c.

It will go to par when the 200 foot development reveals the bonanza values.

That is what B. E. Cartwright says—and you can depend on it that B. E. Cartwright knows.

Pan-Silver will be another Temiskaming—but greater and better and and richer than the best Temiskaming has ever been.

A limited number of Pan-Silver shares are offered at 60c (par $1.00) in lots of 100 shares and upward.

Weary, Worn Out, Tired

If You Feel Poorly this Spring this Article is worth Considering.

Nothing in life keeps people from advancement like poor health. If the nerves are weak, if the stomach liver, bowels or kidneys, fail to work properly, healthy surely suffers. Spring is the hardest time on health —the season when the system calls for active cleansing medicine.

The best plan is to entrust your condition to a physician of reputation like Dr. Hamilton, who has had years of experience in compounding tonics. For the ills and tired feeling of spring Dr. Hamilton says nothing is better than Mandrake and Butternut Pills, and this is well proven in the case of James Burton of Lewisown. "I had grip and it left me very weak. The disease settled in my back and side, which ached day and night. I had a nagging cough. My appetite was all gone. My nerves were wrong. I could not sleep well. I struggled against growing pale, thin and weak—but it was no good. Spring drought depressions, overpowering weakness and bad headaches. But my life was spared, simply because I learned of the wonderful merit in Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. The result was marvelous. I gained rapidly, became strong, ruddy, vigorous, perfectly well. I urge every man and woman to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly.

You'll brighten up, have clearer blood, stronger nerves, better spirits after using Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. at all dealers. Guaranteed safe, sure helpful for old and young.

E. HAY, Asst. General Manager. W. MOFFAT, Chief Inspector. D. R. WILKIE, General Manager.

The usual motions were presented and carried unanimously.

The scrutineers appointed at the meeting reported the following shareholders duly elected Directors for the ensuing year; Messrs. D. R. Wilkie, Hon. Robert Jaffray, Wm. Ramsay of Bowland, Stow, Scotland; Elias Rogers, J. Kerr Osborne, Charles Cockshutt, Peleg Howland, Wm. Whyte (Winnipeg), Cawthra Mulock, Hon. Richard Turner (Quebec), Wm. Hamilton Merritt, M.D., (St. Catharines).

At a subsequent meeting of the Directors, Mr. D. R. Wilkie was re-elected President, and the Hon. Robert Jaffray, Vice-President, for the ensuing year.

SYNOPSIS OF MR. WILKIE'S ADDRESS

Gentlemen, I have much pleasure in rising to move the adoption of the Report, but before making the motion I shall draw your attention to the operations of the Bank during the past year. Our deposits have increased by about 20 per cent. from $30,150,000, to a little over $36,000,000. There has been an increase in Circulation of over $200,000, and our ordinary discount loans during the same period have increased from $23,862,812, to $26,571,955.

I am happy to say that the increase in Deposits is not confined to fluctuating Current Account balances. Our Savings Accounts show an increase of $2,500,000, indicating a very substantial improvement in the condition of affairs throughout the country. I have pleasure in drawing your attention to our conservative policy by way of maintaining at all times substantial Cash Reserves, the proportion of what is known as liquid assets being over 50 per cent. of our total Liabilities to the public.

RESERVES.

The maintenance of large reserves, while affording a sense of security to depositors and while giving confidence to shareholders, and, I may say, to Directors and to the staff, must undoubtedly curtail immediate profits, but in the long run the advantages are on the side of the safer course and ultimately lead to greater gains. We have, I am satisfied, reaped great benefits both at home and abroad from the conservative course which we adopted many years ago and which we have have endeavored to follow constantly.

STATISTICS.

We do not claim any pre-eminence for enterprise nor that we have gained more than our share of the expansion in deposits, circulation and business loans which has taken place in Canada during the year. The latest Monthly Returns to the Government indicate a total Bank Note circulation in the Dominion of $67,266,841, on 30th April, 1909, as compared with $56,712,000 on 30th April, 1908, with a total Bank Capital in 1909 of $97,149,522, as compared with $90,233,655 on the same day in 1908. Deposits in the Banks on 30th April, 1909, were $957,489,753, as compared with $851,871,716, on 30th April, 1908. This condition is in part the result of a fairly good crop in the Northwest in 1908, valued at $128,000,000, as compared with only $96,000,000 in 1907; of large expenditures on Public Works; of borrowings abroad on the part of the Dominion, Provincial and Municipal Governments; and by Railway and other Corporations; of a considerable increase in the population of the Dominion and of a steady improvement in general trade.

Our population is now stated to be 7,145,940, as compared with 6,863,500 in 1907.

The estimated acreage under crop in the three Northwest Provinces in 1908 was 10,336,970, yielding in all 238,664,000 bushels of wheat, oats, barley and other grains. This year the estimated acreage under crop is 11,200,000. Wheat seeding, although later than last year, has been finished under good conditions and there are favorable prospects of a good crop. When we look forward to the day when even 20 per cent. of the arable lands of the North-West Provinces, which are estimated to number 253,000,000 acres, of which little more than four per cent. are under crop, are put into action, can we over-estimate the results which will follow therefrom and the effect which the output will have upon the industrial progress and on the carrying trade of the Dominion.

But our grain industries are not the only ones that are adding to the wealth and prosperity of the Dominion. Our cattle are not only sufficient to meet the requirements of the ever increasing population but we exported during the year 1908, mainly to Great Britain; 162,963 cattle, value $10,872,800; 6,560,731 lbs. of butter, $1,575,877; 165,004,549 lbs. of cheese, $20,398,482; 3,296,042 lbs. of hams, $422,851; 72,179,189 lbs. of bacon, $8,415,247; 1,738,048 bbls. of flour, $7,591,517. To which has to be added 70,520,000 bushels of grain valued at $63,883,589.

I am not one of those who think that the prohibition of the importation into England of live stock is an unmixed evil. We are making more money, I believe, in feeding our young cattle than we would by their shipment and the exportation of the native grain and fodder which they consume. I shall say nothing of our lumber interests which, owing to the depression which preceded and followed the crisis of 1907, have been in a somewhat depressed condition, but the tide has turned and we have good accounts from our saw mill customers from Ontario to British Columbia; and last, but not least, let me draw your attention to the extraordinary increase in the output of our Mines. Our mineral output for 1908 is valued at $87,323,849 by the Dominion Government officials. From the Cobalt District alone there has been an increase in the value of the output of silver from $136,217 in 1904, to $9,284,869 in 1908, and this, mark you, is but the beginning of greater things to come.

The total Imports of Canada in 1908 were valued at $298,123,792, the total Exports at $261,512,159. It is estimated that there were borrowings abroad during the same period of over $200,000,000, otherwise we should have had a very stringent money market.

NEW BRANCHES.

Under our system of Banking it is impossible for an institution, having its own and the country's interests at heart, to stand still. It is our duty not only to endeavor to keep pace with the development of the country, but to foster and encourage it by extending banking facilities to still larger radii besides affording to points in the inner circles that have grown in importance, the facilities which they demand and that we are in a position to extend to them. Our desire to carry out such a policy accounts for the eight new Branches which have been opened during the year and for the ten additional Branches which are now being established.

BANK PREMISES.

Bank Premises Account, too, seems to grow notwithstanding the appropriations which we make from year to year, but this is unavoidable. I can only assure you that so far as that item is concerned it is as it stands in our Balance Sheet, one of the most profitable of our investments. We expended during the year in the purchase of property and in the construction and fitting up of buildings the sum of $169,921.01 and we have, as you have been advised, written off from the account out of the profits of the year, the sum of $69,921.01. Our policy has not been to purchase property or construct buildings improvidently, at the same time we must, in a modest way at least, provide for our requirements, but without laying ourselves open to the charge of extravagance.

BORROWINGS ABROAD.

The borrowings from or through Great Britain by the Governments, the Municipalities and the Railways of Canada have been enormous—one wonders where all the money comes from—will this easy condition and confidence continue? Some say not. A writer in a recent number of the Fortnightly Review draws a very gloomy picture of trade and finances in Great Britain.

There are those who say that the enormous taxes imposed by the British Government is driving Capital out of the United Kingdom and if so, we are no doubt sharing in its distribution; it behooves us, therefore, to invest that share in enterprises that will yield a substantial return to the investor. We must not enter upon new enterprises that depend entirely upon continuous borrowings from abroad; otherwise, sooner than we expect, perhaps in the not very distant future, the source of supply may dry up and we may be left with unfinished enterprises on our hands.

AMERICAN SILVER.

The quantities of American silver in circulation throughout the Dominion, particularly in the Western Provinces, including British Columbia, estimated by some at $2,000,000, is a blot upon our fiscal system. After all, silver coins are but tokens; the American silver dollar is worth in silver less than 50 cents, but it passes current in Canada for 100 per cent. more than its value. If silver coins are to form a part of our Currency let Canada have the benefit of the Seigniorage and let us at the same time give our new citizens an opportunity to become familiar with our national emblems. The gold and silver coinage of every self-respecting nation should form an important part of its national wealth and should be jealously guarded. It is satisfactory to know that we now have in Ottawa one of the best up-to-date and perfect Mints in the world under the management of efficient, scientific controllers and operatives. I should like to see the machinery in more constant use manufacturing coins up to the legitimate demand for gold and silver currency. Under our present Currency Laws the silver coin of the country is not redeemable in gold or legal tender notes. This condition should be remedied; moreover the old and worn currency should be withdrawn from circulation and replaced by new coins as necessity demands. American silver coins should be shipped back to the country of origin.

Words of praise have ever prevailed in advertising "copy." That a producer should wax enthusiastic over his own wares is but human. But it's the praise of the consumer that counts—and it is to a discriminating and critical public that "Cosgrave's" refers you.

It is safe to say that no product, of any kind, enjoys a more enviable reputation than does this same Cosgrave Beer of Toronto in markets where it is offered.

Natural Gas Drillers to Start Immediately

The Times learned yesterday from Mr. R. H. Leahy that the promoters of the gas drilling proposition which was submitted to the City Council last winter are now ready to sign a contract with the drillers and to have the work begun at once.

Mr. Chas. Dittman with his associates secured a franchise to do business in this city. That franchise was extended twice and the last extension was until the first of June. Thus the time expired last night and the promoters wrote to Mr. Leahy yesterday to get the time extended again. Mr. Leary interviewed several aldermen and being assured that the request would no doubt be granted it is expected that the contract for drilling will be awarded this week and work started immediately.

Factory for Colonial Weaving Co. Started

The ground for the new Colonial Weaving factory was broken yesterday morning and the work will be rushed ahead. The lot is facing Rink street, and is between Rubidge street and the C.P.R. line, into the C.G.E. works. The contractors are Messrs. Langford and Sheehy. They were present when the horses and scoops began the work of digging out the cellar for the foundation. The building will be 200 feet 9 inches by 50 feet 9 inches. It will be two storeys high and will have several extensions. The work will be pushed through the summer, but no statement has been given out as to when it will be completed. The location is practically east of the C.G.E. works and adds another building to a locality which is a veritable manufacturing center.

The preliminary work was begun with a large number of horses and men, and the activities attracted a number of others.

Power from Burleigh at One Third Cost of Niagara Power

Mr. R. J. McLaughlin, K.C., and Mr. J. A. Culverwell, who waited on the City Council, which met in Committee of the Whole last week and presented a proposition regarding the sale of Burleigh Falls power to the city. For the present, however, it was decided by the council not to make the price public.

Mayor Rush presided and all the aldermen were present except Ald. Morgan and Ald. McIntyre.

The following letter from Mr. McLaughlin was read;

Re Burleigh Falls—

May 19, 1909.

H. Rush, Esq., Mayor,

And to the aldermen of the City of Peterborough;

Gentlemen,—I am authorized by the Central Ontario Power Company, Ltd., to offer for sale to you the property of the company at Burleigh Falls comprising their lands and water power rights held in fee simple and the agreement with the Government of the Dominion of Canada which gives the company an absolute control of the water power at that place subject only to the rights of the Government of Canada for navigation purposes for the price of ——— in the four per cent. debentures of the City of Peterborough or at the option of the city in cash.

Yours truly,

R. J. McLAUGHLIN.

May 19, 1909.

H. Rush, Esq., Mayor,

Dear Sir,—In reference to the resolution passed by your council on the 6th inst., I am enclosing you herewith an offer for the sale of Burleigh Falls properties. I am also enclosing an original report of Andrew F. MacCallum, C.E., consulting engineer, also city engineer for the city of Hamilton.

In connection with this officer I wish to make the following observations: The title of the company to the Burleigh Falls power is originally a fee sample. It is not in the ordinary sense "leased power," as the Government of Canada never expropriated Burleigh Falls, consequently the title of the company is similar to that of the powers in the city of Peterborough and at Nassau which were not expropriated, but instead of compensation for the diversion of water for canal purposes the owners of the Burleigh Falls powers have accepted an agreement with the Dominion of Canada for the use of the Government dam at that point. This agreement was drawn for sixty years and there is nominal rental of one dollar a year. At the expiration of the sixty years the power does not revert to the government and the government would not be in a position to give the power to anyone else as the company owns in fee simple the water power rights and it is expressly provided that this agreement shall not affect the title which the company otherwise has to the property. The effect of the agreement is merely to define the rights of the company and the government. At this price the city would be paying an equivalent of a rental of five thousand dollars a year for Burleigh for four thousand horse power. I think we must assume that the price the government

Brigade Turned Out in 32 Seconds

The fire department had a very early turnout yesterday morning and they made such quick time that Fire Chief Cass very agreeably surprised. The alarm was a false one, rung in by the chief for practice purposes. He arose early and to see what time the men could make he turned in the alarm. At the time all hands were asleep but according to a stop watch they were hooked up and the rigs were on the street in just 32 seconds. This is going some and the men are to be congratulated.

Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on a severe varicocele. When I overtaxed myself the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I considered to look upon all doctors as little better than fakers. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skilful. I wrote them and got The New Method Treatment. My progress was marvelous, slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a perfect cure. I could only earn $18 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $36 and never lose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment.

Peterborough! It is Up to You!

A Big Vote for the By-Law Means an Industrial Awakening

Vote today for the Purity Ware Ware bylaw. It is now up to the citizens of Peterborough. Everything, so far as the company is concerned has been completed up to the point of the passage of the bylaw. The Times was assured last night that Purity Ware Limited would be carried through to a successful finish if Peterborough says so. The factory will be second to none in Canada. The goods mentioned in the by-law to be manufactured are only a few of the lines that will be manufactured. There are many articles largely used now in the Dominion and for which there is an increasing demand, that as yet are not made in the country, but are all imported from the United States.

The Times has also been informed that another large manufacturing concern from Pittsburg has a representative here to see how the people treat the Purity bylaw. If it is carried by a good big majority then the city's chances to land this enterprise are greatly increased.

As has already been announced a steel rolling mill will be established along with Purity Ware. That announcement was not one of fiction. It is a real fact. The same financial interests behind Purity Ware will control the steel mills.

We have got the American factories coming our way. We have the capitalists coming our way. Let us go out to meet them and welcome them to Peterborough.

Vote for Purity Ware bylaw today and you will do your duty. Only those who do vote are doing their duty.

Agriculture at Norwood School

As a result of the deputation from the County Council that waited upon the Ontario Legislature last winter in regard to having agriculture taught in the High School at Norwood, the deputy minister of Education gave notice yesterday morning that the request would be complied with and that an appropriation of $1,200 a year had been set apart for the purpose of paying the expense incurred.

The Farmers' Institute of East Peterborough and the Board of Education of Norwood, at the last session of the County Council urged upon the necessity of having agriculture taught in the High School of Norwood, and it is a matter of great satisfaction to these bodies to know that their request has been granted.

The teaching of the subject will likely be inaugurated at the opening of the fall term, September 1st.

Stayed Day and a Half Up Among the Clouds

Schweinfurt, Germany, May 31.—The zeppelin II passed over Schweinfurt at half-past three o'clock this morning on her way back to Friedrichshafen from Bitterfeld.

The vessel left the floating shed on Lake Constance a little after 9 o'clock Saturday night. The objective was Berlin, where Emperor William eagerly awaited the arrival of the count. But the dirigible got only as far as Bitterfeld, some 400 miles from the starting place, and there decided to return.

There are on board Count Zeppelin himself, two engineers, and a crew of seven men. The airship has now been sailing aloft for something over thirty hours without stopping.

SURPRISED FARM WORKERS.

Wurtemburg, Germany, May 31.—The Zeppelin airship passed over Wurtemburg at five o'clock this morning, flying low in a southerly direction.

The early workers in the fields were astonished at the sudden appearance of the ship and turned from their labors to watch it disappear in the direction of Friedrichshafen.

STILL FLYING AT 8 A.M.

Berlin, May 31.—The Zeppelin was sighted near here at ten minutes past eight o'clock this morning.

Stuttgart, May 31.—Zeppelin III., with the count and his two engineers and a crew of seven men on board, came down in a meadow near Unter Turkheim this morning. The landing was most successful.

Zeppelin's performance shows the value airships might be for war purposes. It indicates that ere long, nations may be invaded by flying squadrons in reality. His trip lasted a full day and a half and in that time he covered 700 miles without landing, by far the most spectacular performance in aeronautics yet given by man.

The voyage began under rather unfavorable conditions. There was a lowering sky, rain clouds, and a strong side wind, when the airship left the floating hall shortly after nine o'clock last night.

It was announced and widely distributed in special editions of the newspapers that the count would come to Berlin and land at the Tempelhof parade grounds. Hundreds of thousands gathered there yesterday afternoon. The Emperor and Empress, several of the Princess, and the leading military officials and officers were present, and towards evening searchlights were set to work, in anticipation of the approach of the airship. Soldiers kept an enormous space cleared until 10.30 at night, when a despatch from Bitterfeld announced that the airship was returning to the starting point at Friedrichshafen, which caused the most intense disappointment.

The airship came down lightly, but immediately rose again and continued its journey towards Friedrichshafen. It passed Ensslingen at 9.25, Bloehingen at 10 o'clock and Kroheim below Teck at 10.15 a.m.

Britain Eager to Buy Powder Invented by Canadian

London, May 31.—A Canadian inventor is stopping at a London hotel and being closely guarded by secret service men, day and night, on behalf of the admiralty, with whom he is endeavoring to negotiate a deal for a powerful explosive.

It is understood that the inventor has already received a fat check from the admiralty by way of option.

The inventor declined to be interviewed on the subject by the Canadian Associated Press.

Germany is said to be also anxious to secure this new explosive.

BRITAIN MAY HAVE TO FIGHT

London, May 31.—Lord Esher, speaking at Callender in Perthshire, referred to the recent trend of events in Europe and the near east. He said his earnest conviction was that unless the governments of Britain and of the overseas dominions took strong and immediate steps, the boys he was addressing would have to fight for the freedom of Britain and the freedom of Europe.

Why Children's Aid Should be Supported

The Children's Aid Society is sending out printed matter, giving five reasons why citizens should support it. The reasons quoted are given as follows;

Because the sorrows of a little child must touch your heart.

Because you would not allow a child of your own to be ill-treated.

Because the society is a legally constituted organization for the protection of children.

Because thousands of children have been benefitted in the past—and a still greater preventive work is possible.

Because the society's aim is to educate parents to love and appreciate their children; to find homes for the homeless, and to befriend and uplift young people who have fallen into evil ways.

Oshawa will Have Y.M.C.A. Association

Some time ago it was announced in these columns that the Y.M.C.A. of Oshawa, were holding a four-day campaign to raise $15,000 for the purpose of erecting a building. The campaign is now over and the committee in charge were successful in securing $16,000 or $1000 more than asked. In the first three days $13,000 were raised and the fourth day $3000 was subscribed. In addition to this it is expected that another $1,000 will be received from one of the large interests in the town. Mr. Himmelman of the local Y.M.C.A. took part in the proceedings by saying that he was a Berlin boy but trying to all intents and purposes he was a Canadian and Oshawa is assured of a handsome structure.

The Business Men are Organized

A number of influential citizens met in the Bank of Montreal chambers last night and organized themselves into a committee to look after the vote today on the Purity Ware bylaw. Every poll in the city will be manned by officials who will work hard to get out a very large vote. The people are fully awake to the importance of the Purity Ware bylaw, and there is little doubt but that it will carry. The object is to bring out a vote that will surpass all other bylaw votes. The result of today's ballots will have a great effect upon future industries looking for a Canadian location. So every man and woman who has a vote should mark his ballot today, and mark it in every polling division or who owns property.

How Germany Forges Ahead Fine New Naval Yards

London, May 29. — The splendid equipment and great resources of Germany's shipyards are the subject of an article by Mr. T. Good, in the Engineering Review. It is pointed out that the Germans "are rapidly forging ahead while we are doing little more than marking time—they are rapidly overtaking us in the race.

"New capital is being literally lavished upon shipbuilding and kindred works. Of the additional £47,000,000 of capital invested in German industrial concerns these last two years the greater part has gone into steel, engineering armament, and shipbuilding plants.....The Weser yard at Bremen has quite recently been extended and equipped to permit of the construction of four large ships at a time.....Krupp's yard at Kiel has been considerably extended, and is probably among the three best in the world now."

The capacity of Krupp's will be understood from the fact that eight or ten of the largest ships can be accommodated on the stocks at the same time.

While the private yards have advanced by leaps and bounds, the Government dockyards have not been neglected.

"The Imperial dockyards at Kiel and Wilhelmshaven are being brought up to the highest possible pitch of efficiency. At the latter place..... three dry docks each capable of docking a 25,000 ton battleship are rapidly approaching completion..... The place is being strongly fortified, and is connected by rail direct with Krupp's armament works at Essen."

One of the reasons why Germany is going to fast ahead is "the continuity of naval policy in that country. While our government pursues what is little better than a hand-to-mouth system of new construction, affording our shipbuilders and armament makers but scant encouragement to maintain a productive capacity commensurate with our national needs, Germany has a continuous, progressive, and long-ranged policy, enabling her builders and makers of war materials to measure with almost mathematical exactitude the amount of work that will be available several years ahead."

Two Tillsonburg Men were Killed By Bulls

Tillsonburg, May 31.—Wm. Boughner, a well-known farmer of Bayham, who resided a few miles from here, was on Friday attacked by a young bull he was leading to water and so badly injured that he died on Sunday. Mr. Boughner made a brave fight for his life. When he saw the animal growing restless he went to the barn and got a pitchfork with which to drive the bull back into the barn. The animal charged on him and threw him down, but the man was on his feet again in an instant and struck at the bull with all his might with the fork. He kept the animal at bay for a time and tried to reach a fence, and had almost done so when the bull jumped at him and threw him down and trampled and gored him viciously. He was rescued by members of his family, but died without recovering consciousness.

ANOTHER FATALLY HURT

Tillsonburg, May 31—On Thursday, Harvey McKenney, another prominent farmer of Bayham, residing near Corinth, was attacked by a bull and is so severely injured that he cannot live. Mr. McKenney's son had left the animal in a yard while he went back to the barn. McKenney had in the meantime entered the yard, and it is supposed was attacked from behind.

Vote in Favor of The Purity Ware By-Law Today

Everyone who does not vote is against it. The aldermen have spent a lot of time in looking into this project, and they are satisfied that it is in the interest of the city that the bylaw should be carried.

If all the conditions of the bylaw are not complied with, that will be the end of it, and the city will not have to bear the expense, as the city clerk holds a marked check for $250 for that purpose.

We must have new manufacturers; this is a good proposition and if the ratepayers turn it down, the council will understand that the people do not wish them to try to get other factories here.

Support the bylaw and trust to the city solicitor and to the aldermen to see that the interests of the city are safely protected. It behooves every citizen to see to it that the bylaw is carried.

The small town of Strathroy granted $20,000 to the Royal Furniture Co. on Friday last, by a majority of 84 over the required two-thirds vote.

Vote for the bylaw today.

A Word in Season, Keep Off the Grass!

As a simple matter of duty we desire to give public warning that there is a huge and ferocious householder in Peterborough, who says he is going to keep all-night watch tonight for the milkman who crosses his lawn, treads his hedge, and crushes his flowers. He does not know whether the offender is his own or his neighbor's milkman, but has no doubt the men's employers will be able to identify his remains by means of his laundry number or the tickets in his pouch. As we are unable to warn milkmen as to the location of this angry citizen's residence, the wise course would be for all milkmen, grocery, butcher, peddler, and other persons engaged in delivering goods, to be careful tomorrow morning, and, indeed, for other mornings as well.

At this time of year the citizen in vain of his lawn, his plants and shrubs. He watches and tends them with a care that, in most cases, they will not get later in the season when they will need it more. It is a moving sight, of a May evening to see a newly-married man working his first lawn mower over the joints and crevices of a freshly-sodden lawn, and hurriedly operating his nice, new coil of hose, before a downpour of rain drives him in with his work unfinished. To see him again in the morning trying to prop up one parasol so that it will protect from the hot rays of the sun his two tomato plants, newly set out, a sight that would, we think, move the hearts even of men who leave milk, vegetables and huge foot-prints around the side entrances in the residential parts.

These citizens will not be trifled with always. At this time of year while the passion for growing gardens and keeping perfect lawns is strong within them, they are capable of doing desperate things—such as raising all their own vegetables, using condensed milk and home-made bread. Should they meet with discouragement in these efforts they may give way to personal hatred of those who, for a short cut and to save a few steps, will crush down a man's crops, and make a highway through his hand-sown harvest.

Something must be done to abate this evil. Why should the butcher and the grocer and the milkman and the baker, who are favored with a citizen's orders, prove to be his bitterest enemies by treading down his plants and grass, after the citizen has paid the paper an exorbitant price for having a walk for those men to use? It is not giving the customer a square deal, and a stop should be put to it.

MONEY NO OBJECT

When People are Seeking Health or RELIEF from any DISEASE the Price Never Counts.

It is a fact that not less than a million is spent every year by people seeking a satisfactory cure for Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably the best and most highly recommended preparation is Catarrhozone which treats the local symptoms very effectually by means of medicated air supplied through a convenient hard rubber inhaler. The poisons in the blood are driven off by Ferrozone Tablets, which are taken after each meal. They promote appetite, aid digestion, and make the blood rich and pure, so that it will nourish all parts of the body.

This combined local and constitutional treatment in catarrhal diseases has met with wonderful success and can be relied upon to cure every time. The inhaler stops sneezing, coughing, droppings in the throat, and brings quick relief and cure to all the disagreeable symptoms of catarrh.

The following testimonials from well-known Canadians furnish abundant proof what Catarrhozone accomplishes in stubborn cases.

Mrs. James Tweedie, of Jay Bridge, says: "For years my daughter doctored unsuccessfully for Catarrh. She had droppings in the throat, hawkings, nausea, and could not sleep at night. The first day's use of Catarrhozone benefited and ultimately cured my daughter so that Catarrh has never returned. I can recommend Catarrhozone as a grand remedy for Catarrh."

Thousands of strong letters could be given like the above if necessary, but all this is required to prove the merit of Catarrhozone is a trial. It is sure as death to cure and if it fails your money will be refunded. Catarrhozone cured lots of cases worse than yours and can do it again.

PLAN FOR SUMMER VACATION

In this country the majority of men save something out of their incomes against a rainy day. A good many of them keep on saving from year long after the fear of a rainy day has passed.

To save is a good and prudent provision for misfortune and old age; but the present has its rights as well as the future. Of the great number of men that save, few ever really have the use of their savings.

To most men death comes before they have retired on their money and while they are still adding to their pile.

Why not, then, borrow a little from the future? After all it is just as pleasant to have a rest and recreation this year as to have them when one is seventy and cannot enjoy them.

Moreover, there is a fair certainty of being alive this summer; but if one waits until one is seventy death may intervene and cheat one of the expected pleasures.

It is curious how many families stay at home because they think they cannot afford to travel, while families whose income is no larger go where they have a mind to go, get much enjoyment out of life, and never lack food or comfort to the end.

There is a middle way, a golden mean, between parsimony and extravagance. Wealth is not, well saved which costs health or a dull life.

He is a poor man indeed, who cannot afford to buy some amusement, and recreation while able to enjoy them.

charged for the power it owns is reasonable. The government's price would be two dollars per horse power or say at least six thousand dollars per annum, so you will see that the company is offering you the power at a considerably lower annual charge than it could be obtained from the government and a considerably lower charge than what is paid by the lessees of government power on the Ottawa river. It may be said that this power is situated further away from Peterborough than some of the small powers that have been leased by the government and developed nearer the city of Peterborough but the extra cost of transmission lines is much more than offset by the economy in the development of a large body of power and lower proportionate cost of operation. It will cost very little more to operate a plant of four thousand horse power than for one of a thousand. It is no harder work for men to charge to look upon the flow of Burleigh Falls pass into the turbines than it would be on one of the little powers.

I think if we were to offer you the lease of ten hundred or twelve hundred horse power at two dollars a horse power on the river you would very quickly take it.

This matter is larger by far than too large for the personal interests of your city. In looking over the engineer's report I think you will come to the same conclusion that I have done that is that his figures are very conservative, that the prices put down for power house and other matters of developments are sufficiently large to cover all contingencies. We desire that this should be so.

You will notice the engineer's report figures three thousand five hundred and fifty horse power delivered at Peterborough for an annual energy that is exceedingly low, in round numbers about $7.50 a horse power. This we think, cannot be excelled anywhere. It is about one-third of the cost of Niagara power to the western cities of Ontario. In considering Burleigh and comparing it with any of the powers on the Ottawa river, it must be especially borne in mind that the reservoir given Burleigh a great additional value by enabling the water to be stored during the period of low head at night, and so a result gives much additional power during the working day. Then the large area of storage also spreads the freshet and prevents this power from suffering from back water as the others do. The reservoir above will also have the effect of preventing a temporary interference with the flow of the water by reason of lockages, which will often seriously lessen the river powers. I am not saying anything about the greatly increased head that will be given to this power when the proposed new dam is erected and the enormous reservoir will there be behind it. If your city accept this proposition you will be obtaining a power sufficiently large to be economically operated and to enable you to offer the highest inducements possible to incoming manufacturers, namely, cheap power for all time to come. You will be obtaining the power at a lower annual rate than the Dominion Government have been charging the other power companies, and at the same time you will be obtaining a power that will have forty or fifty per cent. more actual efficiency than a power power of the same head.

You will note that Engineer MacCallum's figures are $7.50 for horse power for twenty-four hours yearly delivered, transformed and ready for the rails.

Yours truly,
R. J. McLAUGHLIN.

Tell Some Sick One

It Is Free If It Fails.

Will you do an act of Humanity!

Will you tell some sick friend of this, my remarkable offer!

Tell him or her, that you have learned of a medicine so certain that the maker dare say to the sick, "It is absolutely and unconditionally free if it fails."

And you, no doubt, already know of Dr. Shoop's Restorative and its popularity.

For 20 years it has been the standard remedy for Stomach, Kidney and Heart ailments everywhere in America.

When the "inside" or controlling nerves of these vital organs begin to fail, it is Dr. Shoop's Restorative that has quickly vitalized, and strengthened, and brought these nerves and organs back to health again.

I do not dose the Stomach, nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys—for that is all wrong.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes direct to the cause of these ailments—the failing, faltering, inside or controlling nerves. And herein lies the keynote to my success.

When these nerves are again made well and strong, then that is the certain end of all such sickness.

To me it is a great satisfaction that I am the only physician able to say to the suffering sick, "Take my prescription for full 30 days, and if it fails to help you, the entire expense is mine—not yours."

Then why should the sick take any chance on any other medicine, whose maker dare not back it just as I do by this remarkable offer?

I also have a Rheumatic Remedy—and that remedy is covered by the same identical "No help, no pay" protective plan.

Besides, you are free to consult me just as you would your home physician. My advice and the book below are yours—and without cost.

Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up some serious ailment. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private prescription or personal advice plan. My best effort is surely worth your simple request.

So let me send you an order at once. Take the message to some sick friend.

A postal will bring the opportunity.

I will have an honest and trustworthy druggist to whom you can conveniently go for the 30 day test.

But first, ask me for the order, for all druggists are not authorized to give the 30 day test.

So write me now and save all delays. Remember that tomorrow never comes. Address Dr. Shoop, Box 12, Racine, Wis.

"CHRISTIE'S" SALES.

Romance Clings to World's Most Famous Auction Rooms.

For generations the famous Saturday afternoon sales at "Christie's," London, have been almost a national institution. During a period of over a hundred and forty years the fashionable world has gathered at the sale rooms, through which some of the most highly valued art treasures have passed.

History has been made, the map of Europe has changed, wars and rumors of wars have startled the nations, but every Saturday afternoon a gathering of art lovers has assembled to forget the outside world for a while.

Here have been seen all the famous men of the time, the dandies in their day, fastidious, perhaps knowing that regular attendance at "Christie's" gave them a reputation for "culture"; politicians, artists, poets, princes from all lands, millionaires from America—all have known the Saturday sales, since the day when Lord Chesterfield drove to one in a state coach, drawn by six horses, and set the fashion.

Some have watched their own treasures, maybe heirlooms which only grim necessity could have made them sell, pass from their possession for ever in these rooms.

That is the tragic side of life, as seen at a great sale. During the French Revolution many emigrant nobles saw their family treasures fought over by English bidders in these rooms.

What a tale the famous rostrum could tell about these Saturday gatherings!

But at last a change has been made. After this month the famous sales are to take place on Friday.

Spring and motor-car have combined to allure the fashionable world away from London at the end of the week, so one more conservative institution becomes modified and changed. The experiment was first made last year, and having proved successful is to be tried again this spring.

Volumes might, of course, be written about the pictures and articles of art that have been sold in the famous rooms.

Perhaps the most sensational sale that ever took place, from the mere money standpoint, was that of the Hamilton Palace collection.

On that occasion the auctioneer was engaged for seventeen days before the entire collection had been sold, and at the end of the sale a sum of close on $2,000,000 had been realised.

Other great sales were those of the Magniac collection in 1892, when $515,200 was realised; the Manley Hall collection, which brought $750,000; and the Lyne Stephens collection, which was sold for $567,200.

Among the great pictures sold in recent times in this art market of the world may be mentioned Gainsborough's "Maria Walpole," which was knocked down at $63,565; Raeburn's portrait of his wife, $43,500; Turner's "Rape of Europa," $33,600; and Rubens' "Madonna and Child with St. John," $37,195.

There are romances also of pictures that have been picked up for very small sums, and when sent to "Christie's" have brought small fortunes to the lucky owners. "The Stanhope Children" was one of these lucky finds. One man became possessed of it for the sum of $147, and sold it at "Christie's" for $33,000. Another bought Hoppner's portrait of Lady Waldegrave for $120, and when it was offered at "Christie's" obtained $34,000 for it.

Lord Wemyss's Golfing Fads.

In spite of his ninety years, Lord Wemyss is still a keen golfer. He was instrumental in starting the golf club on Wimbledon Common about 1868, but when it was made obligatory by a bylaw of the Wimbledon Conservators for the golfers to wear a red coat, Lord Wemyss rebelled, and his set of clubs still stands in mute resignation in his locker, tied round with a piece of twine. Objection to the wearing of the red coat was not the only golfing peculiarity of Lord Wemyss. He strongly objected to the employment of irons as cutting up the turf. To obviate the scarring of the links with irons, he invented a new approaching wooden club with a brass sole and a lofted face, which he humorously christened "The Unionist." On being asked to give a reason for the name, he wittily answered, "Because it does not wear the green."

A Feat of Navigation.

Capt Harden, of the British steamer Alleghany, 2,749 tons, recently brought his ship safely into Trinidad after a most trying experience. The steamer sailed from New York on Jan. 27 for the River Plate with a full cargo of considerable value and a consignment of specie amounting to $1,000,000. Terrible weather was met with, during which the whole of the deck cargo was lost, and the main shaft was broken. All hands from captain to cook joined in the attempt to repair the shaft. This work was finished in a fashion in nine days, and the steamer was then able once more to crawl slowly ahead. She is now lying in the harbor waiting the receipt from England of the material's necessary for repairs. The gold has been landed and placed in safe keeping.

To Help the Settler.

Five parties have been sent into the field by the Canadian Pacific to complete the inspection of profitable agricultural, fruit-growing, and timber areas in Southern British Columbia, an estimated area of 25,000 so that definite and reliable information may be at the disposal of intending settlers as to the land suitable for development. Records of this inspection will be kept, probably at Calgary.

The Fusil.

"Fusil" was the old name for the flintlock to distinguish it from the matchlock, and fusileers were those who carried fusils.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

FOOLED THE ROBBERS

An Incident of the Days of Stage-coach Holdups.

QUICK WIT OF PAT CLOHESY.

The Trick by Which the Old Time Mining Man of Colorado Saved Himself and Sacrificed His Fellow Travelers and the Story Sequel.

"When the passengers in the old coaching days found themselves in the clutches of the 'road agents' they instinctively hurried, during the short time that driver and guard were being put in a proper state of helplessness, to secret money and valuables in the first safe place that suggested itself," said a veteran Colorado mining man. "But such precautions were useless, for there was small time and smaller opportunity of place to hide anything in a mere shell of a coach. If a man was found without money, they stripped him and searched the stage as well.

"The experience of Pat Clohesy, an old time mining man of Colorado, is historic. One afternoon he took the stage from Silver Cliff camp, bound for the railroad, sixty miles away. In the coach were a dozen other passengers, none of whom knew him. As they reached the narrowest part of the gorge that leads out of Wet Mountain valley a loud command of 'Hold up your hands!' brought the stage to a sudden standstill and every passenger in it to a swift realization that unless quick action was taken he would go broke. One crammed his wad of bills down his boot leg; another thrust his roll down the back of his neck; a third took off his hat, put his wallet inside and set it back on his head. Every man Jack of them attempted to secrete his money except Pat Clohesy, and Pat sat perfectly quiet.

"In a few moments a rifle barrel appeared at the window, and there came the order, 'Hands up and all out!' Out the passengers tumbled and stood in line with lifted hands. Pat at the far end. When the searching highwayman went through the first man he found nothing. Irritated at this, he started through the second, with the same lack of success. Angry at this, the bandit turned to his fellow robber, who stood covering the line with his Winchester.

"'They have been tryin' to hide their stuff, d—n 'em!' he exclaimed. 'We'll just make 'em strip, and then we'll go through the stage. They'll pay for puttin' us to all this trouble!'

"Then up spoke Pat Clohesy from the far end of the line. 'Gentlemen,' he said, addressing the highwaymen, 'I know you're in a hurry, and I know I'm a poor miner with all my property in the world—just the $15 I've got—in my pocket. If you'll leave me that little roll, I'll tell you where these other fellows have hidden their swag, so's you can collect it quick and skip out. Is it a bargain?'

"'Sure,' said the man with the guarding rifle. 'Fifteen dollars meant nothing to the band compared to the risk. 'Well,' said Pat, pointing to the first in line, 'that fellow's money is stuffed down his right boot leg.'

"The holdup investigated and drew forth a plump roll of bills from the boot leg. 'That next man,' went on Pat, 'has got his money hid under the hind seat in the stage.' The bandit found a fat wallet stuffed under the cushion. 'The next has got his money in his hat, and the next crammed his stuff down the back of his neck, and the next'— Pat went down the line of them, while the highwayman drew forth money from all manner of places. Swiftly collecting their booty, they bundled the passengers back in the coach, set driver and guard back on their seats and told them to go ahead, not, however, before they had given Pat a twenty dollar bill and a hearty slap on thanks on his Irish back.

"The storm that broke over his head inside that coach after it had rolled a safe distance from the bandits threatened his very life before he could get a hearing. Had it not been that the robbers had disarmed them all and Pat was a huge man he never would have got away alive.

"'Each of you figure up just how much you've lost,' he said to his fellow passengers when at last they would listen, 'and I'll pay you back not only what that is, but an equal amount in addition, for the bother I've given you,' and he pulled from an inner vest pocket a huge roll of bills. In bewilderment the travelers counted up their losses. Collectively it was about $1,000. Pat peeled off two $1,000 bills from the bulky mass of money and, handing them to a responsible passenger, asked him to make correct division when they reached the railroad.

"'I'm sorry for the unpleasant quarter hour I caused you,' he continued, 'but it was the only thing I could do to save myself. I have just sold a mine back in Silver Cliff for $60,000 cash and had no other way to bring the money out except in my pocket. Here is the bundle of it,' and he held up the fat roll. 'When I heard the holdups outside I thought it was all up, for you can't hide money from those bounds. But when you fellows pulled out your money to hide it and I saw that none of you had any large amount I thought I would work a game on the road agents and give you a way to the hills in order to save myself. I surely did! They've got $1,000, but I've saved my money!'"—Washington Post.

Zam-Buk is blessed by thousands who used to suffer from piles, but whom it has cured. One such grateful person is Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor, of Greenwood Avenue, Toronto. She says:—"For four long years I suffered acutely from bleeding piles. During that time I spent an immense amount of money on 'remedies' and doctor's prescriptions but got no ease. Zam-Buk was different to everything else I had tried, and it cured me. I am grateful for the cure, and as I have never had piles once since, I know the cure is permanent."

Another thankful woman is Mrs. E. A. Gardiner, of Catalina, Trinity Bay. She says:—"In my case Zam-Buk effected a wonderful cure. For twelve years I had been troubled with blind, bleeding, and protruding piles. I had been using various kinds of ointments, etc., but never came across anything to do me good until I tried Zam-Buk, which cured me. That this may be the means of helping some sufferers from piles to try Zam-Buk, is the wish of one who has found great relief."

HE SPREAD OUT.

Advice the Roofer Got From His Boss in Apprentice Days.

The man was working on the side of a steeply sloping roof. All of a sudden his foot slipped, and, with a groan, he began to slide down slowly toward the edge.

As he slid he clutched with tense fingers at the tin, but it was smooth. It offered him no hold, and his speed gradually but surely increased.

As in a sitting posture, like a tobogganer, the man continued his deadly slide he began to pray in a loud, anguished voice.

Memory, as if in answer to his prayer, flashed across his brain the words: "Spread out."

The man instantly lay flat on his back, spreading arms and legs to their widest angle, making himself as much as possible like a starfish. And his speed at once decreased. The additional friction surface acted like a brake. A few feet from the edge of the roof he came to anchor.

"Help!" he then shouted.

But the slight movement of shouting acted like a push, and he slipped down a few inches more.

"Help!" And again he slid a little.

But this time help came. A rope was thrown, and the man climbed back to safety.

He wiped the dews of terror from his brow.

"My boss in my apprentice days," he said, "told me if I ever started sliding down a roof slope to spread out and it would stop me. I didn't believe him; out, by jingo, he was right."

The man smiled and sighed, musing on his long dead boss. Then he crawled back to his dangerous work on the steep slope of the roof.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

A Dubious Tribute.

The young theological student who had been supplying the Bushby pulpit for two Sundays looked wistfully at Mrs. Kingman, his hostess for the time being. "Did you like the sermon this morning, if I may ask?" he inquired.

"You done real well with the material you selected," said Mrs. Kingman, with much cordiality. "As I said to Zenas on the way home, I've heard a dozen or more sermons preached on that text, and this young man's the first one that ever made me realise how difficult 'twas to explain'."

Her One Desire.

The pensioned off "faithful nurse" in an aristocratic family took a mournful pleasure in keeping the "In Memoriam" cards which were from time to time sent her. On one occasion "the daughter of the house," visiting the old lady's cottage, noticed the collection so ostentatiously displayed. "Ah, yes, miss, I keeps 'em all!" said the aged nurse. "I've got your pore par's and your mar's and your brother William's and your sister Carry's, and if I only had yours I think I could die 'appy!"—London Standard.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Temiskaming's Richest Vein Crosses Pan-Silver Property

Streak of Solid Silver a Foot thick—the Most Wonderfull Strike Made in Cobalt's Biggest Dividend Payer Continues on through Cartwright's New Mine

A vein of solid silver, a foot thick, was the sensational strike recently made in the Temiskaming mine, which within a year has developed into the biggest dividend payer in the marvelously rich Cobalt district.

The Temiskaming mine immediately adjoins Pan-Silver, B.C., Cartwright's new mine, on the northeast.

Almost coincident with this record-breaking Temiskaming strike, the continuation of the same wonderful vein was uncovered in the Columbia Cobalt, the next mine to the Pan-Silver on the southwest.

It has been positively known for months that the richest and biggest veins in the Temiskaming continue right on into the Pan-Silver, and in the light of these two recent discoveries, Mr. Cartwright declares there is every reason to believe that the drills on Pan-Silver will strike the foot-thick solid silver silver vein.

Mr. Cartwright has gone into the Pan-Silver in the same spirit in which he took up the Temiskaming when it was the most discredited working in the entire Cobalt district.

Mr. Cartwright believed in Temiskaming and the developments of three years have gloriously justified his belief.

He believes in Pan-Silver with the same faith and declares there is not the shadow of a doubt that Pan-Silver will be a better and bigger producer than its older neighbor, Temiskaming.

B. E. Cartwright knows what he is talking about. He has staked his own fortune and the fortunes of his associates on Pan-Silver.

"Within six months," he says, "we will be shipping ore from Pan-Silver."

The drills on Pan-Silver are going down steadily and surely—day and night shifts working—to the 200 foot level—the level at which rich pay ore was struck in Temiskaming—ore running $1,500 to the ton.

Even now, at a depth of 100 feet, they have struck calcite veins averaging eight inches in thickness.

Stock in the Pan-Silver Mining Company, Ltd. (par $1.00) is selling for 60c.

It will go to par when the 200 foot development reveals the bonanza values.

That is what B. E. Cartwright says—and you can depend on it that B. E. Cartwright knows.

Pan-Silver will be another Temiskaming—but greater and better and richer than the best Temiskaming has ever been.

A limited number of Pan-Silver shares are offered at 60c (par $1.00) in lots of 100 shares and upward.

Use the coupon or make out an order in similar form and mail it today to Howe, Norris & Co., 50 Broadway, New York, financial agents in the United States for the Pan-Silver Mining Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont. Booklets, maps and detailed information mailed on request.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart and Kidneys It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days tests will surely tell. Try it once, and see! Sold by all dealers.

BASEBALL

The Strathcona, T.A.S. and Park Street A.C. have decided to form a senior baseball league and in all probability the games will start next Saturday at Riverside Park. This step has only been taken after receiving due consideration by each of the teams as it means that no player in the city will be barred.

All three teams will have strong nines and as the officers of the league were elected and the constitution drawn up some time ago, it is only necessary to draw up a schedule.

That the league will be a success, from a playing standpoint, can readily be seen when such men as Dan McCabe, Jack, Jimmie and Teddy Pilling Ab Quinlan, Jimmie Callaghan, Ab Long, Dan McCurry and the pick of the younger players will be on the line-ups of the teams. A fast senior league is what has been wanted for a long time in this city and now it is a reality, there is every reason for its being a big success.

Editor's Quarrel Over Nothing

The scrap between the editors of the two evening papers reminds one very much of two small boys set to pulling wools. One cries. "I'm doing more than you are and I don't think its fair." The other replies. "Oh, go on, I started before you did and I take more in an armful." Even though the editors are men of matured years and literary ability, they are still boys when it comes to a pinch.

Public Library Plans were Accepted and the Specifications Ordered

A meeting of the Property Committee was held last night when several matters were taken up including the new public library. The plans for this structure have been practically accepted for several weeks but the committee had not met to confirm it until last night. From now on however the committee will push the business along and during the summer and fall a great change will take place in the appearance of the property at the corner of George and Macdonald streets.

Messrs. Belcher & Blackwell, the successful architects in the competition on the new public library, were authorized to go ahead with specifications. They were instructed to have them completed and ready for the committee on June 15th. Then the committee will advertise for tenders to be in by June 30th, so that the contractors can get started early in July. The committee intend to get this building under way and completed as soon as possible.

The members of the committee got together and made a few little changes in the plans.

Tenders were Awarded for Coal and Ice Supply

The contracts for supplying coal to the city for use in the city hall and fire hall near, winter were awarded last night by the Property Committee. There were six tenders received from Messrs. Scott, O'Brien, Walstonholme and J. E. A. Fitzgerald, the Peterborough Fuel and Cartage Co., and the Ontario Coal Co. All of them tendered $7.00 per ton for good hard coal.

The city requires some 85 tons for the two buildings and upon motion of Ald. Duncan and Ald. McIntyre the chairman was authorized to divide the order between the six dealers.

ICE TENDERS.

Two tenders were received for the supply of ice for the two drinking fountains at the city hall corner, and Central Park as follows;

Thos. A. Robill $70
Allin Ice Co. $69

Moved by Aldermen McIntyre and Duncan, the tender was awarded to the Allin Ice Co. He to start putting ice in the fountains as soon as he receives notice that he has the contract.

According to the members of the Turf Club, they are determined to make the Thursday matinees successful, and the first will be held on Thursday of this week, when the lovers of the game will be able to judge for themselves the quality of the races. There will be three horse races. There is a free-for-all, a 2.50 class, and a green race. From all accounts there will be some good going and it is going to be the endeavor of the officers of the club to present good racing. It will strengthen the club, develop the horses and promote the sport. The heats will be a mile in length, instead of half-mile as formerly. The five-mile running race is also attracting attention, and altogether the afternoon promises to be a good one. The street car company will be prepared to handle the crowd, as it is expected that a large number will take advantage of the matinee.

Ottawa Says New Cruiser Isn't a Strong War Vessel

Ottawa, June 1.—According to the officials of the Department of Marine and Fisheries, there is no contravention of the terms of the Rush-Bagot convention in the placing in the great lakes of the vessel Simcoe, recently purchased in Great Britain.

Despatches from Montreal describe the Simcoe as a convertible armored cruiser to be utilized as a fisheries protective cruiser, and give alleged details of the armament she will carry. The officials say the description is entirely erroneous.

There is not much disposition on the part of the officials to look upon the present developments or to the great lakes with alarm. Owing to the change in the style of armaments in the past century, they say, it would be really difficult to decide whether the terms of the Rush-Bagot are being exceeded. By that agreement only one 18-pounder could be allowed to each vessel. The 114 inch guns carried by the Canadian protective cruiser today are probably much more effective than the old 18-pounders. In fact, it is probable that in point of efficiency the guns carried by both Canadian and American vessels on the great lakes exceed the limit fixed by the treaty. Nevertheless, it is maintained that the spirit of the agreement is being maintained.

It is pointed out that in the event of trouble being apprehended, Canada has the upper hand anyway, as she has the control of the canals. As long, therefore, as she could maintain her control of the waterways, any number of British vessels or craft of Canada's auxiliary navy-to-be could be rushed up the canals to the great lakes.

The United States, on the other hand, cannot send a ship through the canals without first securing the consent of the Canadian government.

A CONVERTIBLE WARSHIP.

Montreal, June 1.—Under the guise of a simple lighthouse vessel, the convertible cruiser Simcoe, for the Canadian naval service in the great lakes arrived in port yesterday, and was officially handed over to the Minister of Marine and Fisheries by Mr. Clarence L. de Sola, representative in Montreal of the British shipbuilding firm which constructed the vessel.

The Simcoe is specially adapted to carry heavy guns, which, as is known for a fact, the Canadian government has for the present stored away at some Georgian Bay port. On the forepart of this formidable fighting vessel is a turbette, which can be fitted in a few hours' notice with a bow chaser, while to protect herself from combatants of real naval calibre, her hull is armor-plated, and especially strong in the forepart, which is 18 inches thick.

It was said that if needful the Simcoe could be transferred in three days from a peaceful vessel of the buoy service to a formidable fighting ship, modern in every detail, and much better than anything of the kind on the upper lakes.

The Canadian Government will thus have a real warship on the great lakes.

By-Law was Given 1156 Majority, Only 84 Votes Cast Against It

All records have been broken so far as votes on bylaws are concerned. The Purity Ware bylaw found the people thoroughly aroused and out arm in arm for them. The total vote polled was 1324. Of this number 1240 were for the bylaw and only 84 against it.

Never before for any bylaw was so large a vote polled, and never was so large a majority given. A majority of 1156 is something to be proud of and the aldermen and the citizens are to be congratulated.

The Purity Ware proposition as was outlined by The Times the first morning it was made public was exactly the same proposition as the people almost unanimously sanctioned yesterday. The opposition from the very few brought out nothing new, and instead of doing harm as was the intention, it greatly assisted the vote. The business men and the heaviest taxpayers, and the citizens as a whole were thoroughly aroused. Those who read the bylaw could see nothing in it but what was commendable and they told their friends so.

The Times was the first paper to announce the scheme to the people and The Times did practically all the preliminary work in introducing the bylaw. It was not until towards the end of the campaign and a vast majority of the ratepayers were boosting Purity Ware that the evening papers took any part in the fight. This journal is first and always in the interests of the people.

The vote yesterday, as was predicted, was a heavy one. From early morning until five o'clock the property owners were marking their ballots. A large number of rigs and automobiles were in use all day and were kept busy. In the afternoon especially were the rigs and business men hustling and the city took on the appearance of an old time election.

The act requires for a bonus by-law and two-thirds vote in favor of it to carry it without being ratified by the legislature. In case, however, there is less than one-fifth against the bylaw, only three-fifths of the vote is required. The total vote on the list is 2641. Three-fifths of this would be 1585. There were 1240 votes cast in favor of the bylaw so that it was only 345 votes short of the required number. This is so close however to the required number that it should be a very simple matter to get the Ontario Legislature to sanction to it.

The Vote

The following is the vote taken by polling subdivisions;

Subdivision.	For.	Against
1 and 2. McGill's store	172	8
3. L. Spry's	111	2
4. 5 and 6. Council Chambers	145	9
7 and 8. A. J. Warne's	265	17
9. N. Routley's	84	12
10 and 11. Mrs. Mann's store	164	13
12. Mrs. Lee's shop	124	8
13 and 14. Village Hall	175	15
	1240	84

Majority for the bylaw. 1156

NOTES OF THE DAY.

Speaking with some of the promoters last night The Times was informed that they were delighted with the immense majority given their bylaw. They would, of course, have preferred to have seen it receive the three-fifths majority so as not to have to apply to the legislature. Still this would only be a matter of time and there was little doubt but that body would sanction it. The promoters were greatly pleased with the way the citizens worked. They are convinced that the ratepayers want their industry.

One mistake was made in connection with the bylaw. The city has, through special legislation, authority to keep the polls open until seven o'clock in the evening. Had this been done it is almost certain the necessary 350 votes would have been cast in favor of the bylaw.

It is very probable that Peterborough's council will further ask an amendment upon the legislature next session for the purpose of having that two-thirds vote clause changed. In a city over 10,000 population it is almost impossible to get a by law passed. There are always so many voters living outside and voters who cannot get to the polls. In an ordinary sized town this is a comparatively easy matter to get all the vote out and thus the towns have a great advantage over the larger centers. It is felt too that a change can be made. Even if the municipalities were allowed to pass a by-law on the same grounds as the local option people voted, viz., three-fifths of the votes cast, the municipalities would be well satisfied.

There is little doubt but that the contractors for the Purity Ware factory will get started to work this summer and the building will be nearing completion by the time the legislature meets in February. The citizens want the factory and they will get it.

Local Bands Get the Annual Grant

A meeting of the Finance Committee was held yesterday afternoon when a number of accounts were passed and will be submitted to the council for payment next Monday night.

Directories of the city will be ordered this year for the city clerk, the police station, city engineer and fire department. The chief of police asked for one for his house but the committee refused to grant it.

The tax collector's roll for 1908 is not yet returned. The date for returning the roll is Dec. 31st. The roll must be returned by June 15th and upon motion the collector was so instructed. In future the roll must be in before April 15th.

On motion the assessors were paid $125 each on their account.

Mr. F. C. Matthews was refunded his $10 for license as plumber. Mr. Matthews did not care to follow the trade.

Application was received from the 57th Regiment Band for the yearly grant of $500.

The Salvation Army asked for $200 this year instead of $150.

On motion the same grants as made last year were made again this year, under the same conditions, viz., that concerts be given in the parks.

A Great Increase in the Building Trade

Is there a building boom on in Peterborough? One would almost think so if the number of permits issued in any criterion. During the month of March, 1909, there were 382 per cent. more permits issued than in March, 1908; 282 per cent. more in April and 84 per cent. more in May. This is a most encouraging increase. If one were to take a drive around the city, however, new houses, new factories and new stores would be found in course of erection in every locality. In fact it is hard to turn around without finding something new cropping up. Peterborough is growing and it is bound to continue and grow. The people are aroused and are out for business and new business at that.

Foremen of C. G. E. Works Bade Farewell To Mr. Armstrong

The foremen of the C.G.E. works assembled at the gate house Monday night after six o'clock to bid farewell to Mr. W. H. G. Armstrong, who departed for the West yesterday morning to commence his duties as organizer for the Grand Lodge in Saskatchewan. He has been the foreman of the dipping and buffing department of the C.G.E. since the establishment came to Peterborough and in that position has gained the friendship and esteem of his fellow foremen and the employes with whom he came in contact. During the past few weeks he has received many testimonials of the regard in which he has been held by his fellow citizens, but probably none was more cordial than that from the foremen of the C.G.E.

Mr. Geo. Tovey read the address; Mr. Peter Milloy on behalf of the men, presented Mr. Armstrong with a handsome gold watch and chain.

In acknowledging this remembrance he expressed his appreciation of the beautiful gift. Words failed him, he said, to convey his feelings. He was deeply grateful for this kind token of esteem, and he would always look upon the gift as one of his most treasured belongings. Mr. Armstrong referred to the goodwill and friendly assistance which his fellow foremen had always shown towards him, and he wished them to feel that mere words could not express his gratitude to them.

The watch and chain were purchased at Warne's. On the interior of the back of the case there is the following inscription; "Presented to Mr. W. H. G. Armstrong by his friends of the C.G.E., May 31st, 1909.

3,284 were Lynched in Last 25 Years

New York, June 1.—That 3,284 men, women and children have been lynched in this country in the last quarter of a century was the assertion of Mrs. Ida Wells Barnett at the National Negro Conference in this city today. Asking why this was permitted by a Christian nation, Mrs. Barnett quoted John Temple Graves as saying that the mob stands as the most potential bulwark between the women of the South and such a carnival of crime as would precipitate the annihilation of the negro race. All know that this is untrue, Mrs. Barnett said.

"The lynching record," she added, "discloses the hypocrisy of the lyncher."

Describing the riots at Springfield, Ill. Mrs. Barnett said it was all because a white woman said that a negro man had assaulted her. Later Mrs. Barnett said the woman published a retraction, but the lynched victims were dead.

"Marathons may be on the decline in Toronto and Montreal, but Belleville is Marathon mad," said Jennings today. "We are between and everybody wants to see these chaps travel. Splendid Crop Outlook in Spite of Late Seeding

Winnipeg, May 31.—There was a rain Saturday and Sunday which was general throughout the whole of the West. The weather continues fine and warm, so that the growth during the past two weeks has been phenomenal. Despite the fact that the crop was ten days late in being sown, it is now practically as far forward as an average year. The seed bed is the best for years, so that the present prospects are splendid. The increase in the acreage is no less great as if the season had been earlier. Manitoba will have about the same acreage as last year or possibly a little less, and Saskatchewan and Alberta will probably have about ten per cent. increase.

The weekly C.N.R. crop report, which was issued this morning, was one of the most favorable yet and shows that in all parts of the West the outlook at the present is splendid and the growth is all that could be desired.

JEAN BAPTISTE DAY.

Winnipeg, May 31.—The French-Canadians of Alberta and Saskatchewan are planning two big conventions of St. Jean Baptiste Day, June 24. The Alberta convention will be held at Edmonton and the Saskatchewan convention at Vonda. Hon. R. Lemieux has been invited to attend.

SAY POLYGAMY IS PRACTISED.

Several of the National Women's Councils of the West are circulating petitions asking the Dominion Government to investigate the conditions of the Mormon colonies in Alberta. It is claimed that there is constant violations or evasion of the laws against polygamy and that hundreds of inferior wives are classed as domestic servants.

Germany Causes Row Over the U. S. Tariff

Berlin, June 1.—The charges made at Washington by various American senators that the German government was endeavoring to influence tariff legislation in the United States by supplying official information regarding wages, which upon examination, proved them to be much higher than the wages attributed to German manufacturers in the hearings before the Ways and Means Commission of the House, has caused a disagreeable impression in governmental offices here. This is especially the case at the ministry of the interior and the foreign office, where the information in question was prepared in reply to a request sent in by the state department.

The German government has been subjected during the past two past two months to attacks by German trade journals, for having supplied America with German trade secrets. This knowledge of German wages, it is alleged, made it possible to adjust the new tariff to a level where German goods could not be exported to the United States. The abstract of the foreign office's communication through Ambassador Hill to the State department appeared in these despatches March 29, and was latter reproduced in the German newspapers. It brought out attacks on the government for yielding to the "impudent demands of the Yankees for official reports on wages thus arming Germany's competitors with vital information."

The State department, in formulating its request sent through Ambassador Hill, is understood to have emphasized the point that Germany's advantage lay in supplying trustworthy information with regard to wages, so that the United States could frame its tariff schedule equitably. Otherwise, it was argued, Germany could not complain if erroneous information was used as a basis. This request was received on Dec. 10, and was made the subject of a communication to the Federated States of Germany, each of which ultimately obtained the information desired from the official Chambers of Commerce.

German officials have been enduring attacks at home, but they are amazed at the accusation from America that they acted strangely in complying with the request of the American government. The matter is likely to come up in the Reichstag.

A man giving his name as McCarthy was captured at an early hour this morning, while acting in a suspicious manner in the alleyway at the rear of A. Laidlaw's store on Hunter street. He was captured by Night Watchman Herman Finnie, who had to Marathon to catch the suspicious one. He will explain the whyfore before Magistrate Dumble this a.m.

Isolation Hospital Plans are Ready

The Property Committee has received the specifications from the architect, Mr. Blackwell, for the isolation hospital building. These are being considered and will be dealt with at an early date as it is expected that the hospital will be erected during the present year. It is needed and the council realizes the fact so that no further delay will be experienced.

Slowly Dying

Thousands are slowly dying from catarrh, but don't know their danger.

A CASE IN POINT.

Mr. Ulric Bersault, a young gentleman who has lived for years in Sweetsburg, Quebec, inherited Catarrh from his mother. The disease spread through his system till he was a physical wreck.

"As a child," said Mr. Bersault, "I was prone to an ulceration of the mucous lining of the throat and nasal passages.

"I grew pale and emaciated, lost all desire for food, and got into such a dreadful condition that my friends said that Catarrh was fairly eating me up.

"Every organ of my body seemed affected and the doctor said it was the first stage of consumption. He advised Catarrhozone, and I inhaled it ten minutes at a time every few hours, and was rewarded in a few days by a wonderful improvement.

"Catarrhozone pleased me and the doctor so well that I used it continually, and took Ferrozone Tablets after each meal to build up my strength. In about three weeks I was quite recovered, and the doctor says no remedy but Catarrhozone could work such a miracle.

"Every one in town knows I was just about dead with Catarrh, and my cure is an evidence of what Catarrhozone can do. It is a pleasure to recommend Catarrhozone."

(Signed) Ulric Bersault."

Catarrhozone beyond question is the proper remedy for catarrhal and bronchial troubles. The medicated air goes all through the air passages of the head, throat and lungs. It kills the germs, heals the sore spots, allays irritation and keeps the breath pure.

Headache, tired feeling across the eyes, nausea, all these well-known disagreeable symptoms are overcome by the medicated air of Catarrhozone.

Ferrozone Tablets which are used in conjunction with Catarrhozone Inhaler drive all the poisonous secretions of catarrh from the blood. One taken after each meal creates new appetite and digestion, strengthens the stomach, revitalizes and invigorates the entire system.

Catarrhozone is quite unsurpassed as a cure for Catarrh in any part of the system. It is highly recommended for Bronchitis and Asthma, and for coughs and colds has no equal.

THE RESPONSIBLE VOTER

Success or failure in the practice of democratic government depends upon the average elector. If he is careless of his privileges and uninterested in the problems facing the country, democratic government will fall into the hands of brigands, and will become a corrupt autocracy, scarcely better than the tyranny of absolutism. If the average elector takes politics seriously, as he should do, if he uses his party as the means to an end, and not as the end itself, if he votes according to his intelligence and his conscience, then we need have no alarm about the future of democracy. Responsible government lays on the shoulders of every voter the responsibility. Good government does not depend upon the man around the corner, but upon you.

These facts were set forth recently with much illuminating detail by Mr. D. C. Coleman before the young men of St. Giles' church at Winnipeg. At the beginning of his address he sketched the story of the growth of freedom in Britain. Named a few of the men who cheerfully had met death for a principle and he asked if we Canadians appreciated the toll of blood which had been paid for our tablet. He feared that some were inclined to forget. Some people refused to vote unless an automobile was sent for them. Others demanded the preliminary honorarium of a two-dollar bill. The privilege of self-government was held in light esteem.

Mr. Coleman dealt vigorously with that spirit of cheap cynicism which sneers at politics, and says that it is no work for a decent man, and a dirty business at best. If that were true, he said, it was our fault, and the Christian man who did not get to work and clean up this "dirty business" was a weakling and a coward. What to do? He can become an active politician on the side of honesty and good government. When his political party leaders forget their duty to the nation in order to feather their own nests he can turn to the other party. A turncoat is a man worth considering when he changes his views on principle. A little army of conscientious Governments could keep popular government clean, and as responsive public opinion as a magnet to the pole.

Mr. Coleman insisted that the Christian elector should have nothing to do with petty squabbles over race and creed, nor with jealous rivalries between the East and the West. He would respect British tradition and would not despise things which did not stink of fresh paint. Most of all, said Mr. Coleman, the Christian elector would put a stop to all trafficking in public offices, and would establish a permanent, non-partisan civil service, both outside and in the departments.

The speaker dealt with naval defence and the parliamentary resolution, ridiculing the idea that men of such mentality as that possessed by Mr. Balfour, the author of "A Defence of Philosophic Doubt," by Mr. John Burns, by Mr. Asquith, the great lawyer and logician, or by Lord Morley of Blackburn, could be reduced to a state of hysterical nervousness on any subject. "It became the duty of some wise, temperate and learned newspaper editors of Canada to read these excitable English gentlemen a lesson on the advisability of controlling their nerves."

Mr. Coleman fails to see the Christianity in allowing our trade routes to be guarded and our shores to be defended by ships paid for in part by the peasants of Connemara. That may be self-denial of a sort, but not of the right sort. Every young man in the country must have felt ashamed at our failure to go to the help of the old Motherland which stands today as she has ever stood as the foe of oppression, the champion of freedom, and the bulwark of Protestant Christianity.

Get Health

Been used and recommended in every city and hamlet in America. They are positively standard in every community—and everywhere.

Then why pay the cash, and at your risk, for other unwarranted and uncertain medicines? Thousands upon thousands have in the past successfully used Dr. Shoop's Restorative.

When the Stomach, Liver or Heart nerves fail, as a sure sign how Dr. Shoop's Restorative will bring them back to health again. But best of all, they positively take no money risk whatever.

They know that when health fails to return Dr. Shoop will himself gladly pay the druggist for that test. And for that test a full 30 day treatment is freely granted.

But write me first for an order.

This will save delay and disappointment.

All druggists sell Dr. Shoop's Restorative and Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy, but all are not authorized to give the 30 day test. So after I have appointed an honest and responsible druggist in almost every community, everywhere, to issue my "no help, no pay," medicines to the sick.

Tell me also which book you need.

The books below will surely open up new and helpful ideas to those who are not well. Besides you are perfectly free to consult me just as you would your home physician. My advice and the books below are yours—and without cost.

Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up some serious ailment. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private prescription or personal advice plan. MARRIAGE IN ARRAN.

How Weddings Are Conducted In Out-of-the-Way Ireland.

The Isles of Aran are among the least known and most interesting corners of Ireland. The people, mostly fisher folk, are poor and ignorant, yet they speak the ancient tongue of their land with such purity and perfection that scholars from the great universities go to learn of them. An illiterate lad of fourteen was recently the quite competent instructor in Gaelic of a distinguished German professor.

A recent sojourner in one of the isles discovered that there were upon it but three wedding rings; but no prospective bridegroom was ever discouraged because he could not buy a ring. He used simply go to the nearest of the three happy matrons who were ring wearers and borrow her ring.

Pulled proudly from her work worn finger, it went into his pocket until the ceremony; afterward the new bride wore it until the end of the honeymoon, when she returned it to the owner.

An Aran bride, however, knows little of honeymoons. It is common, the day after the wedding, to see her staggering up the beach under a creel of fish so heavy that a man of a race less hardy might hesitate to lift it.

Negotiations for a marriage are made with a girl's father and a dowry is expected. Business-like as this sounds, Aran lovers can be impetuous. Late one evening it occurred to a certain young man that he would like to marry a certain colleen, and to do so the next day. He hastily gathered a few cousins and at midnight they knocked at her father's door. Every one was abed, but the old man flung on something and opened; the rest of the family, hurriedly dressed, presently joined him.

The matter was arranged and early the next morning the priest was sent for, but there had been a storm and the sea was rough. He was delayed but the festivities were not. Into the midst of the convivial crowd came a messenger announcing that his reverence's boat was in sight; they decided to wait till he landed. Word came that he had landed; they waited for him to climb the path. He did so, but still they lingered, and only an imperative message that he was actually waiting in the chapel broke up the antenuptial jubilation. Then the groom raced ahead, the bride followed gallantly but a few yards behind, the relatives ran after in a go as you please procession, and all were soundly rated for their tardiness before the ruffled priest would proceed to solemnize the marriage with the borrowed ring.

A Wedding Fee.

A Yorkshire clergyman married a couple in his church recently, and after he had pronounced them man and wife the groom took him to one side and asked what the damage was. The parson told him that there was no fixed amount; he might give whatever he chose.

"Parson," said he, "I've got five greyhound pups at home, for which I am asking a sovereign apiece, and I'll let you have one for half a sov."

Of course the clergyman declined so ridiculous a fee, as he had no use for a greyhound pup.

When the newly-married man got home he must have found his wife better than expected, for he sent the parson one of the pups, accompanied with a letter saying that he was so happy with Maria that he would give him a dog for nothing.—London Spare Moments.

Her Love Songs.

The "Sonnets of the Portuguese," which were written by Elizabeth Barrett Browning, were never intended for publication, but when she showed them to Mr. Browning, whom she had married after they were written, he realised the fact that in them was sung the most perfect love song the world had ever heard, and he concluded such poems should not be hidden. Mrs. Browning was unwilling to publish them in her own name, and as he was fond of calling her his "Little Portuguese" it was decided to have them appear under this name. They are Petrachian in form and among the most beautiful of the language.—London Chronicle.

Lord Salisbury's Coachman.

Canon Hensley Henson, who has been threatened with ecclesiastical proceedings by the Bishop of Birmingham, is noted for his independence and fearlessness, and is one of the most brilliant thinkers and preachers in the Church of England. He was formerly vicar of Barking, and became canon of Westminster in 1900. Of his appointment to the canonry an amusing story is told. "My dear, it's really too bad," said an old lady when she heard the news. "Why, his father was Lord Salisbury's coachman!" What she meant to say was that the canon's father was Lord Salisbury's coach, but it took a long time to make her understand the difference.

Lady First, Then Sovereign.

With regard to the ancient privilege accorded to the masters of Trinity of wearing their hats in the presence of royalty, it is recorded of a former master that he took this privilege on an occasion when Queen Victoria was visiting Cambridge. The Queen remonstrated.

"But, madam," expostulated the master, "I am privileged to wear my hat in the presence of my sovereign."

"Yes, sir," rejoined Her Majesty with crushing emphasis, "in the presence of your sovereign, but not in the presence of a lady."

A Touching Remembrance.

On a railway journey Morley had for a companion an old gentleman who had been trying to make himself more comfortable with the aid of a somewhat deflated air cushion. Professor Morley was going to blow it up for him, but his action was arrested by the exclamation: "Stop, sir, stop! That cushion contains my deceased wife's breath!"—Life of Henry Morley.

If you would have a safe yet certain Cough Remedy in the home, try Dr. Shoop's—at least once. It is thoroughly unlike any other Cough preparation. Its taste will be entirely new to you—unless it is already your favorite Cough Remedy. No opium, chloroform, or any other stupifying ingredients are used. The tender leaves of a harmless, lung-healing mountainous shrub, give to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy its wonderful curative properties. It is truly a certain and trustworthy prescription. Sold by all dealers.

THE LOCUST PLAGUE.

South African Farmer Has to Face Terrible Pest.

South Africa seems to be a paradise to the farmer until the locusts come. The farmer has been planting wheat for five months, beginning with March, and he looks for an enormously profitable harvest in the midsummer month of December. After plowing and dragging for six days he has put in a day or two sowing the wheat by hand, and has kept repeating the process until hundreds of acres have been planted. There are fields of wheat in all stages, from the young green stalks to the yellowing heads of grain. It will be convenient to reap the crop in the successively ripening fields, just as it was convenient to plant it in instalments. The farmer congratulates himself on a climate that makes this method possible. He figures that an investment of twenty-five bags of seed worth will return him 750 bags of grain worth $3,750.

"Baas, die sprinkhaan kom" (Master, the locusts are coming) says his Kaffir servant.

Thus is shattered the dream of opulence and success as the farmer drowses on hot, silent mid-summer days in his iron-roofed bungalow, says Leonard Fleming in The Grand Magazine. On the horizon over the distant range of hills lies a long, faint cloud. It is a dust-colored narrow line, with a front perhaps seventy miles wide. It blurs the sharp outline of the hills in the African sunlight. This is a locust swarm as you see it first at a distance of thirty or forty miles. In an hour the line becomes a light brown fog drifting rapidly toward you.

The farmer is helpless in face of the advancing ruin and desolation. He can only watch the approach of inevitable disaster. The landscape is gradually blurred by the great brown cloud that spreads and mounts in the sky. Trees and houses a few miles off become invisible. The cloud shifts, with patches of dark brown masses and gaps of gray or light brown where the locusts are not so thickly crowded. A constant change of shape and formation gives an appearance like dense smoke belching from a forest fire. A sound like the distant breakers of the ocean steals into the silence. It is the whirr and roar of billions of wings beating the air.

The whirr becomes louder. Nearby green fields are shaded by the appalling visitation. A few locusts fly past. There is a sudden increase of the sound to a roar as the army of insects falls on the land, and their wings throb like a colossal dynamo revolving at terrific speed. The bright sun is obscured and the ground is in shadow. A building a few rods away cannot be seen. Millions of locusts settle down, while other millions continue their flight. The ground is so packed with locusts that every square inch of earth is alive. Every blade of grass or wheat is attacked by as many insects as it will hold. A hundred locusts rush on one stalk bend it to earth and consume it in less than a minute. Within ten minutes the farmer's two thousand acres of inch of earth is alive. Every blade of grass, every flower, every leaf on the trees is devoured. For hours and even days, the maddening roar of the wings is heard and the unnumbered hosts continue their flight.

At last, when the plague has passed, nothing remains but a desert waste, naked of every green thing for hundreds of miles.

Actor, Novelist, and M.P.

Mr. A. E. W. Mason, M.P., who has announced his intention of not seeking re-election to the British Parliament, gave his friends a fright on one occasion. He disappeared, and the next news of him came from the wilds of Morocco. Rumors of brigands and ransom began to float about, when suddenly Mr. Mason turned up smiling. He had only been up to Fez with a friend, two tents, and six Arabs to collect color for a new book. Mr. Mason was at one time an actor, but none of the stories of his career he considers so amusing as that concerning a correspondent who wrote for tickets for the Stranger's Gallery. He was informed that the gallery was closed. By return came this request: "As the gallery is closed, will you kindly send me six tickets for the Zoo?" Such are the worries of an M.P.

A Canadian Artist.

Professor Roy Elliott Bates, of Acadia University, has received notice of the acceptance of one of his paintings by the committee of the Paris Salon. The subject of the painting is "September in Picardy," and is the result of work done last summer during his sojourn in Longpre and the Valley of the Somme. Professor Bates was a former student in the Halifax Academy and a pupil under Mr. Rosenberg of the Victoria School of Art and Design. In 1904 he became Acadia's first Rhodes scholar, and during his three years at Oxford his vacations were spent in the studios of Paris. About a year ago he took his degree from Oxford in the department of English, and soon after he received his present appointment as professor of English in Acadia University, Wolfville.

Mystery of Tribes.

There is a huge joy of the great mysteries of the tribes and the territories on the West Coast of Africa. There is no street in a native village free from the suggestion of great romance. The uncounted hundreds of tribes of the interior have histories clothed in all the glory of a mysterious darkness. Though the race is degenerate to-day, centuries back black men loomed large in the story of the world. Among the natives near the coast there are tribes which journeyed, centuries and centuries ago, from Egypt, Phoenicia, and Arabia, and heaven knows where. The place is full of romance and mystery. Africa teems with unsolved problems. Central Africa is practically an unknown country. And so, perhaps, after all the call of the Coast is not entirely incomprehensible.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

A GAS LEAK.

After Results That May Come From Hunting It With a Light.

The folly of hunting for a leak in a gas pipe with a lighted match is not so much because of the danger of an explosion as of other damage, as is shown by the experience of a householder not long ago.

One or two small leaks were detected by going over all the pipes and holding a lighted match to them. The smell of gas ceased, but was replaced a few hours later by the smell of burning wood.

Another visit to the cellar showed a charred floor joist a little distance above a gas pipe. There was no apparent cause for this until a very close examination resulted in the finding of a tiny jet of gas which was issuing from the pipe beneath the beam.

It was lighted, but was so small as to be blue in color and nearly invisible. It had been lighted by the match used in the first investigation, but had not been noticed.

"If that leak had happened to be in a lead joint instead of an iron connection," said a gas man, "there would probably have been work for the fire brigade. The smallest possible jet of lighted gas issuing through lead will in time heat and melt the lead and make the leak larger until a big flame is issuing.

"This may make a fire hours later in the dead of night or at a time when no one is in the house. The only proper way to look for these very small leaks is to paint the suspected pipe with a smooth soap lather. Just as in the case of a bicycle tire, the tiniest leak will blow a bubble in the lather, and there you are." — London Telegraph.

MEXICAN JACALS.

Primitive Huts in the Villages of the Native Indians.

The Mexican Indian huts in the villages and upon the ranches of the lower Rio Grande border region of Texas have a style of architecture and construction that is distinctly their own. This type of primitive building is rapidly passing out of existence. At many places on the border families of Mexicans have abandoned their jacals and moved into more pretentious homes.

No money outlay is necessary in erecting the old style picturesque structures; neither is a knowledge of carpentry needed. A double row of upright poles firmly set or driven into the ground forms the framework for the walls. Between these two rows of poles are placed other poles or sticks of shorter length, forming a thick and compact wall. At each of the four corners of the building posts are set, reaching to a height of about eight feet. Roughly hewn stringers are laid from one post to another, and to these stringers are tied other poles that form the framework of the walls. The strong fiber from the maguey plant or strips of buckskin are used to tie the poles into position. The rafters are tied to the ridgepole and the stringers in the same manner. At one end of the building is built the opening through which the smoke of the inside fire may ascend. Stoves are unknown among these Mexicans, and the cooking is all done upon the ground.—Kansas City Star.

She Was Slow.

The shop assistant had shown and reshown the toys to the undecided shopper.

Rabbits, monkeys, jacks-in-the-box, jumping jacks, trains, velocipedes—everything had been displayed, manipulated, operated and explained to the shopper, but still she could not make up her mind.

"I wanted to get something suitable for my little nephew," she reiterated for the thousandth time.

"Yes, madam," responded the weary assistant. "You told me that when you came in, but I think your nephew has outgrown all these toys while you have been at this counter."—London Opinion.

His Translation.

A dignified elder of an Australian church was presiding at a charitable concert. A Miss Brown was to sing "Ora Pro Nobis," but at the last moment she changed her mind, and a note was passed to the chairman intimating that she would give "The Song That Reached My Heart."

He therefore made the following announcement: "Miss Brown will now sing 'Ora Pro Nobis,' which, being translated, means 'The Song That Reached My Heart.'"—London Chronicle.

Temiskaming's Richest Vein Crosses Pan-Silver Property

Streak of Solid Silver a Foot thick—the Most Wonderful Strike Made in Cobalt's Biggest Dividend Payer Continues on through Cartwright's New Mine

A vein of solid silver, a foot thick, was the sensational strike recently made in the Temiskaming mine, which within a year has developed into the biggest dividend payer in the marvelously rich Cobalt district.

The Temiskaming mine immediately adjoins Pan-Silver, B.C., Cartwright's new mine, on the northeast.

Almost coincident with this record-breaking Temiskaming strike, the continuation of the same wonderful vein was uncovered in the Columbia Cobalt, the next mine to the Pan-Silver on the southwest.

It has been positively known for months that the richest and biggest veins in the Temiskaming continue right on into the Pan-Silver, and in the light of these two recent discoveries, Mr. Cartwright declares there is every reason to believe that the drills on Pan-Silver will strike the foot-thick solid silver silver vein.

Mr. Cartwright has gone into the Pan-Silver in the same spirit in which he took up the Temiskaming when it was the most discredited working in the entire Cobalt district.

Mr. Cartwright believed in Temiskaming and the developments of three years have gloriously justified his belief.

He believes in Pan-Silver with the same faith and declares there is not the shadow of a doubt that Pan-Silver will be a better and bigger producer than its older neighbor, Temiskaming.

B. E. Cartwright knows what he is talking about. He has staked his own fortune and the fortunes of his associates on Pan-Silver.

"Within six months," he says, "we will be shipping ore from Pan-Silver."

The drills on Pan-Silver are going down steadily and surely—day and night shifts working—to the 200 foot level—the level at which rich pay ore was struck in Temiskaming—ore running $1,500 to the ton.

Even now, at a depth of 100 feet, they have struck calcite veins averaging eight inches in thickness.

Stock in the Pan-Silver Mining Company, Ltd. (par $1.00) is selling for 60c.

It will go to par when the 200 foot development reveals the bonanza values.

That is what B. E. Cartwright says—and you can depend on it that B. E. Cartwright knows.

Pan-Silver will be another Temiskaming—but greater and better and richer than the best Temiskaming has ever been.

A limited number of Pan-Silver shares are offered at 60c (par $1.00) in lots of 100 shares and upward.

Use the coupon or make out an order in similar form and mail it today to Howe, Norris & Co., 50 Broadway, New York, financial agents in the United States for the Pan-Silver Mining Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont. Booklets, maps and detailed information mailed on request.

Appetite Gone—Nerves Badly Run Down

A Strong Moral Well Exemplified in Mrs. Wilson's Case.

Like thousands of other people at this season of the year Mrs. E. P. Wilson was tired and worn out—winter sorely tired her health and vigor. But now she is robust and well, eats well, sleeps well, feels invigorated and braced. "For some years," writes Mrs. Wilson of Watmere, P.O., "I suffered from systematic weakness, billiousness and depressing headache. I could take little nourishment and grew thin and pale. If I ate a hearty meal the result was dreadful. Pains started at my chest, and spread all through my body going across my stomach, back and right side. I was discouraged till a friend insisted on me taking Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They made a new woman of me, and for the past eight months my health has been perfected. For a good cleaning, rejuvenating medicine I urge every one to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

There is extraordinary and magic power in Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they bring vigor, tone, health and spirits—are compounded from the most wonderful and healing juices and essence in vegetable life—are safe for young and old and guaranteed to kindle renewed activity and strength of every system that is weak, sickly or run down from kidney, liver, stomach or bladder trouble. Fined $25

J. A. Lawless, proprietor of the Lakefield House, was fined twenty-five dollars and costs, the county police court yesterday afternoon, for keeping intoxicating liquor for sale. A week ago last Saturday Inspector Stewart and Inspector Williams, of East Peterborough, paid a visit to the hotel and found liquors in the bombe which were afterwards analysed in Toronto.

Yesterday, Mr. Lawless pleaded guilty and the above fine was imposed by Magistrate Edmison.

Grand Trunk New offices

The Grand Trunk Railway System with their new organization in Europe have opened a fine suite of offices at 17-19 Cockspur street, London, one of the best locations in the city. It is just opposite Pall Mall and the majority of the traffic from Westminster and the West End of London passes through this thoroughfare to Piccadilly, Oxford street, and commercial sections of the Metropolis. Canadians who visit London will find these offices complete in every way and the Company are desirous of having all visitors from the colonies make their headquarters in London their rendezvous, where they can have their mail addressed, make appointments and do their correspondence. This is an innovation of the transportation lines of the Colonies and no doubt will be taken advantage of by many overseas visitors to the Mother Country.

Mr. Bruce Quinn has secured a position with Mr. Browett, at the Peterborough Optical Institute.

Mr. W. F. Connal, 270 Brock St., left on Saturday for Metheson, where he will be engaged during the next year in connection with the Transcontinental Railway. He has accepted a position with Mr. Reid, divisional engineer of the railway, and will be absent abou a year in connection with the work.

The Times has to thank Mr. J. J. McBain for copies of Prince Rupert, B.C. papers. One is the Prince Rupert Investor, a very creditable eight-page journal dealing with the history and resources of Prince Rupert and the opportunities for paying investments in real estate.

Mr. R. M. Donnatoun, K.C., was one of the speakers at a special luncheon of the Canadian Club of Winnipeg, on May 26th. Mayor W. Sanford Evans, H. M. Belcher, and Hon. T. Mayne Daly were the other speakers. Each was to speak for fifteen minutes on the Canadian Exposition and Selkirk Centennial to be held at Winnipeg in 1912. Mr. Donnatoun dealt with the question from a national standpoint. Mr. Daly was the Minister of the Interior in the late Macdonald Cabinet.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that the nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart and Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to the vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to those failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of the prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days tests will surely tell. Try it once, and see! Sold by all dealers.

A Rebellion

Food Demanded

The human body will stand a lot of abuse but sometimes it will surely rebel and demand the proper food in place of the pastry, starchy, greasy stuffs on which it has been made sick.

Then is the time to feed Grape-Nuts, the most scientific and perfect food in the world.

A lady of Washington says; "Three years ago I was very ill with catarrh of the stomach and was given up to die by one doctor. I laid in bed four months and my stomach was so weak that I could not keep down medicine or hardly any kind of food and was so weak and emaciated after four months of this starvation that my daughter could easily lift me from bed and put me in my chair.

"But weak as my stomach was, it accepted and relished and digested Grape-Nuts without any difficulty the first time that wonderful food was tried.

"My doctor told me to eat Grape-Nuts, which were predigested, and although I felt certain I could not keep the food on my stomach I made the trial and it was a most complete success.

"I am now strong and in better health than for a great many years and am gradually growing still stronger. I rely on Grape-Nuts for most of the nourishment that I get. The results have certainly been wonderful in my case and prove that no stomach is so weak it will not digest Grape-Nuts.

"My baby got so fat from feeding on Grape-Nuts I was afraid I would have to stop giving the food to him, but I guess it is a healthy fat for his health is just perfect."

Eclipse of the Sun and Moon During June

Washington, June 1.—Two interesting spectacles in the astronomical world will occurr during the coming month. These events will be eclipses of the moon and the sun, the former on June 3rd, and the latter on June 17th.

The moon will rise totally eclipsed, and its totality will last about an hour, while the sun will only be in totality near the North Pole.

Of chief interest will be the lunar eclipse, which will be visible over about half the earth. Only a few white men, namely, Commander R. E. Perry and his crew, who are now on an Arctic expedition, and perhaps a few whalers, will have an opportunity of observing at totality the eclipse of the sun. While this eclipse will be visible in its partial eclipse, the region near the North Pole is the only part of the globe where it will be seen as a total eclipse.

The man with the blue hat, purple tie, and green suit may not be to blame. There is the saving possibility that he has color blindness.

Miss Susan G. Davidson Goes as a Missionary

(Special to The Times.)

Boston, Mass., June 2.—The last farewells of the girl missionaries who are departing for their posts in the Orient, are being said in Boston this week. In the numbered gathered for the plunge into the dangerous work is Miss Susan Grant Davidson of Peterborough, Ont., who has been assigned to work in Northern China. Berry will deliver an address to them on the physical life of the missionary Sunday evening the girl missionaries will deliver formal addresses in various churches and to young people's societies. The missionaries will be given a great send off on their journey and in the far east they will separate and go to the various posts assigned them. Cadets from R.M.C. and Kingston Militia were Real Fire-Eaters

Kingston, June 2.—Kingston militiamen certainly smelled powder last night and it will be fortunate if two at least do not suffer seriously as the result of the sham battle on Barrefield Heights, in which the cadets of the Royal Military College as the enemy, came into touch with the 14th Princess of Wales Rifles defending Cataraqui bridge.

There were real fire-eaters among the contestants. There were thousands of people about the commons watching the tactical manoeuvres and numerous were the episodes. In one instance, the cadets seized an automobile, bearing a white flag, owned by R. S. Waldron, and in which umpires sat. There was close firing, and Mr. Waldron's chauffeur had his hand burned. The cadets were collared, and their names taken.

Again cadets out of action got into conflict with a section of the militiamen, and powder flew and a hand-to-hand action seemed imminent.

Two 14th boys were sent to the hospital for treatment for burned faces, and one, who would not give his name, had a badly burned eye.

The decision is not given, but will be when reports are filed. Both sides were zealous and quite too warm in their attacks.

Ryan to Swing This Morning at Six O'Clock

North Bay, June 2.—The interest in the execution of Maurice Ryan tomorrow for the murder of his brother was given additional zest this morning by news that Barrister A. R. Hassard was working at Toronto and Ottawa for a reprieve, in view of new evidence alleged to be forthcoming in favor of the condemned man. In the meantime everything is in readiness for the execution, the scaffold being finished, and the pit dug beneath the structure. Ryan is apparently reconciled to his fate, and takes great interest in religious matters. His spiritual adviser, Bishop Scollard, is in frequent consultation with him, teaching him the tenets and consolation of the Catholic religion, which the prisoner is sadly deficient in, having neglected his religious duties entirely since being confirmed in childhood.

Ryan's appetite has not been affected by the imminence of death, and he eats heartily of the plain prison fare. Very few extras are sent in to him from outside the prison walls. He is cheerful and gives no trouble, talks little, and confines his conversation to his own predicament, stoutly maintaining his innocence. He said; "I will go to the gallows like a man, knowing I am innocent of this crime, which I know nothing about whatever. I should have a new trial, and feel that something will yet occur to give me a chance."

Ryan sleeps like a child, retiring early, and never waking until called for his breakfast. He is allowed to smoke, which seems to give him great comfort.

In appearance he has not changed a particle since his conviction. Radcliffe is occupying a room in the court house, taking his meals at an hotel near by, and his presence in town is hardly noted, as he seemingly takes pains to render himself unconspicuous.

The execution is fixed for six o'clock tomorrow morning.

RYAN FAILS AGAIN.

Toronto, June 2.—The Court of Appeal, with Mr. Justice Clute of the Exchequer Division supplying for Mr. Justice Meredith, declined today to issue an order directing Mr. Justice Archbald, the trial judge, to grant a stated case to Maurice Ryan, who, unless the Minister of Justice intervenes, will be hanged tomorrow for the murder of Ryan's brother, Patrick Ryan, at North Bay.

A. R. Hassard applied to the Court of Appeal in private. Edward Bayly, K.C., represented the attorney-general.

Mr. Hassard hasn't much time in which to act, but he intends today the case before the minister of justice in the hope of gaining some respite, which might result in a new trial.

$131,849 Insurance Paid on One Canadian's Life

New York, June 2.—The life insurance companies in the United States and Canada last year distributed $300,811,000. That is the estimate of the Insurance Press. Dividends to shareholders, money paid out in cash surrender and to annuitants and foreign policy holders would bring the total up to $400,811,000.

In the estimate of the payments of all kinds, to the amount of $400,811,000 in 1908, the amount paid for lapsed, surrendered, and purchased policies by all of the regular life insurance companies in the United States was more than $74,000,000, indicating an effect of the financial scare. The amount for the similar account in 1907 was about $69,000,000.

From one point of view, 1908 was practically a year of no progress, the official returns from many States showing a falling off in payments for death claims and endowments.

The largest policy was for $535,000, the next largest $331,825. As usual, the largest of the amounts of the claims paid must be credited to the city of New York, $32,823,432, with Philadelphia, $13,678,386, second in the list, and Chicago, $8,705,570 third.

The sum of $18,000,000 was paid out on policies to Canadians. One payment alone reached over $100,000, and three over $50,000. Fifteen cities in the Dominion had claims of $10,000 or more. The Insurance paid in Montreal totalled $2,389,867, and in Toronto $1,698,412.

The following are the largest policies paid in Canada;

C. Fawcett, Sackville, N.B.	$131,849
Ed. H. Bouterell, Montreal	45,196
John Torrance, Montreal ...	40,259
J. Israel Tarte, Montreal	27,000
Percy W. Martin, Montreal ...	25,000
James D. Fowler, N.B.	26,540
C. MacPherson, St. John	74,000
Ephriam Smith, Toronto	27,925

Sick Skins in Summer

Summer is the hardest time for human skin. Its delicate tiny pores if worked under the best conditions, would have a rough time because of the heat. How when they have to work when impaired or damaged by sunburn and heat spots? No wonder one has rough patches, freckles, etc.

Zam-Buk heals sick skins. When a patch of skin on face, neck or arms is blistered by the sun, apply Zam-Buk at once. It will cool and soothe beautifully, and new skin will be quickly formed. When you are footsore, or have some chafed places, Zam-Buk will give you ease. When the mosquitoes raise lumps on you, Zam-Buk will stop that terrible itching and smarting. Keep Zam-Buk handy, use it freely, and this will be the happiest summer you have ever spent, viewed from the skin's health standpoint. All druggists and stores.

St. Luke's Congregation Welcomed His Lordship Bishop of Toronto

Confirmation Class of 42 Candidates Received Into the Church—Large Congregation Present—Six of the Clergy Took Part—Very Bright Service—Address of Welcome

Although the night was very warm there was a large congregation at St. Luke's church last night to witness and take part in the confirmation services and also to join, as a congregation, in extending a hearty welcome and expressing loyalty to his lordship the Bishop of Toronto. Bishop Sweetman last night paid first official visit, as Bishop of Toronto, to Peterborough and to St. Luke's parish. His lordship has been in the city on several other occasions and he is well known and also very popular with the members of the Church of England in this city. The new bishop is a very impressive speaker and one who it is a pleasure to listen to. He always leaves with his congregation some thought of value and thus he is enabled to accomplish much for his Master.

The confirmation class last night numbered 42, of which 22 were ladies and 20 were young men. It was one of the largest. Rev. Dr. Langfeldt has presented, and he is to be congratulated upon his successful work in his parish. The class was composed of young people who fully appreciated the importance of the step they were taking and they were well trained according to the rules of the Church.

With his lordship, the bishop were associated Rev. Dr. Langfeldt, M.A. rector of St. Luke's, Rev. Canon Davidson, rector of St. John's, Rev. H. R. Trumpour, rector of All Saints, Rev. Mr. Seword, Rev. Mr. Pickford of Norwood, and Revs. Creighton and Mackenzie of Lakefield. Rev. Mr. Trumpour acted as the bishop's assistant and carried the pastoral staff.

ADDRESS OF WELCOME.

Rev. Dr. Langfeldt said that this confirmation service was a most important occasion to the congregation, also that they were all very happy to take this opportunity to welcome to the parish his lordship the Bishop of Toronto, on this his first visit to Toronto. The reverend doctor then called upon the senior layman, Mr. J. J. Turner, jr., to read an address of welcome and loyalty to the bishop on behalf of the congregation.

Mr. Turner then read the address which was as follows;

To the Right Reverend F. J. Sweeney, M.A., D.D., Lord Bishop of Toronto.

Right Reverend Father in God.—The rector and congregation of St. Luke's church, Ashburnham, desire on the occasion of your first episcopal visit to the city and parish, to most respectfully and cordially welcome and congratulate your lordship on being advanced to the dignity of the Episcopate.

Your lengthy experience as rector of St. Philips' church, Toronto, Canon of St. Albans' Cathedral, archdeacon of York and Simcoe, and administrator of the diocese has given you experience which united with gifts of learning and culture, deep piety, sound judgment and devotion to the interests of the Church, serve to justify your elevation to the high and holy office of bishop and shepherd of souls.

To our felicitations we would add an expression of our loyalty to your person, to your office and to the Church, fully confident that the policy of progressive administration you have already inaugurated will with the divine blessing redound to the glory of God and the promotion of the Church, material, moral and spiritual.

Trusting that your lordship will long be spared to discharge the duties of your high vocation and renewing our expressions of fealty to your person and office, we remain on behalf of the congregation, your faithful, dutiful and humble co-operators in the great work of our beloved Church.

E. A. Langfeldt, M.A., PH.D.
Rector.

G. L. HAY,
Rector's Warden.

G. R. BROWNING,
People's Warden.

Ashburnham, 2nd June, 1909.

BISHOP'S REPLY.

Bishop Sweeny in reply to the address, said that he was very deeply touched by the address of welcome, loyalty, greeting and congratulations which had just been read to him. He appreciated all the nice things contained therein and would by the grace of God endeavor to be worthy of them. In connection with the reference made to his long years of service in the diocese he said that he had been perfectly happy doing the work of his God. There was one thing upon which his mind was fastened and that was that the prayers of the congregations through out the diocese should be with him. If he received the prayers of all his people he felt sure that God would use him for some good work every day and he would thus be enabled to accomplish much more than otherwise.

THE SERMON.

In addressing the candidates for confirmation his lordship said that there was no more glad some season than this and there was no more fitting time for the holding of confirmation. This service was not a solemn one. It was a joyful one and he desired that all should feel thus about it. We are gathered here, he said, to make a special demand upon behalf of these young soldiers of Christ for an outpouring of the Holy Ghost.

The bishop then gave the history of that old custom "The laying on of hands." It was one of the earliest forms of conveying a blessing, and was adopted by Christ himself when on earth, and has been used ever since by Christ's bishops and preachers.

His lordship spoke not only to the candidates but to all the members of the congregation, and he reminded them of their confirmation and the stand they took for Christ then. He wished them to consider that stand now and to renew their allegiance so that they might be a greater help to the new communicants by living a better life than even they had in the past.

The candidates were informed that their fight for Christ would begin in the morning. They would find many difficulties and would no doubt be subjected to considerable chiding from those of the world, but he hoped that all would stand fast and acknowledge their Lord and Master.

In conclusion he gave the class as their motto "Go forward." They must go forward if they were sincere in their desire to live for Christ.

The class of 47 young people were then called before the altar and were given the bishop's blessing which entitled them to the full membership of the church and all the privileges which went therewith.

The Steamer Otonabee is the Largest Boat on the Kawartha Lakes

From the government steamboat inspector's report it is found that the local boats are authorized to carry the following number of passengers;—

Donalee	444
Esturian, Bobcaygeon	300
Sony Lake	272
Water Lily	160
Monarch	160
Kathleen, Lindsay	145
Majestic	140
Rainbow	138
Kawartha, Fenelon Falls	75

It will thus be seen that the Otonabee is by far the largest steamer on the inland lakes having a carrying capacity exceeding any other boat by 144. It is understood the government is prepared to enforce the law regarding steam boats limit and the boat owners and the public should bear in mind that the limit must not be exceeded. It is not only unsafe to carry more passengers than the law allows but the officers of the boat found found guilty of violating this law are liable to lose their papers and the owners are liable to a heavy penalty.

A Fair Sized Crowd at Walkers' Benefit Night

There was a fair-sized crowd at Brock street rink to see the farce put on for the benefit of the participants in the six-day race last week. The bills scattered around the city provided for quite a program, but only four events were pulled off. However, the expenses were small and it is hoped the professional pads got enough to take them home. The band was present and gave a good line of music. The results of the events was,—

Jack Richards and J. E. Blake ran a half mile. Blake won by half a lap.

Ray Fenton and Lou West walked two miles. Fenton was given a handicap of two laps and was beaten by half a lap.

Sack race—4 boys—Chas. Pogue winner.

Geo. Brown walked a mile against time in 7.20.

Many Early June Weddings

Bells Ring Merrily---Happy Brides and Grooms in Peterborough

A quite but pretty wedding was solemnized at the residence of Mr. Robert McMullen, 510 Water street, Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock, when his daughter, Miss Mary Anna, was united in marriage to Mr. John H. Vance, of this city. They were unattended and the ceremony was performed by Rev. E. A. Pearson, of George Street Church, in the presence of the immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties. After the ceremony a sumptuous wedding repast was partaken of and hearty congratulations bestowed upon the young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Vance will reside in the city.

BODDY—WRIGHT.

Garden Hill, June 1.—A very pretty wedding was solemnized here today at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. William Wright, when their daughter, Miss Margaret Wright was united in marriage to Mr. Francis E. Boddy, of Toronto. Miss Essie Menzies, of Toronto, was assisted by Mr. Richard Stephens, also of Toronto. The bride's dress was of white silk mull over white silk, while the bridesmaid wore pale pink mull over pink silk. A large number of guests were present, including the following from outside points. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wright, Mr. and Mrs. A. Pratt, Cobourg; Mr. and Mrs. Ball, Baltimore; Mrs. W. Stewart, of Cobourg; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Coates, of Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. Cameron, of Peterborough, and many others.

BUTCHER—BAXTER.

A quite but pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Luke's Church yesterday afternoon at a quarter past three, when little Libbie Baxter, eldest daughter of Mrs. David Baxter, 536 Stewart street, was united in marriage to Mr. Charles T. Butcher, of this city. The ceremony was preformed by the rector, Rev. Dr. Langfeldt.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Butcher left on the 4.58 train for Galt, and on their return to Peterborough will reside at 231 McDonnel street.

BENNET—COCHRANE.

The marriage of Miss Evangeline Bertha (Eva) Cochrane, youngest daughter of the late Wm. Cochrane, of Port Hope, to Mr. E. W. Howard Bennet, C.P.R. agent at Three Valleys, B. C., and youngest son of the late Henry Bennet, Ashburnham, was solemnized at St. Luke's church

Battleships Condemned

The British battleships Barfleur and Centurion have been condemned as obsolete, and will go out of the fleet. These vessels, it is interesting to know, were built in 1890, and steam 18 1-2 knots. A London paper says they are newer and better ships than many of the Japanese vessels which fought at Tsushima or blockaded Port Arthur, and are newer and better ships than several vessels that are counted as effective when the strength of the German navy is being estimated.

Splendid Progress Being Made on Rosedale Lock

Lindsay, June 2.—The work on Rosedale lock and the new portion of the Trent Valley canal is being pushed forward and those in charge anticipate its completion before the end of the year, but it is not likely the dam across the present channel will be finished this season. Already two-thirds of the seventh-eighths of a mile of excavation has been done and several hundreds of thousands yards of earth and stone have been removed, in which four locomotives and a hundred or more dump cars, a half dozen dump scows and several scows have been employed in removing. The excavating is being done by two large steam shovels and a very powerful dredge which is following and deepening the channel. One can hardly comprehend the immense amount of material removed unless it can be seen.

The concrete work is under the direction of Mr. Geo. Rae, of Lindsay, and between the contractors, McDonald & Fee, and Mr. Rae, a good job is being done. The work on the lock is more than two-thirds completed and a large gang of men are now doing the rip rap work and finishing that portion of the canal already excavated.

About one hundred men are employed on the works, who are housed in a row of cottages. The Italians have their own shacks and board themselves, while the other nationalities of workmen are looked after in a well appointed boarding house presided over by a chef.

The river and lakes on the way up never looked prettier. The trees are now well out in their new dress. The water fowl are now nesting, and these fine long days are perfect health builders. The lock tender at Rosedale called attention to a sound on the night air like a cow bawling. He said it was one of the large bull frogs which used to abound in that locality. "Why," he said "that fellow is as large as your foot." We will not say anything about the mosquito, but they are quite in proportion to the bull frogs, and—in they bite you know it.

Gouin Plans Check of Pulpwood Export

Montreal, June 2.—Speaking at the banquet tendered Sir Lomer Gouin and his cabinet by the Reform Club of Montreal last night, Premier Gouin said that he had in view certain tariff changes looking to the prohibition of the export of pulpwood from Crown lands, resembling to some extent the the regulations laid down by Ontario. In this way he hoped to compel its manufacture into paper in Quebec, and to build up a great industry.

Sir Lomer touched on many phases of political life in Quebec in his address, which was given in French. He was proud to say that he had accomplished among other things, a more equitable division of the Federal subsidies; with increased funds they had been able to do more for education, Dairying, good roads works and farming in Quebec now compared favorable with that of any province.

An attack on Mr. Bourassa, whom he described as a traitor.

Hon. W. A. Weir, provincial treasurer, dealt with the pulpwood and other industries of the province. Other speakers were Hon. Geo. Graham and Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux. Premier Hazzard of Prince Edward Island, was among the guests. Mr. Maxwell Murdock, president of the Reform Club, occupied the chair.

Cargo of Wood

The first cargo of wood to come to the city this year was brought down from the lakes by the steamer Beaver yesterday afternoon for the Peterborough Fuel & Cartage Company. There were 45 cords on the scow. The Beaver will make a round trip every four days all summer for this firm. Ald. Butler is up at the camps now measuring up the cut.

Pains of women, head pains, or any pain stopped in 20 minutes sure, with Dr. Shoop's Pink Pain Tablets. See full formula on 25c. Box. Sold by all dealers.

Growth of Grain in West Has Been Phenomenal

Winnipeg, June 2.—The C. P. R. crop report this morning is of a most optimistic character. The growth during the past ten days has been phenomenal. The crop is actually now ahead of last year. There have been splendid rains all through the West.

Waskada, Sask., reports a hail and wind storm of unusual severity. Fortunately the crops were not up enough to be damaged. Window panes in the town and neighborhood were nearly all smashed.

16 Brides on Board the Steamer Corsican

Montreal, June 2.—The steamer Corsican, Allan Line, had sixteen young ladies on her passenger list, all of whom had come to this country to meet prospective husbands. Four knots were met on deck shortly after the steamer reached port, two more were united at All Saints church, went West to join the men promised to them, where homes on ranches and farms are waiting for them; two had overlooked the stringent laws of the Province of Quebec in regard to Protestants and Catholics marrying, and were held up almost at the altar rail because all the regulations of Archbishop Bruchesi had not been complied with, and two were disappointed. The case of the two latter is described as not being half so pitiable as one might suppose, and apparently a wind blowing from no her direction will very likely waft the music of wedding bells very shortly.

Over the Fence

Neighbor Says Something

The front yard fence is a famous council place on pleasant days. May be to chat with some one along the street, or for friendly gossip with next door neighbor. Sometimes it is only small talk but other times neighbor has something really good to offer.

An old resident of Baird, Texas, got some mighty good advice this way once.

He says:

"Drinking coffee left me nearly dead with dyspepsia, kidney disease and bowel trouble, with constant pains in my stomach, back and side and so weak I could scarcely walk.

"One day I was chatting with one of my neighbors about my trouble and told her I believed coffee hurt me. Neighbor said she knew lots of people to whom coffee was poison, and she pleaded with me to quit it and gave Postum a trial. I did not take her advice right away, but tried a change of climate which did not do me any good, then I dropped coffee and took up Postum.

"My improvement began immediately and I got better every day I used Postum.

"My bowels became regular and in two weeks all my pains were gone. Now I am well and strong and can eat anything I want to without distress. All of this is due to my having quit coffee, and to the use of Postum regularly.

"My son who was troubled with indigestion, thought that if Postum helped me so, it might help him. It did, too, and he is now well and strong again.

"We like Postum as well as we ever liked the coffee and use it altogether in my family in place of coffee and all keep well." "There's a Reason." Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

LUNG TROUBLE

PROMPTLY RELIEVED AND PERMANENTLY CURED BY INHALING CATARRHOZONE.

Mrs. Bray Brown, of Tancoga, N. S., was cured by Catarrhozone of lung trouble and Catarrh after hundreds of other remedies failed.

If your lungs are weak; if there is consumption in your family; if Colds, Catarrh and Bronchitis bother you, be sure to use Catarrhozone. It is especially adapted for these diseases and cures every time.

Mrs. Brown took cough mixtures, but they made her sick. Then she used an atomizer, but, after resorting without benefit to poultices and numerous other remedies, she tried Catarrhozone.

"I used Catarrhozone Inhaler," writes Mrs. Brown. "Five minutes every hour, and soon recognized that it was going to cure me. I could feel the soothing medicated air spreading through the air passages of the throat, and it touched the sore spots in the lungs that other remedies failed to reach. Catarrhozone seemed to go just where it was needed most, and soon put a stop to my cough. It restored me to perfect health, and I am convinced that no cough, cold or catarrh can exist if Catarrhozone is used."

No treatment is so clean, so pleasant, so certain to cure as Catarrhozone. By means of the Inhaler the local symptoms such as coughing, inflammation and congestion are speedily corrected. Ferrozone tablets, which are taken after each meal purify and cleanse the blood of all poisons and build up and strengthen the system.

This local and constitutional treatment is always effective, and cures cases that have been given up as hopeless. Money can't buy or produce anything better, and to get cured it is absolutely necessary to use Catarrhozone.

FREAK TARIFF LAWS

The Senate of the United States seems to be bent upon making a record for crank tariff legislation. It has now restored the Dingley duty of thirty cents a bushel on barley, increased the duty on hops from twelve to twenty cents a bushel and on potatoes from twenty-five to forty-five cents a bushel, and placed a duty of twenty-five per cent. on raw oysters formerly free. The object of these increases is to delude the farmers and fishermen of the United States with the idea that they share in the benefits of a high tariff. The procedure is not unlike that of the green goods men who used to flood the United States and Canada with their circulars. The green goods man declared that he had the secret of a sure and safe way of defrauding the people, in which he was prepared to go halves with his customers. After telling the customer how much easy money he could make he concluded with an appeal of this kind: "For God's sake, do not give me away. "I am your friend." The customer went to the appointed spot, and in the end found that he had given away his good money for a valise full of bricks wrapped in brown paper. The duties on agricultural products are the bricks and brown paper which the American farmer receives in return for his contributions to the trusts and combines.

So long as the American farmer chooses to play the game of the trusts, he must pay the penalty. For Canada the increased restriction, if adopted, will be of small importance. The effect of Dingleyism has been to throw us upon our own resources, and to compel us to pay increased attention to the home market and the British market, and to improve our agricultural methods, instead of placing us at the mercy of Aldrich and his kind. Dingleyism has made Canada commercially independent of the United States.

Twenty years ago our exports of agricultural products to the United States were $9,125,707, and our exports to Great Britain $3,674,955; that is to say, the exports to the United States were two and a half times as valuable as the exports to Great Britain. In 1908 the exports to Great Britain were more than eighteen times as great as the exports to the United States. The exports to Great Britain had increased [illegible] agricultural products to the United States were $9,125,707, out of a total export of $13,414,111. In 1908 the American proportion was $3,122,000 out of a total of $66,000,000. In other words, the American proportion has declined from seventy per cent. to four and a half per cent.

But this does not tell the whole story, for in twenty years the home market of Canada has grown in proportion to the extraordinary development of the country. The exports of agricultural products to the United States are now a bagatelle compared with the products consumed in Canada, and would be far exceeded by the amount consumed in Toronto or Montreal.

The effect of American tariff legislation has been to make Canada a more powerful rival of the United States in the British market. This movement was accelerated also by the Canadian preferential tariff of 1897. Although no equivalent was exacted for this preference, it indirectly caused an increased demand in the United Kingdom for Canadian products. The year following the Dingley bill and the first Fielding tariff, our export to Great Britain of agricultural products was doubled, while our export to the United States was more than cut in two. From 1896 to 1908 the export of agricultural products to Great Britain was again more than doubled. If this restrictive legislation was intended to hurt Canada, it is a marvelous illustrator of the folly of its champions. But in all probability it has no international purpose. It is simply a piece of log-rolling, intended the other features of the tariff.

A despatch states that Mr. Roosevelt shot a rhinoceros at fifteen paces, he having awaited its charge until it got as near as that. Let it go into history that way, but between ourselves, how far away was it when he raised his hand cannon and hit it with a shell that would have derailed a locomotive?

IF SICK--WHY PAY

Unless Health First Returns.

Here is when disease and can be dead!

Now you would not willingly pay for food that was worthless—would you?

Then why pay for medicine until that medicine first proves to you its actual worth?

Positively ignoring when Dr. Shoop's Restorative can do for the sick, I say to all "don't pay unless health first returns". And I back my Restorative with a signed and sealed 30 day "No help, No pay" contract.

I positively pledge to the sick everywhere that "Dr. Shoop's Restorative is absolutely free if it fails". Let others do the same or else pass their prescriptions by.

If you need more strength, more vitality, more vigor or more vim, use my Restorative a few days and note the immediate improvement.

When the Stomach, Heart, or Kidneys are wrong, then test Dr. Shoop's Restorative. I do not claim the Stomach nor alleviate the Heart or Kidneys, for that is wrong. Years ago I shot away that mistaken idea in medicine. The books below will best tell you how I am succeeding.

These books also tell of a tiny hidden "inside nerve," no larger than a silken thread. They tell how that nerve, until it fails, actually gives to the Heart its power, its tone, its motor-stilling action or impulse.

These books will open up new and helpful ideas to those who are not well. They tell how the Stomach, and Kidneys each have their "inside" or power nerves. They tell how the Restorative was especially made to reach and revitalize these weak or failing inside nerves. All of these facts tell why I am able to say, "Make no trial of my medicine unless the matter does not back it just as I do by this remarkable offer".

This is why I say "take no chances on a medicine whose maker dare not back it just as I do by this remarkable offer".

So write me today for the order.

I have appointed honest and responsible druggists in nearly every community to loan my medicines to the sick.

But write me first for the order.

All druggists sell Dr. Shoop's Restorative, but all are not authorized to give the 30 day test.

So drop me a line please—and thus save disappointment and delays. Tell me also which book you need.

A postal will do.

THE WHITE MAN'S GRAVE

MAGIC LURE EXISTS IN DEADLY WEST AFRICA.

For All the Death-Dealing Climate and Fever-Laden Swamps Young Britons Constantly Flow Toward the Yellow Country Which In Hundreds of Cases They Never Leave Alive.

Though it may be true that vast riches lie buried deep beneath the green-splashed yellow coast-line or in the heart of the damp, impenetrable forests, men who has wise prefer tranquil poverty and comparative comfort in the Homeland to certain sickness and uncertain wealth on the West Coast of Darkest Africa, says a writer in Standard of Empire. The place is undesirable, insalubrious, and entirely damned. Yet it has a vast fascination for those who have adventured up its pea-soup colored rivers, or lived in the mud-built native huts of the interior. The brilliant flowers of the coast are almost scentless, and the gaudy birds are practically without song; the days seem filled with choking heat-mists, and the nights are heavy with sleepless, breathless agony—still the Coaster loves the Coast. Loves it though his lungs reject the heavy, dull, suffocating air; clings to it though he knows that its graveyards are filled with the bodies of strong young men.

The call of the Coast is unaccountable and unconquerable. Though one had nearly died there, or lost or gained everything there, it matters not. From an English fireside one looks through the mists towards the yellow line of sand flashing gold and silver beneath the fearful sun; one hears the thunder of the surf, the shouts of the natives, the sing-song chant of the half-naked boatmen, and there comes a strange longing. . . . There is Bathurst, the tiny white town, peopled by blue-gowned British Mohammedans, and washed by the waters of the mighty Gambia. Sierra Leone, with its great mountain studded with barrack buildings, forts, hospitals, and trading stores. Who could forget the wide, dirty, grass-grown open-drained streets of the place lately called the "white man's grave"? Or the houses and huts and stores—all green with the damp of decay and rich in odorous slime—the pale-faced, hollow-eyed white men, the insolent, coal-black negroes, or the butter-colored half-breeds?

Better still, those lazy Sundays when the steamer skirted the treacherous, low-lying, dark green and gold coast, stopping off each native village to be surrounded by a heap of native canoes and crowded out by an army of shouting, gesticulating, almost naked negroes. Those were days! The blue-green sea, the yellow beach, fringed with a heavy line of pure white foam; the green grass, beyond the yellow of the beach, and then the dull blackness of the forest. Above all, an azure sky crammed with balloon-like clouds, silver, and grey, and black. The ship gently rolling in the ocean swell. Behind us, England, home, and our loved ones. Before us, long journeyings, hardships, and dangers; but adventure also—great and glorious adventure.

The place is enchanted: it weaves a spell over the minds of men and, syren-like, first attracts and then enslaves them. White men, British men, live on the coast and learn to love the coast—love it and hate it; respect it, and damn it.

But, after all, the dear, dirty fringe of equatorial civilization offers tangible advantages to certain classes of commercial men. For instance, a clerk transferred from a London counting-house to an office in West Africa gains by the exchange in everything save health. From being a more or less unimportant servant he becomes a master. In his African office there are many men whom he counts his absolute inferiors; in his white painted bungalow on the sea front there are many servants who attend to his creature comforts with a slave-like fidelity. The clerk is one of the conquering race in the eyes of the natives, just as much so as the army officer or the great trader, and as such he is served by the black men. Naturally such service is flattering and pleasant; in time it becomes an essential factor in the man's life. The clerk becomes indolent. He is ordered by his superiors not to hurry; his office hours are limited, his holidays are frequent, and his pay is good. His work generally is the work of supervision; he has to see that others work rather than do any actual labor himself. And so it is with all manner of Europeans on the coast. The white man waxes fat and lazy; he becomes dependent upon others for service; he is a little prince living among a conquered people. And to certain natures this is a condition of life entirely admirable.

But there are other and finer fascinations to be found on the British coast line washed by the waters of the Gulf of Guinea. There are dangers to be encountered, dangers quite apart from the risks of disease born of the insalubrity of the climate. African forests abound in game, the banks of the rivers are alive with dangerous beasts. Crocodiles, and leopards, elephants, serpents, apes, and even lions. And many Britons have the gift of adventure, the thirst for danger. Life in the hinterland among the half-tamed cannibal savages, in the centre of dreadful danger with only a rifle and a handful of cartridges between the white man and a fearful death, appeals to many men born of British mothers. No log-hut life in Western America in the early days was more exciting, more dangerous, than is the life of the British trader in the interior of West Central Africa to-day. Such a man must always be on guard, always alert to avoid danger. He must be strong enough to look unflinchingly at death each and every day. Otherwise . . . . Certainly it is not a country for nervous men or weaklings.

SALVATION FREE.

But There Was a Collection and Also a Reason For It.

The colored parson had just concluded a powerful sermon on "Salvation Am Free" and was announcing that a collection would be taken for the benefit of the parson and his family. Up jumped an acutely brunette brother in the back of the church.

"Look a-yeah, paheon," he interrupted; "yo' ain't no sooner done tellin' us dat salvation am free dan yo' go askin' us fo' money. If salvation am free, what's de use in payin' fo' it? Dat's what I want to know. An' I tell yo' p'intedly dat I ain't goin' to gib yo' nothin' until I find out. Now"—

"Patience, brudder, patience," said the parson. "I'll 'lucidate. S'pose yo' was thirsty an' come to a river. Yo' could kneel right down an' drink yo' fill, couldn't yo'? An' it wouldn't cost yo' nothin', would it?"

"Ob cou'se not. Dat's jest what I"—

"Dat water would be free," continued the parson. "But, s'posin' yo' was to hab dat water piped to yo' house, yo'd have to pay, wouldn't yo'?"

"Yas, suh, but"—

"Waal, brudder, so it is wid salvation. De salvation am free, but it's de havin' it piped to yo' dat yo' got to pay fo'. Pass de hat, deacon; pass de hat."—Everybody's Magazine.

DURABLE INK.

The Secret of Its Manufacture Seems to Have Been Lost.

The ink manufacturer has made great strides in his field. He has produced many colored fluids that seem well adapted to ordinary use. But how long will this ink last without fading?

Did you ever pick up a letter written ten or fifteen years ago and note how much of it is illegible because the ink has faded? Some precious documents not a century old are preserved today in air tight cases, so that the ink will not fade any more. Others have been copied in order to retain the exact chirography of the original authors.

Fading ink is one of the things in which the ancients did not believe. Many of the mediaeval manuscripts six and seven hundreds years old have their letters formed of ink that is as black and bright as on the day when first written.

Who has the secret of this lost art of making durable ink? It is another one of the lost arts that is worthy of investigation. The ancients had fewer materials to work with and less facilities for laboratory tests, but we must acknowledge that there are some things in which they excelled us.—World Today.

Joy of a Yawn.

When life seems more than usually insipid—and such moments do come to even the most hopeful of us—there is a sudden pleasant sympathy in the yawn of the terrier on the rug before the fire. "Ah, you, too, find things a little boring, old fellow!" we say to ourselves. A dog yawns nobly, making no attempt at disguising it with politely uplifted paw. All animals seem to enjoy a yawn except man. We once saw the late lamented hippopotamus at the zoo lift himself slowly from his murky pond and yawn. It was a great spectacle, tremendous, Homeric. The concentrated boredom of the whole creation seemed expressed in that gigantic gasp. For a few fascinated moments pond, shed, railings, people, all seemed merged in one colossal mouth. It was wonderful. Oh, we thought as we came away, to be able to yawn like that when life becomes too silly!—Pall Mall Gazette.

Get Out of Doors.

Trudeau's classic experiment points us in the right direction. After inoculating a number of rabbits with tuberculosis he confined a number of them indoors and turned the others outdoors. The latter all recovered, while the former all died. This experiment shows that a rabbit living upon its natural food and under a natural environment is proof against tuberculosis. There is abundant reason to believe this equally true of man. In other words, tuberculosis is not a necessary evil of human life, but is a natural consequence of erroneous habits and departure from natural conditions. Man is naturally an outdoor animal. A mole lives a healthy life in a burrow. A man must live in the fresh air and the sunshine.—Medical Record.

The Brigands.

The word "brigand" is derived from a portion of the armor worn by archers, English and foreign, anciently called the "brigandine." This consisted of an apron of leather plated over, scale fashion, with thin pieces of steel. From the irregularities of the light armed men who wore these defenses the name of brigand became in course of time infamous.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

AN INDIAN RIOT.

Constable Bayonetted a Bull, Owner Assaulted Constable.

Details are published in the Indian press of a serious riot at Kotappakonda, near Guntur. An important Hindu festival, the Sivaratri, was attended by many thousands of pilgrims and a police force of 150 of all ranks was detailed, as usual, to keep order. The riot, according to the police version, originated in a constable bayonetting a bull which had kicked him. The owner of the bull assaulted the constable and was arrested. According to a pilgrim who witnessed the rioting, the man was leading his bull to water, and, the animal being somewhat frisky, the constable forbade him to lead it among the crowd, and struck the animal and the man. The latter is said to have retaliated by assaulting the constable with a lathi. A mob of 5,000 soon assembled, attacked the temporary police-station, and pelted the police with stones. The inspector ordered the police to fire, and, according to one account, two rioters were killed and a number wounded. Another report, however, says that the police fired away all their cartridges in the air. The constables were scattered by the mob, one peon was killed, and the temporary police station was burnt. The district superintendent of police, on receiving a message from the sub-inspector, rode to the scene, and it is reported that he found no policemen there. He was surrounded by the mob, who pelted him with stones and burnt down the house in which he sought refuge. He received four deep wounds on the head and several contused wounds on the body. Besides the two inspectors, three sub-inspectors and eight constables were seriously injured, and six constables are reported to be missing. The reserve police arrived next morning and restored order.

Poor Business.

A a political meeting in the east side of London Mr. C. T. Ritchie, then a Cabinet Minister, delivered an address, but after it was over it was found that Mr. Ritchie's overcoat had been stolen. In order to save Mr. Ritchie any annoyance Sir Thomas Dewar, the chairman of the meeting, sent the sum of 10 shillings to a certain quarter of the constituency well known as a thieves' haunt. Very shortly three overcoats were brought round to the hall. Mr. Ritchie picked out his coat from among them, the other two were honorably returned to the thieves, and everybody felt relieved that the incident had terminated so satisfactorily.

A few days afterward, when Sir Thomas Dewar was on his rounds canvassing, a man tapped him on the shoulder and asked if he could have a word or two with him.

"Certainly," answered the candidate.

"How much did you send for the coat?" he was asked.

"Ten shillings," was the reply.

"Well, gov'nor, do you call that business? I only got a shilling out of it, and I was the bloke who pinched it!"—London Standard.

Gordon's Rose-Tree.

Of the actual work of Gordon's hands at Khartoum remains but a rose-bush in the palace garden which, hewn down by the malice of his enemies, sprang to life again with the coming of spring—a type of the joyful resurrection to which the hero looked forward with that unfaltering eye. It is affectionately tended by an old Sudanese sergeant who was one of Gordon's men, and stands in the midst of an earthly paradise. In that indulgent climate, on the banks of the dark river which carries down from the cornucopia of Abyssinia the waters that fertilise Egypt, the growth of gardens is tropically exuberant. This rose-tree, says The Sunday at Home, was found blooming beside the ruins when, on the second day after its red victory at Omdurman, a British army, horse, foot, and artillery, was drawn up, in the full pomp of war, beside the last earthly habitation of Charles George Gordon, to give him, in the religions of the three kingdoms, the most solemn funeral service ever read over a general killed in battle, with one of his own old gunboats firing the tolling minute guns.

Mr. Sant and His Models.

It is now nearly thirty years ago since the doyen of the Royal Academy, Mr. James Sant, who celebrated his eighty-ninth birthday the other day, painted that famous picture, "The Soul's Awakening." It was a sudden inspiration during the visit of one of the painter's young nieces to London. Mr. Sant caught her in his studio one afternoon rapt in thought over a book she had just been reading, and "The Soul's Awakening" was the result. For "Peaches," another of Mr. Sant's well-known pictures, the artist's daughter Hilda was the model at the age of two, the radiant cheeks of the child actually suggesting comparison with the beautiful fruit she happened to be carrying in her hand.

Says This Medicine Has Mystic Powers

It's in the spring that health gives out—that folks begin to feel draggy, weary, restless,—hate to eat, look pale, feel discouraged.

If you've reached this state read what J. W. Jarvell, well known in Morristown, has to say about the medicine that cured him. "Last winter I caught a heavy cold that settled in my back. My kidneys and liver were affected and my health failed. By spring I was in bad shape—couldn't sleep like I used to—felt tired in the morning—ate very little—was terribly depressed, late and anxious looking. Twinges of rheumatism, frequent neuralgia attacks over the temples, made matters worse. The doctor prescribed three times, but didn't help. Then I heard of Dr. Hamilton's Pills—They possess mystic powers surely, for I gained and improved day by day and now am in perfect health again. I will praise and use Dr. Hamilton's Pills till I die."

The ingredients in Dr. Hamilton's Pills are pure and wholesome—come right from the storehouse of Nature to the form of veletable juices and extracts,—consequently this gentle invigorating laxative tonic and blood purifier is safe for old and young alike. We assure you of enormous benefit from Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which revitalize delicate glands search out the seat of hidden disease, flood the body with vigor and health that has caused thousands of broken-down, despairing men and women to join in a mighty song of praise for the beneficient aid that comes from this king of all tonics. Fish are Plentiful

Mr. Perry Alexander, the new manager of "Islanda" Buckhorn Lake was in the city yesterday on business. He says the weather at the lakes is delightful now and the in-rush of resorters and tourists will commence at an early date. Mr. Alexander states that the veteran fishermen predict a splendid fishing season this year in the Kawartha Lakes.

Canoe was Upset

A couple of young men of the city had a close call at the cemetery point Tuesday, when they were out paddling. Their canoe was upset at the point and they had a lively scramble for the shore. One of the men working at the cemetery assisted them in landing their effects. Both canoeists were thoroughly drenched and report the water rather too cold for bathing. The canoeists put in their carpets and cushions and paddled back to their boathouse.

Flowers in the Parks

Messrs. Jordan Bros. have been awarded the contract for supplying the flowers and the caretaking of Victoria and Central parks. The firm estimates that over five thousand plants will be required to begin the bedding out this season. Jordan Bros. were also engaged yesterday in putting in a large oval decorative flower bed and two crescent-shaped flower beds for the Collegiate Institute grounds.

PERSONAL

Miss Gertrude Primeau, Driscoll Terrace, East City, is visiting friends in Toronto.

Mr. Jas. Lang, formerly proprietor of the East City Drug Store, was in the city yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Butler-Yeats, have moved from 301 Park street, and will reside in future at 278 Reid street.

Mr. E. W. Smith, who has been night operator at the G. T. R. station for some time has left to visit at his home in Kirkfield. He will later leave for Omaha, Neb., where he has accepted a position.

Miss A. M. Patterson, graduate nurse of St. Thomas, has become a professional resident of the city, at 639 Water street. She comes highly recommended by the St. Thomas professor, Dr. Tufford, of that place, specially commending her qualifications.

Mr. J. R. Stratton, and Mr. W. Thompson, Mayor of Orillia, will take part in the ceremonies of laying the corner stone of a new Methodist church near Orillia, on June 17th. The pastor is Rev. Mr. Mason, a former resident of Peterborough.

The Canadian Manufacturer says:—"A very sad accident occurred at Walkerton on May 20, when Mr. G. E. Kilmer, of the engineering firm of Kilmer, Pullan & Burnham, McKinnon Building, Toronto, in some way fell under the wheels of the train from which he had alighted, and sustained injuries which resulted in his death. The engineering firm represents the General Electric Co. of Sweden. Seven years ago Mr. Kilmer and Mr. Pullan entered into partnership, and this year Mr. Burnham joined the partnership. The Mr. Burnham referred to is Mr. Geo. C. Burnham, who married the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kendry, Water street.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart and Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to the vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days tests will surely tell. Try it once, and see! Sold by all dealers.

Grand Trunk New offices

The Grand Trunk Railway System with their new organization in Europe have opened a fine suite of offices at 17-19 Cockspur street, London, one of the best locations in the city. It is just opposite Pall Mall and the majority of the traffic from Westminster and the West End of London passes through this thoroughfare to Piccadilly, Oxford street, and commercial sections of the Metropolis. Canadians who visit London will find these offices complete in every way and the Company are desirous of having all visitors from the colonies make their headquarters in London their rendezvous, where they can have their mail addressed, make appointments and do their correspondence. This is an innovation of the transportation lines of the Colonies and no doubt will be taken advantage of by many overseas' visitors to the Mother Country.

Information Wanted

The Supervision Committee of the Board of Education deem it advisable to secure fuller information about the penny savings bank before it is adopted here. The present curriculum keeps the teachers pretty busy and if the savings bank adds much to their studies the board does not particularly favor it. The teachers are, however, willing to take up the work. An officer of the bank will be brought here to explain the system before any further action is taken.

Appointed Inspector

Dr. Bernard R. Poole, V.S., has been appointed by the Dominion Government Veterinary Inspector under the Contagious Diseases Animal Branch of the Department of Agriculture, and will assume his duties at an early date. It is not yet known where his headquarters will be. Dr. Poole has been for eighteen years a resident of Peterborough, and by his practical success, as well as by his professional qualifications, acquired under the thorough methods of the Old Country, should be well qualified for the satisfactory discharge of the important duties he is called upon to fill.

Salvation Army Band Concert on Sunday

Ald. J. J. Turner has a suggestion to make to the council at its next meeting which no doubt every citizen in Peterborough will consider. It is that the Salvation Army band give a religious concert in Victoria Park on Sunday evening after eight o'clock instead of during the week as the present arrangement calls for. When the Army band receives a grant from the city it is on condition that they give a weekly concert in the park. The Army has a first-class band which is especially adapted to religious music. Their concerts are greatly appreciated and no doubt a very large crowd will gather every Sunday evening. It is felt by many that this change would be a great improvement and it is hoped Ald. Turner will be successful.

WEDDING BELLS

yesterday morning at half past ten, by the rector Rev. Dr. Langfeldt, M. A., B. D. The ceremony was witnessed by a large number of the relatives and friends of the contracting parties.

The bride entered the church leaning on the arm of her cousin, Mr. T. B. Manicee, who gave her away, to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by the organist, Mr. H. Kilpack. The bride looked very pretty in a travelling suit of taupe with a hat to match. She carried white roses. The bride and groom were unattended.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Bennet left on the 11.16 C. P. R. train for Ottawa. They will visit in Ottawa, Winnipeg and Banff before returning to Three Valleys, B. C., where they will reside.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennet are followed by the best wishes of a host of friends in Peterborough. Mrs Bennet will be much missed especially in the Sunday School of St. Luke's church, in the work which she took a very prominent part.

Welcome News for the Pupils

The pupils of the Public school will no doubt be pleased to hear that school will close on Friday, June 23rd, and not at the end of the month, as in former years. This was decided at the meeting of the Board of Education held Tuesday night. As the examinations of the Public schools and Collegiate Institute are over by this date, and the teachers have a big task in making the many different papers, it has been thought advisable to close the schools on the 23rd. There is very little work accomplished by the pupils in the remaining few days, and it will be a great help to the teachers in the work of examination. The fact of the holiday coming earlier will be appreciated by the scholars, and they should show their appreciation by giving close attention to their studies in the short time allotted to them in preparation for the coming examinations, and thus bring credit to their teachers and themselves.

Big Matinee at Driving Park Thursday Afternoon

The weekly matinee of the Turf Club was held in the Driving Park yesterday afternoon, and there was a good-sized crowd present to see the fun. In this they were not disappointed for there was something doing all the time. The club put on three races and a five-mile foot race, and there was a good bunch of horses entered. The next matinee will be a week from Saturday afternoon, when another five-mile foot race will be put on. Parker will again be an entry and as he is showing wonderful speed there should be a crowd present.

The results yesterday were as follows;

THE 5-MILE RACE.

Billy Parker, Fred Simpson's new Hiawatha protege, gives promise of developping into a fleet-foted Indian. Yesterday afternoon at the Driving Park, Parker beat B Slighte and George Robertson in the five-mile run under the auspices of the Peterborough Turf Club and carried off the honors in easy fashion. The track is half a mile in length and it therefore required ten circuits in the blistering sun to make the distance.

At the finish Parker crossed the line with a great burst of speed, before Slighte had rounded the last turn. The winner's time was caught by Timer C Milley at 27.12.

Robertson took the lead at the start and held it for the first mile. After that however, he offered no opposition and dropped out when he had gone three three miles and a quarter.

The pace was evidently too hot for Slighte who quit when he had passed the starter for the fourth mile, and apparently was weak. Chas. Thorpe who looked after him refreshed him him up with some cold water applications with a handkerchief, and he resumed the race again with him. By this time Parker had obtained a big advantage and had the race well in hand. Slighte finished in good form.

For Every Dollar Saved in Lights Three Dollars Extra are Paid for Rent

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Sir,—My attention has just been drawn to a report of a meeting of the Manufacturers' Committee of our City oCuncil which was held on the evening of the 27th ult.

At this meeting Ald. Morrow took the position that all the merchants on George street were complaining of the high rates that now prevail for the electric lighting of their stores. I beg to assure Ald. Morrow that there is the sound of complaint among the merchants on George street but I regret that his sense of hearing is so defective that he cannot catch the real sound of complaint. Seeing that his sense of hearing is so defective I think it well to try his sense of seeing and I wish to ask him in his representative capacity as one of our city fathers to read the following facts.

About seven years ago the merchants on George street paid for electric lighting about $6 per lamp less a discount of 20 per cent. At the present time the rate is only $3 per lamp net per annum. In other words the merchants on George street are paying according to the size of their stores from $60 to $120 per year less for light than they were seven years ago.

But how does the question of rental stand? About seven years ago the ordinary well located store on George street rented for $400 to $600 per annum. The rental for these same stores has increased about 50 per cent., that is to say the merchant who paid $400 seven years ago must now pay in the neighborhood of $600 per annum and the merchant who paid $600 seven years ago now pays over $900 per annum.

I hope that Ald. Morrow may now be assured that the cause of complaint among the merchants is really not against the lighting companies but it is against the absentee landlords whom he so ably represents that causes the sound of complaint and one of these complaints is that for every dollar that the cost of lighting of stores has been reduced by the lighting companies the rent has been correspondingly increased $3 by their absentee landlords.

Ald. Morrow is to be congratulated upon posing as the friend of the merchant as against the lighting companies especially in view of the fact that there is not a city, town or hamlet in the Dominion of Canada that pays less for electric lighting either mercantile or domestic than the city of Peterborough.

Ald. Morrow a championing a cause against the lighting companies where there is no cause of complaint. There is no man in Peterborough who could make himself so popular as Ald. Morrow with his usual force of character and far-sightedness if he were to staunchly advocate the reduction of rents to the merchants. Let me assure him that if the rents on George street were reduced the merchants could sell to the working men of Peterborough their necessities of life at a cheaper price.

Yours truly,

A MERCHANT.

Athletes Had a Good Workout

There was a big turnout of athletes at Nicholls Oval last night when a good work out was enjoyed. The boys indulged in running, pole vaulting, etc. Unfortunately George Armstrong sprained his ankle while on the track and he will be laid up for several days and will not be able to participate in the games for a couple of weeks. The athletes are getting in shape for the competition for the Howden trophy and other prizes which will be competed for as soon as the new track at Riverside Park is fixed up.

Unfair to Young Ministers to Put Them in the "Sweat-Box"

Would Be Going Back to the Dark Ages, Says One—Sweatbox is Not Brotherly, One Speaker's Experience—Don't Censor Newspapers

London, June 3.—The London Methodist Conference at its session this morning decided that the conference should not put the young men coming up for ordination through a special examination before the conference. The motion to thus examine candidates was proposed by Dr. Gundy and Mr. T. T. George.

APPOINTMENTS TO VICTORIA.

"The candidates have been at college for some years," said Dr. Gundy, "and some of us are not convinced as to the wisdom of some of the appointments to the professorate of Victoria College. I think that the conference should satisfy itself as to the views of these young men, for whom they are responsible."

"I refuse to take my views from Dr. Gundy," said Rev. W. J. Joliffe, "and I am sorry that some of the speeches yesterday seemed to reflect upon the character of the young men."

MOVED FOR COMMISSION.

Rev. J. S. Cooke moved that a commission be appointed to examine into the theological views of the young men.

"I do not think that any examination is necessary," said Rev. Jasper Wilson. "The district meeting was satisfied with the orthodoxy of these young men, and that is as good as any commission. If we are willing to trust the latter, we should be willing to trust the district meeting. We are only starting a question as to the orthodoxy of the views of these young men without due cause."

CHALLENGED DR. GUNDY.

Rev. J. F. Knight, who two years ago went through a severe examination before the conference at Goderich, challenged Dr. Gundy, who had conducted the examination against him on that occasion, to answer his own question;

"What is your definition of God?"

"If any man here could answer that question," said Mr. Knight, "I would like to hear it. You could define God. He would be God. Even to my circuit after my examination under a strong suspicion of heresy, and I protest that you have no right to impose such a reflection on these men. Surely we can believe in the sincerity of such men as Chancellor Burwash and Dr. Wallace and Prof. Bowles when they declare the orthodoxy of these young men."

AN UNDIGNIFIED POSITION.

Rev. G. F. Salton of Stratford, thought that the motion proposed would place the conference in a very undignified position.

"We are not placing ourselves in any position," said Mr. Gundy.

"When you charge these young men with being adepts in the art of cheating, I thank you are," replied Mr. Salton. "These men," he continued, "have been examined before the Examining Board of Victoria College and their district meeting, and I find no word in the discipline as to what authority permits you to examine them further.

UNFAIR AND UNBROTHERLY.

"It is absolutely unfair to these young men to put them into a sweat-box when they are not expecting it, and it is unbrotherly to the district meeting which recommended them, and though we may deny it, we do by this motion reflect upon the faculty of Victoria College, and I rather fancy that these young men would be brought before us, not to examine them so much as to use them as clubs for the faculty who have brought them out."

On the motion and the amendment being put to the conference, both were lost by very large majorities.

Rev. G. N. Hinson suggested that the reports for the newspapers be placed under the censorship of the president of the conference.

"I can't imagine the newspapers of London publishing anything more discreditable to this conference than this proposal," said Rev. M. L. Pearson. "The day is gone past when Pyecraft can do things in a corner, and I think it would be degrading in the extreme to ask for conference supervision on these reports."

The motion to censor the press reports was lost. The action of the conference this morning practically puts the closure on any discussion of the Carman-Jackson controversy.

Robert Walsh Passed Away While Sleeping

Very suddenly and without a moment's notice Robert Walsh passed peacefully away at his home on Murray street at the rear of the church yesterday afternoon. The deceased had been ailing for several years but was able to be up and at around the house. At noon yesterday he was apparently in his usual health and the family left soon after dinner. He was sitting in a chair near the door and when his little daughter Lulu came home from school after four o'clock, she found him still sitting in the chair, but he was dead. When the doctor arrived he said that the deceased had quietly slept away and apparently had not moved a muscle. The late Robert Walsh was about 55 years of age, a native and a life-long resident of Peterborough. He was a teamster previous to his being taken ill and for several years has been caretaker of Murray street Baptist church. He was well known in the city and had many friends. He is survived by a wife, two sons, Charles and Thomas, and one daughter, Lulu, all living at home. One brother John resides in New York States. The arrangements for the funeral have not yet been made.

Poultry Association's Interesting Meeting

The Peterborough Poultry Association held its regular monthly meeting in their hall over Mr. C. N. Brown's store last night. The association is by no means dead; on the contrary it is wide awake, and the attendance is keeping up well. President Parman was in the chair, and he kept things moving and added much to the interest of the proceedings. After the routine business Mr. C. E. Sagley gave a very interesting paper on the rearing of chickens that have been hatched by artificial means. He gave the members the benefit of his wide experience in incubation and feeding, and a lot of valuable information was given out which was greatly appreciated. These monthly papers are very beneficial and do much to keep up the interest in the association.

There were two pair of birds on exhibition, one pair of partridge wyandottes, which were very fine, owned by Mr. Cunningham, and a pair of ancanas, owned by Mr. D. Cameron. These breeds were discussed by the members and the peculiarities of breeds were pointed out. At the July meeting a paper will be read by Mr. Calendar on the mandummer care of fowl.

On A Visit to St. Mark's, Otonabee

The Right Rev. Dr. Sweeny, Lord Bishop of Toronto, accompanied by Rev. Canon Davidson, Dr. Langfeldt, and Mr. G. A. Hay, rector's warden, paid an official visit to S. Mark's church, Otonabee, on Wednesday, June 2nd. Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P., very kindly had his automobile placed at the disposal of his lordship for the day. A goodly number of parishioners were present to extend to the bishop a hearty welcome and express their loyalty to him. The bishop appreciated the cordiality with which he was received very much, and in his remarks drew very many valuable lessons from the life and work of a farmer as relating to the Kingdom of God. After having visited St. Mark's the party went to Lakefield, visiting S. John's church and the Grove Preparatory school, returning in time for the confirmation service at St. Luke's.

Englishmen Scrap on Hunter Street

There was a two-round bout between two Englishmen yesterday afternoon which recalled to many of the spectators the good old days of the Corbett-Jeffries fights. The scrap, at least the second round, was enacted on Hunter street, just east of George, about a quarter past five o'clock. The first round was evidently fought out in the morning in some quiet secluded spot where Englishman No. 1 punched Englishman No. 2. In the afternoon the two met again and No. 2 demanded satisfaction and proceeded to take it. They were throwing their arms wildly and talking loud, as per usual. P. C. McHarry who was passing at the time, arrested No. 2, who was the aggressor, and escorted him to the police station.

Two Woodstock Men Gallantly Rescued from Drowning

Woodstock, June 3.—Yesterday afternoon, in celebration of the birthday of Peter Poole, well-known grocer, Mr Poole, his three children, and John Markey, editor of the Sentinel-Review, went on a fishing expedition to Hodges mill-pond, seven miles from the city. While Mr Poole was wielding his line, he slipped on the mossy stones and fell into fifteen feet of water. The editor jumped in after him, knowing that Mr. Poole was unable to swim. When in the water, Mr. Markey found his left shoulder powerless, and the two were in great danger of drowning.

Then Mr. Hodges appeared on the scene and jumped from the bank to the aid of the two unfortunate fishermen. In some way he jumped squarely on Mr. Markey's already damaged shoulder and knocked the newspaperman unconscious. What happened then is not exactly known, but presently Hodges had both city men safely on the bank.

The editor was revived and was driven home, where it was found that his left shoulder had been dislocated. Mr. Poole did not sustain any damage.

WEDDING BELLS

HOOLIHAN—MEADE.

A quiet but very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Peter's Cathedral Tuesday morning, June 1st, at seven o'clock, when Miss Clara Meade, daughter of John Meade of Douro, was united in marriage to Mr. Dennis Hoolihan, formerly of Peterborough.

The bride was assisted by Miss Anne Hoolihan of Toronto, sister of the groom, while the groom was assisted by Mr. W. J. Meade, brother of the bride. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Kelly.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Hoolihan left on the 8.30 train for Hamilton. On their return they will reside at 684 Rose street, Ashburnham.

FOOTBALL.

The Britons and Scots football teams met on the former's grounds last night and indulged in a hard and fast game of soccer. The result was in favor of Britons by a score of 5 to 2. The Scots are a bunch of good kickers who have an eye for the goal. They however showed signs of weakness towards the end of the game, while the Britons were playing better ball. Jock Galbraith for the winners, played a star game.

Entwhistle is said to be the toughest town in the Canadian West. But what did they expect who gave it a name that sounds like a riotous noise in the throat?

Balloon Squadron to Protect the Coast

New York, June 3.—According to a Washington special to the Tribune, the Atlantic coast from Maine to Florida will soon be protected from foreign invasion by a squadron of dirigible balloons if Congress can be brought to see the necessity and value of such defences. This was learned at the war department today, where it was found that General James Allen, chief of the Signal Corps, has been ordered to formulate plans for such defences, and that Major George O. Squier has begun the preliminary drawings.

It has been decided that besides the protection furnished to the coast by the coast artillary, with its numerous defensive agents, the war balloon is necessary for purposes of observation. It is the belief of General Allen that recent tests have demonstrated even to the most conservative members of congress that the balloon and the aeroplane are to play a great part in the armament of every progressive nation, and the War Department has determined that unless the United States begins its development along these lines it is in danger of falling far behind the other powers.

Thus far little actual work on the preliminary plans has been done, but the subject has been discussed at great length by the department aeronautic experts, and a tentative agreement has been reached as to the lines along which the work will be taken up.

President Taft hopes that some real hot weather in June may put a stop to the operations of the tariff tinkers. It might also serve as a warning of the future state of those who grind the faces of the poor with heavy taxes.

It is hard to understand why the Governor of Australia refused a dissolution to the Fisher government. Surely it would be useful to have a vote of the Australia people on the question of naval policy, on which the Fisher government is said to be luke-warm.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

Maurice Ryan Died Declaring Innocence

North Bay, June 3.—A bright, beautiful morning, with not a cloud in the sky, greeted Maurice Ryan, as he was awakened from apparently a peaceful slumber to pay the penalty for the murder of his brother, Francis Joseph Ryan, at North Bay, in November, 1907. His last night on earth was passed calmly in consultation with his spiritual adviser, his lordship Bishop Scollard, in conversation with his jailer, and in giving a statement to the press. He retired shortly after midnight, and slept peacefully until awakened one half hour before his execution.

A sinister black flag was flying at half mast over the court house as the small crowd of morbidly curious gathered outside the building, while telegraph poles and adjoining buildings were used to gain a view of the last tragedy. Only a limited number of spectators were allowed within the jail yard, three constables, two jail officials, a sheriff, and deputy sheriff, a physician, three members of the press, and Bishop Scollard.

WEPT AT GALLOWS.

At fifteen minutes to six o'clock Radcliffe proceeded to the cell of the condemned man, pinioned his arms behind his back, and the procession to the scaffold began, led by Bishop Scollard, reciting the service. Ryan being supported by Radcliffe and the gurnkey.

Coming in sight of the scaffold, Ryan weakened and cried bitterly, his agitation increasing in violence as he descended the scaffold. As he took his position on the trap he cried out, "I am innocent," and as the black cap was quickly drawn down over his head his sobs continued, and, fearing he would collapse completely, Radcliffe adjusted the noose and, without waiting to pinion his legs pulled the lever, and Maurice Ryan was ushered into eternity. Life was declared extinct eleven and three-quarter minutes after the drop, an unusually long time, nine minutes being the average, and twelve minutes the maximum. The lever was pulled at six minutes to six.

HIS PREPARED STATEMENT.

Maurice Ryan made the following statement to the press Wednesday evening with the full knowledge that his fate was certain, and that his time on earth was limited to a few hours;

"I am not guilty of the crime which I have been convicted of, nor do I know anything about it, and I thank Mr. Bull, my lawyer, for what he has done for me, as I did not have a dollar to pay him for fighting my case. If I had had another trial I could have proven where I got the money, but I did not know I would have to account for it, and not being able to see my lawyer until the last few days, I was unable to give him the information I wanted, consequently he had nothing to work on for a new trial, nor had he any money to work with. I had several witnesses, but did not have the money to get them here, and I did not know where they were before the trial, finding out afterwards, but too late. I hope the people will soon learn that I died an innocent man. I forgive my enemies, and die with a clear conscience, so help me God."

The evidence against Ryan was purely circumstantial, but convincing. He was the last person seen with his brother, with whom he started for the station when the latter was leaving the country with several hundred dollars. The body was found a year later near the roadway, having been uncovered by a forest fire. Maurice, who was always short of cash, was seen with several hundred dollar bills shortly after his brother disappeared. He also went to the United States and secured money from his brother's bank account by means of a forged check, and sold his brother's furniture in North Bay. He said he had seen his brother safely on the train, and got letters from him, when it is evident that the brother was shot dead on the way to the train.

Altogether, there is little reason to believe the law has made a mistake.

Programme for the Band Concert

The first band concert of the season will be held this evening, as already announced. Mr. Rupert Gliddon, bandmaster, has arranged a program that should be most enjoyable and should attract a large crowd to Victoria Park for the opening concert. It will not be commenced until 8.30 o'clock, owing to the inspection of the 57th Regiment.

The program will be as follows;

March—"Old Brigade," by Chambers.

Overture—"Barber of Seville," Rossini.

Cornet Serenade," by Chapette — Euphonium solo, with band accompaniment—Bandsman Crona.

Iona—Intermezzo ....

Reminiscences of the Pianaion, by Para Chamber.

Concert Mazurka ... ...

Von Tilzer's Medley—"Don't Take Me Home."

March—"King Radium" ... ...

God Save the King.

All the above members are good, and from a concert standpoint should be most pleasing. They are also new and a treat may be expected. "The Reminiscences of the Pianation" includes solo parts for many instruments. The following will be heard; Piccolo and E flat clarinet, Messrs. Gowe and F. Miller; B flat clarinet, Mr. F. Barnes, cornet, Sergt. Hughes, euphonium, E. Crook; bass, Messrs. Harper, Meth. McBrien and Cunningham.

Rossini's "Barber of Seville" is

Two New Trains for Sundays

The Sunday service on the C.P.R. between Toronto and Montreal will be greatly improved by the addition of two new trains, one each way, starting next Sunday, June 6th. Train No. 4 will leave Peterborough for the east at 11.26 a.m. and train No. 3 will leave Peterborough for the west at 4.38 p.m. The lack of train service on Sunday has been greatly felt in the past as there is considerable traffic both east and west from the city on Sunday. The C.P.R. is to be congratulated upon the step and it is to be hoped that the new trains will be well patronized and made profitable.

A correspondent says he gathers from recent articles that we would favor a British-American alliance. To be sure. Why should not everybody under both flags favor it.

Two Power Standard for the British Navy

Premier Asquith's speech on the two-power standard for the navy seems to be the embodiment of common sense. He declares that the two-power standard is not an immutable truth like the law of gravitation, but a convenient rule of thumb applicable to the conditions under which it was made. The naval policy of the country must be modified from time to time, and it is impossible to lay down any precise rule as to the number of navies to which the British navy must be equal or superior. It is equally impossible to specify the nations to which a rule would be applicable. At the same time geography must be considered and an American or Asiatic power must be considered in a different light from an European power. In dealing with a naval power whose base is thousands of miles away, with no intermediate coaling stations, it is elementary common sense not to treat it like a power whose ports are thirty or a hundred miles distant.

Mr. Balfour criticised the Premier's statement as vague, but the fact is that it was a mistake to try to pin the premier down to a precise definition where precision is impossible. By persistent cross-examination Mr. Asquith might have induced to eliminate one power after another until only Germany and Austria were left as possible enemies of England, but such a declaration would have caused nothing but mischief. It was equally unwise to make teasing, worrying inquiries as to the attitude of the ministry in regard to the navy of the United States. The previous declarations made by Mr. Churchill and Mr. McKenna were simply expressions of confidence in the continuance of friendly relations between the United States and Great Britian. They were wise and statesmanlike, and they served a good purpose. But no good purpose is served by trying to express international friendships in a mathematical formula, or by trying to elicit a ministerial declaration as to what the United States would do in case of war.

The Summer Vacation

In this country the majority of men save something out of their incomes against a rainy day. A good many of them keep on saving from habit long after the fear of a rainy day has passed.

To save is a good and prudent provision for misfortune and old age; but the present has its rights as well as the future. Of the great number of men that save, few ever really have the use of their savings.

To most men death comes before they have retired on their money and while they are still adding to their pile.

Why not, then, borrow a little from the future? After all it is just as pleasant to have a rest and recreation this year as to have them when one is seventy and cannot enjoy them.

Moreover, there is a fair certainty of being alive this summer; but if one waits until one is seventy death may intervene and cheat one of the expected pleasures.

It is curious how many families stay at home because they think they cannot afford to travel, while families whose income is no larger go where they have a mind to go, get much enjoyment out of life, and never lack food or comfort to the end.

There is a middle way, a golden mean, between parsimony and extravagance. Wealth is no well saved which costs health or a dull life.

He is a poor man indeed, who cannot afford to buy some amusement and recreation while able to enjoy them.

Successfully Rescued

Mr. Harry Gibson, of Kingston, was rescued from an enemy that had relentlessly pursued him for years.

Mr. Gibson was born and brought up in Kingston, By profession he is a school teacher. He received his training in Queen's University, where he took a course in arts and medicine that will befits him to talk on almost any subject.

The enemy that for 25 years relentlessly pursued Mr. Gibson is a menace to our entire population—it is the demon, Catarrh.

Mr. Gibson says:—"For years I was never free from Catarrh of the nose and throat. It bothered me winter and summer and kept me so continually coughing and hawking that I found it a great impediment to the proper performance of my duties at school. I used every available means of obtaining a cure, took bottle after bottle of medicine prescribed by local doctors, but never got more than temporary relief. I consulted a well-known specialist in the States, but after spending a considerable amount of money with him to no advantage, was forced to look elsewhere for relief, which I first received from Catarrhozone.

I consider Catarrhozone a genuine cure for Catarrh. It drove that loathsome disease completely out of my system, and today I am as well as if I never knew what the word Catarrh implied."

A straightforward proof of cure, coming from a well-known gentleman like Mr. Gibson carries conviction of the fact with it that Catarrhozone does all that is claimed. Bronchitis it positively has no equal. All druggists, price $1; small size, 50 cents. By mail from Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

GENUINE LOYALTY

"Canada" thinks that the dominions over seas are flouted because the British Government did not fly the flag over the parliament buildings on Empire Day. In this Dominion, at least, it would be difficult to find anybody who is worrying himself over the matter. Moreover, very little stock is taken in this country of accusations of disloyalty made against a government or a political party. The charge is hackneyed and thoroughly discredited. It was used for the purpose of preventing the establishment of responsible government in Canada. The first responsible ministry was accused of being disloyal and of showing favor to "French rebels." The parliament buildings were burned over its head, and the governor-general rotten-egged, because the rejected the constitution. The same charge was made against the Laurier government in its early years, because it was headed by a French-Canadian.

Canadians do not believe that the British Liberal party is less loyal than its opponent, or has the interests of the Empire less at heart. The work of social reform to which the Asquith government has set its hand is a great Imperial work, for the Empire can never be safe unless the heart of the Empire is sound. The improvement of the condition of the poor of London is a better piece of practical loyalty than the flying of flags. The Asquith government is working but a better drama of "The Englishmen's Home" than that which had been put on the stage. It is trying to give the Englishman a home worth fighting for.

GUNBOATS ON THE LAKES

Not long ago Mr. Justice MacLaren of Toronto, at a peace meeting at Mobonk, spoke of the value of the convention made between the United States and Great Britain by which the great lakes have been practically free from war vessels for more than eighty years. A few days later it was announced that the Nashville, the American gunboat which fired the first shot in the Spanish war, was passing through the St. Lawrence canals on its way to Chicago, where it is to be used as a training ship for the naval reserve. On Monday the cruiser Simcoe arrived at Montreal and was handed over to the minister of marine and fisheries. It was announced that the Simcoe had several inches of armor on her fore parts, especially adapted to carry heavy guns, and could be transformed in a few days into a formidable fighting ship, modern in every detail. The Ottawa officials, however, say that these details are incorrect, and that the vessel is not formidable.

It is to be hoped that these incidents, not very important in themselves, do not mean that the two countries are drifting away from the condition which Judge MacLaren described. The unguarded frontiers of Canada and the United States are the grandest peace monuments in the world, and they are the type and the promise of the international relations which will come with the progress of civilization.

Fortunately there are two things which tend to prevent a relapse into barbarism. Commissioners representing fishing in the lakes, which will go far toward protecting the fish and preventing friction. The awful crime and insanity of the two nations being involved in a war over the act of a poacher of fish will thus be rendered impossible, as it is now in the highest degree improbable.

Another ground of assurance is that Great Britain and the United States simply cannot afford to fight. With these two nations at war the Monroe doctrine would not be worth the paper it was written on, and the whole continent of America would be open to European exploitation. On the other hand, if Germany is as powerful and hostile as the National Review declares, Great Britain would do anything in reason to avoid a war with any other power. British-American war, in short, would be Germany's opportunity.

While these considerations would hold in check the jingoes of both Great Britain and the United States, both countries contain an element which seeks peace and friendship from higher consideration. They believe that the Empire and the Republic are partners and co-workers in civilization; that the two combined can do much to assure world-wide peace, and that if they maintain friendly relations for a few decades, they will be able to make international war an impossibility. North America could support double the population of Europe, and the growth of the American powers will in time prevent any dominant European power from disturbing the peace of the world. This is the Monroe doctrine in its large sense, and it is a doctrine which Great Britain and the United States are equally interested in preserving and defending.

If Sick

Don't risk even one single penny!

And I will tell you why I say this.

In it appears every word of Dr. Shoop's medicine is absolutely true. If it is not, I do not ask.

So cannot risk even one single penny.

Just think what this means to the suffering sick!

No risk, no guess, nothing whatever unless your health is restored. Not 10 ball days, and without the risk of even a penny, you can say whether or not Dr. Shoop's Restorative or the tablet way shall cure you.

Why purchase any medicine which maker dare not back it just as I do by this remarkable offer?

And besides, I am as anxious to you.

My No [illegible] made Dr. Shoop's Restorative [illegible] every drug store in the land. [illegible] Why take no chance whatever then.

For twenty years Dr. Shoop's prescriptions have become the standard all over America. And here [illegible] every village every where to secure [illegible] Those selected druggists are [illegible] medicines with the sick—and the entire risk is mine alone.

But write me first for an order.

I have an agent in almost every community—but all druggists are not authorized to grant the 10 day test.

So drop me a line, please—and thus save all disappointments and delays.

Besides, you are free to consult me by letter as you would your home physician. Do so freely and fully—if you desire. My advice and the book before yours—and without cost. Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up some subborn ailment. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private prescription or personal advice plan.

Besides, the books will open up new and helpful ideas to you. They tell of my 25 years experience as the specialist in Heart and Nerve troubles. All plainly told, and what you need is told right here. They tell why [illegible] no longer [illegible] How the Stomach and Kidneys and Heart [illegible] How the Stomach and Kidneys each have their inside or power nerve. How these organs rarely falter when these connecting or master nerves begin to fail. How Dr. Shoop's Restorative restores these inside nerves. How these nerves [illegible] and how [illegible] restores the lost tone and power. That is why [illegible] it is within the power of medicine to do so. My best effort is surely worth a single penny. Cosgrave's Beer

Words of praise have ever prevailed in advertising "copy." That a producer should wax enthusiastic over his own wares is but human. But it's the praise of the consumer that counts—and it is to a discriminating and critical public that "Cosgrave's" refers you.

It is safe to say that no product, of any kind, enjoys a more enviable reputation than does this same Cosgrave Beer of Toronto in markets where it is offered.

Its self-evident honesty of purpose, purity, brilliancy, body, and every other attribute that goes to make a perfect beer are ever in evidence.

THE SPANIARD.

His Primitive Instincts of Hospitality and Charity.

Havelock Ellis in his "Soul of Spain" has revealed intimately and charmingly the temperament of the Spanish people. According to him, the Spaniard is still fundamentally primitive. In proof of his possession of the primal instincts of hospitality and charity he quotes the following anecdote from an Aragonese newspaper of a few years ago, at a time when there was much distress in Aragon:

A laborer out of work came on the highroad determined to rob the first person he met. This was a man with a wagon. The laborer bade him halt and demanded his money.

"Here is $30, all that I have," the detained man replied.

"There is nothing left for me but robbery. My family are dying of hunger," the aggressor said apologetically and proceeded to put the money in his pocket, but as he did so his mind changed.

"Take this, chico," he said, handing back $29. "One is enough for me."

"Would you like anything I have in the cart?" asked the wagoner, impressed by this generosity.

"Yes," said the man. "Take this dollar back too. I had better have some rice and some beans."

The wagoner handed over a bag of eatables and then held out $5, which, however, the laborer refused.

"Take them for luck money," said the wagoner. "I owe you that."

And only so was the would be robber persuaded to accept.

THE BABY CROP.

Worth More Than All Other Crops as a National Asset.

When you come to think of it, there's no escaping the conclusion that the baby crop is worth more to this good country of ours than all the corn, wheat, cotton, beef and poultry products put together—worth more in dollars and cents. Untimely frosts, the boll weevil, the wheat rust, the green aphis and all the other crop and animal scourges couldn't work so great a national disaster as a genuine baby famine.

And it is simply appalling to think what would happen to our national temperament if babies were abolished. Our sense of humor would instantly go glimmering, and smiles would become rarer than black hollyhocks. The education of parents in all the little arts of tenderness would go into instant decline, and we would speedily become a nation of ossified hearts and sour faces.

Babies are the chief apostles of unselfish affection. All the world admits that. The mother who has constantly maintained an attitude of unalloyed selfishness toward all the world will go to the depths of self denial and sacrifice for the helpless child, and men of fiery and autocratic temperament become meek and plastic disciples in schools of patience and restraint wherein their own babies are the teachers and disciplinarians.—Red Book.

Gloom Spread by Book Agents.

"When I was a small boy living in Huntsville, Mo., an early day book agent came up from St. Louis by steamboat and flooded our country with a harrowing volume entitled 'Agnes—The Key to Her Coffin.' Everybody bought the thing and everybody wept over it," remarked a Macon resident. "Its influence descended upon the community like a nightmare. It reeked with shrouds, funerals and graveyards. For a long while 'The Key to Agnes' Coffin' was the sole diversion of certain portions of the populace. They seemed to take a pure and chastened joy in the awful weight of woe that oozed out from between its lids, and it made them feel better. There were not many books in the country in those days, and the angelicous agent had sized the community's taste up about right. The book was supposed to be very consoling to the distressed in that it told of worse troubles than their own."—Macon Republican.

The Scent of Books.

The publisher shut his eyes.

"Bring me books," he said, "and by the smell alone I'll tell what country each was published in."

He did indeed distinguish in this manner a French, an English and an American book.

"English books have the best smell," he said. "French come next. Our own come last. Our own smell salty. The others smell fresh and sweet. Have a try?"

The skeptical clubmen in their seats, snuffing the books, were soon able in their turn to distinguish them by the odor.—Exchange.

Death Valley.

Death valley is a desert valley in Inyo county, Cal., lying between the Panamint range on the west and the Funeral, Amargosa and Grapevine ranges on the east. Much of the valley is below sea level, and there are only a few places where ordinary drinkable water can be obtained. The valley was formerly the bed of a salt lake along the east side.

An Extinguished Flame.

"Well?"

"I never gave it to you."

"Don't worry. I don't remember who did."—Houston Chronicle.

ANCIENT BELLS.

They Were Often Quadrangular and Made of Thin Iron Plates.

There are several old bells in Scotland, Ireland and Wales. The oldest are often quadrangular, being made of thin iron plates which have been hammered and riveted together. At the monastery of St. Gall in Switzerland the four sided bell of the Irish missionary St. Gall, who lived in the seventh century, is still preserved, but more ancient still is the bell of St. Patrick in Belfast, which is ornamented with gold and gems and silver filigree work.

The curfew bell is that about which much has been written and said. It has been thought that it was only used in England, but it was quite common on the continent in the middle ages.

The ringing of bells by rope is still very popular in England, especially in the country, where almost every hamlet, however small, has its church with its peal of bells, which are often remarkably well rung. The first real peal of bells in England was sent by Pope Calixtus III. to King's college, Cambridge, and was for 300 years the largest peal in England. About the beginning of the year 1500 sets of eight bells were hung in a few of the large churches.

In the middle of the seventeenth century a man named White wrote a famous work on bells in which he introduced the system of numbering them 1, 2, 3, 4, etc., on slips of paper in different orders, according to the changes intended to be rung. It is calculated that to ring all the changes upon twenty-four bells at two strokes a second would take 117 billion years.

One of the most famous bells in the world is the first great bell of Moscow, which now stands in the middle of a square in that city and is used as a chapel. This bell was cast in 1733, but was in the earth for over a hundred years, being raised in 1836 by the Emperor Nicholas. It is nearly twenty feet high, has a circumference of sixty feet, is two feet thick and weighs almost 200 tons. The second Moscow bell, which is the largest bell in the world that is actually in use, weighs 128 tons. There are several bells extant which weigh ten tons and over, of which Big Ben, the largest bell in England, weighing between thirteen and fourteen tons, is one. Big Ben is unfortunately cracked.—London Globe.

HISTORY ON A TUSK.

Picture Made by a Cave Man Millions of Years Ago.

Long ago, so long that even a scientist would hardly dare venture a guess as to the date, a man clad with only a wild beast's skin about his loins was sitting at the mouth of a cave in one of the rocky highlands in what is now southern France. He was scratching with a sharp flint on the fragments of an ivory tusk, perhaps picturing for some youthful admirers adventures through which he had passed or animals he had slain. That ivory chip was stored away as a treasure, to be lost and forgotten after the cave man's death. One day a man named Lartet, digging in the cavern floor, found it. On it was scratched a very fair representation of the hairy elephant, probably at once the oldest picture and the oldest human record in existence.

We know the cave man was a faithful workman, for the melting ice fields of Siberia have yielded a perfect specimen of this extinct mammal, and the paleolithic picture is a true copy. Not only has this ancient sculptor given us a sample of the earliest art, but he has left us, more valuable than all, a historical record of his time, for this rude picture is simply a page from the cave man's history which, translated into twentieth century English, says, "Men, thinking men, were contemporaneous with the hairy elephant."

No record that any of humankind have ever left is half so ancient as this. The oldest Egyptian papyrus is a thing of yesterday compared to this paleolithic sculpture. While the cave man was living in Europe the valley of the Nile was yet only a wild waste. Egypt was not yet Egypt, and civilization as we know it had scarcely made a beginning.—Lippincott's.

Shy on the Son.

"But I do not know the candidate," said an old Yorkshire farmer who was appealed to for his vote.

"But you know his father?"

"Yes, I know him, and he's a grand man."

"Then you will surely vote for his son, won't you?"

But the old farmer was still doubtful.

"I'm no so sure about that," he replied; "it's no every coo that has a cauff like herself."—Liverpool Mercury.

Queer, but Expressive.

A Danish girl who has recently come to this country to take a course in trained nursing was complaining to a friend the other morning of having overslept herself. "And no reason why such a thing should befall me, for I had—what do you call it in English? I know, a sleep watch—all set."—Washington Star.

"Where?"

"The cemetery."—Illustrated Bits.

"And did you enjoy your African trip, major? How did you like the savages?"

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

THE ARMY HORSE.

How Tommy Atkins' Mounts Are Broken In and Trained.

"Breaking in a young horse forms the best possible training for a rider who aspires to become an accomplished horseman," writes a contributor to the May "Windsor Magazine," in an article on "The Education of an Army Horse." "It cannot," he says, "even be attempted by men who are not thoroughly at home in the saddle, and who cannot carry it out with patience and good temper. Since the men required for this duty have to be drawn from the ranks of the squadrons, a great deal of careful management is required to train and select suitable men under efficient instructors, and to organize the carrying on of the ordinary routine work as well. If the remounts join a regiment at the close of the manoeuvre season, the six winter months can be devoted to their education, so that most of them are fit for the ranks in the following summer. But if, as often happens to our cavalry regiments, they get a batch of 60 young horses thrown at them in the middle of the squadron training, at a time, too, when the ranks are full of young soldiers, all of whom require daily work in the field, and few or none are fit to be entrusted with a young horse, then the task of the commanding officer becomes well-nigh impossible.

"The British Government has no studs for young horses, but buys them as they are wanted—or, rather, when the need for them becomes very acute. Even in times of peace the remounts are posted to the regiments at irregular intervals and at varying ages. The regimental authorities have to do the best they can with the means at their disposal to train their horses. Since the best riders are required for the purpose, the training of the soldiers is necessarily interfered with, because the best men in the ranks of the squadron have to be left in from field work to ride remounts."

POMP—AND RAGS.

Two Spectacles Which Were Recently Witnessed in London.

England's greatest annual pageant has come and gone again—the reopening of Parliament. The streets were more crowded than ever with sightseers eager to catch a glimpse of King Edward and Queen Alexandra in their gilded coach, of peers and peeresses in robes and jewels and of Cabinet Ministers in robes of office.

In half an hour after the royal party entered the House of Lords the ceremony, wonderful in its magnificence, was over and the gorgeous procession filed out again.

"'E do look well fed, 'e do," said one man mounted on another's shoulders as he caught a glimpse of the King's round, smiling face.

He did not say it to be funny or critical, but merely with pure envy in his tone, for unemployment is the ghost that is haunting England at present, and unemployment brings hunger and suffering in its train.

In another part of the city just a mile or so away from this gorgeous pageant a very different procession marched. Five thousand unemployed women and children filed through the streets, gaunt, ragged and dirty. They carried cheap banners, and one cart brought up the rear with the picture of "An Englishmen's Home," dilapidated, half falling to pieces and without furniture.

They marched along in silence, many of them with babies in their arms, to the Horticultural Hall, where the organizers of the march had promised them milk and sandwiches. A dreadful procession than these hungry women and children cannot be imagined.

It was a concerted effort on the part of those who are trying to alleviate the conditions of London's unemployed to show unthinking Londoners the horrors of it, and it was a dramatic effect to have it within a mile of the pageant of wealth and royalty.

Bishops as Marksmen.

The Bishop of Newcastle has just been telling a Benwell Cricket Club audience his experiences since he joined the Cambridge University Volunteers, fifty years ago, as a private. In two years he rose to be captain of one of the companies of that eminent battalion. He wanted to show how much a man learnt from joining any institution which had for its object athletic exercise. He had in his company a large number of non-commissioned officers of various kinds. He selected seven, and had, some of them would say, the effrontery to challenge all the other companies of the battalion.

They won their match in every case, and became the champion company of the battalion. Out of the seven who shot with him in these matches and also at Wimbledon there were four who came to be bishops—the Bishop of Chichester, who still called him captain; the Bishop of Nassau, who had passed away; the Bishop of Newfoundland, and the Bishop of Aukland.

Will be Junior Judge at Cobourg

A change has been made by the Department of Justice at Ottawa, regarding the elevation to the bench of Mr. G. M. Rogers, K.C., of Peterborough. A few days ago it was announced that Mr. Rogers would be judge of the Rainy River district but word has been received here that Mr. Rogers will be junior judge at Cobourg for the district of Northumberland and Durham instead of getting the position in Northern Ontario. The vacancy at Cobourg was created by the death of his honor, Judge Ketchum, who was a brother-in-law of Rev. Canon Davidson of this city.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart and Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days tests will surely tell. Try it once, and see! Sold by all dealers.

It is just opposite Pall Mall and the majority of the traffic from Westminster and the West End of London passes through this thoroughfare to Piccadilly, Oxford street, and commercial sections of the Metropolis. Canadians who visit London will find these offices complete in every way and the Company are desirous of having all visitors from the colonies make their headquarters in London their rendezvous, where they can have their mail addressed, make appointments and do their correspondence. This is an innovation of the transportation lines of the Colonies and no doubt will be taken advantage of by many overseas visitors to the Mother Country.

First Band Concert in Victoria Park

The first band concert by the 57th Regiment in the open air was heard at Victoria Park last night by an immense throng of people. The hillside was a mass of humanity clothed in all the colors of the rainbow and some with hats large enough to include the son as well. It was a beautifully warm evening and the dry weather for the past week had put the ground in splendid condition. There were signs of rain and towards the end of the program a few drops did fall, but the crowd stayed until the national anthem was played.

Bandmaster Gliddon deserves great credit for the showing made by his musicians last night. They gave evidence of hard practice and efficient leadership during the past winter. Many new selections were played and the solo parts were heard to great advantage. The band concerts give promise this year to be more popular than ever and Victoria Park will see many large crowds this summer. The program was as follows;

March—"Old Brigade," by Chambers.

Overture—"Barber of Seville," Rossini.

"Una Serenade," by Chapelle—Euphonium solo, with band accompaniment—Bandsman Cronk.

Ions—Intermezzo ....

Reminiscences of the Plantation, by Parn Chamber.

Cancer: Mazurka ... ...

Von Tilzer's Medley—"Don't Take Me Home."

March—"King Radium" ... ...

God Save the King.

Senior City League Opens This Afternoon

Don't miss the two big ball games at Riverside Park this afternoon. It is the opening of the Senior City League and it should be a great crowd that goes there. The first game will start at two o'clock and will be between the T.A.S. and P.A.C. The second game will be between the Strathconas and West Ends, and will start at half-past three o'clock. The teams have been well organized and have a bunch of good players signed up. The grounds are in good shape and a shower of rain will not hurt them for playing on. The grand stand will hold a big crowd and there is every convenience for the spectators. The mayor and Ald. Bradburn and Phelan will start the game and will give an exhibition of baseball as it should be played.

The Largest and Best Cadet Corps in Ontario

The annual inspection of the Cadet Corps of the Petertborough Collegiate Institute held yesterday morning at Riverside Park was a singular demonstration of the efficiency of the corps and the capable and painstaking work of the drill instructor, Lieut. J. E. Hodgson. The work of the one hundred and twenty boys on parade was executed with a soldierly precision and a snappy vim that would have done credit to any militia regiment. The boys carried themselves smartly, marched exceedingly well and executed the manoeuvres of company and battalion drill in a manner that reflected most favorably upon themselves, their officers and their instructor. The discipline was splendid. "The silence in the ranks is remarkable," said the inspection and throughout the drill which lasted for over an hour, the cadets bore themselves like well-drilled soldiers.

The corps was formed at the Collegiate Institute and marched to Riverside Park via Water and Hunter streets at 11 o'clock. At the reviewing grounds Lt.-Col. Hemming, the inspecting officer, accompanied by Lieut.-Col. Miller of the 57th, Majors Bennett, Chegg, and Hayes, Lieut. Higgins and other local officers were awaiting their arrival. Rev. Canon Davidson, chaplain of the 57th Regiment, Mr. R. Fair and other members of the Board of Education were also in attendance, and the girls of the Collegiate turned out in full force for the ceremony, while the members of the staff were interested spectators. The cadets were thoroughly inspected by Lt.-Col. Hemming.

Lieut.-Col. Hemming addressed the cadets briefly at the conclusion of the inspection. He congratulated the officers on the manner in which they handled their men, and the latter for the splendid showing they had made. The Peterborough Cadet corps had not gone back any since he had inspected them here last summer, and he was glad to inform them that they would be gazetted as a battalion in a very short time. Lieut. Hodgson was to be congratulated upon the fine work of the body of which he was the instructor. In conclusion he informed the cadets that they would have a half-holiday this afternoon, a statement that was enthusiastically received.

It may not be generally known that the Peterborough Cadet Corps is the largest in the province and its efficiency is remarkable in view of the strength of the organization. In other collegiates a selection is made of a few of the best boys to form the corps, but all the male members of the local Collegiate Institute drill with the cadets.

Turned Back Canadian Family Because One Boy was a Cripple

Deseronto, Ont., June 4.— Henry Corby, a respectable citizen of Deseronto, and his family were turned back while crossing the line into the American side, owing to their having a crippled son of five years. Mr. Corby had secured a position at Lowell, Mass. The family were completely heart-broken when the arrived back after spending all the money they had for their tickets.

The Deseronto Iron Co.'s works, which were destroyed by fire nine months ago, are in full operation again.

The jury which enquired into the death of James Crawford returned the following report; "That the said James Crawford came to his death by committing suicide by drowning.

Benson Avenue Sidewalk Will Go on the Inside of the Tree Line

Board of Works Had a Long Busy Session—Several Deputations were Present—Roads to be Repaired with Crushed Stone—Blodgett's Watering Contract

The Benson avenue sidewalk will go on the inside of the tree line, although the residents on the east side asked to have it outside. The Board of Works were guided by the report of the city engineer and by what they considered was in the best interests of the street. Some of the residents interested were present, but after addressing the committee they left and were not present when the committee dealt with it.

The Board of Works held a long busy session last night. It was late when they got started and they were all tired after their long trip around the city during the day. The business was not of a nature to keep up the interest as there were no scraps, but the chairman hustled things along and a lot of work was done although there is still a good night's work to do.

The board will do repair work to the streets this year by placing crushed stone on the roads where needed. They will purchase a single horse for this purpose. This was Ald. Bradburn's idea, and it was well thought of by all present.

Several deputations were heard and a number of other matters were dealt with.

Rev. Canon Davidson and Mr. Coulthard were present on behalf of St. John's church, and addressed the committee in reference to the proposed sidewalk on Brock street from Water street to Sheridan street. They object to the walk being constructed. They desired to preserve the beauty of the church grounds. The proposed sidewalk would be a difficulty but as the city engineer suggested the grounds could be terraced down to the walk, but that would be a great expense. Then the walk would not answer the general purpose of a sidewalk. He said, however, that if a walk was really necessary, the church would be willing for the people to use the walk through the church grounds to Hunter street. He contended that the walk would be a mistake.

A. E. DIXON.

Mr. A. E. Dixon was present in reference to the Downie street creek. He represented a couple of property owners interested. One client said that he wanted the city to carry out their promise which was made a couple of years ago to allow him a piece of the street in exchange for him granting a right of way through his property for the drain.

It was stated by Ald. Duncan that no permission to build on the street was ever given.

The chairman said the board could do very little this year.

Mr. Dixon said he did not wish to force any expense upon the city this year if the city would give him a deed for that part of the street his house is on. He would give the city a deed for his property.

Mr. Dixon was told to have a petition sent in with all interested parties on it, and the board would report to them at once.

BENSON AVENUE WALK

Mr. Kidd and several other residents of Benson avenue, were present and wanted to know what the board intended to do about their walk which they want outside the tree line. Mr. Kidd said all the residents wanted the walk outside the trees.

Ald. Phelan told him the committee would take the matter up at the meeting and report to him later.

The board then went over the list of walks that they advertised this spring that they would build this year. There were only two or three pieces of the walk that were petitioned against or withdrawn.

The board then took up the Benson avenue walk. This walk has become famous on account of the argument between the residents and the Board of Works. The board want to build it inside the trees and the residents want it outside. Both the superintendent of the waterworks and the city engineer reported against the residents' request. There are many objections to the walk going outside the trees. The water commissioners wrote a letter to the board stating that they had no objections to the walk going outside so long as they kept their walk at least a foot from the water mains.

Ald. Buller and Ald. McIntyre moved that the walk be laid inside the tree line providing the property holders terrace their lawns and replant the trees.

The motion was defeated and the walk will go on the inside of the tree line as it is at present.

A complaint was made against the street watering done by Z. Blodgett. Quite a number of these complaints were received. The city engineer was to see Mr. Blodgett, and find out if he would care to pay $5 for not doing his dirty property.

Several of the aldermen backed

New Lodge Rooms at Omemee were Dedicated

There was big doings among the A.F. & A.M. members of Omemee Lodge yesterday. It was the dedication of their new hall which is a large and very nicely furnished one and which will be a credit to the lodge for many years to come. The dedication ceremony was performed by D.D.G.M. Long of Port Hope, who was assisted by Mr. Mulholland of Port Hope. Messrs. H. C. Winch, T. F. Matthews, G. W. Morrow, W. H. Bradburn and Wm. Miller of the city drove down and took part in the ceremony. They report a most enjoyable time. The Omemee lodge served a splendid supper which was greatly appreciated.

Inquest over Body of Unknown Man found in Otonabee River Opened

Coroner Dr. Gray was in Fraserville last night where he opened an inquest over the body of the man found in the Otonabee river the night before. The was opened in a barn and the proceedings were conducted by the aid of a lantern. All that was done was to empanel a jury of which Mr. James Latimer was elected foreman. The jury viewed the body and the coroner ordered a post-mortem to be held today, and the inquest was adjourned until next Friday night when it will be reopened in the Orange Hall at Fraserville. Mr. D. Bellegham brought the body to the city last night.

The body of an unknown man was found floating in the Otonabee River not far from Fraserville Thursday night at dusk by Mr. Jas. Latimer, a farmer residing up the west side of the river. The man had evidently been dead for months and so far there no clue to his identity. Mr. Latimer had occasion to be near the river and noticed the body. He telephoned to Peterborough yesterday morning and notified Coroner Dr. Gray. The latter instructed County Constable Cochrane to drive down and remove the body from the water.

He had evidently gotten into the river during the winter, as he wore heavy clothing. He had on two coats, buttoned up tightly and wore mits and cuffers. The body was that of a man well up in years. Constable Cochrane had the body taken from the river and removed to Mr. James Latimer's.

Major General Lake Inspected the 57th

The 57th Regiment of Peterborough Rangers was last night inspected by Major-General Sir Percy H. N. Lake, K.C.M.G., C.B., inspector-general of all the military forces in Canada. The general arrived in the city at 6.40, and after driving around the campus at Central Park at eight o'clock. He was accompanied by Lt.-Col. E. H. D. Heward, his chief staff officer, and Lieut.-Col. K. E. R. Hemming, chief staff officer for Eastern Ontario. The general was received at Central Park with a general salute from the whole regiment after which he made a thorough inspection of the lines. Then the companies were inspected individually, the honors for which were carried off by No. 6 company under Capt. McLean.

The regiment passed a very creditable inspection, the general particularly complimenting the work of the officers. The marching corps and stretcher section were then inspected and then the general made a thorough examination of the new armories also a minute examination of the keeping of the records of the regiment and the various companies. Eastern Ontario. The general was much pleased with the great improvement that had been made since last year.

The general and his staff left last night for Belleville to inspect the city regiments there.

Death of Wm. Fowler

It was learned with general regret yesterday afternoon that William Fowler had passed away at his residence at 278 Rubidge street. Although the deceased has to all appearances been a strong healthy man he has been suffering quietly for some time, his illness gradually developing until it took an acute form about four weeks ago. Since that time he rapidly failed in health until he passed away at 12.15 yesterday. The late William Fowler was born on July 25th, 1836, on the farm in North Monaghan. He followed farming until about 30 years ago when he retired and moved into the city where he has resided ever since. In 1862 he married Jessie Lillico, second daughter of the late Archie Lillico of North Monaghan, and she survives him, along with three brothers, John of North Monaghan, James and George of Toronto, and five sisters, Mrs. Margaret Dobbin, city; Mrs. Jane Tully, Lennox, Iowa; Mrs. Andrew Grant, city; Mrs. Robert Leach, Cleveland, Ohio; and Mrs. Richard Lillico of North Monaghan.

The late Mr. Fowler was all his life a consistent member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, and was a member of the session for several years. He was highly esteemed in the church and community. He lived an exemplary life and took a deep interest in the charitable work of the city, being the representative of St. Andrew's church on the Central Charity Board. He was also a member of the Wm. Hall Trust. The funeral will be held on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock and interment will take place in Little Lake cemetery. It is probable that a service will be held at the church.

Fire Hall Flower Garden

Some time ago it was announced that an agricultural class would be opened in the Norwood High School, Peterborough, however, will go them one better. A horticultural experimental farm has been established and we don't see any grant from the government either. The fire department are the instigators of the scheme, and in fact they are the whole business. The lane at the north end of the station next to Dr. Green's residence has been cleared of the gravel and filled in with earth. The front part has been sowed down with grass seed and the back part converted into a flower bed where the men have planted a large number of flowers. The bed will be tended with gentle care and round which no doubt the appearance of the premises will be greatly improved. The men are taking a great interest in their garden and it is hoped their efforts will have the best of results.

A Startling Revelation

The friends of Miss Mary McKenzie, of London, were astonished to hear that she had gone into consumption.

This sad intelligence came as a shock to Miss McKenzie's many friends. In the early fall she contracted a heavy cold which developed rapidly into Catarrh, and finally made such rapid advances that the bronchial tubes and lungs became affected.

Although the doctors said nothing short of a change of residence to the south would benefit, on the advice of a Dundas street druggist Miss McKenzie decided to thoroughly test Catarrhozone which is warranted to cure all diseases of the throat, lungs and bronchial tubes.

Miss McKenzie says: "After my druggist had recommended Catarrhozone I spoke to my friends about it and they all said it was such a good remedy that I commenced forthwith to inhale it five or six times each day. I breathed it deeply into my lungs, and felt its beneficial action very quickly. It seemed to go where other remedies did not reach, and was so pleasant and convenient that I did not mind using it very frequently, which, probably, was the cause of it curing my obstinate case so quickly. Certainly no case of Catarrh or Bronchitis should go uncured if the sufferer can get Catarrhozone, which is a sovereign remedy, worthy of the highest recommendations."

Miss McKenzie's case needs no enlargement. She was in a critical condition, apparently beyon dthe aid of doctors' medicines.

Catarrhozone has cured her, and others in her condition should no longer experiment with uncertain, untried treatments, but should turn at once to catarrhozone, and in it they will find relief and cure unobtainable by other means. Remember the name, Catarrhozone. Complete outfit guaranteed to cure. Price $1.00. Small size 50 cents. Druggists or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

DIET OF CANNIBALS

By the Polynesians and anthropophagi generally the report of the lecture delivered by Prof. F. G. Hopkins before the Royal Institution in London on Monday will be received with interest. Prof. Hopkins is reader in physiology at Cambridge. Anything he may have to say in that department of knowledge, especially before a body like the Royal Institution, must carry weight and command respect. His lecture is notable as the first scientific vindication of cannibalism.

Were the Patagonians guided by unerring instinct, or was their long-established practice of eating each other grounded on forgotten science? To the investigators of our time we are indebted for many startling paradoxes. Ancient customs that appeared to be irrational, and had for thousands of years been condemned by civilized mankind as savage, are one by one shown to have had a substantial basis of reason under them. That some members of human society should be foodstuff for others has always been regarded outside certain regions as untenable, and even vicious, proposition. We are persuaded that the great majority of those who have rejected it up to the present will continue to reject it, notwithstanding Prof. Hopkins' conclusions on the subject. In those parts of the world where "long pig," as the natives euphemistically term the edible human being, is consumed missionaries will be unlikely to introduce the professor's views. Cannibalism has never been altogether unregulated. Even in the communities most addicted to it the practice was usually attended by more or less ritual, and among some of the peoples who found the flesh of their kind toothsome only those overcome in war or convicted of some capital offence were put on the meat market. In other communities only those inhabitants that were deemed unlikely to be of much social benefit were reserved for food purposes. In still others appetite was the sole law. Biologically, according to Prof. Hopkins, the South Sea Islanders ought to be our superiors, and sociologically they cannot be badly constituted, or they would not be able to keep to what he considers the best nutriment and yet increase in population. Evidently cannibalism is not practised without some discrimination. Reforms by extremes, if not by contraries, have been advocated by other eminent thinkers. Democracy tempered by assassination has seemed good to publicists not alone of other days, but even of our own time. Theorists of the Anarchistic order would regenerate society by means of the bombshell and the dagger. Lynch law, which some of us have been taught to condemn, is defended by men who would probably be jurists of repute if they were jurists at all. We are told that in countries where slights are resented with knife or revolver men are punctiliously polite to one another, and that they are the perfect on of courtesy to one another's wives and daughters. A distinguished physician has said that the world would be the better if men over sixty years of age were "worked off" in lethal chambers.

The correctors of our manners and our morals seem nowadays inclined to revert to quite primitive standards. It may be true, as Mr. Hopkins maintains, that men would be more efficient if they oftener made a meal off one another, but how are people who have an inveterate prejudice against the diet and who support lawn against its use to be educated to like it? The intelligent feanti bal chief with whom the late Dr. Livingstone discussed this question in Central Africa, anticipated Mr. Hopkin's plea, but the Congo man argued from experience, where as the Cambridge professor gives no evidence of ever having tasted the dish he recommends.

Two New Trains for Sundays

The Sunday service on the C.P.R. between Toronto and Montreal will be greatly improved by the addition of two new trains, one each way, starting next Sunday, June 6th. Train No. 4 will leave Peterborough for the east at 11.26 a.m. and train No. 3 will leave Peterborough for the west at 4.38 p.m. The lack of train service on Sunday has been greatly felt in the past as there is considerable traffic both east and west from this city on Sunday. The C.P.R. is to be congratulated upon this step and it is to be hoped that the new trains will be well patronized and made profitable.

Get Well First

Don't risk even a penny—until health first returns.

And I mean just exactly that.

I am the one physician who says to the sick "I will, out of my own pocket, pay for your medicine if it fails to bring you help!"

And for 20 years Dr. Shoop's medicines have been used and recommended in every city and hamlet in America. They are positively standard in every community—and everywhere.

Then why pay the cash, and at your risk, for other unwarranted and uncertain medicines? Thousands upon thousands have in the past successfully used Dr. Shoop's Restorative.

When the Stomach nerves, or the Heart or Kidney nerves fail, those sick ones know how quickly Dr. Shoop's Restorative will bring them back to health again. But best of all, they positively take no money risk whatever. They know that when health fails to return, Dr. Shoop will himself gladly pay the druggist for that test. And for that test a full 30 day treatment is freely granted. But write me first for an order.

This will save delay and disappointment.

All druggists sell Dr. Shoop's Restorative and Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy, but all are not authorized to give the 30 day test. So drop me a line please—for I have appointed an honest and responsible druggist in almost every community, everywhere, to issue my "no pay, no help, no sick" medicines to the needy. Tell me also which book you need. The books below will surely open up new and helpful ideas to those who are not well. Besides you are perfectly free to consult me just as you would your home physician. My advice and the book below are yours—and without cost.

Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up some serious ailment. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private personal advice prescription or plan. My best of form is surely worth your simple request. So write now, while you have it fresh in mind, for tomorrow never comes. Dr. Shoop, Box 12, Racine, Wis.

Cosgrave's Beer

Words of praise have ever prevailed in advertising "copy." That a producer should wax enthusiastic over his own wares is but human. But it's the praise of the consumer that counts—and it is to a discriminating and critical public that "Cosgrave's" refers you.

It is safe to say that no product, of any kind, enjoys a more enviable reputation than does this same Cosgrave Beer of Toronto in markets where it is offered.

Its self-evident honesty of purpose, purity, brilliancy, body, and every other attribute that goes to make a perfect beer are ever in evidence.

THE MYSTERY OF MARS.

Old but Unsolved Problem, Is There Animal Life on the Planet?

With a planet so old as Mars and so far along in the process of life extinction the conditions of life would be severe, and only a highly intellectual and scientifically developed race could endure and master them. The engineering skill and constructive capacity to control the annual floods from the poles, store the waters and build the thousands of miles of huge canals would require scientific knowledge beyond that possessed by us at the present time and financial resources in excess of those we have yet accumulated. The nation that finds the digging of a little ditch at Panama so great a task would be helpless in the face of such a problem as these thousands of miles of Martian canals, if, indeed, canals they be. Yet, in view of the greater life age of Mars, such higher intelligence would be natural in the regular process of development, assuming that it has ever been the abode of intellectual life.

Scientists are in the main in a receptive state on this subject. They are not ready to admit that the existence of life on that planet has been proved. They do not deny it, but call for greater proof than a plausible theory. Among others than scientists there is in the main a disposition not to accept the Martian human life theory or the theory of life on any of the thousands of spheres that wheel and glisten in illimitable space. They seem to think that such a theory conflicts with religion and dwarfs man and his importance in the scheme of creation.

This seems to be a very narrow view to take, since it appears to set bounds upon the infinite power and creative desires of the Almighty, whose great scheme of mortal and immortal life is not necessarily confined to a single planet or the few billions of human beings who are born and die upon it. As to dwarfing the importance of man, a few billions more added to the billions on earth would make little difference. Man is at best a small and insignificant creature, but if all embracing wisdom, power and love takes solicitous note of him it would be limiting those infinite qualities to say that one planet must be his abiding place. Therefore the question of human intelligence on Mars or any other planet of the solar system or the other great systems in remote space should be purely and simply a scientific one, to be accepted as true only when proved, but not to be rejected through sentiment or for any other reason whatever except lack of proof.—St. Louis Star.

An Oriental Blessing.

A well known representative from China, who was a guest at a wedding in a capital city, was approached after the ceremony by the best man and jocularly asked to go over to the young couple and pronounce a parental blessing. The obliging dignitary complied with pleasure. Placing his hands on the blushing bride and shaking bridegroom, he said: "May every new year bless you with a man-child offspring until they shall number twenty-five in all. May these twenty-five man children offspring present you with twenty-five times twenty-five grandchildren, and may these grandchildren"—

But the little bride grew hysterical about this time, and the oriental blessing was ended amid the laughter of the guests.—Ladies' Home Journal.

A Cowboy Spider.

"Taking aside," said the nature student, "there is in New Zealand a cowboy spider. This creature throws a coil of web like a lasso over its prey's head, then adds more and more coils and when the prey is bound hand and foot devours it.

"There is a Borneo spider that in the spring days plays a fiddle. It is a common thing for a lovesick spider to dance before his girl, but this Borneo boy my drawing his arm across his tum produces a sweet, clear note. Whenever he sees a good looking young lady spider he stops and gives her a tune, hoping to win her by music."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Miners' Freedom From Cancer.

"Miners never have cancer. In thirty-five years' practice in a mining town I haven't had a single cancerous patient."

"And to what, doctor, do you impute this immunity?"

"Miners are singularly cleanly. They bathe every day. They rarely smoke. They are a temperate and regular set. Above all"—

The physician smiled grimly.

"Miners," he said, "die young. Cancer is an old age disease. And there really is the reason of the miner's cancerous immunity."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Not the Same.

"Excuse me," he said as he entered the public library at Pegantic, "but do you have any social registers here?"

"No, we hain't," said the librarian, with considerable hauteur. "This here buildin' is het up by steam, and we hain't got nothin' but radiators, and we don't allow no settin' around with your feet on to them neither. The nearest thing we got to a social registry in this town is the postoffice stove."—Lippincott's.

SALVATION FREE.

But There Was a Collection and Also a Reason For It.

The colored parson had just concluded a powerful sermon on "Salvation Am Free" and was announcing that a collection would be taken for the benefit of the parson and his family. Up jumped an acutely brunette brother in the back of the church.

"Look a-yeah, pahson," he interrupted; "yo' ain't no sooner done tellin' us dat salvation am free dan yo' go askin' us fo' money. If salvation am free, what's de use in payin' fo' it? Dat's what I want to know. An' I tell yo' p'litely dat I ain't goin' to gib yo' nothin' until I find out. Now"—

"Patience, brudder, patience," said the parson. "I'll 'lucidate. S'pose yo' was thirsty an' come to a river. Yo' could kneel right down an' drink yo' fill, couldn't yo'? An' it wouldn't cost yo' nothin', would it?"

"Ob cou'se not. Dat's jest what I"—

"Dat water would be free," continued the parson. "But, s'posin' yo' was to hab dat water piped to yo' house, yo'd have to pay, wouldn't yo'?"

"Yaa, suh, but"—

"Waal, brudder, so it is wid salvation. De salvation am free, but it's de havin' it piped to yo' dat yo' got to pay fo'. Pass de hat, deacon; pass de hat."—Everybody's Magazine.

DURABLE INK.

The Secret of Its Manufacture Seems to Have Been Lost.

The ink manufacturer has made great strides in his field. He has produced many colored fluids that seem well adapted to ordinary use. But how long will this ink last without fading?

Did you ever pick up a letter written ten or fifteen years ago and note how much of it is illegible because the ink has faded? Some precious documents not a century old are preserved today in air tight cases, so that the ink will not fade any more. Others have been copied in order to retain the exact chirography of the original authors.

Fading ink is one of the things in which the ancients did not believe. Many of the mediaeval manuscripts six and seven hundreds years old have their letters formed of ink that is as black and bright as on the day when first written.

Who has the secret of this lost art of making durable ink? It is another one of the lost arts that is worthy of investigation. The ancients had fewer materials to work with and less facilities for laboratory tests, but we must acknowledge that there are some things in which they excelled us.—World Today.

Joy of a Yawn.

When life seems more than usually insipid—and such moments do come to even the most hopeful of us—there is a sudden pleasant sympathy in the yawn of the terrier on the rug before the fire. "Ah, you, too, find things a little boring, old fellow!" we say to ourselves. A dog yawns nobly, making no attempt at disguising it with politely uplifted paw. All animals seem to enjoy a yawn except man. We once saw the late lamented hippopotamus at the zoo lift himself slowly from his murky pond and yawn. It was a great spectacle, tremendous, Homeric. The concentrated boredom of the whole creation seemed expressed in that gigantic gasp. For a few fascinated moments pond, shed, railings, people, all seemed merged in one colossal mouth. It was wonderful. Oh, we thought as we came away, to be able to yawn like that when life becomes too silly!—Pall Mall Gazette.

Get Out of Doors.

Trudeau's classic experiment points us in the right direction. After inoculating a number of rabbits with tuberculosis he confined a number of them indoors and turned the others outdoors. The latter all recovered, while the former all died. This experiment shows that a rabbit living upon its natural food and under a natural environment is proof against tuberculosis. There is abundant reason to believe this equally true of man. In other words, tuberculosis is not a necessary evil of human life, but is a natural consequence of erroneous habits and departure from natural conditions. Man is naturally an outdoor animal. A mole lives a healthy life in a burrow. A man must live in the fresh air and the sunshine.—Medical Record.

The Brigands.

The word "brigand" is derived from a portion of the armor worn by archers, English and foreign, anciently called the "brigandine." This consisted of an apron of leather plated over, scale fashion, with thin pieces of steel. From the irregularities of the light armed men who wore these defenses the name of brigand became in course of time infamous.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

up the complaints and there was quite a row about it. There has always been complaints against this man and he has refused on several occasions to water certain parts of his territory.

Ald. Buller moved that Blodgett be summoned to appear before the Board of Works on Monday night to explain his neglect of duty.—Carried.

MORE POLLS.

The city engineer reported that he had examined the pole lines marked out by the Peterborough Light & Power Co., which includes 53 new poles.

The aldermen could not see why the two companies could not arrange to run their wires on the same line of poles wherever this was possible.

The Ontario Power Co. also asked for permission to erect 14 more poles.

Ald. Bradburn moved that the power companies be granted to place poles where necessary and where no poles now are. In cases where either company has a pole line that they be told to arrange to have two sets of wires on one line of poles.—Carried.

Moved by Ald. Buller and McIntyre that no power lines or electric light wires be strung on the same side of any street on which the fire alarm wires are strung.

GAS MAINS.

The Peterborough Gas Company asked for permission to lay gas mains on certain streets. The engineer reported on these and recommended that they be granted and that the company leave the streets in the same condition as they found them. The request was granted.

AN ELM TREE

A letter was read from Mr. C. H. Clement, stating that a big tree in front of his place had caused him a lot of trouble and cost him considerable money. The roots blocked the sewer and he had to replace it twice. The last time it cost $40. He thought the city should pay half the cost, and also allow him to cut down the tree. No action was taken.

The Ashburnham water fountain be fixed up permanently this summer.

A new walk on the south side of Patterson street will be built.

A new walk on the north side of Parnell street will be laid.

Ald. Bradburn and Ald. Gillespie moved that the cheque of $200 from the government for the sewer built last year to the Normal school, be put into a special account.

Ald. McIntyre and Ald. Buller moved in amendment that the money go to the Board of Works.

The original motion was carried by a vote of 3—2, but the chairman said the money had been paid into the Board of Works account already.

Ald. Bradburn moved that the council give the Board of Works authority to purchase a horse for the dump cart and that crushed stone be placed on the streets and also that the loose stones on the streets be raked off. Ald. Duncan seconded this and it carried.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart and Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days test will surely tell. Try it once, and see! Sold by all dealers.

The Fishing Party Returned Home

A jolly fishing party of four returned from the wilds of Northern Peterborough, where they spent the past week dangling their well baited hooks in the babbling brooks shimmering streams emptying into Ketchecum Lake, Gull Lake and Gold Lake. The sports were Messrs. Ed. Huff, Frank McPherson, Dan Best and Ald. Buller. They had a first-class outing and besides having a barrel full of fun they got a good coat of tan and twenty-four trout. In telling their friends about it they give the number of fish at 24 for each one besides a whole lot of big ones which they could not land. The back country is looking fine now. The trees are all out and the weather was ideal for a fishing expedition.

Temiskaming's Richest Vein Crosses Pan-Silver Property

Streak of Solid Silver a Foot thick--the Most Wonderfull Strike Made in Cobalt's Biggest Dividend Payer Continues on through Cartwright's New Mine

A vein of solid silver, a foot thick, was the sensational strike recently made in the Temiskaming mine, which within a year has developed into the biggest dividend payer in the marvelously rich Cobalt district.

The Temiskaming mine immediately adjoins Pan-Silver, B.C., Cartwright's new mine, on the northeast.

Almost coincident with this record-breaking Temiskaming strike, the continuation of the same wonderful vein was uncovered in the Columbia Cobalt, the next mine to the Pan-Silver on the southwest.

It has been positively known for months that the richest and biggest veins in the Temiskaming continue right on into the Pan-Silver, and in the light of these two recent discoveries, Mr. Cartwright declares there is every reason to believe that the drills on Pan-Silver will strike the foot-thick solid silver silver vein.

Mr. Cartwright has gone into the Pan-Silver in the same spirit in which he took up the Temiskaming when it was the most discredited working in the entire Cobalt district.

Mr. Cartwright believed in Temiskaming and the developments of three years have gloriously justified his belief.

He believes in Pan-Silver with the same faith and declares there is not the shadow of a doubt that Pan-Silver will be a better and bigger producer than its older neighbor, Temiskaming.

B. E. Cartwright knows what he is talking about. He has staked his own fortune and the fortunes of his associates on Pan-Silver.

"Within six months," he says, 'we will be shipping ore from Pan-Silver."

The drills on Pan-Silver are going down steadily and surely—day and night shifts working—to the 600 foot level—the level at which rich pay ore was struck in Temiskaming—ore running $1,500 to the ton.

Even now, at a depth of 100 feet, they have struck calcite veins averaging eight inches in thickness.

Stock in the Pan-Silver Mining Company, Ltd. (par $1.00) is selling for 60c.

It will go to par when the 200 foot development reveals the bonanza values.

That is what B. E. Cartwright says—and you can depend on it that B. E. Cartwright knows.

Pan-Silver will be another Temiskaming—but greater and better and richer than the best Temiskaming has ever been.

A limited number of Pan-Silver shares are offered at 60c (par $1.00) in lots of 100 shares and upward.

Use the coupon or make out an order in similar form and mail it today to Howe, Norris & Co., 50 Broadway, New York, financial agents in the United States for the Pan-Silver Mining Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont. Booklets, maps and detailed information mailed on request.

CLEAN Up INSIDE

Blood and System Cleansing in the Spring Makes Good Health all Summer.

In spite of all your careful habits it is safe to say that in the spring you feel poorly—have a throbbing sensation in the head—skin is pale or yellow, with dark rings under the eyes. If not absolutely billious the system is so full of bile that you feel heavy and tired all day long.

Clean up, work off the winter's accumulation of waste, purify your blood. Do this and you'll feel fresh as a prize-fighter. "For ten years, says W. B. Singster of Concord, "I suffered greatly from impure blood, which made me feel debilitated and unfit for work. I had no appetite, suffered from indigestion and gas, had some pains in the back, caused by poor kidney action. Spring was the hardest time of all, and many a time I felt despondent and languid enough to throw up the sponge. I was impressed by the marvellous work done by Dr Hamilton's Pills and tried them. They suited me exactly. In one week I felt like new. I was braced up, got rid of blood weakness, gained in flesh, got back my old time appearance and spirits. Dr. Hamilton's Pills will clean all the sickness out of a man in short order and I urge young and old to use this grand tonic medicine."

Dr. Hamilton's Pills are a perfect spring medicine, they destroy germs and poisons of every description and trength whereby the system rallies and the patient quickly enjoys the blessings of Perfect Health. Get Dr. Hamilton's Pills today—25c. For sale at all dealers.

Prince Rupert Lots

The second day's sale of lots of the town site of Prince Rupert, the Pacific Coast terminus of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, proved even more satisfactory than the first day, both as to number of lots sold and returns. The sale for the two days netted $600,000. In all 650 lots were sold, the majority of which went at from 25 per cent. to 100 per cent. above the upset price. The highest price paid thus far was $10,000.

Beautiful Home Sold

The beautiful home and property of Mr. R. A. Elliott, known as "Englehurn Park," on Burnham street, Ashburnham, has been sold to Mr. T. H. Hamilton of Toronto, the president of the Hudson Consolidated Silver Mines of Port Arthur. The price paid is said to have been in the neighborhood of fifteen thousand dollars.

Mr. Davidson, private secretary to Mr. Hamilton, is in the city to-day. He stated that it was not Mr. Hamilton's intention to remove to Peterborough when he purchased the Ashburnham property. Mr. Hamilton is a former resident of Peterborough having at one time conducted a hardware business here.

The Olympic Outing Will be on Thursday

The annual excursion of the Olympian will be held on Thursday, June 10th, to Stony Lake. This event formally opens the excursion season, and if the scenery and natural beauty of the lakes are at their best, the Olympics announce it such for they appreciate the aesthetic and also pay marked attention to the kaleidoscopic panorama viewed from the steamer's deck. Dinner will be had at Buckhorn and the usual amusements enjoyed there. The trip should be as enjoyable as others and the members hope it will be a little drier.

Last year the day was wet, the weather man having frowned instead of smiled.

Aldermen will Open City League Today

The opening of the Senior City League this afternoon will be a formal affair in a sense and a number of the civic officials will start the fun a-rolling. Mayor Rush has signified his intention of throwing the first ball and Ald. Wm. Bradburn will endeavor to solve the chief magistrate's delivery. Ald. Harry Phelan will do the receiving and after that—well, the senior league teams will make their bow. Ald. Bradburn states that he wants one of the Lajoie model bats, and is of the opinion that a catcher will not be needed. He has also heard of the box of cigars and may claim them on a technicality, whatever that is. The opening should be attended by a large number of the followers of the teams, and those who like the game.

Capitalists will Visit the Mine

A party of capitalists who are residents of Peterborough and neighboring towns purpose leaving next week to visit the silver property of the Hanson Consolidated Silver Mines at Port Arthur. Any person who has not heard of this may obtain further information in regard to the time of leaving and the rates from the head office for Peterborough and Victoria counties at the offices of R. A. Elliott and Co., Water St.

The startling reports that have been printed from time to time in the Port Arthur Evening Chronicle setting forth the valuable ore that has been found in this property have set many of capitalists in various parts of the country seriously thinking in regard to the rich minerals that are in this district. Recent discoveries at 1400 foot level have uncovered a vein 1000 feet long, so rich in silver that fifty per cent. can be shipped to the smelter without milling.

While Cobalt and Gowganda districts are endeavoring to attract attention, Thunder Bay district from reports of expert mining engineers show clearly that silver ore is to be found there that will equal or surpass that found in those districts.

Prospective buyers should make an effort to accompany the party as no doubt large blocks of stock will be taken up before it returns.

Inspected Bridges

Warden R. N. Scott, Councillor Fife, chairman of the Roads and Bridges Committee, Councillor Shaw and Deputy Reeve Stewart of Otonabee, returned to the city last night after a long trip through the county inspecting and examining the bridges. They were back in Asphodel, Burleigh, Buckhorn, Squaw River, Chemong bridge and Lancaster bridge. The necessary repairs will be made to the bridges. Warden Scott said that they found the new bridge near McCoil was a first-class job and was a credit to the contractors and to the county.

The June session of the County Council will be opened on June 15th.

A Woman's Sympathy

I want to relieve your burden. Just cut out the pain and stop the doctor's bill. I can do this for you and will if you will assist me.

All you need do is to write for a free box of the remedy which has been placed in my hands to be given away. Perhaps this one box will cure you—it has done so for others. "HEADACHE, WEAKNESS, HEART TROUBLE"

"I Suffered With for Years—Pe-ru-na Cured Me Entirely."

Miss Albina Chauvin, No. 50 Rue Agnes, St. Henri, Montreal, Can., writes:

"I consider Peruna better than any other remedy, as it cured me when nothing else could. I suffered for years and years with heart trouble, headache and weakness. I never expected to find anything to cure me. I saw one day, in "La Prosse," that Peruna was excellent and I tried it. One bottle produced a change in me and if the price had been $100 a bottle I would have paid it gladly. I have taken six bottles and am entirely cured. Please accept my thanks and best wishes for your Peruna."

Many cases of heart trouble are caused by reflex disturbances.

Derangements of the stomach and liver produce symptoms of heart trouble.

Catarrh of the stomach is a very frequent cause of sympathetic heart disease.

Palpitation, shortness of breath and bloating after meals are the most prominent symptoms.

Such a condition of the stomach is also liable to produce headaches of the worst sort.

Medicines that palliate the symptoms will never lead to a cure.

It is the effect which Peruna has upon the stomach, healing the mucous membranes and restoring the natural function of the stomach, that causes Peruna to bring such prompt relief.

His Honor Judge Weller Passed Away Saturday

It was with universal regret throughout Peterborough and the Midland district that the death of His Honor Judge Weller was learned at 8.30 Saturday afternoon. His honor had been ailing all winter owned by the general breaking down of the vital organs, although at the last his death came rather suddenly and unexpectedly but was peaceful and painless. Charles Alexander Weller, judge of the county court of Peterborough, was a well known figure in this city and he was respected by all. He came here and practiced the same year that he was called to the bar and has lived here continuously ever since. He practiced until 1886 when he was appointed to the judgeship and during his term of office he earned a reputation as a good fair and just judge, and anyone appearing before him was sure of a fair trial. Early in his career he was appointed clerk of the peace and county crown attorney, which position he held until he was made Judge. He was also appointed local master in chancery many years ago. He was born in Cobourg on March 29th, 1836, and came to Peterborough in 1851 or 58 years ago, and since then he has been a much valued citizen.

Judge Weller was one of the founders of the Peterborough Club and was a member of it continuously until his death. He was also a faithful member of St. John's church.

Since the death of his wife some eight years ago, his honor resided with his daughter, Mrs. Dean, at 371 Reid street, and she is the only survivor of his family. His son died many years ago.

The funeral will take place from his late residence, 371 Reid street this afternoon at 3 o'clock to St. John's church where services will be conducted. Interment will take place at the Little Lake cemetery.

All the law offices in the city will be closed this afternoon at two o'clock until Tuesday morning, and the members of the bar will attend the funeral in a body.

Post Mortem was Held Saturday

The post-mortem over the body of Elizah Armstrong was conducted by Dr. Young at D. Belleghem's undertaking rooms on Saturday afternoon and he will make his report to the coroner's jury when the inquest is resumed on Friday night next at Fraserville.

The remains were indentified by Leinteck, a farmer near Fowler's Corners. He said that Armstrong was a carpenter who worked mostly for the farmers on barns, driving sheds, etc. He had been working for him up to Christmas last, and left a few days after the holiday for Peterborough and since then he has not heard from him.

On the man's person was found a book in which several names and the time of the men. Evidently these men had been working for him. There were also a number of bills from local firms and these firms state that they remember a man by the name of Armstrong The remains however have been so long in the water and it is a long time since his death that it is difficult to secure a definite identification.

Fierce Battle with the Black Flies

A scow load of lumber on the rocks, night and darkness approaching, hungry black flies and mosquitos swarming around in millions, a shortage of food and a long tiresome day in the rear are the difficulties which faced ex-Ald. Thos. Wilson one night last week while on his way to Stoney Lake. The ex-alderman left Lakefield with a scow load of lumber drawn by a small tug bound for one of the islands at the famous Kawartha summer resort. Everything was lovely until night was approaching. Then suddenly the scow ran full on a rock which was hidden by the high water. It took over an hour and a half to get her off and this was only accomplished after about three quarters of the cargo had been unloaded. Then Mr. Wilson with his men paddled in a punt to his own cottage about a mile away when where they had supper. Before returning to the scow they opened all the doors and windows of the cottage to cool the place off so that they could come back to sleep as that they could come back to sleep. But when they did return the house was alive with mosquitoes and it was an all night battle with the pesky insects and little or no sleep was indulged in. Next morning all were up at daylight and after breakfast they proceeded to get the lumber to its destination but upon arrival the men were met by swarms of black flies which made a vicious attack upon their face, neck and ears and caused them all kinds of inconvenience. The day, however, was lived through and at night the men returned to Mr. Wilson's cottage where they put on the screen doors and screen windows and after driving the mosquitoes out they lay down and had a good sleep. Fortunately the black flies will soon be gone and the mosquitoes will not be so troublesome. It was an experience however which the ex-alderman says he does not care to repeat for a while.

Mr. Wilson also reported that he never saw so many fish before. The lunge and bass are swarming the waters and there is every indication of a very successful season for the anglers at Stony Lake.

"My God, This is Hard, It is Not Fair," Said Walter Blythe

Walter Blythe, wife murderer, is to die June 17.

"My God! It is a hard thing that they should make me wait only for this." These was the man's first words, uttered in an even, monotonous voice after Canon Farncomb had broken the news to him in his cell at the jail yesterday morning.

When Blythe was reprieved a few weeks ago he was not elated. He had composed himself to die and said at that time that it was small kindness to him that the shadow had been lifted. He even in some strange way regarded his coming death as a worthy expiation for the crime of which he has in a stoic way repented. Then, too, permission had been granted that he should be buried by the wife he had slain, and over this he had been as pleased as a little child.

IMPULSE TO LIVE STRONG.

But the impulse to live is strong and day by day the hope that he was not to be taken away from the world which knows sunshine even behind prison walls had grown into a wish to live. Therefore this man who before his reprieve had been placed beyond the reach of hope and despair, to whom all the matters of the world had become as trivial nothings, was again prepared for a shock and yesterday the blow was delivered by a black robed minister of God, having come through the nicely grooved and judicial channels of official dom.

Blythe was sitting on his bed when the words which once more called for the curtain on his little play of life were uttered.

For several moments he said nothing. The color which he has had through long months of confinement left his cheeks. Otherwise, for all that the sympathetic watchers could

The Morning Times' Big Contest Astonishes The People by Magnitude

Nothing to Compare with It Ever Before Offered by Newspapers—What You will Win

The Morning and Weekly Times fully expected that the announcement of its unpalleled and magnificent $3,000 Prize Voting Contest would cause a great stir, both in Peterborough and the surrounding territory; but the result has been beyond all expectations.

After Saturday's issue it seemed that a large number of would-be candidates could scarcely wait until Monday morning, in fact many informal inquiries were received before that time and now those who know the truth of the proverb concerning "the early bird" have secured not only nomination blanks and receipt books, but also a considerable number of the vote coupons worth ten votes each, which appear in the Morning Times.

EXPECTATIONS EXCEEDED.

Naturally we expected that our announcement would arouse keen and wide-spread interest, but we confess that we were hardly prepared for the unanimous expression of approval which has been elicited.

Yet why should we feel surprised when the magnitude of the offer we are making is considered? Twenty handsome and desirable prizes aggregating a sum of more than $3,000 is enough to make every one take notice. We have many subscribers, and all are delighted with the enterprise shown by their favorite newspaper. But what gratifies us particularly is the interest taken by those who so far have known the Times only occasionally. Our old friends know we are worth while, it is the new ones whom we wish to convince that we give them the best news service to be found within many a long mile.

WHAT YOU WILL WIN.

Over $3,000 dollars' worth of prizes are to be distributed among nearly half a hundred people at the end of seven weeks. What part of this are you going to win? What prize on the attractive list seems especially adapted to your use? They are all as much yours at present as anyone's. Why not merit the prize of your choice?

Twenty people are going to win. Not by sheer luck, but by sheer pluck. There's really not half so much luck in the world as some people are disposed to think. Every one makes his or her own luck. They do it by taking advantage of opportunity, and never will you find a more glorious opportunity to make your own luck than right now.

It's up to you to win the very best. Isn't it easier to ride in your own automobile than to dodge the other fellow's? Get out of the dodging class and get into the one that speeds.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE?

Why, you are. Every man or woman who feels that they can show the simple QUALITIES OF PLUCK AND PERSEVERANCE, COUPLED WITH A LAUDABLE AMBITION is the right person to enter the contest and to win one of the prizes.

In all the territory in which The Times circulates the only worthy persons whom we reject are the employes of The Times. No employe of The Morning Times, or member of his or her family will be permitted to participate in this contest.

HOW TO GET VOTES.

Send in your nomination or that of a friend. Clip the coupons in the daily paper. Get all your friends and acquaintances to subscribe for The Times in your favor or to renew their subscription for you. It costs you nothing to vote, —it costs your friend nothing extra to vote for you.

Votes once cast for any candidate cannot be changed to the credit of another candidate.

Candidates and their friends are not confined to their own district. They may secure subscriptions anywhere.

PURPOSE OF THE CONTEST.

The purpose of this great popularity contest is to add new subscribers to the already large list of The Morning Times. Therefore more votes will is to add NEW subscribers to the already large list be issued on NEW subscriptions than on old.

DO NOT HESITATE.

Send in your nomination today. When the first list of candidates is published you will be glad to see your name among them.

The way to win a prize is to enter your name as a candidate.

THE TALK OF THE TOWN.

"Hello, Jack! How are you?"

"Fine, Bob; and you?

"Feeling great! Found something to interest me. Never be bored again."

"Gee!" said Jack, "When old 'Bored Bobby' begins to talk that way it must be something exciting. I'll go along and hear all about it."

"Well, I guess you've heard it already," replied the first young fellow. "It's the talk of the town already."

"Oh! Then you must mean the Big Prize Contest on The Morning Times. It's certainly a great offer, isn't? Never heard of anything near so big in these parts."

"Just think," said Bob, closing his eyes rapturously, "of owning that $1,250 touring car. Wouldn't that be great?"

"It certainly would, but for my part I'd rather have that Willis $500 Piano.

"Say," says Bob, "suppose we go into this thing together? It'll be lots of fun at the worst, and then what a grand reward we may get," and just at that minute a group of laughing girls approached eagerly discussing some absorbing topic.

"What's up, Kitty?" called Jack.

"Why, if you don't know you're slow," answered the pretty young woman. "We girls have heard so much talk about the wonderful prizes in The Morning Times' $3,000 Prize Contest that we have all decided to go to Seattle this summer."

"All but me," spoke up a bright looking girl. "I'm not going to let any 'mere man' win that touring car. But I tell you, boys, when I win it, I'll give you all a ride," she added saucily.

"Well, no woman is going to beat me in that race," said Bob, "unless she's got more brains and pluck than I have, so you better prepare to hustle, Miss Ambition."

"We will, we will!" chorused the girls. "And now, goodbye, boys, we're off to get more subscriptions today that you'll have by the end of next week."

"Say, Bob, don't let them beat us," said Jack. "They're pretty smart, but they'd never stop plaguing us if they left us behind."

"No time to lose, then," said Bob. "I think I know where I can get asubscription. Good-bye old man, and good luck." And so they parted.

The public will be interested in seeing whether Bob or his girl friend wins the touring car, and whether Jack gets the Piano and the merry girls go to Seattle.

Send in your name today, and secure one of the many desirable prizes. Contest open to all.

Strathconas Went Down to Defeat to West Ends in First League Game

The opening of the Senior City Baseball League on Saturday afternoon was a success. The weather was ideal and the grounds were in splendid shape. There was a fair-sized crowd present although the grand stand would have held more, and there was also room around the field for a few.

The season was opened with an exhibition game between the T.A.S. and West Ends. Five innings were played with an even brake 1—1. Quinlan was in the box for the T. A.S., and he is pitching in his old time form, while Rose did the twirling for the West Ends.

The game was opened by Ald. Phelan, an old time sport, in the pitcher's box and Ald. Bradburn at the bat. The little pitcher threw a spit curve to the right corner of the plate which the chairman of the property committee jumped at for a foul while the fans cheered lustily. The aldermen then bowed their acknowledgement of the happart and after declaring the baseball season open retired to their position on the rooters' bench.

STRATHCONAS TRIMMED.

The Strathconas got away to a bad start in their first league game by falling into the arms of the West End artists. The score was 10 to 7. It was just 3.30 when the teams took the field and from the side the side the Strathconas looked to be the better bunch but towards the end they were proven otherwise. The West Ends got five runs over in the ninth innings and won the game although they should have cinched it several times in the earlier stages as they had plenty of opportunity. They need to study base running as that is one of the greatest features. The Strathcs might also take a tumble at the bases.

The Strathconas had Harold Hickey in the box and he did good work but he should have been replaced in the seventh as a whole game is too much to expect from a youngster on the start. For the West Ends Dobson and Kirn did the slab work Some of the features of the game were Curtis' two good catches in center, Craig's catch of a foul to third base, Minorgan's wild throw to first West End Craig's two catches in left field and the poor base running of both teams.

Umpire Dan McCabe gave satisfaction in both games.

The teams lined up as follows;—

Benson Ave. People will Not Stand for Walk on Inside of the Tree Line

There was a very warm time at a special meeting of the Committee of the Whole Council on Saturday night. The Benson avenue sidewalk is not settled yet, and it looks very much as if the residents of that street will get their own way after all. The Board of Works the other night decided the walk should go on the inside while the residents want it on the outside, and they are determined to have it on the outside irrespective of the Board of Works. Thos. Benson avenue people are scrappers and they will fight to a finish and the finish will likely be tonight when the council meets.

As soon as the residents learned the decision of the Board of Works they communicated with his worship the mayor and asked for a meeting of the Committee of the whole. The request was granted and the residents were down in full force. Eight of the aldermen were present with the mayor, and an hour or so of warm talking was spent before the adjournment.

The deputation was headed by Mr. R. J. Kidd who acted as spokesman. He feels very keenly on this matter and put up a splendid case before the aldermen. He said the residents were anxious to make Benson avenue one of the most attractive streets in the city and to do this they said the walk should go outside the tree line. They should, at their own expense, terrace their property down to the walk and replant the trees. They claimed that there was no reasonable or serious objection to their request being granted. The Water Commissioners said their mains and hydrants would not be interfered with; the engineer had no great objection and the street would be greatly improved by the walk being outside the trees.

Quite a number of the aldermen fell in with the Benson avenue people and expressed themselves as being willing to grant their request. But as the chairman of the Board of Works, Ald. Phelan, who was the one most strongly opposed to the walk on the outside, was not present and as several other members of the Board of Works were not present, the Committee of the Whole passed a resolution suspending further work on this famous sidewalk until after Monday night.

The regular meeting of the council will be held tonight and all the members will likely be present, so will the residents of Benson avenue. Then the location of the sidewalk will be settled, and it is ten to one the residents will won out.

Western Canada Wood, Pulp and Paper Co., Ltd

One of the most promising commercial enterprises in Canada today is undoubtedly that of the manufacture of pulp wood. The supply of paper is not adequate to the demand and the demand is rapidly on the increase. To all who read, study or travel in Canada it is well known that British Columbia has forests that are unequalled in any part of the world and a large section of these wooded lands are covered with woods particularly adaptable for making pulp.

Mr Greeley Kolts said in Montreal on May 12th when talking of the pulpwood and paper industry:

"Spruce and hemlock are now worth from $6 to $7.50 per cord in this province. There is enough spruce and hemlock in British Columbia at $3 per cord to furnish the North American continent with pulp and paper for half a century. I have seen some of the big water falls that

SCIENTIFICALLY TREATED.

The best authorities agree that bronchitis is treated most scientifically by Catarrhozone, which goes right to the root of the trouble.

Bronchitis can be treated successfully only by a remedy carried direct to the affected parts along with the air breathed.

Catarrhozone is a vegetable antiseptic and is inhaled at the mouth, and afterpassing through all the air passages of the throat, bronchial tubes and lungs, is exhaled through the nose.

The healing vapor of Catarrhozone goes wherever the air you breathe goes, and reaches every part that is affected. No matter how deep-seated the bronchial irritation may be, Catarrhozone is sure to reach it.

Catarrhozone protects and heals the mucous membrane, stops the cough, heals up the sores, and is guaranteed to bring speedy relief and sure cure.

By means of the inhaler Catarrhozone treats the local symptoms of bronchial trouble very effectually. The poisons and impurities in the blood are driven off by Ferrozone, which is a wonderful tonic and stimulant for the entire system.

Ferrozone is a muscle and tissue builder, increases the appetite and digestion and makes the body so healthy and strong that bronchitis goes away for good.

A prominent steamboat owner, well known throughout Eastern Ontario, Captain Dunlop of Kingston, was perfectly cured of Bronchitis by Catarrhozone. The Captain had suffered for more than 20 years, and says that Catarrhozone is the best cure for Bronchitis on the face of the globe.

Mr. A. J. Calhoun, a prominent citizen of Neepawa, Manitoba, speaks very appreciatively of Catarrhozone as a specific for Bronchitis, and states that his wife could not get along without it.

Everyone that has used Catarrhozone is satisfied that it is superior to all other remedies. It is delightful to inhale, simple and convenient to use, and relieves from the first breath taken through the inhaler.

Better try Catarrhozone. All druggists sell and recommend it. Complete outfit, price $1.00; trial size 50c. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

BATTLESHIP BUILDING CAPACITY

The head of the famous shipbuilding firm of Vickers, Sons & Maxim is represented by "The London Times" as saying that within three years of the approval of plans three Dreadnoughts could be delivered by the yard at Barrow, ready for service, and that thereafter production could be continued at the rate of one battleship every six months. A somewhat similar announcement was made a few weeks ago by a responsible officer of another concern which has a world-wide reputation—namely that Sir W. G. Armstrong, Whitworth & Co., can supply three Dreadnoughts within thirty months of the receipt of an order, and three more fifteen months later. The significance of these statements will more fully appear when it is remembered that both of the firms have, in addition to exceptional facilities for the construction of war vessels, works for the manufacture of guns of all calibres and of armor plate. They need not rely, as do contractors in the United States, on any one else for any part of the finished ship.

Besides these two private yards, England has many others capable of building war vessels of the largest size. She also has magnificent facilities at her own navy yards, notably those at Portsmouth and Devonport. The first Dreadnought was built at the former—with a rapidity that astonished the world—and the Temeraire was turned out at the latter. Should the British Admiralty decide to lay the kells of four battleships this year, in addition to the four for which provisional arrangements have already been made, there is likely to be no trouble in finding places for their construction. There can be little doubt, moreover, about England's ability to continue construction at the rate of eight, or more than eight, a year, if necessity should dictate such a course. Not much more than half of the work to be done on a battleship need be performed before she is launched. When she is afloat she can be moved to another berth for completion, and the ways which she occupied can be utilized for further work long before she goes into commission.

The rumor that Mr. Asquith's advisability of beginning the construction of eight battleships this year remains, we believe, unconfirmed. Proofs of the ease with which that policy could be executed must, nevertheless, be extremely pleasing to those who have had misgivings about England's ability to maintain her present naval supremacy.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

BEER VERSUS WHISKEY

At a convention of brewers a few days ago across the lines stress was laid by several speakers on the idea that beer is the foe of inebriety and that the displacement of strong liquors by the milder beverage would be a step in social progress which those who must lament the curse of drunkenness ought to welcome. There is undoubtedly something in the contention that it is unjust to couple beer with the stronger liquors in attacks on the drink evil. Beer is an essentially innocuous beverage. When made pure and sold in good condition it is not harmful to the drinker and is not a breeder of disorder. Were it the recognized custom here to separate liquor dealers into various classes, licensing some to sell beer and others to deal in stronger drinks, much lower charges being made for beer licenses, a great improvement in good order in drinking places would result and the evil consequences of the liquor traffic, direct and incidental, would be greatly diminished. Our present system of a general license for all liquors prevents a specialization which would greatly increase the proportion of drinking places in which there would be no great encouragement of intoxication and of the tendencies to disturbance and crime which follow it.

If the brewers could cut loose from the distilling interests and demonstrate that beer bars can be conducted with a minimum of disorder and a maximum of innocent enjoyment, the public would undoubtedly soon come to discriminate among purveyors of liquors and not allow the better class to suffer for the sins of the less deserving. The sale of beer apart from other liquors should be favored by license concessions. The brewers themselves could also do much both to promote temperance and to extend their business by producing and having competently handled an article which would be recognized as equal to the German beers. German beer is rich in nourishment, and almost non-alcholic, and is for most persons both a food and a tonic. The wider use here of equally good brews would educate the Canadian public up to German standards and might greatly discourage our present overuse of harmful intoxicants.

UNCLE SAM IS SURPRISED

With a surprise that seems genuine the people of the republic next door are exclaiming that they find themselves disliked by the Porto Ricans and Filipinos! The cause of it they cannot make out. As these two places are ten thousand miles apart there is no collusion, and yet Gov. Post, of Porto Rico, says; "For some time past there has been in Porto Rico an open hostility toward Americans simply because they are Americans." Gov.-General Smith of the Philippines, in addressing the assembly recently, said that he deplored "the growing gulf between the Americans and the Filipinos."

Some of our American exchanges discuss this question as if they found it impossible to believe that there can be dislike that cannot be explained away by a few smiling words. The official view is that the native object to the annoyances of the tariff, but other observers reply that this does not account for it. Having new on the business of holding foreign possessions and "uplifting" inferior races, our neighbors seem pained to find themselves disliked where they feel that they should be endeared. But they will get used to it, as the British have got used to it in India, Egypt, and the world over. Stephen Crane, in "The Red Badge of Courage," tells how, when he lay on his face in a clump of bushes and bullets began to rip through the leaves above his head, his feeling was that the whole thing was a horrible misunderstanding. He felt like jumping up and setting the enemy know that he was there—he was a good fellow—they didn't want to shoot him—they wanted to shoot other people, not a nice fellow who had done no harm to anybody. But he dare not get up and those flying bullets, he could but burrow into the ground and complain of the utter unreasonableness of it all.

It is pretty much the same with the American who finds himself in carrying the hate of the Porto Rican or the Filipino. He feels that it is a horrible mistake. He is the liberator of these people! His country has taken hold of these islands and done wonders with them, and for them. Can it be possible that the rabbit does not like to be lifted by the ears? Would the foolish creature prefer to creep the pen and again dare the dangers of the jungle?

In a recent work of fiction a young woman cries out against the too great kindness of an aunt. "She wants me to enjoy myself in her way," she says, and runs away from it all. There are many people like that aunt. Perhaps the Porto Ricans and Filipinos find Uncle Sam like that. He not only wants to set them free, but harness them right in the freedom that is his. He will make them happy, peaceful, and contented or bang their heads in. He sets them up in business running their own show, and leaves a few experts to show them how to do it, and enough troops to make them do it right.

But with the blessings of freedom conferred on them these foolish natives do not appreciate what is done for them. They do not know freedom when they see it.

Tell Some Sick One

It Is Free If It Fails.

Will you do an act of Humanity? Will you tell some sick friend of this, my remarkable offer?

Tell him or her, that you have learned of a medicine so certain that its maker dare say to the sick, "It is absolutely and unconditionally free if it fails."

And you, no doubt, already know of Dr. Shoop's Restorative and its popularity.

For 20 years it has been the standard remedy for Stomach, Kidney and Heart ailments everywhere in America.

When the "inside" or controlling nerves of these vital organs begin to fail, it is Dr. Shoop's Restorative that has quickly vitalized, and strengthened, and brought them nerves and organs back to health again.

I do not dose the Stomach, nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys—for that is all wrong.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes direct to the duties of these pilasters—the failing, faltering, inside or controlling nerves. And herein lies the key note to my success.

When these nerves are again made well and strong, then that is the certain end of all sick sickness.

To me it is a great satisfaction that I can the only physician able to say to the suffering sick, "Take my prescription for full 30 days, and if it fails to help you, the entire expense is mine—not yours."

Then why should the sick take any chances on any other medicine, when maker dare not back it just as I do by this remarkable offer?

I also have a Rheumatic Remedy—and that remedy is covered by the same identical "no help, no pay" protective plan.

Besides, you are free to consult me just as you would your home physician. My advice and the book below are yours—and without cost.

Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up some serious ailment. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private prescription or personal advice plan. My best effort is surely worth your simple request.

So let me send you an order at once. Take the message to some sick friend.

A postal will bring the opportunity.

I will have an honest and trustworthy druggist to whom you can conveniently go for the 30 day test.

But first, ask me for the order, for all druggists are not authorized to give the 30 day test.

So write me now and save all delays. Remember that tomorrow never comes. Address Dr. Shoop, Box 12, Racine, Wis.

Cosgrave's Beer

Words of praise have ever prevailed in advertising "copy." That a producer should wax enthusiastic over his own wares is but human. But it's the praise of the consumer that counts—and it is to a discriminating and critical public that "Cosgrave's" refers you

It is safe to say that no product, of any kind, enjoys a more enviable reputation than does this same Cosgrave Beer of Toronto in markets where it is offered.

Its self-evident honesty of purpose, purity, brilliancy, body, and every other attribute that goes to make a perfect beer are ever in evidence.

PRODIGAL WITH MONEY.

An Author Who Was Constantly in Financial Difficulties.

Of Robert Buchanan, an author whose books seem nowadays in a fair way to be forgotten, there are some interesting glimpses in Chambers' Journal. A friend says of him that he was a man who was constantly in difficulties in regard to money matters. He would have a pocketful of money one day and none at all the next. He "gave money away right and left to those who appealed to his sympathy," and he was absurd in generosity as regarded his friends. This particular friend says of this trait:

"I found it extremely difficult to get him to accept any money due to him for transactions undertaken for me. If I asked him, 'How much do I owe you, Bard?' he invariably answered in the same strain, 'Eight thousand five hundred and nineteen pounds, four shillings and sevenpence,' or 'Give me half a million, and we will cry quits.' If we dined together casually, one, two, six of us, he invariably managed to get hold of the bill and pay it.

"This trick of his, of course, became familiar, and we seldom asked him to dinner unless we had arranged the matter beforehand with the powers that be. When he discovered that fact he would say: 'Oh, this is a duke's affair. All right, I expect to be treated as in a ducal mansion.' It was the same with cabs and trains. He was a large, stout man, but he had a curious faculty of reaching the cabman's hand or the ticket office before the slimmest of us.

"He was a confirmed turf speculator—a strange pursuit for a singer of songs and dreamer of dreams—and it need hardly be said he lost far more than he gained, but when he was successful—and occasionally his winnings were large—he always managed to find a means of sharing his good fortune with those less privileged than himself. One of his many methods of telling white lies was this: 'How are you, X.? I owe you £20.' 'This is the first I have heard of it,' would likely be the reply. 'Oh, I took the liberty of putting a sovereign on King Charles for you, and he started at 20 to 1,' and forthwith he handed over the money."

Shackleton No Pleader.

Great rejoicing has been caused at Alleyn's College, Dulwich, England, about the success of Lieut. Shackleton, an old Alleynian, who went to the school in May, 1886, and left after three years of Dulwich life. Every boy subscribed a halfpenny towards a congratulatory telegram. A special half-holiday was given in Lieutenant Shackleton's honor.

The explorer's old form master, Mr. Escott, said: "He never rose high in the school, or applied himself seriously to his books, but his merits were always recognized as being out of all proportion to his place in form. He was considered rather delicate. He left too young, for he was not yet sixteen years old, to distinguish himself in athletics. He was, I think, in the Upper Third at the time.

"He was always full of energy, but never could put his nose to the grindstone—a rolling stone gathering no moss, but a lively and very pleasant fellow."

Lieutenant Shackleton was born in Ireland. At the age of seventeen he went to sea, and after several years in the mercantile service took part in the transhipment of the British troops to South Africa at the time of the war. He went with Captain Scott on the voyage of the Discovery, and on his return acted as secretary to the Royal Geographical Society of Scotland.

Veteran Peers Dead.

No less than four members of that institution much loved in some circles and most hated and execrated in others, viz., the House of Lords, have crossed the Rubicon. The peers whose deaths have to be recorded recently are Lord Gwdyr, far and away the oldest member of the House of Lords; Earl Egerton of Tatton, who for years did considerable hard work for the Conservative party in both Houses; the Earl of Howth, K.P., a grand specimen of the right type of Irish landlord and last but not least the Earl of Hardwicke, a member of the late Balfour administration who died in the full prime of his powers.

Lord Gwdyr, under which picturesque title Peter Robert Burrell has sat for so many years in the House of Lords, had the unique position of any peer in the Upper House, that of having served under and being present at the coronation of not less than four monarchs of the House of Hanover, viz., George IV., William IV., the late Queen Victoria and the present King. At the time of his death he was closely approaching on his hundredth year, having been born in 1810. He is succeeded by his only son, the Hon. Willoughby Merrik Campbell, who has already attained the fairly venerable age of 68.

Lady First, Then Sovereign.

With regard to the ancient privilege accorded to the masters of Trinity of wearing their hats in the presence of royalty, it is recorded of a former master that he took this privilege on an occasion when Queen Victoria was visiting Cambridge. The Queen remonstrated.

"But, madam," expostulated the master, "I am privileged to wear my hat in the presence of my sovereign."

"Yes, sir," rejoined Her Majesty with crushing emphasis, "in the presence of your sovereign, but not in the presence of a lady."

A Touching Remembrance.

On a railway journey Morley had for a companion an old gentleman who had been trying to make himself more comfortable with the aid of a somewhat deflated air cushion. Professor Morley was going to blow it up for him, but his action was arrested by the exclamation: "Stop, sir, stop! That cushion contains my deceased wife's breath!"—Life of Henry Morley.

If you would have a safe yet certain Cough Remedy in the home, try Dr. Shoop's—at least once. It is thoroughly unlike any other Cough preparation. Its taste will be entirely new to you—unless it is already your favorite Cough Remedy. No opium, chloroform, or any other stupifying ingredients are used. The tender leaves of a harmless, lung-healing mountainous shrub, give to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy its wonderful curative properties. It is truly a most certain and trustworthy prescription. Sold by all dealers.

Starving In St Helena.

What is to be the fate of St. Helena? is the question asked by the Hon. H. W. Solomon, of the executive council of the island, who has issued a plea on behalf of the distressed inhabitants.

"It is over two years since the garrison was removed," says Mr. Solomon in a letter to A. G. Wise, secretary of the St. Helena committee, "and although we appreciate the action of the Colonial Office in giving a subsidy to start a hemp mill, as well as a grant for teaching the girls lace making, yet much more remains to be done. At the request of former governors the farmers improved the breed of their live stock, being assured that they would always be required for military purposes. The result is that the farmers are to-day left with some 2,000 cattle on their hands which are practically useless, as on account of the great poverty, the people have no money to purchase meat. These cattle also are a great impediment to the growing of hemp, occupying pasture lands which would otherwise be used for hemp cultivation. Money is also needed for the upkeep of the roads.

"Large numbers of children are unprovided for. There is, besides, the question of the children who are growing up, and for whom employment must be found when they leave school."

Financial assistance is needed from the authorities at home if this island, which has played such a conspicuous part in British history, is to be saved from decay.

The English Football.

Few people have any idea of the amount of labor expended in the making of a football. The leather used is "split" cowhide, ordinary cowhide being too thick for the regulation weight. Previous to splitting the leather has been soaking in the tan pits for ten or twelve months. The "split" hide is well softened with tubbin and then passed to the cutter, who cuts out the various sections, which, sewed together, make a perfectly round ball. The bladder is made of Para rubber. This in inflated by machinery, and the ball is then laced up. Finally it passes through the hands of the shaper, who pats down any inequalities in the seams or contour of the ball.

A Poser For Sir William.

Sir William Ramsay, who has been describing some remarkable experiments which he has made in connection with the transmutation of metals, tells an amusing story to illustrate his contention that the habit of reasoning is developed in male children at a remarkably early age. While visiting a friend he overheard a discussion between the little son and daughter of his host. "I wonder what we're here in the world for?" asked the little boy. His companion, thinking of a reason lesson, answered gently, "We are put here to help others, of course." "Um!" exclaimed the little boy, after a moment's thought; "then what are the others here for?"

A Wonderful Career.

Amongst the artists engaged for the grand opera season at Covent Garden, London, is the well-known tenor, Mr. John McCormack. It is an extraordinary fact that Mr. McCormack, who is only twenty-four years of age, had no idea of taking up music as a profession until six years ago, when he was induced to enter the National Irish Festival, where he won the gold medal. He is a tenor for whom a Sims Reeves' reputation is prophesied, and since he appeared at Covent Garden last year has received many tempting offers of engagements from abroad.

Playing With Prisoners.

In the courtyard leading to Dublin Bridewell the other day a batch of street hawkers, who were being escorted to prison suddenly pounced on a snow heap and treated their escort to a fusillade of snowballs, the policeman taking it in good part and soon getting their prisoners in hand again.

Palindromes.

A palindrome is a word or sentence that reads the same forward or backward. The making of palindromes in Latin was at one time a favorite pastime. It calls for the exercise of some constructive and analytic skill. Not many English palindromes are known. The supposed self-introduction of the father of humanity to his quondam rib is the most familiar.

"Madam, I'm Adam."

Sometimes an unintentional palindrome comes to light, as in the shop sign in Yreka, Cal.:

"Yreka Bakery."

Palindromes of considerable length may be evolved—as, for instance, the supposed reply the girl makes to her mother's question regarding the progress of the class in Latin:

"O, mal No pupils slip up on amo."

"C.K.S."

In Fleet street, London, the initials are well known as those of one of the cleverest editors of to-day. Mr. Clement King Shorter has edited such papers as The Illustrated London News, The Sketch (which he founded), The Sphere (one destinies of which he still guides), and has time to write many books. And yet only nineteen years ago he was employed at Somerset House. Then the editorship of The Illustrated London News fell vacant. He went to Sir William Ingram and said he wanted the appointment. He got it, and the youngest editor in London soon became one of the most successful.

From Warehouse to Commons.

A man who has played many parts is Mr. J. Ramsay Macdonald, who has figured so prominently in the English Independent Labor Party split. He is the son of an Elgin farm laborer, and began life as a pupil teacher, then earned his living as clerk in a warehouse, and drifted into politics through becoming the private secretary of an M.P. He is married to the daughter of the late Professor Gladstone, a niece of Lord Kelvin, who is as keenly interested in Parliamentary reform as her husband.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Vegetables In England.

Until the end of the reign of Henry VIII., according to the historian, Hume, no carrots, turnips, or other edible roots were produced in England. The few that were used were imported, and the state papers contain numerous references to the dispatch of messengers to the continent for rare vegetables and salads to grace the table at important royal banquets. Cucumbers also were unknown until the 16th century, and celery owes its introduction in England to the French Marshal Taillard, who was imprisoned in England after his defeat by Marlborough.

Broccoli and cauliflower came from Cyprus in the 17th century, and the potato, brought to England by Sir Walter Raleigh about 1584, was not in general use until 1663, when the Royal Society directed attention to it and recommended its cultivation.

What Telepathy Is.

Telepathy is the transference of emotions and sensations between souls, while thought transference is the transmission of words, ideas or images from mind to mind. Thus telepathic communication is possible only between persons of a certain degree of soul development and between whom there is a degree of emotional sympathy, while in transference of thought one dominant, positive mind may affect another without there being any degree of sympathetic vibration between them—"Svastika."

Stevenson Bad Speller.

One of the most polished and painstaking of English authors regarded correct spelling as a totally unnecessary accomplishment. In his introduction to R. L. Stevenson's letters, Sidney Colvin writes: "I have not held myself bound to reproduce all the author's minor eccentricities of spelling and the like. As all his friends are aware, to spell in a quite accurate and grown-up manner was a thing which this master of English letters was never able to learn."

An Athletic Statesman.

Hon. C. G. Wade, K.C., Premier of New South Wales, is an Oxford man, and while at that 'Varsity greatly distinguished himself in athletics. He was an International Rugby player.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart and Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days' tests will surely tell. Try it once, and see! Sold by all dealers.

Exhibited First Gorilla.

When he was ten years old, Mr. George Wombwell, who died the other day at the advanced age of 92, went to live with his uncle, the founder of the famous traveling menagerie, so that he was associated with the showman's life for over eighty years. It is generally believed that Mr. Wombwell exhibited the first gorilla known to have been brought alive to this country. The mounted skin of this animal is now at Alston Hall, near Preston, England.

A Barrel of Flour.

A barrel of flour will make nearly double its weight in bread. Flour rapidly deteriorates with age unless kept dry. It absorbs moisture, and this moisture impairs the gluten, which is indispensable to the lightness of the bread. Besides, it changes some of the starch into sugar and a gummy matter known as dextrin, and this makes the bread heavy and sodden.

An Easy Jail.

In one of the Basque provinces of Spain there is a prison the doors of which are opened every morning, allowing the prisoners to go into the town for housework, gardening or some trade. Some act as commissioners. In the evening they quietly return to the prison at the appointed time, and after being identified by the jailer the bolts are drawn for their admission.

Tanner to Baron.

Lord Allerton, who has just entered upon his seventieth year, began life as the son of a small tanner in Leeds. He worked his way up by sheer hard work to opulence, a seat in Parliament, a Privy Councillorship, the mayoralty of his native city, and finally the barony, which came to him in 1903. He is the father of the Hon. F. S. Jackson, the famous Yorkshire cricketer.

Important to Ladies

It is not often an opportunity occurs at your door to see the latest Parisian and New York styles in Hair Goods, yet such is the case, as Prof. Dorenwend of Toronto, is visiting this town, and invites your inspection of these goods at his private apartments reserved at the Hotel.

These Hair Goods styles when properly adjusted protect and ornament the head, soften and beautify the expression of the face, and consequently tone up its general appearance. Be sure and see them at the Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, Friday June 18.

Funeral of Late Mrs. Cahill

The funeral of the late Mrs. Patrick Cahill was held yesterday afternoon at 8 o'clock from the family residence, 499 Parnell street to St. Peter's cathedral where service was held and interment took place in the Roman Catholic cemetery. The deceased was born in County Tipperary, Ireland, but was a resident of this country for the past twenty twenty years. She was well known in Peterborough and was highly respected by all. A large number of friends attended the funeral. A husband, five sons and two daughters survive and to them is extended the sympathy of the community.

Blythe will Swing

see, he might not have heard. At last he spoke, giving tongue to the protest quoted in dull, passionless tones.

"It will be hard on mother," he went on. "My sisters will feel it terribly. It seems a cruel thing. I was all ready before. Why did they interfere?"

Then he lapsed into silence and after half an hour was left sitting listlessly on his prison cot, which he will never leave save for that little journey of a few feet to the execution chamber by which he will leave a world on a summer day.

A SURPRISE TO THE PUBLIC.

The replacing of the death sentence upon Blythe comes as a surprise to all who have followed the case. The impression that the reprieve was only the foreword of a commutation to life imprisonment was general and very strong.

Canon Farncomb, who has been with him constantly, told a reporter yesterday that there seems to be some curious twist in the man's mind which prevents him from fully realizing either the enormity of his crime or the weight of the punishment which is so soon to come.

This is the message which came over the wires from Ottawa to Sheriff Mowat at 10 o'clock Saturday morning;

"To the sheriff of the City of Toronto."

"In the case of Walter Blythe I am commanded to inform you that his excellency the governor-general does not see fit to interfere further with the sentence of the court.

P. PELLETIER,
"Assistant Under-Secretary of State."

What prevented the generally expected commutation of the sentence to one of life imprisonment is not known. Yesterday a strange theory was advanced more than once. A few days ago a Conservative paper expressed editorially the belief that the governor-general was bringing strong influence to bear toward securing clemency. The editorial said that it was, however, unlikely that he would see fit to openly override the Dominion cabinet and exercise his prerogative of pardon. Relations in such high seats of government are always delicate, and it was generally asked yesterday if Blythe had been sacrificed to avoid any clash or talk of one in high official circles.

ALONE, WAITING THE END.

And now Blythe sits alone in his cell waiting, waiting for June 17 and death, waiting to be laid in the little church yard at Agincourt beside the wife whom he killed, but in some strange way seems to have loved. His two little children will be sent back to his mother and sisters in England, and save for the two mounds in the country churchyard all trace of the brief but tragic stay of the family in this country will be obliterated.

Prince Rupert Lots

The second day's sale of lots of the town site of Prince Rupert, the Pacific Coast terminus of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, proved even more satisfactory than the first day, both as to number of lots sold and returns. The sale for the two days netted $460,000. In all 650 lots were sold, the majority of which went at from 25 per cent. to 100 per cent. above the upset price. The highest price paid thus far was $10,000.

Western Canada Wood Pulp & Paper Co. Ltd.

HEAD OFFICE, 638 VIEW ST. VICTORIA, B. C.

Plant Now Under Course of Erection at Quatsina Sound, Vancouver Island.

Asset.

The company have acquired 55,600 acres of Pulp Land on Quatsino Sound, Vancouver Island.

Water Power

In addition to the vast Pulp Limits acquired, the company have also secured a 20,000 inch water record on Marble Creek, at Quatsino Sound, capable of developing from 10,000 to 15,000 h.p. This creek derives its source from three lakes 20 miles in length and is thus permanent the year round.

Capacity of Plant

The plant when fully complete will have a capacity of 600 tons of news and wrapping per week, we are rushing the work along and feel confident that we will have the pulp plant with a weekly capacity of 100 tons in operation by December 1st of this year.

Cost of Manufacture

With our tremendous pulp limits, which enable us to secure our pulp wood at a nominal figure, and splendid water power, the cost of manufacture of news and wrapping paper should not exceed $3,000 per ton. At present news is jobbing in British Columbia at $60.00 per ton. The freight rate in carload lots from Ontario and Quebec being $17.00 per ton.

Local Markets

The local market of the company extends east a thousand miles to Moose Jaw and tributary region. Within the above territory the annual consumption of paper is estimated at a thousand tons exclusive of that used by printers and newspapers. The five daily papers at Victoria and Vancouver alone consume over 100 carloads of paper per year.

Foreign Markets

The foreign markets of the company consist of China, Japan, New Zealand, Australia, Hawaii and the Philippines. In 1908 the above countries imported over $10,000,000 worth of wood pulp and paper, principally from Norway, Sweden, Germany, Eastern United States and Eastern Canada.

Freight Rates to Orient

A freight rate of from $3.00 to $5.00 per ton can be secured from British Columbia to China, Japan, New Zealand and Australia on wood pulp and paper as against a rate of $7.00 to $15.00 per ton on the same commodities from Eastern Canada and Europe. Being from 3,000 to 5,000 miles nearer the Oriental market than Eastern Canada or European mills we are not only able to secure a much lower freight rate, but also a lower insurance rate.

Natural Advantages of British Columbia

News and wrapping paper are manufactured principally from Spruce, Hemlock, Balsam and Larch wood, one ton of chemical wood pulp requires approximately two cords of four foot wood. At present Spruce and Hemlock wood is worth from $6.00 to $9.00 per cord, in Eastern Canada; our facilities enable us to secure it at less than $3.00 per cord. In 1908 the American mills were obliged to pay from $9.00 to $15.00 per cord.

Progress of Work

We are proceeding as fast as possible with the work. The erection of the plant has been placed under the exclusive supervision of Mr. Charles B. Pride, of Appleton, Wis., one of the most distinguished authorities on the erection of pulp and paper mills in the United States, having built more than fifty of the leading mills of the country and he is confident at being able to have the pulp mill in operation by December 1st of this year.

Sale of Stock

In offering the preferred stock of this corporation, we do so with a feeling that it is the best industrial stock ever offered for subscription in Western Canada. At present it is impossible to buy stock in the majority of the operating mills of Canada and there is no question but that inside of 18 months the stock of this corporation will be selling at a handsome premium; remember the time to buy stock in any corporation is six months before a wheel has been turned, not after it is in operation.

Profits in Pulp and Paper Manufacture

No industry, not even mining itself, has yielded as large and permanent dividends as the manufacture of Wood Pulp and Paper, and there is no reason why the mill which we are now erecting should not pay at least 25 per cent. annual dividends. Under much less favorable conditions, the Eastern Canadian and English mills are paying from 10 to 25 per cent. With our natural advantages, we should be able to make a profit of approximately $15.00 per ton on news paper, $20.00 per ton on Wrapping paper, and $15.00 per ton on box board and pulp board. The Pacific Coast mills of the United States are now making a net profit, after deducting depreciation, operating expenses, bonds, & etc., of approximately $15.00 per ton on wrapping and $15.00 per ton on box and pulp boards, and this after paying from $6.00 to $8.00 per cord for wood. In 1908 the Laurentide Paper Co. showed a profit of $251,458. The Kellner-Partington Pulp and Paper Co. showed a gross profit last year of $1,252,286. The official United States Government Report, issued at Washington, D. C., July 25th, 1907, Bulletin 80, showed that the mills of the State of Oregon made a profit of 20 2-3 per cent, of the value of goods over all expenses, of 19 per cent. The gross profits of the International PaPer Co., for the year ending June 30th, 1908, amounted to $1,636,918.

Under date of February 10th, 1908, Mr. Herman Ridder, President of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, filed charges against the Paper Trust of the United States, and in his disposition to Hon. Chas. J. Bonaparte, Attorney-General of the United States, said:

"News print paper mills that are not entirely modern are now making paper at figures that show a profit of more than $20.00 per ton on the paper prices just announced by the International Paper Co., $42.50 per ton. In other words, for paper delivered, say, in New York, up-to-date mills are making a profit of more than 60 per cent, on the cost of manufacture, delivery and storage, and they are making a profit of more than 40 per cent, upon a reasonable allowance for the capital required for a modern plant."

With our close proximity to the Oriental market, there is no reason why we should not make, conservatively, 10 per cent, more dividends than the Eastern Canadian or American Mills. In 1908, Australia imported over 60,000 tons of News principally from Eastern Canada and Europe. Why should we let this great volume of paper go to Eastern Canada, Eastern United States, and Europe, when we are in a position to control it ourselves? Every dollar of paper used in the Orient should be furnished from Western Canada. With sufficient mills to produce the goods, what country is in a better position to control the trade of the Orient than British Columbia. Not only are we able to manufacture News and Wrapping Paper from $2.00 to $3.00 per ton lower than Eastern Canada and American mills, but we are from 2,000 to 3,000 miles nearer the great Oriental markets. The demand for News and Wrapping Paper is gradually increasing, and, within ten years, China, Japan, Australia and New Zealand will be absolutely depend-at upon this Providence for its supply of pulp and paper. We know the big dividends that the paper mills of the world are paying, and with our immense timber limits, covering 85 square miles, which assures a permanent supply of wood at a nominal cost, there is no reason why we should not pay even larger dividends than the present operating mills.

The preferred stock is entitled to a cumulative dividend of 7 per cent., payable before any dividend is paid on the ordinary stock. After 7 per cent. has been paid upon both the preferred and ordinary shares, both stocks thereafter participate equally.

produce power for the Eastern mills that none excel many of those which we have in our own province. After a thorough inspection, I am reasonably satisfied that with our abundance of cheap wood and excellent power we can manufacture pulp and paper from $2 to $5 per ton lower than the Ontario and Quebec mills is firmly established it will not be necessary to long, coax and threaten the people into investing in an industry that means so much to the future development of the country.

On another page of this issue will been seen the advertisement of Western Canada Wood Pulp and Paper Co., Limited. Nail Struck Mr. John Stanger in the Eye

Mr. John Stanger met with a very serious accident on Thursday last while working on a boat house for Mr. L. Potvin at his island in Stony Lake. The unfortunate fellow was driving a nail into a plank when the nail sprung back and struck him in the eye. The accident was a very painful one and being up the lakes it was impossible to secure assistance or to get the injured man down to the city until Friday when one of the steamers brought him to Lakefield, and from their he came down to the city on the train and was driven directly to the hospital. In the meantime all that could be done for him was done although there is little hope of saving the eye. Mr. Stanger's many friends will regret to learn of his accident.

Miss Vivian Clancy has Passed Away

It will be learned with general regret throughout the city that Miss Vivian Clancy passed away at the home of her parents at the corner of Rubidge and King streets yesterday about 12.30 a.m. The deceased was a daughtr of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Clancy, and was 24 years of age. She was a native of the city and resided here all her life. She was a general favorite in a large circle of friends and she was always a jolly and an amiable girl. Her illness extended over only about three weeks but she sank rapidly and her friends had little hope of her recovery for a few days past. The funeral will likely be held on Tuesday to St. Peter's cathedral and interment will take place at the Roman Catholic cemetery.

The deceased is survived by a father and mother and four brothers, Leo, Hector, Clare, and Raymond and to them is extended the sincere sympathy of the whole city.

FOOTBALL.

The Brinton Manufacturing Company's football team and the Y.M.C.A. bunch of kickers met in a splendid exhibition of the soccer game at the Driving Park on Saturday afternoon with the result that the Brintons won. The score was 3 to 2, and a pretty well contested the class of play the boys put up. It was the first Midland League game this season but the result did not affect the standing of the league as the Bethany kickers won the district last Saturday. The teams lined up as follows;

Brintons—Goal, A. Giles; backs, A. Row and A. Bishop; half backs, C. Downes, Ashton and Farr; right wing, T. Monk and T. Monk; left wing, T. Y.M.C.A.—Goal, Fleming; backs, McNeil and Milburn; half backs, French, Cunniff and Archibald; right wing, Barr and Carter; left wing, Yates and Collings; center, Moore.

Referee—E. Yarrington of the Brintons.

A Good Record

Mr. Alex. Dunseath, of the township of Verulam, while in town the other day informed the Fenelon Falls Gazette that he had put in alone, without any help fifty acres of crop this spring, a pretty tide chore for a man of his age, which is 70 years. He has also a good record in other directions, having assessed the township of Verulam for 22 years without a single appeal, a performance which it is pretty safe to say has never been duplicated. He has driven the same horse, "Old Tom" for 21 years, another unusual performance. Mr. Dunseath has been one of the Gazette's most valued subscribers for something like the same time, which will help to account for, if not altogether explain, his enviable record and his present vigorous state of health. He looks good for many years of active work yet. —Gazette.

How to Test Milk

Suspicious of your milkman? Think he is using formaldehyde, boracic or some other preservative? Try one of these tests on him, and he is you will catch him with the goods. Put two tablespoonfuls of commercial sulphuric acid. If formalin is present a violent ring will appear between the layer of acid and milk. You'll have Mr. Milkman convicted of using formaldehyde. If you have an idea he uses boracic acid or borax put two or three tablespoonfuls of the milk in a bottle with a solution of a teaspoonful of alum in a pint of water. Shake the bottle briskly and filter the contents. Put a teaspoonful of the mixture in a crockery dish and add five drops of Muriatic acid. Dip a strip of tumeric paper in the liquis and dry it. If boracic acid or borax has been used the tumeric paper becomes bright cherry red when dry.

What's in a Name?

An old German, wearing a faded blue coat and a campaign hat, limped into the office of a palatial dog and horse hospital, bequeathed by a humane millionaire to the town of X.

"I wish to be admitted to dis hospital," he announced to the superintendent. "I've got heart trouble. I'm a G.A.R. man, and I can prove it."

"But you can't enter this institution, my good man."

"Sure I can. I fight at Gettysburg. I haf got a veak heart ever since. I can prove it."

"Yes, but you can't enter this hospital; it's a—"

"Cut," huh! Why not? I was a soldier. I can prove it."

"But this is a veterinary hospital."

"I know do. Ain't I choost telling you dog I'm a veteran?"

To be Made Judge in the High Court?

It is rumored that Mr. Daniel O'Connell, K.C., of Peterborough, senior partner of the legal firm of O'Connell & Gordon, is to be made a judge of the High Court of Justice at Toronto. There are two vacancies in the High Court to be filled, and it is supposed he will fill that made by the recent removal of Judge Anglin to the Supreme Court. Mr. O'Connell is a man of well-known ability and fine legal attainments, and his high reputation has made the appointment a probability for some time.

Wm. A. Bailey and His Dogs

The following epistle was received by the council from Mr. W. A. Bailey and will explain itself;

Worshipful sirs and gentlemen:

I beg to draw your attention to the dog tax notice poster up in the streets. It is an encouragement to murder the dogs and in fact is altogether murderous, and surely it is not the duty of the city clerk or the police to punish citizens. There is enough ruffianism without encouragement from the authorities who ought to protect the citizens and their property by every means in their power.

Yours obediently
W. A. BAILEY.

The Sawdust Pile will soon Fall

In the course of a very short time the Otonabee river from below the new dam above Hunter St. bridge will be choked up with sawdust. The big bank across from the power house is constantly washing away and a big crack several feet back is becoming greater so that now that part of the bank is leaning over the river several inches. To all appearances it will not take much to complete the work started by the water and when that saw dust goes over considerable damage will be done to navigation. The authorities of the city should lose no time in looking after that danger and take it up with the interested persons at once.

Board of Works Heard Many Deputations in Reference to Sidewalks

A session of the Board of Works was held last night before the council meeting. The object was to dispose of Z. Blodgett and the complaints against his street watering job. Mr. Blodgett was told that that their had been complaints made against him.

Mr. Blodgett said he could not help it. He was doing all he could. He also said that he never refused to water Charlotte street from St. Joseph street to the Monaghan road.

Chairman Phelan then read over a long list of charges against Mr. Blodgett which had been made by aldermen and other citizens.

Mr. Blodgett said in reply that all the district had been watered.

Ald. Bradburn told Blodgett that his statement was not correct.

Ald. Turner said he understood that complaints were made as numerous as that year and he thought that it would be advisable to take the contract away from Blodgett and give it to another.

Ald. Butler expressed himself along the same lines.

Ald. Turner moved that Mr. Blodgett be allowed to continue his contract until the end of the month and if any more complaints are received that the contract be transferred.—Carried.

Ald. Turner made a complaint against the street watering in Ashburnham. It was claimed that the contractor actually went to sleep on the wagon.

Mr. McCarthy was heard and addressed the board about a sidewalk in front of his place for five lots on Concession street. He was promised the walk two years ago and he has not got it yet.

Ald. Phelan told him that the walk would be built this year from his place to Carlisle avenue.

A letter was received from residents on Babb's lane asking for a new walk there this year. It is badly needed and there is a heavy traffic on that street.

On motion of Aldermen Turner and Butler, it was moved that Mr. McClellan, the Ashburnham man, be sent a copy of the same letter as will be sent to Blodgett.

Ald. Turner introduced the matter of refuse being dumped into Spalding's Bay. He said there was an unusual quantity of refuse there which evidently could find no outlet into the river.

It was stated that five or six dead dogs had been taken out of that ponds and that there was a bill before the council now for $7.50 from the chief of police for cleaning out Spalding's Bay.

Mr. Paquette applied for permission to connect with the outfall sewer on Sherry street. He also wanted to know about the grading of the street and the new sidewalk on Peterson street.

These matters will be taken up at once.

Mr. O'Connor and Mr. Brotherson were present and said that they were asking for a cement walk on Concession street north and south of the gully. This is an extension of the petition sent in by Mr. McCarthy.

Mr. Moore was heard in reference to a sidewalk on Bethune street. He said some one was drawing stone away and very soon more stone would have to be drawn there. Now the houses on Bethune street are all tenanted and they cannot get in or out.

Moved by Aldermen McIntyre and Bradburn that the city engineer be instructed to report on the walk, and also that the street commissioner inquire about the stones on that street.

Another deputation from Aylmer and Princess street were present and said that they had been on those streets but they had no way to get in to build. Aylmer street must be extended.

Ald. Phelan said the council was doing all it could to get this matter settled and hoped to in a short time.

Ald. Butler said there was no use talking about opening Aylmer St. We have no money and before we get any will have to go to the people with another bylaw, and it will be settled.

Late Judge Weller's Funeral Yesterday

RESOLUTION OF SYMPATHY

Moved by Ald. Morrow and Ald. McIntyre that this council place on record an expression of the deep loss the city and county have sustained in the death of his Honor C. A. Weller, county judge of the County of Peterborough. Judge Weller was recognized to be an able judge, who combined with a wide learning in the law a sound judgment and in a complex impartiality that caused his decisions to be accepted without question as from one whose leading judgment and character commanded respect. He loved justice, and his administration of the law has always just, but tempered at the same time with a measure of mercy that these circumstances could permit. Him we ever esteem. His death is a loss to the judiciary and to the community, and especially to his family, to whom we wish to tender our sincere sympathy, and in doing so we are voicing the regret and sympathy of the whole community and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the bereaved family.

FROM THE LAWYERS.

The members of the legal profession of the County of Peterborough deeply lament the death of Charles Alexander Weller, esquire, County and Surrogate Judge of Peterborough, who departed this life June 8th, 1909, in his eightieth year. Called to the bar in 1853 he entered practice of his profession at Peterborough in the same year, was appointed County Attorney in 1858 and County Judge in 1886.

Judge Weller endeared himself to the profession by his uniform and constant courtesy, his patience in hearing and absolute integrity and fairness of judgment. In court he heard the last word and gave patient hearing, then with knowledge of affairs, a judicial mind and appreciation of the equities he rendered judgment rarely appealed from and always received as the judgment of a just Judge.

Lamented by all he will peculiarly be missed by the profession which he adorned and a sincere love and respect the Bench in kindly in our course.

He served the people faithfully, and in a ripe old age died, lamented and mourned by all.

The profession tender to his bereaved family their condolence and this expression of their respect for one whose loss will be most deeply felt especially by those to whom he was so tender and loving.

Signed on behalf of the Peterborough Law Association.

LOUIS M. HAYES,
President.
E. L. GOODWILL,
Secretary.

"The Toys Awake" was a Splendid Attraction at Grand Opera House

"The Toys Awake" was presented at the Grand Opera House last night for the first time and it attracted a large audience which appreciated the efforts of the 250 performers to the fullest extent. This great spectacular children's play was produced under the auspices of the Children's Aid Society, and if tonight's audience is as large as last night's that organization should receive a substantial sum for their treasury. Miss Bertha Adams is the director of the play and to her is due a great deal of credit for the successful staging. It was one of the prettiest pictures ever seen upon the stage of the Grand Opera House. The costumes were of costly material and were of exceptional design. The little tots did as well in their respective parts as did the older people and all joined in making it the success of the season it would be impossible to write all the pleasant things said about the exquisite spectacular entertainment. It is beyond criticism and the directors are to be congratulated upon its success.

The affair was under the patronage of the following Peterborough ladies;—

Mrs. T. F. Matthews, Mrs. Peter Campbell, Mrs. Rasen Ritchie, Mrs. W. H. Hall, Mrs. R. J. Devey, Mrs. A. W. Crossman, Mrs. J. J. Turner, Mrs. H. Rush, Mrs. R. H. Fortye, Mrs. R. Nail, Miss Morrow, Mrs. A. Monaghan, Mrs. F. L. Goodwill, Mrs. J. R. Stratton, Mrs. R. F. McWilliams, Miss Halliday, Miss McNulty, Mrs. H. LeBrun, Mrs. George Munro, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Mulholland.

In this great local spectacular production, Mayor Rush appeared as King and Miss Belcher as Queen. The roll of Fairy Queen was taken by Mrs. Dickson Hall, and these were supported by about 250 well-known young people and children of the city.

Board of Works

A meeting of the Board of Works will likely be held this week to consult with the government's architect re the widening of Benson avenue. It is likely the city will purchase ten feet of the Fitzgerald property on the west side of the street and sell the material to the contractor who is filling up the Normal school grounds.

Her Maiden Trip

Capt. Hunter of Belleville, was in the city yesterday and met Capt. R. W. Carson regarding the movement and other business connected with the Ned. The new steamer was tied up near Cremorne street since Saturday being cleaned and made ready for her maiden trip on these waters today. Capt. Carson will have charge of the fishing inspectors between Barrie and Bexley's Falls. The issuing of the fishing licenses to tourists will be in his hands and also the two-dollar permits to guides who must be registered. Capt. Hunter stated that more courtesy would be extended to the tourists on these waters this year, and Capt. Carson will have to give this matter his attention. He stated that in the past the fishing inspectors had not shown them due courtesy and the importance of their coming into Canada was now fully realized and the department desired to use them well in order to encourage their returning another year. The Naiad starts out tomorrow either up or down stream, and will, in future, make Peterborough its headquarters.

Benson Ave. Sidewalk was Again Thrashed Out at Council Meeting

The Benson avenue people are the scrappers and it looks very much like a win out for them. They want their sidewalk outside the tree line and they are going to have it there. They pretty nearly got it last night but there were so many motions and amendments that the aldermen got mixed up and finally decided to refer the report back to the Board of Works to be reconsidered.

Mr. Kidd headed another deputation from Benson Avenue and addressed the aldermen last night. His object was to impress upon the council the advantages of placing the sidewalk outside of the tree line. The grade outside would be much more uniform, and would not be nearly so dangerous as on the inside. He did not know any reason why the city engineer and Ald. Phelan should treat them as they have. It was not courteous and they could understand it. The engineer gave them to understand that he was not opposing their wishes in any way, yet he put in a report quite adverse to their requests. Then the matter was given a snap verdict in the committee without giving the residents an opportunity to reply. Then Mr. Kidd took up the various objections made against their request and he gave an answer to all of them. He pointed out that there were many walks in the north end which would be much more dangerous than the Benson avenue walk would be. He said they all want the walk outside and they would have it outside the tree line.

Ald. Phelan denied Mr. Kidd's statement that they had been used discourteously at the Board of Works meeting.

Mr. Kidd said he did not refer to the Board of Works meeting but the discourtesy was in refusing to meet them on the street and look after the matter together.

The matter was then dropped until the committee reports were read which included one from the Board of Works dealing with this matter.

When the Board of Works report was read Ald McIntyre and Ald Morgan moved that the walk be placed on the outside of the tree line instead of inside as read in the report.

Chairman Ald. Phelan said he had as chairman of the Board of Works gone thoroughly into this matter and he had decided to adopt the engineer's report. He had no axes to grind in this matter but the engineer is engaged by the city to guide the council in these matters, and the city is bound to follow his instructions or as the city solicitor says the city would be liable for any actions.

Ald. Duncan said he believed that the walk should go inside the tree line.

Ald. Butler said he was still of the opinion that the walk should go outside the trees. He said Mr. Hay was only human and was liable to make

Mr. Kingscote's Complaint to the Council

A communication was received by the council last night from the office of Messrs O'Connell & Gordon as follows;

June 1, 1909

The City of Peterborough;

Dear Sirs,—R. J. J. Turner & Sons' contract, Mr. A. Kingscote of this city, has given us instructions to advise you that in carrying out with Messrs J. J. Turner & Sons for the decoration of the streets of the city on the 23rd and 24th days of May, 1909, in void, and Mr. Kingscote submits as a ratepayer that Messrs J. J. Turner & Sons should not be paid.

Our client's contention is that it is contrary to the policy of fair dealing that Mr. J. J. Turner, jr., being a member of the council, and also a member of the partnership of Messrs. J. J. Turner & sons, should sit in the council while his partnership is receiving the benefit and profits of a contract with the city.

Yours truly
O'CONNELL & GORDON.

This letter was referred to the Legal Committee.

Late Wm. Fowler

Interment took place at Little Lake cemetery. A very large number of friends of the deceased followed the remains to the cemetery where they paid their last respects to the departed.

Homing Pigeons Travel from Peterborough to New Bedford, Mass.

(Special to The Times.)

New Bedford, Mass., June 7—The homing pigeons which were released from ePterborough, Ont., on Sunday morning at 6 o'clock, have arrived here, making the trip in just 15 hours. There were a large number of the members of the New Bedford Homing Pigeon Club of which Mr. Chas H. Sherwin is secretary.

Word was received in the city on Saturday by Mr. W. F. Sketch, agent of the Canadian Express Co., from New Bedford, Mass., that two baskets of homing pigeons would arrive on an evening train, and a request was made that they be liberated at six a.m., the following morning. The liberation of the birds was arranged to take place from Armour's Hill. Quite a gathering of interested spectators at this somewhat early hour of the morning was present, among whom were a number of ladies. The pigeons arrived in good condition, and proper care being given them they were in good shape for the flight. There were 67 birds in the flock, and a week ago they had made a flight of 300 miles from Richland, New York, to New Bedford, Mass., in five hours and two minutes, almost a mile a minute.

The two baskets were opened simultaneously at 6.02, W. F. Sketch, David Moore and Charles Harmer being responsible for the liberation of the birds. There was a sudden whirring of the wings and the pigeons rose to a height of two or three hundred feet, making wide circles for a minute or two, and then striking off in a south-easterly direction at a very rapid rate, taking a course that seemed to be in a straight line with their destination, and being lost to sight in about six minutes. They will have a distance of about 500 miles in direct course to travel.

IF YOU HAVE

Catarrh

Remember the Best Catarrh Medicine that Money can Buy is Catarrhozone; it cures quickly and permanently when all others fail.

The remedy doesn't exist that will cure Catarrh as quickly as Catarrhozone. It relieves the most stubborn cases in a short time, and drives the disease so thoroughly from the system that it never returns.

Druggists boldly recommend Catarrhozone in preference to other remedies, because they know it is the best, and every progressive doctor prescribes it. Catarrhozone is a rational, common-sense treatment that finds favor with everybody. It cures by the inhalation of medicated air, which comes into contact with the mucous surface of all the breathing organs. It gets at the source of the trouble, kills the germs and drives every vestige of catarrh right out of the system.

It doesn't matter how deep-seated or chronic your case may be, Catarrhozone can cure it. Even though a thousand other remedies have failed, don't give up hope till you have used Catarrhozone. It has cured other cases probably worse than yours, and will cure yours if it gets a chance.

Mr. Dutcher Law, a prominent citizen of Italy Cross, N. S., says: "I experimented with hundreds of Catarrh remedies and found the majority to be worthless, dismal failures. Catarrhozone was the first to give lasting relief; it cured me and I am with pleasure testifying to its merits as a cure for Catarrh of the nose and throat.

(Signed.) DUTCHER LAW.

You are sure to derive the most pleasant results from Catarrhozone. It has been tested many times and never found wanting. Every druggist in Canada sells it. Complete two months' treatment, guaranteed to cure, costs $1, or a trial size 25c. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

ARE GOING AHEAD

During the past few weeks there have been announced encouraging advances in the volume of property transfers and building permits in Peterborough. In a rising market ordinarily the two things go together. The activity in the real estate market, which is generally brisk enough there is probably due in some measure at least to the fact that there is a continuous growth in the number of persons who recognize that real estate investments in Peterborough are not only absolutely safe but individual fortunes are, of course, based upon this knowledge in some cases nurtured through two generation. The number of the wise ones is bound to grow, and real estate investment today is the object of most men of foresight in Peterborough.

We may be thankful that there has never been any great boom here. There are some wise fortunes but unlike other places where great wealth is found Peterborough develops little acute poverty. There is here an extraordinary wide and generous distribution of wealth. This finds expression in the desire of the thrifty to achieve the means to own each his own home. Accordingly real estate values have grown steadily from year to year, without any hysterical spasm. The profits are as safe as the Bank of England.

Look wherever you like in Peterborough today and you will find the builders at work. From its centre to its suburbs the city buzzes with a cheerful noise of work, cheerful because they tell of something useful being done. There is a remarkable activity in building in all parts of the city and it will add substantially to the wealth, not only of the individuals immediately interested, but to the community at large. It is difficult to conceive anything that will retard the growth of Ottawa. There was something to build upon at the beginning, and a population of citizens of a nimble habit of thought and great civic pride has made unqualified acceptance of the opportunity. The evidence justifies all of us in the conndence that Peterborough will continue to "Advance."

THOSE SIDEWALKS

Should sidewalks be built inside the tree line? There is room for all kinds of argument. Many sound reasons can be given for both contentions, as some of the aldermen who were in the council three years ago will admit. One of the old timers especially put up quite a scrap several years ago for all walks in the residential part of the city to be on the outside the tree line. At the present time he is quite willing for the walk to go where the people wish it providing it will not materially interfer with the appearance of the street, although he is an advocate of inside the trees. Just the opposite to his former arguments.

Some years ago the councils were in the habit of building the walks wherever the people asked for them which resulted in a fine blocks inside then a swing outside for a few more blocks, also on some streets one walk is inside while the other is outside. The appearance of the street is therefore greatly damaged. The Board of Works last year only built on the inside of the trees except in exceptional cases. This year the same policy was adopted and it was decided to carry that policy out to the letter. The board of works deserves credit for their policy and for fighting for it. But there never was a policy adopted successfully that had not a little elasticity in it. Such is what is lacking in the board of works this spring. In the case of the Benson Ave walk on the east side of the street, an exception should have been made by the committee. Benson Ave is on the outskirts of the city. It is not likely to ever be a heavily travelled thoroughfare and the streets will not run along it for many years if at all. The people, who pay 60 per cent. of the cost of the walk, ask for it outside the tree line. There reason is that it will give them an opportunity to greatly improve the appearance of their property and at the same time make a pleasing sight of the street. They declared themselves willing to terrace their own property and to replant the trees, and to do all other necessary work at their own expense. This is certainly a fair enough offer, and should have been granted without so much fuss, as the people will win and every time when they go after anything.

The Board of Works claimed that it would narrow the street, and that was really their only good excuse. But supposing Benson Ave is narrowed what's the difference? It is in a part of the city where wide streets will never be required but where beauty and harmony is most desirable.

PROTESTANTISM AND GALVIN

When John Calvin died he commanded that no stone should be raised to mark his grave, and so well were his wishes obeyed that before another generation had passed away the spot of his sepulture had been forgotten. It was known that he lay in such and such a quarter of the Little Protestant graveyard, but no one could distinguish his grave from that of a hundred other graves occupied by his humble followers. When, therefore, nearly three hundred and fifty years after his death, and in commemoration of the four hundredth anniversary of his birth, five great nations desired to erect a fitting monument to his memory, they were unable to do better than choose for its site a place known to have once supported the famous "Wall of the Reformers," in whose construction preachers and professors worked side by side with laborers and stonemasons. There will be unveiled, in a couple of weeks, the first memorial to either Calvin or the Reformation in Geneva.

John Calvin was born on July 10, 1509, and, though the educational methods of the time were better calculated to the slow development of ripe scholars than the production of infant prodigies, he was so eminent a student that by the time he was 27 years old he had written and published a book called "The Institutes of the Christian Religion," which was destined to become one of the most important works ever printed. Calvin was the first scholar to attempt to formulate the whole body of Protestant doctrine, and, though the dogmas there enunciated have been, for the most part, superseded, theologians declare that for logical argument and completeness of system the institutes have hardly been improved upon by the work of any one man from that day to this. The book was for centuries second to the Bible alone in the esteem of millions of Protestants, and was enough in itself to have made its author a great figure in the Reformation, even had he not been a mere incident in the epoch-marking career of one of the greatest preachers of his generation.

A year after the book was published, and before its contents were known outside the whispered debates of a little group of French and Swiss heretics, Calvin was brought to Geneva by William Farel, to assist in establishing the Protestant religion. Farel was a refugee from France, and had spent three years in Geneva to such good purpose that he had driven the Roman Catholic bishop of the see into exile, and had prepared the city to become a very hot-bed of Protestantism. Calvin's ambitions had lain in the direction of pure scholarship, but his dreams were put aside at the call of duty from Farel, and he established himself in the little Swiss city. The materials placed in his hands, as Prof. Vinecent says in the Review of Reviews, were "a free city, a vacated church, a popular declaration in favor of free schools, a vote for Protestant worship and an excitable Gallic population at large."

Calvin was a born commander, a born despot one might almost say, for he had an inflexible will that made it impossible for him to work in any subordinate capacity, or to either compromise or constitute. He was a harsh sort of Christianity, and he did not hesitate to enforce it with touches of cruel persecution when the opportunity arose. It is said that he tortured Servetus on account of the latter's scientific discoveries. But he was, in the premise of our day, the "man for job." A gentler spirit could never have what he did. At the request of the city authorities of Geneva he prepared a statement of belief for members of the Church, and framed civil ordinances embodying Protestant principles for the guidance of citizens.

But Protestantism was too great a movement to be blocked by personal prejudices, and it was not long before Geneva was glad to send for Calvin to return and resume his work. Thereafter, though his path was a thorny one at times, no man in Geneva disputed his pre-eminence and he spent the remainder of his life as the acknowledged leader of the city. He established a university, which remains to this day one of the most famous of European institutions, and was called, with the Strasburg University, "one of the two eyes of Europe" three hundred years later. Refugees from Protestantism came into the free city of Geneva by the thousand, and from Germany, England, Scotland, and practically every other European country touched by the crusade began to listen to the preaching of Calvin or hear his theological lectures in the university.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart and Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That old fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A ample five or ten days tests will surely tell. Try it once, and see! Sold by all dealers.

If you would have a safe yet certain Cough Remedy in the home, try Dr. Shoop's—at least once. It is thoroughly unlike any other Cough Preparation. Its taste will be entirely new to you—unless it is already your favorite Cough Remedy. No opium, chloroform, or any other stupefying ingredients are used. The tender leaves of a harmless, lung-healing mountainous shrub, give to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy its wonderful curative properties. It is truly a most certain and trustworthy prescription. Sold by all dealers.

MILITIA HAS RIGHT OF WAY.

Street Cars Must Not Break Parade Says Winnipeg Magistrate.

Winnipeg, Man., June 4.—A temporary settlement of the conflict between the militia and street railway was effected this afternoon, when Motorman William McIntosh was fined five dollars for obstructing the militia by running his car into the line of march last Tuesday. The street railway has given notice of appeal.

Ordinances sanctioned by the province giving the railway right-of-way on tracks were placed in contention against the Militia Act, but were not the slightest doubt but that the militia has the right-of-way over everything. To give an opportunity for a final settlement I will fine accused five dollars and then the case may be carried to a higher court."

NEW ANAESTHETIC

Given High Place—Shock to the Patient Greatly Reduced.

London, June 6.—The chief medical authorities of London are giving a high place to the new anaesthetic, stovaine. It is administered by spinal injection. The shock to the patient is said to be far less than that caused by other anaesthetics. A patient with heart complaint can survive its administration where either chloroform or ether would be dangerous. Special skill is required in its use, so its injection is not performed by the resident anaesthetics of hospitals, but only by members of the visiting staff. A patient under the influence of stovaine becomes insensible to pain, but is not unconscious.

The drug is the discovery of a surgeon of Bulcharest, Roumania. The anaesthetics as used is a combination of strychnine and stovaine. It is injected in the lower part of the spine for operations below the waist and in the neck for operations above. Dr. Bannryall is the physician who has brought some of it to London

GROWTH OF CHURCH.

In Sixty Years—Rev. Dr. Griffin's Sermon to the Hamilton Conference.

Brantford, June 6.—A feature of the Hamilton Methodist Conference here to-day was the deliverence of a sermon by Dr. W. S. Griffin, Toronto, treasurer of the Superannuation Fund of the Methodist Church, in commemoration of the 60th anniversary of his entry into the ministry. He has been in active service since 1849, and has seen great changes in the Church, ministry and work in this country. His sermont in this regard was striking. Sixty years ago the Church numbered 25,000 in membership, and was led by strong men who were factors in the country's upbuilding. The circuit work was immense as compared with present day proportions. Two men, said Dr. Griffin, covered the district on horseback between Niagara and Long Point, as large in area as the whole Hamilton Conference with half of London thrown in.

The speaker poked fun at the present day tendency to reject the literal translation of Old Testament stories. Higher criticism would reject sermons by which thousands of people had been converted. They would efface Daniel, Adam and Joseph from the sphere of Bibical thought. He was glad that there had been no higher criticism in the old days. In spite of his 82 years the venerable doctor spoke for an hour with vigor and power.

UNDERPAID CLERGY.

Laymen of Montreal Conference Are Considering the Question.

Pembroke, Ont., June 6.—A dozen interesting services were held here to-day to mark the Montreal Methodist Conference. To-night the Methodist church was crowded, when Miss Renton, of Montreal, was ordained as a deaconess to labor at Montreal. The service was conducted by Rev. William Philp, Arnprior, president of the conference, in the presence of a large congregation. This morning four young men were ordained. Other services during the day were a sunrise one this morning, a lovefeast at 9.30, conducted by Rev. George McRitchie, Ottawa; a Sunday school rally, when Rev. Basil Thompson, Ottawa, and Mr. J. H. Carson, Montreal, spoke, and an open-air one at 4.30.

Rev. Mr. Wilson, of the Ottawa district, has appealed for a year's leave of absence from the work.

The laymen of the conference, considering the claim that many of the clergy are insufficiently paid, are recommending the appointing of a special lay official, with representatives in every circuit, to pay special attention to this. Mr. J. F. Harrison, of Kingston, is suggested as head of what will be a special Lay Executive Council. The recommendation is likely to be endorsed before the end of the conference. That 77 clergy in the Montreal district are paid less than $750 annually; that some get their pay partly in pork, molasses and wood, and that there were cases of where some of the clergy wanting to attend conference had to stay at home as they had not the money to attend, were some of the statements made. This subject was discussed very fully, and the laymen took no less than three sessions to deliberate on a recommendation sent them by the full conference.

That resolution recommended the appointment of a man to specially look after the Laymen's Missionary Association work; said the conference regretted that so many married ministers received salaries below the minimum allowance, $750, claimed such a condition of affairs should be corrected and, added: "We would respectfully call the attention of the Laymen's Association to the necessity of taking such steps as may be necessary to secure to every minister the full payment of at least the minimum salary, $750, and that this matter be referred to the Laymen's Association of Conference to consider and report."

Should the Montreal Methodists' Conference support church extension work in Montreal district specially was a question that was discussed at some length to-day. Conference has yet to settle the question.

The lay delegates in a body marched to the cemetery and after placing a wreath on the grave of the late Judge Deacon held an impressive memorial service. Judge Deacon was the first president of the association and died during the last conference year.

LIFE IN THE WEST INDIES

VISIT TO A SUGAR FACTORY IN JAMAICA.

Mills Work Night and Day For Two Months to Keep Up With the Harvests—Negroes Do the Work and Can Survive Terrific Heat — Two Years' Work and Six Months' Holiday With Handsome Income.

I was lying in a hammock swinging from two posts on the verandah of an old-fashioned Jamaican bungalow. Fronting me was a sugar mill, a rambling, sweet-smelling clump of whitewashed stone buildings, peopled by a great cloud of busy, coal-black workers. The steady hum of the steam-driven machinery was smothered on account of the distance by the cheers of the shrill voices of the negroes. Ox wagons, heavily-laden with new cut canes, lumbered awkwardly up the little hill leading to the factory, and unloaded their green freights to the accompaniment of a chorus of African music and the heavy noise of a dozen cracking whips. Only the dull-eyed oxen, massive and patient, were silent—everything else—the creaking wagons, the shouting drivers, the snapping whips, and the shrill-voiced workers — contributed their quota to the great avalanche of noise.

It was scarcely five o'clock, and the Jamaican morning was keen, the air crisp and pleasant, the sun had not yet given us a taste of its tropical strength.

Dew-mists smoked up to heaven; birds came to life suddenly, and there was light and life, and the laughter of a glorious dawn. Earth, sky, and man thrilled with life. And I smoked tobacco and sipped coffee, realizing to its fullest extent the infinite glory of a sun-kissed land.

To my left, gently ascending the ridge of low-lying hills, acres and acres of cane—cane colored in the purest tints of green—spread unbrokenly almost to the sky line. To the right there were vast groves of banana trees half-hiding a hundred odd-shaped white and brown negro huts. The roads, winding here and there like yellow rivers, flashed dazzingly as the sun grew stronger, and soon one could make out the crowds of black people hoeing newly-cleared fields.

And I remembered the night before. At midnight I had gone into the factory to see the crowd of workers crushing the juice from the cane, and laboring at fever heat to keep time with the demands of harvest time. For it is customary during two months of every year in Jamaica for the sugar mills to work night and day in order that all the crops may be gathered and treated in due season. It is the period of plenty for the laborers, the time of anxiety for the planter. I had seen the great furnaces fed with the fibre left by the rollers after all the juice had been crushed from the cane. I had seen a negro, sweating but cheerful, fling open the iron door of a furnace thirty feet long, and stand in the scorching centre of the white-hot breath of this terrestrial inferno, cheerfully adding more fuel to the all-devouring flame. The closing of the door of this iron-gassed fire had brought a shudder of chilliness even in the soft warm tropical night. I had heard the roar of the machinery: the chatter of the workers, the dull, agonized groanings of an endless carrying chain. It had seemed to me that the simple sugar cane went through a process of almost supernatural cleansing before it became sugar, and — that perfervid essence of sugar—rum.

My host, the planter and owner of all these fair lands, the sugar-maker and distiller of rum, appeared at my elbow. He sat beside me and talked, and his great mastiff, the pride of the island, curled at his feet and blinked knowingly at the sugar bowl.

"Good morning, eh? Look at that wretched lizard stalking a fly already. Did good work last night — crushed forty tons. Let's have a gallop and then a swim in the old reservoir. A planter's punch—then we'll have a look in at the old factory, and see that all those scoundrels are working—and breakfast. Mountain mullet and a grilled chicken. How'll that do, eh? Sam, bring the horses."

We rode down the hill, and the cool air of the morning filled us with the joy of living. We galloped down a moist, swampy field, and then along a hard, white road. The day insects began their matin song, and we jumped from our horses at the edge of a crystal pool. The plunge suggested to one the joy of conscious rejuvenation: the planter's punch, taken after a good rub down, resembled ambrosia. At a gentle amble we reached the factory and found all the "scoundrels" well and truly engaged in their strenuous efforts towards industry, and we climbed the little incline and breakfasted in the verandah. Mountain mullet and chicken and other things—ye gods, what food! The sun had risen high above our heads, the noise of the factory was swallowed by the music of the day, the world was filled with voluptuous indolence of perfect contentment.

"You live well here?" I said.

"Yes," replied mine host. "It is a good life for a happy-go-lucky sort of chap. Two years here, and then six months in the old country; and on an average $15,000 or $20,000 a year to spend. We have our times of hard work, though. This is my busy season. I must go over the factory again soon. Smoke your tobacco and tell me about London. Seen T—— lately. Poor beggar. Doing well, though. Younger than I am, but bald; bald as a badger, and thin as a heathen, opium-eating Chinee. Ah, this is the life."

And they say that Jamaica is worn out.—J.H., in Standard of Empire.

Wreckers In India.

Another attempt at train-wrecking on the Eastern Bengal State Railway is being investigated by the police. One morning recently the pointsman on duty at Singhita Station, in attempting to set the points, discovered that a piece of rail had been inserted between the tongue and the main rails. Had an up train attempted to pass the points it would certainly have met with disaster. Several times lately the special police posted on the line, in consequences of the frequent bomb outrages, have been pelted with stones from passing trains, one constable being badly injured. There appears to be small chance of the perpetrators being discovered. A disquieting feature of the annual report on the administration of Bengal, just published, is the small number of detections, and the still smaller number of convictions, in comparison with the total of serious crimes committed. Both in the Mofussil and in Calcutta the efforts of the police continue to be attended with unsatisfactory results. Of 306 cases of murder in the former only 108 were detected, and in only 43 per cent. of these were convictions secured. During the twelve months dacoities and riots increased, the increase having been progressive in the last three years. In Calcutta, which for some time has been in a disturbed state, the number of thefts and burglaries continues to grow.

With a Paper Roof.

Churches are always one of the "sights" of a place, usually because of their beauty. But in out-of-the-way corners of the world the local churches are sometimes well worth seeing for their curiosity.

Thus, in one of the gold districts of Demerara, British Guiana, there is a little church which boasts a paper roof. The bells are merely two empty metal jars, which are struck with an iron rod. An empty flour barrel makes an effective pulpit, while the altar is constructed from a box covered with a white cloth.

The minister who officiates at this quaint place of worship also holds services at another, about three miles away, which is equally curious. It is really a dancing-hall. The pulpit is a table, used at other times as a platform by the musicians, and the bell is a triangular piece of steel, struck with an old horseshoe.

When Kitchener Was Sirdar.

Lord Kitchener of Khartoum, always careless of life's little amenities, was once, when Sirdar of Egypt, doing some hoeing by way of afternoon relaxation in his garden at Cairo. He hated the conventional calls. A lady (accompanied by a marriageable daughter) came into the Sirdar's grounds, and seeing, as she thought, the gardener, asked of him "Is Lord Kitchener 'at home' to-day?" "No," was the evasive reply. "But you may write your name in his book, which you will find in the hall." And the gardener, who was also the Sirdar, then hid behind some bushes and waited for the departure of the ladies whose conversation he had shirked.

Sympathetic Magic.

"A friend of mine came across a native sitting in the verandah of a house from which groans proceeded," Mr. F. Thurston stated at the Royal Society of Arts in a lecture on the natives of southern India. "He learned that the man's wife was sitting on a swing studded with sharp nails in order to gain hope of sympathetic magic of some trifling ailment."—London Standard.

Weary, Worn Out, Tired

If You Feel Poorly this Spring this Article is worth Considering.

Nothing in life keeps people from advancement like poor health. If the nerves are weak, if the stomach liver, bowels or kidneys, fail to work properly, healthy surely suffers. Spring is the hardest time on health—the season when the system calls for active cleansing medicine.

The best plan is to entrust your condition to a physician of reputation like Dr. Hamilton, who has had years of experience in compounding tonics. For the ills and tired feeling of spring Dr. Hamilton says nothing is better than Mandrake and Butternut Pills, and this is well proven in the case of James Burton of Lewistown. "I had grip and it left me very weak. The disease settled in my back and side, which ached day and night. I had a nagging cough. My appetite was all gone. My nerves unstrung. I could not sleep well. I struggled against growing pale, thin and weak—but it was no good. Spring brought depressions, overpowering weariness and bad headaches. But my life was spared, simply because I learned of the wonderful merit in Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. The result was marvelous. I gained rapidly, became strong, ruddy, vigorous, perfectly well. I urge every man and woman to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly.

You'll brighten up, have cleaner blood, stronger nerves, better spirits after using Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c, at all dealers. Guaranteed safe, sure helpful for old and young.

Weekly Drill

The weekly drill of the 57th Regiment was held at the armouries last night.

Eye Removed.

Mr. John Stanger has had his eye removed. Dr. McNulty performed the operation yesterday morning.

Going West.

Mr. Wm. J. amb of Bancroft, was in the city Sunday and Monday, the guest of his sister Mrs. W. J. McCallum. Mr. Lamb leaves next week for his farm near Calgary where he will make his future home. He will take with him several carloads of material and effects.

Dirty Windows.

The attention of The Times was drawn to the very dirty windows on the street cars on Monday morning. The complainant thought that when the company had all day Sunday and Sunday night to wash up they might at least have turned the hose on to the windows so the passengers could see through.

Early Potatoes.

Mr. W. Miles has made a record in potatoe growing. From plantings made the last of March he has taken full-grown tubers measuring nine inches in circumference. The variety is the Early Puritan, and the Early Pink Eye, samples of which he shows are well developed and very firm and solid.

Who Will It Be?

The names of Mr. F. E. O'Flynn, of Belleville, and Mr. E. C. S. Hayeke, of Cobourg, are mentioned in connection with the appointment of a successor to the late Judge Weller. Both men are under fifty-five, are graduates of Toronto University, in Political Science and Law, and have had large legal training. Both have large practices in their respective places of residence.

Sight Seeing.

With the fine warm sunny weather the people are once more finding their way over to Jack Island and to the parks. The country just now is looking its best and it is a real treat to get out into the green open fields fragrant with new flowers, or into the cool woods alive with mosquitoes, or to climb to the top of the hydraulic lift rock and there gaze upon the beautifully picturesque hills and valleys surrounding while the warm rays of the sun pour down upon one's head and the cooling breezes of June are gently wafted over the undulating fields, carrying with it to the nostrils the odoriferousness of spring.

mistakes. He thought if the engineer was asked he would reconsider his judgment.

Ald. Gillespie moved in amendment, seconded by Ald. Buller, that the matter be referred back to the Board of Works to be reconsidered.

Ald. Duffus was strongly in favor of the walk going outside the tree line. He said that as all the people wanted the work outside and as the Water Commissioners made no serious objection the council should grant it to them.

Ald. Turner said the Board of Works street commissioner needs work to go on with tomorrow, and he thought that the walk should go outside the tree line.

The amendment to the amendment was put first and it was a tie so was declared lost.

The amendment was then put for the walk to go outside the tree line.

At this point the aldermen began to get the several motions mixed up.

The amendment to the amendment was again put which was to refer the walk back to the Board of Works and it carried.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

Sittings of County Court were Adjourned Until A Judge is Appointed

Owing to th edeath of his Honor Judge Weller, and as the government has not yet appointed another it was impossible to proceed with the jury and non-jury sittings of the County Court which were to have been held yesterday afternoon at one o'clock. The members of the bar, the jurors and persons interested in the cases were present but after a delay of about three-quarters of an hour, the court was opened and the names of the grand jury were called as follows; Messrs. Jas. Little foreman, Hugh Bertram, J. Browne, George Curtis, Robt. Deyell, R. Fowler, J. M. Greene, Wm. Henry, J. J Howden, Eugene Maloney, Robert Tanner and F. Wilds.

Sheriff Hall then made the above announcement. The court, he said, would be adjourned from day to day, until the twenty-second of June. The jurors and witnesses would not be required to come until that day.

There are two criminal cases to come up for hearing, one being the charge against Bert Craig and Chapman for assaulting Assistant Chief Grange, at the fire hall last February, and the other being a charge of theft against E. Sothern, alleged to have been committed on the way to Burleigh early in March.

A Booster Club for Peterborough

The popular idea in all progressive cities and towns nowadays is a Booster Club. The object of the organization being to co-operate with the council in building up the place by securing new industries and by inducing the citizens to take a greater pride in making their own places look attractive. They also arouse the civic authorities to pay more attention to the streets and parks. The membership always includes the leading and most-up-to date citizens who have lots of push in themselves and who put it into others. Such a Booster Club would be a great advantage to Peterborough. It would help a whole lot towards making a greater Peterborough.

Pains of women, head pains or any pain stopped in 20 minutes sure, with Dr. Shoop's Pink Pain Tablets. See full formula on 25c. Box. Sold by all dealers.

The "Toys Awake" was Well Attended

Another big crowd saw "The Toys Awake," at the Grand Opera house last night. The second performance was even better than the first, and the audience was very appreciative. The applause was most liberal and everyone was well pleased. Before the entertainments began the band of the 57th Regiment rendered several lively selections in front of the opera house and attracted quite a crowd who took in the play.

The careful and thorough training given the artists was again in evidence and much of the success is due to this fact. As a result of the two nights' production the Children's Aid Society will receive a substantial sum and it is right that they should be there a probably no organization in the city which is doing more for the welfare of the future citizens of Peterborough.

May Take Action

Virden, Man., June 7.—Violet Irene Williams, aged 8, died on Monday, and the doctor, called after death, refused a certificate, necessitating an inquest on Friday and Saturday. Mrs. Macdonald and Mrs. Sprague Christian Scientists, gave their system, and admitted charging a dollar a visit, or $5 weekly.

The jury found death to be due to pleurisy, brought on by a chill caught in January, and that the father hastened the possible cause of death and was criminally responsible in not securing medical attention. The jury further found that the parent was influenced in his neglect by Mrs. McDougall and Mrs. Agnes Sprague, and the jury recommended the attorney-general department to take action.

Mr. H. C. Duff, B.S.A., will Speak at Meeting of Farmers' Institute

The County of Peterborough has been most fortunate in securing one of the three new district branches of the Ontario Department of Agriculture to be established this year. Mr. H. C. Duff, B.S.A., has been appointed the representative. Mr. Duff was in the city Monday evening while on his way to visit the Branch Department of Agriculture at Lindsay, and called on Farm and Dairy to renew his acquaintance with the editor of that paper.

It is hoped that a class in agriculture will be started in connection with the High School at Norwood next September. Although the office of the department is located in the Eastern Riding at Norwood, the work of the department will cover the whole of Peterborough county. It will be their own fault if the farmers of the West Riding of this county do not profit as they should from the establishment of this comparatively recent departure in secondary education that has now been introduced into our bounds. Mr. Duff will be only too glad to do all in his power to assist the farmers of Peterborough County, in any way possible. The new representative will make his first appearance before the farmers of the West Riding on Saturday, when he will address the annual meeting of the Farmers' Institute to be held in the Council Chamber.

Miss Gilbert, Toronto, is in the city for the Lang-Gilbert nuptials at All Saints' church on Saturday morning.

Read the announcements, the list of prizes and the conditions for entering and you will realize that there is something for You right here, and that nothing could be more simple than to put yourself in line to win it.

THE TOURING CAR A PERFECT BEAUTY.

The $1,250 Touring Car is such a beauty that the most fastidious, or the most knowing connoisseur, can find no fault with it. Do not think that you have no use for this fine automobile, for even should you not be able to use it yourself, it could be disposed of for a sum that you certainly could use much to your pleasure and advantage.

READ THIS LIST.

If you start to read the complete list of prizes you will find yourself in such a maze of jewelry, furniture, trips, that you will think you have rubbed Alladin's lamp, but the reality of these prizes is what makes them interesting to you, and you can see them for your self if you only look in at the leading stores where they are now on exhibition.

Enter the Race Confidently

THERE ARE TWENTY PRIZES TO BE WON, AND THERE IS NO reason why you should not have one of them. Of course you will try the highest. You must work hopefully, because you know that you can win a prize if you try, and even should you miss the first Grand Prize a $1,250 Touring Car, you are sure to get something worth while. See your friends about it at the earliest opportunity, and get them interested in your ambition. Show them that you are in earnest and do not mean to be left behind by anyone. They will feel it worth while to help a person who evidently means to succeed.

No one wants to waste votes on those who have not sufficient pluck and energy to make a good showing.

SOUND ADVICE.

The best advice we can give you is to enter promptly, to try faithfully, and to be consistent, energetic and hopeful. Let no chance of securing a subscription escape. You This method steadily pursued, will land you in the end right at the top of the list of candidates.

MANNER OF VOTING.

A coupon good for ten votes will be published in The Morning Times. This coupon, if clipped and sent to The Morning Times, will count as ten votes for the candidate named thereon.

THE BEST WAY.

There is another and a better way of securing votes and that is on paid-in-advance subscriptions. Vote certificates, that can be held and voted at any time during the contest, will be issued on all paid-in-advance subscriptions. Votes can be secured from old as well as new subscribers, the new subscriptions having twice the value of the old.

Two thousand votes will be issued on every paid-in-advance subscription for one year from old subscribers, while a year's paid-in-advance subscription from a new subscriber will be valued at 4,000 votes.

Read Scale of Votes Carefully

YOU SHOULD READ VERY CAREFULLY THE PUBLISHED scale of votes throughout the contest. In this way you will know just where your best advantage lies. You see at once that a new subscription is worth twice as much to you as an old one, but the old is worth quite enough to be well worth trying to secure it

OPEN EVENINGS.

For the accommodation of those who wish to enter the contest or to gain information respecting it, and who cannot call during the day the Contest Department of The Morning Times will be kept open until 9 o'clock at night. If you are unable to call at any time, write or 'phone the contest manager and a representative will call and give you the desired information.

British Empire Must be Supreme on Every Sea, The Press in Time of War

"Excessive expenditure on armaments makes the weather very sultry."—Sir Edward Grey, Britain's Foreign Secretary.

"The maintenance of supremacy on the seas means the maintenance of supremacy on all seas alike." —Hon. Mr. McKenna, First Lord of the Admiralty.

London, June 8.—The Imperial Press Conference discussed "The Press and the Empire" today, the Hon. Mr. McKenna presiding. Lord Cromer, Sir Edward Grey, and Hon. Mr. Lyttelton were present. The following resolution was on the agenda;

"That it is the duty of the press to do everything in its power to co-operate with the naval and military authorities in organizing the defences of the Empire, and to take all possible precautions to avoid injury to public interest in publishing news in time of war

"That it is desirable that the press of Britain and the Colonies should act in concert in the wise direction of emigration."

Mr. McKenna anticipated that as a result of the conference ideas would be cleared and a way be opened. He dealt exclusively with naval supremacy, and admitted the diversity of local naval problems. British naval defence covered the whole globe.

"We cannot," he said, 'force our strategic ideas upon you, we should fail if we attempted it. If you come and ask us, we will be ready to answer you but we should not necessarily expect you to accept that answer. It is only by working out your problems yourselves that you gain the experience we have.

"We will assist by every method in our power, no matter, what is the method by which we are asked to assist. Out of this process of self-development in every dominion we will all come to the same idea, namely that the maintenance of supremacy on the sea means the maintenance of supremacy on all seas alike."

Mr. McKenna concluded with an appeal to the press to maintain the navy above party dissensions.

Sir Edward Grey outlined with numerous cognizance the British foreign policy. It was to keep all we have, to consolidate and develop it, to quarrel as little as possible with other people, and to uphold with the councils of the world those ideals by which we set so much store."

He dwelt on the important functions of the press in Empire questions and concluded by endorsing all that Lord Rosebery said in respect to the European situation.

"Excessive expenditure on armaments made the weather very sultry." He deprecated the idea that the Foreign Office was more prone to compromise where the interests of the self-governing colonies were concerned than in cases where not directly affected. Rather the opposite was the case. (Applause.)

Lord Cromer also spoke.

Premier Ward of Sydney, vigorously urged overseas assistance to the Imperial navy.

Canada will Not Have a Navy of Her Own

Ottawa, June 7.—The announcement in a Montreal paper to the effect that the Canadian Government has rushed into an arrangement with the Hawthorne, Leslie, and Co., of Newcastle-on-Tyne, for the immediate construction of a number of vessels for the proposed Canadian auxiliary navy, is, on the face of it, absurd. The various are quite alive to the fact that Canada, in the course of a short time, may require their services, and have not been slow to get into touch with Hon. L. P. Brodeur, Minister of Marine. Mr. Arthur Coote, a representative of the above mentioned firm, arrived in Ottawa about ten days ago and lost no time in acquainting the Government with the capacity of the shipyards owned by Hawthorne, Leslie and Co., to turn out the class of vessels Canada may require. Other firms have doubtless got into touch with the Minister by correspondence, but it is safe to say that, until the the naval conference has been held in July, no contracts will be let.

The statement that five "first-class" cruisers, ten torpedo boat destroyers, and ten torpedo boats will be built at a cost of $15,000,000 causes amusement to those who know anything of marine matters. Vessels of the British navy designated as "first-class" cruisers are of the "Invincible" type. They are of 17,000 or 18,000 tonnage, possess a speed of 28 knots, carry 8 twelve-inch guns, and cost about the same as a Dreadnought, or about ten million dollars. Thus, five "first-class"

A Chance for a New Park for the City

A stranger in the city remarked upon the many beautiful parks that the city had and upon the several other advantages possessed by Peterborough over other cities and towns. One of these was the opportunities the people here had to make the city beautiful and attractive. He noticed the number of street junctions which were ideal spots for little resting places if only engineers or the council could be induced.

One place in particular is on the east side of the creek running from Brock street to Hunter street. There is about half an acre of land which is now used as a pleasure ground for the Bell Telephone Co's poles. If the city were to purchase the land and build a concrete wall along the creek as has been built by private citizens on the west side, and then construct a three or four foot dam near the Hunter street bridge so as to create a small lake a great improvement would be made. Now, a few shade trees and a general cleaning up and grading would make a beautiful little park out of a property that will not likely be used for anything else but a piling ground.

The second round will be played this week when the following clubs will meet.

West Ends vs. Collegiates.
Y.M.C.A. vs. Nicholls Oval.

Deaf
For Thirteen Years

Mr Geo. Warner, publisher of The Manitoulin Register, Toronto, was almost totally deaf in both ears for a number of years. He experimented with a thousand different remedies, and only got relief by using Catarrhozone, and it cured.

Mr. Warner says:—"For the past thirteen years my hearing has been badly affected. The streets were as quiet to me as if I lived in the city of the dead. I could neither hear the noise of street cars or sound of horses' feet on the pavement. Before I had used Catarrhozone Inhaler three days I was able to notice a great change in my condition, which gradually improved until now I can hear a whisper across the room. I cannot tell you how much I appreciate Catarrhozone or the wonderful results I have derived from using it. Catarrhozone has my strongest endorsement and I am quite willing that you should use it."

Mr. Warner's unsolicited testimonial furnishes abundant proof that deafness can be cured, even in old age, if Catarrhozone is used. This remedy scientific in its application and meets with the endorsement of prominent ministers and doctors all over Canada. Our best equipped health institutions always keep it on hand, and cases are recorded where it has been used with great success in the Government deaf and dumb institutions where other means proved futile.

If your hearing is poor, if you have head noises, or ringing in the ears, be sure and use Catarrhozone. It is a regular miracle worker and is sure to help you. Complete outfit costs $1; trial size 25 cents. Sold by all druggists and N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

DISEASE IN THE SCHOOLS

More than 100,000 children of school age are annually laid prostrate by the three preventable diseases of diphtheria, tuberculosis and scarlet fever, and 20,000 of these illnesses terminate fatally, says Dr. Alvin Davison in an interesting article upon the subject of disease in the schools in Technical World Magazine. In diphtheria and scarlet fever, the infection generally passes from pupil to pupil in the early stage of the disease, which only medical inspection can detect.

How widespread may be the infection resulting from the presence of one source of contagion is forcibly demonstrated by an occurrence in a school at Millgrove, Ohio, where a boy with incipient measles infected every member of the school, including the teacher, so that they all fell sick within ten days. If discovered early, the sick are not only prevented from infecting the well, but are, in most cases, easily cured. In one year about 700 pupils with diptheria, scarlet fever and tuberculosis were found attending the schools of Massachusetts. During the same period several thousand children with other contagious diseases such as measles, mumps, grippe, and syphilis, were excluded from these schools in the interest of health. There can be no doubt that the early discovery of these ailments prevented them from infecting hundreds of other children. Over 15,000 cases of contagious eye diseases were found in the New York City schools in one year, and 65,000 other children were excluded for various transmissible ailments ranging from diptheria to whooping cough. In Philadelphia about 10,000 of the school attendants during the year were excluded at some time, because of disease which menace the health of their associates.

THE IMPERIAL PRESS CONFERENCE.

The meeting of the first Imperial Press Conference in the history of the British Empire, is an event of more than ordinary importance. When the press was far feebler than it is to-day, it earned the title of "the fourth estate" of the realm; and while we cannot claim for it now any higher position because the other three estates are still in existence, it has certainly made good its right to a place in this proud category. The influence of the press upon public opinion has passed into proverb: and this calling together of the journalists of the Empire is its great capital is really an attempt to get the men who direct this influence to understand each other and to appreciate their responsibilities with reference to the wider questions of Imperial safety.

In this respect, the press conference is very like the conferences of Colonial statesmen which have been held. Very clearly has it been understood that these conferences of statesmen were debarred from taking any binding action or from even binding the Parliaments they represented to take action. They were met in a purely advisory capacity to talk over and decide in what direction they had best exercise their undoubted influence with their Parliaments and peoples. All that was sought was a harmonising of thought, a common stock of knowledge, and preparation for an intelligent co-operation in the application of influence. Now this is precisely what is sought at the press conference. There will be no executive action binding upon anybody, for the press delegates have no authority to take such action; but if they decide to direct their united influence toward certain objects, the decision will be at least as potent as the similar decisions by Colonial statesmen.

The questions to the fore will be, of course, Imperial; and it is something to have got the representatives of the newspapers of the colonies to meet in London to seriously consider their Imperial responsibilities. There have been times when important colonial newspapers rather scouted any notion of Imperial responsibility. This parochial attitude of mind has been confined to no one colony or no one province. In Australia, we used to hear talk of "cutting the painter;" and in Canada there have been movements of various sorts which regarded the Imperial tie with at least indifferent eyes. But to-day the press of the entire Colonial world is in London to seriously discuss our relations to the Empire, to consider how the press can best foster them, and to join with every pro-British influence in making them permanent.

The discussion of details will be watched with interest; though possibly the best thing our delegates will get out of the gathering will be the shoulder-touch which inspires confidence and denotes comradeship. Pressmen will feel after this, as they never have before, their membership in an Imperial body which blankets the world with the British newspaper as the navy covers it with the flag. The roar of the presses may do as much to sustain the Empire as the roar of guns; and a wider vision and a deeper responsibility in editorial offices will be as effective in its way as a new army scheme or an addition to the Imperial navy.

WE HAVE MONEY

There is a good demand for the Ontario Government's four per cent. bonds. Attempts have been made to thwart the Government's power policy by trying down its credit in the London market. While these attempts have not been successful, it may be useful for the knockers to know that the Ontario Government can raise money right here, where the people know that the Province of Ontario is as solid as the Bank of England, and where commissions and other expenses incident to borrowing in London can be saved.

The effect of this unpatriotic campaign, if persisted in, will not be to hurt the credit of Ontario, or of Canada, or of the City of Toronto, or any other Canadian public institution, but to deprive English capitalists of good investments for their money, and transfer the advantage to Canadians who want a place for their savings. That movement is sure to go on in any case as the wealth of Canada grows; but it is being helped along by those who are seeking to interfere with the settled public policy of this country by working the financial papers of London.

BASEBALL

The two Senior City League games scheduled for this Saturday will bring together the Strathconas and Park St. Athletic Club in the 2 o'clock game, and the West Ends and T.A.S. in the 4 o'clock fixture. Two splendid games should be the result as all four teams are in good shape. Much interest is being taken in the debut of the Park St. Club, who were unable to play on Saturday. The South End aggregation have a fast nine and will take a lot of beating. The Strathconas will have a much stronger line-up than on Saturday. Several of their players were not available for the opening, but will be on hand Saturday and the High Commissioners promise to give the Southerners a hard run for the honors.

Judging by the five innings go which they had Saturday, the T.A.S. and West Ends will have a warm battle to decide the second game. These youngsters wearing the grey shirts will give the Abstainers a a pretty tight squeeze, and it should big crowd on hand for the two games as the good ball played on Saturday pleased the fans.

IF SICK--WHY PAY

Unless Health First Returns.

Here is what should and can be done!

Now you would not willingly pay for food that was worthless—would you?

Then why pay for medicine until that medicine first proves to you its actual worth?

Positively knowing what Dr. Sheep's Restorative can do for the sick, I say to all "don't pay unless health first returns". And I back my Restorative with a clause and sealed 30 day "No help, No pay" guarantee.

I positively pledge to the sick everywhere that "Dr. Sheep's Restorative is absolutely free if it fails". Let others do the same or else pass their prescriptions by.

If you need more strength, more vitality, more vigor or more vim, use my Restorative a few days and note the immediate improvement.

When the blood is pure, rich, full of power, you cannot have Dr. Sheep's Restorative. I do not deem the Stomach nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys, for that is wrong. Years ago I cast away that pernicious idea in medicine. The books below will tell you how I am succeeding.

Those books also tell of a day hidden "the nerve, no organ that is diseased. They tell how the Restorative will especially reach and revitalize those weak or failing health nerves. All of these facts tell why I am able to say, "It is free if it fails".

This is why I say "take no chances on a medicine whose maker dare not back it fast as I do by this remarkable offer".

So write me today for the order.

I have appointed honest and responsible druggists in nearly every community to issue my sealed test to the sick.

But write me first for the order.

All druggists sell Dr. Sheep's Restorative, but all are not authorized to give the 30 day test.

So drop me a line please—and then enjoy improvement and desire. Tell me also which book you need.

A postal will do.

In addition, you are free to consult me as you would your home physician. My advice and the book below are yours—and without cost.

Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up some misunderstandment. I have helped thousands through my private prescriptions or personal advice plan. My best effort is always worth your simple request. So write now what you have, in truth, in mind, for tomorrow never comes. Dr. Sheep, Box 12, Racine, Wis.

GRAIN SHIPMENTS BY PACIFIC

May Kill Hudson Bay Route—Alberta Secures Better Outlet for Her Product.

Edmonton, Alta., June 8.—It is regarded by many public men here that the diversion of the grain traffic of Alberta from the lake route to the Pacific, sounds the knell of the Hudson Bay Railway. The latter project was mainly urged to enable the farmers of Alberta to reach the European markets more expeditiously and more economically than by the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence. The delays encountered while in transit through these channels, were hoped to be over-come by the construction of a railway to the Hudson Bay and thence by steamer to European and British ports. There was a saving of distance and, it was pointed out, a saving in the cost of transportation.

It may, however, be noted that people familiar with trade conditions on the Atlantic sea-board, and the rules and requirements of navigation have found it impossible to believe in the utility of the Hudson Bay route.

A leading shipper here said:—"The completion of a railway to the Hudson Bay is only a quarter of the story, and the erection of huge elevators for the reception of the grain does not tell it all. The navigation of the Bay and of the Straits must be studied from practical experience rather than Gopernment blue-books. The conditions there require marine training and seamanship all their own. Not only would it require years of experience on the part of masters and pilots, but until Lloyd's could pronounce the course safe the insurance on both carriers and freight would make traffic by that route practically prohibitive. Any advantage that might be gained by a shortness in the route would be more than overbalanced by the cost of navigation. Then the Hudson Bay requires a class of strangers that have not yet been built outside the whaling vessels of Newfoundland and the Peary ships, and no capital would be found willing to venture into a scheme of navigation attended with such risks.

Diverting Grain Westward.

"The difficulty anticipated in that direction is now being solved by the opening up of the Pacific route which until a few months ago had been deemed impracticable. Take along with this the opening of the Panama Canal and until then the use of the Central America Railway, the proposed improvements on the St. Lawrence River and the port of Montreal, and the completion of the Grand Trunk Pacific to the coast, and one has conditions which render the Hudson Bay scheme to a vision.

"The opening up of the Pacific grain route means a new order of things for the framer on the Prairie Provinces, and there is no reason to suppose that this new trade channel will be wholly confined to the transportation of grain. The Pacific overseas countries will eventually call for our ranch-fed stock, and stock trains will trail their way over the Rocky Mountain ridges."

It may be taken for granted that great as has been the transformation of things in Western Canada the past twenty-five years, and it has been almost beyond measure, that o, the next quarter of a century will be infinitely greater. The prairies will have filled up, railways will have extended to every nook and corner, big cities with teeming thousands will dot the plains, tall factory chimneys will pierce the skies, the hum of industry will be heard all over the land, regions now unknown and impenetrable will be scenes of industrial activities, and transcontinental trains will carry to and fro the traffic of a new nation, a new empire, west of Lake Superior.

Rain Stops Railway Work.

A heavy rainfall extending over a period of two weeks has seriously interfered with railway construction throughout the West. The Grand Trunk Pacific had begun track laying from Wainwright west to Edmonton, but had to close the work down until the grade became dry. In many places the rails are sunk two or three feet in the mud. West of Edmonton the condition of things is not much better, perhaps if anything, worse. The country through which the road passes is pregnant with muskegs and in wet weather these simply become impassable. In several places the grade is reported to be badly damaged. The roads through the country are also in a bad state, and this only adds to the difficulty of carrying on railway work.

Fine weather, however, is now expected and within a week or two construction operations will be resumed. It is confidently expected that steel on the Grand Trunk Pacific will reach Edmonton some time in July. The work will be speedily rushed west to the Pembina River so as to get supplies and materials out for the big bridge.

The Canadian Northern has begun the construction of a branch line from Vermilville across country to Camrose, the objective point being Calgary. They are also at work on the extension of the Morrinville branch to Athabasca Landing, the objective point here being the Peace River country. The road in each case passes through very rich agricultural sections of the country. Beyond these two branches, it is not expected that there will be many other lines built this year. Next year, the work of extending these and other branches will be carried on. Nothing so far has been done respecting the proposed road north to Fort McMurray, nor are there just yet any positive assurance of the erection by the Canadian Pacific Railway of the traffic bridge across the Saskatchewan by which it was to enter the city. The company, however, has purchased the terminal site as well as the right-of-way and there the matter lies for the present.

Important to Ladies

It is not often an opportunity occurs at your door to see the latest Parisian and New York styles in Hair Goods, yet such is the case, as Prof. Dorenwend of Toronto, is visiting this town, and invites your inspection of these goods at his private apartments reserved at the Hotel.

These Hair Goods styles, when properly adjusted protect and ornament the head, soften and beautify the expression of the face, and consequently tone up an aged appearance. Be sure and see them at the Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, Friday, June 18.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Canada's Navy

cruisers would cost Canada from sixty to sixty-five million dollars.

The probabilities are that Canada will be advised by the British Admiralty to go in for the construction of the light class of cruisers known as "scouts" (which cost from $1,500,000 to $2,00,000), torpedo boats, torpedo boat destroyers, and submarines. At least, that is an opinion which has been expressed by naval experts on the other side of the water. The whole matter, however, will be carefully threshed out when the Canadian Ministers are in England, and until the conference is held, announcements as to what Canada will actually do can be set down as being of a speculative character.

What Has Happened.

Owing to the amount of confusion which appears to exist in respect to the whole question of a Canadian navy, it might be as well to set down briedly the successive steps which have been taken. They might be summarized as follows:

1.—Parliament passed resolution setting forth the desirability of Canada taking steps to defend her own coast line.

2.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier announced that Sir Frederick Borden and Hon. L. P. Brodeur would go to London to confer with the Admiralty as to the best way to carry out the terms of the resolution.

3.—The Imperial Government announced that Sir Frederick Borden and Hon. L. P. Brodeur would go to London to confer with the Admiralty as to the best way to carry out the terms of the resolution.

3.—The Imperial Government announced its intention to call a naval conference and invited Canada to send representatives.

4.—Earl Grey, on behalf of the Canadian Government, accepted the invitation and announced that the Canadian Ministers would defer their visit to England till July and attend the conference.

Here the "official" record ends, but within the past ten days it has has been semi-officially announced that Rear-Admiral Kingsmill and Major-General Sir Percy Lake will accompany the Ministers to London, as expert advisors; that Canada will be prepared to undertake as a beginning a program involving an expenditure of from two to three million dollars a year for the first five years, and that representatives of British firms had been in communication with the Canadian Government with an eye to future business.

A LOCAL FAVORITE COMING "THE GINGERBREAD MAN."

Ross Snow and Freddy Nice are a pair of comedians that anybody would be glad to see and they are coming here soon. May Bouton has left the Stubborn Cinderella Company to join the Ginger Bread Man Company, where she won't have to do buck and wing but will have a chance to sing A. Baldwin Sloane's beautiful music. She has a beautiful voice that hits high "F" with facile ease, and a figure that Venus might have been proud of, when she puts on a gown the melting pot loses its job, and the boys just naturally sit up. Carrick Major, the magnonnificent baritone who played Machievalian's Fudge last season in the Ginger Bread Man is still with the Company, and renders "Queen of My Dreams" as he only can render it. It is a treat to hear such an accomplished artist as he is, and his fine presence and superb acting are always a pleasure to behold. Ross Snoow makes a brag that he can catch smelts with any man alive, Ross lives up in Maine where the smelts come from. Ross says that Maine is all right in the summer time but that it is too far from Milwaukee when the Robbin hibernates.

Rose Murray, the Soubrette, she of the dainty pedal extremeties, is flitting through the role of Margery in the Ginger Bread Man this season, and going some at that. She has a new song "Maggie was there with her hair in a braid" that sort of touches the spot.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart and Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days tests will surely tell. Try it once, and see! Sold by all dealers.

The result is more gratifying as the majority of sales were greatly in excess of the up-set prices.

HOW TO TELL

If the Kidneys and Liver are Not Acting Well.

Thousands die every year from aggravated kidney distress that could have been saved if they only knew.

Your back may ache, you think it's tiredness or physical weakness.

You grow irritable and nervous—it's put down to loss of sleep.

Joints ache, muscles get sore, —that's all put down to bad weather.

Then digestion gets poor, appetite fades away, color bleaches, spirits droop.

Can't you see it's all from your over-worked kidneys, which can't keep the body clear of poisons that are now surging through the whole system.

Cure your kidneys with Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

"When I was so stooped and back weary, so lame and sore with kidney and bladder trouble, I cured myself quickly with Dr Hamilton's Pills," writes C. C. Ferrier, a well known merchant in Plainsville. "Dr. Hamilton's Pills touched the spot at once, gave my back ease, lifted depression and weariness, made a new man of me. I can also say for a good spring medicine to clear and enrich the blood Dr. Hamilton's Pills have no equal."

The housewife whose aching back makes every little duty a burden, the working man who is tired all day and can't rest at night, whose back aches, and whose feet swell—these people have kidney trouble. Women whose kidneys are sick, suffer continually from blind and sick headaches, faint and dizzy spells, hearing down pains, sharp twinges when stooping, distressing urinary troubles, aching muscles, and joints, lack of appetite, and loss of sleep needs the same. Cure the kidneys Use Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake and Butternut Pills, which have cured thousands. 25c at all dealers.

The Young Ladies' Mission Band

The Young Ladies' Mission Band of St. Andrew's church, had a most interesting and enjoyable evening last night. It was their last meeting until September. A report from the delegate to the Presbyterial meeting held recently in Port Hope was received and afterward a very interesting and entertaining address on mission work was given by Miss McCalla, secretary of the Y.W.C.A. The young ladies who were present in large numbers partook of tea at the church at six o'clock.

Another Scow Load of Cord Wood Arrives

The steamer Beaver arrived in the city on Monday with two more scow loads of cord wood for the Peterborough Fuel and Cartage Co., and yesterday returned to Windsor's Landing, Burleigh Bay, to bring down two more scow loads. The wood is coming down much earlier this season than usual and considering the date navigation is very good. The stop logs have not all been put in yet so that the water is not running as evenly as it does later on.

Making Sunshine

It is often Found in Pure Food

The improper selection of food drives many a healthy person into the depths of despairing illness. Indeed, most sickness comes from wrong food and just so surely as that is the case right food will make the sun shine once more.

An old veteran of Newburyport, Mass., says: "In October, 1901, I was taken sick and went to bed, losing 47 pounds in about 60 days. I had doctor after doctor, food hurt me and I had to live almost entirely on magnesia and soda. All solid food distressed me so that water would run out of my mouth in little streams.

"I had terrible night sweats and my doctor finally said I had consumption and must die. My good wife gave up all hope. We were at Old Orchard, Me., at that time and my wife saw Grape-Nuts in a grocery there. She bought some and persuaded me to try it.

"I had no faith in it but took it to please her. To my surprise it did not distress me as all other food had done and before I had taken the fifth package I was well on the mend. The pains left my head, my mind became clearer and I gained weight rapidly.

"I went back to my work again and now after six weeks' use of the food I am better and stronger than ever before in my life. Grape-Nuts surely saved my life and made a strong hearty man, 15 pounds heavier than before I was taken sick.

"Both my good wife and I are willing to make affidavit to the truth of this."

Look for the famous little book "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true and full of human interest.

New Scales at at C. P. R. Station

A new team scales is being erected at the C.P.R. on George street in front of the freight sheds. This will be a great convenience to shippers who can now weigh their whole load at once.

The improvements to the interior of the station are also nearing completion and they make a great change to the station. The sanitary arrangements are now modern and convenient.

Was Peddling Without a License

A young Italian was fined five dollars and costs, amounting to $6.25, at the police court yesterday morning. He was charged with peddling without a license yesterday morning being the third time that Chief Ruzzel has found him going about the streets selling fruit, unable to show the required paper. It appears that he works for Frank Marino, who has two licenses. He was under the impression that his employer could peddle on one of these and no objection was raised to this arrangement, but the accused permitted in not carrying one with him after having been told to do so on two occasions.

The prisoner also used considerable bad language towards the chief, and it was largely for his impertinent and insulting manner, his worship said, that such a heavy fine was imposed.

Board of Health Met Yesterday

A meeting of the Board of Health was held yesterday morning with Dr. Burnham, chairman; Mayor Rush, Dr. McNulty, Dr. Young and Mr. Murty in attendance.

A letter was received from the Wm. Hamilton Co., saying they wished a sewer connection from the creek south of McDonnel street to McDonnel street.

The engineer will be asked to report on that matter.

The city treasurer was instructed to pay the following accounts: Fred Brown, $2.50; J. E. A. Fitzgerald, $2.00; J. J. Turner & Sons, $78.15; Mrs. J. Brunswell, $4.20; R. Hooks & Co., $8.25; Wm. Curtis, $1.00.

An account of $400.00 from Dr. Morgan was laid over until the next meeting, the doctor being asked to send in an itemized statement.

Small Fire in Sawdust Pile Last Night

A small fire broke out in a sawdust pile near the corner of Elm and Park streets last night. An alarm was sent in from box 41, and the brigade responded. The sawdust created quite a blaze and a fence nearby had been ignited, and it was feared the shingle mill would take fire. The firemen, however, laid a line of hose and soon had the blaze out. Very little damage was done.

Eddy of Ottawa, who says he saw a clipping in the Ottawa Free Press and enclosed it in his letter. He asked for result of investigation. There has been a man missing from Ottawa, named Peter Robinson, about 5 feet 8 inches tall. He wore a wig and a sandy moustache, and was about 54 years of age. He had small hands and feet. The doctor says that the description tallies pretty well with the man found.

Mr. Merrick of Brantford, also telephoned, asking for information regarding that his brother had been missing that for the past four months.

Manufacturers' Com. on the Light and Power Co's Franchise Request

The propaition before the Manufacturers' Committee last night was the application of the Peterborough Light and Power Company for a franchise to use the streets for thirty years.

Those present were Chairman Ald. Gillespie, Aldermen Hicks Morrow, Duffus, Metherale and Mayor Rush.

The city clerk wrote away to other cities and towns for information as to the prices of electric light etc., and it was found that the prices charged in Peterborough were cheaper than the majority of cities, and only two were lower.

Mr. Larmonth was present, but as the committee wished to discuss the matter privately he retired. Then the committee took up rates charged by other cities and towns.

Some of the things which the committee made notes on were;

That this franchise will not in any way interfere with the city going in for lighting its own streets.

That in case the city does go in for street lighting that the Peterborough Power Co.'s poles will be available.

There was also considerable discussion about the city owning the pole lines and renting them to the power companies, also about the city owning the conduits.

The committee appointed a small sub-committee to work out the details and to report to the committee.

The Grave Note Again Emphasized

London, June 9.—Discussion of Imperial defence was resumed this morning by the Imperial Press Conference. Rt. Hon. A. J. Balfour presiding. Lord Roberts and Secretary Haldane were present. The grave note was again emphasized in the speeches of the home statesmen.

Mr. Balfour, opening, declared that all local defence, though necessary, was subordinate to Imperial defence and subordinate from the viewpoint of the particular localities themselves, not only from the viewpoint of the Empire. (Applause.)

Dealing first with the military aspect of the quesrtion, the speaker laid down two propositions. The first was that all the forces of the over-seas States, second, that they should be organized on a common basis. Respecting the navy, he did tempt ad naval defence, but anything in the nature of coastal protection should be rigidly subordinated to the action of the fleet. (Hear hear!) The fate of the Empire would be dependant upon the superiority of the fleet, and that superiority must be shown in the home waters. If there was to be an Armageddon it would take place in the German Ocean, the English Channel, or, perhaps the Mediterranean.

"Anybody who reads the signs of the times," Mr. Balfour continued, "will, I think, agree with the very weighty words of Lord Rosebery and Sir Edward Grey, and will recognize that no man can now speak of Imperial defence without some note of anxiety. There is not a panic, and no question of a panic, but we have to look atoubd at the gathering forces and armaments of possible foes, and the strategetic import of possible combinations. Everyone will recognize that the language of the Foreign Secretary language unusual in the months of Foreign Secretaries—does not go beyond the necessity of the situation."

Mr. Balfour not humorously remarked that the British nation was fond of saying about itself that it was not the nation it used to be.

Says the World is Fast Drifting Into Unbelief and Into Epicureanism

Kingston, Ont., June 8.—At the Synod of the Diocese of Ontario today the following officers were re-elected Clerical Secretary, Canon Grout. Lay Secretary, Francis King, Lay Treasurer, R. J. Carson; Audit and Account Committee—Rev. J. O. Crisp, Dr. Rogers, and Lieut. Col. McGill.

In his charge, Bishop Mills, referring to his Continental tour, touched on social customs, which he found changed. One was that women smoked in public. After encountering Suffragettes he felt that the high ideals of womanhood which he had do not extend generally beyond Canada. As to the Suffragette movement, he said the English Government had not dealt wisely with the women connected with the movement, which was intensely in earnest. More patience would have prevented some absurd scenes.

Higher Criticism.

With regard to higher criticism and doubts case on the Ressurrection, he said, "There is no fact of history more clearly established, or which rests on more reliable testimony. The Incarnation and the Atonement are written off, and placed by not a few in the same category in which they have placed the earlier chapters of Genesis, as belonging to myths and fables."

The Bishop was not hopeful of union between the Protestant church of

A coupon good for ten votes will be published in The Morning Times. This coupon, if clipped and sent to The Morning Times, will count as ten votes for the candidate named thereon.

THE BEST WAY.

There is another and a better way of securing votes and that is on paid-in-advance subscriptions. Vote certificates, that can be held and voted at any time during the contest, will be issued on all paid-in-advance subscriptions. Votes can be secured from old as well as new subscribers, the new subscriptions having twice the value of the old.

Two thousand votes will be issued on every paid-in-advance subscription for one year from old subscribers, while a year's paid-in-advance subscription from a new subscriber will be valued at 4,000 votes.

Read Scale of Votes Carefully

YOU SHOULD READ VERY CAREFULLY THE PUBLISHED scale of votes throughout the contest. In this way you will know just where your best advantage lies. You see at once that a new subscription is worth twice as much to you as an old one, but the old is worth quite enough to be well worth trying to secure it.

A Multi-Millionaire Unknown in His Country

IT IS UNLIKELY THAT ANY of our readers have ever heard of Morrison. The name is not an uncommon one, and there are thousands who bear it, but it is doubtful if even in England, where the Charles Morrison lived for ninety odd years, one person in a hundred thousand knew that Charles Morrison was one of the richest of living men. Any bus driver, any chorus girl was better known. His name never figured in the newspapers: his picture was never solicited. His views were never presented to the public. Not even on any letter head or business paper was his name to be found. Anyone who studied the assessment rolls of the City of London might be struck by its recurrence. Men familiar with the inner workings of London's high finance knew Morrison; and his tenants at Basildon knew him too, for all the parish but four acres belonged to him. Otherwise the man who died a few days ago, leaving an estate variously estimated at from £10,000,000 to £15,000,000, lived as obscurely as any clerk or laborer in the country.

An Eccentric Multi-millionaire.

James Morrison was an eccentric more than £2 for a suit of clothes, and probably did not buy two suits in a year. He walked or took a bus or a train or rented a cab when he moved from place to place and never kept a private equipage. He objected to having a horse eating his head of at his expense." Nevertheless, he lived on one of the most beautiful estates in England, and if Basildon House was not a "show place," it was because the owner objected to strangers invading his probooks, and had a magnificent library porty. He was a great reader of These were his sole luxuries. He never smoked, and rarely took a glass of wine. For entertainments or recreation of any kind he had no taste and it is probable that he lived on the interest of his millions. Money-making occupied his attention for more than half a century, and no other interest shared a thought with this supreme ambition.

Founded on Drapery.

As Charles Morrison never married, and as his heirs are his brother and sister, more than 70 years old, the old proverb 'from shirtsleeves to shirtsleeves in three generations" has small opportunities to vindicate itself in the case of the case of the Morrison family. Charles grandfather was a Hampshire yeoman, who rarely put a coat on except on Sundays. The farmer's son wishing to escape the drudgery of farm life, struck off for London as a young man. Passing along the street he noticed a sign in a little draper's shop, "Boy wanted." He applied for the position, and was hired on the spot. His employer, James Todd, took a fancy to the young man, because he showed so much business instinct and was such a hard worker. He was not displeased, therefore, when the young man fell in love with his daughter, and to facilitate the marriage he took Morrison into partnership.

A Wealthy Father

It was in the drapery business that the foundations of the great Morrison fortune were laid The drapery business prospered, and develop-

GET WATER POWER.

Dominion Government Grants Healey Falls Right.

Port Hope, June 9.—The directors of the Northumberland-Durham Power Co., Limited, have just made public an announcement of considerable importance to the municipalities lying between Port Hope and Belleville to the effect that the Minister of Railways and Canals has agreed to grant a lease to the Company of the remaining portion of the Healey Falls waterpower controlled by the Federal Government. Development of the power will proceed concurrently with the construction of the Trent Valley canal which passes through the Company's property, and will also facilitate the early construction of the Cobourg, Port Hope and Havelock Electric Railway, which is awaited by the district.

CONDEMN GAMBLING.

The Methodist Conference Will Pass Resolution.

Race track gambling, it is understood, will form the chief topic of discussion at the meetings of the Methodist Conference, which commences in Elm Street Methodist Church tomorrow. Ministerial sessions will open at 10 o'clock. To-day the statistical secretaries are meeting, getting the statistics in order for presentation to the conference.

Last year a strong resolution was passed, severely condemning gambling on race tracks, and the ministers this year are prepared, it is said, to go even further. In view of the action taken by several of the State Legislatures in the United States, the Local Legislature and the Dominion Government may be called upon to take some action to put a stop to the gambling.

GOING TO TWEED.

It has been learned that the Salvation Army Band will go to Tweed on Saturday, June 12th, for a week end there. They will give concerts on Saturday night and on the following Sunday, and during their stay will assist in the services. The band is now in good condition, and should create a good impression while away They will be of valuable assistance to the officer in charge thatday, and fine meetings will be held.

STEAMERS REFUSING GRAIN

Cannot meet the Low Rate—Unusual Conditions Prevail at Montral Port.

Montreal, June 8.—An unusual condition is now prevailing in the grain export business. Steamers sailing from Montreal are refusing to carry grain at the rates offering to carry grain out with water ballast. This is due to the fact that the passenger boats sailing from New York, are carrying grain at the cost of placing it on board and discharging it. The railways have also reduced the charge for haulage between Buffalo and New York by a cent, and the new rail rate, plus the rate of handling charged by New York steamships, makes the rate Montreal would have to meet so low that the steamship men have come to the conclusion that water ballast is a cheaper freight to carry.

The situation is not expected to last very long, and, as a matter of fact, there is very little grain now offering for export, most of the movement being back to the West, where it is required for local consumption.

PASSED EXAMS.

The results of the examinations at Toronto University were announced Tuesday night and several Peterbough people are included in the lists. In class I. Political Science, Mr. J. E. Hodgson was fourth, taking a post graduate course; in Class III. Household Science, Miss L. Deane. Stanley P. Mather's name appears alone in class II. of Astronomy and Physics. Mr. Mather attended the Collegiate here a few years ago, obtaining his elementary knowledge of Mathematics in Mr. C. Fessenden's class.

BIG EXCURSION.

The Sunday schools of Peel county are running an excursion to Peterborough on Wednesday, July 7th, and it is expected that over 800 visitors will be brought to the city. One train will leave Acton, and another will start at Orangeville, and they will be consolidated at West Toronto. The special will arrive here at 10.50 o'clock, and will leave at 5.30. This will be one of the largest excursions of the year.

The Canoe Company were Turned Down

The Peterborough Canoe Company's request for a grant of land and fixed assessment was next taken up and discussed. The aldermen did not take to the application very favorably, and it was decided to leave the matter over until the company puts in a different propositon At present they will not guarantee to enlarge their premises or to employ any more men, or they do not offer any compensation to the city for the land or privileges.

Pleaded Guilty.

An Irishman, being recently on trial for some offence, pleaded not guilty, and the jury being in the box, the State solicitor proceeded to call Mr. Furkisson as a witness. With the utmost innocence Patrick turned his face to the Court and said "Do I understand, yer honor, that Mr. Furkisson is to be a witness forninst me again?" The judge said dryly, "It seems so." "Well, thin, yer honor, I plade guilty, sure, an' yer honor, plaise, not because I am guilty, for I'm as innocent as yer honor'ssucking babe, but just on account of saving Mr. Furkisson's sowl."

Catarrhozone

The only cure for Catarrh Endorsed by the Medical Profession.

Physicians boldly state that every requirement of a perfect cure for Catarrhal diseases is fulfilled in Catarrhozone, and on this account it is prescribed by almost every intelligent doctor.

It is the most powerful antiseptic known. When the lungs are filled with its germ-killing vapor the microbes which cause and maintain the unhealthy condition of the mucous membranes die immediately. Disease germs cannot exist where Catarrhozone is used.

Although very penetrating, Catarrhozone is a soothing and healing treatment. It quickly heals the raw spots and dislays irritation and congestion of the mucous membranes.

When using Catarrhozone you don't have to wait all day for relief; it comes with every breath taken through the inhaler. Head and throat are cleared and cleansed almost at once. Droppings in the throat, headache, coughing, and spitting, and all other disagreeable symptoms of catarrh are banished by a few days' use of this superior remedy.

Catarrhal diseases of every description yield without much difficulty to Catarrhozone. When used for Bronchitis, Lung Trouble and Colds, it affords not only instant relief, but cures in a very short time.

Croup, Whooping Cough and Winter Nie simply won't live any time if Catarrhozone is inhaled four times daily, and as a safeguard for Pneumonia and Consumption it has no equal.

Better get a Catarrhozone Inhaler; use it occasionally, and you won't have a cough or cold in the head or catarrh. These afflictions can be prevented by Catarrhozone as well as cured. LIQUOR LICENSES AND DRINKING.

In all 200 liquor licenses will be cut off in Ontario on May 1. The question that at once suggests itself says the Kingston Standard, is —will the cutting off of these liquor licenses reduce the amount of liquor consumed? If it does, then there will be a strong argument for the further cutting off of licenses. And there need be no difficulty in settling this question. We can find out exactly how much liquor is manufactured and sold in Canada every year. Government statistics will supply us with with that information.

Under these circumstances it becomes the duty of those advocating a reduction in the number of licenses to go into the question of consumption and give to the public all the information they can get on that subject. With so large a reduction in the number of licenses there ought to be a correspondingly decreased consumption of liquor throughout Ontario. Opponents of reduction say that a smaller number of licensed houses does not mean a decrease in drinking. But those who favor reduction and those opposed to it will have a chance to get at the facts hereafter and will be in a position to prove the truth of their assertions or will be oblidged to admit that they were wrong.

DRILL IN THE SCHOOLS.

The fact is gratifying that a considerable amount of opinion is being expressed in favor of the promotion of drill and rifle-shooting in schools in Canada, by voices which are totally opposed to so-called "militarism"—such as, for instance, those of Prof. Goldwin Smith, the Christian Guardian, the Montreal Witness, etc, says the Ottawa Journal. These see and say that a certain amount of regular physical exercise definitely directed, is a desirable thing for school boys; that, to promote it, some stimulus of a nature appealing to the boyish imagination and prediction is necessary; and that there can be no better stimulus than one which tends to national patriotism and strength.

It is fair to ask those who oppose the drill idea what sort of things they expect our Canadian boys to be? The persons who denounce the idea of drill in the schools are of a class who are even more loud in their denunciation of what they think to be the excessive attention given to athletic sports by the rising generation. They proclaim that sport has become such a frenzy with English-speaking boys as to be absurd, and injurious to their mental and moral stamina. They want to choke off the tendency to sports, at least in great part. Now, if they will not have drill or rifle-shooting either, what sort of human calves do they expect to rear in this country?

MUNICIPAL CREDIT.

Municipal bookkeeping methods are running the gauntlet of reform, remarks The Monetary Times. The sinking funds of many municipalities have managed to eke out an existence, doing meanwhile all kinds of wonderful, statistical, acrobatic feats in order to keep up with the times. The other day auditors discovered that the amount which should have been set aside for sinking funds on debentures issued by a large city, was more than ten thousand dollars short of the required sum.

The Ontario Railway and Municipal Board think that the municipalities of that province should be compelled to place their sinking funds in its care. Several municipalities have done this without pressure. Others protest that the civic business is no business of the Municipal Board. One has argued that the municipalities should be allowed to manage their own affairs, including "the investment of their own money."

The illogical position of such an argument is obvious. The money expended by municipalities is borrowed and securities are issued therefor. The investor thus takes a lively interest in how it is expended and in the matter of sinking fund provision. In older countries, municipalities are responsible to a central authority, such as the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, for a statement as to their financial position. The fact that the board would be appraised of the condition of the municipal sinking fund, in itself would enhance the value of securities issued by municipalities under the jurisdiction of an important authority.

LAW REFORM IN ONTARIO.

Hon. Mr. Foy has introduced into the Ontario Legislature a bill incorporating his plans for law reform. It is very technical; and we are told that it is only through the explanation of lawyers that laymen can hope to understand it. This fact may be regarded in itself as comment on the need for the simplification of the law and legal procedure. The bill, as interpreted, will abolish some forms of local appeal limit appeals to the Privy Council, increase jurisdiction of county and district courts, and permit contracts between solicitors and clients.

Appeals to the Privy Council are to be limited to constitution questions, to suits for more than $10,000 exclusive or costs, to matters of such magnitude as to warrant appeal in the opinion of the Divisional Court, and to cases where the liberty of the subject is involved. This still leaves a good deal of material to be appealed to London; but it ought to have the effect of striking from the list most actions for damages by poor litigants against wealthy corporations. Unless the action be for more than $10,000, it cannot as we understand it be so appealed. In fact, actions for damages ought to be settled by a single appeal; for they are usually entered by people who cannot afford to employ lawyers to keep up a longer fight.

The permission to silicitors to make a written agreement with clients as to the amounts to be paid them for their services, is an invasion of the old rule that professional services are rendered on honor. How this will work out must remain to be seen. It is altogether likely that most lawyers and clients will not take advantage of it. Where clients feel more secure with such an agreement in their pockets, they will probably be able to find lawyers who will give one to them; but a lawyer who cannot be trusted to charge fairly—especially in view of the supervision of the taxing officer—is not likely to be trusted with the conduct of an important case. These agreements, by the way, are also to be submitted to the taxing officer who has power to take the opinion of a judge; and the judge may either reduce the charges or tear up the agreement. A solicitor is still to be forbidden to purchase any interest from his client in any action, thus being discouraged from taking cases on speculation.

The debate on this bill in the Legislature should throw more light on many of its provisions. There should be some lay members of that body who will think it worth while to inform themselves fully on the subject and discuss the whole matter from a layman's point of view. The lawyers are not to be blamed for thinking professionally on such a subject; though a lawyer who thought more of his public than of his private career might win himself a great reputation by taking this issue up seriously and securing for the plain people a plain law which they could understand, and making it easy for the poor client to get justice against the rich corporation. Probably no other question now before the public mind would so surely recommend a champion to the mystified many who regard "law" chiefly as something to keep out of

Don't risk even one single penny!

And I will tell you why I say this.

It is because every package of Dr. Shoop's medicine is absolutely free if it fails.

No one need risk even one single penny.

Just think what this means to the suffering sick!

No risk, no expense, nothing whatever unless health comes. For 23 full days and without the risk of a penny, you can use either of my remedies—Dr. Shoop's Restorative or Dr. Shoop's Blood Tablets.

Then why take any chances whatever?

Why purchase any medicine whose maker dare not back it just as I do by this remarkable offer?

And besides, I am no stranger to you. My "Restorative" and "Blood Tablets" have made Dr. Shoop's Remedies known in almost every drug store in the land. They are widely sold. We make no chance when we offer them.

For twenty years Dr. Shoop's medicines have become standard all over America.

And I have gained honest and responsible druggists in every village everywhere to sell my remedies for years. These selected druggists are authorized to refund the sick—and the entire risk is mine alone.

Just write me first for an order.

I have an agent in almost every community—but all druggists are not authorized to grant the 23 day test.

So drop me a line, please—and thus save all disappointments and delays.

Besides, you are free to consult me by letter as you would your home physician. Do so freely and fully—if you desire. My advice and the book below are yours—and without cost. Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up some serious ailment. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private prescription or personal advice plan.

Besides, the books will open up new and helpful ideas to you. They tell of my 20 years experience as the [illegible] and in Hospitals. All pharmacists [illegible] and noted are told of here. AFTER TREATMENT

Peter E. Swanson, of Kalamazoo, Mich., relates his experience:

"I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indiscretion and excesses in early youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I worked or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me guessed my secret. Imaginative dreams at night weakened me—my back ached, had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair loose, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first-class physicians, wore an electric belt for three months, went to Mt. Clemens for baths, but received little benefit. While at Mt. Clemens I was induced to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, though I had lost all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the New Method Treatment and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic. I could feel the vigor going through the nerves. I was cured mentally and physically. I have sent them many patients and will continue to do so."

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

AUSTRALIA OFFERS A DREADNOUGHT.

Mr. Deakin's return to power in Australia is followed by the announcement of a change in naval policy on the part of the Commonwealth. The new Government has cabled an offer to the Imperial authorities to present a Dreadnought to the Royal Navy, or to contribute the equivalent in cash, should that form of aid be preferred. This warm and substantial expression of Imperial sentiment is no more than what was to be expected from a statesman of Mr. Deakin's record and convictions.

It was a Government of which he was a member that committed Australia to a yearly contribution of $1,000,000 to the cost of maintaining Britain's navy. Since that arrangement was entered into the Admiralty has made a radical change in the strategic disposition of the navy. Instead of continuing to keep squadrons at naval stations in many parts of the Empire, it adopted a system of concentration. This drawing of the Empire's sea power close to the home centre changed the problem for Australia, and gave rise to a demand there for local naval defence. Accordingly, the $1,000,000 annual contribution was dropped, and a scheme of coast defence was substituted for it. Instead of adhering to the plan of an annual money vote to the Imperial navy, Australia decided to furnish the personnel of its existing naval force, and provide a flotilla to take the place the British vessels had held in her waters. The plan further called for the training of Australian seamen to the men of the Royal Navy. Australia has now thirteen or fourteen vessels suitable for harbor defence, and will soon have several more. The Fisher Ministry entered into engagements for the building of three new destroyers that will shortly be delivered, and proposed to ask Parliament to approve further naval construction. When Mr. Deakin was defeated, his policy was continued in so far as it related to Australia's own defence. But the Fisher Government did not sympathize with his views as a supporter of the central navy. When it was discovered, a few months ago, that Germany was outstripping Britain in naval construction, the whole British Empire became roused to the necessity of strengthening the Empire's sea power. Without waiting to get the sense of Parliament, the New Zealand Government cabled to the British Government an offer of one Dreadnought, or two Dreadnoughts. The action of the New Zealand Ministry was afterwards strongly supported in the Legislature. The Australian Government of the day. Mr. Fisher being then Prime Minister, was urged by Mr. Deakin to follow New Zealand's example. Two of the States of the Commonwealth proposed to raise the price of a Dreadnought or two by joint contributions. A number of wealthy Australians came forward with offers of large sums to make up the price of a Dreadnought by private subscriptions. But the Fisher Government could not be moded from its determination to limit its measures on naval account to projects for adding to the system of local defence. On this question the Fisher Government was finally wrecked. Mr. Deakin came back to office, and one of his first acts was the offering of a Dreadnought.

Of the great dominions of the Empire, is Canada to be the only one to stand aloof at a time all should be joining in a grand and impressive demonstration of Imperial solidarity? This country is as warm-hearted in its Imperialism as is any part of the British world. Its Government misrepresents it. If Sir Wilfrid Laurier is not more studious to bring his views into accord with those of the Canadian people, he may experience the political fate of Mr. Fisher.

A LOCAL FAVORITE COMING "THE GINGERBREAD MAN."

Ross Snow and Freddy Nice are a pair of comedians that anybody would be glad to see and they are coming here soon. May Bouton has left the Stubborn Cinderella Company to join the Ginger Bread Man Company, where she won't have to do buck and wing but will have a chance to sing A. Baldwin Sloane's beautiful music. She has a beautiful voice that hits high "E" with facile ease, and a figure that Venus might have been proud of, when she puts on a gown the melting pot loses its job, and the boys just naturally sit up. Carrick Major, the magnoninficient baritone who played Machievalian's Fudge last season in the Ginger Bread Man is still with the Company, and renders "Queen of My Dreams" as he only can render it. It is a treat to hear such an accomplished artist as he is, and his fine presence and superb acting are always a pleasure to behold. Ross Snoow makes a brag that he can catch smelts with any man alive, Ross lives up in Maine where the smelts come from. Ross says that Maine is all right in the summer time but that it is too far from Milwaukee when the Robbin hibernates.

Rose Murray, the Soubrette, she of the dainty pedal extremeties, is flitting through the role of Margery in the Ginger Bread Man this season, and going some at that. She has a new song "Maggie was there with her hair in a braid" that sort of touches the spot.

Homing Pigeons.

An interesting event will take place at Midland, Ont., on June 19th when it is proposed by The Atlantic Combine, and up-to-date organization for racing pigeons for pools and prizes, to release about 2,000 to 3,000 birds at that point. These comprise 300 to 400 lofts that will compete in the contest and the birds will be shipped from Portland, Maine, Boston, Mass., New York, Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, and other points in the United States. The liberation will be effected between 5 and 6 a. m. on june 19th, as near the earlier hour as possible, so as to give all birds an opportunity to reach their lofts by night (in some cases 500 miles distant). In the event of unfavorable day. Unfavorable weather would be rain or fog, brisk south, southeast or southeast winds.

There will be considerable prize money divided among the sections that will compete. It is the intention of the combine to fly about two races yearly if this one should ptove successful. The idea of the combine race is new to America and was taken from England where it has been in operation for many years with ever increasing popularity. Last year's entries in England ran over 7,000 birds and many thousands of dollars were paid in pools and prizes. This flight will be of interest to the people of Ontario and as the birds will fly direct to their several homes, it is possible that many will be seen by those who watch for them.

Canada, including the Anglican.

The Bishop protested against the great cost of the General Synod, $11,000.

Session Every Six Years.

He suggested a session only every six years. The reports presented were of little value; they gave conveners an opportunity of spreading themselves, or of riding some favorite hobby. He praised the Laymen's Missionary Movement, as of God.

Kingston, June 8—The Synod of the Diocese of Ontario opened today, and the feature this afternoon was the charge of Bishop Mills, the first in two years. Telling of his Continental tour, he touched on social customs which he found changed. One was that women smoked in public. After encountering Suffragettes he felt that the high ideals of womanhood which he had do not extend generally beyond Canada. Then as to the Suffragette movement, he said;

"I do not think the English Government has dealt wisely with the women connected with this movement, which intensely in earnest, and determined. If the government had given them an opportunity of stating their case, and had listened patiently to them, there doubtless would have been none of the scenes which have been so absurd, and there would be none of the difficulties which the government, when it goes to the country, is sure to encounter from this movement. These women have an influence in the home, and will exert that influence over their husbands, fathers, and brothers, who will sympathise with them because they will feel that they have not been fairly dealt with and will vote, guided by that sympathy.

"Attacks are now constantly being made," the bishop observed, "not merely from without, but within the fold, not merely by open enemies, but by avowed friends, not merely against the Old Testament, but against the New; not merely against revelation, but against God. The miraculous is sneered at; even the Resurrection is ridiculed as an impossibility—as the outcome of excitement and feverish imagination on the part of Christ's disciples, who had undergone such a trial and disappointment by His death. And yet there is no fact of history more clearly established, or which rests on more reliable testimony. The Incarnation and the Atonement are written off, and placed by not a few in the same category in which they have placed the earlier chapters of Genesis, as belonging to myths and fables.

LITTLE HOPE OF UNION.

The Bishop is not hopeful of union between the Protestant Church on of Canada, including the Anglican. The motive with many is worldly. He believed God could bring about union as by a miracle, but his conviction was that no union would take place before the second coming of Christ. He said;

"The teaching of Holy Scripture is that the Church, at the second coming of Christ, will be found outwardly divided. The outward framework of the Church militant is to suffer a wreck; the bones of the mystical Body are to be out of joint. Unbelief will be rife and rampant; the very existence of God will be denied, the revelation He has made, will be ignored. There will be no united Christendom to witness to the truth; men will be lovers of pleasure, more than lovers of God, and will take the old Epicurean motto as their rule of life, "Let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we die." Such is the picture which the Scriptures prophetically set before us. Toward this condition we are fast drifting."

Outside of diocesan affairs, the Bishop protested against the great cost of the General Synod, $11,000. He suggested a session only every six years. The reports presented were of little value; they gave conveners an opportunity of spreading themselves, or of riding some favorite hobby. He praised the Laymen's Missionary Movement as of God; if it is, it must succeed.

MY NEIGHBOR'S HENS.

My neighbor's hens delight to come,
And make a morning call;
In fact, their chosen resting place,
Is on my garden wall.
And every time my back is turned,
They come with skip and bound,
And do the back and wing upon
My newly planted ground.

They like to wander in my paths,
And while the hours away,
They complement my gardening,
At sunrise every day.
You see, their land, it is so plain,
And mine no superfine,
That they prefer to leave their own
And roam around on mine.
My neighbor's hens I'd sorely miss
If they should move away,
You see, they undertake to change
My scenery every day.
I'd grow so good the bye,
This earth would be no place for me
I'd surely have to die.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart and Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days tests will surely tell. Try it once, and see! Sold by all dealers.

Dr. R. W. Bell will Visit Schools with Medical Health Officer Today

Dr. R. W. Bell, Provincial Health Officer from Toronto, arrived in the city last night and immediately held a consultation with Dr. A. W. McPherson, the new medical health officer, Mayor Rush, Dr. McNulty and Dr Burnham, chairman of the Board of Health. The object of Dr. Bell's visit is to advise the medical health officer on the best methods to adopt to stamp out the few cases of small pox which have developed in the city.

The medical men discussed the situation with Mayor Rush, and this morning Dr Pell, Dr. McPherson and Dr. McNulty will visit the King Edward school. In all probability the children will be vaccinated at once and every precaution will now be taken to stamp out the disease and to prevent it spreading.

The Council, the Board of Health and the Board of Education are to be congratulated upon their prompt steps in this matter, which will probably mean that nothing of a serious nature will result. The people have nothing to fear. But it would be advisable for all to be vaccinated to prevent contagion.

Purchase of Burleigh Falls Power Discussed by the Committee

The Power Committee are busy on the Burleigh Falls power scheme, and although only the preliminary work is being done so far some progress is being made. In future, however it will have to move faster as the option for the purchase is only good until July 1st. If, however, the city is then prepared to talk real business to the company and get things in shape so that a by-law may be submitted to the people the Central Ontario Power Co., will extend the option.

The committee discussed several phases of the question last night, and came to the conclusion that if the company's engineer's report is correct and Burleigh power can be delivered here at the price estimated Peterborough will then be ahead of all municipalities in the matter of power. It is to ascertain how near correct the company's estimates are that the city will engage an expert engineer of their own.

Moved by Ald Hicks and Ald. Gillespie that the committee make a counter proposition to the Central Ontario Power Co., to take all their power from Burleigh Falls at the price mentioned in their letter.

The object of this was to save the city the trouble of developing the power, which would be much better. In the meantime the committee will go ahead and make arrangements for securing an engineer to make a report to the city on Burleigh Falls powers.

Multi-Millionaire

ed into the great concern known as the Fore Street Warehouses. Morrison, senior, entered Parliament as Liberal member for St. Ives, and helped pass the Reform Bill. In 1838 he bought Bryldon House, near Reading, and when he died in 1857 he left a fortune of more than £4,000,000. His eldest son, Charles, inherited something more than £1,000,000 of this amount; and instead of proceeding to live in quiet magnificence on the interest, he set to work to increase his wealth. Nothing could be simpler than his method. He would wait until a bear movement would depreciate the price of good securities. Then he would invade the market and buy about a million pounds' worth. These he would hold until the inevitable upward tendency would set in, when he would as quietly dispose of his stock, a sumptuous equipage would pass without Morrison buying or selling a shingle share. It did not matter to him how long he had to wait. He knew his time would come; and how often it did come may be estimated by the difference between the million he began with and the ten or fifteen millions he left behind.

The Backbone of the City

In times of panic Charles Morrison was probably the most important man in England. Time and time again he was of enormous service to the Stock Exchange with his huge orders, which would put the brakes on the market when the bottom seemed to be dropping out of values. The Times says that he habitually kept a large sum of gold on hand as a reserve in case of serious financial trouble. Besides his operations on the market, Mr. Morrison was a student of real estate values, and owned some of the most remunerative properties in London. His rent roll from his various office buildings was about £30,000 a year; and he was one of the largest owners of Berkshire property.

A Fortune for the Government

The London papers say that Mr Morrison, though living like a Spartan, was not a miser; and that some of his tenants never paid him any rent. He spent £4,000 a year in keeping up his beautiful country place, and another £200 would probably cover his living expenses. The government will receive about £2,000,000 in inheritance duties from his estate.

Smallpox Outbreak Dealt with Promptly

Peterborough is now face to face with a small outbreak of smallpox. At first one or two cases were discovered and they were dealt with promptly. Recently, however, several more cases have developed including three in the King Edward school. These latters were found yesterday afternoon and morning, and Public School Inspector A. Stewart at once reported to the chairman of the Board of Education. A hurried meeting of the board was held yesterday morning when the situation was investigated. The result was that a resolution was passed requesting the council to take steps at once to have a new and competent medical health officer appointed who could take this matter in hand and deal firmly with it.

The council met yesterday afternoon with the Board of Education Board of Health, several members of the Board of Education spoke very strongly and claimed that negligence had been experienced by the health authorities. This outbreak must be checked at once.

Dr. Bingham, who has been Medical Health Officer and City Physician for many years, was present and tendered his resignation.

This was accepted and Dr. A. W. McPherson was appointed in his place to assume his new duties at once.

Dr. Bell, provincial health officer, was notified yesterday, and arrived in the city last night, and held a consultation with Dr. McPherson and Mayor Rush.

The Council decided to leave the matter of dealing with the smallpox outbreak in the Mayor's hands to act in conjunction with the two doctors and to do whatever was thought best, and any expense incurred will be paid upon certificate of the Mayor.

The probability is that all the children of the King Edward school will have to be vaccinated before attending classes. The mayor also has authority to compel every citizen to be vaccinated, and it would be advisable for citizens to be vaccinated anyway.

The Provincial Health Inspector Had Very Exciting Three-Weeks

Toronto, June 9.—Dr. R. W. Bell, one of the Provincial Health Inspectors, is back at the Parliament Buildings today after a somewhat exciting three weeks of it in the Parry Sound district, where he has been fighting an outbreak of smallpox.

Dr. Bell found that the disease had gained considerable headway in the district lying around Port Severn, and found also that the people living in the district had a very strong objection to being either vaccinated or quarantined. On one occasion an infuriated band of French-Canadians, who had been at a celebration, attacked Dr. Bell and his assistant, and drove them out.

The doctor thereupon telegraphed for sanitary police, and two men were sent up at once. It was suggested that Dr. Bell produce some documents with large seals as he was the most impressive things he could use among the ignorant people of the district, and he extemporized some blue signs with notices in red ink.

Dr Montgomery of Barrie, the two policemen, and Dr. Bell, established a hospital under canvas, and at present sixteen patients are still there with ten in a neighboring house. Ten families remain to be "rounded up" by Dr Montgomery as a precautionary measure. A great many of the cases were among children.

"The remaining cases are extremely mild and at distances of from one to four miles from Port Severn," said Dr. Bell. "The country is off the wildest, and we frequently had to use horse, foot, and canoe to get to our destination, and the mosquitoes are terrible. By the first of July we expect to have the outbreak completely stamped out. We vaccinated 292 people in all."

The Ex-Medical Health Officer

As will be seen in another part of the paper Dr J. Bingham has resigned his office as medical health officer and city physician, and his resignation has been accepted. It is generally to be regretted that Dr. Bingham has found it necessary to take this step. He has been medical health officer for the past ten years and has always been a most faithful servant to the city. He has handled successfully several bad outbreaks of scarlet fever and diphtheria, during his term of office, and has rendered valuable assistance in many other ways.

He has lived in the city and county for a great many years, and is well known to all and he has a very large circle of friends.

Dr. Bingham's resignation was as follows:

Peterborough, June 9, 1909

To the Mayor and Council of the City of Peterborough;

Gentlemen,—I take this opportunity of resigning the offices of Town Physician and Medical Health Officer for the City of Peterborough.

I desire also to thank this council and all preceding councils, since I took office, for the very generous support which I received from them in my endeavors to serve the good citizens of Peterborough.

Respectfully,

J. BINGHAM, M.D.

MAKES IDIOTS.

Rev. C. W. Skinner Says That It Means More to Humanity, Than Even Religion.

Buffalo, N.Y., June 8. — At the opening of the second day's session of the 94th annual conference on the education of backward, truant delinquent children, here this morning, Rev. C. W. Skinner, superintendent of the Industrial Home School of Washington, D.C., in an address on "The effect of play in the development of a child," made some rather striking comments upon the value of play.

He said that play is too deeply inset among the instincts of the human race to be taken out of the construction of children.

"Excessive play," he said, "and the vicious will be an idiot—children do not play.

"It would mangle humanity more to extirpate play than religion—the instinct of procreation. Play is intenched next to life itself, with precedence over the family and the Church. Next to the State, which cares for life, should come care for play.

"Suppress play and you have the weakened-faced cotton mill boy of the South and the coal-breaker boy of Pennsylvania for the present generation, and devitalized humanity for the following.

"But it is a crime against society to omit the proper direction of play. Properly directed play makes captains of industry, or rather, it promotes what makes true captains—character."

A Mighty Ruler He

Who wisely rules himself.

Curious what a scrap you have now and then (maybe two or three "nows" and several "thens") with what the old Scotchman called the "deevelish part" of your make-up.

• • •

It's safe to say "you" and not miss the mark, for we all belong to the same lodge, and it seems to be a part of some great plan to try us out and see if we can thus earn the right to rule greater things.

• • •

Most every day some one of the many "warriors of the enemy" comes across your pathway and puts up a scrap to see if he can rule.

• • •

You must be well trained and alert or he will make you bend the knee, or perhaps, break a leg or permanently cripple you.

• • •

There are several of these "enemies" which can be named over, but for the purpose of this article let us speak of the narcotics, the family which includes morphine, whisky, coffee, cocaine, tea tobacco, etc., all the same family, each member having a different degree of strength.

• • •

Now, coffee is perhaps one of the most plausible and deceitful of them all.

• • •

It has many friends, but cooly and cunningly knifes them, and they don't know where the blow comes from.

• • •

Many and many a poor, nervous wreck with weak heart, suffers by day and lies sleepless at night without suspecting that his "dear old friend," Mr. Coffee, is quietly pushing him along towards the silent city. No, coffee don't hurt everyone by any manner of means, but it does pick out the highly organized individuals and wrecks them by the score.

• • •

Perhaps the victim realize it, but has fallen time and again in the battle and been whipped so often that he has given up and bowed the head to the chain of his master.

"I simply cannot give up my coffee," is the wail, and so day by day he grovels the master stretches him a few turns tighter on the rack of suffering.

• • •

Make sure of one thing. Once you become conscious of the fact that a fight is on, suffering follows steadily until you are able to rule.

• • •

Then comes the reward—comfort, health and happiness for the victor.

• • •

It is good work to stand right up and smash away with a "mailed fist" but it's much more comfortable to whip Mr. Coffee by throwing him "right over the side of the mountain" and give his place to Postum.

• • •

A steaming, fragrant cup of this famous beverage has the clear seal-brown color which changes to a rich golden brown under cream.

• • •

Oft times, remarkable changes quickly follow the victory of one's better self over a known enemy. Peaceful sleep, balanced nerves, stronger heart, and all the joy which comes after the removal of a drug and its replacement with natural food elements which old Dame Nature is only to glad to seize upon for the building material so badly needed and so long denied.

• • •

Well, here's best wishes to you, reader. Hope you don't get "licked" too often, it's weakening.

Olympic Excursion was a Huge Success Went to Buckhorn

The members of the Olympic club got a divoree from their wives and families yesterday and went on their annual outing to Stony Lake points. It was the first excursion for pleasure and real enjoyment which will be hard to beat this season. The excursion which was composed of a bunch of the best all round fellows in the city, left on the G. T. P. morning train for Lakefield where they boarded the steamer Stony Lake and went around to Burleigh falls and Buckhorn.

Chief agitator W. E. Leek had the outing in hand and all who have ever been with the club during the past 25 years or more know that only the best kind of a time would be provided. It is fun from start to finish. As soon as the boat left the wharf the usual Sunday school classes were called to order and the program of exercises was carried out to the letter. Some of the boys who reneged on their lessons got up on the upper deck and took in the scenery which at this time of the year is very beautiful.

Upon the arrival of the party at Buckhorn they were met by Mr. Tom Eastwood mayor of that well known and popular resort and he read an address of welcome 27 feet long which was taken as read and placed on file for purusal when the boys had more leasure. The welcome was barely extended when the party threw up their hats and made a dart for the dining room where they knew Tom had a very appetizing meal awaiting them. One of the features of the menu was fish, not bass or 'lunge because the season is not open yet, but suckers of all varieties and shapes and in different states of preservation.

After luncheon a short time was spent at the favorite resort and then the excursionists got aboard and started on their homeward journey. On the boat the classes were resumed and a jolly time was spent. They arrived home in good time and feeling much better for their outing.

New Rectory of St. John's is a Modern Residence

St. John's rectory or the new home of Rev. Canon Davidson is now nearing completion and when it is ready for occupancy it will be one of most substantial, most beautiful and most modern homes in Peterborough. It is large and massive and was designed for comfort and convenience and at the same time to present an attractive appearance. In all the essentials the architect, Mr. John Belcher, has been successful. St. John's rectory is situated on the top of the hall at the south west corner of Brock and Sheridan streets. It fronts on Brock street with the kitchen entrance on Sheridan street. The building is 37 feet by 60 feet with a basement, two stories and an attic. The walls are of red pressed brick and solid. The foundations are of stone and the partitions in the cellar are of solid brick with plaster ceiling and concrete floors. Throughout the whole structure only the best of material was used and the best workmanship put on.

The contract was awarded to Ald. A. A. McIntyre, whose reputation as a competent careful and modern builder was a guarantee that only the best would be done. Mr. McIntyre has not only kept up his reputation but has improved it. He has certainly made a very handsome and creditable job of it, and for many years to come the rectory will stand as a monument to his good workmanship, as do a great many other large buildings in the city.

The rectory is not yet completed but it will be within a very few weeks. It is so far advanced now that one can gain a good idea of how the finished article will appear.

There are two street entrances, one for the front on the house on Brock street and one to the kitchen on Sheridan street and there is a porch to each with a balcony above. On the south and west sides is a large verandah with casement doors leading out from the rector's study and the drawing rooms.

In the cellar are seven rooms for the furnace, laundry, coal, wood etc. and there are 13 cellar windows so that it is well lighted and ventilated and it is very convenient. On the south side is an outside entrance with concrete steps leading down.

On the main floor are the rector's study on the west side. It is finished in white with an oak floor and a fire place.

The reception hall is finished in oak with oak floor and is waxed and rubbed instead of painted. There is also a fire place in the hall and in the dining room. It is mantel finished with pannel ceilings in wood in the hall and dining room. The kitchen is large and convenient. There are two pantries off it which are fitted up with cupboards and shelves while there are cupboards etc. in the kitchen. The butler's pantry is between the kitchen and dining room.

There are two stairs leading to the second floor. The front stairs are very handsome, being of solid oak and all hand work. The back stairs lead up from the kitchen.

On the second floor are a sewing room, three bed rooms, a linen room and two bath rooms. There are two bedrooms with grates in them and there are two stairs leading up to the attic. The attic is all finished off and divided in several good sized rooms which will be used for the children's play house and for storage rooms.

Altogether the new rectory for St. John's is most modern and complete. The lighting and heating will shortly be put in and then the house will be ready for its occupants.

Three Good Reasons for Entering Big Prize Contest

The Prizes are Unequalled in Value and Attractiveness—Your Friends Should Know of Your Ambition to Win a Prize and Once Knowing It, They will Rally to Your Assistance—

Are you still hesitating as to whether you will enter The Morning Times' Great $3,000 Prize Contest? If so, we can give you some excellent reasons for delaying no longer. The first of these certainly is that you are not all apt to have again an opportunity for winning such valuable prizes. Another reason is that the sooner you enter, the sooner your feiends will know that you are bent on getting ahead, and they will make up their minds to give you all the aid in their power instead of promising to help the first person who comes to them with a request for a subscription. Your friends would rather vote for you than for another, but if they do not know of your wish to compete in the contest they will naturally oblige the first applicant.

The third reason for making no delay is that the first step is the only hard one. When you find yourself started with one thousand votes for nomination, and a few coupons and subscriptions, you are fairly launched, and the rest comes easily.

NOMINATE YOURSELF OR YOUR FRIEND.

You may nominate yourself or your friend, but the best plan is to do it to-day and not let anyone get a long start of you.

All the prizes of life are won by those whose motto is 'Do it NOW.' Make up your mind to be on one of the winners and your friends will be proud of you, and you will be proud of yourself when you win the splendid Touring Car or one of the other prizes.

TIME TO SUBSCRIBE.

There is no time like the present for subscribing to The Morning Times. If you renew your subscription now, or take out one during the next few weeks, you will be giving much help to your favorite candidate.

A GOOD PLAN.

A well organized business is the only one that prospers. Why not apply business methods to your campaign? Organize your friends into a brigade who will work for you. Call at the Contest Department of The Morning Times and get a receipt book for yourself and one for each of your nearest friends, those who care enough to see you win to be willing to do a little personal work for you.

Their circle of acquaintances doubtless includes some not to be found in yours. Here is where they can be of the greatest assistance to you. Ask them to interest their friends and to induce them to interest others in your success. In this way you form a sort of endless friendship chain, and a much larger territory will be worked for you than you could hope to cover alone.

A WORD OF EXPLANATION.

Most of our prizes speak for themselves, and when you have once seen them there is no use adding a word, for their merit is apparent; but one cannot see (save with the mind's eye) such a thing as a trip to the Seattle Exposition in the far West now open.

READ ALL ABOUT THE CONTEST.

You should read all about the contest each day in The Morning Times. Read the big announcements and advertisements, and also the stories, which will keep you posted as to every detail. If you feel at any time that something is not perfectly clear to you, let us hear from you at once and we will always be glad to explain. We want every one who enters the contest to feel that their interest is ours, and that anything we can do to help them is just the thing we wish most to do.

A NOMINATION BLANK.

A nomination blank will be found on this page. Cut it out, fill in your name and address, then bring or send it to The Morning Times Contest department. A representative will be glad to call, and explain more fully in regard to the contest if you will 'phone to us. Enter to-day and win.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE?

Why, you are. Every man or woman who feels that they can show the simple QUALITIES OF PLUCK AND PERSEVERANCE, COUPLED WITH A LAUDABLE AMBITION is the right person to enter the contest and to win one of the prizes.

In all the territory in which The Times circulates the only worthy persons whom we reject are the employes of The Times. No employe of The Morning Times, or member of his or her family will be permitted to participate in this contest.

Took Girls in Automobile and Threatened to Shoot Them

Joy Riders Smash Van

AUTOMOBILE WAS DRIVEN AT A MILE A MINUTE.

Girls Say They Were Abducted—Men Held By the Police—Causes a Sensation.

New York, June 10.—An automobile containing two men and two young girls smashed into a furniture van yesterday on the road between Hastings and Dobbs Ferry. The car was going at a speed of nearly a mile a minute. One man was badly injured, and the other man and the two girls stunned. The machine was the property of Albert McClave, of No. 54 West 72d street, son-in-law of the late John A McCall.

The machine was being driven at the time, it is said, by Daniel Cush, who is employed as a chauffeur by Mr. McClave. With him were Daniel Demson, of No. 108 Morningside avenue; Florence Jacobs, of No. 2371 Seventh avenue, and Belle Daly, of No. 17 Grove street. It is said that Cush took out the car on Monday night, without Mr. McClave's permission.

As Cush and Demson were proceeding north in Eighth avenue, above 125th street, early in the evening they stopped and invited the two girls to take a ride, according to statements made by the girls. After driving about Harlem for an hour, the car was turned north into the country, and soon was racing up the level stretch of road along the Hudson River. A short stop was made at Dobbs Ferry, and then the return trip began.

The Jacobs girl says that Cush sent the big machine ahead at reckless speed, in spite of her protests, and that it soon lurched from side to side of the road in an alarming manner, while Cush kept increasing the speed. As the car dashed around a sharp turn in the road, almost on two wheels, the large moving van suddenly loomed up in the darkness. As the girls screamed in terror, the auto ran into the rear of the van. Cush was thrown against the body of the van.

So great had been the speed of the car that the van was smashed like so much kindling wood, and the auto ploughed its way through the body of the wagon for almost half its own length. The engine was driven through the body of the auto. The sound of the crash and the cries of the injured called many persons in the neighborhood to the scene. Calls for ambulances were sent to Yonkers and Dobbs Ferry, and Dr. Denniston, of Dobbs Ferry, attended the members of the party until the hospital surgeons arrived.

Cush and the two girls were taken to the Dobbs Ferry Hospital, where the surgeons said that Cush was suffering from a possible fracture of the skull and internal injuries. One side of his face was crushed. Miss Jacobs and Miss Daly were soon brought back to consciousness. Demson was uninjured.

After leaving the hospital Miss Jacobs made a statement to the police, in which she accused the two men of having taken her and Miss Daly on the ride against their will, and said that when they reached the open country they had insisted upon being allowed to leave the machine. She said Cush drew a revolver and threatened to shoot them if they made any trouble. Shortly after this the accident occurred. Acting on this story, the police placed Demson in the Hastings jail and made Cush a prisoner at the hospital.

Mr. McClave went to Hastings yesterday and got the car, which was badly damaged. He is a broker, with offices at No. 67 Ex- was badly damaged.

FRIGHT KILLS BIG WOMAN.

Mrs. Julia Cousins Dies in Pittsburgh—Coffin May go Through Roof.

Pittsburg, June 10.—Mrs. Julia Cousins, said to be the heaviest woman in the world, dropped dead here to-night from fright. She became panic stricken when a fire started in the warehouse next to her home. It took four men to place the body on the bed. Apoplexy, brought on by excitement, caused death. Mrs. Cousins was a mulatto, but often posed as a Caucasian. For many years she travelled with the "greatest show on earth," but about two years ago she had accumulated enough money to start a boarding house. It is feared that a hole will have to be cut through the roof of her home in order to get out the coffin. She weighed 402 pounds.

The Rev. Dr. Pringle Springs a Sensation at the Assembly

"I could have made more money in three months in the last election than I could make in five years in Sydney. I could have got more money for four addresses than I can get in a year in Sydney. I was asked to go into Sir Fred Borden's constituency."

"Who is going to arouse the public conscience? The politicians? Not much. Who are ordained to do it if not the ministers?"

"That was a direct bribe to turn that constituency"—refering to the appointment of fishery inspectors in Victoria County.

"Take whichever you like. It reveals a dreadful condition" — the New Brunswick Commission's report.

"With stories of stolen moneys I could fill the broadside of a newspaper."

Hamilton, June 10.—For over an hour this morning the Presbyterian Assembly listened to a scorching address in connection with the moral and social reform report, by Rev. Dr. Pringle of Yukon fame. His scathing denouncement of device and corruption which he declared stalkeded abroad through the lands was enthusiastically applauded bt the house.

Dr. Pringle's chance came when the report of the board on social and moral reform came up for consideration, and J. C. James, of Charlottetown moved the adoption of this recommendation.

"Dreadful Nonsense" is Lord Milner's Comment--Barbaric Europe

Lord Milner said they had heard much about the re-barbarization of Europe. He thought it dreadful nonsence. If they reflected they would remember that disputes between nations were settled less by war than ever before. One of the most powerful reasons was that nations were organized on the system of national armies, and it was the citizen armies which made for peace.

London, June 10.—At the Imperial Press Conference today Lord Morley presided. Mr. Birrell, Lord Milner and Winston Churchill were present. The subject was "Literature and the Press."

Lord Morley delivered a suggestive and provocative address, tinged with dry humor. He asked the editors to strive for two moderate aims—simolicity and directness—and said it was the presence of the literary elements in an editor which differentiated him from the news-boy shouting scareheads. There was a vast improvement apparent in journalism and criticism, but he wondered how far the oress had its share in the large general forces which present European situation. Was it systematically and perseveringly preaching peace among the nations.

Winston Churchill noticed a tendendency to correct the habit many organs had contracted, namely, "the expressions of views of readers rather than of writers. Concluding, he reminded the pressmen that confidence bred confidence between nations and hatred and suspicion bred the very dangers wherefrom they originated.

BARBARIC EUROPE.

Lord Milner said they had heard much about the re-barbarization of Europe. He thought it dreadful nonsence. If they reflected they would remember that disputes between nations now were settled less by war than ever before. One of the most powerful reasons was that nations were organized on the system of national armies, and it was the citizen armies which made for peace.

BIRRELL WAS WITTY.

Mr. Birrell kept the conference in great humor with a characteristically witty speech. He could not understand why the fourth estate assumed the shackles of party which the other estates of the realm must take up, and reminded them that the fortunes, not only of one empire, but of the world, might largely depend in the future upon the fitness for their task of the writers, whether they wrote books, or day by day.

Sir E. Russell Courtney, Messrs. T. P. O'Connor, Bauer, Gee, of Bengal, and Engelberg, of Pretoria, also contributed, and a motion of thanks to the speakers was oropsed by Mr. J. A. Macdonald.

ARTHUR PEARSON ILL.

At Ranelagh yesterday the delegates witnessed a polo match and afterwards were entertained at dinner at the club house. Sir Hugh Graham expressed for the delegates their regret at the absence of their host, C. Arthur Pearson, through illnes

EXAMINATION FOR DISCOVERY

The examination for discovery in the West Peterborough election protest proceedings was conduted yesterday afternoon before Mr. Wm. J. Johnston in the clerk of the county court's office. This is only the preliminary examination and does not alter the date of the trial in any way.

For Mr. J. H. Burnham, the petitioner, appeared Mr. E. A. Du Vernet, K.C., of Toronto, and Mr. W. H Moore of Peterborough. For Mr. J. R. Stratton, the defendant, appeared Mr. G. H. Watson, K.C., of Toronto, and Mr. R. R. Hall of Peterborough.

ORGANIST IN BERLIN.

Congregation greatly pleased With Playing of Mrs. T. J. Mowat.

The Berlin Telegraph says: An interesting feature of the services in Trinity Methodist church yesterday was the fine organ work of Mrs. T. J. Mowat, the newly appointed organist of the church. Mrs. Mowat has been much sought after since her arrival in Berlin last year as organist for a number of churches in town but for many reasons was unable to comply with these requests, flattering as some of them were. Mrs. Mowat has had wide experience as organist, having filled positions in the most important churches of Peterborough, London, Brockville and Lindsay, and the congregation are to be congratulated.

COLD IN THE HEAD

What's the sense in sneezing and sniffling. Dosing with Purgatives, or Bothering with Atomisers?

CATARRHOZONE.

A Convenient Inhaler Treatment is the Proper Remedy to Cure Quickly and Pleasantly.

Some people long ago abandoned the idea of "working off" a cold by means of laxatives and purgatives for the simple reason that the cure is as bad as the disease itself.

To cure a cold in about ten minutes time use Catarrhozone. It is aromatic, delightful to inhale, clean and very simple to use.

Catarrhozone is a vegetable antiseptic and perfectly safe as pharmacies. Even children and infants can use it. The vapor is inhaled at the mouth, and after passing through the respiratory organs is inhaled slowly through the nostrils.

Catarrhozone never disappoints. It stops sneezing, coughing an drunning at the eye, by a few inhalations. Inflammation congestion and all irritation disappear under the influence of Catarrhozone more quickly than can be told.

C. B. College, of Clarence Street, London, says:—"I had a continuous cold in the head for years, and never used anything with such quick results as I derived from five minutes' use of Catarrhozone. I am delighted to find a remedy that cures colds in a few minutes. Catarrhozone cures every time."

To carry a Catarrhozone Inhaler in the pocket means you won't have colds, catarrh or any lung or throat trouble. It keeps these diseases away and is warranted to protect you against all the ills of winter. Complete outfit, with Hard Rubber Pocket Inhaler costs $1.00. Small size, 50 cents. Druggists or N. C. ADDING TORTURE TO JUSTICE

Nothing is to be said in mitigation of the crime of which Walter Blythe was convicted. It was a singularly brutal one, and though the death of the victim does not appear to have been intended, it certainly is not by the quality of mercy that the particular act of homicide is differentiated from deliberate murder. Many a man who has killed his fellow-being with malice aforethought would be incapable of the sustained cruelty of the Agincourt wife-beater.

Blythe received a fair trial and a just sentence, and had his hanging taken place on the day appointed by the judge who presided at the trial the great majority of the public would have been satisfied with the course of the law. Because he deserved the extreme penalty, and because it was desirable that an example should be made of an atrocious wife-beater, as a warning to the increasing number of like criminals, the feeling was general that he ought to suffer. But the Canadian people are humane. Blythe is in the condemned cell, but he is not outside the pale of human sympathy, and the addition the government has unnecessarily made to his overflowing cup of bitterness cannot but provoke protest. The man was doomed. Why was the execution stayed, if it was not the purpose to change the penalty? Why was he snatched from the gallows, lulled into a false belief that his punishment would be. And then if they should fail to some less terrible, and then notified again to prepare himself to die a few days later.

DISEASE IN THE SCHOOLS

More than 100,000 children of school age are annually laid prostrate by the three preventable diseases of diphtheria, tuberculosis and scarlet fever, and 20,000 of these illnesses terminate fatally, says Dr. Alvin Davison in an interesting article upon the subject of disease in the schools in Technical World Magazine. In diphtheria and scarlet fever, the infection generally passes from pupil to pupil in the early stage of the disease, which only medical inspection can detect.

How widespread may be the infection resulting from the presence of one source of contagion is forcibly demonstrated by an occurrence in a school at Millgrove, Ohio, where a boy with incipient measles infected every member of the school, including the teacher, so that they all fell sick within ten days. If discovered early, the sick are not only prevented from infecting the well, but are, in most cases, easily cured. In one year about 700 pupils with diphtheria, scarlet fever and tuberculosis were found attending the schools of Massachusetts. During the same period several thousand children with other contagious diseases such as measles, mumps, grippe, and syphilis, were excluded from these schools in the interest of health. There can be no doubt that the early discovery of these ailments prevented them from infecting hundreds of other children. Over 15,000 cases of contagious eye diseases were found in the New York City schools in one year, and 65,000 other children were excluded for various transmissible ailments ranging from diptheria to whooping cough. In Philadelphia about 10,000 of the school attendants during the year were excluded at some time, because of disease which menace the health of their associates.

THE DOGS' CEMETERY.

Little-Known London Burial Ground For Canine Pets.

In an obscure corner of Hyde Park, in the Bayswater road and near the site of old Tyburn, there is a tiny spot of ground known as "The Dogs' Cemetery." Sheltered from observation by tall trees its presence is never suspected by the public, and yet it is one of the strangest and most pathetic sights in London. Here may be seen hundreds of handsome miniature monuments, inscribed with epitaphs. The cemetery is now fully occupied, and has been closed against more burials.

For the most part the owners of the "late lamented" seem to have been ladies, and the inscriptions placed upon the tombstones testify to their devotion to their departed pets. Two of the epitaphs suggest that the owners of the dead dogs believe that there is a hereafter for animals. The first is:

In loving memory of Jessie.
Born at Lintlaw, in Berwickshire, November, 1895;
Died at Ovington Gardens, London, on 13th July, 1897.
"Not one of them is forgotten before God."—Luke xii., 6.

The other is in these terms:

There are men both good and wise,
Who hold that in some future state
Dumb creatures we have cherished here below
Shall give us joyous greeting when we pass the golden gate
June 11, 1907

There is a double inscription on this tombstone, the second being:

Also my love Ruby, went asleep
Jan. 29th, 1908,
In her 13th year. So much missed.

Another inscription records a canine tragedy. It is in these terms:

To darling Monty, who was drowned in Old Windsor Lock, Sunday, June 24th, 1900
Poor little fellow,
Gone but not forgotten.

Some of the inscriptions are in a sentimental vein that seems absurdly exaggerated, as for instance:

My sweet Lady Nell,
Dim, dumb, speck of humanity,
I laid down my heart beside her.
March 26, 1906.

Another, which shows a deep, mutual affection between owner and dog, reads:

Thy memory lasts;
And thou shalt live as long as we,
And after that thou dost not care,
In us was all the world to thee.

It may be doubted if any dog ever received such a glowing testimonial of character as this:

Darling Victor,
Died May 20th, 1900.
Gracious to all, but where his love was due
So just, so faithful, loyal and true.
Ever missed and deeply mourned,
Sleep on, darling, sleep on.

Of the following it might be said that no loved relative could have expected greater devotion after death than the dog to which it is dedicated:

Never can thy memory fade,
Sweetest thoughts will ever linger
Round the spot where thou art laid.

Severely practical persons may object to the sentimental strain of some of these "doggy" epitaphs, but, at any rate, they testify to a great bond of affection between the dead animals and their owners.

Still Believe In Witchcraft.

A belief in witchcraft still prevails in parts of Lancashire, England; also in the Isle of Man and still more strongly in the Hebrides. A writer in Chambers' Journal gives some interesting anecdotes of the superstitions which persist among the Hebrideans. Belief in witchcraft is said to have a "strong and living hold" on some of the people of those outer isles. An instance is given of a case heard before the Stornoway sheriff's court not many years ago, in which witnesses deposed to there being several witches in the township, one of whom was charged with so bewitching cows that the substance of their milk passed into the milk of the witch's cow. The husband of the alleged witch stated in court that when he heard the rumors about his wife he got three of the constables of the township to come and examine his cow's milk to see if it were any richer than usual, as would be the case if the substance of Mrs. A.'s cow's milk were present in it. Other evidence of this remarkable transubstantiation was given. The sheriff ridiculed the notion of witchcraft, but the Stornowegians stuck to it with absolute faith.

Get Well First

Don't risk even a penny—until health first returns.

And I mean just exactly that.
I am the one physician who says to the sick "I will, out of my own pocket, pay for your medicine if it fails to bring you help."
And for 30 years Dr. Shoop's medicines have been used and recommended in every city and hamlet in America. They are positively standard in every community—and everywhere.
Then why pay the risk, and so very risk, for other unrecommended and uncertain medicines?
Thousands upon thousands have in the past successfully used Dr. Shoop's Restorative.
When the Stomach fails, or the Heart or Kidney nerves fail, these sick ones know how quickly Dr. Shoop's Restorative will bring them back to health again. But best of all, they positively take no money risk whatever. They know that when health fails by return, Dr. Shoop will gladly pay the forfeit for that test a full 30 day treatment is truly needed. But write me first for an order.
This will save delay and disappointment.
All druggists sell Dr. Shoop's Restorative and Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy, but all are not authorized to give the 30 day test. So drop me a line—for I have appointed an honest and responsible druggist in almost every community, to whom you may go for these my 30 medicines to the sick. Tell me the which book you need. The books and letters will surely open up new and helpful ideas to those who are sick and ailing. Besides you are perfectly free to consult me just as you would your home physician. My advice and the book below are yours—and without cost.
Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up some serious ailment. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private prescription or personal advice. My best effort is surely yours. So write now while you have it handy, for tomorrow never comes. Dr. Shoop, Box 33, Racine, Wis.

THREATENED WITH PARALYSIS.

Peter E. Summers, of Kalamazoo, Mich., relates his experience:

"I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indiscretion and excesses in early youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I worked or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me guessed my secret. Imaginative dreams at night weakened me—my back ached, had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair loose, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first class physicians, wore an electric belt for three months, went to Mt. Clemens for baths, but received little benefit. While at Mt. Clemens I was induced to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, though I had lost all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the New Method Treatment and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic. I could feel the vigor going through the nerves. I was cured mentally and physically, I have sent them many patients and will continue to do so."

DAZZLED THE WORLD

The Remarkable Career of the Admirable Crichton.

A VERITABLE BOY WONDER.

This Marvel, a Master of Arts at Twelve, Died When Only Twenty-two by His Own Sword, Which He Handed to a Defeated Foe.

On July 3, 1583, in a night encounter in Mantua there died a boy of twenty-two who in the last eight years of his life was the wonder and admiration of the chivalry and learning of Europe. This was James Crichton of Cluny, best known by the title given him by the French—the Admirable Crichton.

He was made a master of arts by the University of St. Andrews in his twelfth year. He knew all that institution of learning could teach him when he was fourteen. At the age of fifteen he met in public debate on all subjects many of the best minds in France and vanquished them all. He knew all the learning of his day. He was a master of twelve languages. He had a memory so wonderful that, hearing a discourse of any length, he was able afterward to repeat it word for word and duplicate every gesture of the speaker. He was a poet, a musician of excellence, an athlete, a horseman, a soldier of trusted command before he was nineteen, a wonderful actor, a swordsman of extraordinary skill.

Crichton's family was of considerable importance and wealth and claimed royal descent. His father was lord advocate first to Queen Mary and afterward to King James VI. His mother was the daughter of Sir James Stewart. Members of both families were eminent in Scottish history. The boy James Crichton was sent to grammar school at Perth. He emerged at the age of ten and immediately entered the famous University of St. Andrews. The students there were divided into what were called circles, according to the talent they exhibited. Crichton advanced from one circle to another until, when he was barely past eleven, the university turned him out with the degree of master of arts. It was the custom of young men of the time to finish their educations by making the grand tour of Europe. Crichton, supplied with letters from his family and relatives to the nobles of the French court, went to Paris first.

His first action on arrival was to post a challenge in all parts of the city offering to meet all comers at the College of Navarre in debate in any one of twelve languages, "in any science, liberal art, discipline or faculty, whether practical or theoretic." Such contests were common to the age, but the challenge, coming from a boy of fifteen, aroused deep interest. An immense crowd was present on the day appointed. A dozen eminent philosophers and divines presented themselves. Crichton, without the pemblance of effort, defeated all who attempted to cope with him. He was congratulated by the faculty of the college, and Henry III., then the gayest monarch in Europe, carried him off to his court. The next day Crichton appeared in the tourney and with consummate ease remained victor in that martial struggle. The king gave him an important command in the army. He remained in France two years, dazzling the people with his accomplishments in every direction.

Crichton went next to Rome and Venice. In the latter city his friends were Speronе Speroni, one of the most learned names in Italian literature; John Donati and Lorenzo Massa, secretary to the republic of Venice. Several of the Latin poems Crichton composed in this circle have survived. He was introduced to the doge and the senate and in their presence delivered an oration so graceful and eloquent that, according to Imperialis, "he was esteemed a prodigy of nature." The Venetians were enraptured over his elegant manners, his learning and accomplishments. Crichton went to Padua to debate on the philosophy of Aristotle, then a subject absorbing the educated minds of all Europe. The argument lasted three days, and the handsome young Scotchman was an easy victor over all opponents.

At Mantua a famous Italian duellist lived who had vanquished many antagonists. Crichton sent him a challenge and next day run the Italian through the body. The Duke of Mantua engaged him as tutor for his son, Vincenso di Gonzaga. The court of Mantua was celebrated for its patronage of the Italian drama. The finest troupe of actors in Europe, denominated I Gelosi, was attached to it. Crichton composed a species of comedy for the company, satirizing the weaknesses of the various occupations in life, then undertook to sustain himself the most prominent and difficult characters in the piece. Even the actors were carried away with enthusiasm, so marvelous was Crichton's acting.

The young Duke Vincenso, his pupil, was jealous of Crichton, who found favor in the eyes of a beautiful young noblewoman whom Vincenso had wooed in vain. One night Crichton, walking home through the streets, playing as he went along on his guitar, was suddenly attacked by six masked men. He flung away the guitar, drew his sword and quickly killed two of his antagonists, put two more to flight and disarmed the leader. The latter's mask fell off. It was the young Duke Vincenso. Crichton dropped on his knee and presented his own sword to his pupil. The duke took it and thrust it through Crichton's body. He fell on his back dead.

QUAIL FROM EGYPT.

How Birds Are Trapped, Cared For and Transported by Thousands.

A record consignment of 100,000 live Egyptian quail, requiring special conveyance, from Alexandria to London, by way of the Manchester ship canal, left Alexandria on March 26, and reached Manchester about a week ago, when they were transferred to a special express for London. Twenty drays were required to convey them from King's Cross to their destination.

It is most extraordinary that although on many occasions search has been made, the breeding ground of the quail is absolutely unknown. They are trapped by Arabs, who deliver them in half dozens in boxes and baskets to the Egyptian Quail Syndicate's collecting deposits situated at all stations on the Egyptian State Railways between Alexandria and Assiout and Khartoum, and sent to the warehouse in Alexandria to await shipment. This warehouse is used exclusively for the purpose of keeping the quail until a sufficient number has been received.

The quail are placed in crates six feet long with six tiers and capable of holding 600 birds for shipment. As the syndicate only receives payment for birds which are alive when delivered, very great care and attention has to be paid to them during transit.

Six Arabs are told off, whose special duty is to feed and water the birds twice every day, and during the present journey 100 bags, each weighing two hundredweight of millet seed, were consumed. On fine days the crates are brought up to a sheltered position on deck for airing.—London Express.

SCARED BY AIRSHIPS.

Mysterious Craft With Searchlight Reported In England.

Residents of some parts of East Anglia, England, are keenly excited just now about a mysterious airship which has been seen hovering over the district in the early hours of the morning with a searchlight.

Nobody appears to be able to throw any light on the ownership of the vessel, or the purpose of these after-midnight ascents, and, of course, in the absence of definite information, people are saying it must be a party of Germans spying out the land.

The object was first seen a few weeks ago by a Peterborough policeman on duty late at night, and also by several railway men who were on night duty at March. A few days later it was seen at Ely.

All are agreed that the object is oblong in shape, and it is alleged to carry a searchlight. Several of those who saw it declare that it made a noise like a motor car, and traveled at a great pace.

During the movement of troops in Gyppeswyk Park, Ipswich, the other night it was seen frequently.

Only one person, a farmer, has seen this mysterious object in the sky during the daytime.

The first reports were received with incredulity, but the fact that the object has been seen in several parts of North Cambs and the surrounding district at different times has encouraged the belief that some mysterious airship is patrolling East Anglia during the hours between sunset and sunrise. Considerable excitement prevails, and a keen watch is being kept.

Busiest Spot on Earth.

Extraordinary facts and figures on the traffic of the city of London have been brought before Section 13 of the local legislation committee of the House of Commons, which had the city of London street traffic bill under consideration.

"Probably the most congested place in the world," was Forbes Lancaster's description of the area outside the Mansion House. Capt. Nott Bower added that between 8 a.m. and 8 p.m. on one day 26,630 vehicles passed, an average of thirty-seven a minute.

The committee agreed to give the powers sought with reference to costermongers, loading and unloading goods, and cattle driving. On the question of obstruction caused by shop window displays, however, they deferred their decision.

Prized Royal Possessions.

Amongst King Edward's most prized possessions are the casket of seventeenth century work, with sides of engraved rock crystal, set on an ebony pedestal, which contains the Bible of Gen. Gordon, presented to Queen Victoria by the general's sister after his death.

Also, greatly treasured by both the King and Queen, is a cushion made of scraps of khaki clothes worn by the Ladysmith heroes, with portraits of Lord Roberts, Gen. Baden-Powell, Sir Redvers Buller, Gen. French, and others, skilfully worked in.

Queen Alexandra once received by post a little dog in a perforated box. When the box was opened the little dog looked up so beseechingly that she at once accepted him.

A Countess' Benevolent Hobbies.

The Countess of Warwick's school for needlework on her estate in Essex, and the Hostel at Reading for the study of horticulture, dairy, bee and poultry keeping, are all making good progress. Besides giving much attention to these two very practical "hobbies," the countess takes the greatest interest in her Warwick Home for seventeen crippled children, and in her organisation for nursing the sick at both Warwick Castle and Easton Lodge, Dunmow.

Registered Virtue.

I found the following curious entry in the register of Betley parish (Crewe): "1637. Roben Rod and Toby dean born in Nuting Time, and Sara dean his born in Cowcumber time, Joseph Dean his a very Sober Young man and mind the Farming Bisnis. So that His father dotes Him more than Allhis Riches And says that he wil by him Alitel horse he shall Ride And up on doben tooe."—Notes and Queries.

STAGECOACH ROBBERS.

How the Express Companies Dealt With Old Time Highwaymen.

It was the treasure box of the Wells-Fargo company which transported practically all the gold and silver from the mining camps that was the special object of the old time stagecoach highwayman. A shrewd band of robbers would not hold up a stage unless they had good reason to think it carried a large shipment of gold, and they used every means to find out when these shipments would be made. The company, on the other hand, tried to deceive and trap them, and there was a war of wits as well as weapons. A favorite method of the company when their stages had been repeatedly robbed by some band whose success showed they had inside information as to the time of shipment was to let a rumor leak out that on a certain day a large amount of gold dust would be secretly sent out by special stage. This, of course, would reach the ears of some of the band and a robbery be duly organized. A spy would see a number of heavy boxes placed aboard and report all well. When the highwaymen halted the stage the driver and guard would meekly give up and crawl to the ground. Then just when the bands had grown careless from easy success there poured from the loopholed coach a deadly fire that at such short range wiped out the entire gang at the first volley, for the coach was a decoy, filled not with gold, but with men expert with the rifle. In 1900 three bands were thus blown to perdition on the old stage line between Virginia City Nev., and Sacramento.

THE STORE BUYER.

His Task of Selecting "Good Sellers" Is a Hard One.

Whoever has had difficulty in deciding which of two or more articles on a counter he will purchase may be able to appreciate the task which confronts the buyer of a stock of merchandise, says a writer in Collier's. The numbers of varieties offered for selection are almost beyond belief. In the toy department of a large wholesale house the following figures were obtained in regard to the goods actually being shown at one time in the sample rooms:

Magic lanterns, 250 varieties; boats, 300 varieties; horns, 1,000 varieties; Christmas tree ornaments, 2,000 varieties; dolls, 12,000 varieties.

In gathering this assortment of Christmas tree ornaments it was necessary to deal with 750 manufacturers throughout Europe, and the selection of 2,000 samples represents only a fraction of the samples submitted by manufacturers.

When it is considered that almost every person uses dishes at three meals a day and that the prices of plates may range from a few cents each to $1,000 or more a set, it is not surprising to learn that the same wholesaler would display in his sample rooms over 250,000 varieties of articles in china.

The buyer has within such ranges of variety opportunity to "make or break" the patronage of a store by the wisdom he uses in making his selections.

Kettledrum a Perfect Instrument.

The kettledrum, Gabriel Cleather contended, was perfectly competent to produce atmosphere as well as rhythm. Even to tune the instrument three things were required—a perfect musical ear, a fine sense of touch and five years' experience. After playing over a kettledrum melody written eighty years ago from Meyerbeer's "Robert le Diable," Mr. Cleather continued, "I venture to say that outside of the musical profession not one person in a hundred of those who listen to an orchestra in England today knows that timpani have notes and can give out a melody." No instrument, he added, had a greater range of power than the kettledrum, for none could be played more softly and none had greater penetrating power.—London Standard.

A German Memorial to Napoleon.

It will come as news to most persons that there exists in Germany a monument to Napoleon I. This curiosity is to be found about eleven miles from Alseny, in the grand duchy of Hesse. The monument is situated near the Vorhols hunting lodge, at the summit of a wooded hill, and the spot is known as Napoleon's garden. It is a dwarfed pyramid of three sides, rather more than three feet in length. Upon it stands the inscription, in Latin, French and German, showing that it commemorates the marriage of Napoleon I. to Marie Louise, grand duchess of Austria, on April 1, 1810.—London Globe.

Went Papa One Better.

"I love you very much, papa," said five-year-old Willie as he crawled up on his father's knee.

"And I love you, too, Willie, when you are good," replied the father.

"But, papa," continued the little fellow, not to be outdone, "I love you just the same, even when you ain't no good."

He Was Warned.

Mrs. Jones—Did you really expect me to accept you the night you proposed? Mr. Jones—Yes, love. Just before I got to your house I heard a dog howl three times, saw the moon over my left shoulder and walked under a ladder.

It's in the spring that health gives out—that folks begin to feel draggy, weary, restless,—hate to eat, look pale, feel discouraged.

If you've reached this state read what J. W. Jervell, well known in Morristown, has to say about the medicine that cured him. "Last winter I caught a heavy cold that settled in my back. My kidneys and liver were affected and my health failed. By spring I was in bad shape—couldn't sleep like I used to—felt tired in the morning—ate very little—was terribly depressed, late and anxious looking. Twinges of rheumatism, frequent neuralgia attacks over the temples, made matters worse. The doctor prescribed three times, but didn't help. Then I heard of Dr. Hamilton's Pills—They possess mystic powers surely, for I gained and improved day by day and now am in perfect health again. I will praise and use Dr. Hamilton's Pills till I die."

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed. Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Health Officers' Report.

Dr. R. W. Bell and Dr. A. W. McPherson, put in a big day's work yesterday, and they have got matters well in hand. They have been prompt in taking action, and this fact will go a long way to prevent any further trouble. They will report to the Board of Health this morning at a special meeting.

Dr. McPherson is the new medical health officer and he should prove a valuable official for the city. He is a young man well known and very highly respected. He has ability and is very careful and thorough and his good work among the sick last winter has given him an insight into the work which he is now taking up. Dr. McPherson's office is on Murray street at the corner of Water street.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart and Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days tests will surely tell. Try it once, and see! Sold by all dealers.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

Western Canada Wood Pulp & Paper Co. Ltd.

HEAD OFFICE, 638 VIEW ST. VICTORIA, B. C.

Plant Now Under Course of Erection at Quatsino Sound, Vancouver Island.

Asset.

The company have acquired 55,600 acres of Pulp Land on Quatsino Sound, Vancouver Island.

Water Power

In addition to the vast Pulp Limits acquired, the company have also secured a 28,000 inch water record on Marble Creek, at Quatsino Sound, capable of developing from 10,000 to 15,000 h.p. This creek derives its source from three lakes 20 miles in length and is thus permanent the year round.

Capacity of Plant

The plant when fully complete will have a capacity of 600 tons of news and wrapping per week, we are rushing the work along and feel confident that we will have the pulp plant with a weekly capacity of 100 tons in operation by December 1st of this year.

Cost of Manufacture

With our tremendous pulp limits, which enable us to secure our pulp wood at a nominal figure, and splendid water power, the cost of manufacture of news and wrapping paper should not exceed $3,000 per ton. At present news is jobbing in British Columbia at $60.00 per ton. The freight rate in carload lots from Ontario and Quebec being $17.00 per ton.

Local Markets

The local market of the company extends east a thousand miles to Moose Jaw and tributary region. Within the above territory the annual consumption of paper is estimated at a thousand tons exclusive of that used by printers and newspapers. The five daily papers at Victoria and Vancouver alone consume over 100 carloads of paper per year.

Foreign Markets

The foreign markets of the company consist of China, Japan, New Zealand, Australia, Hawaii and the Philippines. In 1908 the above countries imported over $10,000,000 worth of wood pulp and paper, principally from Norway, Sweden, Germany, Eastern United States and Eastern Canada.

Freight Rates to Orient

A freight rate of from $3.00 to $5.00 per ton can be secured from British Columbia to China, Japan, New Zealand and Australia, on wood pulp and paper as against a rate of $7.00 to $15.00 per ton on the same commodities from Eastern Canada and Europe. Being from 3,000 to 5,000 miles nearer the Oriental market than Eastern Canada or European mills we are not only able to secure a much lower freight rate, but also a lower insurance rate.

Natural Advantages of British Columbia

News and wrapping paper are manufactured principally from Spruce, Hemlock, Balsam and Larch wood, one ton of chemical wood pulp requires approximately two cords of four foot wood. At present Spruce and Hemlock wood is worth from $6.00 to $9.00 per cord, in Eastern Canada; our facilities enable us to secure it at less than $3.00 per cord. In 1908 the American mills were obliged to pay from $9.00 to $15.00 per cord.

Progress of Work

We are proceeding as fast as possible with the work. The erection of the plant has been placed under the exclusive supervision of Mr. Charles B. Pride, of Appleton, Wis., one of the most distinguished authorities on the erection of pulp and paper mills in the United States, having built more than fifty of the leading mills of the country and he is confident of being able to have the pulp mill in operation by December 1st of this year.

Sale of Stock

In offering the preferred stock of this corporation, we do so with a feeling that it is the best industrial stock ever offered for subscription in Western Canada. At present it is impossible to buy stock in the majority of the operating mills of Canada and there is no question but that inside of 18 months the stock of this corporation will be selling at a handsome premium; remember the time to buy stock in any corporation is six months before a wheel has been turned, not after it is in operation.

Profits in Pulp and Paper Manufacture

No industry, not even mining itself, has yielded as large and permanent dividends as the manufacture of Wood Pulp and Paper, and there is no reason why the mill which we are now erecting should not pay at least 25 per cent. annual dividends. Under much less favorable conditions, the Eastern Canadian and English mills are paying from 10 to 25 per cent. With our natural advantages, we should be able to make a profit of approximately $15.00 per ton on news paper, $20.00 per ton on Wrapping paper, and $15.00 per ton on box board and pulp board. The Pacific Coast mills of the United States are now making a net profit, after deducting depreciation, operating expenses, bonds, & etc., of approximately $15.00 per ton on wrapping and $15.00 per ton on box and pulp boards, and this after paying from $4.00 to $8.00 per cord for wood. In 1908 the Laurentide Paper Co. showed a profit of $251,465. The Kellner-Partington Pulp and Paper Co. showed a gross profit last year of $1,252,205. The official United States Government Report, issued at Washington, D. C., July 25th, 1907, Bulletin 69, showed that the mills of the State of Oregon made a profit of 20 2-3 per cent. of the value of goods over all expenses, of 19 per cent. The gross profits of the International PaPer Co., for the year ending June 30th, 1908, amounted to $1,636,918.

Under date of February 10th, 1908, Mr. Herman Ridder, President of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, filed charges against the Paper Trust of the United States, and in his disposition to Hon. Chas. J. Bonaparte, Attorney-General of the United States, said:

"News print paper mills that are not entirely modern are now making paper at figures that show a profit of more than $20.00 per ton on the paper prices just announced by the International Paper Co., $32.50 per ton. In other words, for paper delivered, say, in New York, up-to-date mills are making a profit of more than 60 per cent. on the cost of manufacture, delivery and storage, and they are making a profit of more than 40 per cent. upon a reasonable allowance for the capital required for a modern plant."

With our close proximity to the Oriental market, there is no reason why we should not make, conservatively, 10 per cent. more dividends than the Eastern Canadian or American Mills. In 1908, Australia imported over 60,000 tons of News principally from Eastern Canada and Europe. Why should we let this great volumn of paper go to Eastern Canada, Eastern United States, and Europe, when we are in a position to control it ourselves? Every dollar of paper used in the Orient should be furnished from Western Canada. With sufficient mills to produce the goods, what country is in a better position to control the trade of the Orient than British Columbia. Not only are we able to manufacture News and Wrapping Paper from $2.00 to $3.00 per ton lower than Eastern Canada and American mills, but we are from 2,000 to 3,000 miles nearer the great Oriental markets. The demand for News and Wrapping Paper is gradually increasing, and, within ten years, China, Japan, Australia and New Zealand will be absolutely dependent upon this Providence for its supply of pulp and paper. We know the big dividends that the paper mills of the world are paying, and with our immense timber limits, covering 55 square miles, which assures a permanent supply of wood at a nominal cost, there is no reason why we should not pay even larger dividends than the present operating mills.

The preferred stock is entitled to a cumulative dividend of 7 per cent., payable before any dividend is paid on the ordinary stock. After 7 per cent. has been paid upon both the preferred and ordinary shares, both stocks thereafter participate equally.

City League Games on Saturday will be Good

Tomorrow's City League games at Riverside Park will be well worth seeing and promise to be about the most exciting and hardest fought of the entire series. All four teams have been premising faithfully during the week and are in the best of shape for the hard fights before them tomorrow.

The 2 o'clock game will bring together the Strathconas and the Park street Athletic Club, and there will be a big crowd on hand to see the latter make their first appearance of the season. The Park street club are warm favorites in the south end of the city and will have a big following tomorrow who will cheer them on to victory. Manager Jack Pilling has rounded up a good collection of ball players who have had plenty of experience in fast company and they will no doubt take a lot of beating. The Straths will have a somewhat different lineup from the one that represented them last Saturday and are out for a victory in order to make up for losing to the West Ends last week. It will be a great game from start to finish.

Moving Pictures in Air Dome Tent will be Shown by Prof Green

A third moving picture show it will run during the summer months. Prof. Green who is known in every town and city in Ontario as the moving picture king will arrive in the city next week and will open up in a big tent on the Bradburn property adjoining the customs house. Prof. Green has secured a tent 40 by 50 feet with a seating capacity of about 500. The great feature of the tent is the big air dome which keeps the place perfectly cool. The air dome has been adopted by the big circus companies, and on the other side of the line the people have gone wild over them. They are the greatest comfort and a show can be enjoyed with as much pleasure the hottest day in summer as it can in a warm opera house in the winter. Prof. Green always puts on a first-class show and there is no doubt but that the Peterborough people will give him a large share of their patronage. It is something new and is bound to be popular, especially as the place will never be hot or stuffy, but always cool and fresh.

Dr. R. W. Bell Contradicts Statement

Dr. R. W. Bell, Provincial medical health officer, was in the city yesterday and called at The Times office. He requested this journal to contradict the statement in the Toronto papers regarding the story that he had been hunted out of Port Severn where he had gone to investigate the outbreak of smallpox. The fact is the whole matter was grossly exaggerated. It appears the doctor and his assistant upon arrival at Port Severn found that a big wedding was to have taken place but owing to the non-appearance of the priest it did not come off. The party had a supply of liquor and a considerable number of them became intoxicated. The doctor considered it unwise to do any vaccinating or to make any arrangements to combat the disease and his assistant departed. They returned, however, in a few days and which exists in that district so he vaccinated every man, woman and child in the section. There were about four cases of the dreaded disease but it is now practically stamped out.

As far as Peterborough is concerned the doctor says that there is little likelihood of any serious results. All the cases are of a very mild type and every precaution has been taken to check it. The doctor believes that the easiest and surest way to get rid of the disease and, to prevent its spread is by vaccination.

Unclean Morals in Yukon Still--There is Only One Immorality

Hamilton, June 11.—"That the Assembly deplores and condemns the evils in our political life today which are rapidly lowering the moral sense of our people, and urges upon its ministers and people the duty of earnestly and courageously combating these evils by voice and vote wherever they may manifest themselves, and proclaiming the truth of God's word that righteousness exalts a nation, and sin is a reproach to any people."

Speaking to this amendment to the report of the Temperance and Moral Reform Committee in the General Assembly yesterday, Rev. J Pringle, Sydney, formerly of the Yukon, said he had been reproached by ministers and others for letters he had written.

ONLY ONE IMMORALITY.

He did not wish to let personal feelings rise. Naturally, for he was human, strong things were said. A libel suit was still pending. He tried to get things straightened out. Last year he was not a commissioner, and he had to sit dumb while the debate was going on. Nor was he a constituent member of the Westminster Presbytery. They ran a bluff against him. Sometimes that could be done. The code now only recognized one form of immorality in public life.

"A man may get drunk and steal from the public purse, but he is not immoral unless he has illicit relations with a woman. That is the only immorality."

CONDITIONS IN DAWSON.

Dr. Pringle turned to the supplementary report, which states that no prositutes were known to be in Dawson.

"Last summer there was a prostitute for every thirty people, man, woman, or child, in Dawson," he stated.

Women were perfectly safe in Dawson, it was said. Why should a man insult a decent women when there were so many others? Besides this, the police were so numerous that if Toronto had a force of the same proportions it would nymber 9,500.

"The Federal Government of the United States put the law in force against immorality and 180 men had planted themselves on the people of Canada. It is a shame that we cannot get the government of Canada to do what the United states did," exclaimed Dr. Pringle. "I say, advisedly the reason is that the men sent to enforce the law were doing the very same thing themselves—even the crown prosecutor."

All Saints' Church is Being Rushed Ahead

Very favorable progress is being made on All Saints' new church on Rubidge street. Contractors Sherwood and King have a big force of on the stone work, and have the foundations complete, and are now working on the upper walls. All Saints' will have in their new edifice one of the largest as well as one of the most substantial and imposing structures in the city. The foundation is 60x95 feet, with a seating capacity of from 800 to 900. It will be of solid stone with a steel roof, this will do away with any pillers in the body of the church, and the congregation will have a clear and unobstructed view. The floor will also be graded from the front to the pulpit, which will be another decided improvement.

Mr. R. N. Jones will be the overseer of the carpenter work, and that means that a good job will be done. The Building Committee of the church will supply all the material, including the stone, lumber, steel for the roof, which was purchased from the Canada Foundry Company of Toronto, etc. The church when finished will cost about $25,000, and this does not include anything for the chancel, which will not be erected until some future time.

A large square tower about 85 feet from the ground will be constructed, and the church will be modern in every respect.

The structure is now ready for the laying of the corner stone, although the date will not be set for a while It is expected that the church will be ready for the opening about

The architect, Mr. Fred Featherstone, has made a splendid job of the plans, and when the builders are through All Saints' will be a credit to his ability.

The Building Committee is composed of Mr. J. Edgar, chairman, the rector, Rev. Mr. Trumpor, Mr. John Hogan, and the Finance Committee, Messrs. T. Hooper, James Mulholland and Ald. Buller.

WEEKLY MATINEE.

Of Peterborough Turf Club at the Driving Park.

The weekly matinee of the Peterborough Turf Club will be held at the Driving Park this afternoon A good program has been arranged and a good afternoon's sport is assured There will also be a five mile foot race in which some fast men will participate. Go down on the car this afternoon and enjoy the sport.

SPRINKLING STREETS.

On Sunday Will Be Proposed By One of the Aldermen.

There is not a man, woman or child in the city who would not appreciate the abolition of the dust nuisance on Sunday. All week the streets are watered and everything done to keep down the filthy, blinding clouds which rise every time a gust of wind or a team passes down the dust is allowed full sway, and the citizens suffer all kinds of inconvenience. One of the aldermen will introdure to the Board of Works a proposal that the watering carts be turned out on Sunday in all parts of the city. There is not so much traffic on that day as a rule and probably the wagons would not have to make as many trips. But they should be out. In Stratford the watering carts are out on Sunday, and as a result they have nice, clean streets that it is a pleasure to walk on, and the church attendance is largely increased.

Three Good Reasons for Entering Big Prize Contest

The Prizes are Unequalled in Value and Attractiveness—Your Friends Should Know of Your Ambition to Win a Prize and Once Knowing It, They will Rally to Your Assistance—

Are you still hesitating as to whether you will enter The Morning Times' Great $3,000 Prize Contest? If so, we can give you some excellent reasons for delaying no longer. The first of these certainly is that you are not all apt to have again an opportunity for winning such valuable prizes. Another reason is that the sooner you enter, the sooner your feiends will know that you are bent on getting ahead, and they will make up their minds to give you all the aid in their power instead of promising to help the first person who comes to them with a request for a subscription. Your friends would rather vote for you than for another, but if they do not know of your wish to compete in the contest they will naturally oblige the first applicant.

The third reason for making no delay is that the first step is the only hard one. When you find yourself started with one thousand votes for nomination, and a few coupons and subscriptions, you are fairly launched, and the rest comes easily.

NOMINATE YOURSELF OR YOUR FRIEND.

You may nominate yourself or your friend, but the best plan is to do it to-day and not let anyone get a long start of you.

All the prizes of life are won by those whose motto is 'Do it NOW.' Make up your mind to be on one of the winners and your friends will be proud of you, and you will be proud of yourself when you win the splendid Touring Car or one of the other prizes.

TIME TO SUBSCRIBE.

There is no time like the present for subscribing to The Morning Times. If you renew your subscription now, or take out one during the next few weeks, you will be giving much help to your favorite candidate.

A GOOD PLAN.

A well organized business is the only one that prospers. Why not apply business methods to your campaign? Organize your friends into a brigade who will work for you. Call at the Contest Department of The Morning Times and get a receipt book for yourself and one for each of your nearest friends, those who care enough to see you win to be willing to do a little personal work for you.

Their circle of acquaintances doubtless includes some not to be found in yours. Here is where they can be of the greatest assistance to you. Ask them to interest their friends and to induce them to interest others in your success. In this way you form a sort of endless friendship chain, and a much larger territory will be worked for you than you could hope to cover alone.

A WORD OF EXPLANATION.

Most of our prizes speak for themselves, and when you have once seen them there is no use adding a word, for their merit is apparent; but one cannot see (save with the mind's eye) such a thing as a trip to the Seattle Exposition in the far West now open.

READ ALL ABOUT THE CONTEST.

You should read all about the contest each day in The Morning Times. Read the big announcements and advertisements and also the stories, which will keep you posted as to every detail. If you feel at any time that something is not perfectly clear to you, let us hear from you at once and we will always be glad to explain. We want every one who enters the contest to feel that their interest is ours, and that anything we can do to help them is just the thing we wish most to do.

A NOMINATION BLANK.

A nomination blank will be found on this page. Cut it out, fill in your name and address, then bring or send it to The Morning Times Contest department. A representative will be glad to call, and explain more fully in regard to the contest if you will 'phone to us. Enter today and win.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE?

Why, you are. Every man or woman who feels that they can show the simple QUALITIES OF PLUCK AND PERSEVERANCE, COUPLED WITH A LAUDABLE AMBITION is the right person to enter the contest and to win one of the prizes.

In all the territory in which The Times circulates the only worthy persons whom we reject are the employes of The Times. No employe of The Morning Times, or member of his or her family will be permitted to participate in this contest.

Separation of Church from the State an Aid to the Church

Washington, D.C., June 11—That complete Church emulation is a good thing and that there should be in this country "no invidious distinctions in elections because of religious beliefs," were the keynotes of the address made last night by President Taft before the Congress of Roman Catholic missionaries now in session in this city.

After being introduced by Father Boyle, who referred to the President, quoting another, as the great harmonizer. Mr. Taft was greeted with an outburst of applause.

He spoke principally of the work of settling in the Philippines the difficulties caused by the close relationship there of Church and Government He expressed the opinion that in the end the Church would be strengthened by the change there "as freedom and toleration and the State have strengthened the Church in this country."

He said that there is now no question to be settled in the Philippines concerning the relation of Church and gobernment He said further it is a good thing for the Roman Catholic Church that there are other denominations in the Philippines, and that "complete Church emulation, competition, if I may use that term is a good thing in religion as well as in other things in life."

Borden Hot in His Reply--Refers to Ravings of Dr. Pringle

In view of the statements made by Rev Dr. John Pringle, of Sydney, N.S., at the General Presbyterian Assembly yesterday, the Toronto Star wired to Sir Frederick Borden, minister of militia, as follows:

"Rev Dr. Pringle says he was asked to campaign in your riding last election, and offered as much for four addresses aswas equal to a year's salary in the ministry, also attacked you personally. Do you know of offer, and will you take the suit he says he challenged."

The Star received the following reply from Sir Frederick Borden, dated from Canning, Nova Scotia.

"Toronto Star;

"Your telegram received I never heard of the Reverend Doctor Pringle unless he happens to be the Reverend Pringle, formerly of the Yukon. If so he evidently continues to play his old part.

"I know nothing about his engagements, but had he presented himself here during the last election my majority would doubtless have been considerably increased by the exposure of his Yukon record.

"Presumbably he hates me because I am a member of the government which declined to play his game of self glorification and self advertisement, involving denial of justice and fair play.

"The ravings of such a person are not entitled to much notice. Nevertheless you may publish this in conjunction with your telegram.

F. W. Borden."

Sir Frederick has placed the matter in the hands of his counsel, Hon Wallace Nesbitt, KC

Law Requires Bride and Groom to be Medically Examined

Seattle, Wash., June 11.—The new State law requires that applicants for marriage licenses must undergo medical inspection before the woman is 45 years old, went into effect yesterday.

Ten couples appeared at the license clerks office with physicians' certificates and two couples, when informed of the new law, said they would go to British Columbia to marry.

County officials say the law will result in many Americans marrying in Canada.

Life Boats Take People off Sea Swept Liner

New York, June 10. The large steamship which ran on the bar a mile west of the Point of Woods life saving station on Long Island, at 8 o'clock last night was identified early today as the Antonio Lopez, a Spanish steamer from Genoa and Naples for New York, with 526 passengers, and a crew of 135. At day break the Lopez was lying 1,000 feet off shore with a list to starboard of seven degrees.

Crews of life-saving stations in the vicinity had not been able to reach the Lopez because of the high seas and the heavy mist, but it was said that the vessel was in no immediate danger.

A wrecking tug from this city reached the stranded steamer early today, and passing a line to the Antonio Lopez, endeavored to pull the steamer off the beach. The sea was still running too high to make a transfer of the passengers immediately feasible, even if there were any vessel nearby of sufficient capacity to receive them.

The passengers are being transferred in lifeboats to the wrecking tugs The sea is so heavy that no attempt will be made to bring the passengers ashore until the weather moderates.

3,000 People were at the Band Concert

There were fully 3,000 people in Victoria Park last night to hear the second weekly band concert by the band of the 57th Regiment. The night was an ideal one, and men, women and children, old and young, gathered on the green hill side and listened with keen appreciation to the music. The band, under the leadership of Prof. Gliddon, gave one of their choicest programs, and were called upon to give an encore to nearly every selection.

The old reliable Stratheonas will go up against the Park Street Athletic Club for the first time this season, and the Straths cannot afford to lose another game. At the same time the Park Street bunch are out to make a good impression as this is their debut.

The second game will be between the West Ends who defeated the Stratheonas last Saturday, and the T.A.S. There will be something doing all the time, and the crowd will be glad to stay to see the finish.

GRAVEYARD COUGHS AND COLDS

Cured Quickly by Catarrhozone.

A cough or cold this season of the Year paves the way for pneumonia or consumption. The best remedy is "Catarrhozone". It eases a cough in five minutes, and colds cannot exist after a few hours where it is used. Mrs. H L. Chenowith, residing at Glendive, Montana, was worried by a "graveyard" cough. In the following letter she tells how Catarrhozone cured her in one week:

"I had a bad cough for several months last fall that settled on my lungs. I was worried very much to think that nothing I used could shake it off, but reading in the Halifax "Presbyterian Witness" of the wonderful cures Catarrhozone was effecting ' decided to try it. The irritability and soreness was taken out of my throat in a few days, and in less than one week it entirely cured my cough.

"It is with great gratitude and pleasure that I recommend Catarrhozone. I am sure it will benefit and cure all who use it."

(Signed) Mrs. H. L. Chenowith.

The reason Catarrhozone always cures is that it goes right to the sore spot, which it heals and makes well quickly. It is antiseptic and destroys disease germs in every part of the system. For Coughs, Colds and Bronchitis, nothing compares with Catarrhozone. It is very pleasant and simple to use, contains no injurious drugs, and is warranted perfectly safe to use. Catarrhozone Inhaler is suitable to use in a street car, theatre, church, any place, at any time. Complete outfit costs but $1.00 and is guaranteed to cure or your money back. Trial size 25c., sold by druggists, or by mail, from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

THE GALTON TEST OF IDENTIFICATION

LORD Minto's acceptance of the proposal that here after finger prints shall be the recognized means of identification in connection with money order payments in India is the most important triumph the Galton method has ever scored. It brings the test out of the limited circle of criminal record into the every-day life of millions of people; and foreshadows the day when it will become the universal means of identifying every human being. In India the change from the existing method of identification by signature was made necessary by the astounding skill of the natives as forgers. In this department of crime the Orientals have developed a proficiency that would make "Jim the Penman" turn green with envy. They can imitate signatures with an exactness that almost baffles detection; and, in the case of the money orders, once the fraud succeeded up to the point of getting the cash, subsequent capture was almost out of the question, so difficult to the European eye is the identification of individual Asiatics.

The Unfailing Test.

Cunning as he is, the Oriental will find it impossible to forge a finger print. The papillary ridges on the inside of the end joint of the thumb are not alike in any two human beings; nor, astonishing as it may seem, are they similar. Even family resemblances are missing. They are the one true index of individuality that never fails. From infancy to old age, the marks remain practically constant. Even when the skin has been affected by fire or acids, the finger prints will show clearly through. There is no way of disguising or imitating them. Egyptian mummies that date from the time of the Jewish patriarchs still preserve the telltale ridges in the thumbs and finger tips. Some little practice is necessary, of course, to speedily distinguish one print from another; and when a means has been found of superimposing one upon the other, identification will be instant.

The Bertillon System.

The finger print system forms part of the Bertillon system, and the French scientist acknowledges that he took the idea from Galton. While the finger print is the last word in identification, the fact that the prints are not similar makes classification of them extremely difficult, and without the other features of the Bertillon scheme, Galton's method would cause delay instead of expedition. Under the Bertillon system it has been developed in Paris, it does not take more than four or five minutes to pick out of 600,000 cards the one desired. Only a few days ago a letter arrived from the chief of police of San Francisco enclosing Bertillon measurements and finger print card of a man under arrest there, who was supposed to have come from Paris. Within half an hour a letter was on its way to San Francisco giving the complete criminal record of the man who had been so speedily identified.

Tracing the Criminal.

The filing room of the Palais de Justice contains 600,000 cards, giving details of that number of criminals who have passed through the photographing and measuring rooms beyond. Its contents are the greatest bulwark France has against its criminal population. It is furnished with great rows of shelves, filled with card cases; and the routine of identifying a given criminal is a matter of reading indexes. The first classification is according to age. In one row are the records relating to criminals born from 1840 to 1849, and there are others covering each a decade. It is probable that a detective can tell a man's age within ten years, and so it is rarely that more than two rows have to be ransacked. Then there are three divisions, according to the length of the head—long medium and short. Then comes the width of the head—broad medium or narrow. Next the length of the left middle finger is taken—long medium or short. Then follow the three grades of the foot: the forearm, in three grades, and the height also in three grades.

The Final Analysis.

This sort of grading works the detective down to a little box full of cards. Then comes the measurement of the left little finger; and possibly out of the 600,000 cards not more than a dozen remain. Color of the eye is the final analysis, and the card is picked out as unerringly as a conjurer works with his "cold deck". The finger print settles the matter if there is any question when, sometimes, a photograph is not absolutely convincing. Measurements alter a man grows older if his inventory were made before maturity, but the shape of his ear does not alter; and when it is a matter of proving identity in a court of law, there are a score of dimensions available that are unnecessary in ordinary cases, where the criminal in question will not fight the evidence.

Training the Detectives.

system as it is employed in Paris is anything but haphazard training of detectives. They are trained in the study of colors and lines, as applied to the human body; and whereas the ordinary careless observer will divide eyes into two classes, dark and light, a first-class Paris detective knows that there are 50 colors and shades of color to be discerned. So a Paris detective, instead of looking for a "stout man, of florid complexion, about 5 feet 10 inches tall, and, wearing a full beard and a slouch hat," looks for a man whose "left eye is 47 in color, and the angle at the base of whose nose is No. 117, and the lobe of whose ear corresponds in shape to that labeled 21 in the charts at the head office."

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Important to Ladies

It is not often an opportunity occurs at your door to see the latest Parisian and New York styles in Hair Goods, yet such is the case, as Prof. Dorenwend of Toronto, is visiting this town, and invites your inspection of these goods at his private apartments reserved at the Hotel.

These Hair Goods styles, when properly adjusted protect and ornament the head, soften and beautify the expression of the face, and consequently tone up an aged appearance. Be sure and see them at the Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, Friday, June 18.

FIGHT ENCROACHING SAND.

Forestry Officials Advise People of United Counties in Reforestation Project.

Cobourg, June 10.—The meeting under the auspices of the United Counties Council of Northumberland and Durham, to discuss the reforestation of the fifteen thousand acres of sand lands between Burketon and Rice Lake, held in Victoria Hall here yesterday afternoon, was very successful, and the fact was impressed upon all who attended that something must be done forthwith to check the spread of the sand area

ONCE GREW GOOD PINE.

Local speakers painted out that it once grew fine pine, and doubtless would again if given a chance. They also told how since the wood had been cut off the "blow" sand had been covering up fences, fields and roads, and driving farmers off their lands. It was said the evils and dangers of the conditions on the ridges could not be exaggerated.

Tell Some Sick One

It Is Free If It Fails.

Will you do an act of Humanity?

Will you tell some sick friend of this, my remarkable offer?

Tell him or her, that you have learned of a medicine so certain that its maker dare say to the sick, "It is absolutely and unconditionally free if it fails."

And you, no doubt, already know of Dr. Shoop's Restorative and its popularity.

For 20 years it has been the standard remedy for Stomach, Kidney and Heart ailments everywhere in America.

When the "inside" or controlling nerves of these vital organs begin to fail, it is Dr. Shoop's Restorative that has quickly vitalized, and strengthened, and brought these nerves and organs back to health again.

I do not dose the Stomach, nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys—for that is all wrong.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes direct to the cause of these ailments—the failing, faltering, inside or controlling nerves. And herein lies the keynote to my success.

When these nerves are again made well and strong, then that is the certain end of all such sickness.

To me it is a great satisfaction that I am the only physician able to say to the suffering sick, "Take my prescription for full 30 days, and if it fails to help you, the entire expense is mine—not yours."

Then why should the sick take any chance on any other medicine, whose maker dare not back it just as I do by this remarkable offer?

I also have a Rheumatic Remedy—and that remedy is covered by the same identical "No help, no pay" protective plan.

Besides, you are free to consult me just as you would your home physician. My advice and the book below are yours—and without cost.

Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up some serious ailment. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private prescription or personal advice plan. My best effort is surely worth your simple request.

So let me send you an order at once. Take the message to some sick friend.

A postal will bring the opportunity.

I will have an honest and trustworthy druggist to whom you can conveniently go for the 30 day test.

But first, ask me for the order, for all druggists are not authorized to give the 30 day test.

So write me now and save all delay. The moment that tomorrow never comes.

SALOON FORCES WIN OUT.

Youngstown, Ohio, and Remainder of County Give "Wet Majority.

Youngstown, Ohio, June 10.—Anti saloon forces in Ohio suffered a bitter defeat yesterday, when Youngstown, with 80,000 inhabitants, and the remainder of Mahoning county, voted in special election to retain the saloons.

CROW WAS THE THIEF.

Had Taken Diamonds, Articles of Jewelry and Money to His Nest.

Lexington, Ky., June 10.—A pet crow in the family of Alexander V. Anderson, at Rockport, Ky., has been purloining diamonds and articles of jewelry which the family had missed from time to time, and for the theft of which several servants had been accused and discharged.

The crow was seen to fly from the house with a diamond ring brooch in its mouth, and a search of his nest in a nearby tree revealed a gold watch, two rings, two $10 bills, one $20 gold piece, a woman's "rat" and many other articles of more or less value.

The loss of the articles had long baffled the members of the family and a policeman of Rockport, who had been at work on the various Robberies in an effort to locate the missing articles and arrest the thief.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that the nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart and Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That old fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days tests will surely tell. Try it once, and see! Sold by all dealers.

FLUSHING WALKS.

Ald. Turner Will Advocate Washing Sidewalks at Night.

At the next meeting of the Board of Works a proposition will be introduced by Ald. Turner, which is destined to overcome to a great extent the dust nuisance of which the merchants are complaining. Ald. Turner has given the matter considerable thought and it looks now as if he knows where all the trouble lies. The two watering carts in the central portion of the city are kept going all the time and they do good work. The roads are kept damp, but still the dust rises and enters the stores and damages the goods. Ald. Turner believes, and there is a great deal in his contention that most of the dust comes from the sidewalks. The walks are dusty and the dust that gets on them is ground very fine and it requires a very slight breeze to carry it into the stores. He will therefore endeavor to induce the Board of Work to establish a system for flushing the walks off every night between the hours of 11 and 12 o'clock. He claims that a man on each side of the street with a length or two of hose could accomplish the job in an hour or so. The district to include both sides of George street from Brock street to Charlotte street. To the laymind the proposal seems a most feasible one and it should not be expensive. The benefit derived from clean sidewalks and a big reduction of the dust would pay for it many times.

New Bridges.

A new bridge and approach have been constructed over the creek to the Coughlin Monument works on Hunter street and a big improvement made.

A Woman's Sympathy

Are you discouraged? Is your doctor's bill a heavy financial load? Is your pain a heavy physical burden? I know what these mean to delicate women—I have been discouraged, too, but learned how to cure myself. I want to relieve your burdens. Why not end the pain and stop the doctor's bill? I can do this for you and will if you will assist me.

All you need do is to write for a free box of the remedy which has been placed in my hands to be given away. Perhaps this one box will cure you—it has done so for others. If so, I shall be happy and you will be cured for 2c (the cost of a postage stamp). Your letters held confidentially. Write to-day for my free treatment. MRS. F. E CURRAH, Windsor, Ont.

DEATH OF J. J. COTTINGHAM.

Well Known Hotelman Died After Brief Illness.

It will be learned with general regret that Mr. John James Cottingham passed away at St. Josephs Hospital yesterday afternoon about 2.30 o'clock. The deceased had been ill only about a week, but from the day he first felt sick he rapidly sank and for the past couple of days little hope was entertained for his recovery.

Mr. Cottingham recently accepted the management of the Crown Hotel, and started there with very bright prospects that he was cut off at this time is much to be regretted. He has been a resident of the city for the past 18 years, and for about eight years was manager of the Commercial House for Mr. O'Shea. He was a first class hotelman, and was very popular with all who knew him. He was also a well known horseman, and the owner of Harry Direct, and he has been seen in many a good race. The deceased was a member of the Canadian Order of Foresters, and in all walks of life he was well liked, and his death will be regretted by many.

The deceased was about 43 years of age, and is survived by four brothers and two sisters. The brothers are Samuel, of the city, George, of Kilmount, William of Omemee, and Tom of Augenta, B.C. The sisters are Mrs. J. Crowe and Mrs. T. Richardson of this city.

The funeral will take place on Sunday afternoon at two o'clock from the residence of Mr. Samuel Cottingham, 430 Donegal street. Interment in Emily cemetery.

OBITUARY

The death occurred Tuesday evening, at his late residence, Ennismore of Dennis Shanahan, aged 74 years. The deceased had been ailing for some time.

The funeral will take place this morning at nine o'clock to St. Martin's cemetery, Ennismore.

HERBERT SCORE FORESTER.

Sympathy will be extended to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Forster of North Monaghan in the death of their infant son, Herbert Score Forster, which occurred yesterday morning at 187 Rubidge street.

MRS. MICHAEL Mc CLIGGOTT.

The death occurred Thursday night at 11 o'clock at the residence of her father-in-law, Mr. James McCliggott in Douro township, of Mrs. Michael McCliggott. The deceased who was the wife of Mr. Michael McCliggott of Peterborough, was 25 years of age, and had been ill for some time. Her maiden name was Mary McMurray, and she was the daughter of Mr Thos. Mc Murray of Douro. She is survived by her husband and two small children, her father and mother and seven brothers. The brothers are John and Joseph of Western Ontario; Patrick, Frank and Garnet of Douro, and Thomas and Fred, of Peterborough.

The funeral will take place today from the residence of Mr. James McCliggott, Douro, and proceed to St. Joseph's church, and thence to the Douro cemetery for interment.

HUGHES PARK GOING TO SEED.

In the centre of one of our best residential localities, where Downie Park and Charlotte streets cross, lies a small triangular breathing spot familarly known as Hughe's Park. The town spent $50 in wire fencing this lot in to keep boys and possibly dogs from off the grass and installed a hydrant for watering purposes, that the lot should be maintained as a beauty spot amidst picturesque surroundings,—a pride to contingent property owners, and a monument to the fatherly forethought of a progressive city's public works department. Now the late Mr. Hughes, a resident in this locality, took a pardonable pride in keeping the little spot in question in presentable shape, but since his death it has been totally neglected, until today it presents a no-man's land appearance. With its grass lank and rank, its general state of unkemptness, and its $50 wire fence putting to blush the so-called park it was credit to protect. Charlotte and Park streets are extensively travelled both by citizens and visitors alike, and if no other means of keeping this spot in a condition commensurate with twenty century civilization are available. The Town might at least have a man mow down the grass once a year with a scythe. Neglect of public property encourages vandalism to say nothing of the removal by stealth of property that apparently has no value in the eyes of its owner or owners. The wire fence alluded to is gradually assuming a delopidated condition, and unless the authorities awakenup to the fact that they have $50 of public money invested there it will shortly be a fence of the past. If this spot is to retain the cognomen of "park" let some small measure of attention be given it; other wise it would be better to remove the fence and sod and trees, plow it up and continue Downie street on through it. With its charming grove of young maples, and possibly a seat or two added a little care and attention would maintain this spot as an ideal resting place, such as one finds dotted here and there throughout all progressive cities both in Canada and the United States.

He was surprised at how the sores healed "I took your New Method Treatment for a serious blood disease with which I had been inflicted for twelve years. I had consulted a score of physicians, taken all kinds of blood medicine, visited Hot Springs and other mineral water resorts, but only got temporary relief. They would help me for a time, but after discontinuing the medicines the symptoms would break out again running sores, blotches, rheumatic pains, baldness of the hair, swellings of the glands, pains of the bones, ringing, itchiness of the skin, dyspeptic stomach, etc. I had given up in despair when a friend advised me to consult you, as you had cured him of a similar disease 9 years ago. I had no hope, but took his advice. In three weeks' time the sores commenced to heal up and I became encouraged. I continued the New Method Treatment for four months and at the end of that time every symptom had disappeared. I was cured 7 years ago and no signs of any disease since. What Every Woman Requires for Headache Languor

Has your strength given out?
Do you feel languid and tired this spring?
Are you pale, somewhat nervous, finding it hard to do your housework?

Thousands feel just the same,—feel the enervating influence of spring, whether that brings out latent symptoms of disease and weakness. You should do like Mrs. Flannigan of Essex Junction—here is her experience: "I will never again suffer the torture of deadening spring illness—never will I have headaches, such sleepless nights, such pale cheeks and lack of appetite. I lived through it all several times, but now I know the medicine, that cures. I urge every person, young and old, to try the invigorating effect of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. When I was so played out, listless,—Dr Hamilton's Pills gave me appetite—I relished my meals and grew strong. Rosy color came to my cheeks, every day I felt brighter and better. All my old strength has been restored and the great tonic, blood purifying powers of Dr. Hamilton's Pills did it all."

Women who are continually jaded and sick headaches, faint and dizzy spells, aching muscles, bearing down pains, lack of sleep and loss of appetite—they are the poor women that sorely need Dr Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. 25c at all dealers.

Contest in Interest of Every Advertiser

Increased Number of Subscribers Obtained by this Means Gives More Readers for the Advertisers—It's a Subscription Getter—Prizes are Valuable and Desirable

Many feel surprised that The Times is able to offer such a list of handsome and expensive prizes to the public. This is easily explained. A newspaper spends a great deal of time and money each year in collecting and renewing its subscriptions. Experience has shown that the use of special prizes, and the employment of experts to do this work, is a wise investment from a business standpoint. We simply contract with an expert who knows the management of these things as an engineer knows his engine. We have a special office in The Times building in which to conduct the contest and a large force of assistants will conduct the work, thus assuring the contestants every consideration and assistance compatible with perfect impartiality.

As many of our readers know, the advertiser, who pays three times as much toward the expense of a newspaper as does the reader, needs large circulations to bring him customers. No newspapers can afford to give these inducements from time to time for the benefit of their subscribers. The Peterborough Times, Daily and Weekly, now goes into thousands of homes. We expect to add many thousands to that before this contest ends.

The prizes are well worth seeing and will be exhibited in prominent places. The Times does not simply give them away, for we get much in return one of our best assets being the satisfaction of our subscribers, who are all pleased with this chance either winning a most desirable prize for themselves, or of helping a favorite candidate to do so. You can win the prize without making any outlay, by simply asking your friends to subscribe to The Times and give the votes thus won to you.

BE A BOOSTER.

It does Not Pay to Knock Your Friends or Those Associated With You.

No man ever got help himself in knocking other people down in character and business. No man ever got rich by trying to make people believe he was the only man in town who knew anything. You can't climb the ladder of success by treading on others corns; keep off the corns and don't knock. You are not the only; there are others, and they have brains and know something as well as you. There's no end of fun in minding your own business. It makes other people like you, so if you can't boost don't knock. Nobody gets stuck on a knocker. Don't be one. Be good. Not too good for the good die young and I hate a dead one.

The flowers when given proper care and attention will make the grounds exceedingly pretty.

Good Fishing.

Mr. G. Hurl of Eel's Creek, was in the city yesterday, and says he expects the fishing in the Kawartha region will be splendid this year. Mr. Hurl says that from indications in the spawning and other ways from which the experts draw deductions the lunge and bass will be plentiful this summer. He states the weather in the north country is very cool, but that everything is growing beautifully.

ONE OF THE HAPPY HOMES IN CANADA WHERE PE-RU-NA IS USED IN THE FAMILY.

A Great Many Mothers Have Discovered That a Few Doses of Peruna Given at The Right Time Prevent Much Sickness.

The fatality of acute diseases during hot weather among children, is well-known to the medical profession. From year to year the average practicing physician changes his tactics and his remedies. One year the physician uses certain remedies with confidence and enthusiasm. The next year he is liable to adopt new remedies. But through all the changing vicissitudes of the medical profession in their treatment of infantile ailments, Dr. Hartman has clung with unwavering confidence to Peruna. Thus it is that Peruna has become a household word in many thousand families. In catarrhal derangements of the bowels resulting in summer complaint, diarrhoea and sometimes cholera infantum, a few doses of Peruna given in the early stages check the disease before it has reached a threatening severity. Many mothers, from Canada to Mexico, give cheerful testimony to the benefit of Peruna in the many catarrhal ailments to which the family is liable, both summer and winter.

Mrs. Etta Booker, Dundurn, Sask., N. W. T., Can., writes: "I suffered with internal catarrh until I wrote to Dr. Hartman, and after taking treatment as he advised I can say I am now cured of this most trying affliction, for which I am truly thankful. I think Peruna the best medicine for catarrh. I never felt better in my life than I do at present."

In a later letter Mrs. Booker says: "I can truthfully say from experience Peruna is a most wonderful medicine, and in the case of my little daughter, Elsie Booker, it did all I could wish for, and I am entirely willing that you may publish a testimonial in regard to her cure."

Ailing Children.

Mrs. Schopfer, 3620 Prescott Ave., St. Louis, Mo., writes:

"In the early part of last year I wrote to you for advice for my daughter Alice, four years of age. She was a puny, sickly, ailing child since she was born. She had convulsions and catarrhal fevers.

"I was always doctoring until we commenced to use Peruna. She grew strong and well.

"Peruna is a wonderful tonic; the best medicine I have ever used.

"I was in a very wretched condition when I commenced to take Peruna. I had catarrh all through my whole body, but thank God, your medicine set me all right. I would not have any other medicine.

"Peruna cured my baby boy of a very bad spell of cold and fever. He is a big, healthy boy fifteen months old. I have given him Peruna off and on since he was born. I think that is why he is so well.

"I cannot praise Peruna enough. We have not had a doctor since we began to use Peruna—all praise to it."

Child Now Healthy.

Mrs. G. W. Heard, of Howth, Texas, writes to Dr. Hartman in regard to her baby girl, Ruby:

"My little girl was two years old this January. She had some derangement of the bowels. She was a mere skeleton, and we did not think she would ever get well.

"She had been sick three or four months, and after giving her less than one bottle of Peruna she was sound and well.

"I found the Peruna splendid for wind colic, with which she was troubled when she began to improve in strength and appetite.

"Now she has a good appetite and is a picture of health."

Baby With Indigestion.

Mrs. J. M. Brown, Dunnegan, Mo., writes:

"My little daughter, three years old, was troubled with a very bad cough, which remained after an attack of catarrhal fever, which was a great deal worse at night. She would wake up out of her sleep and cough until I feared she could not stand it. Nothing that we gave her seemed to do her any good.

"I then concluded to send for Dr. Hartman's book, entitled 'The Ills of Life,' which I promptly received. I took the same time commenced giving her Peruna. She has taken one bottle in all, through which she has obtained a complete cure.

"She also since her birth was troubled with indigestion, but since she has taken Peruna she can eat almost any kind of food without any bad results.

"She is now as well and happy as any little girl can be. When our friends say how well she looks, I tell them Peruna did it. I shall always be a friend of Peruna, as I consider it the best medicine for coughs and indigestion we have ever tried, and will recommend it to any one similarly afflicted."

Child Benefited by Pe-ru-na.

Mrs. Frita Roethe, Pinckneyville, Ill., writes:

"I feel real well, and am glad I am able to say this. One of my children had a fever for five months, both and would help him. The doctor said it was malarial fever, but his medicine did not help him at all.

"I then gave him Peruna, and it helped him immediately, and so far he has not had another attack of it.

"When I wrote to Dr. Hartman I was unable to do my housework, now I am entirely relieved."

Excursionists Coming.

The Peterborough Industrial Exhibition Association are arranging to have several large excursions from outside points to Peterborough during the days of the fair Last year the Foresters from Pieton had an excursion here during the exhibition and several hundred visitors were beought in. They were greatly pleased with the trip and will likely come again this fall. It is the intention to arrange excursions from several other points, both on land and water.

New Superintendent.

Miss Perse, who for the past four years has occupied the position of matron superintendent of "The Margaret Cox Home," is compelled to resign her post on account of family matters that require her presence in England. Her place has been filled by Miss Elliott. This lady, who is a Canadian by birth has been engaged for many years under the Provincial Government and has occupied several responsible and important posts at various Provincial Institutions. There is every reason to believe that her appointment will prove a source of strength to the work and that great benefit will result from her wide experience.

Blythe, Wife Murderer, Has Broken Down--His Last Days in the Jail

Toronto, June 12.—Four more days of life!

This, in the first glad days of summer, is what Walter Blythe, the wife-murderer, is confronted with as he sits in his narrow cell at the jail.

Before the door the footsteps of the death watch have become for him the footsteps of Time checking off the hurrying seconds which must bring the rope. It is hard to understand how a man can even doze under such terrible circumstances lest he lose some of the little of life that is left to him.

God has been more merciful than man has found it in his heart to be to this condemned man, for He has stretched a veil over his understanding so that he can see only dimly the bony hand of Death as it reaches for his throat.

When Blythe received the news a week ago that the death sentence from which he had been for a time relieved was again placed upon him, he bore it with a fortitude, which made those who watched the ordeal marvel. Bitter words he had for those, who to him, seemed to play with his life in aimless sport as a cat plays with the mouse, but his iron nerve was apparently unshaken.

But the hours of waiting in silence and alone have broken him. Even his strong reserve and rugged health have given away and the man whose health and strength have defied confinement, lack of exercise and mental strain has become a poor broken thing that prattles childishly of other scenes and seems to realize little of his actual surroundings or to the horror of his plight.

LISTENING TO THE MUSIC.

The change came on Wednesday night as the prisoner sat in his cell listening to the music of a band concert in Riverdale Park. It was the Body Guards' Band. At last there came strains of an air that Blythe had heard in the old days in Lancashire. It affected the doomed man strangely. At first he smiled. The set look of reserve which has been the stamp of his endurance faded from his face. He began to talk musingly to himself. Then his voice grew in strength, and in his mind he was back at a country fair in England. He was dickering over a horse deal, and at last, as some part of his present unhappy surroundings bore in upon the wandering faculties, the "dicker" became involved, and since then he has been engrossed in this long-gone tangled horse deal.

On Thursday morning Dr. Clarke of the Toronto asylum, was called in and spent some time with Blythe and he has been closely watched ever since every minute of the time. Should his condition not improve by Monday a second request will be made, this time from the jail authorities, seeking a further examination as to sanity.

Meanwhile the man has failed. He sleeps little and uneasily. He does not care to eat, and for the most part rambles in his mind in other scenes, returning ever and anon to that long-forgotten horse trade.

GOVERNOR IS SORRY.

Gov. Chambers was loth to speak when asked by the World as to Blythe's condition. But at last, in conversation, he said,

"I am very sorry for Blythe, I greatly appreciate the consideration shown by the government in this case. I felt when the reprieve came that they weredetermined that the man's life should not be idly thrown away. I looked then for a commutation to life imprisonment. I do not criticize their action now, only it has been most unfortunate for Blythe."

"The man's mind was all prepared. He looked forward to death in peace, even with joy that he should lie beside the woman whom he loved. That is surely true. He had hoped to meet her spirit on the other side.

"At first he was calm, almost stolid, when he first heard that he must die after all, but as the days have gone by, a most lamentable change has come over him and he is now in a pitiable state of collapse. We will watch him until Monday, and if there is then no change we will certainly ask for a further consideration of his case."

Area Under Wheat 2,642,111 Acres

Winnipeg, Mon., June 12.—The Manitoba Government to-night issued a crop report which is exceedingly optimistic in tone. Thereport says:—"The prospects are better than for years, and as the most perfect plant is obtainable through a continuous and rapid growth, the crop this year will most likely be a bountiful one, as up to the present moisture has been plentiful and the soil was at seeding time, and is still, in fine condition."

The total area under wheat this year is 2,462,111 acres, a decrease of 208,529 acres. Oats and barley, on the other hand, show an increase in acreage of 137,051 acres and 32,561 acres.

A Pigeon Adopts Batch of Chickens

Greenwich, Conn., June 11.—Two fledging chickens, hatched only a few days, were found by James J. Nedley, of Byram Shore, under a mothering pigeon to day, when he drove her off the nest. The mother still takes care of her foster children as to giving them warmth, but has not acquired a hen's knack of feeding them.

Mr. Hedley is a pigeon and chicken fancier. Both kinds of fowl are kept in the same house, the pigeons' nests being in the top. One of his hens has shown strong flying proclivities, and recently its wings were clipped. It is believed that this hen flew to the nest higher up and laid its eggs. A brooding dove seldom selects anything but its own eggs to sit upon, but this patient dove accepted the task and stuck to it until two chickens appeared. Mr. Nedley said he had hard work to drive off the bird when the chicks were already several days old.

Lightning Struck the C.G.E. Sub-Station

Lightning struck the new sub-station at the C.G.E. last night during the heavy storm and burned out a number of wires. Thefire was discovered by the night watchman, who turned in the alarm with the whistle This was heard at the fire hall by themen who got the horses ready. At the same time a telephone message, and an alarm from box 17 were received simultaneously, so that the fire department lost time in getting down. Mr. E. G. Patterson, with several of his superintendants were on the scene early as was also Ald. Buller, and they lent the firemen considerable assistance in overcoming the blaze. The damage will amount to only about $150.

The southern circuit of the fire alarm was also damaged, and Chief Howard was busy most of the night getting it fixed up again.

Saw Moving Picture Show for First Time

After spending 87 years on this earth, Mrs. Andrew Huycke of Hastings, visited the Crystal theater last week, and for the first time witnessed a moving picture show. She was delighted with it. She could see the pictures plainly and could hear the lecture very distinctly. Thus her enjoyment was increased. Mrs. Huycke is visiting her son, W. W. Huycke, 480 Aylmer street.

Bishop of London Called "Traitor"

London, June 12.—The English Church pageant, which will consist of the rendering in outdoor setting of a series of spectacular representations of episodes of Church history was opened on the grounds of Fulham Palace yesterday, the first day being somewhat marred by the rain, as was cabled last evening. The pageant, which is under the patronage of the Archbishop of Canterbury and the Archbishop of York, was organized with the idea of popularizing the history of the Church, affording instruction to the masses, and incidentally to bring financial assistance to various State charities.

The presentations will be given twice a day, at three o'clock in the afternoon and eight o'clock in the evening, for six days. The history of the Church from the earliest times down to the present will be depicted by a body of about 4,000 amateur actors and actresses. The palace grounds are well adapted to this purpose, and the rendering of various scenes, with the old palace as a back-ground and the characters dressed in the costumes of the period, will be most realistic.

The followers of Mr. John Kensit, president of the Anti-Ritualistic League, put in an appearance at St. Ethelreda's Church, where the inaugural service was held by the Right Rev. Arthur Ingram, Bishop of London. They protested against the Bishop participating in "a Polish pageantry," and denounced him as a traitor. They were, however, quickly dispersed by the police.

Prof. Kilpatrick Spoke of Revival Movement in Kootenay District

There was a very large congregation at Knox church last evening to hear Prof. Kilpatrick of Knox College, Toronto, speak on the revival work in the Kootenay district. Prof Kilpatrick is one of the ablest preachers of the day, and he is well known throughout the whole of Canada. He came from Aberdeen, Scotland, to take a fellowship in Winnipeg, and latter accepted a call to Knox College. His address was forceful and very interesting.

Prof. Kilpatrick was to have taken the anniversary services some time ago but was called by the general assembly to take part in the revival work in the Kootenay district. He went and upon his return a short time ago accepted the invitation to preach in Knox church.

His subject last night was of the recent movement in the Kootenay district, which was initiated by the General Assembly's Committee, and afterwards taken up by all branches of the Church in the west. He spoke of the importance to Canada of the western country. It was out there where great problems had to be solved, both political and religious, and no time is to be lost in solving those problems. He told of the preparations made for this work, which were very thorough. The press of the country took a great part in it, and gave the movement large and free publication. There was no sensational methods adopted as is usual in such movements, but the whole campaign was conducted in a very quiet ordinary way by ordinary preachers and business men. As a result there has been a great change wrought. The number of bar rooms and pool room have been greatly reduced as there was no longer the business for them. It is because there is nothing sensational in the campaign which leads those interested to believe that the change will be permanent, and to a large extent free from the blacksliding which follows so many revivals.

Prof. Kilpatrick spoke in a number of places, and said that at first it was hard to get meetings as the men worked hard all day and were very tired. So the preachers went out to the works, and there while the men were all at work sang simple hymns so it was easy for all to catch onto, and had short service and prayer and in this way they succeeded in winning a great many many men.

The Baptist Church Home Missions

Rev. Dr. Norton of Toronto, superintendent of home missions for the Baptist Church in Canada, occupied the pulpit in Murray street Baptist church yesterday morning and preached to a large congregation. He spoke of the home mission work of the church in Canada, and urged the congregation to take a deeper interest in it. A special collection will be received next Sunday in aid of this work.

THE WHOLE THING.

The man who wrestles with the cow and learns the calves to suck who casts the corn before the swine, is now in greatest luck, for butter's on the upper grade, veal's higher than a kite, pork is climbing up the scale, and beef is out of sight. The eggs he gathers every day from his poland chicken crop are almost woth their weight in gold and we are in the soup. His corn brings a fancy price, it's rising every day, and he rakes all kinds of money for half a ton of hay. The farmer is in the saddle, and when he comes back to town the rest of us by right should go way back and sit down.

T. A. S. and Park Street Win City League Games

Interest in the Senior City Baseball League is increasing, and there was a fair-sized crowd at Riverside Park Saturday afternoon to witness the double header. At the same time there were a few vacant seats in the grand stand and room about the field for a few more. Those who have nothing to do Saturday afternoons, but hang around the street corners and walk up and down might very profitably spend a half day once a week at Riverside Park.

The sport furnished last Saturday by all four teams was good, and game between the Strathconas and the Park street teams, it is true, was loose and featured by errors. Still a good wild throw and worse catching, while base runners are scoring bases, is just as interesting and exciting as perfect ball, and it gives more chance for the rooters to root. The Struths and Park St. did make a lot of costly errors. Yet there were some excellent plays. For instance Davidson's one hand catch of a fast liner and his double to fiest base was worthy of al, the applause he received. Then there were some nice catches in the outfield, also a couple of bad muffs. Even at that the boys were playing good ball for a city league, and are deserving of better support.

Credit is due the Park street team for their win. It was thwie first appearance on the diamond, and they defeated what appeared to be a better team, before the game started. Dusted in the box handled the ball well after the first innings when he allowed the Straths to score four times. He was cooled down when the second innings opened and only allowed four moreruns for the rest of the game.

Patterson pitched the first half for the Straths, and only did fairly well. He was replaced by Hickey, the boy pitcher, who held the Park street bunch well in hand. After the "kid" gets a little more staying power on his arm he will keep them all guessing as he has good speed and splendid control.

Park Street won out by a score of 10 to 8.

The second game was by far the best exhibition of the two. The T. A. S. snatching a 5-3 victory from the West Ends. It was a pitchers' battle between Quinlan for the T. A. S. and Kirn for the West Ends, and both did brilliant work. Quinlan held the Oldham bunch to 5 hits and struck out 13, while Kirn caused 11 of the Abstainers to whiff and allowed but seven hits. With better support, especially on the part of Fallon in center field, the West End twirler would have made things still more interesting. Fallon had a very bad day, and his muffs were costly. It was a snappy, well played game of ball that kept the fans on their feet all the way.

I. O. F. Attended Divine Service

There was a large turn out of the members of the I.O.F last night to Murray street Baptist church. It was the annual church parade, and those who attended listened to a very able sermon by Rev. Mr. Webb, who took as his text "He that provided not for his own household hath denied the faith, and is worse than an unbeliever," 1st Timothy 5 and 8. Murray street church was crowded and all enjoyed the service. The choir rendered special music, appropriate to the occasion.

Turf Club's Matinee was a Good Drawing Card

There was a good crowd and lots of fun and excitement at the Driving Park on Saturday afternoon. It was the weekly matinee of the Turf Club, which included, besides three horse races, a five-mile foot race in which there was a good field. Parker, the new Hiawatha Indian runner met his first defeat at the hands of Charlie Thorpe, of the Victoria Harriers after an exciting finish. He snatched the race by bursting away from the field that hadbunched together from the start, and ran the entire distance practically together. It was as fine a finish as has been seen around here in some time, and the fairly large crowd fully appreciated the exciting spurt that won the event. The time was caught at :29 minutes, and, considering the heat and the track it was going some.

Rev. Jonathan Goforth to be Here for a Week

A week of special service will be started on Sunday next in the interests of missions and mission work. Rev. Jonathan Goforth, who only returned from Honan, China, a few weeks ago will be the chief speaker. He has been in the midst of the great revival in Manchuria, and is well acquainted with all the details. He has selected a number of centers in Canada in which to work, and will spend several days in each so that the outside churches may come in and hear the addresses. The object is to place before the people of Canada the facts of this great revival, and to increase the interest in home countries in foreign missions.

On Sunday morning next Mr. Goforth will preach in St. Paul's church. In the afternoon at four o'clock a mass meeting will be held in St. Andrew's church, and at night night Rev. Mr. Goforth will be in Knox church. Then every day for the rest of the week special services will be held in St. Paul's church at 3.30 p.m., and 7.45 p.m. All are invited to attend and take part.

Bronchitis Cured

For Fifteen years Mr. John Pearson of Malvern Square, suffered from Bronchitis and Throat Irritation. Doctors Failed to Relieve but Catarrhozone Cured Quickly.

The remarkable recovery of Mr. Pearson, who for years was principal of Malvern Square High School, is convincing evidence of the exceptional curative powers possessed by Catarrhozone.

"For fifteen years," writes Mr. Pearson, "I constantly suffered from Bronchitis and Throat Irritation. Until quite recently I was able to keep up my teaching, but my bronchial trouble became so annoying that I was forced to resign.

"For months I doctored with different physicians and was not benefited. My trouble grew more severe and extended to the lungs, and I feared I would end in decline.

"Providentially I was advised to use Catarrhozone, and I believe it really saved my life. Its immediate effect was to relieve the throat trouble sufficiently to give me perfect ease in speaking. Within one short week all symptoms of Bronchitis had disappeared. I can fervently recommend Catarrhozone. I know it has no equal as a cure and speedy cure for throat trouble and bronchitis."

Every air cell and air passage, all parts of the breathing organs are reached and breathed by the antiseptic vapor of Catarrhozone. It soothes and heals the inflamed mucous surfaces stops the cough, clears the nose and throat, and drives every symptom of bronchitis right out of the system.

To purify the blood of all poisons, and to build up the system, Ferrozone Tablets, which are included in every Catarrhozone outfit, are very highly recommended. This local and constitutional treatment in Bronchitis, Catarrh and Consumption cannot be equalled.

Catarrhozone is endorsed by physicians and ministers and thousands it has cured. Two months' treatment costs $1. Small size, 25c. Sold by all Druggists, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

THE STATUS OF SMALLPOX

With almost 10,000 cases of smallpox reported in the United States in the first four months of the year by the federal marine hospital service, it certainly cannot be said that smallpox as an epidemic disease has been overcome. The great change is that the disease is no longer anything like what it once was in violence. Most of the cases are mild, and some are so slight that the diagnosis is difficult. The exceptional cases of victims who have never been vaccinated and who get the disease in its worst form do not serve to alarm a community. And even fifty or a hundred cases of the mild form in one of the smaller cities, no uncommon thing today, do not produce the panic that would certainly result if the cases were so severe as formerly.

Illinois is unfortunately the worst state in the Union for this disease. While Chicago, owing to the steady watchfulness of the health authorities, is almost exempt, having had only eleven cases in four months, the state as a whole has had 1,275 cases, or more than one-eighth of the total for the country. Under such conditions one may well regret that the legislature did not see fit to pass the bill for giving better protection by vaccination. This is especially true since even the lightest attacks of the disease—so light as to be hardly noticeable—may spread the plague in a most virulent form when the infection reaches some person not well protected physically against it.

In England there has been some increasing laxity in local and central administrative regulations. Not long ago the postmaster general issued an order excusing postal employes with "conscientious objections" from periodical revaccinations, though not excusing anyone from original vaccination. This is being sharply criticised, since if one has once been vaccinated, revaccination within a reasonable number of years can hardly ever be injurious, or even uncomfortable, while it is certain to extend the duration of the original protection, primarily to the vaccinated individual, and secondarily to the community.

Whatever else is done in the way of protection against smallpox, the continuance of periodic revaccination should never be in doubt.

THE WORLD'S WHEAT FIELD

That the Canadian wheat field is by far the most important economic development now in progress, not only in America, but in the world, is the contention of Hon. Frank Oliver, as set forth in a recent speech in New York. It is based upon many sound premises.

It is calculated by an admittedly expert correspondent of the Edinburgh Scotsman that the world's production of wheat in 1908 was less by twenty-four million quarters than it six years before, and smaller than in any year since 1902, saving in the year 1904, when it was slightly below that of last year.

Apply, there is an increasing demand in the Orient, which, from year to year, consumes more wheat. Shrewd observers have been for some time asserting that the United States must soon cease toen export wheat, since the people of the States will need all their wheat for themselves. Only 35 per cent of the hundred million hundred-weights of wheat which the United Kingdom consumes every year goes from America. Twenty-three years ago the proportion of wheat going to Great Britain from America was 65 per cent. The people of the States seem to be finding it profitable to consume their farm products at home, to devote their energies to manufactures rather than the production of foods for export.

Canada, then, seems to be the only field upon which any permanent reliance upon future supply may be placed. The writer in the Scotsman declares that Russia is uncertain. Its exports to Great Britain have fluctuated amazingly. Last year, in fact, it sent barely more than it did nearly twenty-five years ago. India shows something of the same variations. The Argentine exports to Great Britain have very largely increased, but the growth of supply has not been always constant. Canada is the only country whose exports of wheat to the British Isles have been almost uniformly increasing in the last twenty years. In 1898 it sent 4.6 of the total consumed; in 1908 the proportion was 14.3. But the most convincing proofs of the amazing capacity of Canada for agricultural expansion, he says, are to be found in the statistics of its wheat production. In 1871 Canada produced less than seventeen million bushels of wheat. Last year it produced fully one hundred and twelve million bushels. "And when it is remembered that only about three per cent of the cultivable land of Canada has been settled, the enormous food producing possibilities of this lusty imperial partner of ours may be faintly imagined."

The prescience of the Canadian nation builders is thus to be justified and rewarded. The country has put itself under a staggering obligation for the opening up of the wheat fields. There is no indication of any general desire to suspend the activities of development in this direction, and there is much evidence to support the proposition that these activities have been prompted by the sanest national policy.

Pork Took a Drop

Pork took a sudden drop on George street early late evening while Mr. J. W. Edwards' horse was standing in front of his butcher shop. The horse was not tied and suddenly took a notion to try a trot by himself. The animal only got as far as Craig's furniture store when it was stopped by a back driver. But the stop was so sudden that a fine young porker lying in the bottom of the wagon was thrown out on the sidewalk. No damage, however was done to the horse, wagon or pork.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

GLASS HALL UNDER LAKE.

Whitaker Wright's Fine Estate Bought by Lord Pirrie.

Lea Park, the magnificent estate of 2,800 acres, on which the late Mr. Whitaker Wright lived at Witley, Surrey, has been brought by Lord Pirrie, the well-known shipbuilder. The sale includes 1,500 acres of land adjoining the property of the Earl of Derby.

The price paid by Lord Pirrie is not known, but when the estate came under the hammer in the summer of 1904 the bidding had reached $725,000. The auctioneer had suggested an opening bid of $1,000,000.

The purchase recalls the tragic death of Mr. Wright, the financier, who committed suicide at the Old Bailey in January, 1904, immediately on being sentenced to penal servitude for seven years for issuing false balance sheets in connection with the London and Globe Finance Corporation.

In the planning of Witley Court, by which name it will now be known, Mr. Wright set out to construct a home for himself unsurpassable in magnificence. At the time of his death he had spent no less than $3,500,000 upon it.

The estate extends from the village of Witley to the famous Hindhead Punch Bowl—and Gibbet Hill. It formed a portion of Queen Elizabeth's Hindhead deer forest, and commands magnificent views over a glorious expanse of open country, including Blackdown and Hindhead and the beautifully-wooded downs of Surrey and Sussex.

The mansion was built of stone in early English style, with half-timbered work, and in the laying-out of the grounds the great financier had hills removed or lakes formed, according to his caprice. The finest statuary and other ornamentations that money could buy were brought from the continent.

Around the park is a wall of dressed stone, four miles long, which cost the financier $185,000, and there are five stone lodges, which cost $10,000 each. Among other remarkable features is a large hall constructed of glass under one of the lakes.

It is understood that Lord Pirrie proposes to develop the estate on the original lines, and that he intends to reside there. Work has already been begun there.

Afghan Risings.

There has lately been a recrudescence of activity on the part of the armed gangs who infest the Afghan border, and more than one sanguinary encounter is reported. Mail news with regard to a fight in Kohat district between a band of Khostwals and a small party of Border police, under a native officer, indicates that the latter behaved with great bravery, attacking a greatly superior force, and routing them with a loss of eleven killed. The raiders fought to their last cartridge. Less satisfactory was the result of an encounter between a detachment of troops and the party of deserters from the Zhob Levy, of whom Jamadar Gul Beram is the head. These men, seventeen in number, went off with twenty ponies, as many Martini carbines, and 8,000 rounds of ammunition, and at once fell to raiding. They displayed great ferocity, in one case putting to death three men, against whom the leader is believed to have had a grudge. Gul Beram seems to have secured credence for the useful fiction that he bears a charmed life. There is a legend that on his once being taken out, by order of the Amir of Afghanistan, to be shot, the bullets as they struck him turned off harmlessly, and were converted into silver rupees. The party sent in pursuit of the band consisted of some of the 15th Lancers and Zhob Levy cavalry, under Captains Loring and Pickford and Lieutenant Gwatkin. They were ambushed in a narrow defile, and the lieutenant was shot dead. One of the raiders was killed, and another captured, but in a heavy snow storm which came on the rest escaped into Afghan territory.

Electrifying an Elephant.

A very curious accident occurred in Mysore, India, recently.

A palace elephant mahout, seated on a huge tusker, happened to pass under the main-line wires conveying current from the power-station. Thinking he would test the truth of anyone being killed if the wire were touched, he was foolish enough to place his hand on the wire.

The effect was disastrous. Both mahout and elephant were knocked down instantly, and lay insensible. The elephant, after a short while, got up, and rushed about in a dazed manner, wrecking carriages, posts, etc., in its mad career. After a most exciting chase, the semi-electrocuted elephant was captured by means of two other elephants.—Madras Mail.

Nests That Weigh Tons.

The Australian bush turkeys live in colonies, and construct pyramidal nests so huge that to move them requires the services of six or seven strong men. The material of a single nest has been found to weigh upwards of five tons. The jungle fowl of the same continent have nests reaching on an average 15 feet high, with a circumference, sometimes, of 150 feet. The nests are erected in secluded sheltered spots and, as in the case of the small bees of birds, they are skilfully interwoven with leaves, grass, and twigs, and such other suitable material as the fowl may be able to procure.

"Like Father, Like Son."

Lord Lyveden is an ardent peerage reformer, and tells in this connection a good story, of the authenticity of which he pledges himself.

A famous statesman of the nineteenth century was called upon to visit his son in prison. He bitterly reproached him, remarking:

"Here am I, having worked my way up from a middle-class home to a great position, and when I die you will be the greatest blackguard in the peerage."

The son listened quietly, and then replied with terrible irony, "Yes—when you die."

THE SEPARATION.

Why One Victim Lost Faith in Side Whiskered Brethren.

"Uh-whilst yo' was gone," said Brother Smathers, relating the news to Brother Buckaloo, who had been on a journey, "a gen'leman 'peared on de scene yuh wid de noration dat he was a clarryvoyant and de seventh son o' suppin—I dunnah what—and was gwine to hold a secession in de lodge hall and show signs and wonduhs for de modest sum o' two bits for folks and 10 cents for betwixt sized chil'd'en; po'tly pussonage, wid a striped vest and woolly side whiskers, and 'bout the shade, he was, of de opposite side of a fish."

VISITING CARDS.

Names and Messages Used to Be Scribbled on Playing Cards.

It is somewhat curious that so useful an invention as the visiting card should have been unknown to society until comparatively recent times. Yet 150 years ago the carte de visite did not exist. The belles of the seventeenth century used nothing in the shape of a name card, or "ticket," as it was afterward called. Invitations to routs and drums as well as names and addresses were written across the backs of playing cards, which in those days were made with a white reverse and innocent of the intricate pattern familiar to us in modern times.

Mary Wortley Montagu, a lady of ton, says the Connoisseur, would be apt to use a red playing card—a queen of hearts—for ordinary social purposes, while an amorous beau inscribed his name and the most tender of inquiries on the back of a jack of spades. The great world of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries was a small world. It was rigidly exclusive. Living in the same quarter of the town, the quality sent each other scribbled messages by the hand of a favorite page. Society, in a word, was informal in the midst of stately formalities, and we have no difficulty in believing the Comtesse de Boigne when she tells us that in 1800 Lady Harington used to trot up and down Bond street picking up guests for a party for the same night.

Quite Simple.

It is told, no matter on what authority, that a telephone company in Chicago has no end of trouble with its wires. They were continually out of order. Nobody seemed to know why. An investigation was started.

Most of the subscribers in the territory where the trouble was were Poles, Hungarians, Russians, etc. An expert after due consideration of the matter decided that the wires were unable to withstand the onslaughts of languages like Polish, Hungarian, Russian, etc.

"Can you suggest a remedy?" asked the officials of the telephone company.

"Certainly," answered the expert. "Substitute barbed wire."

The suggestion was followed. There was no more trouble.

To Spade It Up or to Plow It?

I am not sure but that the spaded garden has some advantage over the plowed one. The soil can be turned up just where you want it and as you want it by the use of the spade, while the plow works alike throughout the garden, though the soil may very in depth and nature to a considerable extent. A spaded garden always looks best at the beginning, and looks count in gardening as well as elsewhere. But the gardener who has a liking for neatness will make his garden look well after a little in spite of all obstacles.—"Home Garden," by Eben E. Rexford.

A Courteous Boy.

"Would you rather for your mother or me to whip you?"

"I dislike to show favoritism, father," said little Clarence. "You and mother had better settle the matter between you by tipping a coin."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Would He?

It hardly seems probable that a man should suffer from corns on a wooden leg, but if the leg is made of oak would it not be natural that there should be acorn on it?—London Punch

A Dear Victory.

"In your little family arguments do you ever succeed in convincing your wife that she is wrong?"

"Yes, but afterward I always deeply regret having done so."

Whatever we conceive clearly we express with ease, and words flow with ease.—Boileau.

The Lift Lock.

A number of strangers visiting in the city have made a tour of the beauty spots and have seen the lift lock. They are delighted with the latter work and were enchanted with the view obtained from the top of the massive concrete work. They were also delighted with the whole city. One young man writing to a friend in the Southern States, wrote. "I am now in one of the prettiest cities in Canada, and am having a lovely time. The air is pure and refreshing, and I am gaining weight. Come on up and have some of the fun." Outsiders coming to Peterborough, marvel at the beauty of the place. Local people are proud of the place in which they live but to fully appreciate its value and to fully appreciate its value they must reside in some other place for a time. Boost the town and boost the people of the town. Don't knock anyone.

BLOOD DISEASES CURED

Drs. K. & K. Established 20 Years.

BEFORE TREATMENT

NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT

AFTER TREATMENT

Mr was surprised at how the sores healed—"I took your NEW METHOD TREATMENT for a serious blood disease with which I had been inflicted for twelve years. I had consulted a score of physicians, taken all kinds of blood medicine, visited Hot Springs and other mineral water resorts, but only got temporary relief. They would help me for a time, but after discontinuing the medicines the symptoms would break out again—running sores, blotches, rheumatic pains, looseness of the hair, swellings of the glands, palms of the hands sweating, itchiness of the skin, dyspeptic stomach, etc. I had given up in despair when a friend advised me to consult you, as you had cured him of a similar disease 8 years ago. I had no hope, but took his advice. In three weeks time the sores commenced to heal up and I became encouraged. I continued the NEW METHOD TREATMENT for four months and at the end of that time every symptom had disappeared. I was cured 7 years ago and no signs of any disease since. CLEAN Up INSIDE

Blood and System Cleansing in the Spring Means Good Health all Summer.

In spite of all your careful habits it is safe to say that in the spring you feel poorly—have a throbbing sensation in the head—skin a pale or yellow, with dark rings under the eyes. If not absolutely billions the system is so full of bile that you feel heavy and tired all day long.

Clean up, work off the winter's accumulation of waste, purify your blood. Do this and you'll feel fresh as a prize-fighter. "For ten years," says W. S. Sangster of Concord, "I suffered greatly from impure blood, which made me feel debilitated and unfit for work. I had no appetite, suffered from indigestion and gas, had some pains in the back, caused by poor kidney action. Spring was the hardest time of all, and many a time I felt despondent and languid enough to throw up the sponge. I was impressed by the marvellous work done by Dr. Hamilton's Pills and tried them. They baited me exactly. In one week I felt like new. I was braced up, got rid of blood weakness, gained in flesh, got back my old time appearance and spirits. Dr. Hamilton's Pills will clean all the sickness out of a man in short order and I urge young and old to use this grand tonic medicine."

Dr. Hamilton's Pills are a perfect spring medicine, they destroy germs and poisons of every description and strength whereby the system rallies and the patient quickly enjoys the blessings of Perfect Health. Get Dr. Hamilton's Pills today—25c. For sale at all dealers.

"In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart and Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days tests will surely tell. Try it once, and see! Sold by all dealers.

Toronto Fair

The Times has received a copy of the prize list for the Toronto Industrial Exposition which will be held from Aug. 28 to Sept. 13. The prize lists have just been issued and are larger and better than ever, and the competitors will have a greater opportunity to display their stock to advantage.

If you would have a safe yet certain Cough Remedy in the home, try Dr. Shoop's—at least once. It is thoroughly unlike any other Cough preparation. Its taste will be entirely new to you—unless it is already your favorite Cough Remedy. No opium, chloroform, or any other stupifying ingredients are used. The tender leaves of a harmless, lung-healing mountainous shrub, give to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy its wonderful curative properties. It is truly a most certain and trustworthy prescription. Sold by all dealers.

Death Caused By Drowning

The late Elias Armstrong, whose body was found floating in the Otonabee river some time ago, met his death by accidental drowning. The coroner's jury decided upon such an verdict at the inquest which was concluded in Fraserville on Friday night. The evidence of Dr. T. W. H. Young, who performed the post-mortem, was the most important. Several witnesses were examined, and the identification of the body as that of Elias Armstrong was established.

Just One a Day

How the Coffee Drinker Compromises His Health

Some people say: "Coffee don't hurt me" and then add, "Anyway I only drink one cup a day."

If coffee really don't hurt why not drink more? There is but one answer and that is coffee does hurt them and they know it. When they drink it once a day they compromise with their enemy. There are people whom one cup of coffee a day will put in bed, if the habit be continued.

"Although warned by physicians to let coffee alone I have always been so fond of it that I continued to use it," confesses an Ohio lady. "I compromised with myself and drank just one cup every morning until about six weeks ago.

"All the time I was drinking coffee I had heart trouble that grew steadily worse and finally I had such alarming sensations in my head (sometimes causing me to fall down) that I at last took my doctor's advice and quit coffee and began to use Postum in its place.

"The results have been all that the doctor hoped, for I have not only lost my craving for coffee and enjoy my good Postum just as well, but my heart trouble has ceased and I have no more dizzy spells in my head. I feel better in every way and consider myself a very fortunate woman to have found the truth about Postum."

Look in pkg. for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville." "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.
